BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS, FRIDAY, MARCH 15, 1907.

$1.50 A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

DIED SUNDAY EVENING

Henry August Rohlmeier Has Gone to His Reward.

Death has summoned one of Barrington's most estimable young men, one whose entire life in this community has been respected. Mr. Rohlmeier died during Sunday night at one o'clock; his death had been anticipated for a few weeks, but it was not realized to be so near, and the sad shock to his young wife is one which gives to her the greatest sympathy of all people. The young man had been the follower of an industrious, ambitious life; he was well liked for his cordial manner, happy ways and honest dealings, and he had a natural politeness that made it pleasant to associate with him. Personally he was a fine looking, tall, manly fellow of a dark type, always neat and pleasing in appearance.

Last August he was suddenly seized with an attack of a drooping nature which confined him to his bed and the home for two months, during which time he was a great sufferer and experienced operations. A consultation of physicians was held several times thinking his case hopeless. However good treatment and care brought him back to apparent good health, when he gained in strength acquired a good color and felt finely, returning to light work. About the first of the year he was again taken ill and grew steadily worse with lung complaints, another operation being necessary, until it was known that life could battle no longer with disease. He died peacefully, just falling asleep, after a day of increased strength and appetite when hope was aroused in all.

Henry August Rohlmeier was born on the old home farm, two and one half miles southwest of Barrington, twenty-eight years ago, June 21, 1878. He was the son of William and Harriet Rohlmeier, both deceased, and one of fourteen children, the third son. During his boyhood he attended a district school near his home and the St. Paul's school, Barrington, where he prepared for confirmation class of St. Paul's church March 22, 1891. His work was for many years as farm laborer and the farmers for whom he worked all join in telling good reports of his behavior and work. Of late years he was employed in Dundee and Carpentersville and at the Bowman Dairy Company, Barrington. Some ten years ago he joined the local camp of the Modern Woodmen and became a member of the Forester's drill, in which he has been a familiar figure on public occasions. He was also a member of the Court of Honor. Is good standing in both lodges in which he carried insurance.

Mr. Rohlmeier was married February 24, 1901 to Miss Marie Jahn, eldest daughter of August Jahn, and no couple started life with more happiness or bright prospects. They have always resided in the Wiseman house at the west end of South Hawley street. They were both members of the Luthern church. A daughter, Caroline, was born to them last summer, June 5th.

The remaining brothers and sisters of his family are Mrs. J. Westphal, Mrs. H. L. Meier, Mrs. William Schoer, Mrs. William Kreft, Mrs. H. Kuehl, and Edward, August, William, Charles and Miss Hannah Rohlmeier of Barrington; Mrs. A. Serry of Elgin; Fred Rohlmeier of Buena, Nebraska, and Herman Rohlmeier of Chicago.

The funeral was held in the church on Main street, Thursday at two o'clock with Rev. Stanger officiating. Forty-seven Woodmen preceded the casket to the church and grave taking charge of the services at the grave. The Bowman Dairy employees attended in a body and also the local fire department of which Mr. Rohmeyer had once been a member. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

An Item Overlooked.

A report of the debate at the Y. M. C. A. rooms last Thursday evening on the question "Shall the granting of license to saloons be decided by the people of a village rather than by the village trustees?" was overlooked by mistake. The judges, J. E. Heise, William Holmes and Fred Kampert decided that those arguing in behalf of the people won the debate. These were George Spanner, Dr. Richardson, Ben Schroeder and Frank Dohmen, who believe that the village council should not have power to grant licenses to saloons.

The opening of Alverson and Groff's new market was celebrated Tuesday evening by a serenade in their honor when the Barrington Cornet Band in full uniform marched from their hall and played in front of the store. These merchants are helping by their progressiveness to build up the town and the serenade was due them.

A Pleasant Party.

There was a pleasant party at the Banks home on Williams street Friday evening to which Miss Mabel Banks had invited twenty young people to take by surprise her guest, Mrs. Howard Burns of Austin and her father who were quietly playing dominoes when the party arrived. Mrs. Howard Burns assisted in entertaining the guests and the evening was enjoyed with music and a good luncheon.

Monday there arrived in town a car load of flour and bran for W. N. Landreth & Co. and H. J. Lageschulte & Co., respectively, from the Sleepy Eye Mill, Sleepy Eye, Minnesota. The car started for Barrington nearly a month ago but has been delayed in reaching here due to the fact that it was to $24. demurrage charges which of course the local merchants refuse to pay. The car lies waiting, side-tracked for an adjustment of the trouble and meanwhile the charges increase.

Personal Recollections of a Dollar

I am a dollar. A little age worn, maybe, but still in circulation. I am proud of myself for being in circulation, for being a money, and no tomato can dollar-I.

This town is only my adopted home, but I like it and hope to remain permanently. When I came out of the mint I was adopted into a town like this in another state. But after a time I was sent out to a town with many more aces. I turned up in a Mail Order house. For several years I stayed in that city. Millionaires bought cigars with me. I didn't like that, for I believe in the plain people.

Finally a traveling man brought me to this town and left me here. I was so glad to get back to a smaller town that I determined to make desperate efforts to stay.

One day a citizen of this town was about to send me back to that big city. I caught him looking over a Mail Order Catalogue. Suddenly I found my voice and said to him-he was a dentist, by the way:

"Now, look here, doc. If you'll only let me stay in this town I'll circulate around and do you lots of good. You buy a big beefsteak with me, and the butcher will buy groceries, and the grocer will buy dry goods, and the dry goods merchant will pay his doctor's bill with me, and the doctor will spend me with a farmer for oats to feed his buggy horse, and the farmer will buy some fresh beef from the butcher, and the butcher will come around to you and get his tooth mended. In the long run, as you see, I'll be more useful to you here at home than if you'd send me away forever."

Doc said it was a mighty stiff argument. He hadn't looked at it in that light before. So he took and bought the big beefsteak, and I began to circulate around home again.

Now, just suppose all the other dollars that are sent to Chicago or some other big city were kept circulating right here at home. You could see this town grow.

HONEST, NOW—AIN'T I RIGHT?

Young Ladies of the Baptist

Young Peoples' Union Give a Fine Program.

Although Monday evening was very stormy the Baptist church was closely filled with people who braved the weather to meet enterainers from abroad and they were entertained too, as pretty, neat and amusing a little program as could be arranged. Several young ladies of the Baptist Young Peoples' Union were business managers of the occasion which was given to earn their allotted sum for the experience social of the following night and they had secured the services of Mrs. G. W. Spinner, as director, for the good of the cause which was of course quite a donation. The German costume of Mrs. A. Weidelt was said by as good a critic as one knows in Barrington to be the prettiest dressing, the Swedish solo of Alma Hawk thought to be the best singing and the African song and reading by Constance Purcell to be wonderfully well done. Pictures of some of the girls in costume were sold at the door and were quite in demand. Ten dollars were secured for church work. The others on the program who were all good and liked were a Scotch song, dressed as a lassie, Edna Walters; Francis Dolan, a reading, as a Japanese geisha girl; Jennie Lines, reading, as a maid from old Ireland; and an Indian song by a quartette of pretty young spawas. Viola Lines, Hazel Wooding, Florence Collier and Violet Ullrich. Alta Powers played a piano solo, and the ending was "America" sung by all in the church. The girls felt very grateful to all who gave their services.

Mr. Ketcham died in a few years and was brought home to Palatine. Taking Jared Church with her Mrs. Ketcham returned to Kansas for a few years and settled business matters. On coming back to Illinois she resided for fifteen years with her father-in-law on a farm south of Dundee and attended the Universal church in Elgin.

There were nine children who will be remembered only by the oldest citizens as the family moved to Kansas in 1864. Their home here was on west Main street. Mrs. Beverly was a devout church worker and a sweet singer. She was also an ardent member of the W. C. T. U. Her age was ninety-three and Mrs. Beverly's is ninety. Houses Scarce.

Houses are in such demand that there are several applicants for any house as soon as vacated and there is quite a waiting list of families who desire to move, besides new families wanting to come here. One man states that he knows a half dozen desirable families who would move here at once if good homes were to be obtained and there are almost daily requests for houses to rent or buy and small farms, etc. If you have money and are interested in seeing the town grow, and meanwhile the charges increase.

We have an ordinance that suppresses bicycle and tricycle riding on the sidewalks, and should suppress the little four-wheeled red wagon. It has got to be quite the custom in certain portions of town for neighboring children to trundle little red wagons back and forth in front of your house till it has become a glaring nuisance. A quiet living citizen who spends the Sabbath at home to rest ought not to be annoyed this way, especially where there are ill or nervous persons who cannot see the fun in a horde of whooping kids with wagons making the Sabbath hideous. We would not detract from the fun of the little ones for anything but it seems to us there are more quiet and profitable ways to have your children spend the Sabbath afternoons. Quiet living citizens should be protected from this nuisance.

"A TROUBLED CITIZEN."

The Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church will hold another bakery sale in the church guild room, Saturday, March 26th.

NAME PLATES FOR TOWNS.

An Idea From Abroad Which Might Prove Valuable Here.

Automobiles who have done away with the name of town, either in the United States or abroad, are frequently wondering why some method of designating towns and cities has never been adopted by municipal authorities, says the New York Post. Some few months ago the automobile drivers in the United States that gathered in the post-office department might be induced to put the names of the towns on its post-office buildings in various places, but so far as is known nothing has been even done in this direction.

What characterizes the automobile, the small town association association has taken this matter up in the right little island, and it is the intention of the officers of that organization to fix name plates on the first and last buildings in all towns and villages throughout the kingdom in order that drivers may be enabled to identify and may learn the name of a town or village as soon as they come to it. It would seem that this is an idea which might be considered by the various state associations of the American Automobile association.

D Sunday School Convention.

Two meetings were held Sunday in the Zion church at the annual Sunday school convention of Barrington townships. The afternoon session about half filled the church while in the evening the attendance was so large that the church was completely filled. Frank Plazee who is township president presided as chairman. The convention represents the Cook County Sunday School Association. Five churches of the village took part and many people from the country were seen. Charles E. Hauck of Chicago, the secretary of the association, was the principal speaker, as Dr. F. B. Morehead was called to Springfield after starting for Barrington. Larkin C. Smith addressed the meeting. The lectures were eloquent and productive of good effect and music was offered. New officers appointed by nominating committee are president, F. H. Plazee; vice-president, Miss Lydia Benford, St. Paul; and vice-president, S. Elfrink, Zion; Secretary, E. W. Wethell; treasurer, Arnett G. Lines, Baptist.

Not a Luxury.

Even washerwomen, employed at small wages and telephone service as a possible investment. This should be full of significance to the woman who believes the telephone a luxury. CHICAGO TELEPHONE CO.

Model School Grounds.

The school and its grounds should be beautiful models in every way, that the children, and their parents may wish their homes beautiful and sanitary says the Los Angeles Times. The school should be a credit to all of the school, reflecting its starting with waving masses of foliage, or those that adorn the porch are types of what may be done to transform the humble home of the mechanic or the professional man into a more beautiful exterior. Beauty has a market value that is rising rapidly. A home with a well kept garden, lawn and purity shade or fruit trees, as assessed for far more, will sell for more than any adjoining property, excepting lot, even though the latter be a little larger. The world is a better place to live in, and you would be helping yourselves in the end. Did that ever occur to you? Think it over.

How to Remain Young.

To continue young in health and strength, do as Mrs. N. Foster, McDonough, Ga., did. She says: Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured me of chronic Liver and stomach trouble, complicated with such an unhealthy condition of the blood that my skin turned red as flame. I am 78 years practically two years younger, than before I took Electric Bitters. I can do all my work with ease and assist in my husband's store." Guaranteed at Barrington Pharmacy. Price 50c.

Rob Old Winter.

Cold, dreary, tedious winter evenings are made delightful by a telephone. You talk with friends or relatives and defy cold or slush. Order now and rob old Boreas of his sting. CHICAGO TELEPHONE COMPANY.

Four things are required to make a good lawn—time, soil, climate and intelligent labor, says the Garden Magazine. In England they have a saying that it requires 100 years to make a good lawn. And 20 years to make a good lawn. In the United States, where we are already trying to make suburban homes while you wait and where a month or two seem a very long time, people are impatient. It speaks well for their intelligence that they have a desire to make their houses, but they are really expecting too much. At the very best it requires no less than three years to make a presentable lawn and five or ten years to make what we call Americans a good lawn.

Your Income.

Think This Over.

Wisdom is the science of happiness. Get a telephone to make your home both pleasant and safe. It is not costly. Other people are already enjoying the service. Why not you?

THE MAIL ORDER OCTOPUS.

Gull Feeding an Organization That Wins Your Town's Growth.
There is a new Octopus with a big tail, it is being fed and fattened at the farmers and the residents of small towns and the larger cities throughout the United States. Without being vicious of the fact these well intentioned people are pouring folder into a great, bulking, mastodonic octopus that is reaching out its tentacles to seize and swallow thousands of local enterprises.

Every day in the year this octopus comes to your country town or small city merchant body and brawls. Every day it devours the most important industry. And every day the country people and the citizens of the small towns and cities are sending in their bills to help fatten this octopus with its enormous amounts to the phantom. The octopus eats you up much good, but when so many are continual all the time from every direction it cannot help but grow fat and get strong enough to raise in wide penitentiary walls with his trunk.

This is the reason why the mail order octopus eats. First he eats your dollar. You may now and then get him by mail, but if you would look around at home you might find the same thing for sale at the same price. Then he eats your neighbor's dollar and your neighbor's dollar and so on, and pretty soon he has swallowed the whole store of your neighbor in whom who chews up and goes out of business.

But that is only a bite for this octopus. When he starts to eat he goes to town where people trade at home. He takes with him his family and his clerks perhaps. That decreases the population of your town. Then the octopus eats a slice out of your population.

Perhaps five years ago your town had a population of 10,000. Now it has fallen off to half that number. You own lots there or you own farm land near by. Your lots and land are not worth so much in or near a town of 5,000 as they were in or near a town of 10,000. Thus the octopus eats off a considerable slice of the value of your real estate.

This octopus also eats up that fine new schoolhouse which you might have if your town kept on growing. It eats up your children's opportunities to get an education. It eats away the time and your money to keep up with the rest of the population. If your town remains stationary of poor backward, you are not going to have an open house or a public library, or a lecture course or a young people's club—not very soon, never if you keep on handing peanuts to the octopus.

This octopus is only about a dozen years old, but it is of adult size and yet it is still growing, most amazingly, enriching itself at the expense of your community. If all of you in your own community would quit feeding this octopus and feed your local government, you would take a forward movement and you would be helping yourselves in the end.

Did that ever occur to you? Think it over.
