AMERICAN MISSIONARIES GIVE THEIR LIVES FOR THE FAITH

The murder of American missionaries in Lienchow, China, has stirred the various mission boards greatly, and appeals to the United States government for protection for such occurrences in future are hourly being made. In the above pictures the fine church belonging to the mission is shown and also the murdered missionary and physician, who helped to build it.

and the residences of the missioneries.

Dr. Machle, Mrs. Machle, their 10gear-old adupter, Mr. and Mrs.
Pearle, Dr. Chesnut, and Miss Patterson took refuge in a cave. The mob pursued them and killed all except Dr. Machle and Miss Patterson, who excaped to the Yamen. Dr. Machle was badly wounded.

Another account says the Lianchowerassacre was due to the unhappy action of Mrs. Machle, who, on the refusal of some of the megabers of a zalive procession to desist from worshiping the Idois they carried, seized the Idois and declined to restore them to their owners. Thereupon the Infurriated processionists surrounded and destroyed the insiston and asto their owners. Thereupon the in-Curtated processionists surrounded and destroyed the mission and as-saulted the inmates. They then mur-dered them and threw their bodies into the river.

Prompt section has been taken by the American authorities in China to secure full reparation for the mas-sacre of American missionaries at Lianchow.

Why, Professor Has Changed His Views as to Coeducation.

An objection to coeducational colleges which has not been much heard of in public is stated by a professor in one of them. He has taught there a dozen years and at first was a strong advocate of the system. Now he says he would like to see women banished from the university or would like to receive a call to a man's university. And the reason he gives is what he calls the American woman's
social affair. This professor describes in detail the social functions of the women's side of the college, the development of the taste for formal society, the dress parade, as he regards it, and closes with the declaration that the few who can take high rank as students will before long go abroad, where women students really apply themselves to study and do not thing food secrety at the same time.

Mosquito an Electeral Issue.

John Martin, candidate for borough president in Richmond, Stater Island, stragged the mosquito into his compaign. In a manifesto he said: mosquitors are known. They require only energy, money and official backing to make them effective. We could considerably reduce the discomfort from mosquitoes if our borough president would take up the campaign energetically. I pledge myself, if elected, to use all my power and to devote at least one-fifth of my salary to rid the island of the mosquito pest. A successful campaign would double real estate values.
