

THE BARRINGTON REVIEW.

VOL. 22. NO. 5.

BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS, FRIDAY, MARCH 23, 1906

$1.50 A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

PASSES TO HIS REWARD

Jerome Kingsley, Faithful to Every Trust, Dies On Monday.

Jerome Kingsley, one of the pioneers of this city, peacefully passed away at his home Monday morning. The gentleman had lived over the allotted time of three score and ten, but his life was so good and pure that his death caused sorrow in the hearts of our citizens. His life had been a strenuous one from an official standpoint, but none can say but what every trust imposed in him was faithfully and conscientiously attended to with credit to himself and his constituents. He was a man who believed in and practiced the golden rule, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

The offices he held and the length of service is as follows:

Department Revenue Assessor from 1861 to 1865.

Township Clerk 21 consecutive years. Refused to serve longer.

Supervisor and collector for several years.

Assessor for 22 consecutive years.

Secretary of Harrington Mutual Insurance company from the time of its origin until last year.

Delegate to the county and state conventions of the Republican party.

Justice of the Peace for 30 years.

Township Treasurer for 32 consecutive years.

Jerome W. Kingsley, son of Ezra King and Joanna Kingsley, was born in Berkshire, Mass., Nov. 19th, 1821.

He came to Illinois in 1849 and located at Aurora, where he remained for two years. In 1842 he moved to the old homestead farm in Barrington Center, where he resided until 1882, when he took up his residence in the village of Harrington.

Mr. Kingsley was married in 1845 to Miss Polly T. Polke, who died in 1847. In 1848 he was again married, this time to Miss Harriet Mariett, who died in 1853. A son was born to them, Alfred, who became one of Elgin's leading business men, and died in 1880, leaving a wife and one child.

In 1857 Mr. Kingsley married for the third time, taking for his bride Miss Clarinda Applebee, daughter of Gilbert and Betsey A. Applebee. By this happy union two children were born—Willis and Carrie. Willis died at the age of seventeen, and Miss Carrie remains to comfort and help share the sorrow that has befallen the devoted wife and loving mother.

Miss Julia F. Gardner, the oldest sister of Mr. Kingsley, who has made her home with him, survives him.

The deceased was interested and always ready to do what he could for the advancement of education, or any cause that would be for the good of the people.

Although he was prominent in public life, he was seen at his best in his home life. As a husband, father and brother, none could be more loving and true.

Mr. and Mrs. Kingsley and wife affiliated with the Methodist Episcopal church at Harrington Center August 15th, 1858. In 1865 the deceased was appointed class leader in the church, and served in that capacity on different occasions in the '60s, '70s and '80s. Ever since coming to Barrington Mr. Kingsley has held office in the church. His first office was that of steward. In 1885 he was appointed a trustee, and during most of the time since then was chairman of the church board, holding that office at the time of his death. Of his church work his pastor says:

"He was looked up to as a father in the church, and his counsel was always sought in matters of importance in the church work. He was business like and faithful in small matters as well as in greater things. His brotherly counsel and his cheerful helpfulness will be sorely missed by the pastor and the people of the Harrington Methodist Episcopal church. Brother Kingsley's Christian faith up to the very hour of his death was remarkable. His confidence in God as his father, and in Jesus Christ as his savior, and in the Holy spirit as his guide was the secret of his victorious life and his triumphant death."

The funeral services were held Thursday afternoon, and interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

Loss—Wednesday, March 7th, a small emerald pin set with small diamond. Finder please leave at Review office and receive reward.

IT WAS GOOD.

Odd Fellows' Entertainment De-served a Better House.

The Odd Fellows' entertainment on St. Patrick's night, last Saturday, was one that was deserving of a much larger attendance. The program consisted of three entertainers, and the Harrington Military Band.

Col. William Lightfoot Visscher of the Chicago Press Club first occupied the stage. In an easy manner he told of Civil War experiences as a Kentucky colonel, and recited a few selections of various dialects.

Mr. De Noyer of Boston, posing as "Railroad Jack," a tramp comedian with ludicrous garments and a good "face-make-up," entertained with a few jokes and a lively bucciance.

Mr. Mackevly, a magician of the lot, Wis. kept things interesting for more than a half hour. His sleight-of-hand tricks were so skillfully done that the audience was filled with wonder, while his pleasing and graceful manner charmed all. He was not of the dull dry sort but was full of fun, keeping his admirers in a continuous laughter. Even some of our pompous business men joined the president to make the evening enjoyable.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The four beautiful selections by the Harrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment men speak well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

SALEM CHURCH PROSPEROUS

Over $3,000 Collected and Dis-bursed for Expenses and Benevolent Causes.

The Illinois Conference of the United Evangelical church is in session at Freeport, Ill., this week. The Revs. A. Haelele and H. Meyer are in attendance. F. H. Frye is the delegate elected to represent the Salem congregation at said conference.

Whether the present pastor, A. Haelele, will be returned for another year or not, will be decided within a few days.

During the past year four members were lost, one by death and three by removal. Ten united with the church. Of these one by letter and nine on profession of faith. The present membership is 267.

For the support of the gospel and current expenses of the local church the sum of $1,584.21 was raised in the year past. Besides this $29.63 was paid for home and foreign missions and over $800 was paid for other benevolent causes, making a total of $3,283.85.

All the Sunday evening services are conducted in the English language. Visitors are always welcome.

The meetings of the Christian Endeavor Society are held every Sunday morning just before the regular preaching services.

On Sunday morning, March 25, Rev. A. C. Lindemeyer, a theological student from Evanston will preach in the English language.

The Salem society will unite in the union services to be held at the Zion's church on Sunday evening.

Miss Grace Grimes spent Sunday in Chicago.

Mrs. H. C. Mathel was in Chicago Monday.

Miss Lizzie Clark was in Chicago on business Tuesday.

Paul Hanz of Chicago spent Sunday with his parents here.

Dr. Malcolm did some dental work in Chicago Sunday.

Carl Bruce spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Dr. Schirring.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Peck entertained company over Sunday.

Mrs. Milan Reynolds visited her sister, Mrs. L. H. Bennett, at Chicago last week Friday.

Miss Clara Krueger was one of the Chicago visitors Tuesday.

G. H. Arps attended the Agents' Association in Chicago Tuesday.

Henry Anderman of Chicago spent Sunday in town with his sister.

Miss Elmina Arps saw Chaucery O'Leary at McVicker's Sunday evening.

Rose and Mrs. Pearl Kuebler spent a couple of days in Chicago last week.

George Stroker and family of Wauconda spent Sunday and part of Monday in town.

Miss Martha Hendricks and Miss Koelling of Arlington Heights were in town Sunday.

Geo. Mathel, Irving Butler, Willie Danielson and Clarence Comfort were Chicago visitors Sunday.

Miss Mary Hoffmeister played at a concert given at the Hamilton Park Field House Monday night.

George Stroker, wife and children, of Wauconda, spent Sunday calling on their many friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Alendoff and Miss Ullentide of Chicago spent Sunday at the home of Louise Krueger.

Mrs. Helen Wilson will open up a millinery store in connection with her bakery, to which she solicits the custom of the town.

Mrs. Koobstorf and Mrs. H. Torgler and daughters, Arlin, Bertha and Mamie, spent Sunday with relatives at Arlington Heights.

Pinn Arps is still on the list of the injured, he having hurt his hand while working for the gas company, where they are tarring the pipes for the mains.

Miss Mayne Williams returned home from Chicago last Saturday, where she has been caring for her mother's wife, who has just been removed home from a hospital.

Mrs. William Hicks, who had the misfortune to break her limb some time ago, had the cast removed last week Thursday and now is doing as well as can be expected.

The result of the caucus held Saturday resulted as follows: Supervisor, Garrett Horstmann; town clerk, Harry Schoppe; assessor, High Schirring; collector, Henry Hiesche; commissioner, John Wieneke; constable, Edwin Baldwin; school trustee, Dan Bergman.

The Loan Year Club gave a remembrance shower for Miss Clara Krueger at the home of Miss Elmina Arps. Miss Krueger is to be married the last of this month to Jacob Syrtson of Chicago. The bride received several nice presents to remember the club girls by, who, after wishing her many long years of future happiness, departed for their homes at a late hour.

The W. R. C. gave a hard time social at their hall last Friday evening and a good crowd was in attendance, and all report a fine time. The costumes were unique as well as odd, and poverty stricken. Prizes were awarded to Miss Dolly Wilson and Miss Elmina Arps in a speed contest. A good sum was realized for the Relief Corps treasury.

Mr. and Mrs. William Nordmeier celebrated their silver wedding Saturday evening, about forty guests being present, and the couple were as happy and smiling as if it were their wedding day. A full line of silver was presented them, including knives, forks, spoons and a tea set. Several guests were from out of town and all report a fine time, forgetting their usual hours of retiring, and upon leaving wishing the bride and groom of a quarter century that they live on to complete the circle of time.

Recital at Palatine.

A recital will be given at the home of F. W. Thies at 430 Chicago Saturday afternoon, March 24th. The program will be as follows:

Piano solo, Chaucery—Miss Lillie Bergman.

Piano solo, Prelude, Chopin—Miss Emma Huber.

Violin solo, selected—Miss Hazel Dean.

Piano solo, Prelude, Handel—Walter Huber.

Piano solo, Recitativo—Mrs. Fred Thies.

Piano solo, March—Miss Laura Vohle.

Piano solo, "May Belle"—Miss Lillian Thies.

Violin solo, selected—Miss Freda Bartels.

Piano solo, Intermzzo—Pizicato—Miss Jessie Nason.

Lecture on "History of Music"—Mrs. J. I. Sears.

Piano solo, Minuet—Miss Cora Bergman.

Violin solo, selected—Miss Grace Vohle.

Piano solo, "Butterfly"—Miss Daisy Paddock.

Piano duet, "Galahad"—Misses Lillie Bergman and Maude Knigze.

To the Voters of the Village of Barrington. Notice.

A caucus of the voters of said village is hereby called for Saturday evening, March 23rd, 1906, at 8 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination the Village officers for the ensuing term.

LEWIS H. BENNETT, Village Clerk.

Acquit Themselves With Credit.

An excellent program was rendered at the recital given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pomeroy, at 430 Chicago, yesterday afternoon:

Piano duet, "On the Lawn"—Misses Maude and Merton Grady.

Piano solo, Minuet—Miss Lillie Volker.

Piano solo, "May Belle"—Miss Alberta Horne.

Piano duet, waltz—Misses Ethel Wilmer and Edna Forester.

Violin solo, andante from concerto—Walter Sears.

Piano solo, "Slumber Song"—Miss Maude Grady.

Vocal solo, selected—Miss Emma Pomeroy.

Piano solo, valse brillante—Miss Maude Meyer.

Lecture on "History of Music"—Mrs. J. I. Sears.

Violin solo, "Fantasia"—Walter Sears.

Piano duet, "Hungarian Dance"—Misses Emma and Edna Lageschultz.

Chicago, Ill., March 16.—The Passenger Department of the Chicago & North Western Railway announces that as a means of increasing the efficiency of the "Seeling America First" movement, round trip tickets will be sold over that line to Pacific Coast points, good on their fast limited trains, at the rate of $15.00 from Chicago to the Coast, for the ensuing season promises to show an increase of many thousand people over that of any season ever known.

WAS A HOT FIGHT

Caucuses Prove Warm on a Cold Day in Barrington and Cuba.

More interest was manifested in the caucus held last Saturday in the Town of Cuba than has been seen in recent years. Every office except that of constable was hotly contested for, and as it is, three nomination papers were filed immediately after the caucus was over. They are: E. L. Waterman who will compete with E. W. Riley, the regular nominee for assessor; Charles Grom vs. William Paddock for highway commissioner, and Henry Gieske will be opposed for tax collector by Conrad Kraus.

George Hager was unanimously chosen as chairman of the meeting, and George Gomstock, J. M. Topping and L. R. Lines served as judges, while Messrs. Alverson and F. H. Plagge did the clerical vote. They had a strenuous day of it, the voting was brisk from beginning to end, but they proved equal to the occasion, and performed their duties in a fair and impartial manner.

The first office to be decided was that of supervisor, and Miles T. Lamey, the present incumbent, had a battle royal with Fred Kirschner, for the honor of nomination. Mr. Kirschner had ably and fairly conducted the office of assessor for years. He is a man who has, and deserves, the many friends who know and respect him. His politics have always been clean, and in business his word is as good as a gold bond. Having been friends for years the two candidates early in the day decided to leave it to their friends, and whichever received the honor, he would not be opposed on the election by the other. When the votes were counted it was found that 172 were cast, of which Lamey received 93 and Kirschner 79.

For town clerk Edward Martin had a "go" with F. H. Plagge, the present efficient official. Out of 151 votes cast, Mr. Plagge received 122, and he was declared nominated.

For assessor F. L. Waterman received 86 votes and E. W. Riley 94, and the latter was declared to be the choice.

The office of collector was a hot fight, five candidates being in the field. The result of the first ballot was: Kraus, 50; Gieske, 45; Kirmse, 30; Sempt, 27, and Schaefer, 15. When the result was announced Schaefer, Kirmse and Sempt withdrew from the race, leaving Gieske and Kraus to fight it out, the result being Gieske, 76 votes; Kraus, 73.

The closest contest proved to be the office of highway commissioner, for the north end, for which William Paddock and Charles Grom both desired the nomination. The first ballot proved a draw, and on the second it resulted in Grom receiving 72 ballots and Paddock 84.

The highway commissioners for the central district was contested for by J. F. Hallock and J. W. Adams, the former receiving 52 votes and the latter 83 votes.

J. M. Topping, having no opposition for the office of constable had a walk away.

The caucus in the township of Barrington, held Friday, in the village hall, was an interesting one for that township. Lively canvassing was indulged in for the offices of collector, highway commissioner and constable. While in the town of Cuba the fight for the office of supervisor was a warm one, over in Barrington Mr. Boehmer had no opposition, neither had Leroy Powers for clerk, or John C. Plagge for assessor. On the other hand the office of constable, which was not contested for in Cuba, proved an exciting set-to in Barrington. Three candidates were in the field—George Wagner, O. Willmarth and E. K. Magee, the latter winning the nomination, but Mr. Wagner held nomination papers with the clerk, and will run on a petition ticket.

The nomination for the office of collector was sought by John C. Brazel, Charles Cronk and Ed. Thies. Mr. Brazel receiving the most votes at the caucus, but will have to battle with Chas. Cronk for the office at the election, as that gentleman immediately filed nomination papers, and will run on a petition ticket.

For commissioner of highways Wm. Krumpholtz and M. W. Prouty had a go, the former winning out, but Mr. Prouty will run on a petition ticket.

For trustee of schools J. L. Meiners had no opposition.

ENTERTAIN LARGE AUDIENCE

Mission Band Program Proves As Enjoyable One.

The program rendered at the Salem church Sunday evening by the Mission Band proved a very interesting one and the little folks who took part deserve praise for the creditable manner in which they carried it out. A large congregation was present to enjoy it. The program follows:

Song.

Scripture Reading and Prayer—Rev. Haelele.

Girls' Quartette.

Reading—Polydia Meier.

Solo—Laura Naeher.

"How There Came to Be Light"—Jennie Homuth.

Boys' chorus.

"What She Thinks"—Laura Naeher and Malinda Homuth.

Donation Piece—Violet and Irene Lowder.

Reading—Faith Haelele.

Girls' chorus—Little Missionaries.

Song—"Over the Ocean Wave."

Five minute talks—Mrs. Theo. Suber.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

The following letters remain unclaimed in the Barrington Post Office for

E

THE REVIEW

Entered as Second-Class Matter.

M. W. LAMBEY, Editor and Publisher.

Friday, March 23, 1906

OFFICIAL DIRECTORY VILLAGE OF BARRINGTON.

PRESIDENT.....MRS. E. LAMBEY
TREASURER.....

JOHN C. PLAGGE.....HENRY DONIKA
JOHN ROBERTSON.....W. E. PETERSON
O. W. WILLIAMS.....T. J. DUCKLEY
CLARK.....L. H. BERRY
POLICE MAGISTRATE.....A. C. LINES
THESAUER.....W. W. GRENAN
ATTORNEY.....GEO. W. SPENCER
MARSHAL.....JOHN DONIKA
CLERK OF COURT.....W. W. HADLEY
PRIZE MARSHAL.....J. E. MCNAY

FRATERNAL SOCIETIES.

LOUNGE LODGE NO. 731 A. F. & M. S. meets second and fourth Saturday evenings at Masonic Hall.

BARRINGTON LODGE NO. 96, I. O. O. F. meets every Thursday evening in Odd Fellows Hall.

AUTUMN LEAF LODGE NO. 68, DAUGHTERS OF REBEKAH, meets second and fourth Friday evenings of each month in Odd Fellows Hall.

BARRINGTON CAMP NO. 88, M. W. A. meets first and third Tuesday evenings at Masonic Hall.

BARRINGTON COURT NO. 22, COURT OF HONOR, meets first and third Tuesday evenings at Odd Fellows Hall.

BARRINGTON GARRISON, NO. 127, R. of G. meets second and fourth Monday evenings at Odd Fellows Hall.

MATTHEW LODGE NO. 582, H. N. A. meets first and third Monday evenings at Masonic Hall.

BARRINGTON LODGE NO. 420, MYSTIC WORKERS OF THE WORLD, meets second and fourth Thursday at Odd Fellows Hall.

GENERAL SWENEY POST, NO. 273, G. A. R. meets second Friday of each month in G. A. R. Hall.

WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS NO. 85, meets the second Wednesday in each month at G. A. R. Hall.

A Man's House Is His Castle.

Of late years there have occurred in the large cities of the country frequent abuses of the power of arrest which seem to have been taken as a matter of course. The evil was recently commented upon in the strongest terms before the New York Bar association by Judge A. T. Clearwater, who says, "The rights and liberties of the people have so long been trampled upon by the ignorant and brutal persons who have been put in rulership as police officers that the citizens of those cities have forgotten their rights and, having forgotten, no longer insist upon them."

Judge Clearwater calls to mind the principle of law that police officers have no rights in the matter of arrest that every citizen is entitled to demand that if an unlawful arrest without a warrant be made by either a citizen or a police officer it is made at his peril. The provisions of the common law governing arrest are a part of the statute law of every state in the Union, but they are, the Judge declares, disregarded repeatedly in nearly every city in the country and "mark the difference between a free government and a despotism." If this were the city of London the officer responsible would be summarily removed by the interference of the house of commons in defense of common law rights. The constitution of the United States guarantees the security of the person as against unreasonable seizure, a provision based upon the dictum of Sir Edward Coke, which is:

"The house of every one is to him his castle and the fortress as well for his defense against injury and violence as for his repose."

As In the Days of Aladdin.

Modern science plays the role of the genii of Aladdin's time, and it is difficult to see how it could be so beneficent or inhuman, but there is a hint of Aladdin in an invention reported from Paris which is nothing less than "disappearing paper."

The mystery thing is made according to the following process: The paper is first steeped in acid (sulphuric acid) by preference, and then according to the lease of life it is intended the material should possess. It is afterward dried and glazed and the acid is specially neutralized by means of ammonia vapor. But the acid still remains in the pores, and the paper is infallibly destroyed after an existence more or less prolonged as the case may be.

Vanishing paper is no novelty in certain circles, as, for instance, financial certificates, wills, codicils, written pledges and the like, although it is usually believed that the missing documents will turn up just at the right time for some of the parties interested. The Paris joker does away with all necessity of playing at hide and seek in these matters. The note, the pledge, the ardent love letters, even the marriage certificate or the treaties which states use as pawns, may be written on disappearing paper or parchment, timed to vanish when they have served the purpose of the schemer who manipulates them.

Advertising pays if done right. THE REVIEW is the right medium.

Who Can Vote in Russia.
The fact that lots of things have been done to the 'douma project in Russia since the czar originally ordered the calling of a national assembly could not block the wheels of political progress in that distracted country to any great extent, provided the spirit of the popular demand and the promises of the ruler are carried out in the election of representatives. The outlook for a "measure deal" is not good, according to the Paris European. Describing changes in the electoral laws as applied to the douma elections, this paper says:

The limits which made it impossible for the active and most energetic elements of the people to vote have been preserved, and, as was the case in the past, the electors are divided into orders or classes, with no guarantee of a fair ballot. The only real change that has been made is that the classes of the qualified voters have been increased. Thus in the new categories of voters that have been created we find that owners of landed property and tenanted merchants in the small villages are in the second and third degree, tenants and farmers, small rural proprietors and priests as of the second and third degree, and the peasants are put in the fourth degree. In addition, the state employees, those of the municipal authorities, and those of the railways are permitted to vote.

However, as has been pointed out in many restrictions. The only workmen who are considered voters are those who have been in the same establishment for at least five years. In consequence of this fact the millions of workmen in the small and miscellaneous factories will remain outside the provisions of the law, the same being true for workmen in factories who have not been at work steadily for a period of at least six months. But it can hardly be expected that many workmen will qualify today, after a year of general strikes and partial interruptions. Indeed, it is certain that hardly one-fourth of the working class will be able to vote; besides, the workmen only form a small proportion compared to the voters of the first degree, and unless they vote for a bourgeois candidate the workmen have no chance of seeing their man in parliament. In short, the new electoral law tends to favor the bourgeoisie of the towns and cities, a bourgeoisie which has given the government abundant proof of its loyalty.

According to London newspaper reports, the Russian voters are disinclined to register, owing to the obstacles placed in the way of a free electoral campaign by the government and the prevalence of repressive measures. Postponement of the elections to a later date than April has been freely agitated by the reactionaries, who hope that time will increase the popular misgivings and that the douma will prove abortive.

Safeguarding Factory Workers.

One of the last official acts of President Loubet of France was the opening of a permanent exhibition in Paris for the display of appliances to prevent accidents to operators of machines in factories. In this exhibition are installed the more common machines used in factories, and daily demonstrations of the safety appliances are given for the benefit of employees and the employers. Unusual attention is paid to the protection of workmen in France because of the past history of that country to the liability of the employer for all injuries to the employee. In France the law presumes that the fault lies with the employer. Workmen incapacitated by accident are entitled to receive half to two-thirds wages, according to the severity of the injury, and in case of death as a result of accident while working the dependents are entitled to life annuities. The employers of factory hands, but builders of machinery, have an object in securing the safety of operatives. The safer the machine the quicker it finds a purchaser.

The German forces have been getting it in the neck from the blacks of southwest Africa, the French and English have both been licked by the natives in Nigeria, and yet some people think it a compliment to ask the United States to police Morocco. Admitting that this country could trounce all the blacks in Africa at the first round, that is no good reason for "putting in." Perhaps it will turn out that the policy of Africa for Africans, whether good, bad or indifferent, is the only one we care to stand for. Time enough to champion that cause when it is up to us.

It is estimated that consumers of coal in this country pay about $700,000,000 annually for black diamonds. That with amount of business to stiffen their demands, perhaps they could swing things their way occasionally by organizing on the plan of the miners and operators.

The top of the new Singer building in Manhattan is to be 563 feet high. An addition of fifty feet to the Washington monument will probably enable that noble pile to look down on the tallest skyscraper that happens for another generation at least.

The little Jap poking big John Bull in the ribs with a pointer to prink up the British army is an incident that Gilbert and Sullivan failed to foresee when they wrote those screaming comic opera hits.

It is not likely that any statesman is so sanguine as to expect a system of railway rates that will prevent every community from suspecting that favors are being extended to its commercial rivals.

HIDDEN GOLD.

The Hoard of Precious Metal That Is Secreted in India.

It would be an immense benefit to all mankind if the stores of gold held by individuals in India could be made available for general use. Ever since the dawn of history that country has been gathering gold and hiding it away. Treasures of almost incalculable value are possessed by many Indian princes. When the maharajahs of Burdwan died the stock of gold and silver left by him was so large that no member of the family could make an accurate estimate of it. A report made to the British government by a secret agent stated that on the estate of the defunct potentate were a number of treasure houses, one of them containing three rooms. The largest of these three rooms was forty-eight feet long and was filled with ornaments of gold and silver, plates and cups, washing basins, jugs and so forth—all of precious metals. The other two rooms were full of bags and boxes of gold molours and the silver rupees. The floor of this and other treasure houses had been bricked up for nobody knows how long.

These valuables, according to an ancient custom, were in the custody of the maharajah's wife, the results being attached to her apartments, but none of them was allowed to be opened save in the presence of the master. One room was filled with ornaments belonging to different girls of the family. The natives of India commonly bury their hoards, and among the poorer classes a favorite hiding place is a hole dug beneath the bed. Dressed wells are sometimes employed for the same purpose. It is undoubtedly a fact that very many hoards thus deposited are lost forever, and it is also true that the religious grounds, the gods take up great quantities of gold, silver and precious stones. The temples contain vast amounts of the yellow and white metals. The habit of hoarding seems to have been induced by ages of misgovernment, during which oppression and violence were rife. No feeling of safety existing, it was natural that the natives should adopt the practice of reducing their wealth to a concentrated shape and hiding it—Brooklyn Eagle.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

The day after you meet the average man he asks you to take sides. Flattery has a pretty bad name, but it gets better returns than disagreeable candor.

Of this you may be sure—that the black sheep in every family was once the most petted lamb.

When a lady cries in his father's arms he discovers that it is crying because it wants to go to you.

A man never knows until he has fallen into a hole how many paths he might have taken to avoid it.

When two men get their pencils mired in the mud, jealousy is the owner of the longer pencil insists on getting his own back.

Time flies so rapidly that it seems only a few moments from the time a boy is crying for a jumping jack until he is paying for it—Atchison Globe.

Frog Eggs Caricatures.
Frog eggs are laid before they really become eggs in the true sense of that word. They are always laid under water and when first deposited are covered with a sort of envelope in the shape of a thin membrane. In this shape they are very small, but as soon as they come in contact with the water they rapidly absorb that element and in so doing go through a queer transformation. The thin membrane containing the little embryo is quickly changed into great lumps of a clear jelly substance, each section joined to the other, the whole forming a string from a few inches to several feet in length. On the inside of each of these lumps of jelly the eggs come to perfection and in due course of time add their quota to the frog population of the world.

Costly Competitions.
When a new cathedral or a new college is to be built it is well that architects should compete for it, for then other things being equal, the best man gets the job and the best possible kind of building is assured. Few persons, though, realize what it costs an architect to enter a competition. They do not understand the time and labor that must be devoted to the design, the estimates, etc. There is one firm of architects in this city that spent $2,500 last year on a single competition. This firm entered ten competitions altogether, winning four of them, and the total cost to it was $7,000—Philadelphia Bulletin.

A Tight Ring.
To remove a tight ring from the finger take a long thread of silk and put one end under the ring and draw it through several holes, holding it with the thumb in the palm of the hand. Then wind the long end of the silk tightly round the finger down to the nail. Take hold of the silk and holding it toward the finger, unwind it, and the silk, pressing against the ring, will withdraw it.

Time Limit Fixed.
"Jane, hasn't that young man gone yet?"
"He is just going, papa."
"Jane?"
"Yes, papa."
"In precisely sixty seconds you will say, 'He has just gone.'"
"Yes, papa."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Medical Etiquette.
Medical etiquette, instead of being kept up, as people so often imagine, in the interests of the doctors, is mainly talked in the interests of the public. It is they, not the doctors, who would suffer most were it done away with—London Spectator.

FOR COUGHS
THE WONDER WORKER
FOR THROAT AND LUNGS
DR. KING'S
NEW DISCOVERY

CHAS. EBY, SR., of Elizabeth, Ill., writes: "I paid out over $150 to local physicians, who treated me for La Grippe without giving me any relief. I afterward bought a $1.00 bottle of DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY, and after taking contents of this one bottle I was entirely cured."

Price 50c and $1.00 ABSOLUTELY GUARANTEED! Trial Bottles Free

SOLD AND RECOMMENDED BY
Barrington Pharmacy

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The Young Men's Christian Association had expected to have State Representative Abner Elvion of Wheaton for its speaker last Sunday afternoon but owing to pressing engagements elsewhere he could not be present. The association was however very fortunate in being able to provide Mr. Irubaker of Chicago instead. Mr. Irubaker took for his subject the licensing of the saloons and handled it without gloves, striking straight out from the shoulder against the practice.

He recounted in sharp concise statements the evils which result directly from the liquor traffic, in the profits of which every citizen who casts a vote for license is a partner. Among other things, Mr. Irubaker said: "The claim is common by saloon keepers that the saloon makes business for a town, this claim is false; but if it were true all of the business of the world would not pay for your boy should he become entangled in the net of the liquor traffic, or for your girl should she be the victim of all pitiable objects, a drunkard's wife."

Many eyes in the audience were wet when Mr. Irubaker concluded with a plea to save the boys from the liquor influence and more than one father expressed a determination to add his influence against the licensing of the saloons.

The officers of the association are rather proud of the list of speakers they have been able to bring before the people of Barrington and they believe their efforts in that direction have been appreciated by the large numbers who have come out to hear them. It is however with special pride that they announce that H. G. Warren of Auburn Park has been secured for next Sunday afternoon and evening that the "Rooms" will prove too small to accommodate the numbers who will wish to hear him, the Zion church has been secured for the occasion and a most cordial invitation is extended to all men and boys.

Men are especially urged not to allow this opportunity to slip by the best speaker of the year, go by unimproved. Come and bring your friends with you.

On next Sunday evening a union service under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. will be held in the Zion church at 7:30 to which everybody is invited, good speakers and out of town singers have promised to be with us and a good time is assured.

It is hoped that these two meetings may work epoch in the history of the Association. The members are working hard to make them the best of the kind ever held in Barrington. Would you help by coming?

Eulogy of a Friend.
Another pioneer has passed away. Jerome Kingsley, a Christian gentleman of the old school. We can think of nothing kind, nothing in the way of praise of which this man was not worthy. As father, husband, church-member and citizen his record is unimpeachable. Free from self-laudation, his life spoke for itself.

To have lived so that all this can be said of one, without one word of reproach. To have departed this life leaving nothing but loving memories in the hearts of friends, is better than to repose amid forgetfulness or indifference in a Vanderbilt mausoleum. E. J. L.

WANTED.—Lady to canvass for one of the latest publications out. Quick seller. Also gentlemen who would like to work up to be a general agent and travel. Address, CHAS. C. JONES, Woodstock, Ill., Lock box 26.

Adjudication Notice.

Public notice is hereby given that the subscriber, executor of the last will and testament of Thomas Hayes, deceased, will attend the County Court of Lake County, at a term thereof to be held at the Court House in Waukegan, in said county, on the first Monday of April next, 1906, when and where all persons having claims against said estate are notified and requested to present the same to said court for adjudication.

MILK HAYES, Executor.
Waukegan, Ill., Feb. 5th, 1906.

FOR SALE!

Three Case Separators,
one with Slaty attached stacker; one with Palace stacker attached.

All 36x54 and 54 machines.

Three Engines

Two Hubers, 12 and 16-horse power; one Avery 16-horse power, nearly new.

Wm. H. Sandman
LAKE ZURICH, ILL.

L. H. Bennett,
LAWYER.
With Jackson & Bennett.

Do a General Law Business. Practice in all State and Federal Courts.
Real Estate and Loans.
Office in Grant Bldg.

"Phone Office 223 Residence 1011."
BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS.

FRANK V. CASTLE, ARNOLD B. WILLIAMS, HOWARD B. CASTLE

Castle, Williams & Castle,

ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW.
1020-22 Chamber Commerce Bldg., Chicago.

Telephone 1000 Automatic 7027.

A. K. STEARNS,
LAWYER
213 Washington Street,
'Phone 2761 Waukegan Illinois

Dr. W. A. SHEARER
Physician and Surgeon
Office in Lakeshore Block over the Barrington Pharmacy.

Office Hours: 10:30 A.M. to 1:00 P.M. 6:30 P.M. to 8:00 P.M.
Night calls promptly attended.

Phone 313 Barrington, Illinois

Dr. Edith A. Kellogg
Osteopathic Physician

BARRINGTON OFFICE—At Mrs. S. L. Benton's Home, at the end of the street, near the depot. Treatments given at the residence by appointment.

CHICAGO OFFICE—101 Madison Avenue, near Tremont, Tuesdays and Saturdays, 9:30 A.M. and by appointment.

Palatine Bank

of CHARLES H. PATTEN.

A General Banking Business Transacted
Interest Paid on Time Deposits. Loans on Real Estate.

Insurance.

FOR SALE—A few standard bred Plymouth Rock cockerels. Prices reasonable. Edmunds & Jones, Barrington, Ill.

WE BUILD Cement Walks

and guarantee all work for Five years, and

Our Guarantee is Good.

For prices and terms call or write

Peter Knowe, Palatine, Ill.

THE Barrington Bank

of Sandman & Co.
JOHN ROBERTSON, PRES.
JOHN C. PLAGGE, VICE-PRES.
A. L. ROBERTSON, CASHIER.
H. C. P. SANDMAN.

Barrington, - - Illinois.

Palatine Barber Shop

J. D. Ferry, Proprietor
First-Class Work Only.

Agt. Barrington Steam Laundry

A. S. OLMS

Druggist and Pharmacist.....

A full line of Patent Medicines, Toilet Articles and Stationery. Prescriptions compounded at all hours, day and night.

PALATINE, ILL.

WHEN IN CHICAGO

Stop at the New Northern Bath & Hotel Combined

8 Doors. Five new rooms. Meals a la Carte.

BATHS OF ALL KINDS.

Turkish, Russian, Oriental, French, etc. The best swimming pool in the world. Turkish Bath and Lido, $1.00. Most thorough and clean hotel in Chicago. Baths in the heart of the city. Double on application.

New Northern Bath & Hotel
1400 Chicago St. - CHICAGO - Near State

Heath & Milligan's Climax buggy paint and their wagon and implement paint is the best paint for the purpose manufactured. Sold by Lamsey & Co.

HIS AUNT HANNAH

By C. B. LEWIS

Copyright, 1905, by E. C. Porell.

Aunt Hannah Burt was rich, and she was also called eccentric. She was so called perhaps because she had never married and permitted her husband to squander the fortune that came to her from her father. There was nothing eccentric about her adopting Ray Wheeler when he was fifteen years old, because he was one of her nephews.

At the age of nineteen he entered college, and three years later he graduated as a lawyer. He was taking a rest and looking around previous to setting up for himself when Aunt Hannah discovered something that made her shiver in horror. She had heard no complaints of the young man's conduct while he was at college, and no policeman had ever appeared at the house to warn her that Ray was whooping it up when away from her motherly influence.

The young man had a caller one evening in the person of an old classmate. They smoked and talked. They talked about straight jabs, upper cuts, right hand swings and other things belonging to the Greek language. The door of the room was open, and Aunt Hannah heard them. Later they ascended to the garret. She crept part way up the narrow stairs and saw and heard. She saw them don boxing gloves and punch each other around the big room in derest fashion and also make use of terms she had never heard before, not even in connection with state prisons and ward canines.

When the visitor had departed Ray was summoned to the front presence of Aunt Hannah, who began:

"I wish to ask you, sir, what an upper cut is."

"Why—why," he stammered in his surprise, "an upper cut is when you bring your fist up from beneath and land on the other fellow's chin."

"And what is a straight jab?"

"It is meeting the other fellow full in the face with your fist when he comes at you."

"And didn't I hear something about right hand swings?" she continued as she sat in judgment like a member of the supreme court.

"You swing with your right, this way, and sometimes knock the other fellow's head off."

"And what were you and that young man doing up in my garret?"

"We had the mitts for a few rounds, to keep in practice."

"Boxing gloves, you know?"

"Ah! You learned this at college, did you? While I supposed you were putting in all your time at your studies you were far at work learning to be a prize fighter, eh? Instead of graduating a lawyer, I have, it seems, added to the number of loafers who pound each other about for money."

"Come, now, aunt," protested the young man, "but boxing is a part of the gymnasium work of every college."

"If I had known that they trained young men to be prize fighters you would never have come to college. Never invite that or any other young man here again. I want those boxing gloves burned up this very evening."

"But, aunt,"

"Not a word, sir! If any one had told me that you were a thief I could not feel worse. This prize fighting business must stop right here. If there is any more of it I shall alter my will in favor of those nephews who are gentlemen, even if they don't know any too much."

The gloves were handed over to her and sent downstairs to be cremated in the furnace, and the visitor did not call again. What did happen was that Ray Wheeler attended the nearest gymnasium instead. It was an almost daily thing with him to keep up his boxing practice, and Aunt Hannah would have been none the wiser but for a talebearer. Her cousinman wandered into the place one day and saw Ray hard at work, and an hour later the spitter was in possession of the fact. She felt that she had been defied and her wishes passed by. She was very sober and serious as she faced the young man.

"Didn't I tell you how horrified I was?" she demanded.

"Yes, but—"

"And that I wanted no prize fighters in my family?"

"Yes, but you see—"

"And that if there was any more of it I should change my will? If you learned that at college you must have earned other objectionable things."

"I haven't heard you swear, and I don't know whether you chew and drink or not, but I am ready to believe you do."

"I had built up great hopes around you and to have them shattered in a moment is something hard to bear."

"But, aunt, if only you would let me explain," replied the young man.

"One needn't be a prize fighter or a tough because he knows how to box. It is taught one so that he can defend himself if need be. You see—"

"A gentleman always carries a cane to defend himself with."

"But a cane may be forgotten. Suppose I was going down the street and was accosted by two or three?"

"I can't possibly suppose any such thing. A loafer recognizes a gentleman when he sees one and lets him alone. Ray, you may go to a hotel for two or three days. I want time to think things over. When I have come to a decision I will send you word. No matter what else I decide on, you will get enough ready money to set you up in a saloon."

"Ray Wheeler went without making further protest. He had been at the hotel for two days, when he took a walk through a tough part of the city. He was seeing children here and beaten men and women there and keeping as clear of pubesarts as he could, when he came upon a broken down carriage in the street.

He recognized the driver as the man who drove for his Aunt Hannah, and a moment later saw the woman herself standing in a doorway. She was on one of her charity rounds. Half a dozen loafers had taken advantage of the accident to beat her in and menace her. She had given up her purse, but they wanted more. They were referring to her as "old girl" and about beating the gloves off her hands when there came an interruption. The adopted son put up his dukes and began knocking the loafers into the gutter.

He cleared a path to Aunt Hannah and bid her be of good cheer, and then a pretty little play occurred. Three or four of the gang came back for more and got it. There were three for more and got it. There were three for more and got it. There were three for more and got it.

"Holly fr you, young man, I'd be willing to give up a hundred bones if I could handle you like that."

Aunt Hannah was escorted to the repaired carriage, and she motioned to Ray to get in beside her. She hadn't a word to say until she reached home and had her bonnet off. Then she turned and asked:

"Ray, did you upper cut them?"

"Yes, aunt."

"And give them straight jabs?"

"For sure."

"And deliver right hand swings?"

"A few of them."

"I don't guess you'd better stay home, now that you are here, and if you want the use of the street I don't have any objection, provided you don't make too much noise."

The remarkable recovery of Kenneth Melver, of Vancouver, B. C., is the subject of much interest in the medical circles. He was a victim of a severe inflammation of the throat and lungs, three doctors gave me up, and I was at last told that I was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery and I am happy to say, it saved my life. Cures the worst coughs, croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, tonsillitis, weak lungs, hoarseness and laryngitis. Guaranteed at Barrington Pharmacy.

Proof.

"They tell me that Nathan has joined the church. Do you believe he is in earnest?"

"He must be. I saw him put a dollar in the contribution box."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Portuguese say no man will make a good husband who doesn't eat a good breakfast.

A Scientific Wonder.

The German people stand to its credit make Bucklin's Indian Salve a scientific wonder. It cured E. R. Mulford, lecturer for the Patrons of Husbandry, Waukegan, Pa., of a distressing case of piles. It healed the worst burns, sores, boils, ulcers, cuts, wounds, chafes, itching, and all skin eruptions. Only 25c at Barrington Pharmacy.

Grain alcohol could be used in great quantities in this country if the internal revenue duty were reduced. It would drive wood alcohol out of the market and would be the fuel used by north thousands of small engines, where the more dangerous and more expensive gasoline is now used. The Germans use grain alcohol to a large extent for such purposes, and it would effect an immense saving if it could be thus used here. There is a bill to this end now before congress, but Standard Oil is accused of fighting it in order to keep up the price of kerosene oil.

A Lively Tangle.

With that old enemy of the race, con stipulation, often ends in appendicitis. To avoid all serious trouble with stomach, liver and bowels take Dr. King's New Life Pills. They perfectly regulate these organs, without pain or discomfort. 25c at Barrington Pharmacy.

Genesis of Cotton in America.

The first planting of cotton seed in the colonies was in the Carolinas in the year 1621, when seeds were planted as an experiment in a garden. Winthrop says that in 1633 "men felt to the manufacture of cotton, whereof we have great stores from Barbados." In 1730 it was cultivated in the gardens along Chesapeake bay, especially in the vicinity of Baltimore, and at the opening of the Revolution it was a garden plant in New Jersey and New York, but its real value seems to have been almost unknown to the planters until about 1780.

The Chameleon.

The American chameleon, a small lizard, inhabits various parts of the southern United States. The little animal has the remarkable habit of quickly and completely changing its color, varying from brown to yellow and pale green. Its food consists of insects. The little animal is perfectly harmless to higher forms of life, is often kept as a pet and has been worn attached to a chain as an ornament. The toes are provided with adhesive pads, which enable the lizard to run upon smooth, vertical surfaces.

The idea that life insurance money is safe funds, to be guarded as safely and carefully in every way as those deposited in savings banks, is the proper basis for all insurance legislation. Now that the ground is cleared, legislators should switch on to that basis and never let up.

That "eminent London medical authority" has discovered that ice cream generates benzene acid in the human stomach. Perhaps this discovery accounts for the growing popularity of ice cream in winter. It certainly will not "throw a scare" into the summer crowd.

Watering Carriage.

A lady was one day approaching the modest house of the Carries in Chevy Chase, Md., long suffering Jeanie Welsh Carlie, up in the balcony, looking down at her. "Oh, do," she called out, "come in, Mary Ann and I are so tired of watering Carlie." The lady entered and was escorted to the little garden at the back of the house. There it was a hot day—out the great man in a pair of white trousers. For he had two devoted women had been taking turns in deluging the doghouse around him by means of a large watering pot. He was very particular that not a drop should touch his sacred person, which no doubt doubled the difficulty of the operation. The same authority relates that Mrs. Carlie had a dog which she loved. But it would come in with dirt, and the splenic philosopher objected. No one was willing to wash the creature, yet he had to be cleaned somehow. Finally there was an arrangement made with a local laundry, and she washed him every week, sending him home in a basket with the clean clothes.

How Ten Chest Hiding Is Made.

One of the many industries in connection with the tea trade is the collection of the leaf, which has been noted for many years for the purity of its leaf, and this tea chest lead, as it is called, is regarded as the finest in existence. There are many uses for it. It is found very valuable in making the best kinds of solder. Machinery is not usually employed in the production of this sheet lead, every sheet being generally made by hand in the most primitive fashion. A large brick is provided the size of the sheet of lead to be made and is covered with two or three sheets of paper. On these the molten lead is poured, and another brick is placed on top, which flattens the lead out to the required size and thickness. The sheets are then sold together to the size of the interior of the chest, the tea is packed in, and the top sheet is fashioned in place. The workmen are very expert, and they turn out an immense number of sheets in the course of the day.

Torture By Savages.

Speaking of the torture to which some of the savage tribes in the Pacific subject their captives, reminds me of the intense suffering I endured for three months from inflammation of the kidneys," says W. M. Sherman, of Cushing, Mo. "Nothing helped me until I tried Electric Bitters. Three bottles of which cured me. Cures liver complaint, dyspepsia, blood disorders and malaria, and restores the weak and nervous to robust health. Guaranteed by Barrington Pharmacy. Price 50c.

Home-seekers' Excursion to the Northwest, West and Southwest.

Via the North-Western Line. Excursion tickets at greatly reduced rates are on sale to the territories indicated above. Standard and Tour Sleeping Cars, Free Reclining Chair Cars and "The Best of Everything."

For dates of sale and full particulars apply to agents Chicago & North-Western R'y.

Adjudication Notice.

Public notice is hereby given that the subscriber, administrator of the estate of Frederick Wiseman, deceased, will attend the County Court of Lake County, at a term thereof to be holden in the Court House in Waukegan, in said county, on the first Monday of April next, 1906, and where all persons having claims against said estate are notified and requested to present the same to said Court for adjudication.

EDWARD F. WISEMAN, Administrator.

Waukegan, Ill., Feb. 25th, 1906.

TAX SALE NOTICE.

Notice of the Sale of Lands and Lots for State, County and City Special and General Taxes.

STATE OF ILLINOIS, ss. COUNTY OF LAKE, ss. Tax purchaser's notice to the unknown owners and all parties interested in the following described lands and lots or parcels of the same:

TAX NOTICE.

Luella Heinrich, A. A. Putnam, J. J. Woodbridge, J. J. Lansing, H. H. Dyer, Frank P. Crandon, Alex. Strong (estate), Charles E. Bartlett, E. C. Morrow, D. W. Matthews, Benjamin Frink, S. G. Rettig, R. A. Tiernan, W. H. Ferry, B. J. Cloes, Oscar Hanks, William C. Heinrich, Edmund Le Clerc, Arthur Le Clerc, John Woodbridge, W. B. Ritz, Wilfred Brown, William G. Haines, Albert H. Hensley, Ludwig Weyer, Edna A. Workman, E. J. Heydecker, Hiram Combs, Rachel Masser, Charles Phillips, John T. Wheeler, Louis Dreher, John F. Hubbard, William B. Smith, Edward J. Neil, Newton Crissey.

That at a sale of lands and lots for delinquent taxes for the year 1905, made by the Treasurer and County Clerk, at the County Clerk's office in the Court House, in the City of Waukegan, County of Lake, and State of Illinois, according to the laws of the State of Illinois, on the 27th day of June, A. D. 1906, Miles T. Lamey purchased for general taxes lot 32, town 46 north, range 9 east, assessed in the name of A. Putnam and the time of redemption from said sale will expire on the 27th day of June, A. D. 1906.

MILES T. LAMEY, Purchaser.

On the 28th day of June, A. D. 1904, Miles T. Lamey purchased for general taxes lot 4, block 1, in Ramaker's subdivision in section 35, town 46 north, range 9 east, assessed in the name of A. Putnam and the time of redemption from said sale will expire on the 28th day of June, A. D. 1906.

MILES T. LAMEY, Purchaser.

On the 29th day of June, A. D. 1904, Miles T. Lamey purchased for general taxes the following pieces or parcels of land, to wit: Lot 18, block 18, Washington Park, Village of North Chicago, assessed in the name of J. J. Woodbridge, lots 20 and 31, block 7, in Armstrong's Addition, section 10, town 45 north, range 12 east, assessed in the name of J. J. Lansing.

Lot 7, block 2, in T. H. Durst's subdivision in city of Waukegan, assessed in the name of T. H. Durst.

Lot 1, block 6, Washington Springs, in city of Waukegan, assessed in the name of Frank P. Crandon.

Lot 3, block 7, in Franklin W. Glasse's subdivision, section 5, town 44 north, range 12 east, in North Waukegan, Village of North Chicago, assessed in the name of Alex. Strong.

Lot 4, block 5, Bartlett's subdivision, in City of Lake Forest, assessed in the name of Chas. E. Bartlett, and the time of redemption from said sale will expire on the 29th day of June, A. D. 1906.

MILES T. LAMEY, Purchaser.

On the 30th day of June, A. D. 1904, Miles T. Lamey purchased for general taxes the following pieces or parcels of land, to wit: Lot 2, block 1, and lot 24, block 2, in Rittenberg's subdivision, in section 25, town 43 north, range 11 east, assessed in the name of E. C. Morrow.

Lot 3, block 1, in Deerfield Park, in Village of Deerfield, assessed in the name of W. W. Matthews, lot 42, in Hawthorn, City of Port Sheridan, assessed in the name of Benjamin Frink.

Lot 11, block 1, in J. S. Prall's P. L. Sheridan subdivision in section 10, town 43 north, range 12 east, assessed in the name of S. G. Rettig, and the time of redemption from said sale will expire on the 30th day of June, A. D. 1906.

MILES T. LAMEY, Purchaser.

On the 30th day of June, A. D. 1904, Miles T. Lamey purchased for special assessment the following pieces or parcels of land, to wit: Lot 1, block 1, in Kirk and Powell's addition, town 45 north, range 12 east, assessed in the name of R. A. Tiernan.

Special Assessment Warrant No. 6, lot 12, in block 33, in north addition, section 21, town 45 north, range 12 east, assessed in the name of W. H. Ferry, (except 100 by 150 feet, and except 12 acres in the northeast corner and except 1 acre in the north 27 acres northeast fractional section 21, town 44 north, range 12 east (except west 12 acres redeemed), assessed in the name of R. J. Cloes.

Special Assessment Warrant No. 7, except 12 acres in the northeast corner and except 1 acre in the north 27 acres northeast fractional section 21, town 44 north, range 12 east (except west 12 acres redeemed), assessed in the name of R. J. Cloes, and the time of redemption from said sale will expire on the 30th day of June, A. D. 1906.

MILES T. LAMEY, Purchaser.

Redemption may be made at the County Clerk's office in the City of Waukegan, Lake County, Illinois.

WANTED—About a forty acre farm between here and Lake Zurich. Name price. X. REVIEW.

MAPLE CITY SELF-WASHING SOAP, gives that snow white finish so pleasing to good housewives.

Ayer's Pills Keep them in the house. Take one when you feel bilious or dizzy. They act directly on the liver. BUCKINGHAM'S DYE Want your moustache or beard a beautiful brown or rich black? Use LAMEY & COMPANY Dealers in Building Material, Paints, Oils, Glass, Tile and Cement. Barrington, - - Illinois.

Shaping, Pulleys and Belting, Cisterns and Tanks, Repairing of All Kinds of Machinery a Specialty.

LAKE ZURICH NEWS.

Emil Frank is on jury at Waukegan. Wm. Tonne returned the tax books Monday.

Mrs. Wm. Ahlgren spent Sunday in Chicago.

Miss Emma Seip was home over Sunday.

Louis Seip of Chicago visited his parents Sunday.

H. Kopp will run on petition for commissioner of highways.

Miss Jennie Seip visited relatives at Palatine last week.

George Hoff's son has been quite ill with typhoid fever.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Seip of Palatine called on relatives here Friday.

W. H. Ahlgren & Co. have bought a job lot of ladies' shoes which they will sell very reasonably.

Several young people from here attended the masquerade at Long Grove and report a good time.

Philip Wagon purchased the house and surrounding lots which were formerly occupied by Fred H. Land.

Misses Tillie and Minnie Hokenemy and Anna Schaefer attended a dance at Diamond Lake last week Wednesday.

The following officers were nominated at the caucus Saturday: D. Huntington, supervisor; Fred Meyer, collector; George Prussla, town clerk; Gilbert Fehman, commissioner; Fred Thies, assessor; John Dahsde, trustee; and Fred Thies, Sr., school trustee.

Notice to Water Consumers. Notice is hereby given that water taxes are due and payable March 1st, and must be paid at once. Every consumer of village water is hereby notified to call at my office and settle same without delay.

M. C. McINTOSH, LAWYER.

Suite 420 Ashland Bldg., Chicago. Residence Barrington.

Dr. M. F. Clausius, Physician and Surgeon, Deutscher Arzt.

Office Hours 8 to 9:30 a. m. Residence 7 to 8 p. m. and 10 to 12 a. m. Sunday.

PALATINE, ILLINOIS.

Dr. H. O. Scott, DENTIST.

Plate, Crown and Bridge. Extracting a Specialty. with Gas. Prices Reasonable.

Bailey, Hall & Spinner, Attorneys at Law.

Office: Suite 1506 Tribune Building, Telephone Cent. at 2056.

Chicago, - - Illinois.

G. W. Spurr, Residence, Barrington, Ills.

R. L. PECK, LAWYER.

Residence: Palatine, Illinois. Office: 1318 Ashland Block, Chicago.

Telephone Central 477. Telephone Palatine 394.

THE GREAT K&A TRAIN ROBBERY

By PAUL LEXTER FORD, Author of The Vanishing Train

Copyright, 1914, by Paul Lester Ford. All rights reserved.

CHAPTER V—Continued.

We rode into the camp at the Grand Canyon a little after eight, and the deserted look of the tents gave me a moment's fright, for I feared that the party had gone. Tolfree explained, however, that some had ridden out to Moran Point, and the rest had gone down Hance's trail. So I breakfasted and then took a look at Albert Cullen's Winchester. That it had been recently fired was as plain as the Grand Canyon itself; throwing back the bar, I found an empty cartridge shell, still oily from the discharge. That completed the tale of seven shots. I didn't feel absolutely safe till I had asked Tolfree if there had been any shooting of echoes by the party, but his denial rounded out my chain of evidence.

Telling the sheriff to guard the bases of the posse and rode over to Moran's Point. Soon enough, there was Mr. Cullen, Albert, and Captain Ackland. They gave a shout at seeing me, and even before I had reached them they called to know how I could come so soon, and if I had caught the robbers. Mr. Cullen started to tell his pleasure at my rejoicing the party, but my expression made him pause, and it seemed to dawn on all three that the Winchester across my saddle, and the cowboy's hands resting nonchalantly on the revolvers in their belts, had a meaning.

"Mr. Cullen," I explained, "I've got a very unpleasant job on hand, which I don't want to make any worse than need be. Every fact points to your party as guilty of holding up the train last night and stealing those letters. Probably you weren't all concerned, but I've got to go on the assumption that you are all guilty, till you prove otherwise."

"Aw, you're joking," drawled Albert. "I hope so," I said, "but for the present I've got to be English and treat the joke seriously."

"What do you want to do?" asked Mr. Cullen.

"I don't wish to arrest you gentlemen unless you force me to," I said, "for I don't see that it will do any good. But I want you to return to camp with us."

They assented to that, and, single file, we rode back. When there I told each that he must be searched, to which they submitted with no worse than that we went through their baggage. I wasn't going to have the sheriff or cowboys tumbling over Miss Cullen's clothes, so I looked over her bag myself. The pretentious and daintiness of the various contents were a revelation to me, and I tried to put them back as neatly as I had found them, but I didn't know much about the articles, and it was a terrible job trying to fold up some of the things. Why, there was a big pink affair, lined with silk, with bits of ribbon, and lace all over it, which nearly drove me out of my head, for I would have defied mortal man to pack it so that it shouldn't muss. I had a funny little feeling of tenderness for everything, which made fussing over it all a pleasure, even while I felt the time I was doing a sneak act and had really no right to touch her belongings. I didn't find anything incriminating, and the posse reported the same result with the other baggage. If the letters were still in existence, they were either concealed somewhere or were in the possession of the party in the Canyon. The thought of the party in the Canyon, the sheriff to keep those in camp under absolute surveillance, I took a single man, and adding a couple of miles, started down the trail.

We found Frederic and "Captain" Hance just dismounting at the Rock Cabin, and I told the former he was in custody for the present, and asked him where Miss Cullen and Lord Raltes were. He told me they were just behind; but I wasn't going to take any risks, and I ordered the posse to look after Cullen. I went on down the trail. I couldn't resist calling back:

"How's your respiration, Mr. Cullen?"

He laughed, and called, "Digitally put me on my feet like a flash."

"He's got the most brains of any man in this party," I remarked to myself.

The trail at this point is very winding, so that one can rarely see fifty feet in advance, and sometimes not ten. Owing to this, the first thing I knew I plumed round a curve on to a mule, which was patiently standing there. Just back of him was another, on which sat Miss Cullen, and standing close beside her was Lord Raltes. One of his hands held the mule's bridle; and the other held Madge's arm, and he was saying, "You owe it to me, and I will have one. Or if—"

I awoke to myself, and coughed aloud, which made Miss Cullen look up. The moment she saw me she cried, "Mr. Gordon! How delightful!" even while she grew as red as she had been two pale the moment before. Lord Raltes grew red too, but in a different way.

"Have you caught the robbers?" cried Miss Cullen.

"I'm afraid not," I answered.

"What do you mean?" she asked.

I smiled at the absolute innocence and wonder with which she spoke, and replied, "I know now, Miss Cullen, why you said I was braver than the Britifera."

"How do you know?"

"I couldn't resist getting in a side shot at Lord Raltes who had mounted his mule and sat scowling. The train robbers were such thoroughgoing defiers at the trade," I said, "that if they had left their names and addresses they wouldn't have made it much easier. We Americans may not know enough to deal with real road agents, but we can do something with amateurs."

"What are we stopping here for?" snapped Lord Raltes.

"I'm sure I don't know," I responded. "Miss Cullen, if you will kindly wait a moment, and then if Lord Raltes will follow you, we will go on to the cabin. I must ask you to keep close to me."

"I stay or go as I please, and not by your orders," asserted Lord Raltes, emphatically.

"Out in this part of the country," I said calmly, "it is considered shocking bad form for an unarmed man to argue with one who carries a repeat rifle. Kindly follow me, Miss Cullen."

And, leaning over, I struck his mule with the loose end of my bridle, starting it up the trail.

When we reached the cabin the deputy told me that he had made Frederic strip and had searched his clothing, finding nothing. I ordered Lord Raltes to dismount and go into the corral.

"For what?" he demanded.

"We want to search you," I answered.

"Don't choose to be searched," he protested. "You have shown no wariness, nor—"

I wasn't in a mood towards him to listen to his talk. I swung my Winchester into line and announced, "I was sworn in last night as a deputy sheriff, and am privileged to shoot a train robber on sight. Either dead or alive, I'm going to search your clothing inside or ten minutes; and if you have no preference as to whether the examination is an ante- or post-mortem affair, I certainly haven't."

This brought him down off his horse—that is, his mule—and I sent the deputy in with him with directions to toss his clothes out to me, for I wanted to keep my eye on Miss Cullen and her posse, so as to prevent any legdemane on their part.

One by one the garments came flying through the door to me. As fast as I finished examining them I pitched them back, except—Well, as I have thought it over since then, I have decided that I did a mean thing, and have regretted it. But just put your own in my place, and think of how Lord Raltes has talked to me as if I was his servant, had refused my apology and thanks, and been as generally "nasty" as he could, and perhaps you would rather make that, after looking through his trousers, save them a toss which, instead of sending them back into the but, sent them over the edge of the trail. They went down like bullets, and as they lodged in a poplar, and as his lordship followed the trail he could get around to them, but there would be a hundred feet of sheer rock between the trail and the trousers. I hope it will teach him to study his Lord Chesterfield to better purpose, for if politeness doesn't cost anything, rudeness can cost considerable. I chuckled to myself.

My amusement did not last long, for my next thought was, "If those letters are concealed on any one, they are on Miss Cullen." The thought made me lean up against my mule, and turn hot and cold by turns.

A nice situation for a lover!

CHAPTER VI.

The Happenings Down Hance's Trail.

Miss Cullen was sitting on a rock apart from her brother and Hance, as I had asked her to do before he helped her dismount. I went over to where she sat, and said, boldly:

"Miss Cullen, I want those letters."

"What letters?" she asked, looking me in the eyes with the most innocent of expressions. She made a mistake to do that, for I knew her innocence must be feigned, and so didn't put much faith in her face for the rest of the interview.

"And what is more," I continued, with a firmness of manner about as genuine as my innocence, "unless you tell me to produce them at once, I shall have to search you."

"Mr. Gordon!" she exclaimed, but she put such surprise and grief and disbelief into the four syllables that I wanted the earth to swallow me then and there.

"Why, Miss Cullen," I cried, "look at my position. I'm being paid to do certain things, and—"

"But that needn't prevent your being a gentleman," she interrupted.

"That made me almost desperate," Miss Cullen. "I groaned, hurriedly, 'I'd rather be burned alive than do what I've got to, but if you won't give me those letters, search you I must.'"

"But how can I give you what I haven't?" she cried, indignantly, assuming again her innocent expression.

"Will you give me your word of honor that those letters are not concealed in your clothes?"

"I will," she answered.

I was very much taken aback; for it would have been so easy for Miss Cullen to have said so before that I had become convinced she must have them.

"And do you give me your word?" I asked, but she didn't look me in the face as she said it.

I ought to have been satisfied, but I wasn't, for, in spite of her denial, something forced me still to believe she had them, and looking back now I think it was her manner, I stood reflecting for a minute, and then requested, "Please stay where you are for a moment." Leaving her I went over to Fred.

"Mr. Cullen," I said, "Miss Cullen, I'm afraid she has them."

"I don't know," I said, "but she didn't look me in the face as she said it. I ought to have been satisfied, but I wasn't, for, in spite of her denial, something forced me still to believe she had them, and looking back now I think it was her manner, I stood reflecting for a minute, and then requested, 'Please stay where you are for a moment.' Leaving her I went over to Fred."

"Mr. Cullen," I said, "Miss Cullen, I'm afraid she has them."

"I don't know," I said, "but she didn't look me in the face as she said it. I ought to have been satisfied, but I wasn't, for, in spite of her denial, something forced me still to believe she had them, and looking back now I think it was her manner, I stood reflecting for a minute, and then requested, 'Please stay where you are for a moment.' Leaving her I went over to Fred."

"Mr. Cullen," I said, "Miss Cullen, I'm afraid she has them."

"I don't know," I said, "but she didn't look me in the face as she said it. I ought to have been satisfied, but I wasn't, for, in spite of her denial, something forced me still to believe she had them, and looking back now I think it was her manner, I stood reflecting for a minute, and then requested, 'Please stay where you are for a moment.' Leaving her I went over to Fred."

"Mr. Cullen," I said, "Miss Cullen, I'm afraid she has them."

"I don't know," I said, "but she didn't look me in the face as she said it. I ought to have been satisfied, but I wasn't, for, in spite of her denial, something forced me still to believe she had them, and looking back now I think it was her manner, I stood reflecting for a minute, and then requested, 'Please stay where you are for a moment.' Leaving her I went over to Fred."

"Mr. Cullen," I said, "Miss Cullen, I'm afraid she has them."

"I don't know," I said, "but she didn't look me in the face as she said it. I ought to have been satisfied, but I wasn't, for, in spite of her denial, something forced me still to believe she had them, and looking back now I think it was her manner, I stood reflecting for a minute, and then requested, 'Please stay where you are for a moment.' Leaving her I went over to Fred."

"Mr. Cullen," I said, "Miss Cullen, I'm afraid she has them."

"I don't know," I said, "but she didn't look me in the face as she said it. I ought to have been satisfied, but I wasn't, for, in spite of her denial, something forced me still to believe she had them, and looking back now I think it was her manner, I stood reflecting for a minute, and then requested, 'Please stay where you are for a moment.' Leaving her I went over to Fred."

"Mr. Cullen," I said, "Miss Cullen, I'm afraid she has them."

"I don't know," I said, "but she didn't look me in the face as she said it. I ought to have been satisfied, but I wasn't, for, in spite of her denial, something forced me still to believe she had them, and looking back now I think it was her manner, I stood reflecting for a minute, and then requested, 'Please stay where you are for a moment.' Leaving her I went over to Fred."

"Mr. Cullen," I said, "Miss Cullen, I'm afraid she has them."

"I don't know," I said, "but she didn't look me in the face as she said it. I ought to have been satisfied, but I wasn't, for, in spite of her denial, something forced me still to believe she had them, and looking back now I think it was her manner, I stood reflecting for a minute, and then requested, 'Please stay where you are for a moment.' Leaving her I went over to Fred."

"Mr. Cullen," I said, "Miss Cullen, I'm afraid she has them."

"I don't know," I said, "but she didn't look me in the face as she said it. I ought to have been satisfied, but I wasn't, for, in spite of her denial, something forced me still to believe she had them, and looking back now I think it was her manner, I stood reflecting for a minute, and then requested, 'Please stay where you are for a moment.' Leaving her I went over to Fred."

"Mr. Cullen," I said, "Miss Cullen, I'm afraid she has them."

"I don't know," I said, "but she didn't look me in the face as she said it. I ought to have been satisfied, but I wasn't, for, in spite of her denial, something forced me still to believe she had them, and looking back now I think it was her manner, I stood reflecting for a minute, and then requested, 'Please stay where you are for a moment.' Leaving her I went over to Fred."

"Mr. Cullen," I said, "Miss Cullen, I'm afraid she has them."

"I don't know," I said, "but she didn't look me in the face as she said it. I ought to have been satisfied, but I wasn't, for, in spite of her denial, something forced me still to believe she had them, and looking back now I think it was her manner, I stood reflecting for a minute, and then requested, 'Please stay where you are for a moment.' Leaving her I went over to Fred."

"Mr. Cullen," I said, "Miss Cullen, I'm afraid she has them."

"I don't know," I said, "but she didn't look me in the face as she said it. I ought to have been satisfied, but I wasn't, for, in spite of her denial, something forced me still to believe she had them, and looking back now I think it was her manner, I stood reflecting for a minute, and then requested, 'Please stay where you are for a moment.' Leaving her I went over to Fred."

"Mr. Cullen," I said, "Miss Cullen, I'm afraid she has them."

"I don't know," I said, "but she didn't look me in the face as she said it. I ought to have been satisfied, but I wasn't, for, in spite of her denial, something forced me still to believe she had them, and looking back now I think it was her manner, I stood reflecting for a minute, and then requested, 'Please stay where you are for a moment.' Leaving her I went over to Fred."

"Mr. Cullen," I said, "Miss Cullen, I'm afraid she has them."

"I don't know," I said, "but she didn't look me in the face as she said it. I ought to have been satisfied, but I wasn't, for, in spite of her denial, something forced me still to believe she had them, and looking back now I think it was her manner, I stood reflecting for a minute, and then requested, 'Please stay where you are for a moment.' Leaving her I went over to Fred."

"Mr. Cullen," I said, "Miss Cullen, I'm afraid she has them."

"I don't know," I said, "but she didn't look me in the face as she said it. I ought to have been satisfied, but I wasn't, for, in spite of her denial, something forced me still to believe she had them, and looking back now I think it was her manner, I stood reflecting for a minute, and then requested, 'Please stay where you are for a moment.' Leaving her I went over to Fred."

"Mr. Cullen," I said, "Miss Cullen, I'm afraid she has them."

"I don't know," I said, "but she didn't look me in the face as she said it. I ought to have been satisfied, but I wasn't, for, in spite of her denial, something forced me still to believe she had them, and looking back now I think it was her manner, I stood reflecting for a minute, and then requested, 'Please stay where you are for a moment.' Leaving her I went over to Fred."

"Mr. Cullen," I said, "Miss Cullen, I'm afraid she has them."

"I don't know," I said, "but she didn't look me in the face as she said it. I ought to have been satisfied, but I wasn't, for, in spite of her denial, something forced me still to believe she had them, and looking back now I think it was her manner, I stood reflecting for a minute, and then requested, 'Please stay where you are for a moment.' Leaving her I went over to Fred."

"Mr. Cullen," I said, "Miss Cullen, I'm afraid she has them."

"I don't know," I said, "but she didn't look me in the face as she said it. I ought to have been satisfied, but I wasn't, for, in spite of her denial, something forced me still to believe she had them, and looking back now I think it was her manner, I stood reflecting for a minute, and then requested, 'Please stay where you are for a moment.' Leaving her I went over to Fred."

"Mr. Cullen," I said, "Miss Cullen, I'm afraid she has them."

ILLINOIS NEWS

Choice items from over the state, especially selected for our readers.

RESULT OF MINERS' ELECTION

Seventh Sub-district Casts Largest Vote in Its History.

The auditing committee of the seventh sub-district, U. M. W. of A., finished counting the ballots of the recent election at Murphyboro March 17. The vote polled was the heaviest in the history of the organization in Illinois, and the result was a narrow victory for the union miners. Practically the present roster of officers was re-elected.

Following are the leading candidates for the various offices in the order of the votes received: President, James Kelly of Carterville, and William Brown of Johnston City; vice president, J. M. W. of A. finished counting the ballots of the recent election at Murphyboro March 17. The vote polled was the heaviest in the history of the organization in Illinois, and the result was a narrow victory for the union miners. Practically the present roster of officers was re-elected.

FOIL PLAN TO SWINDLE BANK

Wire Tappers Seek to Secure Large Sum on Bogus Dispatch.

A plot to rob the First National bank of Nashville, Tenn., was foiled by a timely public investigation. It appears that a message, purporting to be signed by a bank at Carmel, was sent to the Nashville bank, authorizing the bank to honor drafts drawn by J. A. White up to $5,000. The alleged message bore the signature, it is said, of the First National bank of Carmel. Investigations disclosed the fact that no message could be found at the Western Union office at Carmel, and the Nashville bank was wired to arrest any person attempting to realize on the draft. The message must have been sent by wire tappers.

DOG BITE TROUBLES STUDENT

Robert Hutchinson of Newman, a student at the James Millikin university in Decatur, Ill., is now in a hospital suffering from a serious and peculiar trouble. Nine years ago he was bitten by a dog and recovered and now he is in great pain on account of the bite. While in a perfect health and walking on the street he was suddenly seized with such suffering that he had to be removed to the hospital and the old dog bite wound was renewed.

BOY BURGLAR FATAL SHOT.

Sam Price and Albert Bryan, each 16 years old, broke into three business houses at Marion, Ill., in jail. During the excitement attending the pursuit of the boy burglars Price was shot and died. The coroner's jury returned a verdict saying that the boy was killed by a pistol shot fired by an unknown person. The victim told the night policeman that he was shot by the Dale. Dale has not been found.

COLLECTOR FIGHTS ROBBERS.

Mike Steuber, Jr., tax collector of Rome township, was held up at his home Tuesday night about 8 o'clock by six men. The house was attacked, doors broken down, windows smashed, and forty shots were fired, but on account of the snowstorm the robbers escaped. Mr. Steuber had several thousand dollars in the house, and succeeded in driving off the robbers, and saving the entire amount.

STATE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The Republican state central committee, through Chairman West and Secretary Wheeler, has issued the call for the state convention, to be held at 10 a. m. Monday, May 14, in the state arsenal at Springfield, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for state treasurer, a candidate for superintendent of public instruction and three trustees of the University of Illinois. The ratio of representation is one delegate for every 400 votes cast for Roosevelt in 1904, and one delegate for each additional fraction of 200 or over. The convention will be the largest ever held by the Republicans in Illinois. There will be 1,582 delegates, against 1,504, in 1904.

DISMISSES FARM GATE CASES.

Eight cases, four on the criminal and the others on the civil side of the circuit court of Logan county, against William R. White, have been dismissed. The cases are those known throughout the middle west as the "White gate cases," having arisen over the sales of certain rights for the White farm gates, which has involved the inventor in innumerable law suits. Four of the cases were for conspiracy and the others for damages asked by investors. It is understood that Mr. White is in failing health, and that the cases were settled to avoid further litigation.

PIG AID IN LIFTING CHURCH DEBT.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Christian church of Sullivan cleared $13 for the church debt from the exhibition of a two-footed pig owned by one of the members of the congregation and loaned to the society.

FATAL QUARREL OVER WHISKY.

During a quarrel over the payment for a bottle of whisky, purchased jointly by them, a negro employee of the Big Four railroad was stabbed to death at Carmel by an Italian, who surrendered.

POLICE ARE WRINKLED.

A fortnight ago two alleged detectives from Helena, Mont., were fined and dined by the Bloomington police. Checks for $50 lodged by local officers came back marked bogus.

BRIBERY CHARGES FALL FLAT

Witnesses Are Lacking in Chicago Drainage Canal Cases.

It is declared on good authority that the Grand jury, which was positively instructed by Judge T. N. Green of Pekin to investigate charges of bribery in connection with the recent trial of a $55,000 damage suit of Joseph V. Graff and Judge Curran against the sanitary district of Chicago, would adjourn without making an investigation of these charges. It is stated that the witnesses to whom Judge Green referred the jury cannot be found, that the juror who claimed to have been offered a bribe is unable to prove any such offer, and that the jury, after hearing this much of the case, decided to drop it. It is certain that the bribery charges, which affected agents of the sanitary district, have not been seriously considered by the jury, the fact that an early adjournment is now planned adds to the belief that no report will be made upon this case.

RAILROADS ARE HOARDING COAL

Coal Famine Is Threatened in Central Part of State.

A coal famine in central Illinois is imminent, due in part to the continued coal strike and the threatening strike of the coal miners. Springfield is the center of the richest bituminous coal fields in the country, and the railroads controlling the lines endeavoring to monopolize the entire supply of coal from the central Illinois mines. They demand "every car of coal mined" for the purpose of the strike, expecting a coal famine. A break in the cold spell will probably ease the public mind some. Coal bins are empty, and the short supply, coupled with the bad roads, makes it almost impossible for the homes to get fuel.

GIVES SALARY FOR A FOUNTAIN

Chicago Alderman to Beautify Washington Square at Cost of $600.

Washington square, the small north side breathing spot bounded by North Clark street, Washington place, Dearborn avenue and Walton place, Chicago, is to be beautified through an aldermanic salary. The playground is to be beautified by the erection of a fountain in front of the Newberry library, and the cost of the fountain is to be paid by the aldermanic salary. The fountain is to be erected by R. R. McCormick, the retiring council member from the Twenty-first ward. That amount is due Mr. McCormick for services performed for the city since he assumed the office of president of the drainage board.

TOWNSHIP ASKS COUNTY AID.

Action has been brought by the supervisors of the township to annul the court decision in the case of Phillips township vs. the county, in which the township demanded that the county board be required to agree an appropriation to assist in building bridges. The board refused and the circuit court ordered mandamus proceedings. The case will be taken to the supreme court on the technical allegation that the county board cannot legally make appropriations exceeding five per cent of the last assessed value of the county. The present total indebtedness of White county is $126,000, and the total valuation shown by the last assessment in the county aggregates just $2,869,541.

WOMEN RURAL CARRIERS.

There are but three women rural mail carriers in the United States, and Madison county has two of them, Mrs. Philip Hale of Alton and Miss Mattie M. Marshall of Granite City. The latter is a native of Illinois. The former Justice Marshall of the United States supreme court. She was recently held up by highwaymen, but fought them off. She delivered mail through the recent blizzard, arriving six and seven hours late each trip.

GOOD PRICE FOR PROPERTY.

A frame building at Danville, in poor repair, one story in height and not ten feet in width, has been sold by C. M. Young to W. F. Baum for $10,000, or $1,000 a front foot. It is in Vermilion street, in the best business section of the city. A larger building of the same sold at the same rate a front foot but a short time ago. A five-story office building will be erected on the site.

KANKAKEE WANTS TAX EXCESS.

State's Attorney J. Bert Miller has served notice on former Township Collectors George Newman, Ernest Radtke, M. J. Baker and A. T. Kerr of Kankakee to turn over commissions of $150,000 each of $150,000 collected for the years 1899 to 1903 inclusive. They aggregated about $2,500.

WEDS GIRL WHO NURSED HIM.

George Bender, son of Capt. George Bender of Belleville, has been married to Miss Estella Smith at Denver, Colo. Miss Smith was a nurse in a Denver hospital and cared for Mr. Bender through a long illness. Capt. Bender was for several terms treasurer of Belleville.

LONE ROBBER HELDS UP FAMILY.

A lone highwayman, masked and armed, entered the home of James R. Pierson, two miles from Belleville, and bound and gagged Mr. Pierson, his wife and daughter, Mrs. C. C. Bosfield, and ransacked the premises. He secured little of value. There is no clue to the robber.

HAMILTON PRIMARY APRIL 28.

The Hamilton county Democratic central committee has chosen April 28 for the county primary.

CANADIAN BOUNTIES.

In an endeavor to foster home industries the Canadian government has established a number of bounties to be paid to manufacturers and miners, which last year aggregated $1,800,000 on iron and steel products, $234,000 on lead, $333,000 on crude petroleum and $12,500 on manila fiber.

DISPLEASED WITH SUE CANAL.

It is urged by the Liverpool Underwriters, Association that the Suez canal be desisted in breadth or else that an entirely new canal be built.

I had a funny little feeling of tenderness for everything.

ed him where Miss Cullen and Lord Raltes were. He told me they were just behind; but I wasn't going to take any risks, and I ordered the posse to look after Cullen. I went on down the trail. I couldn't resist calling back:

"How's your respiration, Mr. Cullen?"

He laughed, and called, "Digitally put me on my feet like a flash."

"He's got the most brains of any man in this party," I remarked to myself.

The trail at this point is very winding, so that one can rarely see fifty feet in advance, and sometimes not ten. Owing to this, the first thing I knew I plumed round a curve on to a mule, which was patiently standing there. Just back of him was another, on which sat Miss Cullen, and standing close beside her was Lord Raltes. One of his hands held the mule's bridle; and the other held Madge's arm, and he was saying, "You owe it to me, and I will have one. Or if—"

I awoke to myself, and coughed aloud, which made Miss Cullen look up. The moment she saw me she cried, "Mr. Gordon! How delightful!" even while she grew as red as she had been two pale the moment before. Lord Raltes grew red too, but in a different way.

"Have you caught the robbers?" cried Miss Cullen.

"I'm afraid not," I answered.

"What do you mean?" she asked.

I smiled at the absolute innocence and wonder with which she spoke, and replied, "I know now, Miss Cullen, why you said I was braver than the Britifera."

"How do you know?"

"I couldn't resist getting in a side shot at Lord Raltes who had mounted his mule and sat scowling. The train robbers were such thoroughgoing defiers at the trade," I said, "that if they had left their names and addresses they wouldn't have made

C. F. HALL CO.
CASH DEPARTMENT STORE
DUNDEE, ILLINOIS

Spring Jacket Values.

Misses' Light Tan Eton Jacket, sizes 32 and 34, big values 75c
Ladies' Blue Corduroy Jacket, Eton style, light and dark colors $1.20
Girls' long Cloaks, light weight wool, in Blues, Reds, Tan, etc. $1.70
Ladies' high grade Coat Cloth Spring Jacket $2.20
Special Silk Bolero Jacket, fine materials $2.70

Bed Spreads

Bargain values. Owing to the condition of the cotton market these goods are steadily advancing. See our spreads at—
98c $1.10 $1.50

Laces

Over 10,000 yds. of Laces and Lace Insertions, 4 to 11 in. wide. Price per yd $2.20
New all-over Laces, latest designs for summer wear, per yd 35c, 40c and 60c

Bargains for Men

Over 325 pair Men's Work Pants, all sizes, good heavy cottonades and mixed wools, full cut, seamless waist bands—
79c 80c 98c
Men's double suit, extra high cut, Calif. Laces $2.20
Men's fine Dress Shirts, made of genuine box calf, only $2.20
Heavy Army Calif. Laces $1.75
Men's Dark Work Shirts, two for 75c
Men's Seamless Calif. Laces $1.98

Millinery Department

New parlors just fitted up on our second floor and equipped with all modern improvements. Larger space, better light, more comfort, more goods and lower prices.

Millinery Opening Wednesday and Thursday April 4th and 5th Something New

In addition to other improvements at a convenience provided for our customers, we have this year furnished on our second floor Ladies' Rest and Toilet Rooms. A pleasant, quiet room where one may rest, read, take a nap or put the children to sleep, will, we feel sure, be appreciated by our lady customers from out of town. It will also be found a convenient place to make appointments with friends.

Remember Horse Ticket, Dinner Ticket, Introduction Ticket and Refunded Carfare Offers.

(Show round trip R. R. tickets if you come by train.)

C. F. HALL CO.
DUNDEE, ILL.

Annual Town Meeting and Election.

Notice is hereby given to the legal voters, residents of the Township of Cuba, County of Lake, Illinois, that the annual township meeting and election of officers of said township will take place Tuesday the 23rd day of April proximo, being the first Tuesday in said month.

The election will begin at the hour of 7 a. m. and close at 5 p. m. in the places designated as follows: In the Lamey brick building, in the Village of Barrington.

The officers to be elected are: One Supervisor, one Township Clerk, one Assessor, one Collector, one Commissioner of Highways, one Commissioner of Public Works, one Constable.

The town meeting will open in the Lamey brick building at the hour of 2 p. m. and after choosing a moderator will proceed to hear and consider reports of officers, to appropriate money to defray the necessary expenses of the township, and to deliberate and decide on such measures as may, in pursuance of law, come before the meeting.

Given under my hand this 20th day of March, A. D. 1906.
FRANK H. PLAGGE,
Township Clerk.

A. J. REDMOND
Attorney at Law,
Suite 45, 48 La Salle St.
Chicago.
Tel. Main 196. Auto. 6820

Barrington Local Happenings Told in Short Paragraphs

Friday, March 23, 1906

Mrs. Geo. Spinner has been ill. Chas. Schultz was in Chicago Monday.

Frank Dunning of Arkansas was here this week.

Henry Schendert of Wauconda was here Tuesday.

A. Greengard is visiting with his sister, Mrs. Chas. Lipofsky.

Aug. Lohman and wife called on friends Tuesday.

Wm. J. Roper of Palatine was here on business Tuesday.

Alexander Beach of Freeport was here on business last week.

Chas. Bush has sold his farm and has moved to Chicago.

Chas. Dodge is making an extended visit with his mother, Mrs. J. Dodge.

Mrs. Madames Foreman, Wolf and Schultz visiting relatives in Austin this week.

Mrs. Theo. H. Rath is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sanford L. Peck.

E. K. Magree took S. L. Landwer's place on the mail route two days this week.

The Harrington boys have finished filling the ice house of Mr. Hahn at Randall's Lake.

Chas. Kosman and wife of West Pullman was in town Saturday and Sunday.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Flint, nee Sizor, on March 16th, at their home in Cayler, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sizor visited at the home of his mother, Mrs. Arietta Sizor, over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Mackery are the happy parents of a bouncing nine and a half pound boy.

Henry Schultz and Arthur Stead of Dundee visited Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schultz Tuesday.

The Froelichs were entertained at the home of Miss Jennie Fletcher Tuesday evening.

Messrs. Guss and Henry Kirmse were called to Chicago this morning by the serious illness of their father.

Lawrence Doolan, the popular E. J. & K. car inspector, had the misfortune to lose his high-stepping and valuable horse this week.

H. G. Miller returned recently from a trip to Baltimore, Md., where he was called on business for the United States government.

Wanted—A girl to do housework. Good wages will be paid a competent girl. Mrs. John Robertson.

R. M. Lusk, who is working in Wisconsin, Ind., to come on a two week's visit. Out door life shows a gain in his health.

Hot Class practice to-night at the M. E. church at 8 o'clock. Open session. All lovers of music are cordially invited.

A special meeting of the Court of Honor will be held next Tuesday evening, March 27th. All members are requested to be present.

To the Public—I respectfully announce that I will seek the office of tax collector at the election to be held in the township of Barrington on April 23. Any assistance rendered me will be gratefully remembered.
Respectfully,
CHARLES KIRCH.

Rev. Stanger of St. Paul's Lutheran church officiated at the wedding of Frank Schran and Emma Below at Dundee, Wednesday. Those of Barrington who were Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Landwer, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tines, Chas. Tines and his mother.

Howard Powers and Arnett Lines took advantage of a rare opportunity last week Wednesday and heard Geo. E. Roberts, the United States Treasurer and director of the mint, talk in Cobb Hall at the Chicago University on the subject "The world's gold supply and its effect on the price."

Prof. Farr will lecture on corn in Barrington on March 30, at 9:30 a. m.; Palatine, March 27, 9:30 a. m. and Barrington, March 29, at 10 a. m. These talks given by Prof. Farr will be illustrated with charts, mounted pictures and corn. The objects of the lectures are to interest farmers in corn growing.

George Helm is on the sick list this week.

Miss Amy Olcott is visiting friends in Chicago.

Mrs. Geo. Page visited Mrs. Miller of Avondale last week.

L. Schauble of Roselle visited relatives here this week.

Fred Went of Cuba was here on business Wednesday.

Henry Riecke is loading a car-load of o. ls for Chicago.

Henry Pingel of Dundee visited relatives here this week.

Mrs. W. Johnson, who has been quite ill, is improving.

Wm. Tonne of Lake Zurich was here on business this week.

L. A. Jones intends to move into H. Boehmer's residence on Main Street.

Chas. Lind of Barrington Center was here on business this week.

The dance at the creamery Saturday night was a success. All had a good time.

Miss Adams of Barrington is visiting her brother, Henry Adams, at Carpentersville News of March 23th.

The gas company have put fitters to work piping at Palatine. The company expects to be in Barrington by June 1st.

The High School pupils are in receipt of a letter from Rev. H. L. Kelly stating that it will be impossible for him to give his lecture, which was to be the next one of the High School Course, but the committee is arranging for a substitute which will be announced soon. They regret very much Rev. Kelly is not able to give his most highly recommended lecture.

Frank Foreman has just received a letter from the guide, who contacted himself and Sam Peters through Yellowstone Park and adjacent country when they were west, that he had just returned from a hunting expedition near Cody, Wyoming, in which they bagged a grizzly bear weighing between 1,700 to 2,000 pounds. The bear measured 12 feet in length and was 9 feet in circumference. It took six shots to bring him down.

Services at the Baptist church: Prayer Meeting (Covenant Meeting) Saturday, 7:30 p. m. Preaching Sunday morning at 10:30, subject, "A Revelation of our Lives," and a union service in the evening. Sunday school at 11:45 a. m. Junior Meeting at 3:30 p. m. Young People's Meeting at 6:30 p. m. You will be cordially welcomed at all of these services. V. V. Phelps.

The decision of a recent case in the Police Court in the village shows that abusive language in the improper place will not be tolerated. The Police Magistrate says that there have come to him many complaints of boys "picking on" and "hurling" children at play for a town of six churches. There is immediate danger that the worst boys will be locked up.

The entertainment given by the Grades in the assembly room of the school was a decided success as far as numbers present was concerned. Standing room was at a premium long before the hour of opening was advertised. The pupils did even better than at the first performance given recently, and every one present enjoyed the high-class entertainment. A voluntary collection was taken which netted $14.84.

Ladies visiting Miss Jukes' grand opening of up-to-date millinery will see the finest line of ladies' trimmed and untrimmed hats ever shown in Barrington, including the famous Turrell hat, which is causing such a sensation and flurry among the fair sex; also the new creation, the Natty Palm Beach Sailor, with French and short back effects. Going to make a display equal to many city millinery stores, and at prices to suit all. Give her a call.

The chorus class at Prof. Stackman met on Tuesday evening of this week at the M. E. church and was fully organized with 27 charter members. Mr. Roy Waterman was chosen secretary and treasurer, of the class. Regular sessions will be held on Tuesday and Friday evenings of each week at the M. E. church until other arrangements can be made. Lessons begin at 8 o'clock.

The following inducement to secure farm help, appearing in an Iowa paper, ought to bring results: "Wages $8 per day. Breakfast will be served. Working hours from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. All heavy work done by the boss. Cigars furnished."—Grayslake Times.

boss. Cigars furnished."—Grayslake Times.

FOR ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS SEE PAGES 4 and 5

WAUCONDA MENTION.

Spring.

Township election Tuesday, April 3.

Won't someone please say "Railroad?"

Roy Sampson of Waukegan Sunday here.

Geo. Glynn has recovered from a recent illness.

W. W. Hughes transacted business in the city Monday.

J. E. Glynn was a Chicago visitor the first of the week.

F. N. Gaggin of Waukegan called on friends here Saturday.

Mrs. L. E. Gelling has returned to her home at Libertyville.

Our phone numbers are 4 and 132. Call us and tell us the news.

John Groves of McHenry was on our streets Monday.

H. T. Fuller and F. L. Carr transacted business in the city Tuesday.

The Misses Katie and Celia Freund visited with Chicago relatives Saturday.

J. Spencer and H. E. Maiman transacted business at Waukegan last Friday.

Miss Fern Hutchinson spent Saturday and Sunday at her home at Barrington.

Mrs. F. Efinger and daughter, Genevieve, visited with Volo relatives Sunday.

Miss Estella Grace of North Chicago spent Saturday and Sunday at her home here.

The Misses Grace and Myrtle Mullen have closed their schools for a week's vacation.

The recent cold weather closed the open portion of our lake with about four to six inches of ice.

Mr. Bunsford, the Lake county directory man, was delivering books in our village and vicinity recently.

Thos. Carr, of Ringwood, is spending the week at the home of his brother, F. L. Carr, and family.

Mrs. D. H. Murphy has returned from a recent visit at the home of her mother, Mrs. Cummings, at Highwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Broughton and family are soon to move onto the Gardner farm recently purchased by Myron Francis.

Another of our citizens, Geo. Prouty, has decided to remain in South Dakota until he proves up on his claim.

Mrs. H. T. Graham entertained the Ladies' Eastern Club at her home Tuesday evening. The usual good time is reported.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Harrison spent the first of the week at the city home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Burgess.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Grantham of Gary called on friends and relatives in our village and vicinity Friday and Saturday.

The largest crowd that has interested itself in years turned out for the township caucus Saturday afternoon, 190 votes being cast. The following men were nominated: Supervisor, A. J. Raymond, 185; clerk, A. S. Powers, 185; assessor, C. E. Jones, 185; collector, C. A. Golding, 190; highway commissioner, district 3, M. J. Doolan, 91; justice of the peace (N. E.), Thad. Seymour, 49; constable (N. E.), J. B. Rising, 153; constable (S. E.), D. L. Putnam, 118. Chairman J. Golding appointed the town committee as follows: Jas. Murray, Henry Davi, A. S. Powers.

The W. R. C. met in their hall Saturday evening to hold memorial services for their esteemed comrade, Arthur Cook. A number of relatives and friends were present. The impressive ceremonies were begun by singing "Nearer, My God, to Thee," then followed the reading of the autobiography of his life. Arthur Cook was born at Stanwood, Vt., Jan. 10, 1840, and came to Illinois with his parents in June of the same year. He lived at home until his country called for volunteers, when he, with quite a number of others, enlisted and was assigned to Co. B, 96th Illinois Infantry, on Aug. 9, 1862. After nearly 3 years of service, he was honorably discharged June 16, 1865. It can be said of him that he was never absent from roll call during all these years. He returned to his home here and took up farming on the old homestead where he lived the remainder of his life. He was married to Miss Laura E. Todd July 22, 1866, who, with five children survive him. It was through his efforts that the G. A. R. was organized here, Nov. 14, 1865, and he was the first commander. His death occurred March 3, 1906, and he was buried with the G. A. R. honors. A number of his old comrades from Waukegan and other places were present at the funeral and sang "Shall We Gather at the River." The evening's ceremonies were closed by singing "America."

DANIEL F. LAMEY

Wall Paper Low Prices

Just to clear up a lot of Wall Paper in the next 10 days, we will hang paper bought of us at 10 cents a roll.

We have a big lot of Wall Paper for Kitchen and Dining Rooms at 5, 6, 7 1-2 cents Per Roll.

We show a pretty line of Parlor Papers at 7 1-2, 8, 9, 10, 12 1-2 cents a Roll.

Carpets, Linoleums, and Floor Oil Cloths. Window Shades.

We make them for any size windows.

Dress Goods

A big lot of Prints to clear up at 5 cents per yard. Percales at 7, 8, 10, and 12 cents per yard.

Wool Dress Goods—50, 55c a yard upwards.

Shoes—Big Bargains in Children's School Shoes, $1.00, $1.10, $1.25, $1.35. Different styles for you.

Ladies' Fine Shoes—We are offering a very dressy shoe at $3.00 a pair.

All Kinds of Rubbers—for Men, Ladies and Children.

DO YOU PAY MORE?

We sell the Pennsylvania Kerosene Oil at 10 cents a gallon.

Best Stove Gasoline, 5 gallons at 55c.

Let us send a New Sewing Machine to your home for a free trial.

South Building
Daniel F. Lamey, BARRINGTON, ILL.

Barrington Pharmacy

L. A. JONES, R.Ph., Manager
Barrington, Illinois.

Drugs, School Books.
School Supplies, Stationery.

OUR SPECIALTIES

Flavoring Extracts, made on honor.
Jones' dichi Toilet Cream.

Jones' Gall Powder.

Bring your old school books to us.

Up-to-date Millinery!

CATS—All the latest styles and shapes. Brand new stock, and at prices to suit one and all.
FLOWERS—Follies, Feathers, with Silks, Ribbons and Laces, go towards making the latest fads in Spring and Summer Hats.
Frames of all styles and shapes.
Ladies' own material made up to suit.
You are cordially invited to call and inspect my stock. No trouble to show goods.
Feathers cleaned, dyed and redressed.
Patrons—home trade and be convinced of fair treatment.

MISS H. R. JUKES

'Phone 272 Main Street, Opposite Depot

For BEAUTIFUL WALLS buy ROMAN WALL PAINT

Finest thing for interiors of Homes, Schools, Hospitals, and all Public Buildings. Dries quickly without gloss, giving rich, velvety effect. Can be washed without injury. Greatly superior to all other wall finishes. Durable, Hygienic, Elegant and Inexpensive. Made by

THE CHICAGO WHITE LEAD AND OIL CO.
For Sample Card of 12 beautiful colors and general information, apply to PLAGGE & CO.

DEALERS IN

Paints, Flour, Feed, Coal, Lumber, Window Glass

BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS