A real payeroune, opens up a world to the growing city child. The public park may be seen once or twice in a season, but even there play is necessarily restricted. To the average little one the only meaning which cut of doors has is the street, a barrenier of payerener danked up brick walls. Life can be had only by being bottered, and play usually consists of cough games and races, for ball playing is generally prohibited. There is little wonder that the boy and girl brought up in this way doesn't know how to act and to behave when turned loose out of doors in the country. Flowers, vines, trees and even fences seen merely things to butter and destroy. merely things to better and destr In their own homes and in sch in their own homes and in seno doubtless they behave well, for that part of their training from the crad-ing, this all out of doors is the enemy country to the city yourgeters, and they almose privileged and blessine they have never been taudet to us in the playeround authority will pr ammer Tallored Sults, in white, blue, or tan Duck, the very latest things at $5.49, $4.98 and. $5.57, $1.5.40 es' virtley $\text{8}$ wood, fine tailored Sults, now pt-to-date Spring styles.
