Booth was killed and his wife and two daughters, Blanche and Ethel, were fatally injured.

Oklahoma City, Okla., June 18.—Between thirty and forty persons were fatally injured Sunday in a cyclone which swept over the Osage Indian nation.

Columbus, O., June 18.—An international series of tornadoes Sunday day played havoc in Ohio, devastating several villages, killing three persons so far as messenger reports show, injuring between fifty and seventy-five and doing property damage which will total high into the millions. Columbus was visited by the storm, and despite the fact that it was not in its direct path, two persons were injured and much property was demolished.

At Delaware houses were blown down, but there were no fatalities. When the storm struck the church in Zanesville, Rev. Father Roach, who was celebrating mass, faced a panic. Calling upon his congregation to be calm, he made his way to the rear of the church, where the steeple had fallen, and administered the last rites to the two dying men. Many of the parishioners were pinned under the debris and others were fighting madly to get out of the windows. Holding above his head a crucifix he called upon his people in the name of God to have courage to spare the weak and to follow him.

Shiloh was dead when removed from beneath the steeple and debris. Dina died two hours later in a hospital. Organized rescue work resulted in saving the lives of others, though many of them were seriously hurt.

DEPUTIES SHOOT MEN

FOUR STRIKERS ARE SLAIN AT PERTH AMBOY, N. J.

Mob of Thousand Sought to Burn Buildings of American Smelting Company.

Perth Amboy, N. J., June 17.—Four men were killed and two others wounded in a battle on Friday between strikers and deputy sheriffs at the plant of the American Smelting and Refining company. The dead men were strikers. They were shot by the deputies who fired to prevent the men from setting fire to the $10,000,000 plant of the smelting company.

One hundred shots were exchanged at the works of the Barber Asphalt company and the American Smelting and Refining company, when a mob of 1,000 strike sympathizers attacked the plant. The assault took place shortly after three o'clock, the assailants trying to take the plants by surprise. Pickets called to the approaching men to halt. Their answer was a volley of shots.

Local officials are in constant communication with Governor Wilson and call for the militia is momentarily expected.

Three men were seen lying in the street after the rioters, 1,000 in number, fled.

COLONEL STATES HIS OWN CASE

Roosevelt Addresses Big Mass Meeting on Eve of Convention.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE SCORED

Gives the Issues of the Campaign and Outlines His Plans—Declares Crime Was Committed in Setting of Contests.

FROM ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH.

Tonight we come together to protest against a crime which strikes straight at the heart of every principle of political decency and honesty, a crime which represents treason to the people and the usurpation of the sovereignty of the people by irresponsible political bosses, inspired by the sinister influences of moneyed privilege.

We are more fortunate than our fathers in that there is no slightest tinge of sectionalism in the fight we are now waging. The principles for which we stand are as vital for the south as for the north, for the east as for the west.

The party belongs to the millions of the rank and file. It does not belong to the handful of politicians who have assumed fraudulently to upset the will of the rank and file.

A period of change is upon us. Our opponents, the men of reaction, ask us to stand still. But we could not stand still if we would. We must either go forward or go backward. Never was the need more imperative than now for men of action. Disaster is at our door if we trust to the leadership of men whose souls are seared and whose eyes are blinded, men of cold heart and narrow mind, who believe we can find safety in dull timidity and dull inaction. The unrest cannot be quieted by ingenious trickery of those who profess to advance by merely marking time, or who talk to draw the cry of justice by loud and insincere clamor, about issues that are dead.

We who stand for the cause of progress are fighting to make the country a better place to live in for those who have been harshly treated by fate; and if we succeed it will also really be a better place for those who are already well off.

None of us can really prosper permanently if masses of our fellows are debased and degraded, if they are ground down and forced to live starved and sordid lives, so that their souls are crippled like their bodies and the fine edge of their every feeling blunted.

Mr. Taft need never again explain what he means by government of the people by a "representative part" of the people. He has shown in actual practice that he means government of the people by politicians who shall misrepresent them in the selfish interest of some one else.

Chicago, June 15.—On the eve of the Republican national convention Theodore Roosevelt addressed a mass meeting at the Auditorium theater, stating his side of the case in the present contest for the Republican nomination for president.

The Auditorium theater, the scene of the former president's first scheduled appearance since his arrival in Chicago, Saturday was filled to its capacity when Senator Borah called the mass meeting to order.

The enthusiasm of the great crowd was evident from the first. It was extended to Senator Borah and William Jennings Bryan, the latter there as a spectator, impartially as each appeared.

Audience in Demonstration. It really spent itself, however, with the appearance of Colonel Roosevelt. Men and women clamored upon seats, waved flags, hats, handkerchiefs—anything that could be seized and thrown into the air to express the feelings of its possessors.

Every point scored by the speaker was a signal for a fresh outbreak of cheering on the part of the audience. There also were demands for summary punishment of the bosses denounced by the speaker, members of the national committee and the Taft leaders generally.

"I hereby warn the members of that national committee," he said, "that any action taken by the convention in which those arrogant fraudulent delegates have a part will not be binding on the party or any member of the party."

"I will impose no obligation whatsoever on any Republican or any citizen within or without that convention. If they ask for the sword they shall have the sword."

There were no complimentary remarks in his estimate of the men who have decided so many contested seats against him.

Fight on Chairman. "I call on all fair-minded delegates, whether pledged to Mr. Taft or to the Roosevelt forces, not to vote for any candidate for temporary chairman named and backed by this national committee," he said.

"Every delegate who supports such a candidate is making himself responsible for the political slavery—and when I say that I mean just the worst that I know to be."

Then the colonel launched into a discussion of the personnel of the committee in his own picturesque manner.

NEW LEADERS NAMED

Republican National Committee Is Reorganized.

DROP SEVERAL "OLD GUARD"

Roosevelt, Mulvane, Vorys of Ohio and Penrose Are Among Those Who Are Displaced—Frank B. Kellogg of Minnesota Also Loses Out.

Chicago, June 19.—National committee members were elected by the state delegations to the national Republican convention, progressive being chosen in every case where the Roosevelt men are in control. Thirteen members of the old committee were re-elected. Several members of the old guard who were prominent in the contest hearings last week fell by the wayside, as predicted. Roy O. West succeeds Frank O. Lowden in Illinois. Victor Roosevelt was thoroughly steam rolled by the Nebraska delegation. Harry S. New retired voluntarily in Indiana. David W. Mulvane of Kansas gave way to William Allen White. Arthur I. Vorys of Ohio stepped down and out, Walter F. Brown taking his place. Senator Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania was thrown outside of the trenches by William Flinn.

Bay State Men Fall to Agree.

The Massachusetts delegation made another attempt today to agree on an organization, the result being that the delegates from the Bay state marched to the convention at the Coliseum hopelessly divided. There are 18 Taft and 18 Roosevelt men in the delegation. The Roosevelt delegates were willing to concede Taft the national committee if some one other than Senator Murray Crane was selected. The Taft delegates decided on Clifford Gallagher for committeeman and asserted that there was not sufficient time in which to notify the Roosevelt men of their choice. Charles S. Bird was selected for national committeeman by the Roosevelt men.

Frank B. Kellogg Loses.

Charles Nagel, a member of President Taft's cabinet, went down in Missouri. Thomas E. Wickersham, who preceded him in Minnesota. Frank B. Kellogg is succeeded by I. A. Caswell, a newspaper publisher of Anoka, although Kellogg fought valiantly for the Roosevelt forces all through the sessions of the national committee. There were other notable changes, the Roosevelt men being the gainers, although it is declared that they are many votes short of enough to control the national committee.

Those Elected.

Following are the national committeemen elected:

Alabama—F. E. Barker. Arkansas—Ralph H. Cameron. California—Meyer Lister. Colorado—Senator Simon Guggenheim. Connecticut—Charles F. Broder. Delaware—T. Coleman DuPont. Florida—Henry S. Chubb. Georgia—Henry S. Jackson. Idaho—John W. Hart. Illinois—Roy Q. West. Indiana—James P. Goodrich. Iowa—J. T. Adams. Kansas—William Allen White. Kentucky—John W. McCullough. Maine—Frederick Hale. Maryland—W. P. Jackson. Michigan—Charles B. Warner. Minnesota—I. A. Caswell. Mississippi—J. B. Moseley. Missouri—Thomas K. Niedringhaus. Montana—T. A. Marlowe. Nebraska—R. B. Howell. Nevada—H. B. Maxon. New Hampshire—Fred W. Estabrook. New Jersey—Borden D. Whitting. New Mexico—Solomon Luna. North Carolina—Richmond Pearson. North Dakota—Thomas Marshall. Ohio—Walter F. Brown. Oklahoma—George C. Priestly. Pennsylvania—William Flinn. South Dakota—Thomas Thorson. Texas—H. P. McGregor. Utah—C. E. Loane. Vermont—John L. Lewis. Virginia—A. H. Martin. Washington—H. A. Penrose. West Virginia—William S. Edwards. Wisconsin—Alfred T. Rogers. Wyoming—Charles D. Patton. Hawaii—Charles A. Rice. Alaska—F. P. Shackelford. Porto Rico—S. Beha.

ASKS CASH FOR DELEGATES

Mayor Gaynor of New York Requests Southern Democrats for Requesting Monetary Help.

New York, June 19.—Mayor Gaynor received a message purporting to be a telegram from a southern Democrat, who said he had charge of an unstructured delegation from a southern state to the national convention at Baltimore, "complaining that some of the rural delegates did not have sufficient funds to get to the convention. 'If you can assist me,' the message concluded, 'to get some of these delegates here, in case they have come before the convention we will make it of interest to you.'"

The mayor, upon receiving the message, at once telegraphed the following:

"You will not be so chargeless. Your moral perceptions are too immature."

TAFT MEN WIN FIRST ROUND IN OPENING FIGHT

Senator Root Is Chosen as Temporary Chairman of Republican Convention.

WINS OVER GOV. MCGOVERN

President's Supporters Muster 553 Votes Against 502 for Colonel Roosevelt—Chairman Roosevelt Rules Against Governor Hadley in Contest Over Disputed Delegates.

Chicago, June 19.—The Republican national convention opened the second day's session at 11 o'clock this morning. The delegates still showed the effects of the struggle of the day before and the opposing factions were just as determined to continue the fight to the end. The first business was the consideration of a motion made by Governor Hadley at the close of yesterday's session that the list of delegates prepared by the Roosevelt organization, containing the names of 80 delegates which the national committee had decided against, be substituted for the temporary roll submitted to the convention by the national committee.

It was this same motion, made by Governor Hadley, which had precipitated the fight between the Taft and Roosevelt forces shortly after the convention was called to order Tuesday. At that time Chairman Roosevelt had made the motion out of order on the ground that no business could properly come before the convention until the organization was effected.

Root Takes the Chair. Senator Elihu Root of New York was elected temporary chairman of the Republican national convention late yesterday afternoon on a roll call by individual delegates. His selection was a victory for the Taft forces, as he was the choice of the national committee.

Senator Root was escorted to the chair by a committee and was given an ovation in which the Roosevelt delegates, however, did not participate. He immediately began the delivery of his speech, which was frequently interrupted by applause from the Taft adherents.

Laurel the President. He eulogized President Taft for the wise legislation which he credited him with having inaugurated, defended the tariff legislation of the party, made a plea for the continuance of constitutional government and the policies of the Republican party and wound up with an attack on the initiative and referendum and the recall of judges. The temporary organization of the convention was then completed by the election of the various other officers, after which the convention adjourned until 11 o'clock today.

Following the usual custom, Chairman Roosevelt announced that Senator Root of New York had been selected by the national committee for temporary chairman. Governor McGovern was not present at the Roosevelt headquarters by Henry C. Cochems of Wisconsin.

Roll Call Begins. The roll call began shortly before 2:30 p. m. after several hours of unimportant debate.

The Illinois delegation voted as

McGovern to 9 for Root as temporary chairman. California voted 24 for McGovern to 2 for Root, defeating Governor Johnson's plan for a solid pro-Roosevelt delegation. The nine Illinois delegates who voted for Root were Robert D. Clark, Peoria; Charles J. Happel, William J. Cook, Daniel A. Campbell, Fred W. Upham, Chicago; Harry E. Brown, Geneseo; Clarence Smiley, Canton; Len Small of Kankakee and Edward Miller, East St. Louis. McGovern received six of Georgia's 25 votes.

Iaho, Borah's state, was the first on the roll call that had unstructured delegates listed. The slight in that column swung to McGovern.

Speeches Bring Fireworks.

Nominating speeches for the temporary chairmanship candidates brought most of the fireworks after 2 p. m. The nomination of Senator Elihu Root for temporary chairman by the national committee was seconded by Job E. Hedges of New York at 1:45 p. m. A great Root demonstration followed.

Governor McGovern of Wisconsin was placed in nomination for temporary chairman by the Roosevelt forces. The convention had a brief burst of cheering when Governor Hadley, "in behalf of Theodore Roosevelt," seconded the nomination of Governor McGovern.

"Boss Bill" Flinn and J. E. Wood, a colored delegate, pulled themselves upon the platform and after them chambered Gov. Hiram W. Johnson of California. "In behalf of the free voters of California I second the nomination of Governor McGovern," shouted the governor.

"And I serve notice," he started, but a chorus of hisses and boos drowned his voice. Johnson was not to be silenced. He shouted and the crowd made a similar sounding speech.

crowd roared and cheered. The governor prevailed and they heard.

Wood seconded the nomination of Senator Root in a brief speech.

Flinn Makes Threats.

"Boss Bill" Flinn was next to come forward. "In behalf of sixty-five of seventy-five Pennsylvania delegates I second the nomination of Governor McGovern," he said. Then he stopped and beamed on to the smiling faces.

He indicated plainly that Pennsylvania will not unless it has its way. The shouts and howls became so strong that finally he could not be heard. Somebody started a cheer, which spread forth shrill notes.

"Get 540 uncommitted delegates if you want to keep us," was his parting threat.

Lawrence Groner of Virginia seconded the Root nomination.

Edwards and Henry Taft. William S. Edwards of West Virginia, after standing with outstretched arms for two minutes to evoke silence, seconded the nomination of McGovern.

Attention was secured for McGovern by the platform at 2:09 p. m. Applause greeted him and he immediately started an attack on the national committee.

Where Audience Takes a Hand.

"The audience broke loose. 'What's your politics?' came from the galleries."

Finally he got started again and went along for a couple of minutes when the hisses again silenced him. Attention was secured for McGovern again when Sergeant-at-Arms Stone, through his megaphone, announced that unless the speaker was treated with respect the disturbers would be removed. At 2:39 p. m. he finished.

John J. Sullivan of Cleveland, O., seconded the McGovern nomination in behalf of Ohio. Charles H. Carey of Oregon made a similar sounding speech.

Senator W. O. Bradley of Kentucky came next with a Root second.

The convention was uproarious from the start. There were fifteen minutes of disorder at the start, then a prayer, then more disorder. But the climax came when Governor Hadley presented his motion.

After speeches by Governor Fort of New Jersey, Senator E. Payne and others who controlled the machinery, the convention refused to throw out the contested roll of delegates.

He gave the impression of posing a constant smirk, which, however, is natural and not artificial.

THE TEST COMES.

This brought the test squarely upon the temporary chairmanship. Chairman Root, following party precedent, named Senator William H. Root as temporary chairman selected by the national committee. The Roosevelt delegates lost friends by his courteous attention to those who have had business with him in his official capacity. The picture men have been taking lots of fun with him, over the long, heavy black string attached to his eye-glasses, behind which, they say, he hides, and the beautiful gold-handled cane which was given to him four years ago as a souvenir testimonial by his national campaign associates and which he has carried around the world.

LOOKED TO FOR LEADERSHIP

Some of the Men Who Are More Than Ordinarily Prominent in the Party.

Chicago, June 19.—In view of the universal interest in the impending national convention a special interest attaches to the personalities of the prominent figures that loomed up in the political turmoil.

CHARLES DICK.

Former Senator Charles Dick of Ohio is a veteran in the political arena. He is said to have been the confidential agent sent south and west during the presidential campaign of 1896 to strike the wire by which the party was to be brought in for William McKinley. He is said to have been playing cards and long, busy days last, coming back from a "receding" forehead. He is importunate, with a graphic smile and a straightaway way in presenting his facts in logical sequence that goes right to the heart of the proposition.

JOSEPH M. DIXON.

The chief factotum in the Roosevelt movement, Senator Joseph M. Dixon, was four years ago conducting the speakers' bureau for the party. Senator Dixon is a native of North Carolina whose residence in Montana has not eliminated his southern traits. He is smooth shaven and dark, impressive and earnest and, needless to add, widely acquainted and well informed.

ORMSBY M'HARD.

The widely known contest expert, Ormsby M'Hard, is a lawyer who first bobbed up politically in North Dakota, where he was once a member of the legislature which elected a United States senator, who opened the door of national politics to him.

He is a tall, big-eyed, sharp-featured fellow with iron-gray hair and a clear-toned, musical voice, which he raises to a high pitch when he wants to add something forcibly. He had charge of the contests in 1908 on behalf of the Taft people, and antagonized the committee that time by the masterful manner in which he had prepared them, so perfect that the opposition could score find a flaw. He was made assistant secretary of commerce and labor when President Taft took office, as an accommodation to Secretary Nagel, it being stipulated that he would hold it but six months, although he was afterward prevailed on to remain a little longer.

WILLIAM MURRAY CRANE.

Within the national committee's sessions the recognized Tag leader was Senator William Murray Crane. The senator is great food for the cartoonists and caricaturists. He is long and slender, soft of voice and little of movement, and with elongated face, a tuft of brown hair like a topknot and a faint mustache, visible only at close range. Senator Crane's system is to work through others whom he prompts, preferring not to assert himself in verbal bouts or spectacular demonstrations. He impresses one as a man who knows what he is trying to do and expects those who are cooperating with him to that and to act on his advice without wasting time in asking questions.

HARRY S. NEW.

Another strong Taft man is Harry S. New, conspicuous by reason of the sugar loaf, straight brimmed, black felt hat he wears on all occasions. Colonel New was chairman of the national committee four years ago, filling out an unexpired term, and this year was in charge of convention arrangements, which is a job of the size of a general manager. Colonel New is a man of few words and not given to speechifying, but he has quick decision and what he talks makes himself plainly understood. He is also a blue-eyed blonde and a tireless worker, who keeps at it early and late.

WILLIAM E. BORAH.

Senator William E. Borah of Idaho is of medium height, broad shoulders and broad chest, with a shock of thick brown hair, altogether not unlike a football player in appearance; smooth-shaven usually, with partly-enclosed ears, and a strong jaw that comes down with a thud when he orates.

Frank B. Kellogg is popularly known as the "Trust Butcher." Mr. Kellogg is small of stature, and has fine facial features. His carefully-combed gray hair against his pale blue eyes and fresh complexion, offsets a distinctly boyish appearance. In demeanor he is seriousness itself, lapsing frequently into an unassuming, thoughtful study in his pose when asking questions, leaning forward and pointing with big, rounded round eye-glasses folded back, which pop open when he makes a more vigorous gesture.

FRANCIS HENRY.

A great guerrilla is Francis Henry, San Francisco lawyer, who is of an entirely different type. He is a shrewd-looking, smooth-faced, long-nosed, large-mouthed, bespectacled individual. He gives the impression of posing a constant smirk, which, however, is natural and not artificial.

WILLIAM HAYWARD.

One more conspicuous figure that should be mentioned is William Hayward, the secretary of the committee, formerly of Nebraska, but now of New York, who has grown up in every way during the last few years. He is, as everyone in Nebraska knows, a great big, handsome fellow, and he has been making lots of friends by his courteous attention to those who have had business with him in his official capacity. The picture men have been taking lots of fun with him, over the long, heavy black string attached to his eye-glasses, behind which, they say, he hides, and the beautiful gold-handled cane which was given to him four years ago as a souvenir testimonial by his national campaign associates and which he has carried around the world.

WILLIAM M. MCKINLEY.

President McKinley, the Taft benefactor was Congressman William B. McKinley, a quiet, unostentatious, bald-headed, blue-eyed little man, really short in stature. He was at the head of the congressional campaign committee, and it is generally admitted that he has not only been a successful politician, but a man of good, calculating judgment and good organizing ability.

HARD FOR THE HOUSEWIFE.

It's hard enough to keep house if in perfect health, but a woman weak, tired and suffering with an aching back has a heavy burden. Any woman who is in this condition has cause to suspect kidney trouble, especially if the kidney action seems disordered.

Don't's Kidney Pills have cured thousands. It is the best recommended special kidney remedy. Mrs. C. F. Mace, Madison St., Shawneetown, Ill., says: "I suffered intensely from backache and headache and was very nervous. I was scarcely able to attend to my household work and at times was so bad I was confined to bed. Don's Kidney Pills gave me the quick relief and before long cured me completely."

"When Your Back Is Lame, Remember the Name—DON'S." 50c. all stores. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Accouted For.

"Why are there so many men in this jail?" asked the philanthropic reformer. "I guess," answered the guide, "it's chiefly because they can't get out."

If uteromials received from those using Don's Kidney Pills were all that they claim for it. Enough said.

The wagon wheel usually has that tired feeling, but it never complains.

That's the kind—Libby's—There isn't another sliced dried beef like it. Good? It's the inside out of the finest beef sliced to wafer thinness.

Libby's Sliced Dried Beef stands supreme. The tasty dishes one can make with it are almost numberless. Let's see! There's creamed dried beef, and—but just try it. Then you'll know!

Rosalie's Parents

By Adelaide M. Country Professor

(Copyright, 1921, by Associated Literary Press)

Both Mr. and Mrs. Brereton were in a state of anxiety bordering on hysteria. Their only child, the pretty Rosalie, had fallen in love with an unknown young man who had, a few months ago, moved into their neighborhood.

There were a number of eligible youths in Beverly, any one of whom would have considered himself only too fortunate could he have become the son-in-law of the Breretons—youths that one knew all about, and whose incomes could be calculated with great nicety.

Jack Chandler was an artist, and Rosalie's parents believed artists to be a poor, undependable lot. Then, too, not much more was known of Miss Graham, the aunt with whom Chandler lived. The best people in Beverly had called, and their civility had met with a prompt and proper return, and these things had made Miss Graham, it was rumored, was a woman of literary tastes, and indeed was supposed to be writing a novel.

It was dreadful to think dear Rosalie should be associated with such a bohemian class—but what were they to do? Chandler and their daughter were both of age and unfortunately Rosalie had a little money in her own right. All that was left for them was to try the effect of a direct appeal to Miss Graham to see if by any possibility she could do anything. It was possible that after they had diplomatically made her see how Chandler's career might be interfered with, and had intimated how very slim was Rosalie's fortune, she might order the weakling of an artist to withdraw his suit. Rosalie could then be taken to New York for a couple of weeks and all would be well.

The plan offered many objections, and gave but little promise of success, but neither Mr. nor Mrs. Brereton could think of anything else, and they were not the kind in such an emergency to sit and fold their hands.

On this special afternoon they dressed with elaborate care for their call on Miss Graham. Just as they should be with a woman of sufficient wealth and position to further them." Mr. and Mrs. Brereton were too dazed to speak. Miss Graham continued fluently:

"John is very young, and at present might be foolish enough to risk a brilliant career. To avoid this I would immediately take him away from Beverly where he is so under contract to finish a series of sketches of the surrounding country for the man—I forget his name—who lives in that fine house on the top of the hill. And so, for I know how unhappy it would make you all should Miss Rosalie be united to a man whose family would distinctly regard the match in the light of a mortification, I have come to ask that you may find it convenient, should you have some relatives in another town, to let your daughter visit them for a few weeks, or until those pictures are finished. I feel that under the circumstances I am really not asking too much."

Miss Graham paused as if for an approving reply. None came, though the mouths of her two listeners had opened wide.

"I know," she said, "when you think it over you will come to my opinion, and that in this matter, which is such a vital one to me and his poor grandmother, who does not yet know the risk John has been running, I may count on your support."

Ingratulating Miss Graham held out her hand to Mr. Brereton, and then to her husband. Mechanically, dazedly, each took it in turn and accompanied her to the door.

When Miss Graham was well out of sight she burst into a ripple of merriment. "That scene goes into my next story," she said.

Late that afternoon there came a most cordial invitation to John Chandler, Esquire, from Mrs. Brereton, begging him to come to dinner quite informally and then accompany Miss Rosalie, her husband and herself to the theater.

The invitation was promptly accepted, and every one remarked how especially lovely Rosalie Brereton looked that night, and how pleased Mr. and Mrs. Brereton seemed at the prospect that every one knew was a coming match.

To Keep From Losing Breath

When participating in a rhythmic there is no loss of breath in walking fast, running uphill or going upstairs. The method of preventing breathlessness consists in maintaining the rhythm and the speed of respiration. When the breathing is rhythmic the breathing keeps pace with the step. The outbreathing must be twice the length of the inbreathing and not more than eighteen or twenty complete breath circuits must be made per minute.—Harper's Weekly.

Shibboleth

Shibboleth, now taken as meaning the watchword or slogan of a particular sect or party, had its origin in the incident recorded in Judges 12:1-6, wherein the word shibboleth was used as a test by the Gileadites to detect their foes, the Ephraimites. The Ephraimites were unable to pronounce the combination sh, and when put to the test called the word "shibboleth," thus betraying their breed and giving away their case.

They are giving them away everywhere to men, women, boys and girls, over 18 years of age, on surprisingly liberal conditions. If you could make any use of a $100 typewriter, providing it did not cost you over one cent, then in a letter or on a postal card addressed to Frank L. Wilder, President, Woodstock, Illinois, simply say, "Mail me a typewriter free" and by return mail you will receive one. The Emerson Typewriter is one of the highest grade, wholly visible typewriters made in the world. Many who have used the "EMERSON" and other makes pronounce the "EMERSON" the superior to any $100 typewriter on the market. It is a wholly visible machine, has every new, up-to-date feature, looks like other high grade $100 typewriters, though it is selling just now at an astonishingly low price and on terms of no money with order, trial free in your own home. Nothing to pay at first, and after a thorough trial, 10 cents a day until paid. The "EMERSON" has every new improvement, universal keyboard, back spacer, the best; is the ideal machine for business as well as for the most expert typewriter for the smallest or largest office.

If you could possibly make any use of a high grade typewriter, even though it didn't cost you one cent of money, or if you would like the agency in your town on a plan by which you could make big money, or if you would like a position with the company, then be sure, on a postal card or in a letter addressed to "Frank L. Wilder, President, Woodstock, Illinois," say, "Mail me your Free Offer."

FISH FAMINE PERIL

Use of Trawls Is Said to Make This Really Possible.

ITS PREVENTION IS SOUGHT

Congress May Sanction the Parole of Federal Life Prisoners—Superintendent of House Press Gallery Proves Himself a Veteran.

By GEORGE CLINTON.
Washington.—Representative Gardner of the Sixth district of Massachusetts acted as a showman before an audience in the bureau of the coast and geodetic survey the other day. He presented a series of moving pictures, one of which was a fishing schooner in the North Sea dragging up fish by means of what are called otter trawls.

There is a movement to give legislative force to an international agreement which will prevent the use of trawls of this kind by fishermen. The trawls go down deep, the object being to catch big fish, but in their operation it is said they kill thousands of small fish and unless their use be prohibited, it is probable, it is said, that the world before many years would be confronted with a famine in sea food. It is said that if this should come the problem of feeding the world would become one absolutely unsolvable.

The house of representatives has passed a bill, which also has been favorably reported by a senate committee, to allow the paroling of United States prisoners, who are serving life sentences, at the expiration of the fifteenth year of their imprisonment. Recently there has been a movement in many of the states to extend the parole laws to military prisoners, and as has been marked in a number of instances recently, the government seems to be inclined to follow examples set by the individual states. As things are at present, a man who is sentenced by a federal court to life imprisonment has only two chances of having his liberty restored, one by bringing forward incontrovertible proof that he was innocent and was sentenced under a mistake, and the other by the pardon of the president.

Story About Charles H. Mann.
Not long ago in one of these dispatches there was a short sketch of Col. Charles H. Mann, superintendent of the house press gallery. As was said then, Mr. Mann has been looking after the interests of Washington correspondents for so many years that he has virtually forgotten when his service began.

The other day Louis Brownlow of Tennessee, a Washington correspondent, made a discovery. Mr. Brownlow had been going through the files of old newspapers in the office of congress. He walked over to the press gallery and said that in a copy of the Harbinger Keynotes of 1839 he had found mention of the fact that Charles H. Mann had just been appointed postmaster in the town of Doylestown, Pa. The superintendent of the press gallery crossed over to Brownlow said and instantly speaking up said: "What did you say was the name of the town in which my name was appointed postmaster?"

"Doylestown, Pa.," said Brownlow. "Now, I am going to prove to you that I am the man mentioned in that report," said Mr. Mann.

The correspondents know that Mr. Mann is a veteran, but they were all fairly sure that he never had been appointed postmaster in any place in the year 1839.

Made Himself Out Ninety-Four.
Mr. Mann went over to his office and in a few minutes returned with a commission made out to Charles H. Mann as postmaster at Doylestown, Pa. in the year 1839. It was signed by Anna Kendall, secretary of the treasury. Mr. Mann showed the commission triumphantly.

The correspondents took out their pencils and without an ink pen, the result of which showed that if their gallery superintendent, Charles H. Mann, had been appointed postmaster at Doylestown, Pa. in 1839, when he must have been at least twenty years old in order to be commissioned, he today had reached the age of ninety-four.

Then it was that "Charlie" Mann explained that his namesake who had been postmaster under the Jackson administration was his father and that he had kept the commission as a family heirloom.

Titanic Memorial Progress.
The movement started in Washington to raise money for a memorial to those who perished in the Titanic disaster with special inquiries to honor the heroic manhood shown on that occasion is progressing rapidly. The plan of the "Women's Titanic Memorial," as the organization is called, has received a "peculiarly warm welcome" in the capital. One of the reasons of this is that to no other single American community was the horror of the disaster brought more closely home.

Mr. Archibald W. Butt, aid to President Taft, was unquestionably the best known and perhaps the most popular figure in all social events here, but the manner of his death and the tribute which was paid by survivors and women in his honor on their behalf in the last hour on board the Titanic have proved that he had every quality of an outdoor man and a hero.

President Taft will hold a place in the art gallery of Washington which hardly can be filled. It is believed that the statue paid by the Wor Lodge to Mr. Millot at a recent memorial service will remain as his most lasting "written monument."

Women's Tributes to Manhood.
The memorial, such as the women promoters propose, will add to the capital a feature of art of a kind of which Washington possesses few. There are monuments and statues here by hundreds, but only a few of these exploit any phase of human life except military glory. The present endeavor has for its object something which will commemorate "the bravery and self-sacrifice of men who far at sea on a starlit night stepped aside to save the lives of women." It also will commemorate the devotion of one woman who preferred to stay with her husband to share death with him, and of another woman who stepped aside and gave a seat in the lifeboat to a woman who had children awaiting her at home.

The plan for the memorial was conceived by women and is being carried forward by women. Mrs. John Hay, widow of the former great secretary of state, is president of the association and Mrs. John Hayes Hammond, wife of the famous mining engineer, is its secretary. Mrs. Helen H. Taft, wife of the president of the United States, stated the memorial fund by giving the first dollar. The wife of the vice-president of the United States, Mrs. Sherman, has pledged herself to obtain a contribution of one dollar from each of one thousand women.

Rucker's Naval Dinner.
A dinner which is in a sense a commemorative service, was given here on the night of Memorial Day by Representative A. W. Rucker of Colorado, who in the days of his youth was a soldier in the army of the Confederacy. Mr. Rucker was the host to 12 men in official position in the United States, most of them members of one of the other branches of congress, who were the gray in the years from '61 to '65.

Never before has there anything of the kind been attempted in Washington. It is regarded here as a most graceful way of commemorating the northern Memorial day by veterans of the south. The guests were Chief Justice Edward D. White of the United States Supreme court, Louisiana; Associate Justice Horace H. Lurton, Tennessee; Senator John H. Bankhead, Alabama; Senator Augustus O. Bacon, Georgia; Senator Joseph P. Johnson, Louisiana; Senator Thomas B. Catfish, Missouri; and Representatives William Richardson, Alabama; George W. Taylor, Alabama; Albert E. Lunt, Louisiana; John Lamb, Virginia; James F. C. Talbot, Maryland, and Charles M. Steadman, North Carolina.

Only Flag There Old Glory.
The dinner was given in the apartments of Representative Rucker in the Rochambeau Hotel. When the reunion of Confederate veterans, there were no decorations of Confederate flags. The only flag was the "stars and stripes" which hung above the head of the table, Chief Justice White of the Supreme court at the request of the host acted as toastmaster. Each guest gave a story to tell of the Civil war, including some of his personal experiences. There were no outside present to hear the old soldiers fight their battles over.

The chief justice of the United States was a private in the Confederate army and so was his colleague of the bench, Mr. Justice Lurton. Lurton served with General Buckner and was present at Fort Donelson when it was captured by General Grant. Lurton was among the prisoners. He was only a boy at that time and the chances are that the northern general had no thought that among the men whom he had captured after they had made a heroic resistance was a future justice of the Supreme court. This reunion of Confederates was intentionally set for the National Memorial day as a tribute of the south to the heroes of the Federal army against whom the guests of the reunion fought for four long years on many battle fields. The dinner was cooked by southern black "mamies" who were known to be experts in the art of preparing food after the famous southern style.

Big Gettysburg Reunion.
Government aid has been asked of congress to forward the interests of the grand reunion of the soldiers of the blue and the gray at the fifth anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg. Committees have been appointed composed of northern and southern members to appear before the committees of congress on behalf of monetary aid for the reunion. The attempt will be to secure from the law makers authorization for the secretary of war to order a board of army officers to go to Gettysburg to make arrangements for the camp of the veterans, to see to it that there is adequate and proper water supply, and that the sanitation and sewerage of the campgrounds are perfect, and that the best hospital facilities are afforded.

Further than this the secretary of war, if congress agrees, will be asked to provide all the equipment and the rations for the blue and the gray veterans during the continuance of the encampment. The program of the reunion will be in charge of the Gettysburg commission and everything is to be carried out under the instructions of army officers. It is expected that an appropriation of $150,000 will be granted, which will cover about half the "living expenses" of the reunion. It is expected that the other $150,000 will be granted from the sum of $350,000 appropriated by the state of Pennsylvania within whose borders the reunion occurs.

Springfield.—The supreme court denied the motion of Chester W. Church of Chicago for a writ of mandamus to compel the state canvassing board to certify his name to the board of state as a candidate for secretary at the approaching election to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Secretary of State James A. Rusk. The supreme court in denying the motion holds that the canvassing board, which consists of the governor, secretary of state and state treasurer, to be purely a ministerial body. Attorneys for Church declare that further legal steps will be made in an effort to place Church's name on the ballot.

Sterling.—Mrs. W. A. Vanodell, wife of Mayor Vanodell of Morris, charged her son-in-law, Jack Casey, when she met him on the street, administering a severe spanking with a piece of fence board. Mrs. Vanodell asserts that Casey recently gave a stag party in one of her unoccupied houses and that she had repeatedly told him not to do so. Several of Casey's companions, who were with him when the irate woman appeared, attempted to rescue him. She turned on them and threatened them with similar treatment, continuing the spanking process until Casey promised to leave the town in the future.

Waukegan.—J. V. Clarke, millionaire resident of Highland Park, has inaugurated a plan whereby he will no longer be compelled to use an railroad in his daily trips to Chicago. Mr. Clarke has decided to station his $65,000 gasoline launch in Waukegan. The launch will make trips between Waukegan and Chicago. The cruiser will leave Waukegan at six o'clock and stop at Highland Park to take on Mr. Clarke and his friends, returning at night.

Sterling.—Frank Healey, who in April was granted a divorce from his wife, Mrs. Fritz Healey, has been married in Iowa to Mrs. Jane Fritz, his mother-in-law. The divorce was granted on the grounds of incompatibility and was not contested, although it was said at the time that the real reason was because of Healey's infatuation for his mother-in-law. Healey is forty-five years of age and his bride fifty-eight.

Decatur.—The Washburn railroad receivers are planning the building of a $750,000 locomotive shop in Decatur within the next twelve months. These shops will do all the locomotive work for the entire system and employ about 1,500 men. Recently the receivers were allowed to issue $15,000,000 of receivers' certificates and so far $9,000,000 thrown on the open market have been eagerly bought.

Danville.—Mrs. Frank Sanford, wife of a prominent furniture merchant with stores in Danville, Springfield and Hopkinton, died here of appendicitis. She was stricken at Greensboro, Ind., where the family had gone to attend the graduation of the oldest daughter, Myrtle, from the DePaul university. Mrs. Sanford was born in Good Rapids, Mich. forty-five years ago.

Chicago.—The safe at the Stafford hotel, 122 West Van Buren street, was robbed, all the money and valuables it contained being taken. The hotel was crowded with Republican convention visitors and until now it is believed that the safe was not recovered from the guests as to the value of the property they had left with the clerks for safe-keeping, the exact amount of loot secured by the cracksmen will not be known.

Greenville.—Townships in Bond county have petitioned the board of supervisors for aid in building about fifty bridges at an estimated aggregate cost of $15,000. All were referred to special committees to meet with the highway commissioners of the various townships.

Decatur.—While Lester Cooper and Forrest Walter, Decatur boys, were playing wild west in a gun, the accidental discharge of a gun in young Cooper's hand came near ending his life. He is in a hospital and may recover.

Carlyle.—Warren Apple, a member of the graduating class of the Carlyle high school, has made the remarkable record of being neither absent nor tardy for eleven years. His mother died on the morning of the day he was graduated.

Poor Father.
Mayor Turnbull, of Canton, was talking about a statement, made all unconsciously by a Titanic officer, that had been a terrible black eye for the Titanic administration.

"This statement," he said, "reminds me of a little Canton boy who said to me, 'You are so unkind to your nurse? Why don't you love her?' his mother once asked him. 'Because I don't,' the infant replied. 'I just hate her.' I could pinch her cheeks like papa does!'"

Going Further Back.
A man who had suddenly become very rich went to live in New York and began to spend money with a lavish hand. He decided that his name needed advertising, so he visited a genealogist.

"I suppose," he said, "if I pay you enough you can trace my family back to Adam?"
"My dear sir," replied the genealogist, "if you're willing to put up the money we can prove by evolution that your family existed before Adam."—Lippincott's Magazine.

OUTDOOR LIFE.
Will Not Offset the Ill Effects of Coffee and Tea When One Cannot Digest Them.

A farmer says:
For ten years or more I suffered from dyspepsia and stomach trouble, caused by the use of coffee (I was drinking coffee, the same drug found in coffee), until I got so bad I had to give up coffee entirely and almost give up eating. There were times when I could eat only boiled milk and bread; and when I went to the field to work I had to take some bread and butter along to give me strength.

I doctor and steady and took almost everything I could get for my stomach in the way of medicine, but if I got any better I only lasted a little while. I was almost a walking skeleton.

"One day I read an ad for Postum and told my wife I would try it, and as to the following fact I will make affidavit before any judge:
"I quit coffee entirely and used Postum in its place. I have regained my health entirely and can eat anything that is cooked to eat. I have increased in weight until now I weigh more than I ever did. I have not taken any medicine for my stomach since I began taking Postum."

"My family would stick to coffee at first, but they saw the effects it had on me and when they were feeling bad they began to use Postum. One at a time, until now we all use Postum. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich."

One or the Other.

A very plain, although somewhat famous woman, was traveling the state of Florida, lecturing on woman's suffrage. She addressed the school children of a little town one afternoon, and prefaced her lecture with the following:
"I am a native of Baltimore, the city made famous by its oysters and beautiful women."

A small boy said to another, in a stage whisper:
"If that's true, she must be an oyster."

If five-thousand dollar cars could be manufactured on the gigantic scale of the Ford—their cost would be reduced at least by half. If Ford cars were to be produced in small quantities—and present high standards maintained—their cost would be at least twice as much.

Seventy-five thousand new Fords go into service this season—proof of their unequalled merit. The price is $590 for the roadster, $690 for the five passenger car, and $700 for the delivery car—complete with all equipment. F. O. B. Detroit. Latest catalog from D. C. Schroeder, Barrington—or direct from Detroit factory.

DEEP SNOWS AND ORCHARDS

Danger to Fruit Trees and Shrubs Where Food Supply of Cotton-tail is Covered Up.

When snows cover the ground for long periods, there is danger to the fruit trees and shrubs. The supply of food for the cotton-tail is covered, and he is driven to the trees.

Many small trees will be injured the present winter, says Homestead, and owners must be vigilant to avoid damage. The shotgun and the trap will do something to thin out the rodents, but they cannot be depended upon for perfect protection. Feed may be supplied by throwing down apple trimmings. Poison may be used, strychnine in sweet apples. Also there are fifty applications for the bark which cause the enemy to avoid the trees which have been treated. Grease, blood, fetta—each has its advocates.

If veneer protectors are put on now press them down well into the snow and see that they are long enough so that, if drifts form about the trees, the rabbit will not get free passage into the tops. Large trees are practically safe from the enemy, because he cannot stretch his mouth to fit them, but the small tree makes his opportunity.

WORKING WITH THE FLOWERS

Window Garden Should Not Be Neglected Even Though Plants Are at Rest—Watch for Pests.

Do not neglect the window garden even though the plants are at their best. Turn the plants once a week; stir the surface of soil; wash the pots with strong soap suds; give plenty of fresh air daily; shower the plants once a week; watch for pests. See that the warm sunshine does not scorch your plants.

Plants that are intended for bedding should be shifted as they fill their pots with roots and give plenty of sunshine and air. Otherwise they will be weak and "leggy."

If you wish to get specimen canna and dahlias start a few in the house early. Remove roots, stocks and unnecessary fiber and cut into single eyes. Then pot in four-inch pots in rich soil; shift when the pots fill with roots. The canna, like corn, needs moisture and heat to develop properly.

Paint Tree Wounds.

Observation and experience tend to the conclusion that white lead is the best and cheapest application for cuts and bruises on the fruit tree. It is rated first and grafting wax second. It prevents checking and seems favorable to quick healing.

Coal tar should never be used—for it seems to actually hinder the process of re-barking. Keep a pot of paint handy, and by filling these vessels with water, drying out is prevented.

In thousands of orchards the paint pot should be used this winter, while the delayed pruning is being done.

Protecting Plants From Snow.

A good way to prevent the settling of the snow, during the winter thaws, from injuring the plants is scatter ashes or sand over the crust. This melts the snow in spots, and the branches are able to break through it easily.

HORTICULTURAL NOTES

Blackberries do well in a cool moist soil.

Bordeaux mixture is only a fungicide, it has no effect on insects.

Lime sulphur washes are considered good insecticide and fungicide. Have a good supply of white and neutral flowers to separate the clashing colors.

The larvae of the blister beetle or potato bug will subsist almost wholly on grasshopper eggs.

It is claimed that string beans grow in the hot-house very prolifically, and are tender and delicious.

According to reports from the various strawberry districts the acreage is greatly increased this year. The best place in the world for the poultry yard is the orchard—any kind of an orchard where insects abound.

Bucking insects, chewing insects and fungus are the three things we spray for, and the only things to spray for.

Mulch the strawberry bed with straw if it has not been done, especially if the snow is thawing off rapidly.

Keep the fence around the orchard as free from weeds, grass and trash as you would your choicest garden plants.

Orchard and garden pests have each a life history. We should familiarize ourselves with this life history, then spray when the insect or disease is least resistant.

Caution's Choice.
"A man of your energy and talents should take an active part in politics." "No," replied Dustin Stax. "I prefer big business. In politics when you decide to forget the details of a transaction some one is sure to pull an old scrap book on you."

Outdoor Games.

A splendid way to get children out of doors is to get them interested in playing "architect." A story vacant lot or an open field is the playground, and the children vie with one another in gathering large pebbles, with them making "life-size" bungalow plans upon the ground. This done, the pebble plans become make-believe houses for the little folks to play in. Children seem to keep up interest in this simple game for months.
