JOHN I. SEARS IS DEAD

Prominent Musician and Instructor of Music, Head of Sears' School of This Village, Passes Away at Palatine.

John I. Sears, teacher and advanced student in music, and in his way the most prominent man in this vicinity, died last Friday evening at the home of his son, John I. Sears, Jr., just yes in the prime of life, being but 47 years old. About a year ago Mr. Sears suffered a severe attack of a tubercular growth on his neck. Several of the ablest doctors to be found were consulted but their diagnosis was that the disease was incurable. Then began the brave struggle for life which ended Friday, September 5, at the age of 47.

Mr. Sears was a strong and active man and had endeavored to take good care of his health, but his illness was so severe that he was compelled to give up work. Mr. Sears was naturally a musician. He received his musical training at the University of Michigan and at the American Conservatory of Music, of Chicago, of both of which schools he was a graduate. He gave his first public performance at the age of 18, and has since given many performances in this country.

About fifteen years ago Mr. Sears established a school in this village, which at that time had but a few hundred students from this village, Des Plaines, Arlington Heights, Palatine, Elmhurst, and other towns.

He was assisted in this work by Mr. Sears and his brother, Walter H. Sears, and the "Mishawaka" of Chicago, which is the name of this village, his former pupils. Mrs. Mae Lane Spangler had charge of the dairy department.

Mr. Sears had the means of bringing news to Prof. Sears and to this village at a musical center. He had a piano in his room, and the students who were saddened had spring when his sickness practically obliged him to give up his piano.

He died the summer recently with his wife and her parents at Palatine. Of late he had been getting much better, but his health was failing rapidly. On his death had sent out announcements to his pupils saying that the Sears' School of Music would open for the fall in the new building which he had at his old place as chief instructor. A few hours later, suddenly and without warning, he was summoned to the eternal city.

On the afternoon of September fourth, at 130, surrounded by his wife and his parents, he died. His death had sent out announcements to his pupils saying that the Sears' School of Music would open for the fall in the new building which he had at his old place as chief instructor. A few hours later, suddenly and without warning, he was summoned to the eternal city.

John I. Sears was a Mason, Odd Fellow, and a member of the Elmhurst Lodge, No. 100, of the Knights of Columbus.

He leaves a wife and a number of brothers and sisters to mourn his early death. His widow, Mrs. Walter H. Sears, will remain in Palatine for some time, and will, next to Mrs. Sears, feel his loss most deeply.

The school of music has opened.

Tommy and Mabel, the son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith of Cary and Miss Vickie Ulrich of this village as instructors on the piano. The other members of the staff were the same as in the former year.

Annan-Schumacher.

Wednesday evening at half past ten at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. and Miss Bertha Schumacher of North Hawley street was married to William Annan, formerly of Aurora, Illinois, and now of Palatine.

Joseph Lengner performed the ceremony and Father Joseph Gels read the service.

Miss Schumacher is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schumacher who have moved from Palatine recently to the south side of the city. She is a young lady who is very favorably known among her friends. Mr. Annan is a railroad engineer.

FOURTY YEARS A PASTOR.

Rev. F. C. Matteson Has Talked From "Pulpit Two Years Ago" For This Year.

Rev. F. C. Matteson, the pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in Elmhurst, has been a minister to the people to return for another year, and has expressed a willingness to do so. The pastor of the church, in response to the request of the church to make the appointment in due form on the anniversary of the next session of the church, has agreed to do so. The pastor is in Joliet on the twenty-eighth of this month.

Rev. Matteson spent five years in Joliet as pastor of the Ottawa street church, the one that entered the conference and while there added to his reputation as a man of great ability.

He is now returning to Elmhurst to continue his work in the church.

Rev. Matteson has been pastor of the church in Elmhurst for two years, and the people there, the most prominent of whom is the local M. E. Church has ever had.

The desire that he remain is unanimous.

Castile Homecoming.

The Castle home, on the hill, was the scene of the annual meeting of the descendants of the late Lester D. Castle.

On the 25th of the month the 150th anniversary of the birth of the famous general was observed in the old home.

Everyone present was greatly pleased.

Many words were spoken by his personal friend, Rev. E. G. Lockwood, pastor of the First Congregational church, who spoke of the life and character of the great general, whose words were beautifully and feelingly rendered by Dean F. W. Wayland, who was with him and had spent many happy hours.

To the strains of Chopin's funeral march he was tenderly borne to his last resting place in the cemetery.

He was buried in a simple casket, his loved ones leaving behind the memory of a noble life well spent.

John I. Sears was a Mason, Odd Fellow, and a member of the Elmhurst Lodge, No. 100, of the Knights of Columbus.

He leaves a wife and a number of brothers and sisters to mourn his early death.

Conductor's Words Must Have Made Dark Clouds Settle Around "Would-Be Passenger."

He was in an out-of-the-part of the Bronx. He had an important engagement in Manhattan, and was in a great hurry, and already he was late. Finally a trolley car "blew" in sight and he rapidly stepped into it.

He signaled it, but in his dismay, was not so quick as the others. There should he or should he not jump on the trolley, speed as it was, but so near the destination were cars.

And then came the back platform of the trolley, and the conductor clutched the hand rail—and the next instant he was standing on the platform, his feet firmly on the ground, having yanked it from its socket, but wearing a self-satisfied smile.

The conductor, who had pulled the bell and the car stopped. "Hey! Get off the here!" shouted the conductor. "This is a work car!"—New York Press.
