BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS, FRIDAY, AUGUST 28, 1908

$1.50 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

GONE TO HER REWARD

Miss Rebecca Thompson, aged

58. Died Monday

Morning.

Mrs. Rebecca Thompson, aged fifty-eight years, wife of J. B. Thompson of Cuba township died early Tuesday morning, August 25th, of cancer of the stomach. She had suffered greatly for the past month and was never robust. She had always been about, enjoying a bed of ill health years ago, when it is thought the disease developed.

On Sunday the lady lay apparently comatose but helpless, and died while sleeping at four o'clock Tuesday morning with her family gathered at the bedside.

The Thompson home is about two miles and a half directly north of Barrington, near Honey Lake, the former Henry Glasse farm.

Mrs. Thompson was a woman of quiet tastes, patient and kind through trouble and sorrow, gentle and industrious. She was of English birth and was born in the town of Kirtley, Lincolnshire, England, May 19, 1850. Two sisters and a brother are living in England.

When twenty years old she married Job Thompson who lived near her home, April 7, 1870. Mr. Thompson came to America soon afterwards and a few years later, in 1879, Mrs. Thompson followed with an infant daughter.

They lived on a farm near Crystal Lake, towards Huntley, about six years, then in Waukegan ten years and have resided at the present home ten years.

In England Mrs. Thompson was a Methodist; in Crystal Lake she affiliated with the Baptist church, but entered the Methodist church here long ago.

Mrs. William Leonard is the oldest daughter and left at home with the father are two sons, George and William and three girls, Sarah, Edith and Mabel.

The funeral was held at the home Thursday afternoon at one o'clock with Rev. Matthew as pastor. Burial was in the White cemetery.

Increased Valuation in Towns. The board of assessors of Cook county has finished its labors reviewing the estimates of assessors on the real estate located in the thirty townships of Cook county and find total of nearly $150,000,000. The increase over valuations of 1907 is about $10,000,000.

Barrington township shows an increase of $5,000, the figures for 1907 being $254,948; for 1908, $259,948. Palatine, 1907, $395,500; 1908, $437,978.

The board changed the estimates of assessors but little.

Thank You, Brother. A gentleman who came into our office to pay his subscription the other day was jokingly asked by another one of our subscribers if the Review was worth the price. He said, "It's surely in a while ago I tried to go without it, and never felt so cross and crabbed in my life. I soon became a subscriber again." Words of appreciation, such as these, are valued highly by a country editor who must bear many criticisms as well.

Y. M. C. A. Win as Usual. Last Saturday afternoon the Y. M. C. A. defeated the U. S. Express team 6 to 1. To-morrow they will play the T. Rutlins, of Chicago, which is a team that defeated them so badly a few weeks ago, and the only team which has been able to defeat them lately. The Harrington's are out for revenge. It will be the game of the season.

Twenty-five and Cents. The Canada thistle case, the People vs. H. D. Wetmore, came up for trial before Justice Kohl at Lake Zurich Monday afternoon. A charge of venue from Justice F. J. Alverson having been taken. The case was tried by a jury who found against Mr. Wetmore and placed the fine at $25 and costs.

Temperance Rally. At the Harrington park campground Saturday, August 29th, at 2:30 p. m., Bishop R. Dubs, D. D. will deliver a temperance lecture in the English language. Everybody come and hear a masterly discussion of the great Saturday the fifth and last day is called "Dearly Day."

Waukegan Postoffice Robbed. The Waukegan postoffice was entered by burglars Sunday night. The safe was blown and about $1,500 in currency and stamps taken. No trace of the burglars has been found.

COOK COUNTY TEACHERS MEET.

Principal Feature of Annual Institute

Is Series of Lectures by Dr. Earl Barnes.

The annual Cook county teachers' institute opened at the Chicago Normal school Monday. One of the principal features is a course of lectures by Dr. Earl Barnes of Philadelphia. The session will come to a close today.

Good Time, But Expensive. Gus Pulos, proprietor of the Barrington Chocolate Shop, together with Louis Chalaga owner of the restaurant and his cook, Charles Alexander, were taken into custody Sunday afternoon by Marshal Peters on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. They had been to Lake Zurich and imbibed too freely of the "amber liquid." On the way back they drove the horse quite hard, and while it was not injured it was quite stiff the next morning. They settled with Mr. Comstock, owner of the animal, five dollars.

The gentlemen were released Sunday evening on $50 cash bail, each, and allowed to resume business. Monday morning they were arraigned before Justice Lines and pled guilty to the charge. Pulos and Chalaga were each fined $5 and costs, and Alexander received a fine of $10 and costs.

Pianos at a Discount of 20 to 40 Per Cent. When Lyon & Healy of Chicago bought for cash the entire retail stocks of three leading Chicago piano houses, viz: The Thompson Music Co., the Healy Music Co., and the F. G. Thearle Co., the entire piano trade of the United States wondered what Lyon & Healy could do with such a vast collection of fine instruments in addition to their own big stock, for these are no cheap factory pianos, but pianos of makes of the highest reputation.

What Lyon & Healy have done is, to mark all these pianos, and there are hundreds of them, at a discount of 20 to 40 per cent. The response upon the part of the public is marvellous.

If you know the names of good standard makes of pianos and the prices always paid, you will need no second invitation to write to Lyon & Healy, 77 Adams street, Chicago, for lists and terms. For you can secure a genuine $200 upright for $150, or other bargains in proportion.

Lyon & Healy give their own guarantee with every one of these pianos no matter whether it is from the Thompson, the Healy, or the Thearle stock. Nothing like this opportunity has ever been given to music teachers, students and music lovers heretofore.

McHENRY COUNTY FAIR.

Will be Bigger, Better and More

Interesting Than Ever Before.

All residents, as well as former residents, of McHenry and surrounding counties, both young and old, little and big are cordially invited to attend the McHenry County Fair and Home-Coming Festival to be held at Woodstock, Illinois, the second week in September, and see what the management have prepared for them in the way of entertainment and enjoyment.

Tuesday will be one of the best days of the fair. Attractions will be provided on Tuesday that will not appear on any other day. Come Tuesday and stay all the week.

The premiums offered this year are practically double those offered in any former year, thereby insuring unequalled exhibits in all departments. The program of special free attractions and amusements will greatly surpass anything ever before presented at a fair in northern Illinois.

The spectacular military feats are also troops in their reddest casting suits, sensational gymnastic and comedy acrobatic feats are among the best that can be secured, and cannot fail to please the most fastidious.

Prof. H. Barnet, the successful aeronaut, of Butler, Indiana, will give balloon ascensions and parachute leaps each day of the fair. One of the greatest and most pleasing features of the fair will be the great group of Willingham Zeppelins, consisting of twenty of the world's best drilled soldiers. This is conceded to be the finest and fastest drilled organizations in the world, marching at the rate of 220 steps per minute. This organization has been declared "Champions of the World" by the government military experts who engaged them for the Jamestown Exposition. Their wall-climbing, pyramid building, and other feats are marvellous and wonderful, and the management consider themselves fortunate in being able to secure this noted military company, they having never before played to a fair in any city of less than 50,000 people.

The speed program under the management of Superintendent A. S. Wright will be enjoyable beyond measure. Famous best-of-breed drivers have been entered for these races, and hot and exciting contests may be expected such as will afford entertainment to the most ardent admirers of the sport.

The Grand Home-Coming Festival will be one of the best and most interesting entertainments of the fair, and the members of the Agricultural Board and the people of the county generally will take the greatest pleasure in extending a hearty welcome home to the hundreds of former residents who will be in attendance and who are invited to meet in the Home-Coming tent at 10 a. m. Tuesday. An appropriate program of music and speaking is being prepared for the occasion, and every home-comer will be invited to register name and address and headquarters while here.

Essential improvements and changes are being made in the Agricultural Building. Arches have been placed in the north end of the building, forming a frontage for the booths which will contain the exhibits of school work. This arrangement provides a much better opportunity for decoration. The Metropolitan Business College will install a large and interesting display near the school exhibits. The second floor of the east wing of the building which contains the exhibits of fruits and pantry stores is being papered and more conveniently arranged for light and ventilation. The Department of Floriculture has been moved to the Agricultural Building. Arrangements are being made for an elaborate display of fruits and flowers, and all who have creditable specimens of either are urged to bring them, in order that we may have a grand exhibit in these departments.

Prepare your exhibits and plan to devote a week to pleasure and harmless enjoyment. It will do you good. It will better than medicine. A sure cure for the blues, and you will return home, refreshed and healthier and better and richer than before you came.

Notice to Creditors. All persons having claims against Mrs. George Beahler, deceased, are requested to present same to the undersigned on or before September 1st. Will not be responsible for claims against Mrs. Beahler after September 1st.

AT THE CAMPMEETING

Dedication of Auditorium Sunday 2:30 P. M. by Bishop

Dubs, D. D.

The meetings on the campground have been of extraordinary interest and success. From the first service Friday evening the 21st, the attendance has surpassed all records. Everybody is delighted with the new tabernacle. It makes an ideal audience room, set in the open of the square of cottages on a natural slope of the ground. The building is almost square in shape. The spacious platform for the accompaniment of the speakers, mastery of the singers, extends across the entire front of the building. The sides except the platform space are open, furnished with adjustable curtains. The roof is broken with a double row of windows which give both additional light and ventilation.

The management of the campmeeting association, of which John C. Plagge is president and John L. Wetmore, secretary, are to be congratulated upon the successful completion of plans long under advisement. Rev. M. C. Morlock, Presiding Elder of the Chicago district, assisted by Rev. E. F. Fuesale, pastor of the Salem Evangelical church, Barrington, is in charge of the meetings. Many of the pastors of associated societies are in attendance. Among notable visitors from abroad are Irving Duns, missionary-elect to China, and Evangelist W. D. Wakefield, the banker-preacher from Kentucky. Mr. Wakefield preaches every evening. His mild voice and compelling eloquence often moving his audience to tears, reminds one of Gipsy Smith.

Bishop Dubs, who needs no introduction to Barrington audiences, will preach twice a day beginning this morning. Tomorrow afternoon he will deliver a temperance lecture. Monday morning he will preach in the English language. In the afternoon he will dedicate the new tabernacle to Divine worship.

Sunday will be a gala day at the camp. Large crowds are expected from Chicago and all other surrounding country. All the citizenship of Barrington is cordially invited to attend. The closing service will be Monday morning. The finish will be an old fashion ring and handshakes.

TWO ENJOYABLE DAYS.

All Have Good Time at Waukegan Re-union. Bishop Samuel Fallows Speaks.

The Lake county soldiers' and sailors' reunion, held last week Thursday and Friday at Waukegan, was attended by large crowds on both days. The ball games were interesting and good music was furnished by the file and drum corps, the Imperial Quartet and the Des Plaines Military band. Bishop Fallows delivered an excellent address, Friday, which was enjoyed by all.

Miss Moore Entertains. Miss Josephine Moore gave a party last evening at her home near Barrington, known as Hawthorne farm. There were thirty present and the evening was passed in dancing in a new granary which had just been finished.

Phil's orchestra (graphophone) furnished delightful music. The floor was good and a splendid time had by all. A luncheon was served at 12 o'clock which was equally enjoyed.

Ideal Entertainment at a Bargain. The fellow who figured on buying himself as the estimate others place on him, and selling himself at his own estimate is conceded to have had in mind a good business proposition. But for a genuine bargain reader the price of admission to the McHenry County Fair. You can buy a season ticket good for each day of the fair for $1.00; or for $1.50 you can buy a ticket admitting both yourself and wife each day, a trifle over 15 cents each admission. If a season ticket—attend every day. Meet your friends, enjoy the best building, out of the year, and be happy day after day.

Auditors Meet Tuesday. All persons having claims against the township of Cuba are requested to file them with Frank H. Plagge, town clerk, on or before Tuesday, September 1st, when the board of auditors will meet to audit bills.

Your wants will be supplied if you advertised them in our column of business notices.

OUTLOOK IS GOOD

MIDDLE WEST STATES ARE SAFELY REPUBLICAN.

With Crop Prospects Fine and Business Improving the People are Enthusiastic for the Safe Ticket.

One of the common statements made nowadays is that the result of the election and the coming of good times will both depend to a very large extent upon the conditions in the states just beyond the Middle West. The Boston Transcript is publishing a most interesting series of letters from the centers of the country containing answers to questions about crops, business and the political outlook. These come not from the usual political prophets, but from banks, merchants, manufacturers and other representative authorities. They are themselves in moderate language. The latest installment of these replies covers the Prairie states—Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota and the Dakotas.

From these reports and opinions we get cheer for the future. Kansas has splendid crops in parts, fair crops in parts and better than average crops on the whole and better than in 1907. The prospects for improvement in business are good. All the advice is to the effect that Taft will carry the state by a big majority.

Nebraska seems to be in fine shape. "Our crop outlook is the very best and if nothing unforeseen happens we shall have a banner year," says the report from Omaha. Practically every business center sends news of a bumper crop and of improvement in trade. All the letters say Taft will carry the state.

Excessive rains have drowned out some of the corn of Iowa, but otherwise the state is in superb condition. Some sections report bumper crops, while others are less enthusiastic. Crop prospects are ahead of 1907. Better business is expected, and Taft will carry the state by a very big majority.

This report sums up the score of letters from many of the best and the best. "Fall conditions and crop prospects were never better. The writer within the last two or three weeks has been in the states of North and South Dakota, as well as Minnesota, and in all three of our states the people are very optimistic regarding conditions and have just cause for being so. From all appearances there should be large crops in all these states this year."

Crops better than in 1907, business improving and Taft in the lead—this is the message which the Prairie states send to the country—Billings American.

1898-1908.
W. J. Bryan was nominated in 1898 as an extreme radical and beaten. Four years later he was again nominated, but was not quite so extreme as in 1898, and again he was beaten. In 1908 he is nominated for the third time, on a platform called by the mystifying name of "imperialism." But though he secures the support of such conservatives as Thomas M. Osborne he loses the support of such radicals as Thomas B. Watson and W. R. Hearst. The inclinations of Mr. Bryan toward "conservatism" seem to have kept pace with his growth in fees and worldly goods. It is an interesting study. With a clear million and himself weighing 300 pounds, Mr. Bryan is a safe and sane Democrat—New York Evening Sun.

Perhaps it is a mere coincidence that the number of the Commoner in which Mr. Bryan announces that he has turned it over to be run by other people during the campaign contains a poem entitled "Lonely," which begins thus: "O, but it's dull and lonesome, and the house is strangely still."

CAN MR. CONNORS DELIVER?

"Fingy" Promises New York State to Mr. Bryan, but—

Assures William J. Hallas "Fingy" Connors, against distinguished state chairman of the Democracy, in New York:

"There is no question about New York state which will give pluralities of anywhere from 75,000 to 100,000 for Bryan."

How grossly yet subtly deceptive are mere physical appearances! The frowns and the tightly-shut lips which, on the part of some characterized the 80 some minutes of Bryan cheering in Denver were not significant. The fact that "Fingy" Connors himself sat down lugubrious and brooding as Charon and silent as the sphinx; the fact that he glared into silence any impressionable New York delegate that showed symptoms of joining the chorus; the fact that New York was one of the six chilling states sternly to repress the adoration of Bryan and to show indifference, even disdain, of the Peerless One all throughout the delirious hour and something—all these phenomena taken together, then, merely that "Fingy" Connors is unimpressive and at the bottom of that within him which he responds to a heart he loves Mr. Bryan dearly. At least we shall see if all the New York Democracy is possessed of the same power of utilitarianism and repression.

NOT SAFE IN BRYAN'S HANDS.

Next President Must Reorganize the Supreme Court.

Harper's Weekly points out that the most serious and important work of the next president will be the reorganization of the supreme court. Four justices will have passed the retiring age when Taft or Bryan comes to the White House. Chief Justice Fuller, 75; Justice Harlan, 75; Justice Brewer, 71; and Justice Peckham, 70 in November. It is pretty well understood why the chief justice and Justice Harlan have not availed themselves of their privilege to retire; they have regarded it as a duty to remain on the bench so long as the country had a president more than likely to name as their successors men in sympathy with new and revolutionary methods of "interpreting" the constitution and the laws. Quite likely Justice Brewer, perhaps the strictest constructionist, as he is probably the ablest jurist, has been influenced by the same consideration.

But it is too much to expect or ask that these patriotic men remain at the post of duty for another four years; so it is altogether probable that the next president will have the naming of four or even five, an actual majority of our supreme court. What kind of men would Bryan appoint? His record and his words leave no room for doubt.

Debs to Gompers.

We are glad to be able to agree occasionally with Comrade Debs, presidential candidate of the Socialist party.

In his spirited challenge to Mr. Gompers to a debate on the Democratic injunction plank, Comrade Debs refers contemptuously to that curiously warped bit of lumber as meaningless and "simply a bait to catch the unions."

Judge Taft, who is a pretty fair lawyer, has confessed his inability to ride this delicate plank of Mr. Bryan, which is amazingly wickered to catch two different sets of voters. Like the ingenious darts' cork trap, it is set "for to catch 'em a-comin' and a-goin'."

This is a great year for all kinds of bait for political purposes. But Gompers is no dunderhead. He will not be lured to bite at the bait dangled before him by Comrade Debs, who needs a little campaign advertisement in his business.—Milwaukee Bee.

The date, as definitely decided after much debate, is to be from September 14 to 20 inclusive. An inspector was appointed who will examine the credentials of each man, and any who cannot show proofs of bona fide membership along the lines of travel, or about whom there lingers any trace of property, will be transported from the scene on the first train Mountain freight, for which special arrangement will be made with the railroad company. The third day a grand parade in which all will be expected to participate will take place, accompanied by the hobo national band, after which a feast will be spread in Riverview park. The remainder of the time will be spent in feasting and quiet, with the exception of the last day, when, through cooperation with the Hobo Auxiliary club of Madison, an excursion will be given to that city, where the Weasies will be entertained during the last day and night. Peace comes along the Midway avenue will serve as beds for the weary F. O. of U. S., and a score of carpenters are busy constructing reclining benches and rustic tables, which are to be placed in various shady nooks and quiet places at Riverview park.

Tramps Suspected of Killing Big Four Brakeman.

Urbana.—C. H. Bridges, a big Four brakeman, was found dead on top of a freight train upon its arrival at Danville from Urbana. His skull was frightfully crushed and death probably was instantaneous. There were two theories as to the manner of his death. One was that he was struck by the wheel of the train in Danville and the other that he was murdered by tramps. Some of the railroad men claimed the bridge was too high to strike a man and others that it is not. Several tramps were seen to board the train at Urbana and this led to the report that murder had been committed.

OPEN DEALING IN PAINT.

Buying paint used to be like the proverbial buying of a "pig in a poke." Mixtures in which chalk, ground rock, etc., predominated were marked and sold as "True White Lead," the deception not being apparent until the paint and the painting were paid for. This deception is still practiced, but we have learned to expose it easily.

National Lead Company, the largest makers of genuine Pure White Lead, realizing the injustice that was being done to both property owners and honest paint manufacturers, set about to make paint buying safe. They first adopted a trade mark, the now famous "Dutch-Boy Painter," and put this trademark, as a guarantee of purity, on every package of their White Lead. They then set about familiarizing the public with the blowpipe test by which the purity and genuineness of White Lead may be determined, and furnished a blowpipe free to every one who would write them for it. This action was in itself a guarantee of the purity of National Lead Company's White Lead.

As the result of this open dealing the paint buyer today has only himself to blame if he is defrauded. For test outfit and valuable booklet, containing address National Lead Company, Woodbridge Bldg., New York.

European News Disseminators.

A French statistician calculates that there is one newspaper published for every 52,000 inhabitants of the known world. In Europe, Germany heads the list with 5,500 newspapers, of which 800 are published daily. England comes next, 3,000 newspapers, of which 800 are "dailies," and then comes France, with 2,819 newspapers, of which only one-fourth are daily or published twice or thrice a week. Italy comes fourth, with 1,400 papers, and is followed by Austria, Russia, Hungary, Greece and Switzerland, the last having 450 newspapers. Altogether, Europe has about 20,000 news papers.

Sporting Offer.

As he entered the restaurant the cut of his clothes betrayed him as a member of the sporting fraternity. Choosing a corner seat, he waited for the waiter to come. When the dish was brought to him, he looked at it with a critical frown, and then he began excitedly to peel off his coat and vest.

"What's the matter? What's the matter?" said the landlord, hurrying to the table.

"The man looked at the stew, then at the landlord, and said:

What a Poultry Man Says About 20-Mule Team Borax.

As I am in the poultry business, I had ten white chicks to wash and I prepared for a shower I used "20-Mule Team" Soap for washing the birds, and I can say from years of experience washing white birds, never before have I found a soap or Borax that cleaned my birds so fine and easy. I had a great deal of comment on my birds being so white. All do—1/2, 1 and 6 lb. cans. Sample and booklet, 5c. Pacific Coast Borax Co., Chicago.

Just a Plain Commoner.

Royal games for hotels are sometimes the cause of peculiar misunderstandings. An aged farmer from the home county decided to make a visit to Toronto. It was the first time he had been at a city station and when a hotel clerk hurried to him with the interrogation: "King Edward?" the newcomer simply smiled as he answered: "No sir—Thomas Cox of Erasmus."

Sabbath School

What It Has to Do With National Ideals

By REV. ROBERT JOHNSON, D. D.,
Pastor American Presbyterian Church, Montreal.

WHAT has the Sabbath school to do with a theme commonly regarded as appropriate to national congresses and to councils of nature minds? Much; for the conception of the Sabbath school as the nursery of the church only, has passed, and to-day it is recognized as one of the mightiest educational forces in the religious world. Not even to the pulpit will it acknowledge inferiority as a force moulding the nation's conception of life and its purpose. Add to this the fact, also recognized, that the Sabbath school has for its field of operation life at its most impressionable period, and at a period when impressions are most permanent, and it will not be denied that the opportunity here afforded for the cultivation of the true conception of life in its social and corporate relationships is unsurpassed.

An appeal to history will show that not a few of the world's worthiest reformers received in early youth those convictions that afterwards became the battle cry of great causes which they championed. To-day in the wave of temperance sentiment, sweeping victoriously over our continent, we have the climax, the cumulative force, of quiet and unostentatious instruction in temperance truth, imparted for a generation to a constituency of 15,000,000 who have to-day become the voters in our lands.

The Sabbath school rightly appreciated is the mightiest Peace Congress ever convened. Silently but surely it is building the one true Temple of Peace in which the nations shall yet gather to hang upon its walls the war trumpet and the sword. So to build, in teaching that true greatness for a nation, as for an individual, is in service not in conquest, in service of the strong for the weak, of the free for the oppressed, is the high privilege of the Sabbath school to-day, and how better, where better, can the cause of Him who is the Prince of Peace be served? How more truly can be advanced that Kingdom whose scepter is love, and whose throne is sacrifice?

Woman's Place in Nature

By DR. ROBERTSON WALLACE.

up for lost time. They know their place, and they are going to keep it. On that point the softer sex is adamant.

The fact is, woman has got a very good place, and she knows it. In the drama of life, she is "walking on," and man is walking off. We have heard before of the leading lady, but this our lady of the ancient planet is leading man farther than he ever dreamed he would have to travel. This boldness of bearing, a certain confidence in themselves, a universal craving for domination which the other women of the world do not possess, at any rate, to the same degree or so universally. Ah, yes! American women are "independent!" That has been repeated only too often.

But independent of what?
Not of love—what woman is independent of love?
Then of what?
Of men.

Here the Frenchman staggers and puts his hands to his head.
"I do not quite understand. How can the same woman desire love and keep men out of her way?"

"Keep off" is too violent an expression. The American woman does not keep man out of her way at all. She tolerates his homage on the way, and it is just that which she calls "flirting."

This problem, then, remains to be elucidated: How does it come that the American man, so bold in his business, so valiant in his struggle against material difficulties, so foolishly brave in his sports, does not succeed in dominating the American woman and allows himself to be led off by her on voyages without a port, on adventures that have no climax.

Graded Lessons for Bible Schools

By DR. M. C. HAZARD,
President Sunday School Editorial Association.

There is a prevalent impression that graded lessons will be more difficult to teach than the uniform lesson. Dr. M. C. Hazard in his paper sought to show that on the contrary the graded lesson would be easier to teach, and thus be a benefit particularly to the small, country, frontier or backwoods schools. The advantages of the graded lessons over the uniform lesson grow out of the fact that they are selected with reference to the capacities, aptitudes and requirements of each grade in the school. Psychology shows that at different ages the mind of the child requires different nutriment. Graded lessons are based upon this fact, and provide for each grade the lessons suitable for it. Over the system of one lesson for the whole school they start with this advantage that in each grade the scholars are in sympathy with the material provided for it. The lesson does not have to be adapted to them; it is already adapted.

The system of one lesson for all in the school absolutely ignores the need of scholars of varying ages for different material. It gives to one portion of the school the matter which is just suited to it, and tries to adapt the matter to the rest. In doing this some teachers succeed in interesting their scholars, but it is evident that it takes more brains, training and tact to adapt an unsuitable lesson than it would to teach one which at the start is just fitted for them.

There is no foundation for the idea that the graded lessons will require as teachers those who have a considerable knowledge of child psychology and pedagogy. So far as possible every teacher should know something of them, but in the new system that knowledge will be no more necessary than in the old. A familiar acquaintance with them will be necessary by those who select the lessons, that they may be exactly suited to the different grades, but not in those who make use of them, any more than it is needful that those who make use of a good macadam or Telford road should know how it is constructed.

ANNUAL LOSS HEAVY

RAILROADS PAY LARGE SUMS IN DAMAGES.

No Less Than $24,000,000 Given Last Year to Satisfy Customers for Freight Destroyed or Injured in Transit.

Railroads of the United States last year paid $24,000,000 cash to satisfy customers for freight loss and damages.

According to an expert this is an increase of 500 per cent. over the losses of ten years ago. Whether this is an increase in payments for losses or whether loss and damages to freights have increased in this proportion is a question which cannot be decided from the statement, writes Hollis W. Field in the Chicago Tribune. But at least the immensity of the sum serves to indicate how the railroad company over almost any other employer of men, stands responsible for the shortcomings and mistakes of the average man in its employ.

Not only are these tremendous bills chargeable against the companies, but it long has been recognized that competing points that the road which is prompt in the settlement of its claims has the preference at the hands of shippers. In this way the road is between two fires compelling it to consider the claims for damages.

When shortcomings of the freight department are responsible for these huge losses, the man who is familiar with the methods of loading and unloading in general will be quick to believe the assertion of this expert when he says "only a great railroad company could stand it."

It becomes an economical problem when an automobile worth $2500 and paying five dollars freight charges, is loaded at a freight station by hurried men, who must not through the day's work somewhere, and shipped 50 miles with other machinery or merchandise, is shunted to a depot platform and unloaded by the same class of help, and there discarded to be damaged $500 worth because of faulty loading or careless dumping from the car. It is worse when the damage is so irreparable that the consignee will not receive it.

But every day in the conduct of a great railroad similar damage is done because of a lack of judgment and care on the part of men who hold the destiny of such freight in their hands. One piece of freight may represent a value double the salary of the man for a year. But there is no check on him save as he will study the printed rules of the company regarding the handling of freight and put those rules into practice. Otherwise the claim department has a case for settlement on its hands.

Perhaps no other business requires such a volume of printed rules for the conduct of its business as does the railroad. In the matter of the freight it must depend upon an average type of man for handling and delivery. It is the complaint of the type that hours are long and wages low. No one doubts that the railroad station agent, telegrapher, freight agent, baggage man, and mail-pouch man at thousands of small stations all over the country has his single pair of hands full. Hired here and there, his impulse is to take things for granted—to take the short cut to an end.

In one year the Northwestern railroad out of Chicago audited $8,146 claims for damages and loss of freight along its lines, paying a total of $330, $110.4 in restitution. This was almost ten per cent. upon the freight revenues of the road for that year. The audited methods of freight handling were responsible for most of this loss.

Employees Long in Service.
Probably among the pay rolls of the country is that of the Pennsylvania railroad, which, according to a compilation just completed, is shown to have 1,350 active employees who have been with the road 40 years or more. In addition 1,013 men served the company more than 40 years, but have retired from active work, and are receiving pensions regularly from the company. The census of the civil service of the United States showed on July 1, 1907, that those who had been in the service of the national government for more than 50 years numbered 40 men and one woman. On the other hand, the Pennsylvania railroad records show that today there are on the pay rolls of the company 316 men who have been in its service more than 50 years.

Pinned Under Wrecked Engine.
A bridge near Shrader Station, in Minn. county, Pennsylvania, gave way beneath a traction engine and thrashing machine and killed Ellis Alexander, 14 years old, of Millroy, and William Close, 26 years old, of the same place.

In its fall the engine turned turtle, and both young fellows were caught in the machinery. Alexander's neck was broken and portions of Close's body were cooked in escaping steam. He was pinned under the engine and practically roasted to death before the eyes of his wife and family.

English Engineer's Record.
A remarkable record is possessed by James Dobson of Selby, who has just celebrated his golden wedding.

Mr. Dobson was formerly employed by the Northeastern Railroad Company and as an engine driver it is estimated he made 10,000 journeys and traveled practically 2,000,000 miles without serious accident—London Daily News.

JOHN HERRY ON AMERICAN SCENERY.

BY GEO. V. HOBART, ("HUGH M'HUGH.")

Dear Bunch: Yours from Nice received; also Alice's letter to Peaches. I'm wise to the good time you're having, old pal, and, believe me, I wish we were with you.

It must be aces to travel through the Riviera and pipe the forget-me-nots and the magnolia blossoms blooming all over the place, while the air is laden with the scent of roses and the song of the nightingale makes music for the midnight luncheon.

Not bad on the poetry thing this morn, eh, Bunch?

Holy mackerel! I'd like to see you travel over this part of the universe and get a peep at any forget-me-nots or magnolias. Nothing doing.

Over here, Bunch, the wild-eyed advertiser is abroad in the land, and his advertisements are stuck, like a lot of second-hand court plaster, all over the face of Nature.

"Took Another Look."

I love to read the advertisements in the newspapers and the magazines, but I also love to be permitted to stop reading them when the dinner bell rings, which is an impossibility if you're traveling on the railroads in our dear land of liberty—God bless it!

In these days, Bunch, you'll find that the something which once was a beautiful landscape is covered with a board fence whereon it says:

EAT PEACHES SATIABLY.

EASILY THE MOST

EATABLE

EATING EVER EATEN.

I think the idea of changing a green landscape into a treatise on indigestion, and making all the pretty trees along the roadside point their branches in the direction of a drug store is wrong, but maybe I've lost much poetry in my wit and common enough business.

I took a little trip from New York to Philly last week, and it was then that the foregoing thought hit me a bolt in the thinker.

It's only a question of a short time, Bunch, when our American scenery will be changed to pill news.

I looked out the car window with the laudable intention of admiring all the geography as it rushed by, but before I could exult over two spruces and 15 blades of grass, a large sign shut off my view and caused me to see this:

SAWDUST FRITTERS

The New Breakfast Food

Once Swallowed

Never Forgotten

I winked my eyes once or twice and took another look, and there, spread carefully over the map of New Jersey, was a sign which said:

Blonde Pills for Brains People

Try One Box

And You'll Never Try Another.

I dodged back into my chair and closed my lamps for moment. Then I said to myself: "I'll try the other side of the car where, no doubt, I'll see a mountain or a country fair or something human in the distance, but all I saw was 27 feet of board fence, which was yelling out these words:

BRINDRINKLEBAUER'S

WHISKEY

All Judges Say It Makes

Trade Lively

Especially the Police Judges

For ten minutes I sat there, Bunch, with my eyes shut, and when finally I took a little peep out the window it resulted in this:

SMOKE

CHOCAROOT'S

And Die Lingerin', But Dopey

Then I tried to figure the thing out and presently came to the conclusion that the train must still be in the heart of civilization, and that after we reached the real country the landscape would assert its rights and begin to happen.

In about 20 minutes I glanced carefully out the window, and I'll be dog-goned if I didn't see another board fence with this on it:

Be a Good Chooser and Chew:

CHERRYINGTON'S CHOC CHOW

I'm not to describe the Falls, Bunch, so don't throw this letter down and scream for help.

When we stepped off the cars we found, stretching out as far as the Children, down to any case

Don't drive nails in Mother's face;

If you do and she should

Try Mike Smith's Complexion

Cream!

Speaking of scenery reminds me that Peaches and I took a flying trip to Niagara Falls not long ago.

I'm not to describe the Falls, Bunch, so don't throw this letter down and scream for help.

When we stepped off the cars we found, stretching out as far as the pocketbook could reach, a line of hacks, river-going hacks which had been standing so long in the shadow of the falling water that they seemed to be giving each other the Mima-haha. (Indian joke.)

Eighty-seven hack drivers with tears in their eyes and beer in their voices, when possible, coaxed Peaches and me to jump on board their catamarans and be concussed over the Falls, but after a long and bitter fight our consciences won the victory, and we walked.

Like all great things in this world, Bunch, the Falls of Niagara started out from a very small beginning and gradually worked itself up to fame and fortune.

When it started out away back in the woods the Niagara river had no thought of getting itself in the school books and becoming a national pet, like a prize fighter.

On the contrary, Bunch, it started out to be just a plain, ordinary river rolling gently on its rocky mattress but one dark night it suddenly fell out of bed and created such a sensation that it has kept right on falling out of bed ever since.

This is the only record in history where a reputation has been made by falling out of bed.

Peaches and I walked down to the edge of the Falls, and for eight minutes we stood there without speaking a word.

Peaches afterward acknowledged that the Falls of Niagara were wonderful in influence over her, because that was the first time in her life she ever went eight minutes without saying something.

To stand there, Bunch, and watch those thousands and thousands of gallons of water pushing each other over the edge of that precipice and then falling with a roar into the depths below makes all the poetry in one's system come to the surface and beg to be let out. Yours for better scenery,

JOHN.

"I had an itching, tormenting eczema ever since I came into the world, and I am now a man 65 years old. I tried all kinds of medicines I heard of, but found no relief. I was truly in a frightful condition. At last I broke out all over with red and white boils, which kept growing until they were as big as walnuts, causing great pain and misery, but I kept from scratching as well as I could. I was so run down that I could hardly do my work. I used Cuticura Soap, Ointment, Resolvent, and Pills for about eight months, and I am truly happy I am cured with little Bowdell, Tipton, Ia., Aug. 17, 1907."

HIS OPINION OF FIELDING.

At Least, Only Kind Young Broker Knew Anything About.

A young broker in Boston, while visiting a certain household in the Hub not long ago, encountered a number of young women graduates whose conversation suddenly turned to a discussion of the development of the English novel.

The dealer in stocks and bonds speedily found himself "out of it." Presently, during a lull, one young woman asked him:

"What do you think of Fielding, Mr. Brown?"

"Oh, Fielding is important, of course," quickly responded the broker, "but it isn't worth much unless you've got good pitchers and men who can hit the ball."—Harper's Weekly.

Largest Rock Crusher in Operation.

The largest rock crusher in operation in the world was recently thrown into operation in a recent mill at South Pittsburg, Tenn. It is a product of the rock used by a 4,000-horse plant. The machine has an hourly capacity of 500 tons and 60 per cent. of the product is in pieces four inches or less and 30 per cent. in pieces two inches or less. The crusher is 19 feet in height and weighs 425,000 pounds. The hopper is 20 feet in diameter. The operation of this machine alone requires 23 horse power.

FRIENDLY TIP

Restored Hope and Confidence.

After several years of indigestion and its attendant evil influence on the mind, it is not very surprising that one finally loses faith in things generally.

A N. Y. woman writes an interesting letter. She says:

"Three years ago I suffered from an attack of vertigo which left me in a most miserable condition. For over two years I suffered from nervousness, weakness, heart shortness of breath, could not sleep, etc."

"My appetite was ravenous, but I felt starved all the time. I had plenty of food but it did not nourish me because of intestinal indigestion. Medical treatment did not seem to help. I got discouraged, stopped medicine and did not care much whether I lived or died."

"One day a friend asked me why I didn't try Grape-Nuts, stop drinking coffee, and eat Postum. I had lost faith in everything, but to please my friends I began to use both and soon became very fond of them."

"It wasn't long before I got some strength, felt a decided change in my health, began to sprang up in my heart and slowly but surely I got better. I could sleep very well, the constant craving for food ceased and I have better health now than before the attack of vertigo."

"My husband and I are still using Grape-Nuts and Postum." "There's a Reason."

Senator Allison's Career.

Although the public career of the late Senator William B. Allison began too late to give him place among the "pioneers," as that term is usually applied, he nevertheless earned a place in history among the nation builders. In Lincoln's boyhood there were not many schools about him that he could have attended had he had the time. Allison, born twenty years later, found a school to top out his district school education by walking from his home in Ohio all the way to Meville, in Pennsylvania. When he settled in Iowa in the fifties he brought up on the very extreme of civilization. He was a delegate to the national convention which nominated Lincoln for the presidency and had lived a few months longer would have witnessed the nation's tribute to Lincoln on the centenary of his birth. His career covered a most important period, and he served his time well.

It was said by a colleague in the senate that Allison "more than any other man—indeed, more than any other ten men—controlled and kept within bounds the constantly increasing public expenditure. And yet he was the opposite of aggressive, being constitutionally a compromiser. "Wise and moderate" were the words used by this same colleague to describe Allison's methods, and another colleague, Senator Ingalls, who was something of a friend and himself, used to say that "Allison could run ten miles over a cornfield road in wooden shoes and not make more noise than a cat." In fact, Allison lived well up to his reputation of being the most cautious man in public life. As a town who thought he knew him had no trouble in laying a heavy bet with others who really did know him that he could make the cautious senator say "Yes" to a direct proposition.

The party required to Allison's office and awaited developments. Presently a flock of freshly sheared sheep passed by, and the man who had to make good remarked contentedly, "Those sheep have just been sheared." Allison glanced the sheep over and finally said, "It looks like it on this side." Senator Allison knew as well as the next one that a one-sided shearing is as rare as a one-sided shave. Still, both may happen, and he didn't take any chances. Yet with all his mildness Allison was a man of undoubted strength in the upper chamber, where he sat for thirty-five years. Many a wild and dangerous scheme which was a menace to public peace and safety was overcome through that wise and moderate counsel which was ever the Iowa senator's strong point.

Not a Horseless Country Yet.

The notion that this country is entering upon a horseless age gets a black eye from the report of the government census takers, which shows that we now have more horses than ever before by several hundred thousand—3,000,000 more than in 1900. With the increased use of self-propelling carriages, wagons and machines on farms and highways it would seem that a diminished demand for draft animals is inevitable and that such would be raised or if raised exported to lands where they are wanted.

But this is a big country. Our development is rapid. Horses are now wanted where mules and oxen were once used and also where there have been neither mules nor oxen, not even human inhabitants. Every new farm opened up means work for a horse or two extra. More people can afford pleasure horses, and, while you think of it, there is horse sentiment enough in the country to see to it that the kind shall not be driven off the course. A horse for every four persons is what the government figures show.

That means 20,000,000 horses.

In the big cities there is only one horse to every forty people. But the farmer, with four or five in the family will keep two or three horses. That is where the horses are growing in numbers in spite of the machine rival and also growing in importance. The "country" is a big place in these United States.

Count Zeppelin's success in keeping his airship going for more than a day was a record achievement and shows progress. Still, a flying machine 400 feet long is not exactly a blessing within the reach of all.

Turkish refugees in this country will be wise to wait long enough to make sure whether it is a real amnesty the sultan is handing them or only the lemon brand.

As a member of the Steam Shoremen's union it becomes Mr. Taft's duty to decide whether he will consider suggestions from Mr. Gumpers how to cast his "union vote."

German artillerymen brought down a balloon at the first fire. But in real war the other fellow's fire might rattle the artillerymen's nerve a little bit.

"Boiler Factory" Conventions.

The Hon. Champ Clark's forefearful counterpart of a modern national convention with a boiler factory as a place for deliberations has provoked thought throughout the country and even called forth approval in many quarters. In one convention this year a delegate spoke of the session as a "ratification"—that is, a gathering to formally announce and celebrate the party's popular choice. It is the ratification feature to which critics like Champ Clark and those who agree with him object, not the ratification sentiment, but the ratification uproar and the "miscellaneous multitude" that really dominates in the proceedings and creates the uproar for its own entertainment.

After agreeing with Mr. Clark's general opinion that a modern national convention is ridiculous instead of inspiring, as all ratification gatherings should be, the Boston Herald proceeds to argue that in these functions "the public is at once the spectator and the showman." It continues:

The conventions are held in the cities which will make the highest bid for the "show" in cash and accommodation. The cities must get something for their show and trade their prizes. The national committees agree with the hotel keepers to detain the delegates four days in session. The hotels keep up their prices for a week. The street halls are secured simply because they will hold the biggest crowds, and the delegates assume the guarantee to get back their money with handsome dividends. To attract the crowds and get money the whole thing is turned into a show. The house and the senate at Washington, where the nation's laws are made, are not turned into show places for vast crowds. Neither is the chamber of the supreme court, where the constitution is interpreted, turned into a place for the meetings at which the two chief candidates and the platforms of the political parties are selected and framed by the delegates. The delegates are turned into a show of the delegates.

In theory the public attends the nominating convention by courtesy at the invitation of the deliberating body, whereas in practice the public goes to be thrilled, amused, or what not, and, having the preponderance in lung power with a minimum regard for decency and order, manages to have its way. Really, Champ Clark has given the nation a thought to make it at up and take notice. But opinion will be divided. The New York Independent's convention reporter, Mr. Charles M. Hargis, who was at Chicago and Des Moines, closes his report of the meetings as follows: "A national convention has its faults. It is ridiculous in some of its features, but it is the biggest spectacle on the boards in a quadrennial and worth the price many times over."

And the Cleveland Plain Dealer remarks about Representative Clark's radical suggestion for reforming the institution, "The men who run national conventions will be inclined to smile, but not to act."

The Multiplication of Republics.

The London News recently featured the republics of the world, printing in a two-page sheet the portraits of twenty-four presidents. Judging from the number of republics, the News is correct in assuming that republicanism is spreading. Only two of the number are in Europe—France and Switzerland. Switzerland probably comes nearer to the ideal of a republic than any nation under the sun. France is a republic in form only, for the national conventions will be inclined to smile, but not to act.

And the president is elected by the senate. Mexico is a great country and is often referred to as an example of the benefits accruing from republicanism. But the fact is that Mexico is under a dictatorship, and probably there is no individual freedom today in monarchical England than in the republic of Mexico.

England is probably the best representative in the world of the liberal monarchy idea. It is more democratic than the majority of so called republics, and for more than a generation the drift of English political thought has been toward increased power for the people, with the throne only a symbol. France in reaction from the extremes of republicanism inclines toward a strong head and centralized power in actual ruling. Cuba is among the newest republics. Panama, which has less opportunity for years to come for independent development than Cuba, provided the Cubans be themselves halfway. But about all experience in the states south of us shows that the democratic title is generally a cover for dictatorship and seldom a guarantee of property or of stability, which is the strong right arm of property.

A Read Club.

The farmers of Pleasant View district, ten miles south of Eureka, Greenwood county, Kan., have organized a good read club with R. F. Rocky president and M. O. Hanson secretary. The club has eighteen charter members. In the district are eleven miles of road, and it is the object of the club to have each mile properly graded and worked regularly with the road crew. The club will hold regular meetings to discuss necessary improvements and methods for work.

Man-Tailored Frocks FOR LADIES

The Most Expensive Clothes to Make The Most Economical Clothes to Wear

It is a fact that women of taste are coming to realize more and more that real man-tailored clothes possess distinctive style and wearing quality far above that of the so-called "ready-made." To wear such clothes is to practice true economy while still appearing at your best.

The secret of this difference lies in the way they are made. Ready-made clothes, even though they are called tailor-made, are really produced in a factory where speed is the prime consideration. One woman hurriedly stitches together the pieces of the cloth, another slaps on the sleeves, still another puts on the collar. Finally the garment is pressed into shape for shipment. Such clothes are undeniably cheap and look well for awhile, but the hurried making soon causes their style to vanish.

In Brown's Shop, however, the cloth is perfectly shrunken by cold water. The lining and padding are accurately placed in. The cloth is stretched or shrunk by hand to conform to the curves of the body. In this way only can real lasting style be secured. Such clothes will not lose their shape in a washroom. Their beauty lasts as long as the cloth.

Brown men accurately ask a little more for such work. But that "little extra" buys you much more wear, style and satisfaction, than even the most economical woman of taste will see the wisdom of spending a little more to get a great deal more.

In Brown's Shop you have at your command the world's finest wares (over 2,000 patterns) the latest fashions, and expert advice on the style, coloring and cloth most suited to your needs.

Will you drop Brown a line and let him tell you how to save time, money and worry on your next visit?

The baron, who was Miss Lillian May Langham of Louisville, Ky., was with her husband at the end. The cause of death was given as inflammation of the lungs, though the baron was under treatment for lymph.

The foreign office at Berlin, upon receiving announcement of the death, sent a cablegram to Count Hermann von Hatzfeldt-Wildenburg, the German charge d'affaires at Washington, instructing him to inform President Roosevelt that the question of a successor to the baron probably would not be settled until Prince von Buelow, the imperial chancellor, saw the emperor, which might not be until the second week in September. Various diplomatic changes in prospect are to be gazetted in October, and among them probably will be a successor to the baron at Washington. Some of the diplomats under consideration for this post are Count von Goetzen, the Prussian minister at Hamburg; Herr von Reichenau, the German minister to Brazil, and Dr. Baron Munst von Schwarzenfeld, the ambassador to Japan.

An American diplomatist, in conversation with Emperor William in January of this year, said something complimentary of Count von Goetzen. "I am glad to hear you say this," replied the emperor, "because Count von Goetzen will be the next ambassador to Washington."

Count von Goetzen is a brilliant and amiable man, 41 years old. He has seen a variety of service, including the post of military attaché at Washington from 1894 to 1900. He was governor of German East Africa for five years. His February of this year he was appointed minister at Hamburg.

Mr. Roosevelt Grieved.—Oyster Bay, N. Y.—When President Roosevelt learned of the death of Ambassador Sternburg he sent the following message to the German charge d'affaires at Beverly Farm, Mass.:

"An shocked and grieved at the news of the death of the ambassador. He was not only my intimate personal friend and one of the most fearless, sincere and loyal men I ever met, but also a diplomat of signal ability, who served Germany with fervent patriotism and yet who showed much intelligent good will for America. That it would be difficult to over-estimate the value of what he did in strengthening and bringing closer the ties of friendship and good will between the two countries. I mourn his loss for my own sake and I deeply regret it for the sake of the people of the United States. Theodore Roosevelt."

Troops All Gone from Springfield, Ill.—The Seventh Regiment, 1 N. G., was ordered to withdraw from the city and left at ten o'clock Wednesday morning. At a conference held between Gov. Denen, Sheriff Werner and representatives of the military forces in the city, it was decided that the further presence of the armed men was unnecessary.

Great Fire in Stamboul. Constantinople.—Fire broke out Sunday afternoon in the Stamboul quarter and within a very brief period a terrible conflagration was raging. A strong wind carried the flames at great speed and for six hours they swept over the section, destroying 1,500 houses and shops.

MANY TOURISTS ROBBED

BOLD WORK BY LONE BANDIT IN YELLOWSTONE PARK.

Eleven Coaches Are Held Up and Passengers Plundered of Money and Jewelry.

Lake Hotel, Yellowstone Park, Wyo.—The most daring stage hold-up in the west in many years occurred Monday within the boundaries of the Yellowstone park. The work was done by a lone highwayman, who held up 11 coaches, and the passengers were left helpless in his hands, as no guns are permitted in the park.

From the statements of passengers it is estimated that approximately $2,000 in cash was obtained, drafts worth $10,000 and other paper and trunks, besides a rich haul of watches and jewelry. In all 21 coaches left the upper river basin in the morning.

The first lot of coaches, numbering seven, and following each other closely, passed the place unharmed. There was a gap between them and the next lot of eight. As the first of the eight came along the highwayman stepped from the bushes and ordered the driver to halt. He did not molest the driver nor any of the driver's following.

On the first set sat H. Drew of Orlando, Fla., and his stepson, H. Gaskin. Mr. Drew, with the gun upon him, was ordered to "hand over," which he did to the extent of $500. Young Gaskin was ordered to dismount and hold the man's sack. This he did, at the point of a gun, along the eight coaches.

These eight coaches had scarcely gone when three more came along and these were gone through in like manner. In one of them was M. M. Walker, an Oklahoma banker. He had $10,000 in drafts in his pocketbook and tried to conceal this under the seat. The robber saw him and ordered him to bring it forward. The last coach contained five young ladies. The highwayman obtained very little from them, but stopped long enough to appropriate some candy.

In all about 125 people were held up, not all of these suffered losses. When he ordered the drivers to move on the bandit stood a few minutes with his gun pointed toward them and then walked down the road. As quickly as possible after a telephone was reached at Thumb station word was sent to the soldiers and a detail started after him. The man is described as about five feet eight inches high, blue-gray eyes, brilliant gray whiskers, and acted either as a man who was short of breath or a consumptive.

LYNCHING NEAR LOUISVILLE.

Negro Accused of Murder Is Hanged and Shot.

Louisville, Ga.—Vance Williams, a negro who is alleged to have murdered R. G. Brown at his home a few nights ago, was found Tuesday hanging from the limb of an oak tree outside from town, on the Warrenton road, near the pauper farm, with three bullet holes in his breast.

So quietly was the play carried out that people living within a hundred yards of the scene knew nothing of it until Tuesday morning. Williams, after his capture, was confined in the Bibb county jail, and just how he was secured from there is not known.

Safety Appliance Law Upheld. St. Louis.—Two sweeping opinions, noteworthy in that the decisions of the lower courts were reversed in full in each instance, were handed down by the United States court of appeals here Monday, sustaining the position of the government against the railroads in the matter of the safety appliance law of Congress. By these decisions the court has abrogated the common law rules of "reasonable care" that have heretofore governed and behind which the railroads sought shelter.

BROKERAGE FIRM SUSPENDS

HEAVY TRADING FORCES A. O. BROWN & CO. TO WALL.

Liabilities May Be Over $1,000,000.—Failure Creates Interest in Stock Market.

New York.—The failure of the big brokerage firm of A. O. Brown & Co. for a sum popularly estimated as running well above $1,000,000, sent a nervous thrill through the stock market Tuesday. As a climax to the bewildering trading in last Saturday's market, the suspension created an extraordinary degree of public interest, but was looked upon by high stock exchange interests as offering an early solution of the tangled growing out of the most remarkable two hours' session the New York stock exchange has known in many years. While there was no question in Wall street that the situation created by the failure could easily be taken care of, there was distinctly a feeling of apprehension lest other firms might unwittingly be drawn into the affair as a result of the extensive orders scattered through commission houses during Saturday's spectacular proceedings.

The transactions of A. O. Brown & Co. covered nearly 75 per cent. of the trading in the sectional week-end session of the stock market and it was stated officially by a member of the city that delivery had been made on nearly $77,000 of the more than 200,000 shares handled. How many of the outstanding shares represent the dealings of customers and how many were carried on the firm's account it was impossible to learn. A. O. Brown & Co. were members of the New York stock exchange, New York cotton exchange, Chicago stock exchange, Chicago board of trade and the Cleveland stock exchange. They had branch houses in Chicago, Cleveland, Buffalo, Erie, Pa., and Toronto. The membership of the firm included Albert O. Brown, Lewis Ginter Young, G. Leo Simon, Edward P. Buchanan, Samuel C. Brown and W. Rhea Whitman. Private wires were maintained to all principal cities.

ARRESTED FOR BIG THEFT.

Chicago Sub-Treasury Teller Accused of Stealing $175,000.

Chicago.—George W. Fitzgerald, the teller of the sub-treasury from whose desk $175,000 disappeared about 18 months ago, was arrested early Sunday morning, charged with the theft of the money. He took his arrest calmly.

At the time the money disappeared Fitzgerald was put under surveillance, but no evidence against him could be secured. Detectives kept at work on the case, however, and lately it was learned the man had lost a large sum of money speculating in eggs. Then he purchased a costly residence in a suburb. A few days ago it was reported to the officials that Fitzgerald had offered to sell a $1,000 bill for $500, and his arrest followed.

Safety Razors Cause Suicide. St. Louis.—With one of his own razors, W. C. Conlee, Market street barber, committed suicide Tuesday by cutting his throat. Conlee had been dependent for some time owing to the falling off of his business, which he ascribed to the use of safety razors.

AUGUSTA IS FLOODED

CITY UNDER WATER AND MUCH PROPERTY DAMAGED.

THREE PERSONS DROWN

Terrific Downpour of Rain, with Gales and Cold Weather, Causes Death and Destruction in New York.

Atlanta, Ga.—A long-distance telephone message from the Associated Press correspondent at Augusta says that the city is completely under water. In the downtown portion business houses, telegraph offices and newspaper offices are completely demoralized.

There were three deaths in Augusta Wednesday, two white people and one negro. No names could be secured. The damage to the city and immediate surroundings, it is estimated, will reach half a million dollars. At 10:30 Wednesday night it was learned through the single wire of the Georgia Railroad company working partly into Augusta, that the large cotton warehouse and wholesale grocery warehouses of the Nixon company were burning.

New York.—A terrific downpour of rain lasting more than 24 hours and attended by the coldest August weather New York has experienced for 23 years, was responsible for two deaths Wednesday and great property damage. More than three inches of rain fell and the thermometer registered as low as 65 degrees.

The gale during the night tore up trees and leveled field crops in the vicinity of New York. Those to meet death were John Lynch, who drowned in a sewer, and an unidentified cripple, who perished from exposure in an Eastside hallway.

Several buildings in course of construction collapsed when their foundations became inundated. At Fire Island the Surf hotel sank several inches and part of the building fell. Miss Oakley, daughter of the proprietor, was injured by falling plaster, but the guests escaped unhurt. Sections of several streets sank, and in one place in Brooklyn there was danger that a number of buildings would fall as a result of the sinking of a street.

PERISH IN BLAZING FIRE.

Nearly Thirty Lives Lost in Shaft at Halesville, Ohio.

McAlester, Okla.—Nearly 30 miners are reported to have perished in Halesville's coal mine No. 1, at Halesville, 14 miles east of McAlester, Wednesday morning, when fire destroyed the hoisting shaft and air shaft and cut off air from the men below. Twenty-five bodies had been recovered by Wednesday night.

After the collapsed miners, who gone down in the cage a fire broke out, occasioned by the ignition of a barrel of oil which a miner was trying to divide. The flames, spread at once to the hoisting shaft and the air shaft, and all communication with the top was cut off. Hundreds of miners rushed to the scene and tried to get into the air shaft, but this was impossible, as flames and smoke were coming up with such force as to drive them back. Then an effort was made to operate the cages running up and down the hoisting shaft, but it was found that the cables had been burned. There was absolutely no help for the imprisoned miners.

MADE BLIND BY HAZING.

Shocking Abuse of Naval Apprentice at a Training Station.

San Francisco.—The Bulletin prints a story of the hazing at the naval training station at Yorktown, Bureau Island, of Earl Ery, a 21-year-old apprentice on the training ship Pensacola, which will probably result in the death of Ery and to the court-martial of O. P. Guy and J. Valerius, two shipmates.

According to the story, Ery was caught by Guy and Valerius as he was preparing to retire for the night, a noise was fastened tightly around his neck, the rope passed over a hook and he was swung clear of the deck, remaining suspended for five minutes. He was found in this position by the master-at-arms, his eyes bulging out and his tongue swollen and black.

Woman Mob Leader a Suicide. Springfield, Ill.—Mrs. Kate Howard, mob leader and rioter, committed suicide Wednesday night shortly after being taken into custody on an indictment of murder in the first degree by the special grand jury charging her with murder.

Col. J. T. Mercer Is Dead. Ypsilanti, Mich.—Col. John T. Mercer is dead at his home in this city at the age of 72 years. He served through the civil war.

Springfield Man Murdered. Springfield, Ill.—Thomas Brady, 65 years old, was murdered here Monday, and for a time much excitement was caused by reports that he had been killed by a negro. The negro population of the city was uneasy lest the race riots of a few days ago would be renewed. Later, however, it developed that Brady had been killed in his room, 315 East Washington street, and that his room-mate, Frank Sullivan, 24 years old, was missing, as was also $100 which had been secreted in Brady's trunk.

SHE WAS NO HASBEEEN.

Smoking Car Just the One Old Woman Was Looking For.

"Madam," said the brakeman as the train stopped at a village station and a little old woman started to enter the smoking car, "the car back is the one you want."

"How do you know?" she tartly asked. "Because this is the smoking car." She pushed past him and climbed up the steps, and after taking a seat she pulled out and filled a pipe, struck a match on the sole of her shoe, and after drawing a few puffs she said to a man smoking a cigar across the aisle:

"That young feller out there don't know half as much as he thinks he does."

"How so?" she asked. "He took me for an old woman that had never rode on the cars before, and told me this was the smoking car."

"And you wanted this car?" "Why, I never ride in any other—unless my pipe is broke, my tobacco all out and none of you men-folks will lend me a cigar."

NATURE AND A WOMAN'S WORK

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

Nature and a woman's work combine to have produced the granules, remedy for women's ills that the world has ever known.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers the granules, remedy for women's ills that the world has ever known, were the roots and herbs of the field to cure disease and mitigate suffering.

The Indians on our Western Plains today can produce roots and herbs for every ailment, and cure diseases that baffles the most skilled physicians who have spent years in the study of drugs.

From the roots and herbs of the field Lydia E. Pinkham more than thirty years ago gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills, more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is now recognized as the standard remedy for women's ills.

Mrs. Bertha Muff, of 515 N. C. St., Louisiana, Mo., writes:

"Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my troubles public."

"For twelve years I had been suffering with the worst forms of female ill. During that time I had eleven different physicians without success. No longer can I tell what I suffered, and at times I could hardly walk. For about two years I followed it, and can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice restored health and strength. It is worth mountains of gold to suffering women."

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Muff, it will do for other suffering women.

VILLAGE SIDE LIGHTS

By Mackner

HERE is to be a sharp advance in the price of milk. And why not? The Jerseys have attended strictly to business and the dairymen need the money.

If reports are true wet goods are being brought over the village limits in suit cases without paying duty. It is now up to the village board to order all suit cases inspected.

It is remarked that there is a lull in the Barrington real estate market. That is true. Some attribute it to local option, while others strike it about right when they say "general business depression owing to presidential campaign, etc."

If the Y. M. C. A. ball team keep on pounding visiting teams from Chicago it will shake and destroy scores of firms. It is an easy matter for lumber and wood cutters to dispose of the twigs and limbs which they do not want when they take away the trunks of trees. They can be piled as to be combustible when the forest is too wet to take fire and even when snow is on the ground. With very little extra trouble they can be burned while green or as soon as cut. No wood will go without fire just because the trees are in verdure and their limbs running sap. It would be cheaper in the long run to burn brush when it is made than wait for the roving gang to start a destructive forest fire.

A political certainty: He who contributes nothing to the campaign fund need have no fear about publicity.

The idea of public ownership of the highways seems to be coming to the front. It has been proposed that the city of Philadelphia purchase the right of way and the property abutting the proposed new parkway leading from the central part of the city to Fairmount park. In Milwaukee county, Wis., the board of supervisors is discussing the advisability of acquiring the title to lands in various townships to the number of twenty and improving and maintaining them by taxation.

The Foot of a Horse.
The foot of a horse is one of the most ingenious and unexampled pieces of mechanism in animal structure. The hoof contains a series of vertical ridges, thin laminae of horn, amounting to about 500 and forming a complete lining to it. In this are fitted as many laminae belonging to the coffin bone, while both sets are elastic and adherent. The edge of a quire of paper, inserted leaf by leaf into another, will convey a sufficient idea of the arrangement. Thus the weight of the animal is supported by as many elastic springs as there are laminae in all the feet, amounting to about 4,000, distributed in the most secure manner, since every spring is acted on in an oblique direction.

Beef Was Second.
A man in a condition of inebriety was walking up a small side street when he saw on a restaurant a board with the words: "Eleven to 3, beef, mutton, vegetable, cheese; 5 to 9, soup, joint," and so on. "Hello! Eleven to 3—decent price!" he said to himself. "That sounds all right." He walked in, placed a shilling on the cashier's desk and ordered thick: "I bob on beef, Dy'er?" Then he signalled out. An hour later he made his way back to the establishment. As he entered one of the waitresses was given her order, "Mutton one, beef two." "Confound it all!" remarked the backer of beef. "Just my luck—a second again!"—London Sketch.

A Tooth Point.
Dentists' children rarely have filled teeth for the reason that they are taught to use the toothbrush with a circular motion. The brush, as in the ordinary motion, goes back and forth, but it also goes round and round. Thus it finds out all the crannies. Dentists say that the circular motion applied both to the front and back of the teeth will keep them absolutely clean, and absolutely clean teeth cannot decay. The teeth should be brushed after each meal, and especially at bedtime. The morning brush before breakfast, which is the only one commonly applied, does scarcely any good at all since the teeth immediately after it become clogged with food.—Exchange.

Horace—Some men act like perfect fools when they are in love. Evelyn—Yes, and a great many more do not wait even for that excuse.

That Handy Brush Heap.

A half cut over or storm beaten hillside forest looks hungry in the dry summer time. It looks tempting, too, to the fire fiend, and no doubt there is such a being. With the forest ready and the spirit of fire waiting, all that is needed to precipitate a struggle for the mastery is a spark from a passing locomotive or from the pipe of a careless camper. A thousand sparks may fall upon the canopy of green leaves made by living trees and die in the dense underbrush or the heap of limbs and twigs left to season in clearing made by timber cutters and you have a forest fire which has no parallel in swift development except the prairie fire.

It was only a passing spark landing in the dry brush of the lumber clearing which started the recent fire in British Columbia that cost $10,000,000 and destroyed scores of lives. It is an easy matter for lumber and wood cutters to dispose of the twigs and limbs which they do not want when they take away the trunks of trees. They can be piled as to be combustible when the forest is too wet to take fire and even when snow is on the ground. With very little extra trouble they can be burned while green or as soon as cut. No wood will go without fire just because the trees are in verdure and their limbs running sap. It would be cheaper in the long run to burn brush when it is made than wait for the roving gang to start a destructive forest fire.
