BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS, FRIDAY, JUNE 26, 1914

$1.50 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

IS MEDICAL EXAMINER

Dr. Sheares Appointed Official Medical Examiner of U. S. Marine Corps.

S. Marine Corps.

Dr. W. A. Sheares, of this place was recently appointed an Official Medical Examiner for the United States Marine Corps, and young men desiring to enter this popular branch of the service should apply at his office for examination.

Applicants for enlistment in the Marine Corps must be white, sober, unmarried and between 19 and 35 years of age; if under 21 must have the written consent of parents or guardians; must have good teeth, feet, eyes, sight and hearing. The minimum height is 5 feet, 5 inches; weight, 120 pounds. As applicants must be respectable, the Marine Corps does not accept men who are undesirable in a community and does not enlist such men. In entering his lot with the Marine Corps a young man does not need to be afraid that he is to be associated with a lot of undesirable young men; the sort of the service is high.

After enlisting a young man has no expense. The Government gives him transportation and meals enroute. His pay is absolutely above all expenses. His board, quarters and clothing are the best; his allowances for clothing is about five dollars per month, which supplies him with every article of clothing that he wears as well as his uniform, and if he takes care of his clothing the balance saved is paid him in cash at the end of his enlistment; this frequently amounts to over one hundred dollars. At the end of a four year enlistment he receives four miles from the place of discharge to the place of enlistment for his transportation home. He does not leave the service broken, but has a comfortable man with which to begin civil life.

The pay ranges from $15 to $100 per month and depends altogether on rank, qualifications, duty and length of service. Only the best men receive the lowest pay. Bright, ambitious young men can expect rapid promotion; there is no bar to the highest rank in the service. The better the man, the better are his prospects. Enlisting in the Marine Corps does not mean that a young man gives up all chances of advancement. Ambitious young men are the type desired.

"Since the passage of the recent bill giving increase pay to Marines, our pay now compares most favorably with the current rates paid to civilian employees," says First Lieutenant James J. Meade, who is in charge of the recruiting district of Illinois with headquarters at 200 South Clark St., Chicago, Illinois. "In fact, we think that we can offer superior advantages, not only from the pay standpoint, but from the standpoint of the excellent, attractiveness and peculiar opportunities of our service."

Marines are not sailors. Their duties are purely military and they wear a distinctive uniform of their own which is neat, dignified, and attractive. They serve on board the large battleships and cruisers, but not on the smaller ships. On board ships they are ordered by the Admirals and Captains; guard the ship; man their share of the ship's guns, and are a military company or the soldiers of the ship. They land for drills, exercises and camping ashore whenever practicable.

Marines also serve in our foreign possessions, such as the Philippines, Cuba, Honolulu, etc., and other places where guards are required for our legations.

Expeditionary work is the feature of the service that is most interesting. When trouble arises in any part of the world, they are the first on the spot.

In the United States they are stationed at the Navy Yards, where they are always ready for any service required.

A distinct advantage of service in the Marine Corps lies in its varied service. The service is roughly divided: one third on the men-of-war, one third in the United States and one third in our foreign possessions.

Forrest H. Williams, whose father, Mr. H. Williams, resides in Barrington, recently caught the inspiration to become a "man behind the gun," and enlisted in the Marine Corps, and transferred to San Francisco. Shortly after Williams was called the Main Corps Recruiting Office at 200 South Clark St., Chicago, Illinois, received the following letter from the senior Mr. Williams:

GONE TO HER REWARD

Mrs. Kuhlman Died Monday at Age of Eighty-Seven.

A contented old lady who always had a pleasant and for passers-by died in Barrington, Monday, at a good old age. She was Mrs. Charlotte Kuhlman, who lived with her daughter, Mrs. Hannah Schott, on Cook street near the post office. Her familiar figure, sitting in her rocking chair on the porch, wearing a quiet white cap, will be missed by the many to whom she spoke.

Thursday morning of last week Mrs. Kuhlman received a severe shock by a fall to the ground when the rope of a hammock, in which she was seated, broke. She was found groaning, but unconscious and scarcely regained her senses until death came early Monday morning, June 22nd.

For many years she had been subject to sinking attacks and these combined with her eighty-seven years and the effects of the fall, ended the life of a worthy woman. Her endurance had been quite remarkable, as in April she went for a visit of three weeks in western states and returned safely without illness.

Mrs. Kuhlman's birthplace was Deckbergen, Hessen, Germany, in July 29, 1821. At eighteen, March, 1839, she married Gottlieb Kuhlman and when they immigrated to America in March 1863, they were the parents of eleven children; a son having died in Germany and an infant daughter was buried at sea.

They came directly to Barrington township where they have always resided, their last home in the country being the present Bowman farm south of town. Mrs. Kuhlman died March 26, 1911.

Twenty-nine years ago Mrs. Kuhlman came to Barrington to live at Mrs. Solp's.

Of the nine children brought to America seven are living. They are Mrs. Solp and Mrs. August Miller of Barrington; Gottlieb of Grassy Lake, Cuba township; Mrs. Helene of Elgin; Mrs. August Rime of Steinhauer, Nebraska; Henry of Waverly, Iowa and William of Mico, Oklahoma.

She was the grandparent of sixty children and great grandmother to eighty-one, most of whom are scattered through western states.

Funeral services were held at Mrs. Solp's at one o'clock Thursday afternoon, and afterwards a church service in St. Paul's Evangelical church of which she was a member. The pastor, Rev. G. H. Stanger officiated and interment was in the church cemetery on Main street.

Notice is hereby given that Canada thistles must be cut at once on all property in Cuba township.

Herman Hackett, Thistle Commissioner.

CLAIRE C. EDWARDS

Candidate for State's Attorney of Lake County.

Subject to the Decision of the Republican Party at Primaries to be Held August 8th, 1908.

Claire C. Edwards was born in the town of Avon and reared on a farm about two miles south of Grayslake. He attended the public schools in Lake county, graduating and receiving a teacher's certificate at the age of 18.

After two years spent on the farm, he chose the law as his profession and with the end in view, attended the Northern Indiana Normal School; Wheaton College and the Northwestern University at Evanston, Illinois, in all five years.

He then entered the Chicago Law School and graduated therefrom in 1901, and was admitted to practice in all courts in Illinois in the early winter of 1901; and in the United States Courts in February, 1907.

During the eight years spent in college, Mr. Edwards worked and paid his expenses, thus being essentially a self-reliant and self-made man.

Mr. Edwards has been engaged in the active practice of law in Lake county for over seven years, nearly six of which has been in the city of Waukegan, having had an extensive and varied office and trial practice.

Mr. Edwards has, as the court records will show, been engaged in the trial of nearly all the important criminal cases tried for the past five years, among which might be mentioned, the murder cases of John Wessop; Betrak Eskellian; Philo Salvatore; Philo George; Mary Rose Salvatore; Muriel Harold Mitchell and May Mitchell.

Mr. Edwards has recently been engaged to lecture to the students of the Chicago Law School for the year 1908-9 on the subject of "CRIMINAL LAW," thus being recognized as one of the leading criminal lawyers in the northern part of the state.

By reason of his extended criminal practice and of his having made a specialty of criminal law, Mr. Edwards is elected State's Attorney, could and would serve the people of the County the benefits of this valuable training and experience.

March 1st, 1904, Mr. Edwards formed a partnership with J. K. Orris, and on April 10, 1908, the same was dissolved by mutual consent. Mr. Edwards is now engaged in the general practice of law in the new central building, corner of Washington and County Streets.

In an interview with a Sun reporter Mr. Edwards stated:

"I am a candidate for this office, standing squarely on my past record, which is well known to the majority of the voters of Lake county. I have nothing to conceal and no promises to make further than this: 'If elected, I mean to conduct the office that I can look every man squarely in the eye and honestly say, that I am doing my plain duty, and to be able after the completion of my term to point to my record as State's Attorney with pride.'"

He further stated: "I am the candidate of no faction, association or league, but shall appeal direct to the voters."

If any man is unacquainted with my record, let them inquire of any man that has served on the numerous juries of this county for the past six years."

Lecture Was Excellent.

St. Anne's Catholic Church was filled Thursday evening with an audience who took great pleasure in listening to an illustrated lecture on Palestine by the Rev. Father E. J. Fox, pastor of the church.

Many views of this country were given and were pleasing for their clearness and artistic coloring; they were of especial note because the slides were made from snap-shot pictures taken by Father Fox and party during their trip; the pictures were given a touch of realism by those viewing them by the fact that the gentleman himself appeared in several.

An imaginative and attentive mind could feel that the journey had been taken in person, for the lecture was so interestingly given. Father Fox over delighted his audience and tells of his travels with a touch of humor.

Some of the actual locations of scenes in Christ's life while on earth were pictured.

There is a way to travel! And yet remains at home! It really is quite possible—Just see the telephone.
