DENEEN SPEAKS HERE

Governor and Others Addressed Barringtonians

Yesterday.

The republican rally held yesterday noon was well attended, considering the weather. The speakers arrived on the noon train and took dinner at the Commercial hotel. The meeting was called promptly at 12:30 o'clock in the public square the Barrington band furnishing excellent music.

Governor Deneen made the principal address. He told of how he had fulfilled every pledge made four years ago when he addressed the people of Barrington.

CHARLES S. DENEEN.

The primary law, he said, was lacking in as much as democrats were allowed to vote the republican ticket and republicans the democratic, but this would be amended. He said that he was accused of taking fees of the office received while state attorney of Cook county. The Governor did not deny that he took the fees but pointed out how he was entitled to what he took under the law, which was made before he was elected state attorney. His talk was well received. John E. W. Wyman, republican candidate for state attorney of Cook county, appealed to the voters for their support to the whole republican ticket. He said that a fight had been made on him, but that he was gaining in strength daily. He said that a vote for Street meant the same as a vote for Kern.

Corner Hoffman, who is a candidate for re-election made a good talk. He was followed by state senator Humphrey.

The party left by automobile for Palestine where a meeting was held at 2 o'clock.

DANCING SCHOOL FAILS.

Stott's Social Dances and Dancing School Not Financially Successful.

The dance given in Stott's hall last Friday evening was enjoyed by those attending but was not financially a success. The dancing school, too, was not as well attended of late as it should have been and Mr. Stott, seeing that his efforts to give the Barrington people an evening of instruction and entertainment each week are not appreciated, has decided to abandon the school.

The moving picture exhibition held in Mr. Stott's hall Monday evening was quite well attended, however the pictures were not up to the usual standard.

Two men met in the street, and one said to the other, "Why are you not working, Jones?" "Well, do you see," said Jones, "I work at a place putting spots on dominoes, and I am playing today because they are making nothing but double blanks."

Illinois Corn Exposition.

November 6 has been appointed Corn Carnival Day for each district school by the state superintendent of public instruction, Francis C. Blair, and on that day a "corn show" will be held in each district school. On November 12, which has been appointed Exposition Day in each county, the best of the ear corn exhibits will be collected in the county superintendent's office, or at some place designated by him.

The county superintendent, or a committee appointed by him, shall then select the school having the best exhibit and send same to Springfield for the state show, which shall be the district school exhibit from that county; or the county superintendent or committee appointed by him shall make a collective exhibit from many of the schools of the county as they choose and send same to Springfield for the state show, as the district school exhibit from that county.

A BOLD ROBBERY

Albert Ebel of Algonquin Sandbagged by Two Men and Robbed of $80 on

Own Farm.

A daring robbery occurred on the Charles Jaynes farm, five miles west of Barrington, last Saturday night Albert Ebel, the tenant on the farm being the victim. He was relieved of about $80 in currency.

Mr. Ebel made his regular trip with milk to Algonquin Saturday evening and stopped in one of the saloons while there. He bought a drink, it is said, for Henry Lang of Dundee and Charles Kalal of Cary who were also in the saloon. When Mr. Ebel tendered payment for the drinks he exhibited a "roll." It is said that Kalal and Lang noticed that he had quite a sum of money and followed him from the saloon and drove to Mr. Ebel's home ahead of him.

They lay in wait for Mr. Ebel and after he had his horses taken care of they struck him over the head and relieved him of his money.

Mr. Ebel pretended to be unconscious until they started to run away when he told them that they need not run that he knew who they were.

Gene Andrews, constable at Algonquin was notified and caused their arrest at the house of Kalal, 11 miles east of Cary Sunday morning. Lang, confessed and told where $65 had been hidden in the telephone, which amount was recovered. He said that Kalal had $15 of the money, but when searched the constable was unable to find it. Kalal pleads that he is innocent. Both Lang and Kalal have barely passed their 21st birthday.

They were given a hearing before Justice Mason at Algonquin Monday morning and were bound over to the grand jury in $1000 bonds. They were unable to secure bondsmen and are now in the county jail at Woodstock. Lang at one time worked for Ebel and both were considered to be friends of Mr. Ebel.

PROHIBS HOLD RALLY

Prohibition Candidates Gave

Interesting Talk at Village

Hall Thursday Evening.

Those who attended the prohibition mass meeting at the village hall last Thursday evening, were addressed by John Whitson of La Grange, prohibition candidate for representative from the seventh district, and William A. Brubaker of Chicago, prohibition candidate for lieutenant governor.

Mr. Whitson delivered one of his customary addresses, appealing to the voters to support the prohibition ticket and save themselves, their wives and the future generations from eternal damnation. He is an orator but carried his point well.

Mr. Brubaker who was the principal speaker, appealed to the voters from a business standpoint and gave his listeners many apparently good reasons why they should pledge themselves to vote for none other than the prohibition candidates.

INVESTS IN HIGHLANDS.

Chicago Man Suing to Recover

Monies Sunk in Chicago Highlands Properties.

The Chicago Tribune of Tuesday

says:

Failure of a boom town caused Herbert J. Fisher to bring suit yesterday to recover $3,000 from the Chicago Highlands were worth $310 apiece, that $300,000 was being spent in grading streets and laying sewers and water mains, that every street was sixty feet wide, that a factory employing 400 men was in operation, that plans were concluded to bring a $1,000,000 car coupling plant to Chicago Highlands, that many houses were being built and people living in tents because they could rent no places.

After investing his $3,000, according to the bill, Fisher found none of these representations are true.

YOUR DUTY TO VOTE

Before Another Issue We Will

Have Elected a New President.

The campaign is practically closed.

The spell binder has not cut much of a figure in this campaign. The voters of the United States are intelligent and able to think for themselves. This we believe applies to Barrington. We know that you do not want us to tell you what to do and we are not going to. However, we may say what our own honest judgment is without pretending anyone.

It is the opinion of this paper that the people of the United States, who as they have in the past, be better taken care of with the election of Taft and the entire republican ticket than it would be in the election of Bryan, and that the "people will continue to rule."

It is the duty of every voter to go to the polls next Tuesday and cast a vote for the party of his choice. Anyone not doing this should be counted as one of the "undesirables."

The proposed amendment to state constitution providing for a twenty million dollar bond issue for the construction of a deep waterway between Lockport and Ulen with equipments and power plants for development and utilization of water power, should receive the favorable consideration of every voter.

It is not a party issue. Everyone that is in favor of this proposed work is in favor of it. Not one dollar of the tax payers' money of the state will ever be used to pay these bonds, but they will be paid out of the income from the water power, which is estimated at $5,000,000 per year.

To carry the amendment it is necessary to have a majority of all the votes cast at the election.

Anyone not voting on the question will be counted against it.

Get out early Tuesday morning and vote.

Polls are open from 7 o'clock a. m. to 5 p. m.

Let us do your job work.

SHOULD BE RE-ELECTED

Republican Candidates Who

Have Shown Their Abilities.

Whether Taft or Bryan will be the next president will be decided within the next ten days. The voters have a choice between a man who has had experience in executive office and one who has not had such experience. In Taft they have a man who has proved himself a safe and sane leader, a man whose experience on the bench and in high executive position has especially fitted him to carry out the Roosevelt policies. The republican party never nominated a man for presidency better qualified for it by practical training and education. His administration in the Philippines, his labors in Cuba and Panama and his record on the bench and as secretary of war assure the people before the election what Mr. Taft will do after he is elected.

The same may be said of Governor Deneen. He has proved his capacity as an executive. He has been an exceptionally hard worker and has carried out the pledges made to the people four years ago. He has begun much important work he ought to complete.

Mr. Busse was chairman of the special committee which had charge of the preparation of a new set of abstract books which are now producing a net income of $25,000 a year. Cook county has the best equipped abstract department in the country and is making abstracts more speedily and cheaply than any private concern in Chicago.

Mr. Busse made the county farm, which had been the source of annual loss, yield a profit of $10,000 last year.

He actively supported the bill before the last legislature which provides for turning the insane asylum at Dunning over to the state. This will save Cook county $300,000 a year.

The charity side of the board's work has not been neglected. A new county farm has been purchased on which a new infirmary is being built. After this has been done the insane asylum is to be turned over to the state. Before the purchase arrangements were made with the Rock Island railroad company for passenger and freight rates much cheaper than the county is now getting for Dunning or than could be had on the Northwestern road. Construction work has begun on the new infirmary and a new consumptive hospital, both of which will be models of their kind and will be built on the most approved, modern scientific ideas. The same business principles that made great successes of the new courthouse and the juvenile court building are being applied in the new building operations.

The retiring members of the board from the country districts beside Mr. Busse are August C. Hoeler, Blue Island; Joseph Carolan, River Forest; William C. Hartley, Evanston; and Alfred Van Steenberg, Lansing.

Mr. Busse is a candidate for county commissioner as president of the County Board.

Vote for him twice. Once for Commissioner and once for President of the Board.

FOAM FOR BEER ILLEGAL.

Supreme Court of Illinois Rules on

Law Regulating Sale of Five

Gallon Quantities.

Decisions made by the Supreme court in the case of Oia Nylia, proprietor of a rooming house in McLean county, are of interest to Barrington people.

Nylia was heavily fined for selling beer in so-called five gallon cases. He gave tickets entitling for the number of bottles, permitting customers to take a bottle or two at a time, punching the tickets accordingly. This the court declared was a violation of law.

The contents of the bottles of a case of beer were poured out. It was shown there were four and one-half gallons in the case. Nylia insisted the foam should be measured to make the five gallons. The Supreme court decides to the contrary.

Election Returns.

As a practical demonstration of its long distance service, and as a favor to its many subscribers, the Chicago Telephone Company has arranged to provide half hourly election bulletins on the evening of November 3rd. Patrons may secure returns by calling the local operator at 6 o'clock and each half hour thereafter.

Clubs, organizations or individuals who desire continuous bulletins may arrange for this service by making application to the manager before 1 o'clock Saturday, October 31st.

Dance.

The Oak Glen band will give a dance at Castle Hall, Fox river grove, Cary, Saturday evening, November 7th, for the benefit of the band. Music by good Chicago orchestra. Tickets 50c. Supper extra.

CHESTNUT TIME.

TARIFF AND LABOR

APPEAL TO THOSE WHO WORK FOR WAGES.

Shall the Products of European Trusts Displace Those of Well-Paid and Well-Working American Workmen?

Mr. Bryan tells the workmen, with all the imprudence of one who has discovered a great truth, that "the tariff question really is a labor question." So it is. For once Mr. Bryan stands on firm ground. But the close relationship between the tariff and labor of all kinds was proclaimed a century ago. It was proclaimed by men who believed that the interests of all producers—those of the farms as well as of the factories—would be promoted by the right kind of tariff. That is a protective tariff. The Democratic party refused to admit that, and in this particular Mr. Bryan is faithful to the old Democratic creed. He is against all protective duties, and would repeal them wherever possible. He would "restore the tariff to a revenue basis." That is to say, he would put the smallest possible number of articles on the dutiable list and would impose on them duties as low as he could, bearing in mind the total amount of revenue that was required.

If such a policy were to be put in operation, the "aboring man" for whose vote Mr. Bryan is pleading would learn speedily that the tariff question was a labor question. He would find that goods made by European trusts for which Mr. Bryan harbors no ill will, were displacing goods made by American producers who might or might not be trusted. Mr. Bryan would not discriminate. The displacement of American goods would mean the displacement of American workmen. It would be on so extensive a scale that the maintenance of the existing wage scale in any industry would be out of the question. Mr. Gompers' exertions to keep them up would be fruitless. They would "step down" until the country had returned to the old, sane policy that built them up.

This is the feast to which Mr. Bryan is inviting the laboring men, but he does not tell them of the kind of spread it would be. He says to them that "tariff reform" is needed. So, indeed, it is, for the tariff has not had an overhauling for 11 years. It will be overhauled next year in the event of Republican success. But the "tariff reform" which Mr. Bryan would carry out if he could would cut the laboring men among its first victims. He poses as the special friend of labor. He is its enemy. He gives the laboring men fine words, but they should not listen to them, for if he could, he would cut down their wages.

For Bryan to Think About. It is no wonder that the suave declaration of Bryan that he had supported Roosevelt's policies, the latter should hurl back the rejoinder that he had hindered more than helped. It is no wonder that he points to the attitude of Taft, who would not sacrifice a point of principle by an alliance with a man whom he suspected of acquiescing in Roosevelt's policies, that he tarred the Democratic standard. Mr. Bryan has been food for moral reflection. He has made the great mistake of one who is preeminently superficial and whose tendency is to accept at face value those who rant about their reforming zeal.

John Temple Graves says that the Bryan party will "go to pieces" after election. Why in 1908 may they not? In 1908 and 1904? So long as the Bryan party centers in W. J. Bryan, and that individual continues hale and vigorous, what reason is there against the Democratic candidate being provided for the next four or five campaigns?

WHY PREFERENCE FOR TAFT.

Sober Sentiment for the Consideration of Voters.

There is a notable absence this year of the popular enthusiasm that has marked former national campaigns. Although the contest has been one of personalities rather than principles, the leading personalities do not arouse the strong emotions of the past.

Thus the situation is one in which sober men intent on doing what is best for the day, will wield a mighty power. Why is it better for such men to prefer Mr. Taft to Mr. Bryan? Mr. Taft promises to be radical in the exact sense and to the exact limit to which Mr. Roosevelt is radical. His chief endeavor will be to carry out, so far as he can, the "Roosevelt policies." Mr. Bryan promises to do all this—and more. He is for the same things that Mr. Taft is, and for more besides.

For instance, Mr. Taft is pledged to a comprehensive tariff revision. Bryan sets as his goal a tariff for revenue only. Again, Mr. Taft is in favor of the courts and would alter them, and Mr. Bryan demands that these processes be revolutionized. Again, Mr. Taft is for the popular election of senators as a pious wish. Mr. Bryan is for it as a definite program. And so on.

On one point only is Mr. Taft more radical than Mr. Bryan. That is in support of the plan of the Hepburn amendment. He would have the president made personal arbiter of three-fourths of the country's business. Mr. Bryan would have as much governmental inspecting and regulating of business, but he professes a preference for state rather than national control.

So much for the greater soberness of the Taft policies. Next comes the question whether Mr. Taft or Mr. Bryan, by temperament, by experience, and by party responsibility, would be the less inclined to do revolutionary things. Here, too, the judgment must be decisive for Mr. Taft. He has at least a judicial training, and he is not likely to be a reviver of lost causes. Both his past and present are soberer than Mr. Bryan's. And behind him is the great experience and proven efficiency of the Republican party in the actual business of government.

Dispelling Apathy and Doubt. Judge Taft's trip through several of the western states, where it was claimed the Republicans were going to lose on account of factional division and apathy, has been a continuous ovation.

The desire to see and hear the Republican candidate has been such as to bring out immense crowds of enthusiastic people wherever he has been. The interest and enthusiasm displayed has not been exceeded in any campaign, and Judge Taft has addressed himself to sober, thinking people, courteously discussing the real issues involved in the election of a president. There will be no more talk of apathy.

Republican apprehension—where such really existed—regarding the injury that might result from factional divisions in such states as Wisconsin and Iowa has been completely allayed by the appearance of Judge Taft in those two states. In each state the two factions sought to outdo each other in manifestations and assurances of support for the party's national candidate.

Out West. Do we want a naval force in the Pacific? Then we don't want Bryan. Do we desire to push trade in the Pacific, and to hold the Hawaiian and Philippine Islands as means to this end? Then we don't want Bryan—Portland Oregonian. That's a pretty good line on Pacific trade. The Democratic candidate is a "faint" and little navyites out there.

FOR THE TEA TABLE.

New Strainer That May Be Said to Fill a Long-Felt Want.

Soon the tea table will again be in operation. It is not that we love tea, but we love the tea table, and the tea table is a pretty custom to drop in at five to enjoy a dish of tea and a platter of marmos.

For the tea table-covers and doilies which may be as handsome as purse or fingers can make them. And by the way, the cleverest little tea strainer was shown to me the other day.

Let me tell you about it, for I at once added it to my list of "necessaries for Christmas gifts," and perhaps you will like to do the same. It is none too soon to plan for Christmas, and we do not discover such really pretty and useful little articles every day.

Now, you know how difficult it is to hold the old-fashioned strainer, how it invariably drips tea all over a dainty tea-cloth at the filling of each cup.

The new strainer drips—but it drips decorously and harmlessly. The little article is really skillfully built. There is a tiny "drip pan" of silver with an ebony handle attached; the springing over this "drip pan" is the strainer of perforated silver. The little contrivance is so well balanced that the moment twist of the fingers turns the "pan" to one side, allowing the strainer to swing over the cup.

When the tea is poured a reverse twist brings the "pan" again beneath the strainer, and it may be set upon a cloth of the finest texture with the assurance that the little "drip pan" stands between fair linen and ruin.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Can You Make Sailor's Knot.

If you are skilled in the art of tying or string, your hands are needed for the new director's sash. The ends of it are now twisted into the sailor's Turk's head knot. This is a new touch, which has a tiny knot at the top.

The folds of silk are laced and interlaced in exact sailor fashion into the large soft balls which end the streamers.

TASSEL OF PRECIOUS STONES.

Expensive Ornament That is Much in Favor with the Elect.

One of the barbaric pieces of jewelry that has recently been brought in, first fashion is the three-inch tassel of precious stones.

One may at first wonder how much an ornament can be used, but once seen one is convinced that the ornament is not only beautiful, but very much to be desired.

The tassels are sometimes in loops, or in single strands like fringe. They are mounted on a ball studded with the same jewels, or on a slide of gold which has a tiny knot at the top.

However they are made, this is the way they are worn. They are mounted in the two ends of a quarter-inch

1 on each of the next 5 stitches, 11 chain, 7 trebles on open square, 11 chain, 7 trebles on next open square, 2 chain, 1 treble four times, 1 treble on end stitch, turn.

4th Row: 3 chain, 1 treble, 2 chain, 1 treble three times, 2 chain, 6 trebles on treble, catch to third chain, slip the next 6, 5 trebles on treble, catch to next chain, slip 6, 4 trebles, 3 chain, turn.

5th Row: 7 trebles, 11 chain, 1 treble on last of the group of trebles, 2 chain, 1 treble, 2 chain, 1 treble on first of next group of trebles, 11 chain, 1 treble on open square, 2 chain, 1 treble six times, 1 treble on end stitch, turn.

6th Row: 3 chain, 1 treble, 2 chain, 1 treble five times, 2 chain, 6 trebles on treble, catch to third chain, slip 6, 3 chain, 1 treble on treble, 5 chain, catch to third, slip 6, 6 trebles on treble, turn.

7th Row: Slip along the top of the first 7, 3 chain, 6 trebles on open square, 11 chain, 7 trebles on next open square, 11 chain, 7 trebles on two small squares, 2 chain, 1 treble four times, 1 more treble, turn.

8th Row: 3 chain, 1 treble, 2 chain, 1 treble three times, 2 chain, 6 trebles, catch to the chain and slip chain, 5 trebles on treble, catch to and slip chain, 6 trebles on treble, turn.

FOREST FIRE LOSSES

SEVERE DRAIN ON THE TIMBER SUPPLY, SAYS PINCHOT.
WATER SHEDS DAMAGED

Disruption Results from Delay in Beginning to Fight the Flames
—More Rangers Are Needed.

Washington.—"In many ways the forest fire this year have been the worst I have ever known," said Gifford Pinchot, chief of the forestry bureau, Saturday. "The whole northern half of the country has been attacked, and the losses represent a severe drain on our timber supply. Besides destroying valuable timber and other property, the flames which have been raging since the last of the week in the east have caused almost incalculable damage to water sheds of important streams supplying power for countless cities. The fire in the Adirondacks the destruction has resulted in marring one of the nation's most useful playgrounds."

Fires Are Not Chasing in Time.
"There is little or no difference between the fires of 1908 and those of other years, so far as causes are concerned. Unfortunately there is a difference in the way people have met them. In most states the fires have been allowed to burn until they threatened valuable property and only then efforts were made to check them."

The forest fire question resolves itself into one of the most important problems before the nation in the care of its resources. The destruction following a fire is not realized by some, and I am sure, until the greatest thing that could be done in furthering the movement for the conservation of forest resources would be to give as many people as possible a chance to visit a section that has been impoverished by a fire."

Ranger Patrol Is Favored.
"The watchman plan has been fairly successful in places, but it is not a preventive system. To begin work after a fire has gained headway means that from the start the chances are against checking it before it has done great damage. No fire fighting method that did not provide for ranger patrol has shown itself to be wholly valuable. In the national forests we are meeting the situation with a satisfactory system, although the number of men in the field is insufficient and the rangers' districts are so large that the fire risk is raised above the point of safety. The one secret of fighting fires is to discover your fire as soon as possible, fight it as hard as you can, and refuse to leave until the last ember is dead."

Rain Extinguishes Forest Fires.
Lexington, Ky.—Reports from the eastern part of the state say rain which fell here did much toward extinguishing forest fires, which have destroyed many thousands of dollars' worth of timber, fencing, etc. In some sections the people had left their homes because of the fire, and were living in tents ready to fly at a moment's notice. These are returning to their homes.

Pennsylvania Drought Broken.
Philadelphia.—The drought which has continued in this state for nearly two months has been completely broken in some sections, while in other localities still showers have been falling. A report from Williamsport states that the drought in that part of the state has been broken and that the forest fires have been extinguished. It has been raining incessantly for many hours.

ORVILLE WRIGHT NEARLY WELL.
—Sprint Removed from the Aeroplane's Broken Trigh.

Washington.—Orville Wright, the aeronaut who narrowly escaped death in the accident to his aeroplane during a flight at Fort Myer, Va., five weeks ago, will soon be able to leave for his home at Dayton, O. His most serious injury was a broken thigh and the splint was removed from the leg. It was found upon measuring the leg that the one injured, that it is but a quarter of an inch shorter than the other. An X-ray examination of the fracture showed that the knitting of the broken bones has been perfect.

Mexican Plotters Guilty.
El Paso, Tex.—Charged with fomenting a revolution in the Mexican States against a friendly nation, Preciliano G. Silva and Leonilo Trevino were found guilty by a jury in the United States court for the western section of Texas Friday. Benjamin Silva and Jose Maria Ramirez were acquitted on the same charge.
Trevino and Silva will be sentenced by Judge Maxey. The penalty prescribed is not less than one, nor more than five years' imprisonment.

Forest Fires in Indiana.
Jaeger, Ind.—Forest fires have been raging in Dubois county, a few miles south of Jasper, for the last 24 hours, and considerable damage has been done. The McCord sawmill in the Patoka bottoms was destroyed.

Murdered by Highway Robbers.
Pittsburg, Pa.—Hugh McGuire, a well-known resident of Camp Hill, a suburb, was killed by highway robbers. He was rendered unconscious by a blow and then thrown into the creek, where he drowned.

SHIPS SAIL FROM JAPAN

DEPARTURE OF THE FLEET IS A BEAUTIFUL SPECTACLE.

Behavior of American Sailors Elicits Praise from Japanese—Not a Case of Desertion.

Tokyo.—The departure of the American battleship fleet Sunday was one of the prettiest features of the week, as well as the final event in the visit of the Americans.
The flagship Connecticut slipped her cable at exactly eight o'clock. She steamed past the Louisiana and saluted the crowd of the ships of the remainder of the first squadron. When the eight ships had passed, the Louisiana led the second line, and the entire fleet then formed in single column.

As each of the American battleships passed the head of the Japanese column, the crews of the ships of both nations cheered enthusiastically and the band on each of the American ships played the Japanese national hymn. When the last of the 16 ships was saluting, the Connecticut was visible on the horizon. Within exactly 50 minutes the entire maneuver had been completed.

Fires Are Not Chasing in Time.
The Japanese naval men are loud in their praises of the behavior of the American sailors, and are especially appreciative of Rear Admiral Sperry's bearing throughout. Among the enlisted men there was not a single case of actual desertion.

The series of incomparably brilliant functions which have characterized Japan's reception of the American battleship fleet came to a close here Friday night with a dinner on board the battleship Fujii, the guests of which were confined to the American ambassador, rear admiral and other officers.

There was also a brilliant reception on the battleship Mikasa to which all the prominent Americans here were invited, with the accompaniment of an illumination of the fleet, fireworks and torchlight processions on shore.
Rear Admiral Sperry endorsed himself in places, but it is not a preventive system. To begin work after a fire has gained headway means that from the start the chances are against checking it before it has done great damage. No fire fighting method that did not provide for ranger patrol has shown itself to be wholly valuable. In the national forests we are meeting the situation with a satisfactory system, although the number of men in the field is insufficient and the rangers' districts are so large that the fire risk is raised above the point of safety. The one secret of fighting fires is to discover your fire as soon as possible, fight it as hard as you can, and refuse to leave until the last ember is dead."

DOUBLE TRAGEDY IN SOUTH.
Cowboy and Policeman Kill Each Other at Gulfport, Miss.

New Orleans.—News was received here Sunday of a double tragedy during the night at Gulfport, Miss., in which a cowboy belonging to a wild west show and a Gulfport policeman lost their lives. While the show was packing up, preparing to leave for New Orleans, Don Seelye, the cowboy, was altered by a crowd of negroes, beating them over the heads with the butt of his revolver. Thomas Lee Varnado started in pursuit of Seelye and the two men were lost in view in a cloud of dust. Later their bodies were found near the railroad, each body bearing a single bullet wound, and each man's revolver containing one empty shell. Seelye was the son of a ranch owner living near El Paso, Tex.

KICKS FROM THE FOOTBALL FIELD.

MASKED RIDERS ARE BOLD

TWO APPEAR IN DAYLIGHT NEAR TOWN OF OBIION, TENN.

Farm Wife Forced to Cook for One Ruffian—Threats Are Made Against Trenton.

Oblion, Tenn.—Masked riders made their appearance at two points within three miles of Oblion in broad daylight Monday. Oblion is 15 miles from the county seat, Nashville.
Early in the day a roughly-dressed white man, wearing a mask, appeared at the home of George Beard, on the L. A. Wheel farm and demanded breakfast of Mrs. Beard. Being informed that no food was prepared, he ordered Mrs. Beard to cook breakfast and call him from the woods nearby when it was ready. Mrs. Beard complied. The intruder ordered Mrs. Beard to enter another room while he ate, in order that he might remove his mask.

Two hours later, while Will Brown of Oblion was driving, at a point about three miles from the Beard home he was confronted suddenly by a masked man who stepped from the bushes and ordered him to halt.
"What is your name, where have you been, where are you going, what is your business?" demanded the night rider.

Receiving apparently satisfactory replies, the man ordered Brown to proceed.

Union City, Tenn.—Dr. T. J. Hoppel of Trenton, who is here, says an unsigned letter was found on the stairs to his office Sunday which contained many threats against Trenton. The letter was full of profanity and declared it was proposed to give Trenton hell, and to make way with the men and women, white and negroes. The letter said the town would be visited the first of this month, and that the people would soon be "drinking water in hell." On the back was the picture of a horse and rider.

"LOAN SHARK" LAW INVALID.

Illinois Supreme Court Passes on Wage Assignment Statute.

Springfield, Ill.—Sections of the Illinois laws which pertain to the assignment of wages are declared invalid in the decision of the supreme court in the case of Perry J. Masie versus Charles E. Cerna.

Section 4 of the exemption laws of Illinois declares that every assignment of wages to be collected in whole or in part more than six months after the making of such assignment shall be void. The court holds that this is an unconstitutional interference with the right to contract and that section 1 requires in the assignment of wages that the assignee, as a condition which does not apply to assignments of other claims of like character, and whose imposition is merely arbitrary. The statute, as a whole, was beyond the constitutional power of the legislature to enact. The decree is therefore reversed and the cause remanded with directions to sustain the demurrer.

The law was passed at the last session of the legislature and was one of the "loan shark" measures.

JOE JAMES IS EXECUTED.

RICH MAN KIDNAPED

LUMBERMAN OF WASHINGTON IS CAPTURED BY BANDIT.

$5,000 RANSOM DEMANDED

Victim After Being Compelled to Write to His Wife for the Money, Makes His Escape.

Bellingham, Wash.—A special from Mount Vernon says: While driving to Mount Vernon from his lumber camp, about 15 miles from here, Edward English, a wealthy lumberman of Mount Vernon, was held up and kidnaped by a lone robber about three miles from town. The robber forced English to make a note payable at a Mount Vernon bank for $5,000 and to write the following letter to his wife:

"Mrs. English—Dear Wife: I am held up and kidnaped for $5,000 and I am thinking with having my ears cut off if the money is not forthcoming by tomorrow noon. For God's sake, make all haste. Show this to Mr. Hannay and await his advice."

"ED. ENGLISH."

Hannay is connected with a Mount Vernon bank. The robber, within two miles of town, handed the note and letter to a passing traveler, telling him that English had been injured in a runaway and to take the missive to Mrs. English. This stranger did.

Meanwhile the bandit left his victim tied to a tree, evidently intending to return to him in the morning to see if the ransom was forthcoming. English, however, managed to break loose from the ropes which bound him and made his way to the home of Henry Day, about two miles from Mount Vernon, where he telephoned his wife and sheriff Harmon.

The sheriff at once sent deputies out in hopes of securing the kidnaper. The man is described as having one arm bandaged.

PRINCE NAVIGATES THE AIR.
Henry of Prussia Is Zeppelin's Guest in Airlift.

Friedrichshafen.—Prince Henry of Prussia spent several hours in the air Tuesday as the guest of Count Zeppelin, who made an ascension in his re-modelled airship at a comparatively early hour. Not only did the prince thoroughly enjoy his experience, but he sat at the steering wheel for many miles of the flight, guiding the movements of the craft and compelling it to execute all kinds of complicated maneuvers.

Prince Henry's satisfaction at the great flight was unbounded and he gave expression to it in a telegram which he sent to the emperor, saying: "Under Zeppelin's guidance I felt just as safe as on my own ship."

This decision was arrived at by the cabinet Tuesday morning after a long debate, in which Emperor Ferdinand used all his influence in favor of peace with compensation.

As a further step in the direction of peace, 60,000 reservists will be discharged at once, leaving the army at its normal strength of 60,000.

NOT UP TO THE RECORD.
Boy Had, at Least Once Seen Larger Feetal Extremities.

A pupil of one of the public schools in Chicago sends this communication: "Dear Sir: In our school this morning an amusing dialogue took place. 'A primary teacher of Chicago, wishing to impress on her pupils the necessity of greater quiet, said: 'I am a great deal larger than any of you, yet I don't make any noise when I walk around the room.' 'Perhaps,' remarked little seven-year-old Kenneth, 'you don't wear shoes.' 'Oh, yes, I do,' quickly replied the teacher; 'just look. Did you ever see any larger than mine?' 'Yes,' he replied slowly, 'once in a show.' 'Waverly Magazine.'"

BREAKS A COLD PROMPTLY.
The following formula is a never failing remedy for colds:

One ounce of Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, one ounce of Tonic Compound and one-half pint of good whiskey, mix and shake thoroughly each time and use in the course of a tablespoonful every four hours.

This if followed up will cure an acute cold in 24 hours. The ingredients can be gotten at any drug store.

Where Willie Was.
There is a humorous story of Mark Twain's "absent-mindedness," but it doesn't match the one I tell you.

The professor (at the dinner table)—Oh, by the way, Mrs. Chopticks, have you seen your little boy, Willie, lately?

Mrs. Chopticks—No, professor, I have not seen him since ten o'clock, and I can't imagine where he is at this time. In fact, I am very much worried about him.

Professor—Well, seeing Martha poor me out that ghastly state of mind, I conclude me of something that I had on my mind to tell you some time ago, but which unfortunately escaped my memory.

Oh, yes, I think that I saw little Willie fall down the well.

The Still Alarm.
A tourist in an out-of-the-way region of England put up one night at an amiable old lady's cottage, the village inn being full.

Now, the tourist was very deaf, which fact he took pains to impress upon the old lady, together with instructions to wake him at a particular hour in the morning.

On waking a great deal later than the time appointed, he found that the amiable old lady, who had shown him the greatest regard for property, had slipped under her door a slip of paper on which was written:

"Sir, it is half-past eight!"—Harp'er's Weekly.

ASTONISHED THE DOCTOR.
Old Lady Got Well with Change of Food.

A great scientist has said we can put off old age if we can only nourish the body properly.

To do this the right kind of food, of course, is necessary. The body manufactures poisons in the stomach and intestines from certain kinds of food stuffs and unless sufficient of the right kind is used, the injurious elements overcome the good.

"My grandmother, 71 years old," writes a N. Y. lady, "had been an invalid for 18 years from what was called consumption of the lungs and bowels. The doctor had given her up to die."

I saw so much about Grape-Nuts that I bought a box and tried them. It was just what I needed. She had not eaten anything for more than a few minutes.

"She began Grape-Nuts with only a teaspoonful of water and did not distress her and as she could retain it, she took a little more until she could take all of a teaspoonful at a meal."

"Then she began to gain and grow strong and her trouble in the stomach was gone entirely. She got to enjoy good food for one so old and was now Grape-Nuts saved her life."

"The doctor was astonished that in stead of dying she got well, and without a drop of medicine. She says she never felt better than when she began the Grape-Nuts. 'There's a Reason.' Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read 'The Road to Well-Being' in pages."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

ties on your lungs, you have weak lungs. A "hang-on" cough is dangerous to take care. Get rid of it in the beginning simply and effectively; allays the irritation, in throat of phlegm, cleans the clogged air. For nearly half a century the unsurpassed coughs, colds and chest complaints has been

TATTS SERVICE TO LABOR.

Destroyed the Old English Law Assumption that Labor is a Conspiracy.

(From the Europa (Kan.) Gazette.

The simple fact is that no man has done more to place union labor on a sound, secure, law-abiding, respected footing than William H. Tatt by his decisions in labor cases. Both employers and employed have acknowledged the justice of his decisions and learned to abide by them, and today there is not an intelligent worker or fair-minded employer who would seek to subvert them.

Judge Tatt lifted union labor from the doubt and uncertainty as to its rights which had before prevented and gave it a standing which it has ever since retained, and which has proved under his rulings, source against all attack. The old assumption, derived from England, that union labor is a conspiracy, and that workers could be prosecuted from leaving railway or other employment at their will, was swept away forever by Judge Tatt so far as the United States is concerned, and when an attempt was made, years later, to revive the principle, Judge Tatt's decision was quoted successfully by the laborer to defeat the plot.

Mr. Tatt was and is laborer's friend, and he is absolutely just, and would no more permit wrong to be done to the poorest laborer in the land than he would to any one else. And the honest law-abiding workers ask and expect no more than this.

Tom Walker.

Tom Walker, whose name is so affectionately linked with that of his Satanic majesty in the worldwide saying, "The devil and Tom Walker," was a poor old miser, born in Massachusetts about the year 1727. Tom suddenly became very rich and opened a counting house in Boston during the panic which prevailed in the time of Governor Belcher. He grew rich and richer, but one day as he was foreclosing a mortgage on a poor land jobber a black man appeared on horseback and knocked at his office door. Tom went to open it and was never seen again. Of course the good people of Boston immediately noted that he had sold his soul to the devil for wealth—New York American. "Is that you, Frank?" asked Mrs. Tippins in a nervous voice as she heard some one knock about in the next room in the darkness. "It is," replied Mr. Tippins. "You gave away such a shock. I thought at first there was a man in the house."—Exchange.
