At Elgin Messrs Waterman also had a small exhibit and won there the 1st cockerel and 2nd pen, and the club specials for best colored male and best shaped female.

They recently sold a Buff Wyandotte cock to a Wisconsin man for $60.00.

W. C. T. U. Notes.

The W. C. T. U. which was organized here last August have added a new department to their work recently, the "Medal Contest" which will occur Thursday evening, Jan. 24, in the M. E. Church. Young people from the different churches will take part. No admission will be charged but a generous collection will be desired, to defray necessary expense. Music will be given by the "Four S" quartette and others. All are cordially invited.

For years throughout the country these contests have been held under the patronage of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, and a medal called the "Demorest Medal" given because it was first offered by M. Jennings Demorest, of New York, first editor of the Demorest magazine, in May, 1886. Demorest is now dead and the medals purchased by the organization, although the name is retained. The contest consists of recitations of a temperance nature and judges decide who delivers the best reading, both as to good elocution and probable good influence of the article itself.

The local W. C. T. U. has sixteen members who are Mesdames Sam Gieske, Frank Gieske, Ida Haelele, S. Heise, Fred Kampert, F. Lapham, G. Lytle, E. Simmons, J. Schwinn, Ida Schroeder, Kate Prouty, E. Prouty and the Mesdames Emma and Lucile Hager, Cora Holben and Alma Steffenhoffer. Mrs. Haelele is president, Mrs. Lytle, vice president; Emma Hager, secretary; and Mrs. Sam Gieske, treasurer. They have also a literary and an evangelistic department of work.

Rev. and Mrs. Haelele, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Frye and Mrs. Bernard Scott on Tuesday attended the funeral of Mrs. Edward Hints at Highland Park who died Saturday after a year's illness.

Mrs. Hints was very well known in Barrington as she has attended the camp meetings here annually and formerly lived here, being the daughter of Rev. Holleran a pastor at the Evangelical church about thirty years ago.

The Evangelistic Band.

The Evangelistic Band consisting of six young men from the Garrick Biblical Institute, Chicago, held religious services here last Saturday evening and during Sunday. They seem to be sincere and enthusiastic workers in the gospel field. However, although we realize that a change is always an attraction, still we believe that our own local pastors and evangelistic workers are more eloquent and pleasing speakers. Four of the young men form a quartette who sang at intervals.

THEY INSTALL OFFICERS

The G. A. R. and W. R. C. Installation Passed off Nicely, Concluding With Refreshments

The installation of officers for 1907 of Sweeney Post No. 275, G. A. R. and of the W. R. C. No. 85, at their hall on Monday evening, Jan. 14th, passed off quite satisfactorily. The hall was well filled with Post and Corps members and their families. Col. J. M. Vernon, Past Commander of the G. H. Thomas Post No. 5 of Chicago, was the G. A. R. "Mustering Officer;" and C. W. Pierce, quartermaster of Thomas Post, was his "Order of the Day." The local officers installed were:

H. H. Hubbard, Commander.
G. H. Comstock, Senior Vice Commander.
Leopold Krahn, Junior Vice Commander.
Samuel Clark, Surgeon.
Chas. G. Senn, Chaplain.
Sanford Peck, Quarter-Master.
F. A. Scheschulte, Adjutant.
Henry Reuter, Officer-of-the-Day.
John C. Myers, Officer-of-the-Guard.
J. M. Topping, Sergeant-Major.
J. C. Whitney, Quarter-Master-Sergeant.

For the Corps, Mrs. Emily Hawley was installing officer, and Miss Minnie Cannon was Conductor, both of whom did splendidly. The W. R. C. service is beautiful and on this occasion was well and commendably performed. The Corps' officers installed were as follows:

Mrs. Hannah Powers, President.
Mrs. Emma Wood, Senior Vice President.
Mrs. Arietta Sizer, Junior Vice President.
Mrs. Myrtle Bennett, Secretary.
Miss Hobie Brockway, Treasurer.
Mrs. M. J. Colekin, Chaplain.

Mrs. Emily Hawley, Press Committee.

Mrs. Etta Hawley, Musician.
Master Newton Plagge was present, by invitation with his cornet, and favored the "boys and girls" with two fine solos and bugle calls. The whole concluded with refreshments delightfully served by the ladies and a very enjoyable season of sociability. Thus once more was emphasized the spirit of F. C. and L.

Charlie Hawley attended the installation on Monday evening at Abbott's Hall; and when Charlie was ready to go home, Charlie found that some one had taken Charlie's over-shoes, leaving a pair of over-shoes too large for Charlie in place of Charlie's over-shoes. If the owner of the larger over-shoes will kindly return Charlie's over-shoes to Charlie at once, Charlie will thankfully receive Charlie's over-shoes and gladly deliver up the larger over-shoes which are too large for Charlie. Signed: one interested in Charlie Hawley.

The HOLSMAN Automobile

EFFECT IN CONSTRUCTION, CHEAP IN PRICE and COST OF OPERATING

When you see the HOLSMAN machine it will make you its friend at once for these reasons:

1. Solid tires, admitting of no punctures.
2. Air cooled. No water to contend with, or broken jackets which occur in frosty weather.
3. No live axles.
4. No transmission gears.
5. No drive gears.
6. No speed gears, in fact, not any gears to contend with. No clutches. The machine rides as easy as the best made carriage and is controlled by two simple hand levers. It started, guided, stopped, speeded, reversed and fully controlled by these two simple levers.

Should you have a breakdown, repairs are quickly secured. However, the chances of a breakdown are slim in a Holman.

Write me for catalog and descriptive matter.

IN FORTY- EIGHT HOURS PE-RU-NA CURED HIM.

Cold Affected Head and Throat—Attack was Severe.

Chas. W. Bowman, 1st Lieut. and Adj. 4th M. S. M. Cav. Yols., writes from Lanham, Md., as follows: "Though somewhat averse to patent medicines, and still more averse to becoming a professional affidavit man, it seems only a plain duty in the present instance to give my experience to the columns already written concerning the curative powers of Peruana."

"I have been particularly benefited by its use for colds in the head and throat. I have been able to fully cure myself of a most severe attack in forty-eight hours by its use according to directions. I use it as a preventive whenever threatened with an attack."

"Members of my family also use it for like ailments. We are recommending it to our friends."

Fine State of Engineering.

The feat of moving a lighthouse without taking it apart or dismantling it in any way has recently been accomplished at Ashabtuah. The range light, weighing 55 tons and standing 65 feet high, was placed on a lighter and towed along the river a distance of 750 feet, and then successfully placed on a new site. It was raised by the use of jacks and moved on rollers and from the lighter. Guy ropes held it in position while moving.

SCALY ERUPTION ON BODY.

"When I was about nine years old small sores appeared on each of my lower limbs. I scratched them with a brass pin and shortly afterwards both of those limbs became so sore that I could scarcely walk. When I had been suffering for about a month the sores began to heal, but small scaly eruptions appeared where the sores had been. From that time onward I was troubled by such severe itching that, until I became accustomed to it, I would scratch the sores until the blood began to flow. This would stop the itching for a few days, but scaly patches would appear again and the itching would accompany them. After I suffered about ten years I made a renewed effort to effect a cure. The eruptions by this time had appeared on every part of my body except my face and hands. The best doctors in my native country advised me to use arsenic in small doses and a salve. I then used to bathe the sores in a mixture which gave almost intolerable pain. In addition I used other remedies, such as iodine, sulphur, salve, etc.,—all in vain. I thought, in fact I was continually giving some remedy a fair trial, never using less than one or two boxes or bottles. All this was fruitless. Finally my hair began to fall out and I was rapidly becoming bald. I was then advised, but it did no good. A few months after, having used almost everything else, I thought I would try Cuticura Ointment, having previously used Cuticura Soap and perfume with it. After using three boxes I was completely cured, and my hair was restored, after fourteen years of suffering and an expenditure of at least $50 or $60 in vainly endeavoring to find a cure. I shall be glad to write to any one who may be interested in my cure. H. Hiram Mattingly, Vermillion, S. Dak., Aug. 18, 1904."

END OF DEBATE NEAR

SENATE LIKES NEW BROWN- VILLE RESOLUTION.

TALKING ALMOST OVER

Washington, — Senate leaders Wednesday night regarded the end of the Brownsville discussion as in sight and it was confidently expected that a compromise resolution offered by Senator Foraker just before the close of Wednesday's session will be adopted. Mr. Foraker had the floor to make what he expressed the hope would be the concluding speech on the subject. He will proceed immediately after morning business Thursday, unless he is prevented by the special order of the day, which is the delivery of eulogies on the life of the late Senator Bate of Tennessee.

Whether he speaks Thursday or Friday, it is expected that a vote will soon follow, although it is possible that other brief speeches may be made before the end is reached.

While on the floor Mr. Foraker offered a substitute for all of his previous resolutions on the Brownsville affair as follows:

"Resolved, That the committee on military affairs is hereby authorized and directed by subcommittee or otherwise to take and have printed the testimony for the purpose of ascertaining all the facts with reference to or connected with the affair at Brownsville, Texas, on the night of September 1, 1906, and to report thereon to the Senate committee authorized to send for persons and papers, to administer oaths; to sit during the sessions of the senate, and if deemed advisable, at Brownsville or elsewhere; the expenses of the investigation to be paid out of the contingent fund of the senate."

The language of this provision is satisfactory to Senator Lodge and other supporters of the administration in the matter of the discharge of the negro troops, and it is believed by senators that it will be quite generally accepted.

The feature of the debate Thursday was the arraignment by Senator Carmack of Republican senators who have criticized the president for his action in the Brownsville matter. He regarded it as an attempt to "de-throne" the president as the leader of the party and declared that either the president must be renominated or the platform on which he stood retired to the Democrats.

The fortifications appropriation bill was passed by the house without amendment, an unusual thing with appropriation bills.

DEAD MAN CALLED DEFAULTER.

Congressman Adams, Who Killed Himself, Had Pillaged Estate.

Philadelphia.—The late Congressman Robert Adams, Jr., of this city, who committed suicide in his apartments in Washington last year by shooting, was declared in the orphan's court yesterday to have been a defaulter to the amount of $70,000.

The startling assertion was made during an argument in surcharge proceedings brought against H. Carlton Adams, surviving executor and trustee of the estate of his father, Robert Adams, Sr., by his stepmother, Mrs. Robert Adams, Sr., and his stepfather, Mrs. Charles Moran of New York.

Counsel for H. Carlton Adams told the court he would show that Congressman Adams had appropriated to his own use $70,000 worth of bonds belonging to the estate of Robert Adams, Sr., and to H. Carlton Adams.

THE GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC RAILROAD AND WESTERN CANADA.

Will Open Up Immense Area of Free Homestead Lands.

The railway facilities of Western Canada have been taxed to the uttermost in recent years to transfer the surplus grain crop to the eastern markets and the seaboard. The large influx of settlers and the additional area put under crop have added largely to the grain product, and a noteworthy standing the increased railway facilities that have been placed at the disposal of the public, the question of transportation has proved to be a serious one.

It will, therefore, be good news to everyone interested in Western Canada to know that an authoritative statement has been given out by C. M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, that that railway will do its share towards moving the crop of 1907 from Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba to the water, and thus assist in removing a serious obstacle which has faced the settlers during recent years. Mr. Hays, who has just completed a trip from Portage to the Peace River in a special train, a distance of 725 miles, which was covered in eighteen days, is enthusiastic about the country.

This will be gratifying to settlers in the Canadian West, even if Mr. Hays declines to be bound to a time limit with the exactitude of a stop-watch. The Grand Trunk Pacific road will be in a position to take part in the transportation of the crop of 1907, and that will be satisfactory to the settlers in that country when the harvest is garnered.

The wheat crop of 1906 in Western Canada was about 50,000,000 bushels, and with the increased acreage which is confidently expected to be put under crop next year, it is safely calculated that fully 125,000,000 bushels will be harvested in 1907. The necessity for increased transportation facilities are, therefore, apparent, and the statement made by Mr. Hays will bring encouragement to the farmers of the Canadian West, new and old. The opening up of additional thousands of free homesteads is thus assured by the agent of the Canadian Government, whose address appears elsewhere.

THE FIRST TWINGE

Of Rheumatism Calls for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills if You Would Be Easily Cured.

Mr. Frank Little, a well known citizen of Portland, Iowa, Co., Mich., was cured of a severe case of rheumatism by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In speaking about it recently, he said: "My body was run down and in no condition to withstand disease and about five years ago I began to feel rheumatic pains in my arms and across my back. My arms and legs grew numb and the rheumatism seemed to settle in every joint so that I could hardly move, while my arms were useless at times. I was unable to sleep or rest well and my heart pained me so terribly I could hardly stand. My stomach became sour and bloated after eating and this grew so bad that I had inflammation of the stomach. I was extremely nervous and could not bear the least noise or excitement. One whole side of my body became paralyzed."

"As I said before, I had been suffering about five years and seemed to be able to get no relief from my doctor, when a friend here in Portland told me how Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had cured him of neuralgia in the face, even after the pain had drawn it to one side. I decided to try the pills and began to see some improvement soon after using them. This encouraged me to keep on until I was entirely cured. I had not had a return of the rheumatism or of the paralysis."

The pills are for sale by all druggists or sent on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes $2.50, by Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Origin of Starch.

The art of starching was not introduced into England until the reign of Henry of Deutch women in starching ruffs induced Queen Elizabeth to turn to them when she took to wearing cambric and linen cuffs. In 1664 Mistress Dingbush of den Pisse, the refugee daughter of a Flemish knight, came with her husband to London, according to an old writer, and set up an establishment for starching, where she not only plied her trade, but instructed English classes in her art.

One of the high officials of the Standard Oil company admitted on the witness stand recently that he didn't know what his salary was. He must have a patient and extraordinary unobtrusive wife to have allowed him to go on in this foolish way for so long a time.

The natives of the Sandwich Islands estimate women by their weight. The Chinese require them to have deformed feet and black teeth. A girl must be tattooed sky-blue and wear a nose ring to satisfy a South Sea islander. Certain African princes require their brides to have their teeth filed into the semblance of a saw.

By placing a negative at the focus of a telescope during the hours of the night Miss Harriet S. These latest additions to the known twinkling points of light make a total of 1,364 stars which Miss Leavitt has discovered.

During his school career the kaiser was a model of the studious German youth. He took his place as an ordinary pupil in the public school at Cassel, and studied and played with the other scholars. At the final examination he was, indeed, only tenth in the list; but then he was two years younger than his companions, and was rightly considered to have done as well that his tutor was immediately decorated.

In a recent report of the bureau of navigation it is shown that 93 per cent. of the enlisted men in the navy are native-born Americans, and that during the year 43 per cent. of the men qualified for reenlistment were natives. It is highly desirable that the man behind the gun be a man of experience, and it is best that the man who may be called upon to fight should be born under the flag that floats above his ship.

Col. Barnsdale, a prominent citizen of Pittsburgh, was traveling through Indian territory. While stopping at Muskogee he met an old colored woman who seemed to be an interesting character, and asked: "Aunt, how many people are there in this city?" The negro considered gravely for a few moments, and then said: "Well, boss, I reckon there are about 25,000, including the white folks." Col. Barnsdale says he thereupon saw a first illustration of how much depends upon the viewpoint.

Oklahoma's star will be added to the flag on July 4 next year if the formal admission of the state to the union takes place before that time. The war and navy departments have agreed upon the arrangement of the 48 stars, to accommodate the new one, and to make it easy to add two more when New Mexico and Arizona are admitted. The plan provides for four rows of eight stars each, and two rows of seven stars each. The rows of seven are the second and the fifth. The rows of eight when the other territories are admitted, and the arrangement will then be absolutely regular.

The most powerful individual in China today is Yuan Shi Kai, the viceroy of Fientian. He is virtually the dictator of the empire, having as his ally the aged empress dowager. No decree is issued from Peking without her approval. He is credited with having caused the Chinese government to issue the revised antiquated decrees. Yuan is a man of great force of character, and a believer in progress. He has taken many steps to modernize his country. Numerous attempts have been made to assassinate him, but it is hoped that through his efforts China will be transformed into a progressive land.

Cautiousness was introduced to Europe by M. De la Comandine on his return from Peru in 1736. "It is," said its discoverer, "a most singular resin, as much by the use to which it is devoted as by its nature, which is a problem to our most expert chemists."

STANDARD HIT IN OHIO

HANCOCK COUNTY GRAND JURY
RETURNS 939 INDICTMENTS.

TRUST CHARGES MADE

Several Corporations, the Rockefeller, Rogers and Others Are Defendants—Total Fines Might Be $500,000,000.

Findlay, O.—The January panel of the Hancock county grand jury, which has been in session for the past week, reported Monday evening to Judge Schroth 939 separate indictments against the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, the Standard Oil company of Ohio, the Ohio Oil company, the Broyer Pipe line company, the Solar Refinery company, the Manhattan Oil company, John D. Rockefeller, H. H. Rogers, Wesley Telford, John D. Archbold, Frank Q. Barstow, William Rockefeller and F. T. Cuthbert.

They are formally charged with being members of a trust for conspiracy against trade. There are 25 words in each indictment and a total of 452,975 words. Each case will be docketed separately and the county clerk and sheriff's office will be swamped for some months to come.

Prosecutor David said Monday night that he purposely held off action until the salary law with county officials became effective as he did not wish to run a case on a bill which would have resulted under the old fee system.

If Hancock county wins in each case when they are tried, fines can be assessed aggregating $500,000,000. When the report of the grand jury was filed, Prosecutor David on his own motion noted the indictments returned last September against John D. Rockefeller, John H. Rogers, J. M. Robertson, H. P. McIntosh, the last three named being officials of the Standard Oil company of Ohio.

EIGHT DIE IN MINE BLAST

Spark Causes Terrific Explosion in an Indiana Colliery.

Clinton, Ind.—As the result of a mine explosion at mine No. 7 here Monday, eight men are dead and two others seriously injured. It is thought a minor accident set fire to a keg of powder.

Two hundred miners had descended to the mine for work in the morning. At 6:45 a terrific explosion shook the interior of the mine followed by a blinding cloud of smoke. There was a rush for the bottom of the shaft, and as rapidly as possible the miners were hoisted to the surface.

It is believed a miner in entry No. 10 set fire to a keg of powder by a spark from his lighted lamp and the explosion ignited gas in the mine. For several hours it was impossible to enter the mine on account of the heat. The trap doors had been blown down and air could not circulate in the entries. Temporary doors were arranged and the mine was cleared of the bodies of the dead men by being badly burned and disfigured. In several cases identification was difficult. Four of the dead men had families, members of which gathered at the shaft entrance when the bodies were brought to the surface. Heartrending scenes attended the recognition of the mangled features. Over 100 people gathered at the mine and offered assistance. The interior of the mine is wrecked. An investigation will be made.

NORTHWEST IS SNOW BOUND.

St. Paul, Minn.—Snow, deep and boundless, still stretches over the tracks of the western railroads and the wind still continues to blow a furious gale. To make matters worse the temperature has fallen many degrees.

It was reported that the Great Northern general office that the mercury registered 55 degrees below zero Tuesday morning at Browning, Mont. It was further stated that all along the line, according to the thermometers of the agents, there is no point between Grand Forks and Spokane where the maximum temperature is 28 degrees below zero. The government reports do not give such marks as the reports of the agents, but they bear out the statement that the winter is unusually cold.

Great Northern employees are striving valiantly in their battle against the snow drifts, which are cleared away from one spot they drift back again and the wind whips them to rage, piles the snow up in banks 20 and 30 feet high. Many trains on this and other roads have been abandoned.

Indores President's Action.

Jefferson City, Mo.—The house of representatives Tuesday, over the protests of the Republican members, introduced a resolution to impeach President Roosevelt in discharging the negro soldiers connected with the Brownsville riots.

NEGROES DECLARED GUILTY

ANOTHER MESSAGE ON THE BROWNVILLE AFFAIR.

President Refers to Colored Men Implicated in Shooting as "Midnight Assassins."

Washington.—President Roosevelt Monday sent to the senate a special message regarding the Brownsville incident, which gives additional evidence collected by Assistant Attorney General Purdy and Maj. Blockson, who were sent to Texas by the president to investigate the affair. The president submitted with his message various exhibits, including maps of Brownsville and Fort Brown, a bandolier, 33 empty shells, seven ball cartridges, picked up in the streets a few hours after the shooting; three steel-jacketed bullets and some scraps of caliche of other bullets picked out of the houses in which they had been fired.

The president declares that the evidence is positive that the outrages of August 21 were committed by some of the colored troops that have been dismissed and that some or all of the members of the three companies of the Twenty-fifth infantry had knowledge of the deed and have shielded the guilty ones. The negro troops are referred to by the president in his message as "midnight assassins" and he declares that very few, if any, of the soldiers dismissed "without honor," could have been ignorant of what occurred.

That part of the order, which bars the soldiers from all civil employment under the government is revoked by the president. This clause, the president says, was lacking in validity. The discharged troops, however, will be forever barred from reenlisting in the army or navy, and as to this the president says that "there is no doubt of my constitutional and legal power."

Secretary Taft's report giving the sworn testimony of witnesses, is transmitted with the message. The testimony of 14 eyewitnesses is given and the president declares that the evidence is conclusive that the weapons used were Springfield rifles issued by the United States troops, including the negro troops who were in the garrison at Brownsville.

WORK FOR PEACE.

Move to Organize Branch of Civic Federation in Chicago.

Chicago.—Labor and capital, the workers of Chicago and their employers, met Saturday night on common ground and equality. The project of organizing a difficult task by conciliation brought them together at the residence of Mrs. Potter Palmer, 100 Lake Shore drive.

It was a conference under the auspices of the National Civic Federation, which was attended by more than 400 persons. Perhaps half of them were trade unionists and probably every labor organization in the city was represented. The object of the meeting was the organization of a branch of the Civic Federation for Chicago and the central west.

As a result of the conference a meeting will be held in Chicago this week at which a western branch of the National Federation will be organized. Chicago, according to the plan, will become the center point from which the campaign will be conducted throughout the central and middle western states.

STEAMER PONCE IS SAFE.

Long Overdue Vessel Towed into Bermuda Harbor.

New York.—The steamship Ponce, with a broken shaft but safe, is riding at anchor in St. George's bay, the Bermudas, and her crew of 52 persons and the seven passengers aboard are reported "all well."

The Ponce, it appears, was but two days' sail from New York when her machinery was disabled. She sailed from Ponce, Porto Rico, December 26, and on December 30 broke the shaft in the stern tube. Roughly estimated, the vessel was then 350 miles from this port which ordinarily she would have met on New York's way. Helpless, she drifted for ten days, her signals of distress being picked up by the German steamer on January 8. The Rickmers, Capt. Walzen, and sailed two days earlier from Philadelphia for Nagasaki and Shimonoseki.

Illinois Sues for Millions.

Springfield, Ill.—The suit of the state of Illinois against the Illinois Central railroad for the collection of several million dollars which the state alleges has been withheld from the state's share of the gross earnings of the railroad was filed in the state supreme court Monday morning by Attorney General Stead. Summoned to the case was a member of the board of directors and served on J. H. Lord, local agent of the Illinois Central, in the absence from the county of President Harahan.

Woman Kills German Banker.

Labock, Germany.—Ernst Stiller, manager of the local Bank of Commerce, an ex-member of the Reichstag and prominent in financial and political circles, was killed in a street here Tuesday by Miss Elisabeth Schulz, who then shot herself.

Effort to Save Spough.

St. Louis.—A motion for a writ of habeas corpus was filed Tuesday in the United States district court to prevent the execution of William Spough at Centerville, Mo., Thursday.

SUIT HITS SUGAR TRUST

STORY OF MANY TRAGEDIES TO BE TOLD IN COURT.

Receiver of Pennsylvania Concern Will Ask Damages for Alleged Fraud and Conspiracy.

New York.—The sugar trust and its principal officers will be called upon within a few days to defend actions for damages aggregating $20,000,000, and to answer in the federal courts the direct charge that by conspiracy and fraud they brought about the financial ruin of a competitor, wrecked the Real-Estate Trust company of Philadelphia last summer, and drove its president, Frank K. Hippie, to suicide.

H. O. Havemeyer, president of, and John E. Parsons, general counsel for the American Sugar Refining company, are among the officers named in the legal papers already drawn up by the attorneys for George H. Earle Jr., Philadelphia's great organizer, who is receiver for the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company.

Mr. Earle has laid the allegations of the conspiracy, with his evidence, before the attorney general's department at Washington, and criminal actions by the federal government under the Sherman anti-trust law are expected. There is a fully equipped modern sugar refinery in Shackamaxon street, on the Delaware river, in Philadelphia, which has a capacity for turning out 4,000 barrels a day, but which has never been operated since it was built in 1903. It is charged by Receiver Earle that the sugar trust, by chicanery, obtained control of this refinery and has kept it idle, with the intent not only of stifling the competition the refinery was built to create but of ruining Adolph Regal, who projected it, and along with him several thousand innocent holders of stock and bonds.

BIDS FOR PANAMA CANAL.

Nashville and New York Men Offer Figures Lower Than Anticipated.

Washington.—Proposals opened by the canal commission for the entire construction of the Panama canal were as low as had been expected by experts in construction work. Several members of the commission believed seven per cent. of the estimated cost of the construction would be a fair remuneration under the contract prepared by the commission.

The lowest proposal, that of William J. Oliver of Knoxville, Tenn., and Anson M. Bangs of New York, who offered to do the work for 8.75 per cent. of the estimated cost, falls even lower than had been hoped for. Granting that the estimate of $140,000,000 for the construction of the canal is accurate, the remuneration of the Oliver-Bangs combination would be $9,450,000.

Much discussion was caused by the great difference in the only four bids received, which ranged from 6.75 per cent. to 28 per cent.

Vote to Indict John R. Walsh.

Chicago.—A true bill, charging John R. Walsh in 35 counts with the misapplication of the funds of the Chicago National Bank, which failed some time ago, was voted by the special federal grand jury Tuesday afternoon.

Brave Officer is Rewarded.

Atlanta, Ga.—For the brave defense of a prisoner, which later caused his defeat at the polls, J. L. Merrill, custodian of the federal prison here, has received an advance in salary of $300.

Confirmed by the Senate.

Washington.—The senate Tuesday confirmed the nomination of Messrs. Cortes, Garfield and Meyer to cabinet positions and H. K. Smith to be commissioner of corporations.

French President's "Double."

Mr. Poincaré was until recently believed to be the only president of the French republic who had no double, but his counterpart has been found. The man who most resembles him physically is the president of the republic of the Rase Saint Honoré, who plays his part with decorum and dignity. He wears exactly the same kind of blue butterfly necktie with white dots as the president, the same kind of hat and exactly so oddly cut a beard. Vice President's Son Accused of Perjury in Ohio.

Steubenville, O.—A sensation was created here Tuesday by the grand jury returning an indictment for perjury against F. C. Fairbanks, son of Vice President Fairbanks, for perjury in swearing relating to his marriage to Miss Scott of Pittsburgh. The charge is that Mr. Fairbanks went to Steubenville and disguised himself as a working man and said that he was from Adams county, and that Miss Scott was a resident of the county. On this statement he secured a marriage license and they were married and left the town immediately. The prosecutor says that the papers will be served upon Fairbanks as soon as it can be done.

THE DELUGE

By DAVID GRAHAM PHILLIPS, Author of "THE COAST" and "THE DELUGE"

BLACKLOCK GOES INTO TRAINING.

I shall never forget the smallest detail of that dinner—it was a purely "family" affair, only the Ellerslys and I. I can feel now the oppressive atmosphere, the look of impending disaster upon the faces of the old servants; I can see Mrs. Ellersly trying to condescend to be "gracious," and treating me as if I were some sort of museum freak menagerie exhibit. I can see Anita. She was like a statue of snow; she spoke not a word. It was she who lifted her eyes, I failed to note it. And when I was leaving—I with my collar wilted from the feverish nervous strain I had been enduring—Mrs. Ellersly, in that voice of hers into which I don't believe any shade of a real human emotion ever penetrated, said: "You must come to see me, Blacklock. We are always at home after five."

I looked at Miss Ellersly. She was white to the lips now, and the apertures on her white dress seemed fields of ice glittering there. She said nothing, but I knew she felt my look, and that it from the ice she more closely in around her heart. "Thank you," I muttered.

I stumbled in the hall; I almost fell down the broad steps. I stopped at the first bar and took three drinks in quick succession. I went on down the avenue, breathing like an exhausted swimmer. "I'll give her up!" I cried aloud, so upset was I.

I am a man of impulse; but I have trained myself not to be a creature of impulse, at least not in matters of importance. Without that patient and painful schooling, I shouldn't have got where I now am; probably I'd still be blacking boots, or sheet-writing for some bookmaker, or clerking for some broker. Before I got my rooms, the night air and my habit of the "sober second thought" had cooled me back to rationality.

"I want her, I need her," I was saying to myself. "I am worthier of her than are those mindless mannikins she has been bred to regard as men. She is for me—she belongs to me. I'll abandon her to no smirking puppet who'd wear her as a donkey would a diamond. Why should I do myself and her an injury simply because she has been too badly brought up to know her own interest?"

When this was clear to me I sent for my trainer. He was one of those spare, wiry Englishmen, with skin like tanned and painted hide—brown as the coat where the bones seem about to push their sharp angles through, and there a frosty, winter apple red. He dressed like a Deadwood gambler, he talked like a stable hand, and he was that, you couldn't fail to see he was a gentleman born and bred. Yes, he was a gentleman, though he mixed profanity into his ordinary flow of conversation more liberally than did I when in a rage.

I stood up before him, threw my coat back, thrust my thumbs into my trousers' pockets and slowly turned about like a ready-made tailor's dummy. "Monson," said I, "what do you think of me?"

He looked me over as if I were a horse he was about to buy. "Sound," he said, "was his verdict. Good, but wild—uncommon good wind. A goer, and a stayer. Not a lump. Not a hair out of place." He laughed. "Action a bit high perhaps—for the track. But a grand reach."

"I know all that," said I. "You miss my point. Suppose you wanted to enter me for—say, the Society Sweepstakes—what then?"

"Um—um," he muttered reflectively. "That's different."

"Don't I look—sort of—new—as if the varnish was still sticky and might come off on the ladies' dresses and on the fine furniture?"

"Oh—that!" said he dubiously. "But all those kinds of things are matters of taste."

"Out with it!" I commanded. "Don't be afraid. I'm not one of those damn fools that ask for criticism when they want only flattery, as you ought to know by this time. I'm aware of my good points, know how good they are, better than anybody else in the world. And I suspect my weak points—allways did. I've got on chiefly because I made people take to my face what they'd rather have grained over behind my back."

"What's your game?" asked Monson. "I'm in the dark."

"I'll tell you, Monson. I hired you to train me, see. As it's double work, it's double pay."

"Say on," said he, "and say it slow."

"I want to marry," I explained. "I want to inspect all the offerings before I decide. You are to train me so that I can go among the herds that shy off from me if I want on to their little ways."

He looked suspiciously at me, doubtless thinking this some new development of "American humor."

"I mean it," I assured him. "I'm going to train, and train hard. I've good-naturedly. "How about my manhood?"

"Not so bad," said he. "Not so rotten bad. But—when you're polite, you're a little too polite; when you're not polite, you—"

"Show where I came from out—plainly!" said I. "Speak right out—blatant good and hard. Am I too frank for 'good form'?"

"You needn't bother about that," he assured me. "Say whatever comes into your head—only be sure the right sort of thing comes into your head. Don't talk too much about yourself, for instance. It's good form to think about yourself all the time; it's bad form to let people see it—in your talk. Say as little as possible about your business and about what you've got. Don't be lavish with the 'I's and the 'me's."

"That's harder," said I. "I'm a man who has always minded my own business, and cared for nothing else. What could I talk about, except myself?"

"Blat it if I know," replied he. "Where you want to go, the last thing people mind is their own business—in talk, for instance. But you'll get on all right if you don't worry too much about it. You've got natural independence, and an original way of putting things, and common sense. Don't be afraid."

"I never knew what it was to be afraid."

"Your nerve'll carry you through," he assured me. "Nerve'll take a man anywhere."

"You never said a truer thing in your life," said I. "I'll take him wherever he wants, and, after he's there, I'll get him whatever he wants."

And with that, I, thinking of my plans and of how sure I was of success,

I felt that if my matrimonial plans should turn out as I confidently expected, I should need a much larger fortune than I had—for I was determined that my wife should have an estate of her own.

Accordingly, I enlarged my original plan. I had intended to keep close to Langdon in that plunge; I believed I controlled the market, but I hadn't been in Wall street two years yet without learning that the worst thunder-bolts fall from cloudless skies. Without being in the least suspicious of Langdon, and simply acting on the general principle that surprise and treachery are part of the code of high finance, I had prepared to guard, first, against being taken in the rear by a secret change of plan on Langdon's part, and second against being involved and overwhelmed by a sudden secret attack on him from some associate of his who might think he had laid himself open to successful raiding.

The market is especially dangerous toward Christmas and in the spring—toward Christmas the big fellows often juggle the stocks to get the money for their big investments; and in the spring, toward spring the motive is, of course, the extra summer expenses of their families and the commencement gifts to colleges. It was now late in the spring.

I say, I had intended to be cautious. I abandoned caution and rushed in boldly, feeling that the market was, in general, safe and that I was under my own control—and that I was one of the kings of high finance, with my lucky star in the zenith. I decided to continue my bull campaign on my own account for two weeks after I had unloaded for Langdon, to continue it up till the stock was at par. I had no difficulty in pushing it to ninety-seven, and I was not alarmed when I found myself loaded up with it, quoted at a price still more heavily.

It broke a point or two, then steadied and rose again. Instead of sending out along my secret lines for inside information, as I should have done, and which I have done, I had not been in a state of hypnotized judgment—I went to Langdon! I who had been studying those soundbells for twenty odd years, and dealing directly with them for ten years!

He wasn't at his office; they told me there that they didn't know whether he was at his town house or at his place in the country—"probably in the country," said his down town secretary, with elaborate carelessness. "He wouldn't be likely to stay away from the office or not to send for me, if he were in town, would he?"

It takes an uncommon good liar to lie to me when I'm on the alert. As I was determined to see Langdon, I was in so far on the alert. And I felt the need of a little "padding" to my plan. I said I "Call me up, if you hear from him. I want to see him—important, but not immediate." And I went away having left the impression that I would not see him for a week or two.

I went up to his house. You, no doubt, have often seen and often admired its beautiful facade, so simple that it hides its own magnificence from the vulgar eye, so perfect in its proportions that it hides the vastness of the palace of which it is the face. I have heard men say: "I'd like to have a house—a moderate sized house—about the size of Mowbray Langdon's—though perhaps a little more elegant, not so plain."

"Mr. Langdon isn't at home," said the servant.

The Industrial Problem of the Blind

Much has been said and still being said and written about a higher education of the Blind, but I believe the greatest question that confronts us, the Blind, to-day, and ought to confront us until it is solved is the Industrial Problem. I do not want to be understood as being opposed to the higher education of the Blind, for I am not; but what the majority of us need is a good, thorough education, backed up with a trade which will enable us to become more self-supporting. I am of the opinion, however, that we can never become entirely independent. We are handicapped. Yes, I am aware that now and then we read or hear of some blind man who is succeeding in some special line of work; but the majority of us must earn our living by the use of our hands; but under present conditions, there is nothing for our hands to do that pays.

Broom making is a trade that the majority of the Blind can learn, and in some states it is taught in the schools for the Blind; but the people in these schools do not to any great extent make use of this opportunity to learn that trade.

To encourage the blind to learn the trade of broom making, the state of Illinois established the "Industrial Home" for the Blind. It has failed. Why? Because only a limited number of the Blind are benefited by it, while the majority of them do not nor can they ever receive any benefit from it. How then can the Blind people become more self-supporting? To answer this question, I offer the following suggestions:

First—The State should go out of the broom business in the penitentiaries and reformatories.

Second—The State should buy of the Blind all of the brooms it needs for use in the various State institutions.

Third—The State should have a broom shop connected with its school for the Blind.

Fourth—The State should have a broom depository connected with the broom shop, where the blind from any part of the State could ship their brooms, and from which the State can draw them when needed.

Fifth—That the brooms made by the Blind be carried to and from the Depository without expense to them.

These suggestions are offered by one who is blind, and has been struggling for the past seven years to make a living out of the broom business. I find no difficulty in making brooms, but I have difficulty in putting them on the market in competition with the factory made brooms. While the State cannot compel its citizens to buy brooms of the blind, it can give its patronage to them, which would keep a majority of them profitably employed.

The present Legislature of Illinois will be asked to abolish the Industrial Home for the Blind, and these suggestions are offered as a substitute.

Respectfully,
F. A. DOHMEYER
