

THE BARRINGTON REVIEW.

VOL. 22. NO. 44.

BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS FRIDAY, JAN. 11, 1907

$1.50 A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

DIED TUESDAY MORNING

Mrs. Susan Van Natta Passes Away Peacefully at the Home of Her Daughter.

Mrs. Susan Van Natta passed away Tuesday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jane Keeler on east Russell street. She had been ill for two weeks with pneumonia and succumbed after considerable suffering. Three weeks ago she returned to Barrington from a visit to Chicago feeling slightly ill but owing to her seventy-four years the debility was at first attributed to her age and the nearness of death not realized until the last few days. Mrs. Van Natta came to Barrington in September to live with her daughter's family when Mr. Keeler, a Northwestern conductor, was transferred from Janesville to this place. She with her husband had lived on a farm near Burton's bridge, west of Waucunda in McHenry County for many years until last May when they lost all their possessions by fire, scarcely escaping with their lives.

She was the mother of ten living children, all of whom came to Barrington during her last illness. The funeral was held Tuesday at the Methodist church in Crystal Lake. Rev. Cockerill of that place conducted the services. He came to Barrington preceding the funeral services and read prayers at the Keeler home. The burial was at Crystal Lake.

This death is only the fourth one to have occurred among all the Van Natta family of parents, eleven children born and eighteen grandchildren, so that the loss seems keener and harder to endure. We who have known death suffer in humbler resignation of feelings than do those to whom the sorrow is new. This mother was one who by her years of self-sacrifice and labors in raising a large family, has gained her admission into a land of reward and rest.

Susan Cole Van Natta was born at French Creek, Chataqua Co., New York, Dec. 2, 1834. On Feb. 11, 1857 she was married to Wm. Van Natta and they came west to live at Leyden, Ill. In 1881 they moved to Barryville, McHenry Co., which was then a post-office village, but is now on a rural route going east from McHenry.

To them were born eleven children, one died in infancy.

Until last spring they continued to live on the same farm. Mrs. Van Natta, aged eighty-four, is now living with a daughter in Nunda. There are fifteen grandchildren.

The children are Mrs. A. Grantham and Edward Van Natta of Chicago, Morris Van Natta and Mrs. Ruth Burnett of McHenry, Mrs. Susan Shales, Wm. Van Natta and Mrs. Minnie Ritt of Nunda, Mrs. M. Jaynes of Ridgefield, Mrs. Ida Grantham of Waucunda and Mrs. Jane Keeler of Barrington.

Cuba.

Wednesday and Saturday evening Wm. Blue entertained parties of neighbors.

Mr. Wieze and family spent Sunday at Honey Lake.

W. T. Hall spent New Years with Lake Forest friends.

Royal Blue has returned from the city and is attending school again.

Several of the young folks attended the masquerade at Lake Zurich and reported a good time.

New Years night a party of 21 young people gave a surprise to Misses Mabel and Grace Hall at the home of Mrs. Wm. Hall. It was a genuine surprise and was enjoyed by all.

Cook County Teacher's Meeting

The next regular meeting of the school year of the Cook County Teachers' Association will be held in the Association Auditorium, corner La Salle Street and Arcade Court, Chicago, Saturday, January 12, 1907, at 10:30 A. M. An address will be given by Dr. W. A. Quail on the "Ideals of the King." 1:15 to 1:30 Miss Nash will conduct an Exercise in Music. 1:50 to 3:10 Assistant Superintendent Mr. Downey and Mr. Farr will occupy the time on matters pertaining to country school work. Come prepared to contribute your mite as the spirit moves you, for the "Neighborhood House."

Lovell Bennett returned to Chicago Tuesday after visiting a few days at his nephew's home, Mark Bennett.

Elected New Officers

At the annual business meeting of the members of the Evang. St. Pauls Church, Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 8th, the following were elected as officers: H. Gilly as chairman, H. Reuter as secretary, Chas. Schultz as treasurer. Trustees and Elders are: J. Ebel, Chas. Gruber, H. Miller, D. Gilly. Officers of the young people's Society are: H. Mueller, Vice President; Lydia Gilly, Recording Secretary; Alma Gilly, Financial Secretary; H. Kohlman, Treasurer; Lydia Reinhold, Directress; Mary Gottschalk, Librarian.

PASSED AWAY PEACEFULLY

Mrs. Hughes, Sister of Mrs. C. O. Winters, Died in Chicago Sunday.

On Sunday evening about six o'clock occurred the death of Mrs. C. O. Hughes, sister of Mrs. C. O. Winters and Mrs. H. C. McCauley of Hough street. Mrs. Hughes has been afflicted for a long period of years with creeping paralysis and had been confined to her room since Thanksgiving time in a helpless condition. The end came painlessly as the lady had been unconscious several days.

Mrs. Hughes came to Barrington about three years ago to reside with her sisters and to her acquaintances was known as a cultured woman of great refinement.

Mrs. Caroline Hughes was born in New York seventy-four years ago and was reared in the eastern states. She was the daughter of Horace and Julia Cadwell and came west to Chicago when about twenty-five years of age. For many years she was a teacher of note and held several positions in high educational institutions in southern states, among them being the Mississippi State University and the Huntsville Female College, Alabama. Her record in public life is notable in connection with her exposition work as she represented the Woman's Department for the State of Illinois at the Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia in 1876 and at the World's Exposition in New Orleans in 1884 and 1885. She was also one of the incorporators of the Illinois Industrial School for Girls and its first secretary. Afterward she held the same office on the executive committee for some time and has been a member of that committee and a trustee of the institution until a few months ago.

In 1878 she married Mr. Hughes of Philadelphia who died in 1888. They made their home principally in Chicago. Two older brothers who live in California and Colorado are her remaining relatives with her two sisters here.

The funeral was held at the Winters' home Wednesday at one o'clock with Rev. F. N. Lapham in attendance and burial was in Evergreen cemetery.

Appreciates the Home Paper

De Smet, S. D. Jan. 7, 1907
Editor Barrington Review,
Barrington, Illinois,
Dear Sir:

Will you please send the Review to me one year beginning with Jan. 1, 1907.

One of my good friends have sent the paper to me since I came here last spring but I would like to have it as a regular weekly visitor. One learns to appreciate the home paper after they have left the home town and it sometimes get almost homesick for it.

We are having a little touch of winter now but it has not been very cold so far and no bad storms. The climate is getting to be more and more like Illinois.

It used to be said that S. D. was dry enough to blow away but it is no longer true as it has been very wet the past two years.

I am yours truly
Mahala E. Dunklee.

The following officers were elected at the annual Y. M. C. A. meeting Monday evening:

Directors—Dr. Geo. Lytle, Joseph Freeman and J. E. Heise, M. E. church; Herman Gleake, Zion church; Dr. Shearer, Baptist church; J. F. Gleake and G. F. Stiefenhofer, Salem ch. The following officers were elected: Geo. Stiefenhofer, president; J. E. Heise, vice-president; Dr. Geo. Lytle, general secretary; J. F. Gleake, financial secretary; Joseph Freeman, treasurer. Committees will be appointed at next meeting.

Regular monthly business meetings will be held the first of each month.

George Knaggs and family have taken possession of the J. E. Heise cottage on north Williams street.

PALATINE LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Beutler and son of Milwaukee spent Sunday here with relatives.

Dr. H. Ableman of Chicago and W. Ableman of Elgin spent Sunday at home.

For the first time since January 1876 has it been known to have thundered and lightened at this time of the year. The temperature Monday in Chicago was 63 the highest it has been since 1876 when it was 63. It seemed very strange Monday morning and evening to hear the peals of thunder and see the flashing of lightning when one would expect to see the ground covered with snow.

Mrs. Harry Schoppe is on the sick list.

Peter Knoke and family has returned from their Eastern trip.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Burlingame are visiting Mrs. Robertson at Carlisle, Ark.

Mrs. Will Zwolick visited at Des Plaines Saturday.

Mrs. M. L. Smyser is still quite ill.

Miss Blanche Schindler entertained the "Koffee Klatch" last week Wednesday at her home.

Misses Emma and Margaret Goldknecht entertained the L. Y. C. at their home Friday night. Games were played and a light luncheon was served which was enjoyed by all. The girls are planning to give a little drama sometime in February.

DRESSED IN RELICS

Portia Club Given a Grand Reception by Miss Florence Peck

The Portia club met at the home of Miss Florence Peck Thursday evening. The fifteen young ladies arrived in old fashioned garments of which there seems to be a well preserved supply in the old chests and attics of Barrington. Wonderfully made and somewhat ridiculous old gowns appear to be the young people of this period and cause more fun than any other fantastic dressing.

Miss Peck wore a dress that is the property of Mrs. Lyman Powers, and years ago at a social affair Mrs. Powers wore this garment when in a mock marriage she became the bride of Mark Bennett. Miss Lydia Solt won the good old time "spelling-down," receiving a china cup and saucer for her good memory.

A midnight supper was served at a table garnished with flowers and ferns.

The next meeting will be at the home of Miss Ruth Meier.

Cary

Mrs. Bauman has been quite ill the past few days being under the doctor's care.

Mrs. Fourier is spending a few days with friends in Chicago.

Jim Wylie and Wm. Jackson have returned from Eland Junction, Wis.

Geon and Arthur Beck, brothers of Dr. Beck, just returned from a vacation to their home in Depart, Iowa, and they report a very enjoyable time, as they received quite a reception at the depot on their return.

Henry Fourier was a Chicago visitor over Sunday.

Mrs. Meilbeck was in Chicago on business this week.

Chester Baugh has left for Chicago again.

Nissa Ethel Thomas returned to Nunda to take up her duties as school teacher.

Glen Thomas visited with his parents during the holidays.

Chester Catlow, nephew of Jim Catlow, left for Portland, Oregon, to finish his college education, which includes music.

Services at Baptist Church.

Saturday night 7:30, prayer meeting. Sunday 10:30 A. M., subject: "The Man with the Talent." Sunday School and L. U. X. at 11:45 A. M.

Junior Society at 3 p. m. Young People's Meeting at 6:30 p. m. 7:30 p. m., subject: "Character Building."

You are all cordially invited to worship with us.

V. V. PHILIPS, Pastor.

The Year's Record

The Review records for Barrington for the year 1906 as follows:

Deaths.....38
Marriages.....30
Births.....27
These occurrences all relate to our village residents, the immediate farming country and a few former residents. For Palatine the record similarly is:
Deaths.....22
Marriages.....17
Births.....14

GONE TO HIS REWARD

Rev. Hoover Passes Away Ill Chicago Sunday

The following death notice appeared in the Chicago papers Monday of this week. Rev. Hoover was a pastor at the Methodist church here for two years and will be remembered by the older parishioners.

Rev. George H. Hoover, who was a member of the Rock River conference since 1872 and the founder of the American Homedwelling association, died last evening after an illness of a month at his home, 1725 West One Hundred and Second St., Washington Heights. Rev. Mr. Hoover, who was 65 years old, was born at Georgeville, Pa. He came to Chicago in 1866 and attended the Northwestern university, graduating from Garrett Biblical institute. In the course of his religious work he established the American Homedwelling association in 1894 and for a time was the superintendent of the association. Later he became identified with the Children's Home society. He was married in 1840 and is survived by his widow, Mrs. Martha Hoover, two sons and four daughters.

Mrs. Frank Kalberer Dead

Mrs. Frank Kalberer of east Main street died Monday, Dec. 24th in the afternoon, suddenly, from a paralytic stroke which seized her Saturday while working about the house and although she had been a sufferer from asthma for years and was never well death was not anticipated. She was buried on Thursday, December 27th. The funeral was held in St. Paul's church with Rev. Stanger officiating and burial was in the church cemetery on Main street.

Mrs. Elizabeth Forster Kalberer was born in Olsbrucken, Bavaria, April 7th, 1845 and came to this country before her marriage. In 1872 in Pittsburgh she became the wife of Herman Jacobs who died here in 1879. To them were born four girls and one boy, the boy and one girl died in infancy.

In 1882 Mrs. Jacobs was married to Frank Kalberer who is still living. Their daughter Miss Lizzie is also living at the old home and the others are living in Marsilles, Ill., Nebraska, and Barrington. There are also eight grandchildren.

Mrs. Kalberer was one of our good women who has earned a reward in the life beyond by honest effort all her life.

LAKE ZURICH.

H. Smith spent Sunday at Carpenter's.

Mrs. A. C. Rye and daughter Maybelle, who has been visiting here for past month, returned to her home in Nevada, Iowa, Saturday.

Miss Lydia and Tillie Hokemeyer visited with their sister Mrs. N. Frank over Saturday and Sunday. They attended the concert and dance Saturday evening.

Mr. Will Eichman of Cary spent Sunday here. Miss Millie Ahlgren returned home after a week's visit with her sister at Palatine.

Harold Bruce of Joliet visited friends here last week.

Wm. Bicknese and John Stephens took a trip to Romeo Sunday.

Mrs. E. A. Ficke visited in Chicago last week.

Lizzie Kiesler is spending a week's vacation visiting friends in Chicago. Miss Lizzie Jacobson called on Barrington friends Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Jacobson called on Ora Peck at Waucunda Sunday.

Jas. Jacobson of Chicago visited his uncle, P. Jacobson for about ten days.

New telephones are Mrs. Emily Hawley, 502; Ed. Wiseman, 263; J. Rogman, 551; P. A. Hawley changed to 422.

HAD AN ENJOYABLE TIME

Mr. and Mrs. S. Peck Entertain the Woman's Thursday Club.

A social event that is always delightful as it recurs each year, took place Thursday evening, Jan. 3, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Peck, on Lake street, was the first "Gentlemen's Night" of the club year was given by the Woman's Thursday club. The home of the host and hostess is so admirably arranged and sized for entertaining that affairs given there are always anticipated with interest. Those present numbered about thirty-five of which Miss Cora Higley, of Ravenswood, was the only out of town member present and there were no guests other than the "club-husbands." The evening was passed in enjoying the game of "Progressive Hash." Eight tables each offering a different game, as dominoes, checkers, tiddle-dew-ticks, finish, etc., were visited in progression, and Mrs. H. K. Brockway succeeded in winning, receiving a china spoon tray as a mark of superiority, while Albert Robertson was given a burnt tablet receiver as the successful gentleman. A committee on arrangements comprised of Mesdames Emily Hawley, E. Peck, M. Collier, J. Robertson, Ryan, and Kendall served a luncheon plentiful and pleasing.

WAUCONDA MENTION

January thunder—oh, thunder! Walter Grantham of Chicago is the guest of his cousin Harry Grantham, this week.

Mrs. F. Elfinger spent Sunday at the home of her parents at Volo.

Miss Helen Goodhouse returned to her home in Des Plaines, Mich., Saturday after a week's visit at the home of Miss Elsie Jones.

Harry Hill and sister, Mrs. Capt. Hill of Waukegan, spent Saturday and Sunday with local relatives.

Messrs. A. E. Kirwin and F. A. Harrison transacted business in the city Monday and Tuesday.

J. E. Gainer was a Rockefeller visitor Monday.

H. R. Riley, Omaha, Neb., was the guest of friends Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Graham visited with Barrington relatives Sunday and Monday.

Word reaches us to the effect that it became necessary to amputate the right leg of Jas. Barnes, who was kicked by a horse some time ago.

Notice—Having been away called away for a month's stay I left the writing of items with Floyd C. Carr, while all subscriptions and renewals are payable to H. T. Graham at the Waucunda Pharmacy. L. E. MADAM.

Three of our young men, viz—Messrs. Elmer Deane, Paul Hicks and Walter Martin had a narrow escape from drowning last Friday afternoon when an ice-boat which they were speeding on the lake ran into an alcholic covered with a thin seam of ice. The boat was traveling at a terrific clip when it broke through and the occupants were into the water before they realized what had happened. They climbed out as quickly as possible and managed to get into a change of clothes before any bad effects had been experienced.

Ed. Lindblad, of Chicago, was the guest of Miss Ethel Duers Sunday.

Dr. J. Wilson, of Palatine, was a caller here Saturday.

Grandma and Miss Sarah Geary are reported better at present writing.

H. Maiman and daughter, Miss May, have returned home after a week's visit with Waukegan relatives.

Miss Helen Hinsel of Irving Park, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Brown and family the first of the week.

The wedding of John Brown of Waucunda and Miss Anne Stilling occurred at the Johansberg church, Wednesday, Jan. 9th.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Grantham attended the funeral of the latter's mother who died at the home of her daughter in Barrington. The funeral was held Tuesday.

Mrs. Erma French of Ringwood is visiting with Mrs. D. Merritt.

Earl Merritt and Miss Iva Turnbull attended the wedding of the former's cousin at Savanna, Ill., this week.

Benjamin Taggart, one of the oldest residents of Waucunda, died at the home of his brother-in-law, Tuesday morning after a long illness. He was born at Deer Grove sixty-one years ago but had lived in Waucunda the greater part of his life. He leaves to mourn his death three brothers, Robert Samuel and Jack and two sisters, Mrs. B. K. Duers and Miss Belle Taggart. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon, Rev. Hall officiating.

Misses Estella Grace and Mae Daley have resumed school duties at N. Chicago after a two weeks vacation.

Miss Lella Wells of Des Plaines is visiting elder sister, Mrs. J. Houghton Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Granger of McHenry spent Sunday with relatives in this vicinity.

Mrs. E. Martin of Barrington visited relatives here the first of the week.

E. W. Brooks transacted business in Waukegan Monday.

Mrs. Jas. Neville is caring for her daughter, Mrs. Johnson of Nunda who was taken ill with the gripple.

Waucunda Lodge, A. F. & A. M. banqueted friends at Oakland Thursday evening, after the installation of officers at their hall.

Colt. Haire who visited his uncle, Ben Taggart last week returned to his home in Michigan the first of the week.

Mrs. Torrence is expected the last of the week for a visit with friends.

Homer Cook is doing jury work at Waukegan.

Elmer Duers who has worked for Harrison Bros. some time has resigned his position with them and has secured employment in a Chicago Railroad office.

PROFITS SHARED WITH EMPLOYEES

Upwards of $500.00 Disbursed Among the Clerks of the C. F. Hall Co., Dundee.

On last Thursday evening the members and employs of the C. F. Hall Company held their twelfth semi-annual gathering and a dividend amounting to over $500.00 was disbursed, the checks ranging from $2.00 to $80.00, with an average to each clerk of about $27.00.

The gathering was held on the second floor of the C. F. Hall Company Block, in the store millinery parlors and was preceded by a supper held in the restaurant of Herman Fryer. The guests, among whom were included the husbands and wives of the clerks, numbered about thirty and, departing from the usual custom, there were no after-dinner speeches. Each clerk, on his arrival, was merely handed the envelope containing his check.

The plan upon which the C. F. Hall Company has divided profits with their employees is original with them and a semi-annual dividend has been declared each six months since 1902, the total amount thus disbursed being in excess of $4,500.00. The company feel however that they have been well repaid for this outlay in the additional interest which their employees have felt in increasing the volume of the business, and they announced that the plan will be continued for the coming year.—Dundee Hawkeye.

Is Socially Quiet

Barrington is at present as socially quiet as it has been for years. Here and there are private affairs, but few public doings have occurred. Each lodge in town has generally given an entertainment, card party, dance or supper during the fall and midwinter months of this year, and the various churches, education classes, musical entertainers and others have presented public amusements. The much discussed pastime of "dancing" is at present a dead issue in Barrington as not a single dancing party, public or private has been given down town since last May when the "Happy Three" managed a public dance. Where are the amateur plays, the Woodmen card parties, the Odd Fellows dance or entertainment, the dancing crowd, or the public recitals? "Gone, but not forgotten."

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank our many new friends in Barrington for their kind attention and sympathy, to we who are strangers here, in our sorrow occasioned this week by the death of our mother.

MRS. JANE KEELER AND FAMILY.

Let us figure on your job printing.

| | | | |
|------------|----------|-------|---|
| A. N. K.—A | (1907—2) | 2160. | справочные сведения. Краткое руководство J. M. BOSS, 244 W. Markham St., Lima, Wash. |
|------------|----------|-------|---|

THE REVIEW

Published as Second-Class Matter.

W. T. LAMBE, Editor and Publisher.

FRIDAY, JAN. 11, 1906.

Barrington Locals.

Owing to an unavoidable accident at our press room, it was impossible for the Review to reach subscribers Saturday morning.

Leo Malman of Wauconda came here Monday to work in Jones' pharmacy for a month.

The pupils at the German school number twenty-two, of which nine are boys and thirteen girls.

Robert Hawley's business venture is succeeding finely as he has some 200 customers on his newspaper route.

Wise Counsel From the South.

"I want to give some valuable advice to those who suffer with lame back and kidney trouble," says J. R. Blankenship, of Beck, Tenn. "I have proved to an absolute certainty that Electric Bitters will positively cure this distressing condition. The first bottle gave me great relief and after taking a few more bottles, I was completely cured; so completely that it becomes a pleasure to recommend this great remedy." Sold under guarantee at Barrington Pharmacy. Price 50c.

Otto Stenger returned to Ill. State University Sunday. He spent a two weeks vacation at his father's home, Rev. Stenger.

Cured of Lung Trouble.

"It is now eleven years since I had a narrow escape from consumption," writes C. O. Floyd, a leading business man of Kershaw, S. C. "I had run down in weight to 135 pounds, and coughing was constant, both by day and by night. Finally I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and continued this for about six months, when my cough and lung trouble were entirely gone and I was restored to my normal weight, 170 pounds." Thousands of persons are healed every year. Guaranteed at Barrington Pharmacy. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Mrs. E. M. Blocks is well again and able to be about, following a severe illness of several weeks.

How to Cure Chills.

"To enjoy freedom from chills," writes John Kemp, East Otisfield, Me. "I apply Buckle's Eucalypti Salve. Have also used it for salt rheum with excellent results." Guaranteed to cure fever sores, indolent ulcers, piles, burns, wounds, from bites and skin diseases. 25c at Barrington Pharmacy.

Miss Anna Sanderson and Miss Aggie Merkle of Ravenswood visited with Mrs. Harry Kampf Monday.

The Right Name.

Mr. August Sherpe, the popular overseer of the poor at Fort Madison, Ia. says: "Dr. King's New Life Pills are rightly named; they act more agreeably, do more good and make one feel better than any other laxative." Guaranteed to cure biliousness and constipation. 25c at Barrington Pharmacy.

A. G. Gieske, M.D.C. Veterinarian

Graduate of

Chicago Veterinary College

'Phone 421 Barrington, Ill

M. C. McINTOSH, LAWYER.

Suite 430 Ashland Bldg., Chicago

Residence Barrington.

PHONE: CENTRAL ONE 115-BARRINGTON, ILL.

Arla B. Williams, Howard P. Castle Percy V. Castle Jesse R. Long

CASTLE, WILLIAMS, LONG & CASTLE

ATTORNEYS AT LAW 1000-22 Chamber of Commerce Bldg., Chicago.

Telephone, Main 2637

Howard B. Castle at Barrington Monday Evenings.

L. H. Bennett, LAWYER.

With Jackson & Bennett.

Do a General Law Business. Practice in all State and Federal Courts.

Real Estate and Loans.

Office in Grand Bldg.

'Phone Office 492. Residence 3004 BARRINGTON. ILLINOIS

Absentminded Miss Amy

By Louise J. Strong

Copyright, 1905, by C. H. Sattelle

"There are worse things than being an old maid," Miss Amy Colver said severely.

"Oh, Miss Amy—I didn't mean—I never think of you as being that!" the girl stammered.

"She isn't such a very old maid," Mrs. Wridgely smiled. "And she says truly there are worse things—such as having a blind husband on your hands, which would have been her fate if she'd married Henry Scott, as she came near doing once."

"She wouldn't think so if she were his wife! She'd love him all the more for the affliction. I know I should. If Willie—"

Blushing hotly, Elsie ran from the room.

Mrs. Wridgely laughed, but with a keen glance at her sister, who murmured something about the heat, fanning vigorously. Then presently she asked, "Did you say that Henry Scott was 'judged' married?"

"That's what Kate wrote. The doctors think his eyes were ruined, and no wonder, running into that fire so."

"Judged married," she may never see again. It's a good thing he has no family. He's pretty well off, but he'll need all he's got. He'll never work again, and his business will soon go to ruin, with hired help managing it."

Amy said nothing. Mrs. Wridgely regarded her preoccupied face with a slight frown, then closed the subject by remarking briskly: "Well, fortunately, Henry Scott is nothing to us. I ran over to see what you're going to wear to the reception, Amy."

"The same as usual, I suppose, if I go."

"If you go," Mrs. Wridgely almost shrieked. "When you know the affair is complimentary to you! Of course you'll go! And you must wear your cream silk. I'll send Ruth to dress you. And, Amy, I want to take the waist and have the sleeves shortened. You have such pretty arms. I'll run up and get it."

"Judged married, and wife will be there," she resumed, returning to the porch with the waist.

"Be where?" Amy questioned vaguely.

"Well, if you aren't enough to— He at the reception, of course, and Senator Ellsworth, too; he got back this morning. Mrs. Reed was so afraid they would not be here. I think I'll throw my own dress over my head. Amy, or like as not you'll appear in that everlasting black! Of course you are full of your new book, but you owe something to your friends. Do put it out of your mind for this evening. I'll be over early."

"I'm glad it's out about Henry Scott," Mrs. Wridgely commended with herself. "I've been some afraid of the effect on her, but I guess she's forgotten that old affair, and I mentioned the senator on purpose to turn her thoughts. I wish I dare speak plainly to her about Senator Ellsworth, but she were only a little more like other folks! But then, I suppose, he would not find her so attractive."

Mrs. Wridgely had constituted herself a heartless disregard of the senator's shattered hopes, that the personage was close by and that the evening bodice and the roses were plainly in preparation for the wedding that was to occur immediately.

Curiosities of Coffee.

Coffee, as experts are aware, has a very extraordinary property. It is one of the most absorbent matters in existence. Coffee beans placed in a damp room swell and absorb moisture till they nearly double their weight. Here is the chance of the dishonest grocer. Not content with the amount of profit made upon coffee, he places pails of water in a room with piles of uncovered coffee beans, and by swelling the coffee adds something like 50 per cent to his profits. The favor is returned, but that does not matter to him. So absorbent is coffee, not only of moisture, but of gases and flavors, that shippers of Brazilian coffee always stipulate that the sacks of fresh Rio beans shall never be carried on a steamer which has raw hides as any part of her cargo. These will taint the coffee more surely than anything else and render it unfit for use. The useful side of this quality of coffee is that in a sickroom a handful or two of fresh roasted and ground beans set as an excellent purifier and deodorizer—Washington Post.

Trade Signs.

On nearly all street corners even in the largest metropolis of Europe may be found relics of the middle ages and of the earliest times. Take, for instance, the wooden image of a shoe, which every cobbler hangs out above his door. It goes back for its origin to the Rome of the pre-Christian era. In the ruins of the lava buried cities of Herculaneum and Pompeii many shop signs of stone and terra cotta have been discovered. The fishermen of those that for centuries adorned the highways not only of Europe, but of the new world. Among them was the emblem of the shoemaker's trade, a cup carrying a dainty pair of women's shoes. They used the image of a shoe to indicate the dairies, that of a milkmaid driving a milk pail, out to the bakers' shops and a bush of evergreen to direct the thirsty traveler to a tavern. This particular sign gave rise to the English proverb, "Good wine needs no bush."

Cuba's Discontented.

It goes contrary to all American traditions not to hearken to the cry of any people, however lowly, who plead for justice and equal opportunity in the pursuit of happiness. In the case of the discontented Cubans, who have raised their arms against the Palma government it is just possible that our penchant for championing the cause of the under dog might lead us to make fools of ourselves. The very name of Cuban at first calls up the son of Spain who settled on the island and made it a garden spot, struggling at various times against the oppression of the decayed monarchy which neither government nor protected the colony. Into the hands of that race, the race that has made all that is worth anything in South America, we were willing to commit the destinies of the land set free by our arms.

Cubans of Spanish descent have staked their all in the island. They are the planters and merchants, men who desire order and peace even at the cost of sentimental political rights. On the other hand, the discontented elements are largely made up of West India negroes from all the islands of the group. Attracted first to the thriving seaports, they have spread over the island and, mixing with the more desperate of the native blacks, adventurers of all colors, tramps and outcasts, give no end of trouble to the government. Our army met this element during the campaign of 1898 and never has had a good word to say for them in the mass. They struck the national treasury long ago for millions in the shape of back pay for gaining the liberty which United States soldiers and sailors achieved. They outnumber the industrious and law abiding element and can produce and maintain anarchy in the island. Perhaps there are real grievances which the Palma government failed to abolish. But the avenging sword in the hands of a mob is likely to be two edged and hew down the very structure it was intended to rescue.

Insurance Exceptions in England.

Fire losses arising out of riots and civil commotion are ruled out by the policies of nearly all countries, and also excluded those due to the acts of foreign foes, to usurped power and to earthquakes. Writing on this subject in the Nineteenth Century, a contributor, whose viewpoint is England, says:

If such a disaster as that of San Francisco occurred here, the fire offices would have no liability either for earthquake or for fire damages caused by the earthquake. The reason for this exclusion is the incalculable nature of an earthquake and the damage which it may cause. Not only can no one calculate a premium to meet so vague a risk, but no insurance company could provide a fund which would not be scattered to fragments by a really widespread earthquake. We have seen and experienced fire losses amounting to not less than $200,000,000—arising out of earthquakes in one American city. If the shock had spread far to several other important cities, as it might well have done, the result would have been incalculable. British, American or European, would have been able to pay the claims upon it. The position offered by fire insurance is an indemnity against ordinary accidental losses.

The writer adds that for losses in riots and civil commotions the sufferer has a remedy against the public authorities controlling the police. The destruction to property by an invasion from without or a revolution might be stupendous, comparable even to that of the severest earthquake. In excluding these the fire companies seem to be merely safeguarding the system of fire insurance.

The pressing need of better transportation facilities with South America and other parts of the world is showing the importance of which should be more thoroughly impressed upon the American public. Minister John Barrett, who appreciates the need of action in this matter, calls attention to the fact that many delegates from North America to the recent pan-American conference at Rio de Janeiro were compelled to go via Europe, where they had the choice of six lines. They could not be expected to travel on semicargo boats with limited passenger accommodations. To promote trade first class mail and passenger accommodations are necessary.

The fact that the American Bible society's output of Bibles last year reached the marvelous figure of 2,234,755 copies shows that it is not necessary for the "best seller" to be new and right up to date.

The contagious panic that is driving the Russian bureaucrats like rats from a burning barn was to be a sure sign to the wretched surviving Jews of Odessa and Kishineff that there is still a God in Israel.

Early predictions to the contrary notwithstanding, Mexico recently celebrated her independence day with far less bloodshed than usually accompanies our celebration of the glorious Fourth.

The man who mailed a ten pound block of ice to President Roosevelt no doubt could have made good use of it on his own head the morning after.

A half billion dollars' worth of life insurance is said to have lapsed last year. Let us hope the return to safety and sanity has set in.

IT PROVES IT'S WORTH

The HOLSMAN Automobile

PERFECT IN CONSTRUCTION, CHEAP IN PRICE and COST OF OPERATING

When you see the HOLSMAN machine it will make you its friend at once for these reasons:

1. Solid tires, admitting no punctures.
2. Air cooled. No water to contend with, or broken jackets which occur in frosty weather.
3. No live axles.
4. No transmission gears.
5. No drive gears.
6. No speed gears, in fact, not any gears to contend with. No clutches. The machine rides as easy as the best made carriage and is controlled by two simple hand levers. As started, guided, stopped, speeded, reversed and fully controlled by these two simple levers.

Should you have a breakdown, repairs are quickly secured. However, the chances of a breakdown are slim in a Holman.

Write me for catalog and descriptive matter.

J. W. Burkitt, Arlington Heights, Ill.

N. B. I'll be pleased to give you a spin in my car and show you the advantages of a Holman. It won't cost you anything. I also have the agency for the Rotary Shuttle Standard Sewing Machine. The best thing in this line on the market. Let the ladies come in my place and let me show them.

LAMEY & COMPANY

Dealers in

Building Material, Paints, Oils, Glass, Tile and Cement.

Barrington, - - Illinois.

Palatine Bank

of CHARLES H. PATTEN.

A General Banking Business Transacted

Interest Paid on Loans on Savings Deposits. Real Estate Insurance.

ISAAC B. FOX, J. P.

Real Estate and Insurance.

Farm Lands and Village Lots.

'PHONE—Office 423. Residence 504.

BARRINGTON, ILL.

Castle, Williams & Castle, ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW.

1020-22 Chamber Commerce Bldg., Chicago.

Telephone 1 Main 2037. 1 Ashland 2037.

A. J. REDMOND

Attorney at Law.

Suite 45, 88 La Salle St. Chicago.

Tel. Main 196. Auto. 6526

THE Bank of Sandman & Co

JOHN ROBERTSON, PRES. JOHN C. PLAGE, VICE-PRES. A. L. ROBERTSON, CASHIER. H. C. SANDMAN

Barrington, - - Illinois.

R. L. PECK, LAWYER.

Residence: Office 1511

Palatine, First National Bank Building, Chicago.

Telephone Central 5446.

Dr. Edith A. Kellogg

Osteopathic Physician

HARRINGTON OFFICE—At Mrs. S. L. Benson's House. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. Treatments given at the residence by appointment.

CHICAGO OFFICE—616 Madison Avenue. Hours: Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, 9 A. M. and by appointment.

A. S. OLMS

Druggist and Pharmacist.....

A full line of Patent Medicines, Toilet Articles and Stationery. Prescriptions compounded at all hours, day and night.

PALATINE, ILL.

Palatine Barber Shop

J. D. Ferry, Proprietor

First-Class Work Only.

Agt. Barrington Steam Laundry

Spunner & Rosenberg

Attorneys at Law.

OFFICE: Suite 419 Chamber of Commerce Bldg. Telephone Main 3609.

Chicago, - - Illinois.

Dr. W. A. SHEARER

Physician and Surgeon

Office in Lageschulte Block over the Barrington Pharmacy.

OFFICE HOURS: 11:30 A.M. to 5 P.M. 9 A.M. to 12 M. 2 P.M. to 5 P.M.

Night calls promptly attended.

Phone 212. Barrington, Illinois

G. W. Spinner,

Residence, Barrington, Ill.

Phone 212.

Subscribe for THE REVIEW.

Copyright, 1906, by Ruby Douglas

"Yes," Derrick tried to think clearly, to keep his grip on things before the grayness should come again. "Call up 6008 Main, ask for the 'City' room—Mr. Yates. Tell him that Barker is laid out."

By C. D. LEWIS

M. Toupet.—Madam, I am a coiffeur, of a building contractor.—Pall Mall

"Very well," replied the explorer. "I am thirteen feet to the partly open skylight, with no chance whatever of escape."

"That," replied the native, "is Mr. Pompous."
 "Only plain 'mister?' Why, he has the bearing of a major general!"
 "Yes, and the overbearing of a young

By NELLIE
CRAVEY GILLMORE

Copyright, 1906, by P. C. Eastment

He was on the point of taking when the waiter reappeared. Priori welcomed his coming with A Risky Scheme.

Mr. Youngman (after long thought)—
Is there any way to find out what a woman thinks of you without proposing? Mr. Benedict (absently) — Yes.
Make her mad.

had done the past six months and still facing him now with so cool a demeanor. He was on the point of speaking when the waiter reappeared. Marijole welcomed his coming with roman thinks of you without proposing? Mr. Benedict (absently) — Yes.

fake her mind.

Barrington Review.

M. T. LAMEY, Ed. and Pub.
BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS.

No goods that bear a trademark in any way resembling a crescent can be landed in Turkey.

An American author has very truly said: "Education does not change a man's blood nor his heart."

Recognition of merit in others is often a very good way to secure recognition of merit in ourselves.

San Francisco is said to have $4,000,000 of the relief fund still on hand. Evidently the grifters did not come to the relief of the fun as rapidly as they might have done.

The Chicago preacher who wants to have Christmas abolished, says the Washington Post, probably has enough slippers on hand to last him for the rest of his natural life.

A Paris paper devoted to scientific subjects announces the discovery of a workable method of shielding watches and clocks from all magnetic influences. It is said to be the work of a watchmaker named Leroy.

Queen Wilhelmina shipped some cows from Holland for her husband's estate in Mecklenburg-Schwerin. But they were stopped at the German frontier under the law forbidding the importation of foreign cattle.

Chrysanthemums are good to eat—that is, the leaves of the big, bushy flower, much like a beautiful cabbage, make a good salad if they are properly prepared. In fact, the dish is one that is highly prized by the Chinese.

The duchess of Connaught, wife of King Edward's brother, is said to be very rich and very stingy. The two usually go together. But do people become rich because they are stingy, or do they get stingy because they become rich? asks the Kansas City Times.

Submarines are uncanny vessels. They have shown their capacity for drowning their crews in peaceful maneuvers, and, as an English paper puts it, in time of war they are cowardly weapons, for they strike below the belt. There are those who believe that submarines should be ruled out of "civilized" warfare, and that the floating mine should go with them.

The picturesque Chinatown of Pacific Grove will soon be a thing of the past. The site has been given to the University of California by the Pacific Improvement company, and a biological laboratory will soon be located there. Professor Loeb is to be at its head, and there will be erected a group of buildings costing about a quarter of a million, and accommodating 400 students.

Engineers have never doubted the possibility of transmitting power from the Victoria Falls of the Zambesi river to the great gold fields of the Transvaal, 750 miles distant, but they have questioned the economic soundness of such an undertaking, on a commercial scale. Nevertheless, contracts have been let which show that the work will be undertaken. It is the most extraordinary electric power scheme ever attempted.

It is grievous to find Sir Thomas Lipton telling his fellow-Britishers that we are so tremendously prosperous over here that we have absolutely no room for the value of money, and that no business man ever thinks of counting his change at our hotels, restaurants or elsewhere. It is anything but complimentary to our people, though, to have Sir Tommy declare that we mean to be unkind. He makes us all almost as ridiculous as rich Americans traveling abroad.

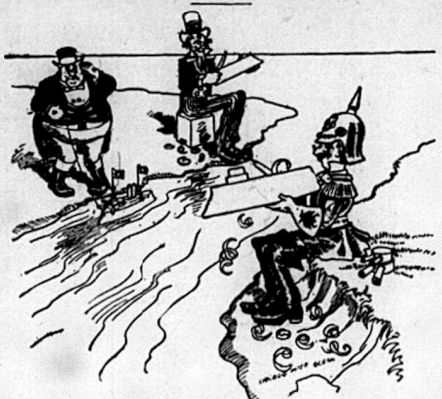

The auto may win fresh triumphs. An enthusiastic motorist won some fame recently by making a tour which carried him well up toward the frozen north, and now Henry Ford, an Antartic explorer, has invented an automobile to be mounted on runners by which he believes he can reach the South Pole more easily than by any other means. Perhaps Peary, in his search for the North Pole, may yet have to substitute the auto for the dogs which he hitherto has used for transportation and food purposes.

Last year several dozen splendid butterflies were set free in London parks with a view of furnishing a new attraction for promenaders. The experiment succeeded so well that this year it has been extended, and a butterfly farm has been established near the British metropolis, where the most brilliant tropical insects of this family are cultivated, with the intention of supplying them to parks in the summer time. It is said that 20,000 were released in the various London parks this summer, and that 40,000 chrysalides were under cultivation at the "farm" at the beginning of the season.

Prof. H. W. Wiley, of the department of agriculture, believes that the stalks of sweet corn might be made to yield sugar of the best quality. They contain much more sugar than those of the common field corn, and the sugar content is at its maximum when the ears are pulled.

There is in India a large element of wealth which is wholly inactive. The hoarded wealth in the form of ornaments, jewelry and buried treasure has been estimated at many millions. It is largely held by princes, rajahs and other nobles.

THE KAISER WHITTLES ONE OF HIS OWN.

Germany is about to build a larger battleship than the Dreadnaught or the one proposed by the United States.—Cable Dispatch.

SHAH OF PERSIA IS DEAD

ORIENTAL RULER PASSED AWAY AT TEHRAN.

Foreign Ministers Are Notified of His Death But News Is Kept From the Public.

London.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Tehran in a telegram sent Tuesday night at 11:50 o'clock says:

The shah of Persia died this evening, though no public announcement will be made until tomorrow (Wednesday).

"It was evident yesterday (Monday) that the end was rapidly approaching and four injections of camphor were employed to prolong the ruler's life. All the shah's vital functions were suspended today and at five o'clock this evening the heir apparent and the ministers were summoned. The women of the palace also began preparations for mourning.

"Soon after sunset the doors of the harem were closed. This was the sign that all was over.

"The news of the shah's death reached the foreign ministers late this evening, but the public is still unaware of his majesty's end."

Muzaffar-Ed-Din was born at Tehran, March 25, 1853, and succeeded his father, Nasr-Ed-Din, May 1, 1896. He leaves many children and will be succeeded by his eldest son, Mohammed Ali Mirza, who was born in 1872.

RIOTOUS STRIKERS KILLED.
Mexican Troops Shot Down Many at Orizaba Mills.

City of Mexico.—Delayed reports from the mill district of Orizaba, in the state of Vera Cruz, where rioting has attended the strike of the textile workers, indicate that the government is now complete master of the situation.

To gain control of the rioters, however, it was necessary for the troops to fire upon the men. Thirty dead have been counted, while over 80 are reported to have been wounded. It is believed that the strike has been broken at this point.

Heroic Engineer Saves Train.
Boone, Ia.—After running wild for miles at 75 miles an hour, the North-western fast mail was saved from destruction by Engineer Shull, who, scalded nearly to death, made his way to the express car and pulled the air brakes rope.

Seven Dead From Explosion.
Kenosha, Wis.—The death toll of Saturday's explosion at the Ladin-Rand powder mill in the town of Pleasant Prairie now stands at seven, two more men having died since Saturday night.

Troops to Quell Mexican Strikers.
City of Mexico.—A special train carrying two regiments of soldiers has left this city for Orizaba. Strikers in the textile factory there have burned the company's store and are threatening to destroy the mill.

Missouri Editor Dies.
Carterville, Mo.—Jeff Shelton, formerly editor of the Carterville Record and the Webb City Sentinel, and a pioneer of Missouri, died here Monday of paralysis, after an illness of two years.

HIGH RUSSIANS ARE DOOMED.

Stolypin, Grand Duke Nicholas and Others Receive Warning.

St. Petersburg.—The terrorists are reported to have condemned to death among others Grand Duke Nicholas, Premier Stolypin and two conservative members of the cabinet, who lately received letters of warning.

The assassination of Gen. Von der Launitz, prefect of police of this city, has caused a powerful impression both in the press and among the public. The newspapers all comment on the inability of the prefect of police to protect his own person against the attack of a single resolute terrorist, who undertook the task with the firm determination not to be taken alive.

The papers ask how long a time will elapse before still more prominent personages are stricken by terrorist bullets. The press unites in demanding protection against the regime of assassination which has been inaugurated by reactionists as well as by terrorists.

A general search of the lodgings of persons under police observation was made here during the night in the hope of discovering the accomplices of the assassin of Gen. Von der Launitz. Many arrests were made, but so far as known, no important terrorists were captured.

BUES TO OUST MCCELLAN.

New York Attorney General Begins Action Against Gotham Mayor.

New York.—Attorney General Jackson, on behalf of the people of the state of New York, Monday entered suit in the supreme court against George B. McClellan, praying that the latter be ousted from the office of mayor of the city of New York on the ground that he has usurped and unlawfully holds such office, whereas William Randolph Hearst is legally entitled to the same.

The complaint declares flatly that at the election in November, 1905, Mr. Hearst "was duly and legally elected mayor of the city of New York"; it is further alleged that ballots legally marked for Hearst were counted for McClellan by the inspectors of election and that these "miscounts" formed the basis of the returns of the vote. It is claimed that in many other ways the election laws were violated at the 1905 election. Votes cast for Hearst, it is declared, were not counted in a number of districts.

STOVE WORKS DESTROYED.

Fire Causes Loss of $750,000 in Detroit.

Detroit, Mich.—Fire gutted a great portion of the large plant of the Michigan Stove Works on Jefferson avenue Tuesday evening, causing a loss estimated at $750,000, while the entire plant was insured for but $250,000.

Upwards of 15,000 gas and coal stoves were ruined, and of the tremendous plant covering an area of ten or twelve acres only the office buildings, the foundries and part of the storage building were saved, less than two-thirds of the entire establishment.

Several firemen were injured by falling debris and half a dozen spectators were hurt when the horses attached to one of the fire department wagons ran away into the enormous crowd that lined the street opposite the burning plant.

Entire Family Killed by Gas.
Hurlington, Vt.—The entire family of George DeVito, at Winslow, consisting of four persons, the father, mother and four children, were killed by illuminating gas which entered the house from a break in the street main through a sewer pipe.

Jail for a London Editor.
London.—Edward De Marny, editor of Judy, was sentenced at the Old Bailey Tuesday to two months' imprisonment for publishing obscene advertisements. De Marny is a well known figure in periodical literature.

Fight on Great Northern Opens.
St. Paul, Minn.—The legal battle started by the state of Minnesota to determine the necessity for the issue of the proposed $60,000,000 worth of Great Northern railroad stock began here Tuesday before Judge Henthorn.

BURIED IN HOT STEEL

EXPLOSION OF FURNACE IS FATAL TO 27 WORKMEN.

SEVERAL OTHERS INJURED

Molten Metal Poured Over Unfortunate Victims of Terrible Accident in a Pittsburgh Plant—Three Firemen Hurt.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—As a result of an explosion of a furnace at the Kluis furnaces of the Jones & Laughlin Steel works Wednesday night, seven are in a hospital with serious burns and injuries, and 24 are missing.

The explosion was caused by an accumulation of gas at the base of the furnace around which were working 35 men. Of all these but one man escaped injury. Without warning and with a roar like that of artillery, tons of molten metal were poured over the workmen, and for a space of 30 feet about the furnace the metal ran, flowing at some spots to a depth of four or five feet.

Two alarms of fire were immediately sent in and all the ambulances in the city were called. Soon the seven who were able to escape from the hot metal with their lives taken to a hospital, but all trace of the missing is lost. It is thought they have been buried in the mass of steel and their bodies consumed.

Efforts are being made to rescue some of the men, Chief Peter Snyder, of the Fourth fire district, was thrown from a trestle 30 feet high and was seriously injured. He, too, was taken to a hospital.

While responding to the alarm a horse carriage was struck by a street car, seriously injuring two of the firemen and killing a horse. Two women were injured by being trampled upon. The scenes about the entrance to the mill were pathetic. Women, men and children gathered before the gate and made frantic efforts to gain admission. Several of the frenzied women rushed upon the officers and fought them, crying to be allowed to enter the mill and see their loved ones.

MANY LINES BUT ONE CONTROL

Facts About Harriman System Drawn from J. C. Stubbs.

Chicago.—Determined efforts were made by the attorney representing the government before the interstate commerce commission Wednesday to show that the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific ownership by E. H. Harriman comprised a combination which restricted competition.

J. C. Stubbs, operating director of the Harriman system of railroad and steamship lines, was on the witness stand for hours under the closest questioning of Attorney F. B. Kellogg. According to the opinion expressed by Mr. Kellogg the government had made out a case.

The evidence of Mr. Stubbs shows that in 1898 from the Kent College of Law, last September he married Miss Elizabeth Swanstrom, a Swedish-American character reader. He is a member of the Swedish League of Illinois and was a vice president of the national association last year.

Shot While Squirrel Hunting.
Medora.—Rollin Reno, living south-west of Medora, was the victim of a peculiar accident while squirrel hunting with James Powers, a neighbor. A tree where it had its nest, Reno began climbing the tree, but before he had reached the nest the animal appeared in full view and Powers fired with a shotgun. The charge of shot struck a knobby part of the tree, which deflected the shot downward. Two of the pellets struck Reno's left hand as he was clinging to the branches, one entering the middle finger and the other passing between the thumb and first finger.

"HANGMAN" PAVLOFF SLAIN.

Czar's Advocate General Is Shot Down by Assassins.

St. Petersburg.—Lieut. Gen. Vladimir Pavloff, the military procurator or advocate general, generally known since the days of the late parliament as "Hangman" Pavloff, was shot and killed at ten o'clock Wednesday morning while walking in the garden of the judicial court building, near the Molska canal.

The assassin, who was disguised as a military clerk, was captured after a long chase through the crowded city streets, during which he fired about 40 shots from two revolvers which he carried, killing a policeman and wounding a small boy.

Vice Admiral Doubassoff, ex-governor general of the Caucasus and present a member of the council of empire, has received notification that another attempt upon his life will be made.

Murderer Lynched in Iowa.
Charles City, Ia.—A mob, led by well known citizens, broke into the jail Wednesday night and hanged James Cullen, a wealthy contractor who had murdered his wife and stepson.

No Cares; Flour Mills Close.
Minneapolis, Minn.—Because the mill cannot get cars in which to ship their product they have been compelled to shut down and 300 men are out of work.

Aged Woman Found Dead in Woods.
St. Cloud, Minn.—Mrs. Maria Novack, aged 70 years, wife of Thomas Novack, living near Holding, was found dead in a wooded place, two miles from her home Tuesday evening. She had, it is thought, become lost.

Bank Robbers Get $800.
Bonfield, Ill.—Sneaking communication with the outside world by cutting all telegraph and telephone wires, robbers blew open the vault in the First bank of Bonfield early Wednesday and made off with over $800.

Illinois State News

Recent Happenings of Interest in the Various Cities and Towns.

STEAL AND BURN PAPERS.

Crackmen Rifle Safe Containing Documents of Dougherty Case.

Peoria.—Expert crackmen, supposed to have been employed by persons interested in the case, broke into the office of the superintendent of schools in the public library building, dynamited the safe, stole all the papers bearing on the case of N. C. Dougherty and burned them in the furnace in the basement.

Dougherty, who was formerly superintendent of city schools, is now serving a term in the Joliet penitentiary. His bondsmen were legally liable for the amount of his defalcation, but now that the records are missing they may be able to evade payment.

The police have no clue to the perpetrators, but believe it to have been the work of expert crackmen, assisted by some one familiar with the building. Only documents which bear on the Dougherty scandal case were taken. Some papers belonging to the secretary were confiscated and $95 in money. Nothing was taken from the superintendent's private office.

The janitor found a large bundle of half-burned papers in the furnace in the basement, which proved to be the ones taken from the safe.

CHICAGO MAN IS CHOSEN.

George E. Q. Johnson Head of Swedish National Association.

Chicago.—George E. Q. Johnson was elected president of the Swedish National association at the annual meeting, to succeed P. A. Lindstrand. He is 35 years old and was born in Urbana.—The advisory committee to the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, representing the State Dairy, Breeding, Corn Growers' and Grain associations, decided to ask the legislature for the following appropriations for the college for the next two years: Maintenance of the College of Agriculture, $75,000 annually for experiment station investigations; live stock, $40,000; crop, $15,000; horticulture, $25,000; dairy, $25,000; soil, $40,000 the first year and $50,000 annually thereafter.

A. B. Grout, of Winchester, is chairman and Col. Messing, of Springfield, secretary of the committee.

Tells Jury of Wife's Death.
Kewanee.—Harry Anderson, husband of a Cambridge woman who was murdered while sleeping at his side, was able to testify before a coroner's jury for the first time since the mysterious slaying. He has been crazed since his wife's death.

His story revealed that there was a lighted lamp in the room, and that he saw a shadow disappearing through the door as he was awakened by the shot. He followed but did not investigate to see if his wife was hurt.

His fear kept him from returning to the room until Sheriff Swain's arrival. The jury's verdict did not name any one as the suspected murderer.

Heavy Damages Asked.
Decatur.—G. W. Vaughan filed suit for $10,000 against the Interurban company on account of the death of his son, Leslie Vaughan. Leslie Vaughan was killed on West Main street by being struck by an interurban car. He was riding his bicycle and being a deaf mute he did not hear the car.

Jack Lally will ask the circuit court at the January term to grant him damages against the Wabash in the sum of $1,999, because the Wabash constructed a switch across Sangamon street so close to his home that the value of his property has been depreciated.

Death of Veteran Preacher.
Virden.—Rev. William P. Hart, known throughout central Illinois as "Uncle Billy" Hart, died at his home at Hart's Prairie, six miles west of Virden, aged 71 years. He was born in 1835 and has preached the Baptist faith continuously in this section for over 50 years.

Andrew Robbins Dead.
Carlinville.—Andrew Robbins, one of the well-known citizens of Brighton, is dead at his home at that place, aged 69 years. He was a prominent member of the One Hundred and Twenty-second Illinois regiment and was well-known in G. A. R. circles.

Minor Instantly Killed.
Canton, Mo.—John Bullough, miner employed in the mine of the Norris Coal company, was killed by falling coal. Bullough was loosening coal with a pick. A large mass fell on his head and before he could escape it fell upon him, crushing him.

Fever Blister Causes Death.
Joliet.—Mrs. Mary Nell died after an illness of four days. Death came as the result of an apparently unimportant little fever blister on her lip. Nothing was thought of the matter until blood poisoning developed.

Dream of Fire Comes True.
Kankakee.—After he had dreamed for the third time that his place of business would be destroyed by fire, Lyle Rankin, a newsdealer, came down town early to find that his place was in flames.

Sweet Potato Is a Freak.
Medora.—A freakish sweet potato was discovered by a guest at the National hotel here. The vegetable had been cooked and so closely resembled a week-old chick as to be hardly distinguishable.

Child Scalded to Death.
Bloomington.—Theodore Conley, 2½ year old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bartley Conley, was scalded to death at his home in Clinton. The child was playing near a tub of scalding water when he lost his balance and fell in.

Colored Lad Is Inmate.
Carlinville.—Ladison Briggs (colored), was brought to this city from Bunker Hill by Deputy Sheriff Edwards Scherer to be examined as to his sanity. The examining board found him insane and he was taken to the asylum at Jacksonville by Deputy Sheriff Williams.

Child Scalded to Death.
Bloomington.—Theodore Conley, 2½ year old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bartley Conley, was scalded to death at his home in Clinton. The child was playing near a tub of scalding water when he lost his balance and fell in.

Sweet Potato Is a Freak.
Medora.—A freakish sweet potato was discovered by a guest at the National hotel here. The vegetable had been cooked and so closely resembled a week-old chick as to be hardly distinguishable.

Child Scalded to Death.
Bloomington.—Theodore Conley, 2½ year old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bartley Conley, was scalded to death at his home in Clinton. The child was playing near a tub of scalding water when he lost his balance and fell in.

Sweet Potato Is a Freak.
Medora.—A freakish sweet potato was discovered by a guest at the National hotel here. The vegetable had been cooked and so closely resembled a week-old chick as to be hardly distinguishable.

THE DELUGE

By DAVID GRAHAM PHILLIPS, Author of "THE CUCKER" (Copyright 1905 by the DODGE-PUBLISHERS COMPANY)

V. DANGER SIGNALS.

At that time I did not myself go over the bills before the legislature of those states in which I had interests. I trusted that work to my lawyers—and, like every man who ever absolutely trusted an important division of his affairs to another, I was severely punished. One morning my eyes happened to light upon a minor paragraph in a newspaper—a list of the "small bills yesterday approved by the governor." In the list was one "defining the power of sundry commissions." Those words seemed to me somehow to spell "Joker." But why did I call up my lawyers to look about it? It's a mystery to me. All I know is that, busy as was, something inside compelled me to drop everything else and hunt that "Joker" down.

I got Saxe—then senior partner in Browne, Saxe, & Blanton—on the 'phone, and said: "Just see and tell me, will you, what is the bill defining the power of sundry commissions?"—the bill the governor signed yesterday.

"Certainly, Mr. Blacklock," came the answer. My nerves are, and always have been, on the watch for the looks and the tones and the gestures that are, to a shade of the natural, and I feel that I do Saxe no injustice when I say his tone was, not a shade, but a full color, of the natural. So I was prepared for what he said when he returned to the telephone. "I'm sorry, Mr. Blacklock, but we seem unable to lay our hands on that bill at this moment."

"Why not?" said I, in the tone that makes an employer jump as if a whip-lash had cut him on the calves.

He had jumped all right, as his voice showed. "It's not in our file," said he. "It's house bill No. 427, and it's apparently not here."

"The hell you say!" I exclaimed. "Why?"

"I really can't explain," he pleaded, and the frightened whine confirmed my suspicion.

"I guess not," said I, making the words significant and suggestive. "And you're in my pay to look after such matters! But you'll have to explain, if this turns out to be serious."

"Apparently our file of bills is complete except that one," he went on. "I suppose it was lost in the mail, and I may stupidly didn't notice the gap in the numbers."

"Stupid isn't the word I'd use," said I, with a laugh that wasn't of the kind that cheers. And I rang off and asked for the state capitol on the "long distance."

Before I got my connection Saxe, whose office was only two blocks away, came bustling in. "The boy has been discharged," Mr. Blacklock, he began.

"What boy?" said I.

"The boy in charge of the bill file—the boy whose business it was to keep the file complete."

"Send him to me, you damned scoundrel!" said I. "I'll give him a job. What do you take me for anyway? And what kind of a cowardly bounder are you to discharge an innocent boy as a cover for your own crooked work?"

"Really, Mr. Blacklock, this is most extraordinary," he expostulated.

"Extraordinary?" I retorted. "Listen to me. You look after the legislative calendars for me, and for Lexington, and for Roebuck, and for Louisville, and for half a dozen others of the biggest financiers in the country. It's the most important work you do for us. Yet you, as shrewd and careful a lawyer as there is at the state capitol, wait me to believe you trusted that work to a boy? If you did, you're a damn fool. If you didn't, you're a damn scoundrel. There's no more doubt in my mind than in the third, which of those horns has you sticking on it."

"You are letting your quick temper get away with you, Mr. Blacklock," he deprecated.

"Stop! Stop!" I shouted. "I knew you had been doing some skullduggery when I first heard your voice on the telephone. And if I needed any proof, the meek way you've taken my abuse would furnish it, not to spare."

Just then the telephone bell rang and I got the right department and asked the clerk to read house bill 427. It contained five short paragraphs. The "Joker" was in the third, which gave the state canal commission the right to institute condemnation proceedings, and to condemn, and to abolish, any canal not exceeding 30 miles in length and not a part of the connected canal system of the state."

When I hung up the receiver I was so absorbed that I had forgotten Saxe was waiting. He made some slight sound. I wheeled on him. I needed a vent. If he hadn't been there I should have smashed a chair. But there was he—and I kicked him out of my private office and would have kicked him out through the anteroom into the outer hall, had he not gathered himself together and run like a jack-rabbit.

erwise, I know your little saw ends my little saws."

"Still I don't know what you're talking about," drawled he. "You are always suspecting everybody of double-dealing. I gather that this is another instance of your enmity. Really, Blacklock, the world isn't wholly made up of scoundrels."

"I know that," said I. "And I will even admit that his scoundrelism is seldom made up wholly of scoundrelism. Even Roebuck would rather do the decent thing, if he can do it without endangering his personal interests. As for you—I regard you as one of the dearest men I ever knew—outside of business. And even there, I believe you'd keep your word, as long as the other fellow kept his."

"Thank you," said he, bowing ironically. "This flattery makes me suspect you've come to get something."

"On the contrary," said I. "I want to give something. I want to give you my coal mines."

"I thought you'd see that our offer was fair," said he. "And I'm glad you have changed your mind about quarreling with your best friend. We can be useful to you, you to us. A break would be silly."

"That's the way it looks to me," I assented. And I decided that they shall talk to Roebuck had set them to estimating my value to them.

"Sam Ellersly," Langdon presently remarked, "tells me he's campaigning hard for you at the Travelers. I hope you'll make it. We're rather a slow crowd; a few men like you might stir things up."

I am always more than willing to give others credit for good sense and good motives. It was not vanity, but this disposition to credit others with sincerity and sense, that led me to believe him, both as to the coal matter and as to the Travelers club. "Thanks, Langdon," I said; and that he might look no further for my motive, I added: "I want to get into that club much as the winner of a race wants the medal that belongs to him. I've built myself up into a rich man, into one of the powers in finance, and I feel I'm entitled to recognition."

VI. OF "GENTLEMEN."

When I got better to my office and was settling to the proofs of the "Letters to Investors," which I published in sixty newspapers throughout the country, I was told by a friend of mine that I had been invited to the club much as the winner of a race wants the medal that belongs to him. I've built myself up into a rich man, into one of the powers in finance, and I feel I'm entitled to recognition."

VI. OF "GENTLEMEN."

When I got better to my office and was settling to the proofs of the "Letters to Investors," which I published in sixty newspapers throughout the country, I was told by a friend of mine that I had been invited to the club much as the winner of a race wants the medal that belongs to him. I've built myself up into a rich man, into one of the powers in finance, and I feel I'm entitled to recognition."

VI. OF "GENTLEMEN."

When I got better to my office and was settling to the proofs of the "Letters to Investors," which I published in sixty newspapers throughout the country, I was told by a friend of mine that I had been invited to the club much as the winner of a race wants the medal that belongs to him. I've built myself up into a rich man, into one of the powers in finance, and I feel I'm entitled to recognition."

VI. OF "GENTLEMEN."

When I got better to my office and was settling to the proofs of the "Letters to Investors," which I published in sixty newspapers throughout the country, I was told by a friend of mine that I had been invited to the club much as the winner of a race wants the medal that belongs to him. I've built myself up into a rich man, into one of the powers in finance, and I feel I'm entitled to recognition."

VI. OF "GENTLEMEN."

When I got better to my office and was settling to the proofs of the "Letters to Investors," which I published in sixty newspapers throughout the country, I was told by a friend of mine that I had been invited to the club much as the winner of a race wants the medal that belongs to him. I've built myself up into a rich man, into one of the powers in finance, and I feel I'm entitled to recognition."

VI. OF "GENTLEMEN."

When I got better to my office and was settling to the proofs of the "Letters to Investors," which I published in sixty newspapers throughout the country, I was told by a friend of mine that I had been invited to the club much as the winner of a race wants the medal that belongs to him. I've built myself up into a rich man, into one of the powers in finance, and I feel I'm entitled to recognition."

VI. OF "GENTLEMEN."

When I got better to my office and was settling to the proofs of the "Letters to Investors," which I published in sixty newspapers throughout the country, I was told by a friend of mine that I had been invited to the club much as the winner of a race wants the medal that belongs to him. I've built myself up into a rich man, into one of the powers in finance, and I feel I'm entitled to recognition."

VI. OF "GENTLEMEN."

When I got better to my office and was settling to the proofs of the "Letters to Investors," which I published in sixty newspapers throughout the country, I was told by a friend of mine that I had been invited to the club much as the winner of a race wants the medal that belongs to him. I've built myself up into a rich man, into one of the powers in finance, and I feel I'm entitled to recognition."

VI. OF "GENTLEMEN."

When I got better to my office and was settling to the proofs of the "Letters to Investors," which I published in sixty newspapers throughout the country, I was told by a friend of mine that I had been invited to the club much as the winner of a race wants the medal that belongs to him. I've built myself up into a rich man, into one of the powers in finance, and I feel I'm entitled to recognition."

VI. OF "GENTLEMEN."

When I got better to my office and was settling to the proofs of the "Letters to Investors," which I published in sixty newspapers throughout the country, I was told by a friend of mine that I had been invited to the club much as the winner of a race wants the medal that belongs to him. I've built myself up into a rich man, into one of the powers in finance, and I feel I'm entitled to recognition."

VI. OF "GENTLEMEN."

When I got better to my office and was settling to the proofs of the "Letters to Investors," which I published in sixty newspapers throughout the country, I was told by a friend of mine that I had been invited to the club much as the winner of a race wants the medal that belongs to him. I've built myself up into a rich man, into one of the powers in finance, and I feel I'm entitled to recognition."

Responsibility of Public Schools to Children

By THOMAS F. HARRINGTON, M. D.

THE unprecedented activity to-day in philanthropic, charitable and social policies finds its expression in the home-school alliance in medical inspection, in school nurses, in feeding school children, and in the care of the abnormal child. Each of these functions belongs to the home. Is the school then an usurper when it attempts to fulfill any or all of these duties?

As physicians, we know that mental and physical defects among school children exist to a surprising extent, that many of these defects are remediable with a great gain to the child, that underfeeding is more prevalent than is supposed, that many of these poorly fed children could overcome the handicap of a bad start if boldly nutrition was kept somewhere near actual requirements.

No remedy can be most effective until the cause of the evil is known. These causes exist in both the school life and the home life of the child.

At home we find the materialistic influences of modern social life, the indifference or neglect of guardians, the disregard for rightful authority, the results of genuine poverty, and finally the impossibility for the home to keep in touch with the school.

Causes inherent in the school are the multiplication of the branches taught the absence of individualization, the lack of data whereby the relative physical and mental development of each child is known, the grading system, and lastly the absence of any connecting link between the home and the school.

Any measures to correct or minimize the evils in school curricula are obviously within the rights of the school—in fact it is a duty. When, however, the school points out the defects of individual pupils, groups of pupils, or in the home life of such, it has gone as far as moral or legal right allows. To attempt to carry out by force the measures of relief suggested, no matter how good in themselves, would be usurpation.

It is possible, nevertheless, to carry instruction and persuasion into homes where force and coercion would not be tolerated, and where example and precept can accomplish incalculable good for the home, the school, the individual and the state. Nurses under school supervision only can do this without the usurpation of the home, or the manufacture of paupers. To develop and strengthen home authority should be the end sought.

THE word "press agent" calls to mind a particularly energetic, nervous person, with enthusiastic imagination—an embryonic Jules Verne, so to speak, who bases his wonder tales upon the doings of play-folk, rather than the exploits of science.

So accustomed have the reading public become to the exploits of the press agent that when a legitimate bit of news is printed it is regarded with suspicion.

Why I must needs be exploited, as a hunter of great game, a jiu-jitsu expert, or a trapeze genius before I can achieve Shakespearean success is beyond me.

The press agent would have me lose jewels that he might, with the romance of Dumas, describe their value, and then, with the ingenuity of Poe, discover them on my mantelpiece, where perchance I had placed them while walking in my sleep. If I really had lost diamonds and possessions rare I would hasten to the police, maintaining strictest silence.

I maintain that such chronicling is not relevant to my profession. It is sufficient for me that I be known for the results I accomplish in my work, and not as a sideshow wonder who also appears in the performance.

I further maintain that my private life is of no interest to the world at large. I speak not of myself alone, but of actors as a professional class. A lawyer is known as a lawyer and refers you to the results that he has achieved before the bar. Who cares whether he eats cream or Worcestershire upon his strawberries? A doctor achieves his reputation through the cures he effects, not because his idle hours are consumed in collecting pictorial post-cards. But the actor! Alas! he is pursued with a demonic persistency.

I know in making these objections that I cannot seriously affect the future of those to whom I object, for, even if I were able to dispose of the exaggerating profession, the versatile and energetic ones who fill it would bob up in some equally lucrative capacity before the day was ended.

There are strong reasons why married women should not be employed as teachers in the public schools. One might cite President Roosevelt's admonitions concerning "race suicide" as perhaps the chief reason.

The woman who marries becomes at once bound to an obligation greater than any other. Her paramount, her all-important duty is to her home. It is the first duty which she must consider, and it takes precedence of all other considerations. Marriage as a kind of agreeable comradeship, involving few or no domestic responsibilities other than those which hired service might render is no marriage at all.

It is absurd for any woman who marries and contemplates the rearing of a family to hope to engage in employment so exacting as that of a teacher in the public schools without sacrificing the interests of the home. Indeed, it may be said that a married woman cannot possibly be a good wife and mother and a good teacher in the public schools at the same time. She will be deficit in one regard or the other. Motherhood imposes upon her the obligation of teaching her own little flock of pupils, and she will find that she has all that she should undertake to perform this duty properly.

To the statement that some women marry with no expectation of discontinuing employment or of assuming the duties and responsibilities which have been mentioned, I think the answer may be made that such women ought not to be intrusted with the education of children.

Why Married Women Should Not Teach

By DR. WILLIAM J. GALLIVAN, Ex-President of Boston School Committee.

There are strong reasons why married women should not be employed as teachers in the public schools. One might cite President Roosevelt's admonitions concerning "race suicide" as perhaps the chief reason.

The woman who marries becomes at once bound to an obligation greater than any other. Her paramount, her all-important duty is to her home. It is the first duty which she must consider, and it takes precedence of all other considerations. Marriage as a kind of agreeable comradeship, involving few or no domestic responsibilities other than those which hired service might render is no marriage at all.

It is absurd for any woman who marries and contemplates the rearing of a family to hope to engage in employment so exacting as that of a teacher in the public schools without sacrificing the interests of the home. Indeed, it may be said that a married woman cannot possibly be a good wife and mother and a good teacher in the public schools at the same time. She will be deficit in one regard or the other. Motherhood imposes upon her the obligation of teaching her own little flock of pupils, and she will find that she has all that she should undertake to perform this duty properly.

To the statement that some women marry with no expectation of discontinuing employment or of assuming the duties and responsibilities which have been mentioned, I think the answer may be made that such women ought not to be intrusted with the education of children.

Why Married Women Should Not Teach

By DR. WILLIAM J. GALLIVAN, Ex-President of Boston School Committee.

There are strong reasons why married women should not be employed as teachers in the public schools. One might cite President Roosevelt's admonitions concerning "race suicide" as perhaps the chief reason.

The woman who marries becomes at once bound to an obligation greater than any other. Her paramount, her all-important duty is to her home. It is the first duty which she must consider, and it takes precedence of all other considerations. Marriage as a kind of agreeable comradeship, involving few or no domestic responsibilities other than those which hired service might render is no marriage at all.

C. F. HALL CO.
CASH DEPARTMENT STORE
DUNDEE, ILLINOIS.

January Sales.

Carpenters are at work remodelling our store.
It's a race between carpenters and clothes.

To avoid continual moving of goods we have decided to sell off stock.

This bargain list proves cut prices:

$1.50 White Bed spreads reduced to $1.15

White Bed Spreads reduced to $1.00

50c makes of heavy Wool Shirts, 10c

Double Knit Wool Mittens now 15c, 10c

$1.00 Sample Black Sateen, Petticoats, 75c

50c Knit Underskirts, specials for 25c

Double reversible Silk Four-inches, 10c

Ties, 25c

Boys' heavy Corduroy Knee Pants, 25c

Boys' heavy Jean Knee Pants only 10c

75 Girls' Cloaks, worth up to $3.25, sizes 8 to 12, colors, grey, blue, tan and red; loose cut, nobby styles, choice, $1.49

Infants' long, loose cut, all wool Cloaks, light colors, $1.50 goods, reduced to, 98c

Strictly all wool Waists, dark colors, formerly priced at $1.29, reduced now to, 75c

Small sizes in Ladies' Suits, limited supply, entire suit, $1.98

Heavy weight, red and blue stripe Sweaters, Men's sizes, now, 98c

Women's and Men's sample wool Hose, 2c grade, reduced to, 10c

Men's Negligee Dress Shirts, light with dark figures, 50c values, 25c

Large size canvas, blanket-lined Horse Blankets, for, $1.25, $1.69

Ladies' Black Dress Skirts, very special, large sizes, good materials, for, $1.49

Ladies' $1.29, $1.49 Waists, including fine wool garments, choice, 98c

Ladies' full size Flannellette Wrappers, $1.00 values, 87c

Millinery Dept.

Cut Rate prices. All trimmed Hats sold at a big discount.

Girls' Wool Tam Hats only, 10c

Feathers, Plumes, etc. to close out, 8c

Little Fellow's Caps, now, 10c

Ladies' and Misses' Cloaks

50 in. light colored, latest style Plaid Cloaks, now, $6.03

Misses' Grey Mixture Cloaks, velvet trimmed, now, $5.11

Finest loose cut Broadcloth Cloaks, the best we have had on sale, worth up to $22.00, now reduced in price to $8.59, $11.97, $10.79

Misses' Cloaks.

Our entire line of Cloaks, sizes 14 to 20, all of them this season's make, at big reductions.

Chinchilla Coats for, $2.69

Beaver Cloaks, fancy collar and cuffs, $4.95 $4.49

Noticeable

Values for the Week

Sample Bed Spread Sale.

Ribbon Values, 9, 3 and 1c, per yd.

Horse Blanket Sale.

Little Fellow's Overcoats, $1.39, $1.98

Dress Goods and Cotton Remnant Sale.

Silk Sale. 27 in. Fancy Silks at 49c per yd.

Remember Our Special Offers to Customers from out of town.

Show round trip R. R. Ticket if you come by train.

Texas Land in the

Corpus Christi District

90 acres and upwards at $10 per acre. Out of one of the best large tracts in that wonderful country. Richest soil; finest climate. prices rapidly advancing; success sure. Notify by wire at our expense if you can join our party Jan. 15th. Round trip $25.

Party a chance of honorable gentlemen. Square deal secured.

LEWIS and WILHITE,

133 La Salle St., Chicago.

A bargain can be had in pianos by inquiring at Review office.

Mrs. Jaynes of Chicago, sister of Mrs. E. Cannon, was here this week.

Let us figure on your job printing.

Barrington Local Happenings Told in Short Paragraphs

Mrs. Richard Earhart has so improved in health as to return to her home on Russell street Monday after several weeks' illness at her daughter's, Mrs. Wm. Dawson.

Will Collins of Chicago on Sunday visited his father, John Collins of Lake street.

Dr. and Mrs. George Lytle who have been in Buffalo since October expected to return home by Jan. 21st, but owing to government orders will be detained another eight weeks.

Miss Margaret Murray of Evanston visited from Friday to Monday with her sister, Mrs. George Knaggs.

George and William Hager entertained last week at a family reunion their brothers Charles Hager of Huron, S. Dakota and Frank Hager and family of Chicago. Both these visiting brothers are C. & N. W. conductors, Charles serving on a western division and Frank having a local run.

Mrs. Flora Lines, of Chicago, formerly of Barrington, is visiting for three weeks in Denver with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Robertson.

Dr. Jones will exhibit his famous "Wacondia Belle" and four puppies at the Toy Dog Show in the Chicago Coliseum on January 22, 23 and 24th. We trust "Wacondia Belle" will capture the ribbon and we believe this will be the result.

Miss Laura Nemyer continues in an extremely precarious condition at her sister's, Mrs. John McGowan, on Cemetery street. Miss Nemyer has been ill several months.

Edward Martin and family are now occupying their newly built home on Franklin street which is a thoroughly modern and finely arranged cottage.

The Sunday afternoon Y. M. C. A. meeting will be held in the Methodist Church next Sunday afternoon at 2:30. This meeting will be for men only, and will be conducted by the Evangelistic Band. All men are most cordially invited to come and hear these six young men speak and sing.

Don't fail to hear the Evangelistic Band from Evanston, at the Methodist church Saturday and Sunday.

A Demorest medal contest will be given in the M. E. church under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. on the evening of January 25th. All are invited.

Francis Glennon Willmarth celebrated his first birthday Thursday, Jan. 10th with children's party. The Misses Helen Abbott, Dorothy Welch, et al. Frances and Lenore Dolan and Bonnie Forlives were his guests. The table was decorated with carnations and a luncheon served just like for "grown-ups," with souvenire in the form of little traveling bags of candy.

E. K. Magee left last Sunday for a visit with relatives in Bigsbyville, Ill.

Mrs. Wm. Mott of Saginaw, Mich., is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McGowan.

At the O. E. S. installation of officers last Friday evening Mrs. Clara Sears served as installing officer and Mrs. Jennie Powers as marshal. There were about twenty-four members present and the evening was given entirely to business.

Miss Ethel Austin of Ravenswood visited with Miss Alta Powers over Sunday.

Arthur Schroeder visited with Barrington friends last week.

The Garrett Evangelistic Band will conduct Evangelistic services in the Methodist Church Saturday evening, and Sunday morning, afternoon and evening. Everybody is cordially invited to come and hear these six young men sing and preach.

The Thursday club were guests of Mrs. Clara Fackelman this week and enjoyed the afternoon exceedingly for Miss Eva Castle appeared on the program with a paper on "Pioneer Women." This essay was the only number and was of excellent literary merit besides presenting the subject in a thorough review. Miss Castle was retired from the teaching staff of the Chicago schools a few years ago after many years of service. She is a woman of high education and one who has traveled at home and abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Olman of Zeigler, S. D., are visiting at the home of Henry Freye.

Mrs. P. Jacobson and children, Mina and Martin, attended the concert at Lake Zurich, Saturday night.

Lost—Saturday night between town and H. D. Wetmore's, a buggy rope. Finder please return to Review office.

Mrs. John Meiners of Lake street is showing to her friends a phenomena in plant life. It is a calla lily with twin blossoms, there being two separate filices of the same size on one stalk, one having the long yellow pistil and the other lacking it or any center growth.

Mrs. W. H. Snyder and son John visited Mayfair friends, Saturday.

Claude Lines, son of Mrs. Addie Lines, who was very ill at Christmas time in a Minneapolis hospital, is much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Voss are now living in Sharon, Wis., where Mr. Voss is the U. & N. W. night operator.

The lecture on the San Francisco Disaster, illustrated by colored transparencies at the Odd Fellows Hall on January 16th will be of special interest to the school children.

The Woodman and Royal Neighbors installation of officers Tuesday evening was a pleasant affair, there being a good showing of members of both lodges present. All old officers succeeded themselves excepting in two instances in each lodge. H. Erick is now "Escort" and Henry Holmler "Watchman" in the men's lodge, and in the Royal Neighbors Mrs. R. Comstock became "Vice-Oracle" and Mrs. Fred Kirschnier "Manager."

W. K. Lawrence had the misfortune to cut his foot severely yesterday.

A masquerade dance will be given at Spring Lake tomorrow evening. A good time will be assured all who attend.

Smith Bros., dealers in feed and etc., expect to have their big gasoline engine by the time this paper reaches you. It will enable this enterprising firm to operate one of the most up-to-date grist mills in this section and no doubt will be a great benefit to Lake Zurich.

MOVING PICTURE AND Stereopticon Entertainment

Odd Fellows Hall, Wednesday, Jan. 16, '07

ADMISSION 15c

DOORS OPEN AT 7:45 P. M. TICKETS PROMPTLY AT 8 P. M.

A popular entertainment consisting of magnificent photographic transparencies, illuminated by powerful condensed light, magnified to life size, and the latest and most interesting productions of the always popular motion picture views, with a liberal sprinkling of wit, wisdom and humor that will be a pleasure to everyone.

At this entertainment a number of views of San Francisco will be shown, giving many points of interest, both before and after the terrible earthquake and fire that recently devastated that most beautiful city. A comprehensive description will be given of each picture as they are thrown upon the screen. This lecture feature of the entertainment will be both instructive and entertaining and you should not miss it.

The popular songs: "When the Moon is Shining on the River" and "Everybody works but father" will be illustrated by beautifully colored transparencies.

Music of exceptional purity and execution by the Hager Orchestra and Zonophone Band reproduced by the Graphophone, including a "Tone Picture" of the 1st Regiment leaving for Cuba.

"How Jones became a Mason," including the good ride. For the children there will be a descriptive trip to the Circus, with all the noises of the various animals and birds as the pictures are thrown upon the screen. Dissolving views of artistic reproductions of photography. Very pleasing.

There are about fifteen pictures to a foot of motion picture film and the entertainment will conclude with over a thousand feet, embodying features that cannot help but make you smile.

SMITH BROS.

DEALERS IN

Dairy Feeds, Hard and Soft Coal

SGHUMAKERS STOCK FOOD

(GROUND CORN, OATS AND BARLEY)

An ideal milk maker. We recommend and sell this food ON ITS OWN MERITS AS A DAIRY FOOD. Give it a trial and be convinced.

We handle only the best grades of

Wheat, Bran, Middlings and Oil Meal

Lake Zurich, Illinois

The Moving Picture Entertainment to be given at the Odd Fellows Hall Wednesday January 16th will be brim full of interest to every member of the family, old and young. Don't miss it.

Miss Emmert the optician will make her regular monthly visit to Barrington, Thursday, Jan. 17th. She will be at the office of Dr. Richardson. Examination of eyes free, prices within the reach of all.

Mr. and Mrs. Meister visited with the latter's parents at Crystal Lake a few days last week.

R. R. Lawrence of Spring Lake has invented an automobile door protector, for which he has applied for a patent. He has a good thing and expects to interest local capital.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Van Natta of Chicago are visiting at the Keeler home on Russell street.

The National Co-Operative Bural Association which was formed in Barrington last spring has been very successful in obtaining members, there are now over 200. Everyone should at least investigate the reasons for such an organization existing and understand the advantages of belonging to it.

Although the local undertaker of a town is usually active in introducing the society, he is not necessarily benefited and the members' families are.

Prominent men here were elected officers and to the Board of Control. The printed booklets explaining in detail this association may be obtained and are interesting and convincing. D. F. Lamey is president, A. M. Meyer, vice-president; E. M. Blocks, secretary and treasurer and the Board consists of Messrs A. L. Robertson, J. C. Plagge, H. T. Abbott, H. K. Brockway and L. H. Bennett.

Board met in regular session with President M. T. Lamey in the chair, and all members present.

General routine, business bills, amounting to about $300, allowed and ordered paid.

Fire Chief McKay thanked the Village Board for new supplies in a few well chosen words.

Ordinance No. 19 (New Series) pertaining to the Board of Local Improvements was passed and approved.

Meeting adjourned.

L. H. Bennett, Village Clerk.

D. F. Lamey

SHOES AND RUBBERS

We have a big stock of Men's, Ladies' and Children's Rubbers. We are still selling at the old low price on Rubbers.

Men's Fine $2.50 Shoes, only $1.90 a pair.

Ladies' Fine $3.00 Shoes, only $2.00 a pair.

Childrens Shoes, 50c, 75c, $1.00 $1.50 a pair.

UNDERWEAR

Big stock of UNDERWEAR--But we are making very low prices on it.

D. F. Lamey

UP-TO-DATE MILLINERY

All the Leading Styles and Shapes in Silks, Velvets, Felts, Etc.

Fine line of Braids, Chiffon and Ribbons, Ostrich Feathers, Tips, Bows and Wings. My Hats are all hand made, and I will trim to order ladies' own material, made up to suit. Compare my prices with those charged elsewhere and see if I am not as reasonable as any place.

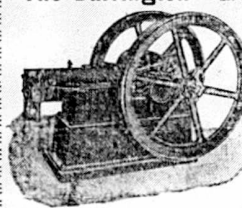

HETTIE R. JUKES

PROPRIETRESS

'Phone 272

Main Street, Opposite Depot

"The Barrington" GAS AND GASOLINE ENGINE

The Latest Improved and Best Gas or Gasoline Engine on the market.

Simple Construction. Guaranteed. Lowest Prices.

Made in all sizes from 2 to Horse Power, by

A. SCHAUBLE & CO.

Barrington, Illinois

Dealers in Shafing, Pulleys and Belting, Cisterns and Tanks. Repairing of All Kinds of Machinery a Specialty.

To Every Boy or Girl

PURCHASING

School Books, Pens, Pencils, Tablets,

Or School Supplies of any Kind, we will give a Ticket entitling them to a Chance on our

$10.00 Watch and our $10.00 Doll,

The Doll for the Girls and the Watch for the Boys.

BARRINGTON PHARMACY

CANTATA

"The Wreck of the Hesperus"

Poem by Longfellow

Music by Anderson

AT

THE BAPTIST CHURCH - BARRINGTON

Monday night, January 28th, 1907 at eight o'clock.

BARRINGTON CHORAL SOCIETY

Assisted by

Mr. F. A. Grosser, Baritone Soloist Clara Rundborg Wood, Pianist Milton R. Harris, Tenor and Director