WHEN AND HOW TO SHEAR FARM FLOCKS

By W. C. COFFEY.

SHEAR FARM PLUURS

By W. C. COFFEY.

Assistant Professor of Sheep Musbandry, University of Illinois.

To a limited extent, the condition of the wool depends on the time shearing is done. The normal time for abserting farm flocks is from the middle of April to the middle of May, after the cold weather is over and there have been assisted the cold weather is over and there have no been done to the condition if shearing were done early, say about March I. This true particularly of wool from breding ewes. Where there are barns and equipment for keeping them comfortable, it perhaps pays better to shear them before they jamb. Often a faverish condition immediately sife is made to the same and the same an

The first requisite in careful shear-line is to provide a clean place to do the work. A platform made of surfaced lumber is best, and it should be of sufficient size to insure that none of sufficient size to insure that none incompared to the surfaced flower of the compared to the surface of the surfa

A Good Job of Shearing.

The power machine will cut closer than the hand shears, but satisfactory than the hand shears, but satisfactory than the hand shears are supported by the person of the united some skill. It is the tendency or the unakilled shearer, whether using the machine or hand shears, to fall to cut close to the sheep's body. For example, the shearer may start to cut close to the body, but in advancing the shears he cannot follow the shape of the united hand to an inch the shears he cannot follow the shape of the united hand to an inch away from the lath half to an inch away from the late of the sheep what is nown as second cuts. Because they are so short they are of low value for manufacturing purposes. It is also obvious that the swill of making second cuts makes the sheet manufacturing the face to the approximation of the sheep without setting the facec torn apart. There is a knack in bolding a sheep so it will not kiet and struggle violently; if the shearer is fortunate enough, to possess this inack, he is in lath you to have the leave intect when its operation of the same and the late of the sheet of the sheet of the sheet of the sheet of the order of the same half of the order of the same half of the order of the same half of the same

TAGGART BURNED THE ROOKS

Washington, Tuly 11.—"When we got through it was not worth whis," replied Thomas Taggart, chairman of the Democratic national committee in 1904, when asked by the senate campaign expenditure committee Tuesday if he ever figured up the receipts and expenditures of his committee during the Parker campaign. Mr. Taggart swore that the treasurer's books came into his possession just before the Denver convention in 1908 and that he burned them and 'other dead matter' before turning over the organization records to Norman E. Mack, the new chairman, in man E. Mack, the serious 1908.

Mr. Taggart was unable to remember much about the contributions. From hearsay he expressed a belief that August Belmont, Thomas F. Ryan and Cord Meyer, all of New York, had contributed.

DR. PRICE'S BAKING POWDER

"It is Hot Biscuit, Muffins, Sally Lunn, Waffles, Pot Pie, and almost daily, now that the season has come, a Fruit Short Cake all home-made, home-baked of course, and perfectly delicious! Home-baking, thus, with the aid of Dr. Price's Baking Powder, provides the most tasty food, which I know to be of absolute purity, clean and healthful, and with considerable economy."
