Department of Justice Begins Suit at St. Louis to Kill Giant Trust.

The Petition Filed Asks That the Combination Be Declared Unlawful and Restrained from Doing Business—History of the Mo-nopoly and How It Is Alleged to Restrain Trade

The War on the Standard.
St. Louis.—Petition filed in United States circuit court asking for dissolution of Standard Oil trust and penpetual injunction restraining 10 constituent companies from working with or paying dividends to parent com-or paying dividends to parent com-pany.

New York.—Standard Oil shares dropped 15 points, making net loss of 150 points since Roosevell's war on the trust began; total depreciation is stock since president opeand crussde, $150,000,000; this notwithstanding quarterly dividends of $15 per shre. Findlay, O.—Prosecuting attorney directed by Attorney General Ellis to keep grand jury in session; all Stand-ard-Oil officials may be indicted; of-ficials of Standard Oil company of Ohlo indicted agreed to surrender.

Ohlo indicted agreed to surrenger.

Bt. Louis, Mo.—The suit to break up the Standard Oil frust has been filed in the United States circuit court here. The petition asks:
That the court decree that the combination and conspiracy are uniawful under the Sherman anti-trust act.
That the Standard Oil company be enjoined, restrained and prohibited from exercising any countrol over its allied corporations, or any of them, by the election or appointment of directors or officers, or in any other manner.

rectors or officers, or in any manner.

That the subsidiary corporations be enjoined from declaring or paying any dividends to the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

That the defendants, and each and all of them, be enjoined from entering late any contract, the purpose or effect of which is to restrain commerce in petroleum and its products or to manufalls the same.

in petroleum and its products of to monopolize the same.

The petition contains 194 pages of printed matter, or about 100,000 words, and an aditional 84 pages of exhibits, consisting of by-laws and minutes of Standard Oli meetings and organizations, and a map showing the retail prices of oil in every state and territory of the minon.

It of the minon was a state of the control of the minon of the petition of the petition that John D. Bockefeller and his associates, the other individual defendants, formed a conspiracy to monopolize the commerce in petroleum and its products at an early date—about the year 1870—and that the same individuals have controlled the combination during all these years, in all its forms, and now controlle the combination during all these years, in all its forms, and now controlle the toombination during all these years, in all its forms, and now controlle this or the complete history and growth of pic conspiracy.

History is logically divided into three periods, from 1870 to 1882, the combination assumed the form of a simple conspiracy—that is to say, the defendants, with the Standard Oli company of Ohio, setted together to suppress competition and control the oil business.

During the second period, from 1821 to 1895, the combination assumed the form of a trust agreement, whereby about 40 separate corporations engaged in the same business, turned-iness to sitte trustee, and resolved to dissolve the trust cartificate holders were the majority, so that these defendants controlled all of these corporations.

In March, 1892, the supreme court of Ohio declared this trust agreement void and ordered its dissolution.

Thereupon, on March 21, 1892, the trust cartificate holders met in New ork and resolved to dissolve the trust and appointed John D. Rockefeller, John D. Archbold, Benjamin drewsier, Henry M. Fingler, William Rockefeller, John D. Archbold, Benjamin drewsier, Henry M. Fingler, William Rockefeller, John D. Archbold, Benjamin drewsier, Henry M. Fingler, Hilliam Rockefeller, John D. Tells of Storpendous Profits.

It is alleged that by reason of its monopoly the Standard Oil company has made enormous and unreasonable profits on the actual value of its property; that the trusteer valuation of all the property and stocks placed in their hands in 1832 was 285,716,892.4.

The additional property purchased. The additional property purchased from cartiage, is $85,020,782.4.

The additional property controlled by the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, except such as may have been purchased from earnings, is $85,020,782.4.

According to their own valuation.

Upon this capital the Standard has from 1832 to 1895, inclusive, paid $13,140,045.50 of dividends, and has created a large surplus—the exact surplus the petitioner is unable to state, because the Standard has not published any statements since 1896. But from 1832 to 1896 tits surplus, according to its own statements, was $75, 536,023.14, and it is alleged that its property at $250,000,000.11 at annual dividends during the hast sinc pears have run from 32 to 48 per ceet per annum, in addition to this large surplus.

A Wonderful Discovery

It has been the aim of scientists for years to find some liquid preparation which would possess anodyne, astrin-gent and antiseptic properties and yeb be of such a consistency that it would etrate, first, through the sk very bones, exerting on its way down, healing and pain destroying properties.

Max R. Zaegel, a graduate of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, established at Sheboygan, Wix, as a chemist for the last 23 years, has discovered this long sought secret. It consists of a misture of vegetable and mineral oils forming an amber colored liquid of pleasant odor and taste, which, when used as directed, restores vitality and strength and gives prompt relief to pain.

Applied to cuts, sore, burns and bruises it beals, as owing to its antiseptic
