BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS, FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1908

$1.50 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

89TH ANNIVERSARY

Of Odd Fellowship in America Celebrated by Barrington Lodge and Rebekah Degree Members.

Last Friday evening members of Barrington Lodge, 856, I. O. O. F. and Autumn Leaf Lodge, 626, held appropriate exercises at their hall in commemoration of the 89th anniversary of Odd Fellowship in America.

The weather was stormy and many were on this account obliged to forgo the pleasure which the evening afforded. However, the faithful of both lodges attended and while the elements stormed without inside the lodge hall, good fellowship and solid enjoyment reigned.

The program consisted of the regular form prescribed by the laws of the order, which was presented by Past Grand Lines, Vice Grand Page and Representative Alverson. The Grand Master's proclamation was read by Secretary Morrison after which the assembly ended in paying tribute in song to the Orphans and Old Folks homes.

Representative F. J. Alverson spoke of the work of the order relating to the care of its orphans at Lincoln, and its aged members and wives at the home at Mt. Vernon.

A. C. Lines told of the work of the encampment branch and sub-branches.

C. H. Morrison read a paper on "Fraternality" which was adopted specially to the local societies. He said in Part: "Odd Fellowship has long passed the experimental stage, neither is it a theory, but it is the practical application of a great principle of human nature to the very day of life. It has attracted to its lodge rooms 1,709,537 members and in the past year paid for relief of sick and destitute brothers and sisters $5,005,753.37. It is the greatest factor (next to the church) in upbuilding the home circle in making men better citizens. The orphans home and old folks home maintained by the 800 lodges in Illinois are monuments to the noble work engaged in by Odd Fellows and Rebekahs."

Miss Jennie Lines contributed a humorous reading which pleased.

Prof. Fulton gave one of his interesting impromptu talks on his experience in the order which was interesting.

Miss Alta Powers, Noble Grand of Autumn Leaf Rebekah Lodge, and Miss Georgia Topping, representative to the Rebekah Grand Lodge, furnished musical selections.

Refreshments were served by the Odd Fellows and while not as elaborate as the ladies would have offered were substantial and satisfying.

The occasion was one of genuine fraternalism and heartily enjoyed by all who participated. The two lodges are doing much for the betterment of all men and women who enter their ranks and the influence for good is spoken of by those of the public who note the stand taken by them for liberty and good citizenship.

CUBA ASKS FOR A SALOON.

Our hustling little suburb Cuba is making an effort to take care of any trade that is said to be going elsewhere on account of Barrington being a dry town.

A petition has been circulated in the township, and is said to contain a majority of the voters of the township, addressed to the Lake county board of supervisors, asking that a dram shop license be granted to McGraw & Sherman to run a dram shop at Cuba, milk station.

If the prayer of the petition should be granted this would bring a saloon within three miles of the limits of this village and is not taken as pleasant news to the promoters of dry Barrington.

Cuba is not credited on the map of having a population but has a general store, feed mill and blacksmith shop, still doing a good business.

It is said that the effort is being made to have a wide trade put into the Northwestern at this time. A petition has already been presented to the C. & N. W. Ry. asking that they be given a regular passenger train in addition to the milk train which now stops there.

Miss Kinnear, optician, at office of Dr. Richardson, Tuesday, May 5, from 3 to 6 p. m. Do not forget the time.

ENTERTAINMENT WAS GOOD.

Program Presented by the Grade Pupils of the School Was Excellent.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather last Monday evening a large number of the people of this village assembled at the school house to enjoy the program given by the children of the school. Unlike the preceding entertainments given by the school during the year, this consisted almost entirely of readings, songs, drills and instrumental numbers given by the children of the grades, whereas the preceding year the programs were rendered mostly by the students of the high school assisted by outside friends. No charge was made for admission to the first two entertainments but a collection was taken to defray incidental expense, and buy books for the library, both collections amounted to $26.70 of which $8 was spent for advertising and programs and $18 for books.

Monday evening a charge of fifteen cents was made at the door, the gross receipts amounting to $23.50, which together with the balance on hand will be used to buy books.

The entire program given Monday evening was good, being highly entertaining throughout. Many complimentary remarks were passed upon each number. The pupils and their teachers have reason to feel pleased because of the large attendance and fine spirit of appreciation that was shown by the audience.

The program was as follows: Piano Solo . . . . Irene Kessler Reading . . . . Constance Purcell Chorus (Awake) . . . . Second Room Girls Reading . . . . Beatrice Bennett Children of the Lands . . . . First Room Pupils Brownie Drill . . . . Third Room Boys Vocal Solo . . . . Paul Burckhardt Vocal Solo . . . . Gertrude Heise Reading . . . . John Robertson Pantomime Six Little Grandmas . . . . Fourth Room Girls Glimpses of the Brownies . . . . Irving Horns Reading . . . . Jennie Lines Reading . . . . Frances Laney Violin Solo . . . . Frieda Reinhold Reading . . . . Frances Dolan Piano Solo . . . . Edna Baecher

FINED FOR TRESPASS.

S. E. Smith of the Shufeldt farm caused the arrest of Fred Melling of Chicago yesterday for trespassing. Melling was out hunting in company with Frank Haase also of Chicago. They wandered onto the Shufeldt farm and Mr. Smith, the tenant invited them to take a ride to Barrington. The hunters did not suspect what Mr. Smith had planned for them and accepted the offer.

On their arrival in Barrington they were headed for the meat market of the Justice of the Peace F. J. Alverson of Lake county by Mr. Smith. Haase was suspicious and refused to go further and took the 2:31 train for Chicago instead. Melling was an easy victim and went before Justice Alverson, waited for a warrant to be made out, accepted service and a fine of three dollars and costs.

Mr. Melling had a hunter's license and said that he was not aware that signs had been posted upon the farm prohibiting hunting and that when told of it he said was ready to comply with the notice. He returned to Chicago on an evening train not pleased with his outing.

NATE ODGEN.

The marriage of Dr. Raymond Jesse Nate to Miss Geraldine Odgen is announced. The ceremony was performed at Jacksonville, Illinois, Wednesday, April 29th and they will live at Lake Bluff.

Dr. Nate is the youngest son of Rev. John Nate of Avondale who was formerly pastor of the Methodist church here. The doctor attended school here as a boy and has many old time friends in this village; of late years he visited here at the home of his sister, Mrs. Ada Nate McIntosh.

Miss Odgen is a Chicago school teacher and was a member of the Barrington Woman's club during its second year of organization.

The congratulations of all are extended to this estimable young couple.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The Evergreen cemetery association of Barrington will hold their annual meeting at the village hall, Tuesday May 6th, at 1 o'clock P. M. for the purpose of hearing the reports of officers and the election of five trustees. All lot owners are entitled to vote. J. C. PLAGUE, Secretary.

SALOONS ARE LICENSED

(YES—NO)

For a Period of 21 Days Until Local

Option Law Becomes Effective.

The board of trustees met Wednesday evening at the village hall with all members present and President Spangler presiding.

The following bills were allowed and ordered paid:

J. L. Meiners, judge of election . . . . $ 5.00 John C. Plagge, judge of election . . . . 5.00 M. T. Lamey, judge of election . . . . 5.00 George J. Hager, clerk of election . . . . 5.00 George A. Jencks, clerk of election . . . . 5.00 L. H. Bennett, clerk of election . . . . 5.00 L. H. Bennett, services as clerk, etc. . . . . . 29.54 G. W. Spunner, services as president . . . . . 12.50 T. J. Dockery, services as trustee . . . . . 13.50 George J. Hager, services as trustee . . . . . 13.50 H. J. Lageschulte, services as trustee . . . . . 12.50 Wm. Peters, services as trustee . . . . . 12.50 John C. Plagge, services as trustee . . . . . 13.50 Henry Doules, services as trustee . . . . . 13.50 Total . . . . . 232.29

On motion of Trustee Plagge the board adjourned sine die.

New Board Organized

The newly elected members John C. Dodge and F. J. Alverson as trustees and Boy C. Myers village clerk, having previously taken the oath of office, were seated.

George W. Foreman made a request that the saloons be granted a license for 21 days, covering the period up to the time the local option law becomes effective.

A discussion followed in which Attorneys M. W. Mattison and L. H. Bennett took part. It was practically agreed that the board had the right to grant the license but it was a rather embarrassing position for a man opposed to license to be placed in, being asked to vote for what he has said that he was against. The discussion lasted for an hour in an undetermined in which the twenty-five citizens present were unable to hear. Mr. Foreman made a request that the members of the board talk louder so they might all hear. Finally, Trustee Peters made a motion that the saloons be granted a license for a period of 21 days upon their filing with the village clerk, bonds to be approved by the committee on licenses, and the payment of a license fee at the rate of $500 per annum for the period that the license was granted for. Motion carried.

F. W. Stott addressed a communication to the board asking that the time of closing pool and billiard rooms be extended to 11 o'clock. It was referred to the license committee.

Frank Donire and Wm. Grunau applied for the office of village treasurer and collector. The appointment will not be made until next Monday evening.

The bond of Roy C. Meyers as village clerk was presented and approved.

On motion of Trustee Peters board then adjourned.

LATER.

The license committee to whom was referred the application and bonds for dram shop licenses met last evening and concluded that they did not wish to grant licenses in compliance with a resolution passed Wednesday evening.

President Spangler was appealed to and a special meeting was called by him about nine o'clock. All members responded.

The following is taken from the minutes of the meeting: "Moved by Dodge seconded by Lageschulte that resolutions passed at special meeting April 29, providing for granting of dram shop licenses for a period of 21 days be reconsidered. Carried; ayes 6, nays 0."

Moved by Dodge seconded by Lageschulte that applications of Frank McFall, Charles Kosmin and G. W. Foreman for license of 21 days from May 1 to May 21 be denied. Ayes 6, nays 0."

The saloon keepers received the following communication this morning: "You are hereby notified that a special meeting of the Village trustees of the Village of Barrington was held April 30th A. D. 1908, and that at the said meeting the resolution granting dram shop license was revoked. I was accordingly instructed to notify you of said action of the board. Govern yourself accordingly.

ROY C. MEYERS."

The saloons have complied with the order and are not open for business.

MUST BE CAREFUL.

The wise editor of one of our exchanges says that "it costs a country newspaper money every time it takes a stand on any question. Almost any other citizen but a newspaper man can do so without injuring his business, because he is not put on record. When a newspaper publishes anything it's there in black and white and it's hard to get around it. If the editor advocates improvement, the mobs attack go after him and sometimes stop their paper. If he opposes improvements the progressive sort gets on his frame and call him a bad number. If he boosts the shubbles the liberal element calls him crazy, and if he doesn't, the church people say he's going to the devil. If he publishes politics, the opposition gets into his hair, and if he doesn't he is charged with being afraid to stand for his opinion. If he condemns mail order houses, there are people who ask him to attend to his own business, as they have the right to trade where they please. If he publishes mail order ads, the merchants go after his store. No country paper can come out squarely without making enemies and losing money, and in the run of a year or so will incur considerable criticism from nearly everybody. But this should not be discouraging. The newspaper that undertakes to please everybody will please nobody, and if it is honest and sincere and thoughtful, the public will respect it."

ELECT OFFICERS.

There was a large attendance at the Epworth League annual business meeting of the Methodist church at the residence of J. R. Freeman on Tuesday evening. Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Miss Grace Freeman; 1st Vice President, Miss Hattie Frye; 2nd Vice President, Miss Gertrude Hager; 3rd Vice President, Mrs. W. C. Harland; 4th Vice President, Miss Louise Reike; Secretary, Miss Emma Pomeroy; Treasurer, R. D. Wells; Organist, Miss Mildred Elfrink.

At the close of the business meeting some time was spent in a social way, with music and guessing games. Light refreshments were served.

The League is flourishing and starts out well ordered for the new year.

A WISE FARMER.

A farmer in Illinois, who has as much horse sense as some people have hay, tells how he utilizes his horse paper as an advertising medium to save both money and time. He says: "When I am ready to sell my stuff, I insert a little advertisement in the paper telling them what I have to sell; if stock, how many head of each and when they will be ready to ship. The result has been that the buyers are right after me either personally or by mail, and, naturally I always get the highest price. If I want to buy a cow, a steer, a horse, or a dozen of each, I insert a little ad that costs me maybe 25 or 30¢, instead of traveling aimlessly about, and I get a better selection to choose from."

CELEBRATES 50th BIRTHDAY.

About forty friends of Fred Kirschner drove out from Barrington Tuesday evening to his farm residence northwest of this village to remind him that he had attained his 50th birthday. The affair was arranged with the expectation of giving him a "surprise" but the telephone calls during the day had made him suspicious that something unusual was to happen. Progressive clinch was the entertainment arranged for the evening: Mrs. Richard Strohach and Lawrence Donies received first honors and Mrs. Henry Donies and P. A. Hawley were close seconds. Refreshments were served and a very enjoyable evening passed.

PAY YOUR WATER RENT.

All persons desiring to use city water for sprinkling purposes are hereby notified that the water rent for same was due on May 1st and must be paid before the water is used. The superintendent of water works has instructions to turn off the supply where the ordinances governing the use of water is not complied with.

GEORGE A. JENCKS,
Village Collector.

SALOONS CLOSED.

The four saloons of Barrington are closed in compliance with the receding of the board's action of Wednesday evening at a special meeting held last evening.

John Schup has moved to Hunter, Illinois, where he opens a saloon today. Charles Kosmin has gone to Arlington Heights where he expects to deliver beer by wagon. Paul Miller has moved into the flat over his saloon building.

None of the buildings have been rented as yet.

FIRE SOON EXTINGUISHED.

Fire caused a damage of about fifteen dollars at noon today in burning a straw stack on the Broemelkamp place just east of the E. J. & E. Ry. Henry Broemelkamp had a small bonfire near the straw stack burning up shrubbery. Flying sparks caused the fire. A barn was in danger but with the prompt response of the fire department the fire was soon extinguished.

TAKE WARNING.

All persons are hereby warned not to dump rubbish on Cemetery street as it is contrary to a village ordinance and prosecution will follow, if notice is not taken. A place will be provided to dump rubbish if application is made to the Barrington Cemetery Association.

By order of the Board of Trustees.

Allotted Three Score and Ten Need Not Be Limit of Life

By DR. ELIE METSCHNIKOFF,
Scientist and Author of "The Prolongation of Life."

Would it be for the good of the human race to extend the duration of the life of man beyond its present limits?

When we have abolished such causes of precocious senility as intemperance and disease, it will no longer be necessary to give pensions at the age of 60 or 70 years. The cost of supporting the old, instead of increasing, will diminish progressively.

We must use all our endeavors to allow men to complete their normal course of life and to make it possible for old men to play their parts as advisers and judges, endowed with their long experience of life.

To do this all the organs must be preserved in a condition of vigor. It is necessary to recognize and subdue any morbid tendencies, whether these be hereditary or have been acquired during life. It is necessary to be moderate in food and drink, and in all other physical pleasures. The air should be pure in the dwelling and in the vicinity. It is necessary to take exercise daily, whatever be the weather.

In many cases the respiratory system must be especially exercised, and exercise on level ground and up hill should be taken. The persons should go to bed early and rise early, and not sleep for more than six or seven hours. A bath should be taken daily and the skin should be well rubbed, the water used being hot or cold, according to taste.

It can be only in the future, near or remote, that we shall obtain exact information upon what is one of the chief problems of humanity. In the meantime, those who wish to preserve their intelligence as long as possible and to make their cycle of life as complete and as normal as possible under present conditions must depend on general sobriety and on habits conforming to the rules of general hygiene.

It has been said that a man may be known by the company he keeps; he may be known by his habits, by his speech, tone of voice, step, walk, cast of eye, by the way he stands. Indeed every physical trick and peculiarity tells tales of the man inside, the man back of the peculiarity. Personality is summed up mostly when one has tabulated and catalogued the sum total of all a man's outward and visible habitudes.

BARRINGTON REVIEW

More Russian Bluff.

Russia is a good second for Spain in the matter of putting off till tomorrow, always tomorrow, what it should do today. Just now it claims the right to seize the cities of Mukden and Harbin, in the Chinese territory of Manchuria. Sifted to the bottom, the claim is that because Russia is interested in railways which have relation to these cities she must be allowed to run the cities in her own way. In other words, since France may police Morocco, the United States police the coast zone and England police Egypt, Russia may "keep order" in cities lying within Chinese territory. The truth seems to be, according to reports, that Russia is not keeping order in Harbin and Mukden. Life and property are unsafe there. Russia protects interests centering around her railway and allows disorder to reign in the cities.

Before the Russo-Japan war Russia excused her failure to evacuate Manchuria by urging that she had to keep troops there to suppress the brigands. She didn't suppress them. Yet the troops stayed on until Japan took the master up. It is to be expected that the Manchurian cities will remain disorderly, because disorder will furnish an excuse for Russia to rule. Presumably, Russia is to be allowed to go ahead with its plans of railroad and municipal development, but it cannot be supposed that the United States will consent to recognize officially the authority of Russia in Chinese territory. Our consuls in Manchuria are accredited to China and are not supposed to kowtow to Russians, even though China and Japan, which are on the ground and vitally interested, look the other way when Russia carries things with a high hand. This country is pledged to maintain the integrity of Chinese territory and cannot remain passive even though China is weak enough or base enough to be an easy mark for Russian aggressiveness.

Whom Gold is a Curse.

Money is not necessarily an evil. It can do good work. It is an evil and a curse when its holders do not know how to use it for good. Money is not peculiar in this respect. Any power is evil unless directed by wisdom and virtue. Rich Frank Gould and his rich young wife have had their lives blighted by a superabundance of wealth. Gould even laments that he was not born poor. The mother of his wife says the same as to her daughter. The marriage has been unhappy because husband and wife abused the power given them by inherited money.

It is not alone the very rich whose money is a blight. Some who are moderately endowed and some who have to earn all they possess get more poison than sweets out of money. An income of $10 a week or even less has been known to turn a person's head. It is an easy to misuse hundreds as it is tens of thousands. Once an income seems to be steady the recipients move into a "fool's paradise" and never quit it until disaster comes. The wise use of money alone saves it from being always the "root of all evil." Parents who strive to educate their children with money, sending them into a service unless at the same time they teach them by example as well as by precept and by practice as well as by theory how to turn it into a blessing. Children are not to be depended upon to emulate the good behavior of their parents on general principles.

Contingent against the Anglo-Japanese alliance has always been strong in the ports of the far east, largely inhabited by Englishmen, and there is now reason to suspect that there is a large contingent of Britons right at home who view with disfavor any entanglement likely to bring on a conflict between the white and yellow races. That much may be inferred from expressions in England of approbation of the course of the United States in dealing with the Japanese incident in Manchuria.

Those hanging gardens of Babylon were great for their time, but all that was before the blooming of this year's spring hats.

Systematizing Arbitration.

The utilization treaties pending between the United States and the government of China, Thailand, and Korea are in the nature of agreements to systematize that which has heretofore been found unsatisfactory. The arbitration of a certain class of disputes is aimed at in these treaties, which are essentially identical. Unconditional and universal arbitration is believed to be impossible at this stage of world politics. Every nation wants to reserve to itself certain delicate functions of sovereignty. The terms of arbitration the limitations of arbitral procedure are clearly and candidly recognized.

The powers making these treaties agree to submit to arbitration at The Hague only those differences which are of a legal nature, those which it has not been possible to settle by ordinary diplomacy and which do not affect the vital interests, independence or honor, of either party or of a third party. The governments involved may submit to arbitration just those disputes they choose to submit, and failure to submit a case in the classes covered by the treaty will not be a breach of faith. But with the treaties in existence the inclination to submit cases covered by it will grow ever stronger, especially after the first happy solution of a controversy by such means. Two provisos in the treaty with Great Britain are not in the treaty with France. One is that special agreements made under it shall not be binding upon Great Britain before they are upon the United States, which is after ratification by the senate, and that any colony of Great Britain interested in the dispute shall concurred in the agreement to arbitrate. Treaties of arbitration between three great powers will naturally include other nations toward friendly methods of settling disputes which have usually dragged a weary length in the closets of diplomats.

Canada's Southward March.

Although Canadians are coming over here in numbers, the migration raises no issue like that of the reported movement of American farmers to the Canadian northwest. This last sometimes takes on the appearance of a systematic loan for business purposes. Some interest in Canada is working it by speculative methods, and the noise of the American march northward is farreaching.

On the other hand, the Canadians who come over here do it quietly, often on a mere venture, not meaning to stay long. But they get on well here, and there is a steady flow of recruits. Moreover, it is probable that we gain in this way all that we lose in the northwest movement, and we may gain more. Our gains from Canada are people of good American stock, and it is not clear that we lose the same elements in the stream that flows the other way. The native of Canada is as good an American from the essential point of view as the native of these states. The blood may be British, but it may be Simon pure, English, or it may be Scotch-Irish. Whatever the origin, it is of the sturdy stock which made the United States what it is today. The decline of immigration direct from the British islands in late years is often lamented in this country. But if we are getting the same stock by way of Canada, where it has had a generation or two of seasoning under American skies, we are at least balancing the losses indicated by the statistics of foreign immigration recorded at Ellis Island.

America's anarchy is popularly believed to be due to Johann Most. The first fruit of his teaching was the Haymarket bomb tragedy of Chicago in 1887, followed long after by the assassination of President McKinley. Those who inspire deeds of violence never appear at the danger point. Therefore laws must be devised which will strike atrocity of the Most type.

Had the Japs cornered the stock of "Merry Widow" hats on the eve of the Easter display they could make Uncle Sam's chin drop without calling on their army or navy.

The defunct Aldrich currency expansion bill lived long enough to convince the country that expanding the currency by "gold" is not the simple thing some people imagine.

Bewildered Governor Hughes is often likened to Marcus Aurelius, notwithstanding that Mark was clean shaven.

Fears that China and Japan would get together and organize a yellow peril merger seems to have been premature.

The Sandwich Islanders had plenty of time to practice for greeting the battleship Seaford with a lusty "Hab-wah-yah!"

Two reasons for getting busy right now—the season and to make up for several months of lost time.

Footmen should not lose heart. There is still time for the frost crop to fall.

The health of a community depends largely upon the purity of its water supply. Formerly it was thought that water in which chemistry failed to find any noxious elements was fit for domestic use, but in recent years the science of bacteriology has demonstrated that such water may contain the germs of dangerous diseases. These germs increase very rapidly in number and are often communicated by the contamination of a source of water supply from an infected person to a whole community, such as occurred in 1884-5 in Plymouth, Pa. A man who had contracted typhoid fever in Philadelphia was nursed during the winter in a house near a mountain brook which flowed into a river from which Plymouth derived its water supply. The refuse from the sickroom was thrown into the stream and the water became infected without being disinfected. As cold weather does not kill disease germs, the typhoid germs were washed in the spring by the melting of the snow into the mountain stream referred to above, and it contained more than 1,000 cases of typhoid fever and 100 deaths from this disease occurred in Plymouth, these cases being all confined to persons drinking the polluted water.

In 1892 Hamburg, Germany, was visited by a number of victims of cholera. This was derived in water from the river Elbe. At the time of the epidemic the river water without being filtered was used for domestic purposes. It has been proved beyond question that the germs of cholera were communicated by the Elbe water to the victims by a sailor who was sick with cholera on a vessel anchored in the Elbe. Nearly 9,000 persons died of cholera in Hamburg during this epidemic, but in Altona, a suburb of Hamburg, using Elbe water, that had been filtered by sand, not a case of cholera occurred that could be traced to the drinking of the unfiltered water of the Elbe.

Genius. Providence seems to be generous and at the same time economical in the matter of providing men and women with the means of self-preservation. The reason is that such "Erbschleungen" are rare, generous because every human being, to whatever generation he belongs, will probably have the good fortune during the span of his years to watch a portion of the transit of some great comet.—National Review.

SPUR FOR CONGRESS

PRESIDENT AGAIN ASKS PASSAGE OF SEVERAL LAWS.

SENDS SPECIAL MESSAGE

Chief Executive Urges Injunction and National Incorporation Legislation
—Raps Girls Who Marry Foreign Noblemen.

Washington.—Conditions in both the senate and the house were such that the specific measures of the president, further outlining his views to legislation, which was sent to congress Monday received but scant attention.

The message arrived late in the day and the house was so tied up under the new rules that it could not officially receive it. The president's special message was in the midst of the consideration of the naval appropriation bill under the ten-minutes rule when the document reached that body. Unlike the house, the senate permitted the formal presentation of the message, but with the result that the naval bill had been dismissed of the house, and the attendance so small that no attempt was made to read the document.

The message in part:

"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. For months I suffered from fever and ill health so that I thought I could not live. I wrote you, and after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and using the treatment prescribed I felt like a new woman. I am now strong, and well as ever, I thank you for the good you have done me."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills and the positively and negatively of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulence, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

AN ATTRACTIVE PROGRAM.

The program at the Majestic theatre, Chicago, for the week of May 4th promises to be one of the most diversified yet offered during the Spring season.

Every act is of the simeon pure variety and taken as a whole the specialties afford a varied range of really attractive vaudeville.

One among headliners to find a place on the bill is Thilo Claude, the dainty little comic opera star, whose odd and raunchy name is well adapted to the quaintly humorous methods of her sketch.

A smart singer and a dancer and a neat comedienne.

A very great novelty will be the Puebloan Indians, a company of wonderful acrobats from South Italy. Mr. and Mrs. Perkins Fisher, long recognized by vaudeville audiences as talented players will fill an important position on the programme.

Violet Dale, the American singing impersonator, will offer a number of her brilliant and attractive impersonations.

Rice and Prevost will demonstrate how athletic skill and genuine comedy may be bound together in the same sketch.

Stuart Barnes, a clever monologist and singer of parades, is another bright star, and the Mimic Four is a laughable comedy will assist a dozen other specialties on the bill in making a pleasing holiday for Majestic audiences.

NO TOWN KNOCKERS.

How Coryville Got Rid of a Bunch of Unprogressives.

And the Creaking Critics Couldn't Stand the Ordal of Initiation Into the Mysterious Order of the G. B.'s A Story of Masks and Spades.

There was something in Coryville. The G. B.'s were getting busy. Who were the G. B.'s? Oh, just fooling little story and find out!

For many months Coryville had had an overgrowth of citizens. These fellows were but a small group, only four or five, but they did harm. Half a dozen magots can spoil the best sheep ever made. So these town knockers, these critics, critics were known under the name of good市民ization of Coryville by their incessant chorus of derision. Nothing suited them. They opposed every movement for the good of the town. They croaked and clattered and hammered whenever anybody suggested a street improvement or the organization of a business men's club or anything of the sort.

Finally the G. B.'s were organized. For once they did not take the knockers' curse into their confidence. There was a reason and a good one for not letting the knockers know. The G. B.'s initial meeting was held in an old abandoned schoolhouse half a mile out of town. Grips and passwords and other secret signs were adopted. Even a mystic apron was devised, but it was not to be worn where aprons usually were worn, but to be worn around the front just below the eyes thus serving as a mask.

The G. B.'s had been in existence only a month or so, holding their meetings every Friday night in the old schoolhouse, when one of the knockers discovered that such a society had been formed and straightaway notified his brother knockers. The group met in a grocery store.

"Seems to be something mighty mysterious about it," remarked the chief knocker.

"Yes; can't imagine what they're up to." "The society seems to have thirty or forty members, and most of them are the younger element around town, young business men."

"How did you find that out?" asked knocker No. 3.

"Why, one of the members told me," replied the other.

"That's what I was quite sure. It was true since that member had adopted no rule of the G. B.'s. He had been detailed to acquaint the knockers with these primary facts concerning the society. Immediately the knocker in chief had expressed a desire to attend the meeting, but he had been kindly invited along with his brother knockers.

When the five town knockers filed into the old schoolhouse at the regular Friday night meeting they found a most startling assemblage. There was no rule of the G. B.'s. He had been detailed to acquaint the knockers with these primary facts concerning the society. Immediately the knocker in chief had expressed a desire to attend the meeting, but he had been kindly invited along with his brother knockers.

The supreme sachem of the G. B.'s advanced to the group of visitors and said, "I am the sachem of the G. B.'s. I have been initiated into the order. They appointed that they did. How can a man knock unless he is on the inside?" The chief knocker laughed scornfully as he assented to the initiation.

"The order is severe," said the supreme sachem, "but if you survive it you are our brethren. Advance, G. B.'s!"

Fifteen of the masked figures advanced, carrying stout clubs. They quickly bound the hands of the knockers behind them and tied the whole group together, so that they could not be initiated into the order. They appointed that they did. How can a man knock unless he is on the inside?" The chief knocker laughed scornfully as he assented to the initiation.

"The order is severe," said the supreme sachem, "but if you survive it you are our brethren. Advance, G. B.'s!"

Without a word the men with clubs began to dig. The shovellers began to dig, while the others held the men high above the ground. The knockers were led outside, the other G. B.'s followed, and the entire party stopped on the open space back of the schoolhouse.

"What are you fellows up to?" gasped the chief knocker.

"A smart singer and a dancer and a neat comedienne.

When the chief knocker asked the Indians what they were up to, they replied, "We are the Indians."

"We are the Indians," said the chief knocker.
