

BARRINGTON REVIEW.

VOL. 23. NO. 39.

BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1907

$1.50 A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

TEN O'CLOCK CLOSING

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD.

George W. Foreman Charged

With Violating Village

Ordinance.

George W. Foreman charged with allowing his saloon to remain open after ten o'clock, Saturday evening, November 9, 1907, in violation of a village ordinance, was tried before Police Magistrate H. J. Linn, Tuesday.

It took all the afternoon to select five juries, who by agreement were agreed to decide the case.

The suit was brought by H. G. Auer, as a representative of the Law and Order League and was represented by Attorney M. W. Mattison; Attorney Claire Edwards of Waukegan represented the defendant.

The jury selected were: George Knage, Robert Bennett, Samuel Landwehr, Will Rieke and J. Hettlinger. In the witness call the prosecution were: H. G. Auer and George Steffenhoefel, H. J. Lageschulte, J. M. Topping and F. J. Alversen. These testified that they had been to Chicago on the evening in question and remained home on the train arriving here about 11:30 p.m. Auer said that he looked through the window and saw Foreman back of the bar with a white apron on and that there were four or five persons in the room including a minor.

Steffenhoefel testified that his attention was attracted to the place on account of its being lighted. When asked by Attorney Mattison what he then did, he said, "I made a bee-line for Foreman's" much to the amusement of a large audience which had gathered to hear the testimony. His evidence and that of H. J. Lageschulte was practically the same as Mr. Auer's.

F. J. Alversen said he was walking by the place about 11:35 p.m. and saw people going in and out.

Night Watchman Topping said that he noticed Foreman's saloon apparently open after ten o'clock and that he stopped into the place and was advised that permission had been given by the corporation and license committee to remain open until twelve o'clock that evening. He said he did not pay any more attention to it, thinking he had that right.

Attorney Edwards moved to take the case from the jury, claiming that they had not made a case. Attorney Mattison objected and Magistrate, Mr. Lines would not rule upon the point, saying that Justices are not supposed to know anything.

The attorneys then proceeded with their arguments and the case was given to the jury. The jury would not return a verdict until their fees were paid and a collection was taken up among members of the Law and Order League to produce the necessary two dollars and fifty cents, which was successful.

The jury found the defendant guilty and fixed the fine at ten dollars and costs. It is said an appeal will be taken.

Two Couples Married.

Miss Martha Wendt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wendt, and Charles Jahnke, Jr., were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, three miles south of this village, last evening at eight o'clock. Rev. G. H. Stanger of St. Paul's church performed the ceremony in the presence of immediate friends and relatives. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served.

The marriage is announced this week of Miss Elizabeth Geddis, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Geddis, who live northwest of town, to Richard Wieherdt who lived northeast of town. The wedding took place early in the summer. The couple have gone to Chicago to live.

Section of Office.

Mayflower Camp, No. 2382, Royal Neighbors of America, elected the following officers at their meeting Tuesday evening, December tenth:

President - Kate Leonard

Orator -

Vice Oracle - Emma Comstock

Chancellor - Mary Jules

Recorder - Margaret Laney

Marshal - Jennie Sutherland

Inner Sentinel - Lena Jacobson

Outer Sentinel - Caroline Dryer

Manager - Belle Brazeal

William Dunham Church Died

Tuesday at His Home in Hebron, Nebraska.

Mrs. Catherine K. Church, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. Sarah Benton, on Grove avenue, received word of the sudden death from stomach trouble of her son, William Dunham Church, of Hebron, Nebraska, formerly of this place, who died Tuesday, December tenth; although Mr. Church went west nearly thirty years ago, he was well-known by the older residents of Barrington. On December 20th, he would have been eighty-three years old.

William Church was born on the old Church farm near Barrington Center, December 24th, 1844, the son of Miller and Catharine Church. His boyhood was passed in the country and in attendance at the school at the Center. When a young man he married Miss Sarah Kingsley, a daughter of the late Shubel Kingsley and sister of Mrs. H. Powers and Mrs. Adelle Lines. After a short residence in this village they moved to Chester, Nebraska, where Mr. Church became a very prominent man in business, social and political affairs.

In Chester, he engaged in a lumber and coal business and twenty-seven years ago, erected the first frame building in town. Later when they moved to Hebron, Thayer county, Mr. Church held minor city offices and was mayor for two terms, one term being in late years. During his term, he was active in the erection of a fine court house now standing in Hebron.

He was a Mason of high degree and a member of the G. A. R. In the Civil War he was in Company E, 13th Illinois.

Mrs. Church and sons, Frank and Harry survive and Mrs. Sarah Benton of Barrington, Mrs. George Benton of Belleville, Neb., and Mrs. Jennie Davis of Hebron, sisters and Delon Church of Barrington, Charles of Rogers, Iowa, and George of Smith Center, Kansas, brothers.

The funeral was held to day in Hebron with burial in Chester.

Annual Y. M. C. A. Meeting

You are cordially invited to attend the annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. on Sunday, December 15th.

The afternoon meeting will be held at the M. E. church at two thirty and the evening meeting at the Salem Evangelical church at seven thirty.

Prominent workers and singers will conduct the meeting in the afternoon and in the evening the meeting will be addressed by Mr. L. A. Bowman, a man of eighteen years experience in Y. M. C. A. work in Illinois and a practical man who will interest you. Rev. B. R. Sellette, presiding elder of the Zion Evangelical association will speak.

Boys' Corn Growing Contest.

This contest is open to any boy in Cook county who has raised corn, from seed furnished by the Farmers' Institute, through its president, Peter Beyer, or from seed selected from corn furnished by the institute at previous seasons. An exhibition shall consist of ten ears, and must be sent to Prouty & Jencks, Barrington, express prepaid, not later than December 16th. Corn receiving prizes will become the property of the institute and sold to the highest bidder. Each contestant must send to Prouty & Jencks, Barrington, heights, not later than December 16th an essay telling how the corn was raised. The first prize is a trip to the Short Corn Course, at Urbana, to be held in January. Other prizes of cash or equivalent value ranging from five to one dollar will be given. County Superintendent A. F. Nightengale requests that country teachers interest themselves in this matter.

This notice is issued by the authority of the officers of the Cook County Farmers' Institute.

Bridge Completed.

The commissioners of highways of Barrington township have just completed a piece of work of which they may well feel proud. They have caused to be built a permanent concrete bridge, one mile west of this village, on the county line road at a cost of $750, one half of which expense will be borne by the county commissioners of Cook county. The Joliet Bridge and Iron Company did the work.

Window glass in all sizes from 7x9 to 36x32 always carried in stock. Glazing promptly attended to.

LARKEY & COMPANY, 18 LaMey and Co's.

Jap a Lac in any quantity you desire

A. W. MEYER

BARRINGTON - - ILLINOIS

OUR ANNUAL HOLIDAY SALE

Something for Everybody at THE BIG STORE

It makes no difference in what direction your desires lie—whether you prefer the USEFUL ARTICLE or the ORNAMENTAL, or a combination of both—your wants can be satisfied at MEYER'S BIG STORE. We have the most complete assortment of HOLIDAY GOODS ever shown in Barrington and a visit to our store will convince you it will pay you to trade at THE BIG STORE. The list below will make it easier for you to decide how to divide the amount you want to spend:

Presents for Father.

Shaving Sets 75¢ up to $2.50

Set Military Brushes 75¢ up to $2.00

Cap Cases 75¢ up to $2.00

Stockings Set 75¢ up to $2.00

Beard Pipe Sets 75¢ up to $2.00

Travelers' Comb and Brush 75¢ up to $1.50

Traveling Bags $1.50 up to $6.00

Suit Cases $1.25 up to $6.00

Fur Caps $1.25 up to $5.00

Collar and Cuff Box 50¢ up to $2.50

Gloves 50¢ up to $2.50

Neckties 25¢ up to 75¢

Linen Handkerchiefs 10¢ up to 25¢

Mufflers 50¢ up to $2.00

Fur Coats $14.50 up to $45.00

Overcoats $5.00 up to $2.00

Presents for Mother.

Silver Ware $1.00 up to $10.00

Manicure Sets 75¢ up to $5.00

Gloves 25¢ up to $10.00

Sewing Boxes 25¢ up to $2.00

Fancy Pillows $1.00 up to $2.00

Hand Mirrors 10¢ up to $2.00

Picture Albums 50¢ up to $5.00

Paint Pictures 25¢ up to $2.00

Kid Gloves $1.00 up to $1.50

China Cups and Saucers 10¢ up to $1.00

China and Elegant Assortment 25¢ up to $10.00

Hand Bags 25¢ up to $2.50

Umbrellas 50¢ up to $3.50

Fine Handkerchiefs 5¢ up to 50¢

Furs 25¢ up to $10.00

Perfume 50¢ up to $2.50

Iron Toys 25¢ up to $2.50

Set of Dishes $5.50 up to $25.00

Queen Quality Shoes $2.50 up to $2.50

Sewing Machines $12.50 up to $40.00

Presents for Big Brother.

Watch Chains 25¢ up to $4.50

Watchmen Novelties $1.00 up to $12.00

Watches 10¢ up to $1.00

Card Case 10¢ up to 50¢

Bill Book 50¢ up to $2.00

Cuff Buttons 25¢ up to $1.50

Watch Charms 50¢ up to $2.00

Stock Pins 25¢ up to $1.00

Caps 25¢ up to $1.00

Neckties 25¢ up to 75¢

Rings 50¢ up to $5.00

Brooch Pins 75¢ up to $2.00

Silk Mufflers 85¢ up to $10.00

Silk Petticoats 85¢ up to $10.00

Silk Umbrellas 85¢ up to $2.50

Presents for Big Sister.

Frilly Waist in Box 75¢ up to $2.50

Fancy Slippers $1.00 up to $1.00

Trinket Box 25¢ up to $1.00

Photo Basket 75¢ up to $1.00

Antique Jewelry 25¢ up to $1.00

Handkerchiefs 5¢ up to 75¢

Writing Outfits 50¢ up to $1.00

Stationery 25¢ up to $1.00

Perfume 50¢ up to $5.00

Scissors 50¢ up to $5.00

Sweaters $2.00 up to $2.50

Toilet Cases 50¢ up to $3.00

Bedding 10¢ up to 50¢

Silk Petticoats 85¢ up to $10.00

Silk Mufflers 85¢ up to $2.50

NOW, HOW ABOUT THE BABIES?

MAKE THEM HAPPY BY SELECTING FROM THE FOLLOWING.

Baby Dolls Set 75¢ up to $1.00

Baby Doll 10¢ up to $1.00

Jumping Jacks 5¢ up to 10¢

Bone Rattles 10¢ up to 25¢

Iron Toys 5¢ up to 10¢

Dray Wagon 10¢ up to 25¢

We have added the most complete line of

JEWELRY AND SILVERWARE

ever seen in this town. It will pay you to get our prices. All Jewelry and Silverware

ENGRAVED FREE OF CHARGE.

We have been lucky in the purchase of the entire Factory Sample Line of

100 DOLLS

PRICES FROM 25¢ TO $5.00

You can't afford to miss this opportunity to get a doll for the little one—a good doll at a reasonable price.

We have made arrangements whereby you can buy your presents now, and we will keep them until the day before Christmas, and if you live within our delivery district we will deliver December 24th.

CANDY! NUTS! CANDY! NUTS! TWO THOUSAND POUNDS OF IT

Just think of it! ONE WHOLE TON! Every kind and every price, 10 cents per pound and up.

Our Branch Store at Lake Zurich

Has the most complete line ever carried in that town. If they haven't what you want tell them and you will get it the next day. Our prices are lower than the catalogue houses, goods better, and you don't have to wait a month for them.

Our Grocery Department has been replenished with a brand new stock for Christmas.

LEAVE YOUR ORDER NOW

"THE BIG STORE," A. W. MEYER, BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS

Barrington Review.

M. T. LAMET, Ed. and Pub.
BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS.

Destiny is darkness without a star to light the midnight gloom.

In Berlin they number the houses with illuminated paint. How about the keyholes?

It is pretty difficult to question the orthodoxy of the man who believes and acts as he professes.

How often we imagine that friends and the world have betrayed us when the fault is with ourselves.

The Vanderbilt baby is heir to $60,000,000, in addition to coats, measles, crop, mumps and other things.

The time we spend in fearing and nursing trouble should be used in gayly kicking it out of the house.

Judge Kehler gave a divorce to a man who cooked while his wife danced. Anyone would dance at the mere sight of most men cooking.

A Virginia girl found a diamond in the core of an apple. The pearl in the traditional restaurant oyster is getting hopelessly outclassed.

Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, who bemoans the fate of being rich, can depend upon it that some millions of brave Americans are willing to leap to her rescue.

Henry Phipps has opened an apartment house whose tenants must all have children. These Pittsburgh millionaires are going the limit in fresh-kaishes.

Gladys Vanderbilt's share of her father's estate has grown from $7,500,000 to $12,000,000. Perhaps her husband-to-be will see to it that nothing of the sort happens again.

It is not likely, however, that the plan of those New York doctors to alleviate pain by exposure to a strong light will receive any testimonials from the bad trusts.

The trouble in Persia has got to such an extent that they are organizing a general strike. The east will find public matters a very different affair when the feminine finger once gets in the political pie.

Two men and a woman have been arrested by the New York police for carrying on a game of swindling in Wall Street. They certainly can plead some extenuation of their offense in the influence of environment.

The Aurora (Ill.) man who is trying an exclusive diet of peanuts for 60 days has two rivals at that place. One is eating nothing but grapes, the other the other nothing but beans.

Another man who started on green colons has given up the job. His breath must be strong that he could not control it.

Church circles in Washington, D. C., are profoundly stirred over the case of the Rev. Dr. and the Rev. Dr. placed on her fourth finger because it was too small to go on the third. Owing to an oversight on the part of the early fathers the church now provides no adequate penalty for an offense of this kind.

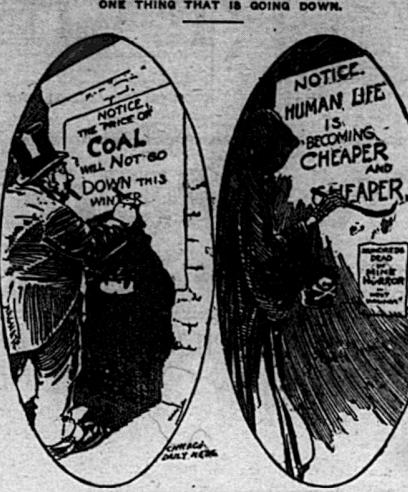

The New York Judge who rebuked a complaining wife and told her that when her husband gave her, as he did, each week, $4 out of his $3 salary, she had no right to suspect him of leading a double life, that the man could not do it, was eminently right. That husband could obviously lead no more than the thirty-fifth part of a life.

An explorer declares that coal is to be found around the north pole. Hitherto all the expeditions to discover this elusive point have been more or less scientific, but now that his discovery is getting down to business the public may expect to see the coal trust organize an expedition to see this black diamond treasure first.

While China is meditating and Russia is endeavoring to hedge in the market for coal, the American national government, King Meek of Abyssinia, has issued a decree forming a cabinet and reorganizing the administrative system of his country upon the most up-to-date European models. Abyssinia may yet show the way to do it.

New York university has opened a night college which offers regular academic courses and is open to confer ordinary degrees. At first sight this seems to belong with the night court, the "day-and-night" bank, and other enterprises which keep New York awake 24 hours a day. Yet it is not a startling innovation, after all, for night schools have been established in American cities, those at institutions giving evening instruction in law, medicine and engineering, and much studying has always been done by the light of midnight oil.

A girl at Boydton, Va., has found a diamond in the core of a red apple. The theory suggested is that some one climbed into the tree which bore the apple while it was in bloom, accidentally dropping the setting to the ring, which fell into the heart of the blossom, there to remain until the apple matured and was gathered. When it comes to explaining unnatural phenomena, the people of the people of Virginia are famous. Even Virginians must regard them with respect. It is easier to believe in the explanation than the phenomenon.

BODIES OF 141 TAKEN OUT

RESCUE PARTIES AT MONONGAH ARE WORKING RAPIDLY.

Grand Lodge of Elks Add to Relief Fund—Ohio Mine Inspector

—There.

Monongah, W. Va.—The scene of America's greatest mine catastrophe has lost its fascination for the idlers who have surged about the pit entrance of mines six and eight of the Fairmont Coal company from the moment of the awful explosion of last Friday morning.

There now remain only the forces employed in rescue work, the newspaper workers and the inconsolable relatives of victims.

Yesterday night 141 bodies had actually been brought to the surface, while many more were located. Men are working incessantly. As the bodies are located, the rescuers say, the most difficult part of the work is encountered. The bringing out of the bodies, a distance of a mile or more through the underground workings, is tedious on account of meager facilities.

The rescue parties in mine No. 8 have begun exploring the right side of that mine. There a majority of the dead, it is said, will be found.

The relief work is progressing well. The amount received is close to $40,000. One of the contributors Tuesday was the Grand Lodge of Elks, which $1,000. Nearly all mines in the Fairmont territory have responded.

Among the arrivals at the mines Tuesday were Mine Inspector Harrison, of Ohio, and William Clifford, an expert miner, of Jeannette, Pa. Mr. Harrison made an examination of the mine in company with the West Virginia inspector, but would express no opinion on the cause of the accident. Mr. Clifford, when asked for an opinion on the cause of the disaster, said:

"I don't care to express an opinion, but will say what the Scotchman said: 'Too much gas and too little wind.'

Members of the rescue party stated that a number of the men who were suffocated showed evidences of great agony before death relieved them.

One mine was found tightly gripping a pair of pants and a pencil with a hand in the other.

An American miner was recovered who was not marked nor were his hands or face soiled a particle.

BEAR DINNER AT WHITE HOUSE.

President Entertains Louisiana Hunt ers and Other Guests.

Washington.—President Roosevelt entertained at dinner Friday night a number of hunters, the members of the Louisiana cane brakes. The guests included Clive and Harley Metcalf, of Greenville, Miss., famous bear hunters; John and "Tom" Osborn, John M. Parker, Maj. Amacker, Mr. Vasey, Surgeon General Riley, Postmaster General Meyer, Assistant Secretary Bacon, Secretary Loeb, Gifford Pinchot, Representative Randal of Louisiana, J. M. Dickerson, Col. Cecil Lyon and Capt. Fitzhugh Lee. Bear meat was served.

STEAMER HITS Ferry Boat.

New York.—The Fall River line steamer Providence was in collision with, and but narrowly escaped sinking, a crowded East River ferry boat Tuesday night.

The latter craft lost a portion of her superstructure, and her passengers were thrown into a panic during which, it is reported, a man and woman jumped overboard and were drowned. This report could not be confirmed. After the accident charges of cowardice and brutality were made against the men passengers of the ferry boat.

Grandson of Hamilton Dies.

Tarrytown, N. Y.—Maj. Gen. Alexander Hamilton, grandson of Alexander Hamilton, secretary of the treasury under George Washington, died at his home here Tuesday at the age of 92 years.

Col. Amory Gets $10,000 Verdict.

New York.—Col. William Amory, former secretary of the Third Avenue railway, recovered a verdict for $10,000 damages Tuesday in the third trial of his suit for libel brought against Herbert H. Vreeland, former president of the Metropolitan street railway. Amory sought to recover $50,000 damages. He claimed that Mr. Vreeland had libeled him as a bad character which he was held up as a bad character and engaged with others in making an attack on the Metropolitan company.

Post Office in Iowa Robbed.

Des Moines, Ia.—The post office at Des Moines, Ia., was robbed Monday night of $30 in cash and $300 in stamps. It was located in a drug store, which was also robbed.

IS NOT A CANDIDATE

PRESIDENT PUTS AN END TO THE THIRD TERM TALK.

ALL DOUBT DISPELLED

Formal Statement Issued by Mr. Roosevelt Repeating That Made the Night of Election in 1904.

Washington.—President Roosevelt will not be a candidate for a third term. All doubt on this point was dispelled Wednesday night by the authoritative statement from the White House that Mr. Roosevelt still adheres to the declaration of renunciation made on the night of the election three years ago.

In the statement issued President Roosevelt says he has not changed and shall not change the decision communicated to the American people in 1904.

It appears that President Roosevelt has been awaiting the call for the Republican national convention to afford the proper opportunity for making his position clear and unmistakable, thus leaving the field clear for Fairbanks, Taft, Cannon, Knox, Foraker and other declared or receptive candidates for the Republican nomination. The president's statement follows:

"In view of the issuance of the call of the Republican national committee for the convention, the president makes the following statement:

"On the night after election I made the following announcement: 'I am deeply sorry that the men done me pressing their confidence in what I have done and have tried to do. I appreciate to the full the solemn responsibility this confidence imposes upon me, and I shall do all that in my power lies not to forfeit it. On the fourth of March next I shall have served three and a half years, and this three and a half years constitute my term to the two conventions which limits the president to two terms in office. The substance, and not the form, and under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination.'

"I have not changed and shall not change the decision thus announced."

RACE RIOT STORIES FALSE.

Alabama Editor Denies Report of Killing of Negroes.

Montgomery, Ala.—A telegraphic request to Editor W. J. Peters, of the Gordo Messenger, for an accurate account of the alleged riots in Pickens county, was followed by the following reply:

"There has not been any riot in this county. Two negroes were arrested at Lowtown, two miles from Gordo, for interfering with an officer. Negro fired on the officer and killed his negro prisoner. The officer, Constable R. V. Lowe, was slightly wounded. Everything is quiet. There has been little excitement."

JENKINS AND SONS ARRESTED.

Four Brooklyn Bankers Are Accused of Conspiracy.

New York.—John G. Jenkins and his three sons, John G., Jr., Frank and Donald, jointly with their co-conspirators in having illegally obtained loans aggregating $47,000 from trust companies of which they were officers. The father, John G., Jr., and Frank were indicted for perjury in having made false statements to the state superintendents of banks. The four men were arrested, arraigned and, after pleading not guilty, held under bonds for a hearing.

WANTS GOLDFIELD FACTS.

President Sends Labor Department Of ficial to Investigate.

Washington.—Assistant Secretary Murray, of the department of commerce and labor; Charles P. Nell, commissioner of labor, and Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of corporations, left Washington late Wednesday afternoon for Goldfield, Nev., to make a thorough investigation of the terrible rents between the miners and mine operators at that place. Secretary Murray and Commissioner Smith made this announcement after a conference with President Roosevelt Wednesday.

Four Killed by Dynamite Blast.

Bristol, Tenn.—On the farm of John Dunn, his son William, aged 15 years, was playing with a stick of dynamite when it exploded killing the boy. Mrs. Nathaniel Barnes and Mrs. Elijah Moody and her child.

Pulliam is Resected.

New York.—Harry C. Pulliam was reelected president of the National League Wednesday for the sixth time. Secretary-Treasurer John Heyder was unanimously reelected, as was the board of directors.

Tragedy in Iowa Town.

Jefferson, Iowa.—For love of his neighbor, who had first accepted his advances, but later decided she loved her home and her babies more, D. H. Brees, a wealthy farmer 45 years old, sent a bullet through his brain.

French Museum is Robbed.

Aix-en-Provence, France.—Five most valuable pictures, the works of Fragonard, Boucher, and Vanloo, have been stolen from the Musee de Picardie, together with a collection of coins and art objects valued at about $50,000.

Dean of Insurance Men Dead.

Chicago.—James K. Murphy, dean of Chicago insurance men, died in his residence, 2502 Michigan avenue. He was 52 years of age and was in business until stricken with his last illness, early in the fall.

Illinois State News

Recent Happenings of Interest in the Various Cities and Towns.

SUFFERS $70,000 FIRE LOSS.

New Berlin Prostrated by Damage Wrought by Flames.

Elgin Reporter Charges City's Executive with Assault.

Elgin—John Reaves, a reporter, secured a state warrant for Mayor Irvin E. Price, charging assault. The action is the result of a fracas at the police station when Reaves says the mayor brutally attacked him. Postmaster H. D. Hemmens, president of the company, and Albert Hall, editor of the paper, who are bitter political enemies of Mayor Price, are said to be backing Reaves in his action against the mayor.

The warrant was served by Deputy Sheriff Sherwood while Mayor Price was standing at the bar of Andrew Mack's saloon in Chicago street. The mayor was taken before Judge Thompson and released on bond.

MAY CHANGE GROSSCUP BILL.

Grand Jury May Vote New Indictment in Traction Case.

Mattoon.—At the request of State's Attorney John McNutt, Judge James W. Craig of the circuit court has issued an order to the grand jury to reconvene on Monday, January 6. It is said this action is taken to give State's Attorney McNutt an opportunity to modify the indictment, which is voted against Federal Judges Grosscup of Chicago and other officials and directors of the Central Illinois Building company, and that the instruments will read, for "criminal negligence" instead of manslaughter.

INFERNAL DEVICE WRECKS HOME.

Retired Farmer at Danville Escapes Death, However.

Danville.—An infernal machine, placed at one of the corners of the costly home of Samuel Baum, a retired farmer, who lives in the exclusive North Vermilion street neighborhood, exploded and partially wrecked the house. The windows were shattered and a portion of the foundation was torn away. Mr. Baum and family were badly shocked, but not seriously injured. Other houses near by were damaged and was discovered by F. E. Wright, a farmer, who was driving to the city.

Find Dead Life.

Taylorville.—The death of Miss Elsie, a former Taylorville society girl, Jan. 1, was caused by a bullet fired from a pistol. The officer, Constable R. V. Lowe, was slightly wounded. There is no clue. This is the third outrage of this kind within a year.

Ends Sad Life.

Taylorville.—The death of Miss Elsie, a former Taylorville society girl, Jan. 1, was caused by a bullet fired from a pistol. The officer, Constable R. V. Lowe, was slightly wounded. There is no clue. This is the third outrage of this kind within a year.

Find One Hundred Dollar Bill.

Chicago.—The next time Andrew and Hans Johnson, of Antioch, Ill., and Germany, see a man drop a $100 bill they will make more noise than they did when they did it for them $14, because they tried to tell him by his misfortune. They were going to tell him, at that, when they saw him drop it, but they were dissuaded by another man, who saw them pick it up. "We'll divide this," said the stranger. "You give me $34 and keep the bill, and he will never know anything about it." They did so. Then the man who was told the bill was a confederate greenback, and told the police. They were just starting for Germany when it happened.

Explodes: Five Firms Homeless.

Bridgeport.—Fire was started in the Bunn block by the exploding of a gas stove in the basement of the Farnsworth building. The loss is $15,000. The glass block on the early morning of the explosion was discovered by F. E. Wright, a farmer, who was driving to the city.

Druggists Will Fight.

Virginia.—Angered over the action of the city council in refusing them a license to sell liquor under the local option law, two of the three local druggists will fight the indictment of Daniel in the supreme court and attempt to have the local option law declared unconstitutional.

Local Option Law Test.

Virginia.—In accordance with the plans of the Illinois Brewers' association, liquor was sold at the saloon of J. G. Davis in this city. The brewers' association will fight the indictment of Daniel in the supreme court and attempt to have the local option law declared unconstitutional.

Kind Act is Rewarded.

Mason City.—A kind act performed so long ago that it had escaped his memory, J. S. Meeter received and saved from the executor of the estate of a wealthy Iowan to the effect that he had been bequeathed $3,700.

Pioneer Republican Is Dead.

Sterling.—William R. Parker, one of the founders of the Republican party in Illinois, died at his home here yesterday. For many years Mr. Parker was engaged in newspaper work. He had held several important government positions.

Wreck Loss is Heavy.

Streator, Ill.—One freight train ran into another on the Santa Fe in Streator, and 25 or 30 cars loaded with freight were destroyed, with their contents.

Hilltop Pastor to Moweaqua.

Moweaqua.—Rev. D. G. Duncan of Hilltop has accepted a call to the pastorate of the local Christian church.

Heavy Storm at Litchfield.

Litchfield.—A terrific cloud burst and electrical storm passed over this city at noon the other day, doing much damage to property. Hills fell to a depth of three inches. Several residences were struck by lightning.

Grain Dealer Killed.

Blue Mound.—A. P. Hill, grain dealer and wealthy resident of this city, was killed when struck by a train on the Wabash, half way between this city and St. Paul.

County Shoots Saloons.

Marion.—Of the 150 saloons recently doing business in Williamson county, the last have quit. The county is anti-saloon territory, made so by 1,500 majority, and the districts where all the saloons were located cast the bulk of the votes.

Septuagenarians Are Married.

Cuincy.—Thomas J. Bates and Mrs. J. Cline, both over 70 years old, were married here in the Presbyterian church. Both have been married before. They were lifelong friends.

The Girl from Tim's Place

BY CHARLES CLARK MURR

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY LOthrop, LEE & SHEPARD CO.

CHAPTER I.

Chip was very tired. All that long June day, since Tim's harsh, "Come, out wid yea," had roused her to daily toil, until now, wearied and disconsolate, she had crept, barefoot up the back stairs to her room, not one moment's rest or one kindly word had been hers.

Below, in the one living room of Tim's Place, the men were grouped playing cards, and the medley of their oaths, their laughter, the thump of knuckles on the bare table, and the pungent odor of pipes, reached her through the floor cracks. Outside the fireflies twinkled above the slow-running river and along the stumps of hillside. Close by, a few pigs dozed contentedly in their rudely constructed sty.

A servant to those offices sat for servants, a meal at the beck and call of all Tim's Place, and laboring with the men in the fields, Chip, a girl of almost 16, felt her soul revolt at the fifth, the brutality, the coarse existence of those whose slave she was.

And what they were!

First, Tim Connor, the owner and master of Tim's Place, a hideous, 60 miles from the nearest settlement; his brother, Mike, as coarse; their wives and a half dozen children who played with the pigs, squealed as often for food, and were left to grow up the same way; and Pierre Lubec, the hired man, completed the score.

There was another transient resident here, an old Indian named Angé, who came with the snow, and deserted his hut below on the river bank when spring unlocked that stream.

Two occasional visitors also came here, both even more objectionable to Chip than Tim and his family. One was her father, known to her as an outlaw and escaped murderer in hiding; the other a half-breed named Bolduc, but known to all as One-Eyed Pete, a trapper and hunter whose abode was a log cabin on the Fox Hole, ten miles away. His face was horribly scarred by a wildcat's claws; one eye-socket was empty; his lip, chin, and protruding teeth were always tobacco stained. For three months now, he had made weekly calls at Tim's Place, in pursuit of Chip. His wooling, as might be expected, had been poor, but he had won at her with one sinister eye, oft-repeated immodest and insinuations of lascivious nature, scarce understood by her, with now and then attempted familiarity. These advances had met with much the same reception once accorded him by the wildcat.

Both these visitors were now with the group below. That fact of no interest to Chip, except in connection with a more permanent one—a long conference she had observed between them that day. What it was about, she could not guess, and yet some queer intuition told her that it concerned her. Ordinarily, she would have sought sleep in her box-on-legs bed; now she crouched on the floor, listening.

For an hour the game and its mockery of some continued; then cessation, the tramp of heavily shod feet, the light extinguished, and finally—silence. A few minutes of this, and then the sound of whispered converse, low yet distinct, reached Chip from outside. Cautiously she crept to her window.

"I gif you one hundred dollars now, for 'ee gal," Pete was saying, "an' one hundred more when you fetch her."

"Tim's Place is the place," I've told ya, or we don't do business," was her father's answer, in almost a hiss.

A pain like a knife piercing her heart came to Chip.

"But 'spose she run away?" came in Pete's voice.

"What, 60 miles to a settlement? You must be a damn fool!"

"Well, think her them; she's yours."

"But I no gif so much," parleyed Pete; "I gif you one-footee now, an' one hundred when she come."

"You'll give what I say, and be quick about it, or I'll take her out tomorrow, and you'll never see her again; so forth over."

"And you fetch her to-morrow?"

"Yes, I told you. And so the bargain was concluded.

Only a moment more, while Chip sat numb and dazed, then came the sound of footsteps, as the two men separated, and then silence over Tim's Place.

And yet, what a horror for Chip! Bolduc like a horse or a pig to this worse than disgusting half-breed, and on the morrow to be taken—no, dragged—off to the half-breed's hut by her hated father.

Only concessions of the real intent and object of this purchase, she yet understood it dimly. Life here was bad enough—it was coarse, unloved, even filthy, and yet, hard as it was, it was a thousand times better than slavery with such an owner.

And now, still weak and trembling from the shock, she raised her head cautiously and peered out through the dark forest, until from the rising moon outlined the log barn, the two log cabins, and pigsty, which, with the frame house, she was in, comprised Tim's Place. Above and beyond where the forest enclosed the hillside, it shone brighter, and as Chip looked upon the ethereal silver view, away to the right she saw the dark opening into the old tote road. Up this they had brought her, eight years before. Never since had she traversed it; and yet as she looked at it now, an inspiration born of her father's sneer came to her.

It was a desperate chance, a foolhardy step—a journey so appalling, so almost hopeless, she might well hesitate; and yet, escape that way was her one chance. Only a moment longer did she wait, then gathering her few belongings, her moccasins, and the morsels Old Tomah had given her, a skirt and jacket fashioned from Tim's cast-off garments, a fur cap, and soft felt hat—she thrust them into a scolded pillow-case and crept down the stairs. Once out, she looked about, listened, then darted up the hillside, straight for the tote road entrance. Here, as she paused, her eyes met the gaze of the dark, gurgling water. Up above lay a faint, pale moon. In the distance she could see the moon almost at the zenith, and a few flickering stars.

A tribe of courage and renewal of hope now came. Her face and hands were scratched and bleeding, clothing torn, feet and legs black with mud. But these things she neither noticed nor felt—only that blessed bridge of logs that gave her safety, and the men that had built it for her.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there. Pete might sleep late, and thus give her one or two hours more of time.

And now cheered by this trifling hope and lessening sense of danger, her past life came back. Her childhood in a far-off settlement; the home always in a turmoil from the strange men and women ever coming and going.

But not only her own deserts

had brought her to this.

Tim's Place, now above the tree-tops, shone full upon Tim's Place, softening and silvery all its ugliness and all its squalor. Away to the left stood Tomah's hut, across the river, a shining path bright and rippled.

In spite of the awful dread of her situation and the years of her hard, updriven, and oftentimes cursed toil, a part of her still could not leave her. She had been won, writhed as it was. She had at least been fed and warmed in winter, and here Old Tomah had shown her kindness. Oh, if we're only in his hut now, that she might go and waken him softly, and beg him to take her in his canoe and speed down the river!

But not only her own deserts

had brought her to this.

Without a word the starved creature grasped it and began eating as only a desperate, hungry animal would, while the group watched her.

"Don't hurry so," exclaimed Martin, who was half turned. "Here, take this—this is off."

Soon the food vanished and then the girl arose. "Sit down again, my poor child," entreated Angé, who had observed the strange scene with moist eyes, "and tell us who you are and where you came from."

"My name's Chip," answered the girl, bluntly, "an' I'm runnin' away from Tim's Place, 'cause dad said I had to go to school."

"Hold—your—to—Pete—Bolduc," exclaimed Angé, looking at her wide-eyed. "What do you mean?"

"He did, sartin," answered the girl, laconically. "I heerd 'em makin' the bargain, 'n' I fetched three hundred dollars."

Martin and his wife exchanged glances.

"Well, and then what?" continued Angé.

"Well, then I waited a spell, till they'd turned in," explained the girl, "and then I lit out. I knowed 'twas 60 miles to the settlement, but 'twas moonlight 'n' I chanced it. I've had an awful time, though, the spites hev chased me all the way. I was jist makin' a nestle when I see yer light. An' I crept through the brush 'n' peeped to see w'at ya w'ant from Tim's Place, 'n' then I lit out. I guess you've sawed my name, I gittin' dinxy."

It was a brief, blunt story whose directness bespoke truth; but it revealed such a pugnacious state of morality at Tim's Place that the little group of astonished listeners could scarce finish supper or cease watching this small, gaunt girl.

"And so your name is Chip," queried Angé at last. "Chub what?"

"Chip McGuire," answered the wait, quickly; "only my real name ain't Chip, it's Vera; but they've always called me Chip at Tim's Place."

"And your father sold you to this man?"

"He did, 'n' he's a damn bad man," replied Chip, readily. "He killed some men, and he's a double ax man. He became acquainted with other children of her own age, was sent to school and taken to church. Here, also, her mother began to smile once more, and look content. For two years, and the only ones Chip cared to recall, she had been a happy schoolgirl, and then came a sudden tragic end to it; she had never wished to think it was all so horrible, and yet so mercifully brief.

The one friend life had, her mother, had been brought home, wounded to death amid the whirling wheels of the mill where she worked; there were a few hours of agonized dread as the life ebbed away, a whisper or two of love and longing, and then the sad farewell, and finally she was left to her own drowning fears and heartbreak.

At its end, and in spite of her fears and tears, she was now borne away by him. For days they journeyed deeper and deeper into a vast wilderness, to halt at last at Tim's Place.

Like a dread dream it all came back to their ghostly instances. They followed her, like a bird and trapper day and night, luring him into safety or danger, as they chose. They were the spites, and in countless numbers, ready and sure to avenge all wrongs and reward all virtues. He had a Chieftain also, a great white spectre who came forth from the north in winter, and swept across the wilderness, spreading death and terror.

To Chip, educated only in the fancies of Old Tomah, these terrors now became insanity breeding. She could not turn back—better death among the spites, than slaving to the half-breed; and so, faint from awful fear, gasping from miles of running, she stumbled on. And now a little side road came, for the road bent down beside the river, and its low voice seemed to call of cheer. Into its cool depths she could not leap plunge and die, as a last resort.

Soon an opening showed ahead, and a bridge appeared. Here, for the first time, on this vantage point, she halted. How thrice blessed those knotted logs now seemed! She hugged and patted them in abject gratitude. She crawled to the edge and looked over the dark, gurgling water. Up above lay a faint, pale moon. In the distance she could see the moon almost at the zenith, and a few flickering stars.

A tribe of courage and renewal of hope now came. Her face and hands were scratched and bleeding, clothing torn, feet and legs black with mud.

But these things she neither noticed nor felt—only that blessed bridge of logs that gave her safety, and the men that had built it for her.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How soon would her escape be discovered, and who would pursue her? Only Pete, her purchaser, she felt sure, and he was the only person that she could turn to his cabin before he could get there.

Then she began to count her chances. This landmark told her that five miles of her desperate journey had been covered and she was still alive. She had to calculate. How

THE REVIEW

Entered as Second-Class Matter

H. T. LAMET, Editor and Publisher

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1907.

CHURCH DIRECTORY

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH
Cook Street near South Hawley Street.
Sunday Services.

10:30 a. m. Preaching services.
11:45 Sunday School.
2:30 p. m. Junior League.
8:30 Evening League.
8:30 Preaching.

Wednesday Mid-Week Prayer and Prayer Service 8 p. m.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society meets the first Tuesday evening of each month.

The Upworth League business literary and social meeting, the last Tuesday evening of each month.

Parsonage corner Cook and S. Hawley Sts.
Telephone No. 42. A cordial welcome is extended to all.

O. F. MATTISON, Pastor.

SALEM UNITED EVANGELICAL CHURCH
Sunday Services.

Sunday school, 9:15 a. m.
Preaching services (German) 10:30.
Keystone League, 4:30 p. m.

Preaching services, 7:30 p. m.

Wednesday Junior League, 7:30.

Tuesday—English Praying meeting, 7:30.

Wednesday—German—7:30.

Friday—Teachers meeting 1:30.

Church services, 7:30.

Monthly meetings.

Method Hand—1st Sunday, 1:30 p. m.

Y. P. M. S.—1st Tuesday, 7:30 p. m.

Church Missionary Meeting—1st Wednesday, 1:30 p. m.

Day of Prayer, 1:30 p. m.

Strangers are cordially welcomed at all the services of the church.

Phone No. 291. A. HARVILLE, Pastor.

EVANGELICAL ST. PAUL'S CHURCH
Sunday school, 9:30 a. m.

Sunday morning service, 10:30.

Evening service will begin a month later.

Phone No. 314. REV. G. H. STANGER, Pastor.

ST. ANTHONY'S CATHOLIC CHURCH
Sunday, Mass, 8 a. m.

Vesper and Benediction, 1:30 p. m.

Observation of Holy Days and Morning Mass, hour subject to change.

St. Ann's Sewing Circle, Tuesday, 1:30 p. m.

Phone No. 291. REV. PATRICK E. J. FOX.

HAPPIEST CHURCH
Sunday evening, prayer and praise service, 7:30 p. m.

Sunday school, 9:30 a. m.

Sunday school and I. U. X. at 10:15 a. m.

Young People's Meeting at 6:00 p. m.

Dorcas society, Tuesday, 2 p. m.

You are all cordially invited to worship with us.

JAMES H. GARNER.

ZION CHURCH
Sunday services, 10:30 a. m.

Evening service, 7:30 p. m.

Prayer meeting, Wednesday, 7:30 p. m.

Y. P. A. business meeting first Tuesday of each month, 7:30 p. m.

Woman's Missionary Society second Thursday of the month at 2 o'clock.

A cordial welcome for all.

J. WHISON, Pastor.

Faithless Testators.

Will making often affords a man an unrivaled opportunity of paying off old scores and speaking his mind without any fear of unpleasant consequences to himself.

The great Duke of Marlborough evidently could not resist the temptation to "will" all his jewels when he left his "widow" to go to Spain. Blenheim in her own way and £10,000 to keep clean and go to law with.

There is also a distinct note of sottishness in this extract from the testament of a Mr. Kerr who, after declaring that he would probably have left his widow £10,000 if she had allowed him to read his evening paper in peace, adds: "But you must remember, my dear, that whenever I commenced reading you started playing and singing. You must therefore take the consequences. I leave you £1000." —Grand Magazine.

How Not to Sleep.
Don't sleep on your left side, for it causes too great a pressure on the heart.

Don't sleep on your right side, for it interferes with the respiration of that lung.

Don't sleep on your stomach, for that method of getting rest is bad for the nervous system.

Don't sleep sitting in a chair, for your body falls into an unnatural position and you cannot get the necessary relaxation.

Don't sleep standing up, for you may topple over and crack your skull.

Don't sleep—Puck.

Time Was Money.

A clergyman not long ago received a hasty notice regarding a marriage that was to take place at the parish house:

"This is to give you notice that I and Mrs. Jemima Arabella Breezy are coming to your church on Saturday afternoon next to undergo the operation of matrimony at your hands. Please be prompt, as the cab is hired by the hour."—Ladies' Home Journal.

He Wanted Them Dead.

Mrs. Black was to meet her husband at a certain store at 1 o'clock. After standing around for a time, she grew very impatient and, thinking that he might have forgotten to meet her, called him up on the phone "at his place of business." Supposing that central had given her the right number, she exclaimed:

"Hello, Frank! Is that you? I'm nearly dead!"

"Well, madam, I think you have the wrong man. I'm an undertaker and want them all dead!"—Lippincott's Magazine.

Let us figure on your job printing.

Farmers' Institute Meeting.

The seventh congressional district of the Cook County Farmers' Institute will hold a meeting in the village hall here, December 26th. A program has been prepared, and it now remains for the farmers to get the most good out of it by a large attendance, asking questions, and by offering information in the discussions. The institute is the place to get your farm problems solved, and to help other farmers to solve theirs. There is no question about the real benefit of the institute. It is well worth while for the farmer to sacrifice something to attend. But he must think about it before hand, plan to go and actually "get there" if he is to get the benefit. There may be a great deal of entertainment in the institute, but it is for "business," for study, it is a brief farm school.

The address of welcome will be delivered by George Spunner and Prof. Charles Farr, assistant county Superintendent of Schools, will respond. Prof. Fraser, head of the dairy department at the University of Illinois, has had charge of some valuable investigations the past several years. He will tell how to find out the poor cows and how to increase the number of good cows by practical and economical feeding and breeding.

J. P. Mason, a dairyman of Elgin, will discuss the possibilities of dairying. He has made a success of the dairy business and is able to give information that has been secured through years of experience.

Fred H. Rankin, of the University of Illinois, will address the meeting on Experiment Station work, and E. A. Lageschmidt will discuss the growing of corn.

Mrs. M. M. Bangs of Chicago will speak; she has a message to deliver, and she knows how to deliver it, so that her hearers will get her thought.

This institute should be one of the best ever held in the county and the presence of the farmers and their participation in the discussions will insure that result. Good farming depends upon careful study quite as much as upon hard work.

At McVicker's.

"The Clansman," most sensational of American plays, will return to McVicker's Theatre, Chicago, for a farewell engagement of two weeks, beginning Sunday, December 8th. This is the drama that was suppressed as a political move by the city authorities of Philadelphia and around which a storm of discussion has raged wherever presented.

The young people's booth was the candy, fancy and Japan tea room which were all prettily and properly arranged.

Five members of the Dorcas sewing society assisted the girls in making their bazaar successful, serving a fine chicken pie supper and managing an apron and quilt booth. They were: Misses Peck, Breckway, Ulrich, Old and Colkins.

The candy booth was in charge of Misses V. Lines, Wooding, M. Peck, Collier and Ulrich; aprons were sold by Misses A. and E. Radke, Williams, Tuttle and Hawk; radishes were Misses Morrison, G. Palmer, M. Fulton, Jenks, Otha and F. Peck and the sale of fancy articles was conducted by Misses Wagner, J. Lines, Silberman, H. Palmer and E. Wilmer.

In the tea room were Misses E. Walser, Thorpe, Lawson and Brandt.

Miss Florence Peck, as chairman of the bazaar promoters, is receiving much praise for her many hours of work in the interest of the bazaar.

A Dangerous Deadlock

that sometimes terminates fatally, is the stoppage of liver and bowel functions. To quickly end this condition without disagreeable sensations, Dr. King's New Life Pills should always be your remedy. Guaranteed absolutely satisfactory in every case or money back, at Barrington Pharmacy 22c.

Can Animals Enjoy a Joke?

Many instances have been collected to prove that the sense of humor exists in the lower animals. A puppy on one occasion stole a bone from a dog that was chained up and saw gnawing its capture just out of reach of the chain, wagging its tail and apparently enjoying the humor of the situation to the full.

Monkeys, again, will chatter in glee when they succeed in pilfering the spectacles of an old lady, and cats have been known to purr with delight when they have been successful in cheating a rascal of some dainty morsel.

Animals are also subject to sorrow and horses, cattle and deer have been known to weep at the loss of their friends.

Faithfully yours,
Lincoln Farm Association,
By E. F. Pierce, Gen'l Mgr."

Quarterly Meeting.

The third quarterly meeting will be held at the Zion church over the coming Sabbath. Services will be as follows: "Friday evening, 7:30 o'clock; Saturday, 1 o'clock p. m., preaching and quarterly conference at the Miller's Grove church; Sunday morning, communion service beginning at 10:30. Presiding Elder, W. A. Shute will be here to conduct these services. There will be no service Sunday evening at the Zion church on account of the Union and Y. M. C. A. meeting at the Salem church.

"Ma, why does sis sing so much when Mr. Spivanoone is here?"

"I think, dear, she is trying to test his love."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Club Meetings.

The president of the Woman's club, Mrs. John Schwessem, received word Wednesday evening that Mrs. George Watkins, president of the Illinois State Federation of Woman's clubs, was quite ill and could not visit Barrington Thursday afternoon as expected. Mrs. Watkins expressed regret at being unable to be present at the meeting at Mrs. Ezra Canaan's.

Mrs. O. F. Mattison gave a very fine paper she had written on, "The Novel and its Influence Morally," telling of standard fiction of the past and present and the effects produced by well known books and their characters.

Mrs. F. E. Lines by especial urging again read before the club her paper on "Illinois."

A young ladies quartette, the Misses Blocks Boehmer, A. and M. Plagge sang two selections. A luncheon was served and there were nearly forty present.

The Thursday club gathered at the home of Mrs. William Thorpe this week where Mrs. J. I. Sears was in distress in the art of raffia work or hand basket weaving. There was a good attendance and each lady started a basket. Mrs. Sears also gave a talk on "Basketry" telling of the variety of baskets made. Mrs. G. W. Spunner read a Christmas story.

The Friday pleasure club were entertained with a cinch party Saturday night at Mrs. A. W. Sutherland's on Walnut street. Gentlemen friends were invited and prizes were won by Misses Sutherland, Purcell and G. Witt, and Messrs. C. Abel, H. Donley and A. Sutherland. Mrs. Richard Strachan of the Kirschner farm is hostess for the club to day.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society met Tuesday afternoon at Mrs. O. F. Mattison's. Interesting papers were given by H. H. Hubbard and Miss Mildred Elfrink and a reading by Mrs. John Schwessem.

Bazaar Successful.

Through the efforts of about twenty young ladies, who worked together with unusual harmony and interest, the Baptist bazaar last Friday evening in the church parlor was pronounced a very pleasing affair and $83 were taken in.

The young people's booth was the candy, fancy and Japan tea room which were all prettily and properly arranged.

Five members of the Dorcas sewing society assisted the girls in making their bazaar successful, serving a fine chicken pie supper and managing an apron and quilt booth. They were: Misses Peck, Breckway, Ulrich, Old and Colkins.

The candy booth was in charge of Misses V. Lines, Wooding, M. Peck, Collier and Ulrich; aprons were sold by Misses A. and E. Radke, Williams, Tuttle and Hawk; radishes were Misses Morrison, G. Palmer, M. Fulton, Jenks, Otha and F. Peck and the sale of fancy articles was conducted by Misses Wagner, J. Lines, Silberman, H. Palmer and E. Wilmer.

In the tea room were Misses E. Walser, Thorpe, Lawson and Brandt.

Miss Florence Peck, as chairman of the bazaar promoters, is receiving much praise for her many hours of work in the interest of the bazaar.

Menos Not a Miner State.

No American statesman will be likely to imitate the recent blunder of Mr. Clegg at The Hague when he thoughtlessly referred to the republic of Brazil as "a minor state." Brazil is a long way off from New York and Washington and is seldom thought of at all except as a country to trade with when not upset by revolutions. Mexico is not only a next door neighbor, but this nation has had a lot to do with the Land of the Montezumas first and last. Mexico was a land of revolution when we first began to take interest in it, and it is unquestionably due to United States influence that political and commercial order has been brought out of chaos there within the last fifty years. General Zach Taylor had in mind only a little shooting raid when he took Santa Anna in 1847 that if he couldn't make his Mexicans believe the Americans would cross the Rio Grande and do the job themselves. But it was a prophecy hit with precision. The arrogant dictator was finally dethroned and his badly abused country set on the road toward republicanism and a brighter destiny.

It was the meanness and the power of the United States, too, which in the sixties saved Mexico from European control and placed the rule in the hands of the best elements of her own people. Mexico is great in extent, great in resources for rapid improvement. Her population is twice as large as that of Canada, which holds a similar geographical relation to us on the north. Hundreds of millions of dollars of American capital are invested in Mexican enterprises. Naturally there is a strong inclination on both sides of the line for political and diplomatic cooperation between the two countries. A good neighbor is a good acquisition for a nation as well as for a family.

French Arms in North Africa.

France may be counted lucky if her success at Casablanca puts an end to her troubles in Morocco. It is now just sixty years since Abd-el-Kader, the Algerian patriot, surrendered to the French and put an end to the struggle which had lasted eighteen years. The outbreak in Algeria in 1829 was caused by a royal message sent in answer to an appeal by the nominal ruler of Algiers to the effect that "a king of France could not descend to correspond with a day of Algiers." Abd-el-Kader, then a young Arab student, took up the cause and organized a rebellion against France. At one time 20,000 Arab cavalry attacked and defeated the French. Finally the tide turned, and Abd-el-Kader was obliged to take refuge in Morocco, where he found backing.

France at last defeated the Moors, who were the friends of the Algerian chief, and they abandoned the cause of Abd-el-Kader, who in turn attacked the Moors, his late allies. In this last throw Abd-el-Kader was defeated, and he surrendered to the French on the 23d day of December, 1847. The war in Algiers was a costly adventure for France, and at one time she had 100,000 men in the field. Wild tribes continued to wage a guerrilla warfare in the mountain districts. Abd-el-Kader was held a prisoner by the French, but when Napoleon III. came into power he liberated him and for his subsequent services to the second empire invested the conqueror of France with the cross of the Legion of Honor. Several noted commanders of the armies of the empire earned their spurs in the Algerian campaign.

Europe still seems disposed to vote

The League conference a fizzle. Most of the critics declare that it has accomplished nothing worth talking about. Considering the predictions made regarding the outcome, it is not surprising that the result is not what peace advocates hoped for, but as they are a patient lot, likely to persist in their efforts, good will be sure to come from them in the end.

One can hardly blame the man who has just returned from a vacation trip with Jamestown at the end of it for getting warm under the collar when he is confronted with the advice to "buy Christmas presents early and avoid the rush."

Men on Mars fifteen feet tall? They are having a high old time if it is not, but probably those Martian signals mean that they'd like to get some time museum engagements down this way.

It is all over scientists get a more respectful hearing before for their positive assertions that there is no such thing as an equinoctial storm.

Dr. Wiley is said to be organizing another squad for food experiments.

In time stomachs will be almost as much in demand as brains.

The rest are now engaged in trying to solve the old mystery about why a man is so much easier to hit than a deer.

Japan is importing more American muscles. Now an extra bee-hawing for war is to be expected.

We Invite Inspection.

Fresh Hams	9 1/2c
Smoked Hams	12 1/2c
Fresh Shoulders	7c
Smoked Shoulders	10c
Pork Chops	10 and 12 1/2c
Bacon	14 and 16c

All cuts of meats are very cheap for A-I goods. No riff raff stock or old cows are found in this market.

Yours for business
Alverson & Groff PHONE 483 BARRINGTON, ILL.

WHERE QUALITY COUNTS

A perfect photograph of yourself to your friends.

Sittings made from now until Dec. 16 finished by Dec. 23.

Don't delay. Dark days good as sunshine.

OPEN SUNDAYS

Kramer — Palatine

To The PUBLIC

It will be of interest to those suffering from defective vision to know that the old reliable specialist.

M. R. MOSES, OPH. D. established in Chicago for the past 35 years, will make regular visits to BARRINGTON, and can be consulted.

Monday, Dec. 16, at Commercial Hotel

His excellent work in this vicinity for the past 25 years will speak for itself, therefore he will not take the usual method of publishing testimonials. Those who are in need of glasses can always depend upon his diagnosis as accurate. Headache, Dizziness, Nervousness, Tiredness in the Back of the Head, Ear Pains and other symptoms usually come from a deranged system of the eye defect in vision. Professor Moses can always recognize the difference between constitutional disorders and errors of refraction, and the old saying, "An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure" is true. He is the right man to do this. He has a special skill in making glasses. Glasses properly fitted at moderate prices. Satisfaction guaranteed.

M. R. MOSES, OPH. D. 4220 Vincennes Ave., Chicago.

Buy your Papers and Magazines of Wilbert C. Naeher, news agent of Barrington. News stand in the Bank Building Basement

All kinds of good MAGAZINES sold there.

HOURS:

DAILY 7 a. m. to 4:45 p. m.

12 m. to 4:20 p. m.

6 p. m. to 8:30 p. m.

SUNDAY 7 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.

The

Barrington Home Bakery

Headquarters for select Xmas Candles.

Fancy Box Goods a specialty.

Choice Nuts and Fruits at show prices.

A special lot of Cigars and fancy Pipes just arrived.

Fresh baked Bread, Cakes, Rolls, etc. every day.

E. C. Ankele

BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS

M. W. Mattison

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR

500-507 First Dearborn building,
134 Monroe street, Chicago.
Telephone Central 3999. Residence telephone 363. Resi-
Cook and South Hawley streets.

Barrington

James V. Castle, Robert E. Williams and C. L. Coop., Howard F. Castle

Castle, Williams, Long & Castle

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

1018-21 Chamber of Commerce Bldg., Chicago, December
2037. Howard
F. Castle at Barrington Monday evenings.

R. L. Peck

LAWYER

Residence Palatine, Illinois.
Office: 1311 First National Bank Building, Chicago.

Telephone Central 5440

A. J. Redmond

ATTORNEY AT LAW

Suite 45, 88 La Salle Street.
Telephone Main 196. Auto
8829.

Chicago, Illinois

Spanner & Rosenberg

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

Office: Suite 419 Chamber of Commerce building. Telephone
Main 2094. G. W.
Spanner, residence, Barrington.
Telephone 392.

Chicago, Ill.

L. H. Bennett

LAWYER

With Jackman & Bennett.
Do a general law business.
Practice in all state and federal courts. Real Estate and Loans.
Office in Grunau Bldg.

Phone 502, Barrington.

John C. Dodge

INSURANCE AGENT

Representing the Hartford
Insurance Company of Hartford, Connecticut. Insured against all disaster, including cyclones and tornadoes.

52-12 324 Main St., Barrington

Dr. A. Weichelt

DOCTOR

Office at residence, corner
Lake and Hough street, north of school. Office hours: Till 9 a.m., 1 to 2 p.m., 7 to 8 p.m.

Phone 391, Barrington, Ill.

Dr. J. Howard Furby

DENTIST

Office hours 8 to 12 a.m., 1 to 3 p.m. Evenings by appointment. Phone 464.

Groff Bldg., Barrington.

Mrs. Nellie Evans

Hairdressing, Shampooing,
Facial Massage and Manicuring.
2nd and 4th Tuesdays in Barrington. Will call at residence. Engagements made by Mrs. S. Benton, Phone 433.

The

Barrington Bank

OF ROBERTSON, PLAGUE & CO.

John Robertson, President;
John C. Plague, Vice President; A. L. Robertson, Cashier.

Barrington, Illinois

R. C. Myers

Confectionery, Cigars and Tobacco. Fruit in season. Ice cream furnished for all occasions.

Phone 433, Barrington.

E. K. Magee

Expressing and heavy teaming.

Phone 354, Barrington.

Palatine Bank

OF CHARLES H. PATTEN

A general banking business conducted on a safe and sound basis. Loans on real estate. Insurance.

Palatine.

Barrington

Local Happenings Told in Short Paragraphs

Miss Hettie Jukes' millinery store is now located on Williams street.

Wanted—A heating stove that will burn soft coal. Address this office.

Preparations are being made for a fine entertainment at St. Paul's church Christmas eve.

Lowell Bennett, Sr., who lives at Mrs. Ida Bennett's, passed this week visiting in Chicago.

W. R. Seates of Chicago Wednesday visited Mrs. Seates who is one of our great teachers.

Mrs. Charles Winters of Houghton is recovering from an attack of tuberculosis and the grippe.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. George Nightingale, Monday, December 9th, a nine and a half pound girl.

The Methodist Sunday school is making preparations for their usual Christmas celebration. There was a large attendance last Sunday.

M. T. Laney, supervisor for the town of Cubs, was in Waukegan this week attending a meeting of the Lake county board of supervisors.

Postal regulations now charge a two cent rate for tinsel souvenir cards inserted in oil-paper envelopes. Don't forget it is a two cent stamp now, not a one cent stamp.

Mrs. Dorothy Weichelt was given a party Wednesday in honor of her 4th birthday. A number of her little friends were present to enjoy the occasion. A lunch was served.

L. A. Jones was obliged to go on his home in Irving Park for a vacation on account of ill health. Fred Voss, a Chicago druggist, has been in charge of the Barrington Pharmacy this week.

O. P. Olson and family of the Washington Johnson farm, northwest of town, will move next week to Men-non, Wisconsin. It is said that Wm.
Lipschitz will occupy the Johnson farm.

Mrs. Horace Church was called to Rockford Monday by the illness of her daughter, Ethel, who is employed at the parlor of the Baptist church instead of in the G. A. R. hall.

Arthur Schroeder, formerly manager of the telephone office here, is now working in the toll department of the company at Gary, Indiana.

Miss Minnie Meyer and Alexander
Boehmer of Chicago, Henry Boehmer and son Spencer, of Wheeling were guests at the home of John Schewen-sund Sunday.

The day of marketing routes eggs is past and farmers and merchants are careful not to buy and sell any but the freshest eggs, as under the pure food law, heavy fines are imposed for so doing.

H. H. Holden of Port Henry, New York, who was in charge of the foundry at Chicago Highlands several years ago, is here for a visit of a few weeks.
Mr. Holden has many friends in this vicinity who are pleased to see him.

The pastor of the Methodist church,
Rev. O. F. Mattison, extends an invitation to the men of the community to meet at the church for a social hour on Monday evening, December 16th, at eight o'clock. An address will be delivered by the Honorable William E. Mason, former United States Senator.

Miss Amy Olcott is still quite sick and has been confined to her bed for nearly four weeks with an attack of pneumonia, followed by acute inflammatory rheumatism, which has made her a great sufferer.

Mrs. H. Schenck of North Hawley street took dinner with Mayor Busse of Chicago and his brother, Wm. Busse, at the Lakeside hotel, Waukegan,
Saturday. Mr. Schenck and Mayor
Busse are brothers-in-law.

W. R. C. bazaar next Wednesday afternoon and evening at the Baptist church. Chicken pie supper from five until eight. Will sell souvenirs from Mrs. Roosevelt and Governor
Deane at auction in the evening.

Honorable W. E. Mason of Chicago will speak on the subject "Some Presidents I Have Known," at the reception to men next Monday evening at the Methodist church. All men invited.
This is a rare opportunity to listen to a gifted speaker.

The Olympic club house located on the Laney block on Liberty street was sold by Master in Chancery Clarke at Waukegan Tuesday for $400 to Plague & Company who had filed a lien on the property for material furnished. The property is offered for sale on the premises.

A recital was given by the junior pupils of Mrs. Ada Nata McIntosh at her residence, Johnston avenue and Humboldt boulevard, on Saturday, evening, December 7th. A program of child character readings was given by the pupils and by request Mrs.
McIntosh read "The Going of the White Swan," by Gilbert Parker.

A real estate deal in Barrington township recorded Wednesday was as follows: Township 42, sections 23 and 25, containing 200 acres, more or less,
Dec. 5 (inequality $10,000)—Miss
Agnes Anderson to Eliza Yott, $25,000.
This property is known as the Sam Church farm, south of town and has until recent years been owned by a Dr. Stewart of Chicago.

Esquimalt is the only place in the British empire that exceeds London in cloudiness. Esquimalt is also the dampest place in the empire, while Adelaide, in Australia, is the driest. Ceylon is the hottest and northwest Canada the coldest possession that the flag of England boasts over.

Prices Will Be Right.

W. D. Burkhardt

Sect Bldg., Barrington

STOTT'S AMUSEMENT PARLOR.

Have you ever been there? If not take a few minutes of your time some afternoon or evening and call to see us.
Visitors always welcome. You will find us over Landwer's store. Just phone 493 and let us know you are on the way.

Try the new game, "Call Shot", getting to be very popular.

Pool, Billiards and Bowling.

Candies and Cigars.

A Prize With Every Spare

Stott's Amusement Parlor

Perpetual Motion.

No man has ever made and never will make a machine that will go perpetually. The "going" of the machine implies a steady loss to the particular machine of stored up power, and it is only a question of time for the power to run out, when the machine will of necessity have to stop. But in a deeper sense, motion is nothing more than perpetual motion. The motion of the thing itself is imparted to something else, and so on ad infinitum. By the law of the conservation of force motion is indestructible and must therefore be perpetual—New York American.

Lincoln's Great Oration.

Lincoln's Gettysburg speech derives its power from the following facts:

Its brevity—every thing is concise and right to the point, and the reader receives the fullest effect at once; its absolute simplicity—nothing in the speech the speaker is aiming not at effect, but at the honest unfolding of his soul's countingless joy and sorrow, sympathy and hope; its perfection of style, its words being just such as were needed properly to express the idea;

its like well alined cannon balls—

New York American.

"I suppose the playbills do not attach to tell the exact truth."

"And you are correct," responded Hamlett Fatt.

"For instance, I am billed as being assisted by a large company when the fact is I am retarded

by the few people I have."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Answered.

Teacher Tourist—Will all the residents in these parts read and write

Old Resident—Truth they can, every mother's son of them. Teacher Tourist——Have you no ignoramuses among you?

Old Resident—Never a one.

Teacher Tourist—Do you know the meaning of the word ignoramus? Old

Resident—Id. Teacher Tourist—What is it? Old Resident—A stranger like yourself—School Board Journal.

"Charles," said Coleridge one day to
"Lamb, did you ever hear me preach?"

"I never heard you do anything else,"

said Lamb.

No matter what you are earning now
The

International Correspondence Schools

of Scranton, Pa.

Can train you to earn considerably more.

Cat this out and mail it to the Local Representative whose address is given elsewhere in this announcement.

International Correspondence Schools,
Scranton, Pa. Please explain how I can qualify for admission at one of which.

Mechanical Engineer Machine Designer
Metallurgical Engineer
Foreman Machinist
Foreman Toolmaker
Foreman Fitter
Foreman Blacksmith
Foreman Welder
Foreman Fitter
Refrigeration Engineer
Textile Engineer
Electric Engineer
Electric Machine Designer
Electric Lighting Supt.
Electric Motor Supt.
Telephone Engineer
Telegraph Engineer
Dynamo Supt.
Steam Engineer
Engine Runner
Civil Engineer
Electrical Engineer
Hydraulic Engineer

Municipal Engineer
Bridge Engineer
Railroad Engineer
Mining Engineer
Mine Foreman
Cotton-Mill Supt.
Woolen Mill Supt.
Textile Designer
Contractor and Builder
Architectural Draughtsman
Show-Card Writer
Sheet-Metal Draughtsman
Ornamental Designer
Machinery Draughtsman
Navigator
Bookkeeper
Mail-order
Teacher
Retail Ad Writer
Commercial Law

LANGUAGES TAUGHT WITH PHONOGRAPH

French German Spanish

Occupation _____

Name _____

Address _____

City _____ State _____

If you desire to know what our methods are and what the conditions are under which you can obtain this

Salary Raising Education

Fill in the inquiry in blank in the lower left-hand corner of this announcement.
You will in return receive full and complete information.
Address all communications to

C. E. Frey, Esq.,
1520 Lill Ave.,
Chicago, Ill.

CLEANING

Tailoring Means to Make Garments to Fit You.

Only made is cut from one pattern and is expected to fit a woman. It is costly clothing to buy, because it is poorly made. It fitting and you always pay what you would have to pay me. Let me fit you with a suit made for YOU. Hundreds of patterns to select from.

H. K. Brockway
Notary Public and Insurance Agent.
Postoffice
BARRINGTON, ILL.

RE-LINING

MATH PECK Merchant Tailor Barrington - Illinois

DYEING

Brightest, Best and Cheapest.
Quickest, Cleanest and Most Convenient. Now is the time to order Gas Ranges and House Piping. Lowest Rates, Cash or Payments.

Northwestern Gas Light & Coke Co.

IN MY FAMILY

"I Have Used Peru-na at Various Times for Several Years."

MUR. EDWARD M. BURT.

I Recommend Peru-na.

MUR. EDWARD M. BURT, 5 R. Jefferson Ave., St. Louis, Mo., writes: "It affords me much pleasure to announce that I have used your medicine at various times for several years, and that it has given entire satisfaction, not only in my own family, but also that of others of my friends. And would cheerfully recommend the use of Peru-na, as I can only do so from personal knowledge of its great value."

Catarrh of Head, Nose, Throat.

Mr. Charles Levy, 60 Allen St., New York, N. Y., writes:

"I am very glad to tell you of the cure wrought by Peru-na in my family."

"My son, who was born with a catarrh of the nose, was cured by two bottles of Peru-na, and I had catarrh of the head, nose, throat and ears. One bottle of Peru-na has cured me."

Peru-na Tablets.—Some people prefer tablets, rather than medicine in a fluid form. Such people can obtain Peru-na Tablets, which represent the solid medicinal ingredients of Peru-na.

Ask Your Druggist for Free Peru-na Almanac for 1906.

Daily Thought.

A little fun.
A little play.
A little laughter.
Day by day.
A little school.
And we well confess
A little bit of waywardness.
A little grief.
A little woe.
As down the water.
You can go.
A little love.
A little strife.
A deal of hope.
And this is life.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local application, as they cannot reach the disease. The only way to cure deafness is to remove the cause, and that is by constitutional remedies. The cure of deafness is not a simple one, but a long and tedious one. The best way to cure deafness is by the use of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is closed, the ear is entirely closed, and the deafness is the result, and unless the information can be taken from the ear, the deafness cannot be cured. The hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are destroyed, and the remaining one is but an induced condition of the muscles of the ear.

It will give you a great deal of trouble to get a Deafness cured by a catarrh that cannot be cured by hair's Ossuary, F. J. CHESTER & CO., Boston, Mass.

Sold by Druggists, etc.

The same little pills for constipation.

Burglar on to the Job.

Burglar (rousing the sleeping-head of the family)—"Don't move or I'll shoot." When you're a burglar, it's hard to keep the family from striking up a bright thought—"It's in the pocket of my wife's dress." Burglar—"That's all right, I'll just take the dress. Thanks."

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it is a long journey."

Bear the Signature of John H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years.
The Kind You Have Always Bought.

Reconciled to the Inevitable.

"The only thing I can recommend in your case," said the surgeon, "is a long journey."

"Well, if it has to be, doc," the patient groaned, "get out your whittling tools and go ahead with the operation."

That an article may be good as well as safe, and give entire satisfaction, is proven by the extraordinary sale of Defence Starch, each package containing one-third more starch than can be had of any other brand for the same money.

Utility.

A sleeper from the Amazon
Put him to sleep by grammazone—
The reason, that
He was too fat
To get his own pajamas!
—Buffalo News.

Her Method.

"Ma, why does Sis sing so much when Mr. Spoo-namore is here?"
"I think, dear, she is trying to test his love."

FITS, St. Vitus Dance and all Nervous Diseases permanently cured by Dr. Kline's Green Nerve Restorer. Send for Free $2.00 trial bottle and treatment. Dr. R. H. Kline, L. S. 21 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

It is possible to draw out a man and make him interesting—but it's different with a sermon.

ONLY ONE "PHENOMENAL"
That is LAKATY'S PHENOMENAL. Look for the signature of M. W. GROVE, Under Secy. to Cures & Colds in One Day, No. 100.

They sum of duty in two words contains—Be humble and be just.—Horace.

Smokers have to call for Lewis' Single Blend cigar to get it. Your dealer or Lewis' Factory, Peoria, Ill.

With old age comes the knowledge of lost opportunities.

KING OSCAR II, DEAD

WHOLE COUNTRY MOURNS PASSING OF SWEDISH MONARCH.

GUSTAVE V. NOW RULER

Crown Prince Takes Oath of Allegiance—Sketch of the Dead Monarch—is a Distinguished Scholar.

Stockholm.—Oscar II, King of Sweden, died at 9:10 o'clock Sunday morning. The death of the venerable monarch occurred in the royal apartment of the palace, where surrounded by the members of his family, including the aged queen Sophia and the crown prince, Oscar Gustave, and high ministers of state, the inevitable end had been awaited, while outside the palace great crowds stood with bowed heads and tearful eyes, long after the mournful sound of the death of their beloved monarch.

The whole country is bowed with grief, for King Oscar was something more than a ruler of his people and had endeared himself to them as an intimate and personal friend. When the flag on the palace was dipped to half mast there was a moan of anguish from the assembled multitude and many of them cried "our dear old king is dead."

GUSTAVE V. Now King.

The succession to the throne of Sweden now passes to Oscar Gustave Adolphe, duke of Vemland, the oldest son of the late king. At a meeting of the council of state, Sunday afternoon,

Philadelphia.—Loss of life and great damage to property is reported from central and eastern points in the state by floods caused by the heavy rains of the past few days.

The Delaware, Susquehanna and Schuylkill rivers are rising rapidly and small towns throughout the coal region have overflowed their flooding banks, causing cave-ins and doing great damage to railroad and other property.

Since noon Tuesday the Susquehanna river at Wilkesbarre is reported to have risen a foot an hour and the situation is growing worse. Silk mills and other manufacturing establishments were compelled to shut down and traffic interrupted.

At Wilkesbarre, a mining town a short distance above the surface over an abandoned mine of the Delaware and Pinebrook colliery, began to cave in and water rushed into the workings in torrents. The settling occurred along the line of the Delaware & Hudson and New Jersey Central railroads and 200 men were put at work changing the course of the stream in order to protect the railroad and prevent the flooding of mines in operation.

The water is reported high in the mines at Hazleton, and at Jenkinsville the town was partly flooded by the breaking of a small reservoir. The tracks of the Lehigh Valley Traction company were washed away in several places.

BRIDGE COLLAPSES; 7 DIE

DISASTER AT MIFFLINVILLE, PA., CAUSED BY THE FLOODS.

Great Damage to Property Reported from Various Parts of the Keystone State.

BLOOMSBURG, Pa.—High water Tuesday night caused the collapse of a new bridge in course of erection over the west branch of the Susquehanna river at Mifflinville, eight miles north of here, and resulted in the death of seven men and the injury of nearly a score of others, two perhaps fatally.

The men were at work on the truss of the bridge in the middle span of the structure when it collapsed. They were all thrown into the swollen river.

The bodies of four of those killed were found floating on the surface of the water entangled in the bent and twisted girders and iron work, but the others have not been found. Many of the men were caught in the rapid current and were carried a mile or more down the river before they were rescued. One of the most tragic scenes was that of William Neibert, who was caught in the iron work and held a prisoner for an hour with his mouth and chin above water, before being rescued.

Philadelphia.—Loss of life and great damage to property is reported from central and eastern points in the state by floods caused by the heavy rains of the past few days.

The Delaware, Susquehanna and Schuylkill rivers are rising rapidly and small towns throughout the coal region have overflowed their flooding banks, causing cave-ins and doing great damage to railroad and other property.

Since noon Tuesday the Susquehanna river at Wilkesbarre is reported to have risen a foot an hour and the situation is growing worse. Silk mills and other manufacturing establishments were compelled to shut down and traffic interrupted.

At Wilkesbarre, a mining town a short distance above the surface over an abandoned mine of the Delaware and Pinebrook colliery, began to cave in and water rushed into the workings in torrents. The settling occurred along the line of the Delaware & Hudson and New Jersey Central railroads and 200 men were put at work changing the course of the stream in order to protect the railroad and prevent the flooding of mines in operation.

The water is reported high in the mines at Hazleton, and at Jenkinsville the town was partly flooded by the breaking of a small reservoir. The tracks of the Lehigh Valley Traction company were washed away in several places.

CRISIS NEAR IN GOLDFIELD.

Mine Owners Will Attempt to Resume Work with Nonunion Men.

GOLDFIELD, Nev.—Capt. William Cox, the representative of Gov. Sparks in Goldfield, stated Sunday afternoon that he had information from the Mine Owners Association that a strike would be made during the week to reopen the mines here with nonunion men. This information has been communicated to the governor and is in the hands of Col. Alfred Reynolds, commanding the federal troops now encamped in this city.

Officials of the Mine Owners' association refuse to say positively that such is the case, but every indication points to the fact that Wednesday next has been decided on as the day when the miners will be made to put men in the mines to pump out the water that is fast filling the lower levels. If there is to be a clash between the members of the Western Federation of Miners and the soldiers of Uncle Sam it will come at this time.

There are nine mine companies of troops here, the second detachment from Monterey having gone into permanent camp on Combination hill, within 300 yards of the mill of the Goldfield Mining company. The first detachment, which came from San Francisco, remains in the camps established in the northwestern part of the city, a mile and a half from the nearest mine.

MURDERED BY HIS PARTNER.

Iola, Kan.—William Stewart, proprietor of a restaurant in East Iola, and member of a prominent family in Yates Center, Kan., was brutally murdered Saturday morning by his partner, W. H. Crevison. Stewart's skull was fractured in four places and the jugular vein severed. Crevison is under arrest and has confessed.

Explosion Wrecks Gas Plant.

WHITE PINE, Mich.—The White Pine carbonate and gas plant was totally wrecked by an explosion Monday evening. Several persons were severely injured and every window in the town was cracked. The shock was felt for 12 miles. The explosion is attributed to a leak in the gas tank.

Steamer Yarmouth to Ashore.

ST. JOHN, N. B.—The Dominion Atlantic Railway company's steamer Yarmouth, bound from Digby, N. S., to this port, is ashore at Black Point, near here. The vessel is not in immediate danger.

Fatal Shooting in a Saloon.

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—A stranger walked into a crowded downtown cafe Tuesday night and shot Dick Gaita, a bartender, in the face. The officials give the two-cent fare enforcement as their reasons for taking off of these trains.

Abounds Trains from Topeka.

TOPEKA, Kan.—The Missouri Pacific railway Monday abandoned its only passenger trains out of Topeka. The officials give the two-cent fare enforcement as their reasons for taking off of these trains.

Read the Little Book, "The Road to Wellville" in pgs.

NEW STRENGTH FOR OLD BACKS.

NO Need to Suffer Every Day from Backache.

Mrs. Joanna Straw, 226 North Broadway, Canton, S. D., says: "For three years I suffered everything in my limbs and a dull, aching pain along in my back. I was weak, languid, broken with headaches and a dazy spells, and the kidney secretions were thick with solids.

I was really in a critical condition when I began with Dr. C. Kidney Pills, and they certainly did me no harm. Though I am 81 years old, I am as well as the average woman of 50. I work well, eat well and sleep well."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

HAID NO DOUBT OF HIS FATE.

Mr. Jerome Evidently Was Aware of His Wife's Culinary Ability.

ECZEMA COVERED BABY.

Worst Case Doctors Ever Saw—Suffered Untold Misery—Perfect Cure by Cuticura Remedies.

"My son, who is now twenty-two years of age, when four months old began to have eczema on his face, spreading quite rapidly until he was nearly covered. The eczema was something terrible, and the doctors said it was the worst case they ever saw. At times his whole body and face were covered, all but his feet. I used many remedies, but to no avail. A friend urged me to try Cuticura. At last I decided to try Cuticura when my boy was three years and four months old, having had eczema all that time and suffering untold misery. I began to use all three of the Cuticura Remedies. He was better in two months; in six months he was well. Mrs. R. L. Risley, Piermont, N. H., Oct. 24, 1905."

SERVED ACCORDINGLY.

At a recent dinner I met a young American, a barbershop fellow, who was an Englishman. The latter was boasting the Yankees for doing all manner of business in their shops and not following the better English plan of sticking to one branch.

The next day he swaggered into the barber shop to be shaved. The barber gave his face an extra good soaping and left him, at the same time sealing himself to read.

The Englishman kept quiet for a few minutes, when, seeing his attendant reading, he blurted out: "Why don't you shave me, sir?"

"You will have to go up the street for your shave," quietly replied the barber. "We only lather here."

MEAN REVENGE.

A man had been very badly treated by the proprietors of a boarding house, and when in temporary financial difficulties had been compelled to leave. The man, who had been admitted upon a fickle fortune, he achieved success and prosperity as a popular dentist, and soon found means to revenge his former landlady's slight. The method he adopted was simple but extremely effective, quite ruining the business of his enemy. Directly opposite the boarding house he opened his new dental establishment, and upon the largest window in bold letters appeared the following notice: "Steel-pointed boarding house teeth a specialty!"

PREACHER'S COMFORTING REMARKS.

At an evening prayer meeting in a Maine village the senior deacon, Dominicus Jordan, arose to make appropriate scriptural remarks about the death of the late Miss Simpkins. In conclusion the deacon said: "I remember Miss Simpkins, the members of this church, the citizens of this town, respected Miss Simpkins, but now she's dead and gone to the Lord, and the scripture saith, 'The Lord is no respecter of persons'—Exchange."

PREACHER'S COMFORTING REMARKS.

At an evening prayer meeting in a Maine village the senior deacon, Dominicus Jordan, arose to make appropriate scriptural remarks about the death of the late Miss Simpkins. In conclusion the deacon said: "I remember Miss Simpkins, the members of this church, the citizens of this town, respected Miss Simpkins, but now she's dead and gone to the Lord, and the scripture saith, 'The Lord is no respecter of persons'—Exchange."

MAN MUST STAND UPRIGHT.

A man must stand erect, not be kept erect by others—Maurice Aurelius.

A CRANK IS A PERSON WHO THINKS YOU ARE A CRANK.

SOMETHING OF A CYCIN.

Opera Had Extreme Views on the Subject of Marriage.

Miss Marie Cahill, the actress, chose the chorus girls for her new play, "Marrying Mary," by measurement. The Bertillon system was employed. "By this excellent system of measurement," said Miss Cahill, "the other girls get, in a chorus girl, the real thing that is wanted. You know what a marriage is like, sure? Well, at any rate, I'll point out its meaning to you with a story."

"A boy looked up from his book one night.

"Father," he said, "what is a marriage?"

"The father answered glibly from behind his paper:

"The union of a man and woman in the eyes of the law they do part."

"But," said the boy, "what's marriage, ain't it?"

"Same thing, sonny; it's the same thing," replied the father. "A man imagines he sees wonders and delights where there is nothing. Fight shy of 'em both, my boy."

ECZEMA COVERED BABY.

Worst Case Doctors Ever Saw—Suffered Untold Misery—Perfect Cure by Cuticura Remedies.

"My son, who is now twenty-two years of age, when four months old began to have eczema on his face, spreading quite rapidly until he was nearly covered. The eczema was something terrible, and the doctors said it was the worst case they ever saw. At times his whole body and face were covered, all but his feet. I used many remedies, but to no avail. A friend urged me to try Cuticura. At last I decided to try Cuticura when my boy was three years and four months old, having had eczema all that time and suffering untold misery. I began to use all three of the Cuticura Remedies. He was better in two months; in six months he was well. Mrs. R. L. Risley, Piermont, N. H., Oct. 24, 1905."

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They relieve the grippe, indigestion and diarrhea.

PALATINE

Henry Schroeder is able to be out again.

Melvin Sefton was calling on friends here Monday.

Mrs Anna Damon and Forest Richardson of Chicago spent Sunday at Will Nixon's.

Lee Baker is back in school after two weeks illness.

O. H. Doros has been on the sick for the last week.

Miss Grace Van Horn spent Saturday with her cousin at Oak Park.

Mrs. Jennie Taylor of Chicago visited at W. Nixon's Wednesday.

Many were down from Barrington Wednesday to attend the Frye sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Bolman of Winona, Minnesota, are visiting their daughter, Miss Philip Matthes.

Mrs. G. D. Stroker and family returned to Wauconda Wednesday after a week's visit with relatives here.

Miss Hulda Luechner returned to her home at Highland Park, having spent four weeks with her friend, Miss Elmer Arpa.

LAKE Z RICH

E. A. Pickle transacted business in Waukegan Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mrs. George Prussia who has been on the sick list for some time is reported no better.

Miss Jennie Setp visited with Mrs. Powers at Cary Thursday.

Mrs. O. Frank called on friends at Lakes Corners Wednesday.

J. D. Fink made a business trip to Chicago Wednesday.

Christmas candies and nuts at A. W. Meyer's store.

Lena Lense of Cary visited with her aunt, Mrs. George Klepper, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Munil returned home Tuesday after spending about two weeks with relatives at Joliet.

The show given here last Saturday evening by some Chicago players at the Lake Shore pavilion was the first of the kind given this season and was enjoyed by all present. The weather prevented many from attending.

At A. W. Meyer's store you will find the nicest of Christmas goods ever shown in Lake Zurich in toys, dolls, dishes, pocket books, fancy boxes, feathers, handkerchiefs, muffers, etc. They also show a fine display of fancy crockery.

WAUCONDA.

Major Busse of Chicago has purchased the 334 acre place of H. C. Schendorf near town and will we presume, soon make it a model farm.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Parker of Volo was held Thursday at the M. E. church in her home town and the remains brought here for burial.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jenks visited the city Thursday in quest of holiday things.

H. E. Malman is doing a good piano business this season.

Beth Carpenter was here this week assisting in work at the farm.

R. R. Kimberly and E. W. Brooks returned home Tuesday evening from Texas and report a most enjoyable trip.

B. S. Hammond as trustee opened Harrison Brothers' store this week and is getting the stock in shape for a formal opening next Monday. Henry Golding is helping him.

Attend the holiday dance here Tuesday evening, December 24th, 1907.

Mrs. Joseph Peterson and P. Sorenson visited Chicago Tuesday.

Frank Hammond is reported on the road to better health, much to the pleasure of many friends.

Al Mu len who has been at Spring Grove for some time is home again.

Dr. Diederich is here this week, the guest of Dr. Fuller.

Advertised Letters.

The following letters remain uncanceled at the Barrington Post Office

McGrau

J. H. Hawkins

Jim McClure

Mr. Petersen, Real Estate Agent

Mary Rogers

Anton Rashiari, R. F. D. No. 2

Jake Shuman

H. K. Brockway, P. M.

Here's Good Advice.

O. S. Woolver, one of the best known merchants of Le Royville, N. Y., says: "If you are ever troubled with piles, apply Buckle's Arnica Salve. It cured me of them for good 20 years ago." Guaranteed for sores, wounds, burns or abrasions. 25c at Barrington Pharmacy.

Subscribe for THE REVIEW.

SCHOOL NOTES.

A number of children are out of school because of tonsillitis.

The children in Rooms one, two and three are busy making Christmas gifts. It is a part of the regular construction work.

Mrs. Stiles visited the Willmette schools last Friday and thinks that her observations there will be a help to her.

The teachers are sorry to learn that Mr. Laufenberger is soon to move from his present home to a place too far from the school here for his children to attend.

DeForest Custer is obliged to refrain from study for a few weeks because of nervousness. He has been a faithful and agreeable student and will be missed by his teachers.

Two of the three boys who were expelled, have on petition of their parents and the assurance of good behavior on the part of the boy, been reinstated by the board of education.

Mrs. Cudahy has a flat reading "Scrap, the Little Violinist" to her pupils. She will now read "The Missing Boys of Lexington" which the children have purchased with nickels and pennies dropped in the box on the teacher's desk.

The third regular meeting for the school year of the Cook County Teachers' Association will be held in the Association building auditorium, Saturday, December 14th. Prof. E. Sparks of Pennsylvania state college will be Robert Morris, the unknown patriot.

A Real Wonderland.

South Dakota, with its rich silver mine, banana farms, wide ranges and strange natural formations, is a veritable wonderland. At Mound City, in the home of Mrs. E. D. Clapp, a wonderful ease of healing has lately occurred. Her son seemed near death with lung and throat trouble. "Exhausting coughs still occurred every five minutes," writes Mrs. Clapp, "when I began giving Dr. King's New Discovery, the great medicine, that saved his life and completely cured him."

Guaranteed for coughs and colds, throat and lung troubles, by Barrington Pharmacy. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Lucky For Her.

Little Gertrude was on a visit to her three maiden aunts, the sisters of her mother. Each of them held distinct and original views as to how children should be brought up. Aunt Maria thought little girls should be seen and not heard. Aunt Eliza thought they should be neither heard nor seen, and Aunt Jane was certain that little girls should not be seen at all. These aunts had agreed to let Gertrude sit one evening in the drawing room with their niece. The conversation, being one sided, however, began to flag, and Gertrude sat meditatively gazing into space.

"Of what are you thinking?" Aunt Maria asked her sharply.

"I was just thinking what a lucky thing it was that father married the sister he did," said the little girl.

"Why was it that Gertrude was sent home next morning?" London Opinion.

The Speed Mar.

Just as there are some persons upon whom even one glass of wine exercises an exciting and stimulating effect, so there are human beings upon whom at all high produce a craving for rapid motion. The best drivers, both amateur and professional, that I have known in an experience extending over ten years have either never given way to such maniacs or have cured themselves of it. —London Magazine.

His Taste.

"What business is yours in, ma'am?"

"Why, he's a tea sampler. He samples the different kinds of tea."

"Mamma?"

"Yes, my boy."

"Do you know what I want to be when I grow up?"

"No, what, my boy?"

"A pie sampler." — Youkens Statesman.

"Seeing Glass" or Looking Glass.

The following is an extract from the will of a Lincolnshire farmer, dated Aug. 1, 1706:

"Item I also give to my wife the bed she now lieth on, one oval (sic) table, one Tea table, one round Table, a spindle chair, my chaise and Tea table. Silver spoon, one Hand (sic) warming pan and a Seeing Glass and Tongue." — London Notes and Queries.

The opinion, which was once quite prevalent, that originally all mankind had one and the same speech is no longer held by competent authorities. Language is a growth, and the various tongues have reached their present state through countless ages of development.

Mistress (to servant who comes down very late in the morning)—"Doesn't that alarm clock I gave you wake you up in the morning, Jane?"

Jane—Oh, no, mum, not now, thank you. I worried me a good deal at first, mum, but I've got used to it.—London Telegraph.

It is said to be a rather curious circumstance that some of the most important inventions have been made by lunatics.

How is gas made?

"Well—er—the gas companies simply make light of the consumer's complaints."—Exchange.

It would improve it.

A chapter on speaking on charity held that charity which is not meritorious and clean was bound to fail, bringing to the donor scars instead of gratitude.

"Thus," he once said in a Sunday school address, "a rich landholder while making the round of his tenants' cottages collecting rents met a little girl whose beauty much impressed him.

"In the window front room of the cottage the landholder talked for a while with the little girl, and as he rose to go an unwonted feeling of kindness warmed his heart.

"Let me see," he said, fishing in his pockets—let me see if I haven't something to give to this dear little girl."

"And smiling and chuckling, he went through pocket after pocket. Finally in his hip pocket he found a peppermint drop, a white peppermint drop.

"Here we are," he said, "I've bought us something. Here is a nice peppermint drop for you. And now, we ended."

"'Wash it,' said the little girl gravely."

DANIEL F. LAMEY

Christmas Gifts Big Display of Fancy Crockery.

We bought a large assortment of Fancy Crockery for the holiday trade. We can make you a big saving on your Christmas shopping.

Fancy Decorated Sets.

Bon Bon Dishes. Cups and Saucers and lots of Bridal, a Brac. Also a fancy line of Glass Ware, Beddy Sets, etc.

Dress goods.

We offer special attractive values in wool Dress Goods as low as 35c, 45c, 50c, 55c per yard.

Underwear.

Something special for the Holiday trade. Complete line of Men's, Women's and Children's underwear at prices without the advances. Come to us for underwear.

Table Linen.

Good values in Holiday Table Linen at 30c, 35c, 45c, 50c per yard. Linen Napkins $1.00, $1.25, $1.35 and $1.65 a dozen.

Books.

All kinds of Holiday Books. Best Authors, 15c, 20c, 25c, 30c, 35c and upwards.

Now is the time to get one. We make it easy for you. Records and Needles always on hand.

Talking Machines.

"The Barrington" GAS AND GASOLINE ENGINE

The Latest Improved and Most Gas or Gasoline Engine on the market.

Simple Construction, Guaranteed, Lowest Prices.

Made in all sizes from 1 to 100 H.P. by

A. SCHRAUBL & CO

Barrington, Illinois.

Manufacturers of Shafting, Pulleys and Belting, Cisterns and Tanks.

Repairing of All Kinds of Machinery a Specialty.

I started in the meat market business for the benefit of the public (and myself). We do our own butchering and kill the best that the market affords, and sell at a reasonable price. Your patronage will be appreciated.

WM. HOBEIN

Dealer in Milk Cows

BARRINGTON

East of Grunau's Barber Shop

Fall and Winter Season

Fine Millinery

Prices Most Reasonable

The Latest Fall and Winter Styles

Your Inspection Invited.

MISS H. R. JUKES

Williams St. Barrington

Not improbable.

"I understand that in France a fine is imposed when a train is late."

"Do you believe they fine the train?"

"As to that I can't say. I know they always dock the boats." — St. Louis Republic.

Why He Was Happy.

Brigette Hulsen seems to be happy. From Yester Year she is little known, but she possesses a philosophical temperament and simple tastes. Brigette Lee. She is independently poor.

It is not your duty to be nice that you will be satisfied with yourself, but to do so that your wife will be satisfied with you. —Houston Post.