

DEATH CLAIMS FOUR

Frederic Berghorn, David Meyer

Rose Spinner and Winifred Abbott.

FREDERIC J. C. BERGHORN

On Monday morning, May 6, 1907, Frederic J. C. Berghorn, living with his son three and one half miles north of Barrington, near Honey Lake, passed peacefully away to the better world.

Mr. Berghorn was one of the oldest settlers of Lake county, having been born in Annemoller, Hanover, Germany, February 9, 1822 and at the age of twenty-seven in 1849, he emigrated to America and has lived in Lake county ever since. In those days the settlers were few and far between, herds of deer would often be seen running across the prairies from grove to grove and hunters had plenty of game. Land could be purchased from the government for $1.25 an acre.

On June 17th, 1852, Mr. Berghorn was married to Miss Marijke, Krager and they settled on a farm near Elgin. Not being venturesome like many others, although money was scarce for the laboring man and the farmer, he refused to accept a loan offered by John Robertson, father of John Robertson of Main street, in whose employ he had been for some time and to whom he was known as an honest, hardworking man. At that time $800, the money offered him, would have purchased an improved 160 acre farm, but like many others he feared to assume so large a debt and failed to make use of the kind offer.

Mr. Berghorn was anxious to speak the English language and hence to gain a better knowledge of the same, made all efforts possible. He attended the regular English services at the Fairfield M. E. church where he said he first realized his need of a Savior. With his wife he later attended the three miles distant German M. E. church at Lang Grove which they joined and became active members.

Three sons, William, Henry and Frederic were born to them. February 10th, 1866 his wife died and he was married to Mrs. Sophia Klingberg who died in June, 1886. Since that time he has made his home with his son, Frederic. In 1890 he was collector for one term for Elia township. He lived to be over eighty-five years old and he leaves a brother and two sons and nine grandchildren. One son, William, resides at Rockefeller.

He was a man of firm Christian principles, he lived a Christian life and kept himself posted in the affairs of the church and world. He would make no effort to accumulate wealth but was content with a comfortable living. Sickness and age alone kept him from church. He gave cheerfully to all benevolent causes. Few men have made a better record and while he does not leave riches he does leave a record full of good deeds.

His desire was that no display of flowers should be made at his funeral, but that money intended for that purpose be given for the cause of missions instead. He will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

The funeral took place Thursday at twelve o'clock at the home and one o'clock at the Salmen church. Burial at the old cemetery near the church at Fairfield. Rev. Haele conducted the services.

DAVID MEYER

One more of the old soldiers has passed to another world. David Meyer died Thursday morning at about two o'clock. He lived a hardy life, just east of the camp ground near Elgin, and had been quite poorly for a year past from a paralytic stroke and was seized Tuesday with another one, after which he never regained consciousness.

Mr. Meyer's early days in Germany are not recorded beyond that he was born September 14th, about seventy-four years ago and came to America in 1850, settling near Dundee and marrying Miss Hannah Rose in Elgin. The next year when the Civil War broke out he enlisted in Company I, 52nd Illinois Volunteers and served until the close of the war when he was honorably discharged July 12th, 1865. His war record was a particularly worthy one and to his memory is due kindly thoughts for he fought long and earnestly for his adopted country. The battles in which he took part some of them lasting for days were Shiloh, Siege of Corinth, Corinth, Little Bear Creek, Town Creek, Snake Creek Gap, Reasas, Lay's Ferry, President Olms gave an interesting talk to the new members concerning the questions that would come up on the coming year. A new boiler and pump is needed at the pumping station. The cement sidewalk question will be an important consideration and the sewer outlet proposition will also take up a big lot of the board's time.

Charles W. Wassel died at St. Mary's hospital, Chicago, May 3, 1907. His decease was the result of a long lasting illness since the death of his wife in 1895, five weeks after their marriage. He was never able to recover from the shock, and slowly but surely failed in health, was at last forced to go to the hospital where he lived but two weeks after his arrival. The remains were brought to Palatine and services were held in the Lutheran church on Monday. Interment was made in the German cemetery. He leaves a father, mother, two sisters and two brothers.

Let's Talk It Over, Anyhow.

A friend from a western town writes:

"We can trace at least a thousand increase of population the past year from the fact that the fifty-four members of our Commercial Club about a year ago all agreed to have printed on the back of their business letterheads a description of the town, its location, climate, natural advantages, possibilities for business, etc. Thus every letter they wrote was an advertisement for the town. The town booming matter was artistically printed, and the catch line being visible as the folded sheet was taken from the envelope, few persons failed to read it. Inquiries for more information came pouring in, and then the people came pouring in. Why don't you try to have your people do likewise?"

Now that looks like a sensible proposition. Suppose fifty of our citizens should have their stationery printed with such matter on the back! Say they will average a thousand letters a year. That would be fifty thousand little booms for the town, going out to all quarters of the compass.

One of these letters might strike the eye of just the right party and bring us a new factory, an educational institution, or even a good substantial family looking for a desirable home place.

It is worth trying. We can get up the descriptive matter for you and do the printing.

Why don't you start the ball?

THURSDAY CLUB MEETS

With Mrs. Sears. Good Program of Music and Poetry.

The Thursday club meeting of last week occurred on Saturday afternoon with Mrs. J. L. Sears, as hostess, who received the ladies at her home in the Platte building. The apartment was decorated with flowers in yellow and white and about thirty ladies were present, six of whom were guests.

The program was an arrangement of music and poetry which Mrs. Sears had compiled after the idea of Skakespeare's "Seven Ages of Man." There were seven divisions of life depicted from the cradle to the grave for the first age, "The Infant," headed by a quotation from Tennyson on babyhood, Mrs. Emma Brockway gave a reading on "The Baby" and Mrs. Helmine Weichert sang a lullaby; Prof. J. L. Sears in each age played piano solos in accordance with the spirit of the age and appropriate quotations from different poets were selected to indicate the thought of the age. Other readers who participated in the program were Mesdames M. L. Spinner, Emily Hawley, Mary Colleen and Mae Shearer. The entire program was full of beautiful thought and sentiment and a lasting credit to Mrs. Sears.

Later in the afternoon the company was amused by a contest game called "Printers Pi" in which names of books were confused to be straightened out. Mrs. Emily Hawley and Miss Alta Powers were winners of the prizes. The luncheon served was of yellow and white coloring to display club colors.

PREPARING FOR GRADUATION

Time Drawing Near. Students Will Wear Caps and Gowns.

The graduating class is deeply interested in its plans for graduation week, and it is expected that this year's exercises will be very fine and up-to-date. At a meeting last week it was voted that the whole class should appear commencement night in the caps and gowns of students.

Nearly all standard high schools are now adopting this dress for many reasons, principally because the rivalry of clothes tends to draw the pupils' minds from things intellectual to things material at the wrong time; it is also a dress of distinction; the article appearance of the class in a body than too many frills of fashion.

Besides the long loose, black academic gown and cap, generally called a "mortar-board" from its resemblance to a mason's square board or hawk, have long been the garb of students and professors at educational institutions and is a dress of distinction.

It is said that there is some objection to this idea mainly because it is new here and called "filly." It is not silly but an excellent plan and a custom everywhere. The Board of Education is in favor of the cap and gown, and as these are inexpensive, the expense and worry at graduation is decreased. In public schools are students from homes whose financial affairs are vastly unequal, and many heart ache and dissatisfaction have been incurred by the rivalry of dress.

CARE OF THE LAWN

Best Methods and Soil to Produce a Perfect

Lawn.

With little care and trouble a lawn can be made a beauty spot. How many home owners know how to take care of their lawns in a manner to obtain the best results? A perfect lawn can not be made upon all kinds of ground, but one may succeed in making a satisfactory lawn and keeping it in good condition upon unfavorable soils by proper treatment. If the soil is thin, with a gravelly subsoil, work deeply into it as much organic matter as possible and apply more fertilizing elements and grass seed in the autumn than if the soil were heavy and moist, says the Kansas City Star.

Personal weeds, like the dandelion, speedwell, plantain, dock, monkey plant, etc., are sometimes got rid of by sowing an abundance of grass seed and making the soil so rich that the grasses will choke them out, but if they have migrated a strong footfall it will be cheaper in the end to pull them out and then put on the grass seed and fertilizer.

The best lawn dressing is fine manure. Fine ground bone, wood ashes or a little muriate of potash is also a good dressing. If the grass starts slowly and is of a poor color—light green—a little nitrate of soda, 150 to 200 pounds to an acre, will give the plants a better color and a rapid start. These mixtures should be put on as early as possible and be raked a little into the grass roots to prevent the loss of nitrogen from the decomposing bone. It is better to apply bone and ashes separately, and if the former is applied a week or two before the latter there will be little loss of nitrogen.

The lawn mower should not be used until the ground has become settled, that the grass may become well rooted. The lawn mower is generally much abused by those who use it. When nicely adjusted and in good working order it may be kept so by a hair-scrubbing of the adjusting screws and bolts, and no one should be allowed to meddle with these parts unless he fully understands them.

Always apply enough water to soak deeply into the soil. A light watering of the surface only bakes the soil so that the moisture escapes the more rapidly and in the end does more harm than good. Upon this soil grass should be clipped frequently and allowed to remain upon the lawn as sere as a mulch.

ON THE TRAIL OF THE AMERICAN MISSIONARY

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

This Distinguished American Journalist is Traveling Around the World for the Purpose of Investigating the American Foreign Missionaries from a Purely Disinterested, Secular and Non-Sectarian Standpoint. Illustrated with Drawings and Photographs.

AT PLAY IN JAPAN

(Copyright, by Joseph B. Dowles.)
Karuzawa, Japan.—The first day I landed in Japan I set out, hot-foot, to find a missionary. I wanted to hear what he had to say for himself in answer to some of the criticisms that I had heard aboard ship. But hours of flintlike riding in Yokohama and Tokio failed to uncover one.
"Karuzawa," was the word I got from native servants in tenacious missionary homes; and Karuzawa, said the red guidebook, which is the tourist's badge of greenness, is a resort in the mountains of interior Japan much frequented by missionaries and other foreigners. When I said "Karuzawa" to one of the polite officials at the railroad station, he straightaway took my affairs in hand; attended to my baggage, requisitioned the proper porters, and then himself went with me and ordered my ticket and saw that I got the right change; all without expectation of a fee, which he, like the Japanese policeman, would consider an insult. The ticket, by the way, was second-class. I found, and later learned that it is thus that all missionaries travel in Japan.

The Simple Life in Japan.
In the light of what I see here in Karuzawa, the many tales I have heard ing the first hymn many persons even to a little child in front of me, were affected to tears. I could not understand why anybody should weep over the hearty singing of a familiar hymn until it was explained that the sight and sound of so many Christians singing together was too much for the missionaries, who, for at least a year, had been shut off in the interior towns and villages, seeing only Japanese faces and hearing only Japanese speech. Then I began to realize the loneliness which is often one of the heaviest taxes laid upon a missionary.

The Missionary's Worst Hardship.
Even worse, as I may as well mention at the outset, since it is the constant specter of every missionary family board, is the enforced separation of parents from children. This strikes down to the depths of human nature. The breaking of these ties that are as old as time, and as stronger than death, is the ever-recurring tragedy of missionary life. Children must be educated in the homeland; it seems impossible to raise a good American in an Asiatic atmosphere. Even in the best of years the children imbibed with the native tongue more knowledge of evil than comes to the normal boy and girl at home in 20 years. As they approach or enter their teens missionaries' chilof the missionary's opulence are rapidly being dissipated. The missionaries here are unquestionably representative of those throughout the Orient of all ages, are of all denominational names, are engaged in every branch of mission work, and come from every part of Japan, as well as from three or four other countries. All are dressed, most unexpectedly, and one does not have to look closely to see the evidences of enforced economy familiar in the case of the country parson in the home land. The Japanese house is a place to boast little except fine views and plenty of fresh air; they are not on a par with the cottages in the resorts I have named. The buildings are painted wood structures, generally unadorned, and one does not have to look closely to see the evidences of enforced economy familiar in the case of the country parson in the home land. The Japanese house is a place to boast little except fine views and plenty of fresh air; they are not on a par with the cottages in the resorts I have named. The buildings are painted wood structures, generally unadorned, and one does not have to look closely to see the evidences of enforced economy familiar in the case of the country parson in the home land.

The Easy Life of the Orient.
There are more servants here than in any similar resort over seas. Each household has from two to five native servants, depending generally on the number of children in the family. This is not quite so luxurious as it sounds, for servants are plentiful and cheap here. Housekeeping in Japan does not entail the domestic drudgery common in the West. The domestic life is smoother and more comfortable. I ready it has been made plain that the commonly entertained notion concerning the hardships of missionary life in Japan at least, is erroneous. This is a civilized land. Most of the conveniences and comforts of life in America are obtainable here, plus many not known to the occident. So far as the material aspects of residence in Japan are concerned, I see no reason for the fearful pity and sympathy so frequently extended to the missionary. Life in the Sunrise Kingdom may be as enjoyable as life anywhere else.

Children must be surrendered, and frequently they are not seen again by their parents until they have attained manhood or womanhood. Tragic tales are told of children who do not recognize their own parents and of parents who do not recognize their own children, after these long separations. This appears to me to be the worst of all the hardships that come to these uncomplaining missionaries.
While on the domestic aspect of the missionary's life, it is worth recording that the second generation may frequently be found on the field. I have met several instances of it here. A "children's party" of second generation missionaries brought together a score of young men and women a few days since. Quite unusual was a service in the Auditorium last Sunday, when Margaret Hall, the infant daughter of two young missionaries, was baptized by her grandfather, the other grandfather and an uncle assisting, and both grandmothers and an aunt being present, the entire group being missionaries. Mark you, this was not the kind of New England community, but in an ancient village in the heart of Japan. The grandfather who officiated was a Cumberland Presbyterian, and he used the New Presbyterian Book of Common Worship.

Makers of an Empire.
One is surprised to find in this single European community of perhaps 600 persons a dozen or more whose names have been for nearly a generation household words in thousands of American homes. Here are men whose careers are inseparably intertwined with the making of the new Japan; not only are they among the leaders of the Christian church here, but they are also conspicuous figures in the civil history of the empire, the pioneers of higher education, the makers of Japan's new literature, and the introductors of the deeply-prized "western learning."

Critical Days in Japan.
If they cannot preach the missionaries can think. They have to do so if they are to work here. Japan is not big enough to hold that type of man who is incapable to new ideas. Confidently, I understand that this is the reason why not a few men who felt themselves called to be missionaries have been recalled by the boards after a few years on the field. The religious problems of Japan are tremendous; just now they are acute. There are nothing like them in America, nor are they at all understood there. Christianity in Japan is passing through an epoch that is also a crisis.
It must now suffice to say that living face to face with a great and vital question, which has had no parallel in missionary history, and is bound itself to become a precedent for other nations, has made serious mind of statesmen of many of these missionaries. They have not time to quibble over details that vex many American ministers, and, in consequence, Christian union in Japan is far ahead of the same movement anywhere else in the world; and the missionaries are more catholic, cosmopolitan and large-visioned than any similar body of clergymen of whom I have knowledge.

Roosevelt and Bryan, Missionaries.
As illustrative of their broad views of the situation take their sentiments concerning Mr. William J. Bryan, whose recent visit is a vivid memory in love with Mr. Bryan because of his smile and saunter; good manners go far further than a private car in this land. The missionaries, without regard to creed or party, are enthusiastically over the nomination of Mr. Bryan's tour of Japan; everywhere he committed himself unequivocally to the Christian position, and he added and printed comments on missions written by him in active newspapers throughout the empire, as his biography and speeches had been printed upon his appearance.

Now missionaries are talking of possibly visiting President Roosevelt at the close of his term; he will be formally invited, and an eminent missionary now en route to America is charged with the mission of presenting the missionaries' attitude of the Japanese towards him. For there is no man, outside of the emperor and a few war heroes, who is so popular in this country today, as the President of the United States. The missionaries have circulated widely in Japan, the address on the Bible delivered at Oyster Bay, and other religious addresses of the President. His letter to the Interchurch Conference on Federation in New York was immediately printed by most of the Japanese dailies. In these ways it may fairly be said that President Roosevelt, and Mr. Bryan are more potent influences in the religious evolution of Japan than many professional missionaries combine.

The Japanese Press and Religion.
Use the latter make of these men I cite as evidence of their alertness and broad-mindedness. Another progressive plan which waits only a special donation from America to put it into immediate execution is the use of the advertising columns of the daily Japanese newspapers for purposes of religious propaganda. Publishers in Japan have already agreed to place from one to two columns a day at the disposal of the missionaries for the insertion of Christian teaching in popular form. The expense of such advertising is small. In a newspaper of 20,000 daily circulation, including the preparation of the material, would be less than the salary of an ordinary preacher in America. On the other side of the Pacific, but a missionary enterprise by missionaries. Subscribers, chiefly members of the missions, pay five dollars a year for each share; then, whenever a native congregation needs help in putting up a church building, it applies to the building association, which advances a sum equal to not more than one-third of the total cost of the structure. For each grant so made every shareholder is assessed one dollar, the aggregate assessment for a year being limited to five dollars. In return the shareholder gets the privilege of paying another ten dollars the next year!

Considering the charge that the missionaries are "graters," I am interested to find many evidences like this of the selflessness by missionaries to their own work. I have met at least one wealthy man who supports his mission besides. Another prominent missionary is maintained, and the expenses of his work are paid by his brother, a well-known American manufacturer.

Facing the Facts.
Most of the missionaries here are Americans and Canadians, and it is gratifying to find that they seem still to retain the traits which make them not fanatics. Their attitude is one of a sober confronting of "the things as they are." They suffer no delusions concerning their work or the receiving the paying. The title an illustration. The day of my arrival a young Oklahoman (the persistence of American provincialisms and dialects over here, even among men who like Japan, is interesting) is interesting to observe, a total stranger, helped me out of a linguistic snarl at the post office. Then he crossed the street with me and smilingly, and you must always begin with a smile in this polite land, helped me make a purchase 25 per cent cheaper than the native's asking price. The duplicity and guilefulness of the Japanese are as an open book to these missionaries who, while intensely loyal to the Japanese, are not blind to certain graver national shortcomings. The varied difficulties which beset their own work are frankly recognized; not all missionary meetings hear reports as temperate and discriminating as are made by the workers here.

COLLEGE MEN FOR THE FARM.

Result of Change in Economic and Social Conditions.

The character of farming is changing rapidly. It is coming more and more to be an efficient, profitable and attractive business. With here and there an exception, the past few years have not given much constructive thought to the business—nothing like as much as the merchant gives to his business or the doctor to his. It has been so "easy" a business that untrained men could succeed in it. The change in economic and social conditions is breaking up the tradition. Farming is becoming more difficult, and the old methods are being discarded. The future only the well-informed and efficient-thinking man can succeed; that is, only the educated man.

The country is to offer other advantages to the great city. The fact that city representation is increasing in the legislatures should make the able country representative more of a marked man. The growth of the institute movement, of the grange and other rural organizations, gives fresh opportunity to develop leadership of a high order.

It would seem that, by the nature of the progress we are making, the college man should go to the farm. In fact, college men have been going back from the beginning of the agricultural education movement. Statistics show that a large percentage of the college graduates actually go to the farm, and this in spite of the fact that cities have been growing with marvelous rapidity, and that the whole system of agricultural colleges and experiment stations has been developing and calling for men. Considering the limitations under which the agricultural colleges have developed, without sympathy, with the indifference and sometimes the hostility of the city—the men who should have known better—with wholly inadequate funds, it is little less than marvelous what they have accomplished with a generation of students that the proportion of students of the leading agricultural colleges, who now engage in agricultural pursuits, is greater than students of that colleges of law or other professions. The students who follow their chosen profession, no one now questions the value of education to a lawyer or physician; why question its value to a farmer? The educated man will go back to the farm if he is fitted to be a farmer—Baltimore's Magazine.

A Rooster That Rules.

It is not often that a barnyard fowl attains neighborhood popularity, but such is the case with a large Massachusetts red rooster belonging to Charles Davis of St. John avenue. A few weeks ago Mr. Davis was attracted to the rooster by a white cat, a half-grown setter pup he is training. He found that the dog had been driven into a corner and was being savagely attacked by a big cock, and before he could interfere in behalf of the pup it had been pretty heavily marked by the rooster's spurs.

Since that time Red, as he has come to be called, has become a neighborhood bully and refuses to allow any other dog or cat to come within the grounds under his rule. Curiously enough, dogs will not fight back, but actually run from his assaults. As for gamecocks, he has probably thrashed more of them than any other bird in the city—Kansas City Journal.

Two for Each of Them.

Battle Craig, the magisterial authority of a small town in Scotland, has six cats, with whom he is devoted to parade the market place, says Dr. Kerr in his "Memories." They furnished him the basis of a mathematical joke.
"A fine family you have," strangers would often say. "Is this the whole of it?"
"No, indeed," the battle would reply. "I have two sisters at home for each and every one of them."
"What the visitor would exclaim, rapidly counting the sons. "Twelve daughters!"
"No, indeed! Just two!"

Interesting Romance.

The story of an interesting picture find in a Wigan (Eng.) curiosity shop was reported recently.
Mr. J. F. Morris of Upholland, a well-known gentleman in the Wigan district, walked into the oyster saloon of Mr. Walter Patterson at Wigan, the other day. Mr. Patterson, besides dispensing oysters, deals in old paintings and curios, and amongst these Mr. Morris' attention was directed to a canvas, which he purchased for the sum of $125.
The picture, on investigation, has proved to be an unfinished portrait of St. Godfrey Kneller, by himself. The purchaser has since refused an offer of $350 for it.

Not Home Grown.

"He planted some mint in his back yard."
"Any coope up?"
"Some came up yesterday, but it came up with the spring lamb from the market."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

ONE LIFE LOST IN FIRE

UNIVERSITY BUILDING IS DESTROYED IN KANSAS CITY.

SIX PERSONS MISSING

Scores of Women and Artists Trapped in Unsafe Structure—Property Loss Is About $250,000.

Kansas City, Mo.—Fire Wednesday afternoon destroyed the five-story University building at the northwest corner of Locust and Ninth streets, causing a property loss estimated at a quarter of a million dollars. One life was lost, six persons are missing and 15 persons were more or less seriously injured.

The building was occupied by Montgomery Ward & Co. as offices, and by numerous artists and musicians, who lost everything.

The known dead: George De Mare, age 32, an art instructor.
Missing the missing is Miss Maud Witteborn, piano teacher; last seen at the window of her studio on the fifth floor.

Miss Alexandra Blumberg, a Russian pianist, sustained a fractured skull and may die.

The University building was built by the Pepper estate of Philadelphia for the University of Kansas. It was in unsafe condition it was abandoned by the Y. M. C. A. ten years ago. It contains two small auditoriums, one of which, that on the third floor, was used by the Kansas City Athenaeum, which was holding a session when the fire started, half a hundred prominent women being in attendance.

The fire started a few minutes before three o'clock in the basement, in a quantity of refuse in the Montgomery Ward storeroom, close to the elevator. Ten minutes later the flames began shooting up the elevator shaft and all escape save by the fire escapes was shut off. The fire quickly filled with a dense, suffocating smoke, and when the first fire apparatus arrived on the scene people crowded almost every window, appealing for help, while scores of women and the first girls, filled the fire escapes and were climbing wildly to the ground. In many of the studios pupils were taking lessons. The firemen were slow in getting to the top and the first ladders played by them against the building failed to reach above the third floor.

George De Mare, art instructor in the high school, and a portrait painter who came to this country four years ago from Paris, jumped from his studio window on the fifth floor and was picked up dead. He recently married a prominent society woman. She was in the fire with her husband, and her husband's body was brought in, and faint.

When the attention of Senator Foraker was called to his statement, he said: "I don't want any political honors at the hands of the Republicans of Ohio except with their hearty endorsement. Therefore, if what Mr. Cox suggests and recommends should meet with the approval, no one will support Secretary Taft more cordially than I shall."

POLICE PROTECT FRISCO CARS.

Two Are Run Six Miles and No Shots Are Fired.

San Francisco.—The police for the first time since the commencement of the street car strike, furnished actual protection Wednesday afternoon for two cars, manned by 21 strike-breakers, and as a result these cars were run over 6 miles of track without the firing of a shot. Four men, one of them a strike-breaker, the other three members of the Electrical Workers' union, were injured.

THE REVIEW

M. T. LANEY, Editor and Publisher.

FRIDAY, MAY 10, 1907.

The water works system of this village is more than self supporting. During the past year the cost of operating was $2,833.51 and the receipts were $3,076.24, leaving a surplus in the water fund of $242.73. Of course to this amount should be added so much for each hydrant, usually figured at $25, where water is furnished by a private company, as a protection to property against loss by fire. Since our water work system was installed we have not had a serious fire. A great deal of property has been saved by the prompt action of the fire department. In fact, there has been enough property saved from loss by fire to pay the whole cost of putting in the water works system.

The Chicago & North-Western Ry. company paid for water consumed during the year $1,268.74, which is more than $100 per month. The profit to the village on this one account is $211.45 for the year and still some of our citizens complain that the company is getting its water too cheaply. They are the best consumer we have. They pay for what they use.

If meters were put in for every consumer and a minimum rate charged the cost of pumping water would be reduced materially.

The contract for the pumping, five cents per 1,000 gallons, has proved to be less expensive than if the village were to do the pumping by steam.

What would you say is the crying need of the town? We think it is a sprinkling wagon. Such a convenience is no longer considered a luxury but a necessity. The smallest villages now have their streets well sprinkled to make life more comfortable and healthy. Waukegan has long had a cart, owned by the village and scarcely a place the size of Waukegan but has it still laid daily.

Many places are sprinkled under town control, while in others, private carts are run by men who are paid so much a month by the people in front of whose homes the street is sprinkled. It is time that either a public or private wagon was run and clouds of dust prevented from entering our homes and lungs.

During the past year in this village the property owners constructed 7,055.5 running feet of five-foot cement sidewalks voluntarily at a cost of $1,367.75. Of this amount the village contributed as a bonus $75.00 and built 3,015 sq. feet of crosswalks at a cost of $346.73.

During the past two years, two and one half miles of sidewalks have been built and only in one case was it necessary to order a walk built by special assessment, the Jackson property on Grove avenue, the contract for which has been let to Wiseman & Brandt and will be built at once.

Some of the citizens of this village are under the impression that the Electric Light company charge the full amount of their contract each month for lighting streets although light is furnished or not. They are in error. The company deducts from their bill for any portion of the time during the month that light is not furnished, by unavoidable accidents, pro rata. They furnish us with 40 candle power lamps, while their contract only calls for 32. Do not complain before you investigate the facts.

A number of railroads have erected five depots at various village stations and also beautified their grounds and paved the approaches. In most cases the street leading from the depot is in the worst possible condition when it should be in the very best. It is probable that almost every railroad in the country would be glad to work in conjunction with the citizens of a town or village to bring about needed improvements, and the expense would thus be shared between them.

In fancy one sees the business district improved and beautified, the depot is painted a more attractive and cheerful shade, grass plots and flower beds with pretty shrubbery surrounding it and wide roofs covering the platforms; modern buildings replace little old places of business. "Burdock Park" is no more and a sprinkling cart keeps down the dust, agreeable and dirty dust. This dream will be a reality in a few years.

There is a move under way to install a gas lamp near the fountain in the downtown district to be kept burning all night. The gas company furnishes the light free under the conditions of their franchise. It is a good move and we hope the village board will act promptly.

FRIDAY, MAY 10, 1907.

The water works system of this village is more than well supporting. During the past year the cost of operating was $2,033.51 and the receipts were $3,076.24, leaving a surplus in the water fund of $1,042.73. Of course to this amount should be added so much for each hydrant, usually figured at $25, where water is furnished by a private company, as a protection to property against loss by fire. Since our water work system was installed we have not had a serious fire. A great deal of property has been saved by the prompt action of the fire department. In fact there has been enough property saved from loss by fire to pay the whole cost of putting in the water works system.

The Chicago & North-Western Ry. company paid for water consumed during the year $1,266.74, which is more than $100 per month. The profit to the village on this amount is $211.45 for the year and still some of our citizens complain that the company is getting its water too cheaply. They are the best consumer we have. They pay for what they use.

If meters were put in for every consumer and a minimum rate charged the cost of pumping water would be reduced materially.

The contract for the pumping, 10 cents per 1,000 gallons, has proved to be less expensive than if the village were to do the pumping by steam.

What would you say is the crying need of the town? We think it is a sprinkling wagon. Such a convenience is no longer considered a luxury but a necessity. The smaller villages have their streets well sprinkled to make life more comfortable and healthy. Wauconda has long had a cart owned by the village and scarcely a place the size of Barrington but has its dust laid daily.

Many places are sprinkled under town control, while in others, private carts are run by men who are paid once a month by the people in front of whose home the street is sprinkled. It is time that either a public or private wagon was run and control of dust prevented from entering our homes and lungs.

During the past year in this village the property owners contributed 7,575.50 running feet of sidewalk, cement sidewalks voluntarily at a cost of $1,047.73. Of this amount the village contributed as a bonus $975.00 and built 3,000 feet of crosswalks at a cost of $346.51.

During the past two years we have one half mile of sidewalk laid, built and only in one case was it necessary to order a walk built by special assessment, the Jackson property on Airline avenue, the contract for which has been let to Wiseman & Brandt and will be built at once.

Some of the citizens of this village are under the impression that the Electric Light company charge the full amount of their contract each month for lighting streets, whether light is furnished or not. They are in error. The company deducts from their bill for any portion of the time during the month that light is not furnished, by unavoidable accidents, pro rata. They furnish us with candle power lamps, while our contract only calls for 32. Do not complain before you investigate the facts.

A number of railroads have erected fuel depots at various village stations and also beautified their grounds and paved the approaches. In most cases the street leading from the depot is in the worst possible condition when it should be in the very best. It is probable that almost every railroad in the country would be glad to work in conjunction with the citizens of a town or village to bring about needed improvements, and the expense would thus be shared between them.

In fancy one sees the business district improved and beautified, the depot is painted a more attractive and cheerful shade, grass plots and flower beds with pretty shrubbery surrounding it and wide roofs covering the platforms; modern buildings in place little old places of business. "Burlock Park" is no more and a sprinkling cart keeps down the dust, agreeable and dirty dust. This dream will be a reality in a few years.

There is a move under way to install a gas lamp near the fountain in the town district to be kept burning all night. The gas company furnishes the light free under the conditions of their franchise. It is a good move and we hope the village board will act promptly.

BLOODY STRIKE RIOT

NON-UNION CAR CREWS REPLY TO STONES WITH BULLETS.

MOB FRANTIC WITH RAGE

Eight Men Are Shot in San Francisco,
One of Whom Dies Later—
Police Are Slow to Use Force.

San Francisco.—A pitched battle between strike-breakers in the uniforms of car inspectors and strikers and their sympathizers was fought Tuesday afternoon on Tenth street for more than an hour. Eight men were shot, among them a policeman and Detective Bell, and several of the wounded men died in the night.

The shooting was done by strike-breakers from car windows. In response to showers of paving stones and bricks hurled at them by the mob that chased the cars back after block, picking up their wounded as they ran. Many squads of police reserves were called out, and in the confusion drawn revolvers they chased and dispersed the mob.

The bloody affray was the outcome of the first attempt of the United Railroads to run passenger cars out of their Turk and Filmore street barns at 2:30 p. m. A reporter who rode on horseback behind a string of cars saw four men shot from the car windows. The first shot was fired at the intersection of Turk and Buchanan streets, by a guard from the rear platform of the car that headed the string of seven. The bullet struck a young man standing on the curb and inflicted a flesh wound in his arm. The shot was not fired until most of the windows of the car had been smashed with stones, several of which had struck and severely bruised some of the guards on board.

The shooting of this man aroused the mob to a pitch of frenzy. Paving stones and other obstructions were cast on the track, and in that way the car was brought to a standstill at block farther on. Hurling any missiles that came easiest to hand, cursing and screaming for the lives of the strike-breakers, hundreds of men and boys surrounded the car. In a moment a fusillade of shots rang out and the crowd fell back.

At several other points the rioting and shooting were repeated. Competent observers of the rioting expressed freely the opinion that the tragic happenings of the afternoon might have been in large measure averted if an adequate police force had been on hand, and if the police had not hesitated to use force in opposing violence.

TOWNS WIPED OUT BY TORNADO.

Big Texas Windstorm Carries Death and Destruction.

Mount Pleasant, Tex.—Heavy damages and loss of life and property by the tornado which swept North Texas late Monday. The towns of Ridgeway and Highbright, 40 miles west of here, are reported practically destroyed. All telegraphic and telephonic communications are interrupted and details are lacking. Nine people are reported killed in the two villages and vicinity. Several persons were injured by flying debris.

Highbright, a town of 1,500 inhabitants, is reported to have been completely destroyed. Great damage is reported at Caney, a negro settlement, and loss of life may have occurred there.

The tornado appeared in the southwest and moved to the northwest at a terrific rate of speed, demolishing almost everything in its path. Houses were raised to the ground and many people sought the shelter of storm cellars. Crops are badly damaged and fences have been destroyed.

Dr. John Watson Passes Away at Mt.

Mount Pleasant, Ia.—Dr. John Watson ("Ian MacLaren"), who has been suffering here the past two weeks from an abscess in his ear, died Monday morning.

Dr. Watson came to Mount Pleasant on April 23 from Minneapolis to deliver a lecture to the students of the Iowa Wesleyan university. Enroute Dr. Watson became ill and was compelled to cancel the date for the lecture. The illness, which was declared to be tonsillitis, progressed favorably. Last Monday and Tuesday the patient was able to be up and around and transacted some business. Wednesday an abscess formed on the right ear. The system absorbed the pus, and in 24 hours developed serious symptoms. The physicians regarded the case as critical, but hoped to stem the tide of the disease. Blood poisoning set in and on Saturday other abscesses started to form in the left ear and throat. The patient's condition was aggravated by a bad attack of rheumatism. Monday morning the physicians sent for a Chicago specialist, who arrived in the afternoon. Dr. Watson's end was sudden and unexpected and was hastened by a weak heart. His wife, who has been his constant companion in his last illness, left the room at 11 o'clock. She was gone about 15 minutes, and returning, found her husband lifeless.

BIG STRIKE IN ORIZABA.

Operatives in Textile Mills Out—
Ready for an Outbreak.

Orizaba, Mexico.—Two thousand operatives of the Rio Blanco textile mill and 1,000 from the mills at Nogales are on strike and the streets are thronged with excited and restless men ready for an outbreak, but they are held in check by a large force of rurales. The trouble in Rio Blanco mills was due, say the men charged, to the fact that they were required to do a large amount of extra work for which they were not paid and the mill at Nogales one of the men engaged in a fight with a fellow employee for which he was arrested and discharged from the mills. His fellow workers demanded his reinstatement and when the demand was refused they went on strike.

Gas Company Must Pay.

Columbus, O.—The city of Columbus won a signal victory in the supreme court at Ohio Tuesday in the case against the Columbus Gas company to enforce its right to the city $4,000 annually for franchise rights. The company paid the amount annually for several years then refused on the ground that the city could not legally accept compensation. The city lost in the lower courts, and all these decisions are reversed by the Supreme court judges. The finding affects many of the utility companies, and the decision is of vital interest to them.

IRISH BILL IN COMMONS

MEASURE SEEKING SELF-GOVERN-MENT INTRODUCED.

Big Crowd Fills British House to Witness Introduction by Chief Secretary Birrell.

London.—The Irish bill was introduced in the house of commons Tuesday by the chief secretary for Ireland, Mr. Birrell. The introduction of this measure had been anticipated with the keenest interest, as it presents in a new form the long-drawn-out struggle of Ireland for self-government. In anticipation of the event the house of commons was crowded, the lobby and galleries being filled with the conspicuous figures in the Irish movement. The bill had been drafted by Mr. Birrell, who succeeded Mr. Bryce, on the latter's recent appointment as ambassador at Washington and to some extent followed the lines of the measure which Mr. Bryce had tentatively framed for Ireland.

Prior to the appearance of the measure it was popularly termed "the 'demon bill'." But today its advocates refer to it as the "Irish council bill," owing to its creation of a council to take over a number of the administrative functions of Ireland. But to Ireland and the general public the bill is the "Irish bill," with home rule presented in such new and modified form as to enlist the support of the elements of the house of commons.

Mr. Birrell's explanation of the new bill was received with deep interest and unwavering attention. Its terms had been kept secret except to a few of the foremost Irish leaders, so that all alike were on the tip-toe of expectancy in regard to the measure.

The bill does not give complete home rule, nor has it been the purpose of the government to grant Ireland complete self rule at a single stroke. On the contrary, as Mr. Birrell explained, the government's measure is but a stepping-stone; it is at least some measure of self rule for Ireland over Irish affairs, and this much accomplished it gives some promise of the ultimate realization of complete home rule. It remains to be seen whether Ireland and the Irish leaders will accept the measure as a sufficient realization of their hopes for home rule.

MARVIN BOY'S DEATH NATURAL.

Autopsy Shows That He Had Died of Exposure and Exhaustion.

Dover, Del.—To all practical purposes it is settled that there never was any crime involved in the death of four-year-old Horace Marvin, Jr., for two months thought kidnapped, and whose body was discovered Saturday in a marsh. In order to permit the burial of the child's body a partial inquest and partial autopsy were held and a single funeral took place Sunday afternoon, the interment being in the lawn near the house. The body later will be sent to St. Louis, Mo., to be buried beside the child's mother.

Dr. J. H. Wilson, who performed the autopsy, said that the boy had not been drowned, but had died probably from exposure and starvation.

Chicago Officials.

Chicago.—The grand jury Saturday evening returned several indictments resulting from the late mayoralty campaign. Those indicted are John She-Nu, former chief of police; W. L. O'Connell, former commissioner of public works and manager of the Dunne campaign; E. H. Roche, former city business agent and treasurer of the Dunne campaign; Frank D. Comerford, former attorney of the police department; and Detectives J. McElrath and P. J. McNulty. Collins is charged with mutilating public records, conspiring to violate the civil service law, and other offenses; the others are charged with conspiracy to violate the civil service law, and to do an illegal act in the formulation of the police detail that is said to have collected funds for Dunne's campaign.

SENTENCE $100,000 EMBEZZLER.

Jurors Find Birmingham Bank Paying Teller Guilty.

Birmingham, Ala.—The jury in the case of Alex R. Chisolm, former paying teller, charged with having embezzled $100,000 from the First National bank of Birmingham, which sum, it is alleged, he lost in cotton speculation, brought in a verdict of guilty shortly after ten o'clock Tuesday and fixed his punishment at six years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

When asked if he had anything to say as to why sentence should not be pronounced, Chisolm merely said that he regarded the verdict as a just one, that he was not crazy and never had been insane, but he regretted the affair very much. Sentence was then pronounced.

HOLD UP TRAIN: KILL ENGINEER

Bloody Work of Two Masked Bandits in Montana.

Butte, Mont.—The North Coast Limited, east-bound train No. 22 on the Northern Pacific railway, was held up by two masked men near Welch's Spur, a siding 18 miles east of Butte at 2:15 Tuesday morning. Engineer James C. Shaw was shot and killed and Fireman James Sullivan was shot through the arm without making an attempt to blow up the express car, as was evidently intended, the robbers jumped from the engine and ran down the mountain side, disappearing in a quick several hundred yards from the track.

William Powers later in the day was arrested near Woodville on the suspicion that he was connected with the hold-up.

BROOKLYN STRIKERS VIOLENT.

Sugar Trust Employees Attack Men Who Are Still Working.

New York.—A strike of 350 laborers in the Hudson river and Redding company's plant in Brooklyn, Monday, was attended with some disturbance which the police reserves were called upon to quell. The men left their bodies in the forenoon demanding an increase in wages from 15 to 18 cents an hour. They waited about the doors of the refinery until the noon hour. Every friend of Postum is urged to write and each letter will be held in high esteem by the company, as an evidence of such friendship, while the little boxes of gold and envelopes of money will reach many modest writers whose plain and sensible letters contain the facts desired, although the sender may have but a faint faith in winning a box of gold.

cause of Kidney Troubles.

Mrs. Margaret Zimmerman, of Clinton St., Napoleon, O., says: "For fifteen years I was a great sufferer from kidney troubles. My back pained me terribly. Every turn or move caused me a shooting pain. My eyesight was poor, dark spots appeared before me, and I had dizzy spells. For ten years I could not do housework, and for two years did not get out of the house. The kidney secretions were irregular, and doctors were helping me. Doan's Kidney Pills brought me quick relief, and finally cured me. They saved my life." Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

A Sane Analysis.

He—Won't you forgive me for kissing you?
She—No. If I did you'd kiss me again.
He—Then I won't.
She—Then what's the good?

Meaning Unknown.

De Wolf Hopper had a slight cold one night, and in a certain speech he referred to it in this fashion:
"I went to my doctor," he declared, "and the doctor said I had been eating too much nutritious food, and must stop it and eat farinaceous food. Since then I haven't been able to eat at all, for I don't know what either word means."

Long Time Between Calls.

"You used to wear a Vandike beard," she pouted. "I don't like you without it. The next time you come to see me wear one again."
He looked at her reproachfully.
"Do you know how long it takes to grow a respectable Vandike?" he asked her.
"No," said she. "How long?"
"About six months," he answered plaintively.

MORE BOXES OF GOLD

And Many Greenbacks.

325 boxes of Gold and Greenbacks will be sent to persons who write the most interesting and truthful letters of experience on the following topics:
1. How have you been affected by coffee drinking and by changing from coffee to Postum?
2. Give name and account of one or more coffee drinkers who have been hurt by it and have been induced to quit and use Postum.

3. Do you know any one who has been driven away from Postum because it is so much weaker and characterless at the first trial?
4. Did you set such a person right regarding the easy way to make it clear, black, and with a snappy, rich taste?
5. Have you ever found a better way to make it than to use four heaping teaspoons to the pint of water, let stand on stove until real boiling begins, and then stir at that time when actual boiling starts, boil 15 minutes more to extract the flavor and food value. (A piece of butter the size of a pen will prevent boiling over.) This coffee is confusing to those who have used Postum prior to the date of this advertisement.

Be honest and truthful, don't write poetry or fanciful letters, just plain, truthful statements of fact.
Contest will close June 1st, 1907, and no letters received after that date will be admitted. Examinations of letters will be made by three judges, not heard of the Postum Cereal Co. Ltd. Their decisions will be fair and final, and a neat little box containing a $10 gold piece sent to each of the five writers of the most interesting letters, containing a $15 gold piece to each of the 20 next best, a $2 greenback to each of the 100 next best, and a $1 greenback to each of the 200 next best, making cash prizes distributed to 325 persons.

Every friend of Postum is urged to write and each letter will be held in high esteem by the company, as an evidence of such friendship, while the little boxes of gold and envelopes of money will reach many modest writers whose plain and sensible letters contain the facts desired, although the sender may have but a faint faith in winning a box of gold.

Talk this subject over with your friends and see how many among you can win prizes. It is a good, honest competition and is the best kind of a cause, and costs the competitors absolutely nothing.

Address your letter to the Postum Cereal Co. Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich., writing your own name and address clearly.

INDIANA PEOPLE IN WESTERN CANADA.

What Shall We Do?—I've Got to Build Granaries.

A letter written to a Canadian Government agent from Tipton, Indiana, is but one of many similar that are in the hands of the Canadian government agents whose privilege it is to offer one hundred and sixty acres of land free, and low railway fares. But here is a copy of the letter:

Tipton, Ind., Nov. 25, 1906.

"At your earnest solicitation a party of us from Tipton left May 15 for Western Canada. Our interviews with you and a careful study of your literature led us to expect great things of your country when we should arrive there, and we were not disappointed. We went prepared to make a careful examination of our country and its resources, and we did so. At early dawn the second morning out of Tipton we awoke in a new world. As far as the eye could reach was an apparently limitless expanse of green wheat and prairie grasses. The vivid green of the wheat just beginning to stool out, and the inky blackness of the soil contrasted in a way beautiful to see. As horses and cattle were steamed into Winnipeg. Here we found a number of surprises. A hundred thousand souls well housed, with every convenience that goes to make a modern up-to-date city. Hotels, newspapers, stores, electric light, street railways, sewerage, waterworks, asphalt pavements, everything. With eyes and ears open we traveled for two thousand miles through Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, going out over the Canadian Pacific railway, via Calgary to Edmonton, and returning to Winnipeg over the Canadian Northern railway. In the meantime we made several side trips and stopped off at a number of points where we made drives into the surrounding country. The country was everywhere a scene of prosperity. The growing wheat, oats, rye, flax, barley, not little patches, but great fields, many of them a square mile in extent, the things, five and six inches deep, teams laying over an inky black ribbon of straight-as-gun barrels, and at right angles from the roads stretching into the distance, contrasted strangely with our little fields at home. The towns both large and small were doubly conspicuous, made so, first by their newness and second by the towering elevators contrasted against the immense crops of wheat grown in the immediate neighborhood.

The newness, the thrift, the hustle, the abundance of saw and hammer, the tens housing owners of buildings in various stages of completion, the piles of household effects and agricultural implements at the railway stations waiting to be shipped out to the "claims," the occasional steam plow turning its twenty or thirty acres a day, the sod houses, the unpainted houses of wood, the up-to-date modern last residences, the thousands of barns, all these were seen everywhere we went, an earnest of prosperity and wealth to be. We talked with men and visited their places that four years ago saw no smoke from their chimneys. Their houses, barns, implements and live stock were the equal of anything in Tipton County, and why not when they were raised in five, ten and twenty years, in one instance, the occasional steam plow turning its twenty or thirty acres a day, the sod houses, the unpainted houses of wood, the up-to-date modern last residences, the thousands of barns, all these were seen everywhere we went, an earnest of prosperity and wealth to be. We talked with men and visited their places that four years ago saw no smoke from their chimneys. Before leaving Indiana we agreed that if the opportunities were as great as they were represented to be, that we would buy, and own in partnership a box of gold and leave one of our number to look after and operate it. This we accordingly did.

Just before time to thresh I received a letter from him. "What shall we do?" he said. "I've got to build granaries. There's so much wheat that the railways are just swamped. We can't get cars and the elevators are all full. I never saw anything like it." In reply we wrote, "Good for you. Go ahead and build; your story sounds better than the letters we used to get from our friends in Kansas when they were telling the fact that the wheat had been destroyed by the chinch bugs and the corn by hot winds, and that they must sell the stock for means to live on. Yes, build by all means." He said, and our wheat was sold by a winter made twenty-seven bushels per acre.

Very truly yours,
(84) A. G. HURKHAFF,
(84) J. F. TRELLER-FREIDRICH,
