

THE BARRINGTON REVIEW.

VOL 23. NO. 2.

BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS, FRIDAY, MARCH 22, 1907.

$1.50 A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

PIERSON WRITES AGAIN

An Interesting Description of the State Historical Society.

House of Representatives.

Springfield, March 19, 1907.

Among the many things of interest in this city few exceed the State Historical Library. It is in the Capitol and so near the Hall of the Senate one can occasionally run in for a few moments of study while the routine work goes on.

It contains the pictures of four of the Capitol buildings of Illinois. They are arranged in chronological order and in them the eye reads the story of the growth of this wonderful State.

The territory which is now Illinois was first governed by white men, under the King of France. Originally its seat of government was located, later New Orleans. During the British occupation the seat of government was the principal fort of block house occupied as headquarters by the commandant of the country.

After George Rogers Clark conquered Illinois, at the head of a handful of Virginia troops, and played that heroic and mighty part in the Revolutionary war, it became known as military government at Kaskaskia.

At 1756 Virginia added a new county to the territory and called it the "county of Illinois." It contained what is now Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, and was ruled by Col. John Todd of Kentucky with headquarters at Kaskaskia. About ten years later while a part of the Northwest territory, what is now Illinois, was governed first from Marietta, then Chillicothe and afterwards from Cincinnati.

In 1790 the name of the county was changed by Gen. St. Clair in honor of himself, to "St. Clair," and the name of Illinois had no place upon the map until the territory of Illinois was organized in 1809. When the name was officially restored the government was re-established at its ancient seat, Kaskaskia.

During the territorial period of nine years and the first two years of statehood the government owned no capital building.

The first General Assembly of the territory met Nov. 25, 1812 in a rough old building of cutten limestone with steep roof and gables of unplaned boards. The first floor was occupied by the House, consisting of seven members, and the second door by the council, now called Senate, consisting of five members. The entire legislature, bounded with one family, and lodged in the same room. The territory paid $1.00 per day rent for rooms for both House and Senate, and so long as the Capital remained at Kaskaskia there were bounds no travel returns."

Therefore, in the death of Henry A. Rohmeyer the Camp has lost a true and faithful Neighbor, the community an honored citizen, the family a loving husband and father whose smiles and kind words can greet them no more.

Resolved: That we as a Camp, in the family our deepest sympathy and pray that the God of all Mercy may comfort their hearts in this the time of their bereavement and great sorrow.

Resolved: That our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days, that a copy of these resolutions be spread on our records, a copys sent to the widow and to the Barrington Review for publication.

Notice.

Wait for Miss Bennett, the optician. If you want an especially good pair of glasses for your eyes.

She will be at the office of Dr. Richardson Friday, March 29th.

PALATINE LOCAL NEWS

Misses Knobell and Rose Knobell entertained the La V. C. I. girls Friday night. The evening was spent in playing games. Misses Jessie Olson and Clara Stenske were admitted to members. The young ladies certainly have good times. The club has about twenty members.

Mrs. H. Fenton is able to be out again.

The census last Saturday went off very quietly. Everything took a hand. Frank Danielson received 160 and Ray Wilson and Henry Hulse each received 33 for collectors. No other office had but one worker.

J. H. Ainsworth and family of Cary and F. R. Sullivan of Chicago spent Sunday at the home of G. H. Atys.

Mrs. H. Ainsworth spent last week visiting in Chicago.

The W. R. C. has been invited to attend the meeting of the W. H. C. at Barrington Wednesday, March 27.

The Friday afternoon card club was entertained at the home of Miss Louise Abramson (see Friday).

J. P. Williams and wife spent Sunday at home.

Ray Hunt of Elgin is visiting his aunt, Mrs. G. H. Atys.

William Ahdinger, wife and baby spent Sunday with G. H. Atys and family.

Mr. W. L. Hicks and Mrs. James Young and two children arrived home from the south Saturday.

Mrs. Lizzie Clark is visiting friends at Carpentersville.

Mrs. Gibbs of St. Paul is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Roy Converse, on her vacation from Florida.

Miss Selma Tengler and Clara Arpsasch at a concert in Chicago April 6th.

Mrs. C. A. Nichols and son of Chicago are visiting at C. S. Sheddles.

W. A. Resolutions.

Resolutions adopted in memory of our departed Neighbor and officer, Henry A. Rohmeyer, at Barrington Camp No. 89, M. W. A., Monday, March 11, 1907.

Whereas it has pleased the Great Father of the Universe to remove from us by death our beloved Neighbor, Henry A. Rohmeyer to the "Heavens" from whose bourn no traveler returns."

Therefore, in the death of Henry A. Rohmeyer the Camp has lost a true and faithful Neighbor, the community an honored citizen, the family a loving husband and father whose smiles and kind words can greet them no more.

Resolved: That we as a Camp, in the family our deepest sympathy and pray that the God of all Mercy may comfort their hearts in this the time of their bereavement and great sorrow.

Resolved: That our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days, that a copy of these resolutions be spread on our records, a copys sent to the widow and to the Barrington Review for publication.

Els. C. Bruns.

WILL RISKE.

GEORGE J. HAYWARD.

Wessel-Krueger

Rev. Stanger of St. Paul's church united in marriage Tuesday at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, Miss Mary Krueger with daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Krueger, of east Main street to George Wessel, son of Mrs. Caroline Wessel, who lives on the north side of Barrington. The ceremony was solemn.

The bride is a capable young woman and well fitted to establish a happy home. Mr. Wessel is a prosperous young farmer and they will live at the Wessel farm.

(CONTINUED NEXT WEEK)

Let us figure on your job printing.

Isn't This Town A Pretty Good Town? If Not, Why Not?

How do you like the town you live in?

Pretty fair sort of place, isn't it? Otherwise you'd move to some other town, wouldn't you?

But you don't think much of this town, you say? Well, what's the matter with this town? If there's anything wrong, let's all get together and right it.

All of us live here, and we ought to pull together. Nobody living in New York or Chicago or St. Louis or San Francisco is going to do any pulling FOR us.

On the contrary, some of those cities are doing a lot of pulling FROM us. They not only pull away some of our best young men as the boys grow up, but they pull away many of our good American dollars, which ought to be spent right here, where they would do the most good.

What is your favorite book? The Mail Order Catalogue! Ah, so we thought!

Now suppose, just for a change, you read your local paper carefully, watch the advertisements, and if you don't see what you want the home merchant for it. Suppose all of us trade at home a little more regularly. That ought to help make this a better town.

And maybe if we'd keep more of our money at home to build up the town we'd keep more of our boys at home.

BOYS ARRESTED

Ben Belinich, of Orland, has Assessors Must Follow New Rules This Year.

Assessors will be obliged to follow a new law when they begin their work the first of April. In the future the value of lands and improvements shall be separately fixed and shall in any assessment made be set down in separate columns in said assessor's books. Section 308 of the revenue law of the state, which was enacted in 1905 did not take effect until this year when it must be rigidly adhered to. There are other features about the law also that will benefit the assessors to study, lest they will be badly mixed before they have gone very far.

Belinich, and other counties of the state, at the time of the original assessment of the tax, made an account of the failure to obtain the right kind of books. The latter were ordered from a Chicago house which had failed to make provisions for the requirements.

The consequence is that the assessors not provided with the proper books will find their work doubly exacting. The books for most of the counties were ordered from St. Louis firm who had kept up to date with the new law.

Another provision of the law requires the county treasurer of a lot of work. It places in the hands of the Board of Review the authority to lie real estate and improvements. This will be done by publication in a daily newspaper. Formerly the county treasurer had this burden to look after.

Celebrate Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. George Frye who live on Hough street celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage Wednesday evening, March 20th, at their home where relatives and friends gathered to congratulate them on attaining this anniversary. The home was decorated in yellow and white crepe paper and the couple received their guests in a room which was also a library and two grandchildern were baptised. Elmer, son of John Frye of Hough and south Hawley streets and Warren, son of H. H. Meier, Rev. George was the clergymen. A supper was served to nearly sixty-five people. Those present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Frye, Crystal Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Frye, Palatine, Mrs. Louis Heck, Chicago.

Window glass in all sizes, glazing promptly done at LAMM & COMPANY.

McNamee is the clearest and best finish for walls. Sold in 4 pound packages at Lamm & Co's.

Notice.

Public notice is hereby given to the voters of the Village of Barrington, counties of Cook and Lake, that a census will be held on the 30th day of March A. D. 1907 at 8 o'clock P. M. at the Village Hall for the purpose of nomination the regular village officers.

L. H. BENNETT,

Village Clerk.

BANE OF HOME TRADE

Lack of Confidence in Your Own Town.

How it Kills Off Trade.

Do you believe in your own town and community? If you do, what do you do for your own town and community?

Dr. J. Wilson of Palatine was a sailor Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Conroy and son Joseph left Wednesday the third week in March, where they will make their future home.

Chas. Phillips of Libertyville was a guest of Dr. Stiles Monday.

Mrs. Myrtle and Agnes Murray were Chicago visitors Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Barker of Chicago spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Graham.

Mrs. Margaret Hurd of Chicago is spending the week at her home near the village.

H. T. Fuller transacted business in Chicago Tuesday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McFain, Saturday a thirteen month girl.

Matt Mainman has left for Highland where he has secured a position in a leather shop.

Chas. Morey called on friends here recently.

A number of our people attended the entertainment given by Mr. Huron in the M. W. A. hall last Saturday evening and all agreed he was a good entertainer.

Spring has descended upon us unheralded by any great amount of rainfall talk. What's the trouble?

A. Potter and G. G. Pratt made a trip to Hazelton, Lake, Mich., last week, the former to prepare for removing to that place in the near future.

Twenty-five candidates will be taken into the Mystic Workers at their next meeting.

The high wind and moderate temperature took the ice off the lake and local anglers are now exceedingly active.

The census last Saturday was rather a tame affair with the exception of the fight for Justice of the Peace of the North End, A. E. Kirwin finally putting the other contestants to rout. The list of nominees follows: clerk, A. S. Powers; collector, W. S. McFain; assessor, C. E. Jenkins; justice of the peace, H. Davis, J. S. Hass and G. H. Hason. All are running on stamp for justice and collector respectively.

Mrs. Wolf Dies.

A mother, good, kind, gentle and loving, was summoned by death early Monday morning, March 19th. Mrs. Fred Wolf of Washington street, north side, died after illness of eighteen months of heart's disease. The end came peacefully and without pain although she had been a great sufferer during her sickness. For several years she had not been well and was gradually losing strength until heart trouble developed.

During the last fourteen years while living here she had to help her son, a kind to neighbors and helpful to those in trouble, never giving herself to do a kind act for another.

Bertha Will Wolf was born in Linsen, Germany, August 31, 1867. When she was a young girl, the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Will and their five children, moved to the various cities of the United States. They were like a bunch of sticks, she might say.

All that is necessary to start a mail order business is a place to receive mail and money enough to get out the first batch of printed and for the first ad mailing.

Like the patent medicine business, the mail order business depends on the guillotine of the general public. Thousands of people every week send in their hard-earned cash to some mail order business for payment for goods that could have been bought cheaper at their home store.

"Why do they do it? It is owing partially to the desire of the average person to be humbugged and partially to the desire to get a good bargain." The mail order house sends out its attractive literature in every family in the country. In this literature, composed of well-illustrated catalogues and cheap magazines, known as mail order pieces, the house puts out its best advertising manner. It is a tempting bait, and the fish bite.

"All of these millions come out of the legitimate trade of the country merchant, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way. He is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the first duty of every good citizen. If the village and town can be made to prosper, the man who has invested his capital in building up the town with the expectation that he would be allowed to do a legitimate business in a legitimate way, he is entitled to the trade of his town and the country adjoins to it. He pays his taxes to the town to help support the community. The community owes him a reciprocal duty to give him the proper break of trade, everything else being equal. This is the theory of all legitimate, utilized communities, begining with the smallest town up through every organization to that of the state. Home protection from foreign countries is the

THE REVIEW

Entered as Second-Class Matter.

M. T. LAMERY, Editor and Publisher

FRIDAY, MARCH 22, 1907.

TAX PURCHASERS NOTICE.

Notice of Sale of Lands and Lots for State, County, City, Special and General Taxes.

State of Illinois, ss

County of Lake, ss

To the unknown owners of and to all parties interested in the property described in the following and portions of same: Take notice: And to G. W. Morris, James A. Webb, George M. Lekerman, W. H. Cameron (estate), J. N. Hastings, Thomas Jukes, L. C. Roll, Homer Cooley, J. E. Hengenborg, J. L. Knott, D. L. Jones, H. D. Hill, E. J. Heydecker, John Holden, Isabelle James, Emil H. Seehan, John Knott.

Take notice:—That at the Tax Sale lands and lots for delinquent taxes for the year A. D. 1904, made by the County Treasurer and County Clerk in the County of Cook, Illinois, in the County House, in the city of Chicago, County of Lake and State of Illinois, M. T. Lamery purchased the following pieces and parcels of land to wit:—

On the 27th day of June A. D. 1905, M. T. Lamery purchased Lots 21 Block 9 Chicago Spring Bluff Add, assessed in the name of G. W. Morris, 39 Union Block 12 in Chicago Spring Bluff Add, assessed in the name of James A. Webb, and that the time for redemption of the above said lots from said sale will expire on the 27th day of June A. D. On the 29th day of June A. D. 1905, M. T. Lamery purchased Lots 10 and 11 in Glenwood Subdivision, Subdivision A, 12 Town 46 North, Range 9 East, assessed in the name of George H. Ackerman, also land described as commencing at N. W. corner Section lot, N. 15 degrees E. to shore of Lake, south easterly along lake to road, W. 100 S. along road to N. E. corner Himes lot, W. to begin, section 31, Township 45 North, Range 9 East, assessed in the name of Estate W. H. Ackerman, also N. E. 1/4 S. E. 1/4 section 31, Township 45 North, Range 12 East, assessed in the name of L. C. Roll, also Lot 4, Block 2 in Homer Cook's Subdivision, city of Waukegan, assessed in the name of Homer Cook, and that the time for redemption of the above lots and lands from said sale will expire on the 29th day of June A. D. 1905.

On the 29th day of June A. D. 1905, M. T. Lamery purchased Lots 3, Bluff 26 in marsh addition, Village of J. S. Heilemann, also unassessed, ten-eighths of Lot 8 Block 1, Jason addition, Village of Lake Bluff, assessed in the name of J. L. Knott, and that the time for the redemption of the same from said sale will expire on the 29th day of June A. D. 1905.

On the 29th day of June A. D. 1905, M. T. Lamery purchased Lots 5 and 6 Bluff 26 in marsh addition, Village of J. S. Heilemann, also unassessed, ten-eighths of Lot 5 Block 1 in Juneau addition, in Lake County, Illinois, assessed in the name of J. L. Knott, and that the time for the redemption of the same from said sale will expire on the 29th day of June A. D. 1905.

M. T. LAMERY,
Publisher.

Two Odd Blunders

There stands a Westminster abode, London, a splendid Westminster abode, in riding attire. The spurs which adorn his high boots are upside down, and the sword which he carried when the statue was an expert in this line he was totally unfamiliar with the art of riding. These reversed spurs are not always noticed by visitors, but those who do notice them will find that one of the most interesting features of the monument. One of the famous swords wielded by that warrior, the Black Prince, to be seen in a window in the same building. It is a superb weapon, with a scabbard polished from the floor of the palace to the committee room above. On the weapon held in the hands of the prince may be read an inscription which the words "Prince of Wales" figure prominently.

Her Glance Backward

In a dark room, a woman, and not a robust, matronly woman, but a well-grown boy of about fifteen, beside her. The boy had fallen asleep, and his head rested heavily against her shoulder.

A man entering the car was cordially greeted by the woman, and was about to step on the boy at the knee when the mother interrupted.

"Don't wake him," she pleaded. "He's so big now that he is ashamed of doing childish things. This is the few hours of rest that he has been my boy again. Let me enjoy it."—New York Globe.

Daniel O'Connell Moloney, Ally.

By M. J. PHILLIPS.

Copyright, 1905, by M. M. Cunningham.

Arrived for the opera, Morgan Tremaine stepped into the elevator at the twenty-fourth floor of the Alameda, where he had his apartments.

"Good evening, Daniel O'Connell Moloney," he said gravely to the knickerbockered and twinkled elevated boy.

"Good evening, Mr. Tremaine," replied the boy, and whisked through a gap in the front teeth by way of reply. They were sworn friends the two.

At the tenth floor the boy stopped, and the young man, who had been removed by the elevator, remarked: "Good evening, Mr. Tremaine."

Alton Ten Eyke also afterward bowed, large and determined, in appearance, marched in. At sight of the young attorney, he sniffed, and, with a slight smile, said: "Good evening, Mr. Tremaine."

Miss Marjorie Ten Eyke, young and slender, dark eyes and sensible, followed her mother. She did not look at Tremaine, but the faintest hint of added color appeared for a moment.

"Good evening, Mr. Tremaine," he said, crossing a formal bow.

Both men bowed, and the mustache which emphasized his square, four feet five, brought up the rear.

Sixty-five inches are not impressive, but a million thousand dollars for a man of such height.

"Good evening, Mr. Tremaine, with a drowsy yawn, at his lovely former fiancee. When one is a struggling lawyer, just beginning to make a name, the world's four feet battle with callous New York."

He gave due consideration to a half dozen millions, especially when the other fellow was there.

"Two months of it," mused Tremaine, "despite his family bearing, and the fact that he had been away months without a holiday or a smile—because I danced too much with that little River girl. I was too fond to it and afraid to quarrel over him, so I gave in. But I will not let him return to me again, and will break his notes unopened and refuse to speak to him, but that was two whole months ago. Why couldn't he have been more persistent? Didn't he know that a girl could change her mind, oh, dear."

"The tenth floor, and he was going to see her again."

"Swish!" The car seemed to drag from beneath their feet. They were falling!

An agonized gasp flushed into Marjorie's face, and Ten Eyke, with a long, agonized groan of the heart, joined the staff. With a cry which struck remorse to the heart of the spectators, she turned to Tremaine, hands outstretched.

"Morgan, dear, save me!" And when Tremaine had gathered her protectingly into his arms, turned tremulous nearly caught the cable again.

• • •

Mrs. Ten Eyke was spending the evening in Brooklyn, and by the glowing grate Marjorie and Tremaine planned the wedding down to the last detail.

"I'd like to have Daniel Moloney there, too, dear," said the young man.

"He's not a sort of acquaintance of mine—that is, mostly a pal. He's going to be getting out by the time of the wedding."

"Daniel should be there," replied Marjorie, "but he has needed more time, I think."

"I just have that in mind," he thought, as he took his mother's hand.

"You don't know how much he thinks of you, Marjorie. He's going to be there, too, because he has a good record, and I expect he'll be a good husband."

"The three-lettered name is found in various languages and pronounced differently, viz:

East Indian: Ami, Hindoo, Ami, Chaldean, Bill, Slaevian, Bog or contraction of "Ball-Bog," meaning white.

Roman: Bos, Gran, Bos, Bos, Bo-

sunskrit, Bo, Egyptian: Bi, Tami, Ke-

Yavanes, Ku, Hindoo, On, Far East, Hebrew, On, Egyptian: Bi, Chal-

dean, Ur.

The three-lettered name is found in various languages and pronounced differently, viz:

East Indian: Ami, Hindoo, Ami, Chal-

dean, Bill, Slaevian, Bog or con-

traction of "Ball-Bog," meaning white.

Roman: Bos, Gran, Bos, Bos, Bo-

sunskrit, Bo, Egyptian: Bi, Tami, Ke-

Yavanes, Ku, Hindoo, On, Far East, Hebrew, On, Egyptian: Bi, Chal-

dean, Ur.

The next morning he overslept and rushed to the elevator with an important engagement almost due.

"A hurry, D. O. C. Moloney," he admonished the youth at the controller.

"I have to go, but I haven't time to wash my full name."

Daniel O'Connell grimaced and imitated a steam calliope by whistling sharply through the gap in his teeth. With apparent carelessness he crossed the floor to the door. There he stood, waiting to descend. Stealthily he fumbled with the lever—swish!

The car dropped fifty feet like a dead weight before Tremaine could move a muscle. Gasping for breath, he watched the boy, with a look of despair, as he pictured an awful death when the car should strike the bottom of the shaft. But the mad rush was checked as suddenly as it had begun, and the elevator stopped, and descended to the ground floor at a pace imposed by all sensible and well-regulated lifts.

A glimpse of Daniel O'Connell's grinning face in the mirror made all clear.

"You young rascal!" ejaculated the lawyer, as he caught his breath. "You are in for a surprise."

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Two minutes later the pedestrian on Fifty-fourth street were much edified to see a good looking young man stop suddenly, snap his thigh resounding and laugh loud. Therest a fat police man hastily crossed over in a somewhat fat mind the list of those "good and honest" men who had been seen in the city.

Poor Jonjones quothatively—Well, old man, you might have given me time just to name the day—London, England.

"Well," retorted the boy, skipping nimbly out of reach, as he threw the door open. "You said you was in a hurry."

Cuba Township.

Mr. J. Ross and family of the Jordan farm went to Chicago Friday to ride in Ocean Avenue.

School opened Monday at the Bennett school with a good attendance after a two weeks vacation on account of snow.

The first of April Oscar Maynard expects to move from Cuba township to a place south east of Barrington. We are sorry to lose so good workman.

Mrs. Katie Jacobson is visiting her sister in Chicago.

William Blue of Chicago spent Sunday with his father at Woodside farm.

Glen Maynard has been engaged by Jesus Adams for farm work the same year.

Charles Elm who resides on the old Givens place is very now and hardly ever leaves the house except for a walk. Some time back his right leg was set and the ball bearing in the neck came out and the spinal column from where it was never been removed. Last summer he had the ball again to the hip. He is an old employee of the C. H. & Q. and has had a bad and lame to the hip vicinity passing the condition of the roads.

Mrs. Frank Hollister is somewhat better after an attack of acute inflammation of the lungs which made her unable to walk.

B. Glince and F. Klein were in Chicago Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. Edna Horn and B. Glince went to Algonquin this week to see boxes, please us know through the Mrs. Hockenrook who has pneumonia.

Ed. Horn has sold his property and is deeply interested in all that goes on in the place.

Saved Her Son's Life.

The simplest mother in the little city of Algonquin, Mrs. S. Harper, she writes: "One year ago my son was down with such serious lung trouble that our physician was unable to help him, but by our druggist's advice I began giving him Dr. King's New Discovery, and I soon noticed improvement. I kept this treatment up for several weeks when he was perfectly well. He has since steadily since at his present school. Dr. King's New Discovery saved his life." Quarantine test, cough and cure at Barrington Pharmacy. Five and $10. 75% bottle free.

Lake Zurich.

Someone in Barrington has advised the Lake Zurich central office is surprised to answer night calls for Barrington central range recently at night forty-five minutes before arousing the operator at Lake Zurich. In case of sudden illness or death this might be very unsatisfactory service.

For sale at H. L. Prentiss, 1000 feet of lighting rod.

Frank Ellison has returned to his home in Shaxon, Wisc.

Junius Hayes $1.00 per sack at Myers.

Messrs. Biesensee, Huch, Torni and Schaefer are spending a week at the river.

J. Moell and E. Schenning transacted business in Dundee Monday.

Miss T. Hockenmeyer visited here Wednesday.

Frank Schultz, Jr. is visiting at his home here.

Mrs. Henry Schaefer is ill.

Miss Ida Blaske of Chicago who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. L. Seipp, returned home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Seipp are visiting in Chicago.

Mrs. G. Prusik and daughter, Edna, visited in Chicago last week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Frank have gone to Portland, Oregon to live.

Try White Swan Blue at Myers.

Mrs. Kemaj is visiting her sister, Mrs. Joe Dietz at Fremont Center.

Miss Jennie Seipp and Emma Schaefer visited at Barrington Wednesday.

Miss Myrtle Bicknell spent Sunday with Gilmer friends.

Fred Thies and Roland Baetler spent Sunday at the Seipp home.

Not a Library.

Even washerwomen, employed at a small wage, and telephone service a profitable investment. This fact should be full of significance to the offices who believe the telephone is a luxury. CHICAGO TELEPHONE CO.

Found at Last.

J. A. Barnes of Laramore, Wisc., says: "All last I have found the perfect pill that cures rheumatism, not, and for the benefit of those suffering from rheumatism and rheumatoid disease, will you, Dr. King's New Life Pill?" Quotations satisfactory to be at Barrington Pharmacy.

Subscriptions for "The Review."

Burrington Township.

Miss Anna Thiesing visited at Burrinton last Sunday.

Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. A. E. Loomis visited at Fred Toppel's Supply.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Meler are rejoicing over the arrival of a daughter born Friday, March 16th.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dicker of Highland Grove have a daughter born March 17th.

Fred Rathke was a Chicago visitor Sunday.

The Loomis family moved Wednesday to the Miller farm.

Tale about a fox social, we had one, I should say. Miss D. N. Cross, the teacher in District No. 9, known as the Burrinton school, last Friday evening gave a program and the school's annual election. Miss Cross played several piano solos and Miss Mary Schleip and Master Irving Field of Chicago gave several readings. The school children also participated in the program. We had a full crowd, considering the condition of the roads.

The well known auctioneer, George W. Humphrey, presided at the highest bidder. One basket and for those another $4.50 and one basket for the school $1.50. Total amount $100.00. The average price of $2.40 approx total receipts $25.00, which money will be used to good purpose for library books and etc. Any school school has had a better year.

Mr. Frank Hollister is somewhat better after an attack of acute inflammation of the lungs which made her unable to walk.

B. Glince and F. Klein were in Chicago Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. Edna Horn and B. Glince went to Algonquin this week to see boxes, please us know through the Mrs. Hockenrook who has pneumonia.

Ed. Horn has sold his property and is deeply interested in all that goes on in the place.

A. K. STEARNS,

LAWYER

213 Washington Street,

Phone 2781 Waukegan Illinois

A. G. Gieske, M.D.C.

Veterinarian

Graduate of Chicago Veterinary College

Phone 421 Barrington, Ill.

ISAAC B. FOX, J. P.

Real Estate and Insurance.

Farm Lands and Village Lots.

PHONE—Office 423.
Residence 504
BARRINGTON, ILL

Your Income.

If your salary is small, you do not qualify for life points or loadsters for breakfast. Yet you eat. Our highest resistance rate is about 10 cents per day—but you can afford a much cheaper rate if you wish. One thousand dollars.

How to Remain Young.

To continue young in health and strength do as Mrs. N. Fowan, Methodist, did. She says: "Three bottles of Elixer Bitters cured me of rheumatic fever and stomach trouble, complicated with such an unhealthy condition of the blood that my skin turned red as flame. I am now younger than 2 years younger than before I took Elixer Bitters. I can now do all my work with ease and as fast in my husband's store." Guaranteed at Barrington Pharmacy. Price 50c.

Hager-Bonnett.

A. Hager, carriage company, of which he is president, is represented by H. J. L. Linn, carriage works, at Barrington. At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Willmarth where Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett of St. Louis, Mrs. Hager's old home, the wife of William Hager of this village. Besides the members of the Willmarth household and Miss Mary Corbin those present were Misses Emma and Gertrude Hager, Fred and Raymond Hager. The party was served a dinner before the ceremony and Miss Emma Hager wrote a line into the bride's cake sealed a silver ring. Mrs. Bonnett was a widow. Mrs. Hager and her mother have been separated here during the past several weeks and last at the Willmarth's. She is a trained nurse and an old family friend of Mrs. Willmarth's people in St. Louis. Mrs. Hager is a respected business man of the town and electrician at the electric light plant. They will reside at the Hager home on Main street.

Worked Like a Charm.

Mr. D. N. Walker, editor of that gay paper, the Enterprise, Louis, Va., says: "I ran a nail in my foot last week and at once applied Bucolene's Arnica Salve. No inflammation followed; the salve simply healed the wound." Heals every sore, burn and skin disease. Guaranteed at Barrington Pharmacy. 25c.

Home Trade Minst. The home trade is the home builder. The man who trades at home knows more about his business than any one else.

When you trade at home instead of by mail order you save both postage and prestige.

Lots of women refuse to take gall medicine but they are so fond of resulting well that they risk their cash that way.

Some women sweep disdainfully by the broom in the home store and send to the big city just because they like to get well.

In my opinion, the man or woman who is anxious to be profitable to sell money to the big city mail order houses and then goes around to a neighbor's and complains that this house is not so good a place to get well or a good place.

Subscriptions to the Review for a year makes a fine present to a relative or friend at home or abroad.

THE KING OF CURES

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY FOR COUGHS AND COLDS AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES PREVENTS PNEUMONIA AND CONSUMPTION

"Two years ago a severe cold settled on my lungs and completely prostrated me that I was unable to work and nearly able to stand. I then was advised to try Dr. King's New Discovery, and after using one bottle I went back to work, as well as I ever did."

W. J. ATKINS, Somers Spring, Tenn.

PRICE 50¢ GOLD AND GUARANTEED BY AND $1.00

The BARRINGTON PHARMACY.

MATH. PECAK

Successor to Matt Merton

MERCHANT TAILOR

BARRINGTON, ILL.

Special attention given to REPAIRING and CLEANING.

Ladies' and Gents' Garments.

Our Motto: Reasonable Prices and Prompt Service

SEEDS

TIMOTHY, CLOVER, ALPALFA

TESTED SEED CORN and

MORE CORN TO THE ACRE.

For sale, for RENT, ALPALFA or CANADIAN FIELD PEAS.

For sale, for RENT, MELTINE, HEDGE, VINE, CLOVER, ALPALFA, COTTON, etc.

Seed saving machinery, etc. Write for catalog.

Own your own land. Write.

SMITH BROS. Lake Zurich, Illinois

CEMENT WORK

Sidewalks, Cement Floors, Cement Posts, Cement Culverts and bridges, Cement Walks, and every thing in this line. We also make the

IDEAL CEMENT BLOCKS

We would like to figure on your work as we can do it as cheap as it can be done.

WISEMAN & BRANDT BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS.

PRINTING

The kind you ought to use and when you ought to have it, that is:

when you need it. We have contracted the habit of pleasing our customers by giving them not only

Artistic Work, but by giving it to them when promised.

The REVIEW.

"The Barrington" GAS AND
GASOLINE ENGINE

The latest Improved and Best Gas and Gasoline Engine on the market.

Simple Construction.
Guaranteed.
Lowest Prices.

Add to all sizes from 1 to 1000 Horse Power, by
I. SCHMIDLE & CO.

Gasoline, Illinois
Manufacturers of Gasoline, Petrol and Gasoline and Gasoline.

An Ohio clergyman was arrested just after marrying his thirteenth wife. Thirteen years was an unlucky number.

Theodore P. Shantz, who is presently to reform the street cars of New York, generally rides in a cab himself.

Every now and then Europe demands certain assurances that the kaiser has really lived down his past as a war lord.

British women are going back to nightgowns. Not it is not the kind grandfather used to drink, but the kind grandmother used to wear.

Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture is the nestor of the cabinet and is the only member who was one of the original group at the beginning of Mr. McKinley's administration.

King Edward himself may have been much surprised when he discovered in his speech a few knocks for the house of lords. Doubtless he will speak to the man who wrote it and tell him to be more careful next time.

President Baer of the Reading railroad doesn't pay to haul passengers at the present rates. A good many people will insist, on the other hand, that it doesn't pay to travel at the present rates. So we may regard it as a stand-off.

Miss Lillian Tyson, proprietor and manager of the Bon Ton theater, in Philadelphia, has inaugurated the custom of giving free tickets for matinee performances to the orphans in the city institutions, the messenger boys and the school children.

Mrs. Britania W. Kenyon, great-granddaughter of Martha Washington and a descendant of the last Lord Baltimore, celebrated her ninetieth-birthday a few days ago at her home, in Georgetown, D. C. She was born there and has lived in the same place all her life.

The order of Knight of Jerusalem has been bestowed by the Kaiser on Dr. George Post, an American missionary, of Beloit, who is now in Berlin. The Kaiser sent Count von Wedel to the American church on Sunday to represent him when the Rev. Dr. Post preached.

The library of Yale university has received from Miss Maria E. Peck, of Pittsfield, Mass., four volumes one of the property of Israel Dickinson, of the class of 1758. The books were used by him during his college course. Each volume contains his book plate and his autograph.

Arthur F. Staeter, recently sworn in as assistant secretary of the treasury, was born in Carlisle, England, in the early eighties. He was brought to America when one year old, and has lived all his life until recently in Iowa. Three months ago he became editor of the Walla Walla Daily Union.

At Christiansa, a little town in the Transvaal, about 70 miles above Kimberley, an aluvial deposit has been discovered bearing diamonds, and the entire area has been staked out in claims, which are granted by the government, each 50 yards square. The "digging" for diamonds, which are found in the surface deposits, is somewhat similar to placer gold-mining. There some 2,000 diamond-miners, representing every nationality, are living in huts and tents with their families.

The official figures showing the trade between the United States and non-contiguous territories—Alaska, the Philippines, and Porto Rico—were being studied in 1906. The total was $113,000,000, against less than $100,000,000 in 1904. This is rightly regarded as indicating extraordinary growth. And that Uncle Sam is a generous patron of his "dependents" is apparent from the returns which prove that the United States buys much more of them than they buy of Americans. However, all of the territories are making bigger and bigger purchases of this country.

London dearly loves court gayety and display, of which the British capital had little during the later years of the successful but rather quiet reign of the good Queen Victoria. King Edward, tactful and kindly, gives his people their wish, and the court gitter is all they could desire. It makes a pleasing setting or background for the sessions of Parliament and does no harm to anyone, for while all enjoy the spectacle they also know that the real power rests with the house of commons, which speaks the deciding opinion of England on all great questions.

Queen Alexandra owns several fine chinchillas and Persian cats. Princess Alexandra of Teck and Prince Maurice of Battenberg also possess valuable specimens, but the real cat fancier among the royal family of Great Britain is Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein, and the only royal cat in the country now established at Cumberland Lodge. This has been arranged on the most exacting and delicate lines, and has contained windows and a front door with a knocker and letter box. The portals are surrounded by a crown and the initials "V. S. M."

Alleged Train Wrecker Arrested. Kokomo, Ind.—David Vannatten was arrested Monday for an alleged attempt to wreck a Pennsylvania passenger train. He wired a tie across the rails, it is said. No one was hurt, although one coach was ditched.

Passenger Station is Robbed.

Macon, Mo.—Three masked men

JAIL FOR RANCHERS

RESULT OF EXAMINING SHELLS FOUND AT BROWNSVILLE.

CONFESSON STORY FALSE

No "D. W. Gray" Was a Member of Disgraced Battalion—Branded as a Fake at San Antonio.

Omaha, Neb.—The most important land case in Nebraska culminated Monday with the sentence of the most prominent and influential attorney by Judge W. H. Munger of the United States court. Bartlett Richards and William G. Comstock were sentenced to pay a fine each of $1,500 and serve a year in the Douglas county jail; Charles C. Jameson and Aquilla C. Tripplett were sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and serve eight months in the jail.

CASE OF HAT FIGHT.

These men were indicted by the federal grand jury in May, 1906, for conspiracy to defraud the United States out of use, possession and title to public land, consisting of upward of 200,000 acres in northwestern Nebraska. The indictment was the longest on record, comprising 500 typewritten pages. The trial began in November, 1906, and on December 29 was verdict of guilty. Motion for a new trial was made and it was heard March 15 when Judge Munger overruled it and set Monday for pronouncing the sentence. One hundred and eight witnesses were examined in the trial of these men. It was the most sensational land trial ever conducted in Nebraska, owing to the prominence and financial standing of the two principals, Richards and Comstock. It was against them that primarily the president's campaign of enforcing land laws was directed. They have been conspicuous in the politics and business of Nebraska for many years. Aquilla Tripplett soon after charges were lodged against him, left for Mexico, but was finally brought to bay. All the defendants made motions for appeals which will be argued later.

INDICTMENTS IN NEW MEXICO.

Albuquerque, N. M.—The United States grand jury, just returned from Fez, Monday, returned six indictments against persons charged with fraudulent land transactions in the coal lands of San Juan county, New Mexico. Most of those indicted are employees of the Utah Fuel company and the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, the corporations which recently were the subject of inquiry in Salt Lake City. The indictments charge conspiracy to defraud the government, subversion of perjury and perjury in connection with filings on government coal-bearing lands in this territory.

MARVEL AFTER DARK PANIC.

Absence of Failures in Stock Market Attributed to Prosperity.

New York.—Men in the financial district are numberless. Saturday over the way the "street"—the shock of two days of the severest liquidation the stock exchange has known in several years, together with the accompanying severe slump in prices. Not a firm is reported in difficulties. This is attributed largely to the long period of prosperity which the country has enjoyed.

The cheer that was heard at the close of the session on the stock exchange Friday, was scarcely seen on New street, for the "little board," too, had weathered the storm. The Consolated could not claim the proud record of the "big exchange," since there was one failure Thursday, but as in the case of the stock exchange, every broker met his obligations after at the clearing house. President D. G. Ryan, who headed the smaller exchange, like the larger, had displayed an endurance and resistance unprecedented in Wall street's history.

There were many reports regarding the source and backing of Friday's rally. Some credited it to E. H. Harriman, others to the Rockefellers. It is known, however, that Thomas F. Ryan and the Morton Trust company put close to $100,000,000 in the purchase of securities. Mr. Ryan, it is said, had not previously been in the market for three years.

WIna Billiard Championship.

New York.—Calvin Demarest, of the Chicago Athletic association, lived up to his reputation as an amateur billiardist when he won the national amateur championship at 14.2 ball line at the Liederkranz club Thursday. He defeated Frank W. Gardner, of Peoria, Ill., last year's winner, by a score of 300 to 221. He won with a clean score of five victories and no defeats. In addition to winning a leg on the new championship cup, Demarest won the high single average of 27.31 and the high individual run of 115.

Alleged Train Wrecker Arrested.

Kokomo, Ind.—David Vannatten was arrested Monday for an alleged attempt to wreck a Pennsylvania passenger train. He wired a tie across the rails, it is said. No one was hurt, although one coach was ditched.

Passenger Station is Robbed.

Denver, Colo.—A local option bill, with an emergency clause, was finally passed by the legislature Monday. It is approved by Gov. Buehler and will become a law before the end of the week.

NOT IN LINE!

SINCLAIR COLONY ROUTED

FIRE DRIVES OUT RESIDENTS OF "HELICON HALL."

One Person Is Killed and Several Others Injured by Jumping from Windows.

Englewood, N. J.—By the burning of Helicon Hall, the home of the Upton Sinclair Co-Operative Colony Saturday, one man, Lester Griggs, a carpenter of Providence, R. I., was killed and eight of the colonists were injured in jumping from windows. Mrs. Grace McGowan Cooke, a well-known writer of short stories, was one of the injured.

She had to suffer injuries and her sister, Miss Alice McTowan, also a writer, and Miss Leone Fehlberg, also injured.

The financial loss is estimated at $35,000.

Fifty-five members of the colony and workers employed by them occupied the building, which was a three-story structure located on a hill top and formerly used as a residence by John D. Rockefeller.

New York.—Dynamite has been found in the ruins of Helicon hall, Upton Sinclair's cooperative colony house near Englewood, N. J., which was destroyed by fire early Saturday morning, when one life was lost and 56 others were imperiled. It also has been established by those who are investigating the fire that at least one inmate of the hall was awake and fully dressed at the building a few minutes before the fire started, which was about four o'clock.

These developments strengthen the theory already expressed by several of the more prominent members of the colony that the fire was of incendiary origin.

Mrs. Grace McGowan Cooke and Miss Alice McGowan, who were injured by leaping from the burning Helicon hall, are still in a serious condition. The others are doing well.

MORE GRAFT IN FRISCO.

Grand Jury Believed to Have Uncovered Vast Corruption.

San Francisco.—The action of the grand jury in bringing before it Monday the members of the board of supervisors aroused the greatest interest. The Bulletin published an "extra" declaring that further exposures of municipal corruption were imminent and that many indictments would soon follow.

The Bulletin says that a plot involving the granting of valuable street railway privileges were laid bare. It is charged that the sum of $50,000 was paid to high officials to permit of the conversion of street railway systems into electric lines and that the bulk of this money was retained by a mysterious man, and that small sums of money were paid to other officials.

Another story is that rival telephone companies each paid large sums of money.

Another charge is that a corporation fund of $26,000 was raised by prize fight promoters to secure a monopoly of fight permits.

President's Summer Plans.

Washington.—Tentative plans for the president's summer at Oyster Bay have been discussed at the White House. As now contemplated, he will leave Washington for that place somewhere between the 20th and 25th of June. If he can conveniently get away earlier, he will do so. A trip to Indianapolis and Lansing, Mich., and two trips to the Jamestown exposition are on the program before the president's vacation begins.

Kentucky Church Burned.

Lexington, Ky.—A Baptist church, built last year at a cost of $50,000, was destroyed by fire with all its contents. Rev. W. P. Hines, the pastor, was formerly of Richmond and Lynchburg, Va.

Local Option for Colorado.

Macon, Mo.—Three masked men Monday entered the Wabash passenger station here and while one held up two coal miners the others dynamited the safe, taking about $200 in cash and a draft.

FIRST POSTAL CAR

SMALL BEGINNING OF PRESENT GREAT SYSTEM.

Joseph Elliott, Who Had Charge of the Experiment, Forty-Three Years Ago, Tells About Initial Trip.

"I'll never forget as long as I live the first time a postal car was run in this country," said Joseph Elliott, who had charge of the first experiment Uncle Sam made with a traveling post office.

As he spoke Mr. Elliott dropped back into his big leather-covered chair in the New York Post Office building and began toying with his gray mustache reflectively. Mr. Elliott is a veteran of 43 years in postal service in the post office. He is now superintendent of the money-order department, having held this same post well nigh 25 years.

"It is nearly 43 years since that first trip was made," he resumed, "and I recall that it was regarded as one of the most important experiments in the history of the post office."

So it was, too, without these railway postal cars today the handling of mail would be a wretched batch.

Mail Shipped in Bags.

"The car was nothing more than an old freight car which had been fitted up with pigeon-holes. We were ordered to take a car to Washington on a jaunt and then bring back a load of mail, mostly money, distributing it as we traveled along."

"Prior to that time the mails had simply been shipped in bags. There were no clerks on the trains to work over the letters and assort them so that they might be rushed straight from the railroad station to the various sections of the city."

"We left New York in the morning and traveled all day before we arrived in Washington. For in those days railroading was nothing. We were simply on a junket going to Washington. The experiment was to be made coming back to New York, for it should be remembered that the heaviest mails then were those that came from the south then, for the army of Gen. Lee and that of Sherman were down that way.

The Return Trip.

"I remember that Grant was fighting the Battle of the Wilderness the day we arrived at Washington and in this way I know this first trip must have been made with the railway postal car between May 5 and May 7, 1864. When we left in Washington I recall that a great train load of wounded soldiers had just come in from the Wilderness. They were all in the hospital and I used to go to the hospital to see what was going on."

"That night we started back to New York, and then our work began. You can imagine we had thousands of letters from the army—letters which had been accumulating in Washington and which no doubt carried many a sorrowful message to the homefolk in the country."

"I have often thought what a traffic in sadness we handled on that first mail car. It seemed to me that the government venture had been timed by fate to bring bad news from the Wilderness to the homes of the soldiers."

"Arriving in Jersey City, the mail bags were sent direct to the various stations and not to the general post office, and so successful was the first trip that the railway postal car served immediately began to take on life."

The real founder of the railway postal distributing service is said to have been George H. Armstrong, who was assistant postmaster at the Chicago post office in 1864, and Forest Crissy, an authority on the service, says he started the first car. The date is given as January 1, 1864, while Mr. Elliott remembers the date of his first trip by the Battle of the Wilderness. It was due to Mr. Armstrong's persistent efforts, no doubt, that the government's approval of the car service was obtained in those early days.

An odd story is told of how the first traveling post office was conceived. One of the distributing agents of the postal service in the neighborhood of Washington, D. C., was a large negro who was a member of the 11th U. S. Cavalry. He was a mail carrier.

Panama.—According to reliable information received here from Salvador, that country has allied itself openly with Honduras in the war with Nicaragua. On March 10, 2,500 Salvadorean soldiers landed at Amapala and proceeded the next morning the direction of Choluteca. This body of men came from San Miguel, in Honduras, and is under the command of Gen. Jose Dolores Preas.

PORT OF TRUJILLO IS TAKEN.

Nicaragua Captures Honduran City—Salvador Opens Arms Bonilla.

Managua, Nicaragua.—The port of Trujillo, Honduras, has been captured by the Nicaraguan naval forces. The Honduras left behind them a piece of artillery, a number of rifles and a quantity of ammunition.

Panama.—According to reliable information received here from Salvador, that country has allied itself openly with Honduras in the war with Nicaragua. On March 10, 2,500 Salvadorean soldiers landed at Amapala and proceeded the next morning the direction of Choluteca. This body of men came from San Miguel, in Honduras, and is under the command of Gen. Jose Dolores Preas.

THAT'S THE THING?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any information which cannot be gained from the Captain of the U.S. Cavalry.

F. J. CHEEVER & CO., Toledo, O.—We, the undersigned, do hereby offer for the last 12 years, and believe him perfectly reliable, to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm, to pay him $100,000.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

FADED TO A SHADOW.

Worn Down by Five Years of Suffering from Kidney Complaint.

Mrs. Remetha Myers, of 150 South Teuth St., Ironton, O., says: "I have worked hard in my time and have been cross again and again to changes of weather. It is no wonder my kidneys gave out and I went all to pieces at last. For five years I was fading away and finally so weak that for six months I could not get out of bed. The house was nervous, restless and sleepless at night, lame and sore in the morning. Sometimes everything would whirl and bad before bed. I bloated so badly I could not wear tight clothing and had to put on shoes two sizes larger than usual. The urine was disordered and passages were dreadfully frequent. I got help from the first box of Doan's Kidney Pills, however, and by the time I had taken four boxes the pain and bloating were gone. I have been in good health ever since."

For sale by all dealers, 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Penny Wise, Pound Foolish.

Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, Pennsylvania's noted health commissioner, is waging a fight against the public drinking cup. Dr. Dixon said one day in 1906:

"I have seen people clean their teeth with tooth powder and dental floss, rinse their mouths with listerine and other antiseptic washes and then go and drink calmly from the public cup in a railway station or a theater."

"Such people remind me of a school boy of Ardmore. Seeing this boy wading ankle deep in a half-brown puddle one day in January, I said sternly:

"Tommy, why are you not at school?"

"I've got the whooping cough," he answered, splashing about vigorously."

THREE BOYS HAD ECZEMA.

Were Treated at Dispensary—Did Not Improve—Suffered Five Months.

—Perfect Cure by Cuticura.

"My three children had eczema for five months. A little sore would appear on the head and seemed very painful. The hair fell out. The baby had it about a week, when the second boy took the disease and a few sores developed, then the third boy took it. For the first three months I took them to the N—Dispensary. They had not seemed to improve. Then I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and in a few weeks they had improved, and when their heads were well you could see nothing of the disease. Mrs. Kate Klein, 513 West 25th St., New York, N. Y., Nov. 1, 5 and 7, 1906."

Tin Used in United States.

The total consumption of tin in the United States for 1906 was 42,800 tons, with 2,132 tons in stock at the end of the year.

The shipment from Bolivia grew from 2,000 tons to 2,900 tons from Cornwall an increase of from 300 to 1,000 tons and from Australia an increase of 1,000 tons to 1,500 tons, making the total European and American supply for the year about 93,500 tons.

How This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any information which cannot be gained from the Captain of the U.S. Cavalry.

F. J. CHEEVER & CO., Toledo, O.—We, the undersigned, do hereby offer for the last 12 years, and believe him perfectly reliable, to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm, to pay him $100,000.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. DRAKE, Toledo, O.—We take pleasure in offering $100,000 to any person who may be able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

W. H. D

Barrington Local Happenings Told In Short Paragraphs

All items MUST be in in late than Thursday noon to insure publication in that week's issue.

The Ladies' Aid meeting of the M. E. church will hold another bazaar here in the church hall, Saturday, March 5, 1907.

The ladies' meeting Wednesday night at the Hotel Wyndham.

Mrs. Mary Farnsworth of Chicago was the guest this week of Mrs. and Mrs. Morris Heywood.

Mrs. Robert Kunt of Chicago spent Thursday night at the Hotel Wyndham.

The Barrington less bell team held their first preliminary meeting March 2nd. Big Myers was elected to chairman and a committee was appointed to seek grounds suitable for the new church. Kuhlman, Miller and Jones were appointed to solicit funds for maintaining the Barrington less bell team. The next meeting was called for March 20th.

Miss Ethel Wimmer returned with a "Dante" party the twelve young ladies of the Sunshine class of the Baptist church last Friday evening at her home on Franklin street. The girls all dressed as "Dante" missed a regular church service and served after-games and refreshments.

Fred Rohmeyer returned to Nelskirk, Thursday. He was called here by the death of a brother.

Mrs. William Voss of Chicago visited at her father's house, August 14th.

Sunday is Palm Sunday and marks the entrance of Christ into Jerusalem. Next week is Holy week and next Friday is Good Friday.

Miss Besse Miller of Chicago and Miss Margaret Murray of Evanston will be the guests of Mrs. G. Knapp over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. German will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hirsh of Chicago Sunday.

Messrs. and Madames C. S. Castle, F. W. B. and B. B. Castle were guests of Miss Eva Castle Saturday.

Pink Gieseke went to Peoria Sunday night to attend a laundry-men's convention. He returned Wednesday.

Miss Eva Castle attended the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Smith of Carpentersville Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Mary Curtin went to Wauconda Wednesday in the interest of the Vlavi company.

The funeral of Mrs. Anna Stort was held Saturday afternoon at Mrs. C. Church's and the burial was at Evergreen cemetery.

A sale of real estate was recorded in Wauconda last week: Henry Berghorn to G. H. Berghorn, 10 acres in Section 21 and 22, Elgin township, $7,500.

A gentleman about town sent a letter to this paper for publication last week concerning the instance, namely "the little red wagon on the sidewalk" and people are positively attributing it to the pen of a certain author in a certain neighborhood. Some of the conclusions drawn along these lines are very amusing and far from correct.

A mis-statement of dates caused some confusion Saturday at the M. E. church when a few ladies called to attend the supposed baking sale which is to be held on Saturday, March 20th.

Miss Florence Collier entertained the young people of the B. Y. P. U. at her home on Lake street on Wednesday evening. The entertainment all business in content and was arranged in which the party saying either you or I had to forfeit a large sum of ten of which they were given in the start. Mrs. W. Wimmer secured the largest number. Light refreshments were served during the evening.

Misses Edith Wagner and Hattie Palmer treated the Review staff to tea house made chocolate, ice-cream late Friday afternoon taking the workers by surprise at the office.

About twenty guests met at the "Williamson" home Saturday night dressed in the oldest clothes obtainable to enter into the idea of a "hard times" party. Mrs. Richard Brodbeck and Miss Curtis were given prizes for presenting the "worst outfit". Green favors and shamrocks were given the guests in honor of St. Patrick's day following. A hard times luncheon was served and the evening passed in dancing.

Mrs. Frank Alvernon and daughter returned from Allouez, Wisconsin, Saturday.

Mrs. Ella Gossel of Rockford went Friday afternoon to Algoma, and her son, George, Friday night.

Walter Thousand, infant son of Mr. E. Gossel, died at their home in Elgin last week, aged ten weeks. The funeral was held at the home last Friday at 2 p.m.

A party of ten old ladies of the long edge No. 1000 accompanied John Stoen of Chicago, a son of the old edge here to Ampmle Falls, even to a meeting of the New Order. They indulged in a long dinner at the Hotel Ampmle Falls.

Misses Edith and Ethel Wagner came from Rockford to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Stort Saturday. They are employed in a small house there and live with an aunt.

Mrs. Anna Schleitner is now employed in the Barrington laundry.

Simon P. Hause of St. Charles street comes today to Elgin from Aransas Bay, Manitoba, Canada to engage in farming. The family are very poor here. Mr. Hause and family are to remain in our village life, they having been very active in the work of the Methodist church.

WANTERS. A girl for general house work, 16 to 18 years old, Canadian, light work, good wages and a family. Call me. Have every other Sunday at home. Inquire at this office.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Elmhurst League of the M. E. church will be held at the home of Miss Grace Freeman, Tuesday, March 20th. All members and friends are invited.

Ten of the graduating class of this year expect to go to Chicago Saturday to take Cook county teacher's examinations.

Albert Kampert of Wauconda, Minn., has been visiting at his father's, Fred Kampert.

Henry Gieseke, the collector of tuba and the tuba-ist, Wauconda Thursday.

Mrs. Edward McVee and daughter Helen returned Thursday from a visit of nearly four months with her parents in Bigerville, Illinois.

A real estate deal in Barrington township Thursday, in city papers by Assessor's sale for $2,000.00 to R. H. Taylor, $200.

The Participants meet with Miss M. Wagner for a musical evening Thursday.

Mrs. Sarah Domke received the Thursday club this week. The ladies read selected magazine articles and vocal and piano music given by members. Madames Zie Meyer, Leila Austin and James Metcalf of Elgin were present.

Miss Lucy Walker, librarian of the Methodist Sunday school, was the chairman of a committee who promoted the Sunday school song Tuesday evening.

Young people of the church gave a program of songs and readings in the church hall Sunday evening. The refreshments were enjoyed in the parlor, enlightened by photographic slides.

The Women's club at Mrs. M. M. Bennett's Thursday and were interested in a slide show arranged by Mrs. M. A. Hennings, with Irish songs. Mrs. M. C. McManus of Chicago the visiting president, was present to assist in seating the new officers of the club.

Observation of Good Friday will take place at the St. Paul's Evangelical church in the following manner: Service at 10 a.m. in connection with which will be the celebration of holy communion. Evening service at 7:30.

The Good Citizenship League will hold their annual meeting in the village hall, Friday evening, March 20, from 8 to 9.

Confirmation services will be held Palm Sunday, March 24th, at the St. Paul's Evangelical church and the class this year numbers fifteen children who are: the Misses Anna Levine, Laura Lohman, Martha Hennings, Caroline Mueller, Evelyn Dainger and Otto Schmitz, Elmer Hause, Frederick Hennings, George Mueller, Henry Gross, Henry Winkler, Roy Pingel, Gottlieb Mueller, Oscar Reuter and Arthur Luecht.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our thanks to those who sympathized with us in our great sorrow and affliction.

MRS. CAROLINE CHURCH AND FAMILY.

Mrs. Leslie Meyer died Monday, March 19, at the age of eighty years at her home on east Main street, following which followed several months of illness with asthma and heart afflictions. Mrs. Meyer had lived in Barrington for a few years coming here from Des Plaines. She married Leslie Meyer about seven years ago and has been a deserving good wife. She was a member of the Old Lutheran church. Her early days were recalled beyond that she was born in Waukesha, Wisconsin. Mrs. Meyer came to America when she married a Mr. Stoen and a wife of about 40 years old, and a son, John, 12, now of Los Angeles, California.

The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at the home of survivors, August 21st. Mrs. Meyer, on Main street, where all Mrs. Meyer's children and family friends gathered to pay their last respects to the lady. Rev. Stoen was the eulogist and funeral service and readings were said at the service.

Bethel, June 1st, and August 21st. Mrs. Meyer's body was interred in the cemetery, near Waukesha, Wisconsin. Mrs. Meyer was a widow of 25 years, Philip Hause and Mrs. Hause of Waukesha, Wisconsin.

Misses Edith and Ethel Wagner came from Rockford to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Stort Saturday.

They are employed in a small house there and live with an aunt.

Mrs. Anna Schleitner is now employed in the Barrington laundry.

Simon P. Hause of St. Charles street comes today to Elgin from Aransas Bay, Manitoba, Canada to engage in farming.

The family are very poor here. Mr. Hause and family are to remain in our village life, they having been very active in the work of the Methodist church.

Misses Edith and Ethel Wagner came from Rockford to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Stort Saturday.

They are employed in a small house there and live with an aunt.

Mrs. Anna Schleitner is now employed in the Barrington laundry.

Simon P. Hause of St. Charles street comes today to Elgin from Aransas Bay, Manitoba, Canada to engage in farming.

The family are very poor here. Mr. Hause and family are to remain in our village life, they having been very active in the work of the Methodist church.

Misses Edith and Ethel Wagner came from Rockford to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Stort Saturday.

They are employed in a small house there and live with an aunt.

Mrs. Anna Schleitner is now employed in the Barrington laundry.

Simon P. Hause of St. Charles street comes today to Elgin from Aransas Bay, Manitoba, Canada to engage in farming.

The family are very poor here. Mr. Hause and family are to remain in our village life, they having been very active in the work of the Methodist church.

Misses Edith and Ethel Wagner came from Rockford to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Stort Saturday.

They are employed in a small house there and live with an aunt.

Mrs. Anna Schleitner is now employed in the Barrington laundry.

Simon P. Hause of St. Charles street comes today to Elgin from Aransas Bay, Manitoba, Canada to engage in farming.

The family are very poor here. Mr. Hause and family are to remain in our village life, they having been very active in the work of the Methodist church.

Misses Edith and Ethel Wagner came from Rockford to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Stort Saturday.

They are employed in a small house there and live with an aunt.

Mrs. Anna Schleitner is now employed in the Barrington laundry.

Simon P. Hause of St. Charles street comes today to Elgin from Aransas Bay, Manitoba, Canada to engage in farming.

The family are very poor here. Mr. Hause and family are to remain in our village life, they having been very active in the work of the Methodist church.

Misses Edith and Ethel Wagner came from Rockford to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Stort Saturday.

They are employed in a small house there and live with an aunt.

Mrs. Anna Schleitner is now employed in the Barrington laundry.

Simon P. Hause of St. Charles street comes today to Elgin from Aransas Bay, Manitoba, Canada to engage in farming.

The family are very poor here. Mr. Hause and family are to remain in our village life, they having been very active in the work of the Methodist church.

Misses Edith and Ethel Wagner came from Rockford to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Stort Saturday.

They are employed in a small house there and live with an aunt.

Mrs. Anna Schleitner is now employed in the Barrington laundry.

Simon P. Hause of St. Charles street comes today to Elgin from Aransas Bay, Manitoba, Canada to engage in farming.

The family are very poor here. Mr. Hause and family are to remain in our village life, they having been very active in the work of the Methodist church.

Misses Edith and Ethel Wagner came from Rockford to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Stort Saturday.

They are employed in a small house there and live with an aunt.

Mrs. Anna Schleitner is now employed in the Barrington laundry.

Simon P. Hause of St. Charles street comes today to Elgin from Aransas Bay, Manitoba, Canada to engage in farming.

The family are very poor here. Mr. Hause and family are to remain in our village life, they having been very active in the work of the Methodist church.

Misses Edith and Ethel Wagner came from Rockford to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Stort Saturday.

They are employed in a small house there and live with an aunt.

Mrs. Anna Schleitner is now employed in the Barrington laundry.

Simon P. Hause of St. Charles street comes today to Elgin from Aransas Bay, Manitoba, Canada to engage in farming.

The family are very poor here. Mr. Hause and family are to remain in our village life, they having been very active in the work of the Methodist church.

Misses Edith and Ethel Wagner came from Rockford to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Stort Saturday.

They are employed in a small house there and live with an aunt.

Mrs. Anna Schleitner is now employed in the Barrington laundry.

Simon P. Hause of St. Charles street comes today to Elgin from Aransas Bay, Manitoba, Canada to engage in farming.

The family are very poor here. Mr. Hause and family are to remain in our village life, they having been very active in the work of the Methodist church.

Misses Edith and Ethel Wagner came from Rockford to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Stort Saturday.

They are employed in a small house there and live with an aunt.

Mrs. Anna Schleitner is now employed in the Barrington laundry.

Simon P. Hause of St. Charles street comes today to Elgin from Aransas Bay, Manitoba, Canada to engage in farming.

The family are very poor here. Mr. Hause and family are to remain in our village life, they having been very active in the work of the Methodist church.

Misses Edith and Ethel Wagner came from Rockford to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Stort Saturday.

They are employed in a small house there and live with an aunt.

Mrs. Anna Schleitner is now employed in the Barrington laundry.

Simon P. Hause of St. Charles street comes today to Elgin from Aransas Bay, Manitoba, Canada to engage in farming.

The family are very poor here. Mr. Hause and family are to remain in our village life, they having been very active in the work of the Methodist church.

Misses Edith and Ethel Wagner came from Rockford to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Stort Saturday.

They are employed in a small house there and live with an aunt.

Mrs. Anna Schleitner is now employed in the Barrington laundry.

Simon P. Hause of St. Charles street comes today to Elgin from Aransas Bay, Manitoba, Canada to engage in farming.

The family are very poor here. Mr. Hause and family are to remain in our village life, they having been very active in the work of the Methodist church.

Misses Edith and Ethel Wagner came from Rockford to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Stort Saturday.

They are employed in a small house there and live with an aunt.

Mrs. Anna Schleitner is now employed in the Barrington laundry.

Simon P. Hause of St. Charles street comes today to Elgin from Aransas Bay, Manitoba, Canada to engage in farming.

The family are very poor here. Mr. Hause and family are to remain in our village life, they having been very active in the work of the Methodist church.

Misses Edith and Ethel Wagner came from Rockford to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Stort Saturday.

They are employed in a small house there and live with an aunt.

Mrs. Anna Schleitner is now employed in the Barrington laundry.

Simon P. Hause of St. Charles street comes today to Elgin from Aransas Bay, Manitoba, Canada to engage in farming.

The family are very poor here. Mr. Hause and family are to remain in our village life, they having been very active in the work of the Methodist church.

Misses Edith and Ethel Wagner came from Rockford to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Stort Saturday.

They are employed in a small house there and live with an aunt.

Mrs. Anna Schleitner is now employed in the Barrington laundry.

Simon P. Hause of St. Charles street comes today to Elgin from Aransas Bay, Manitoba, Canada to engage in farming.

The family are very poor here. Mr. Hause and family are to remain in our village life, they having been very active in the work of the Methodist church.

Misses Edith and Ethel Wagner came from Rockford to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Stort Saturday.

They are employed in a small house there and live with an aunt.

Mrs. Anna Schleitner is now employed in the Barrington laundry.

Simon P. Hause of St. Charles street comes today to Elgin from Aransas Bay, Manitoba, Canada to engage in farming.

The family are very poor here. Mr. Hause and family are to remain in our village life, they having been very active in the work of the Methodist church.

Misses Edith and Ethel Wagner came from Rockford to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Stort Saturday.

They are employed in a small house there and live with an aunt.

Mrs. Anna Schleitner is now employed in the Barrington laundry.

The Word "Explodes."

"Explodes" was first used in its modern sense in the first quarter of the nineteenth century. "Explodes" is the word "blow up" or "detonate." Before that it was a verb, "to explode." Before that people talked of a ball being "exploded" from a gun, the clouds "exploding" lightning, or a volcano "exploding" lava, but that was very much nearer the word's original meaning of driving away. "Explodes" from a technical point of view means to burst or blow up.

The word "Explodes" is the real meaning of an "exploded idea."

DANIEL F. LAMEY

Clearing Sale of

Wall Paper

We have a big lot of wall paper to clear up to make room for new spring stock. We are making prices on wall paper that will interest you. Let us give you an estimate.

Carpets, Rugs, Curtains.

We are showing a line of Carpets at $45, $50, $55, $60 per yard.

WINDOW SHADIES. We make them up in any color or size wanted.

TALKING MACHINES

We sell them so it makes it easy to buy one.

DRYER. We have a large selection of dryers.

WATER COOLER. We have a large selection of water coolers.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.

WALL PAPER. We have a large selection of wall paper.