NEW SCHOOL HOLIDAYS

State Superintendent Recommends Three New Special Program Days.

F. G. Blair, state superintendent of schools has recommended the inauguration of three new school holidays—days on which special programs will be prepared, not days for the dismissal of school. They are as follows:

Corn Day, the first Friday in November. This day is intended more especially for the country and village schools, but there is a reason to believe that it can be observed with great pleasure by all schools.

Fire Prevention Day, the first Friday in December. The state fire marshal has agreed to prepare a circular containing interesting and trustworthy information on fire losses and fire prevention. This circular is intended to supply superintendents and teachers with subjects and materials for preparing a fire prevention program.

Good Roads Day, the first Friday in March. Here is a practical, every-day subject. It confronts us every day in year. Farmers, merchants, bankers, engineers, citizens and experts have been discussing the matter for many years. We have arrived at many simple and sane conclusions.

What is needed now is to secure a wider hearing on the matter and a wider and deeper interest in applying these conclusions.

September will be a large factor in making better highways. It is believed that these special programs will spread this information and create sentiment and interest.

The state highway commissioner will collect and arrange interesting and instructive material for teachers and pupils to use in preparing the program.

In a recent circular Mr. Blair says: We now have enough holidays on which the schools are dismissed. It is a question whether we have enough special days for which special programs are prepared. With the disappearance of the old Friday afternoon exercises and the literary and debating societies there seems a real need and demand for some sort of a substitute.

GIANTS TIE RED SOX ROOSEVELT SHOT IN MILWAUKEE

NEW YORKERS TAKE SEVENTH GAME OF WORLD'S SERIES, 11 TO 4.

SCORED SIX IN FIRST ROUND

Wood Given Terrible Bombardment—Terreau on Easy Street—Doyle Gets Homer in the Sixth, Scoring Two Runs.

Penway Park Boston, Oct. 17.—The Giants by outlasting, outmaneuvering and outconvincing their enemy here Tuesday, brought the world's series to a neck-and-neck race when they seized the seventh battle, thus making the count three. The score was 11 to 4, the largest total of the series.

Joe Wood, who tamed the New Yorkers in their previous appearances, opened for the Red Sox and the game was practically over.

Terreau pitched for the Giants. He hurled a good game, but had the rest of the first inning not transpired his performance would have been still greater. Time and again he pulled himself out of holes, held the Red Sox with the bases full and one or two out.

Wood was relieved of his task in the second and replaced by Doyle. Another run to the Giants as the result of two passes, a smash and some contributory negligence by Hall. Doyle was passed after Devore had been treated similarly. Snodgrass singled him to second. Here he jumped and shouted till Hall turned and rammed the ball to Terreau in an effort to quiet the noisy cheer. The throw was wild, and before the play could be re-tried Doyle had counted.

The assembled multitude rose on their hind legs in the second inning and watched Gardner turn first, second, third and hammer his way down the final stretch.

In the first part of the sixth round Doyle brought a four-inch smile to the police station when he was stated that he had been laid low by a strain of two passes, a smash and some contributory negligence by Hall. Doyle was passed after Devore had been treated similarly. Snodgrass singled him to second. Here he jumped and shouted till Hall turned and rammed the ball to Terreau in an effort to quiet the noisy cheer. The throw was wild, and before the play could be re-tried Doyle had counted.

Terreau rubbed it in with a smash in the seventh, which brought the Giants' total into two figures. Merkle was first batter and he batted a single. He swooped on Jeff's clout, another single.

The Red Legs featured the seventh with valiant effort. Speaker connected for a single. He was followed by Lewis, who connected twice as home and Speaker reposed on third. Larry Doyle errred on Stahl's contribution and Speaker counted.

Wilson was sent in to get a taste of world's series atmosphere and Meyers took out.

The Red Sox seized a tally in the eighth through the efforts of Cady, Hall and Doyle. Cady, Hall and Doyle connected for a single. The Red Sox were again overwhelmed at last, when the Montenegrins captured the Turkish fort, commanding the road to Scutari. Scutari is the base of Turkish Albania.

Twins defeated within twenty-four hours, the Turkish army is in full retreat toward Scutari. Following the crushing defeat by the Montenegrin division under Czerny, Prussia, the Turks were again overwhelmed at last, when the Montenegrins captured the Turkish fort, commanding the road to Scutari. Scutari is the base of Turkish Albania.

Eighty thousand Russian troops are mobilized along the frontier where the Balkan war rages. Thus the peace of all Europe is considered awry on a pivot.

Twins defeated within twenty-four hours, the Turkish army is in full retreat toward Scutari. Following the crushing defeat by the Montenegrin division under Czerny, Prussia, the Turks were again overwhelmed at last, when the Montenegrins captured the Turkish fort, commanding the road to Scutari. Scutari is the base of Turkish Albania.

By a score of 3 to 1 the Boston Red Sox won their third victory from the New York Giants in the world championship series before one of the greatest crowds that ever witnessed a baseball game in Boston.

Leather McCarty of Springfield, Mo., won his fight at San Francisco in the second round from Al Kaufman. He was beating Kaufman all around the ring and the police stopped the fight.

Red Cross Appeal by Taff. New York, Oct. 17.—President Taff issued an appeal Tuesday on behalf of the American Red Cross for funds for the sick and wounded who must be cared for by the Turkish and Greek Red Cross organizations.

John Schrank of New York Fired Bullet into Colonel's Chest.

MAN IS PROBABLY INSANE

Ex-President Is Taken to Chicago—Wound Not Considered Serious Unless Blood Polson Should Develop.

Milwaukee, Wis.—John Schrank, the central figure in the Iroquois county murder case of three years ago, has served a allotted time of her imprisonment in the penitentiary at Joliet and walked from its portals a free woman. Mrs. Taylor received a sentence of three years in jail, but at the time of the trial of the most sensational trial in the middle west was known as having been over.

Judge Neelen held Schrank to the criminal court for trial, under bonds of $7,500. Tentatively the date for trial was set for the November term of the criminal court. Schrank was then placed in custody of Sheriff Armstrong, who had been re-elected and was imprisoned in the county jail.

Schrank's plea of guilty was entered as soon as District Attorney Zebel had read the formal charge of attempted murder.

Formally Pleads Guilty. "What is your answer to this charge?" Judge Neelen asked of Schrank.

"Guilty," replied Schrank.

Colonel Roosevelt was shot as he was leaving the Gilpatrick hotel for the Auditorium to make a speech. The colonel went on to the hall and spoke for an hour, but he had seen the assassin arrested and taken to the police station. Elbert E. Martin, the colonel's secretary, seized the assassin and held him until police came up. A mob gathered around the man, who apparently is a radical, and brawled with the police. The crowd was wild, and before the police could be re-tried Doyle had counted.

Directed by Spirit of McKinley. Notes found in the man's pocket at the police station were stated that he had been laid low by a strain of two passes, a smash and some contributory negligence by Hall. Doyle was passed after Devore had been treated similarly. Snodgrass singled him to second. Here he jumped and shouted till Hall turned and rammed the ball to Terreau in an effort to quiet the noisy cheer. The throw was wild, and before the play could be re-tried Doyle had counted.

ILLINOIS BREVITIES

Bloomington—Lucy Givens Taylor, the central figure in the Iroquois county murder case of three years ago, has served a allotted time of her imprisonment in the penitentiary at Joliet and walked from its portals a free woman. Mrs. Taylor received a sentence of three years in jail, but at the time of the trial of the most sensational trial in the middle west was known as having been over.

Judge Neelen held Schrank to the criminal court for trial, under bonds of $7,500. Tentatively the date for trial was set for the November term of the criminal court. Schrank was then placed in custody of Sheriff Armstrong, who had been re-elected and was imprisoned in the county jail.

Chicago—Frank Martin, fifty-seven years old, 2306 North Western avenue, was killed and Mrs. Rose Johnson, fifty-five years old, was seriously injured when the two fell from the roof of the third floor of Martin's residence at 2306 North Western avenue. Martin and Mrs. Johnson were leaning over the railing when it gave way. Both plunged to the pavement a distance of forty feet. They were taken, unconscious, to St. Elizabeth's hospital, where Martin died. His body was removed to 2357 Fullerton avenue, where he was being cared for by a carpenter contractor, who had been asked by Mrs. Johnson to make an estimate on repairing the porch.

Formerly Pleads Guilty. "What is your answer to this charge?" Judge Neelen asked of Schrank.

Colonel Roosevelt was shot as he was leaving the Gilpatrick hotel for the Auditorium to make a speech. The colonel went on to the hall and spoke for an hour, but he had seen the assassin arrested and taken to the police station. Elbert E. Martin, the colonel's secretary, seized the assassin and held him until police came up. A mob gathered around the man, who apparently is a radical, and brawled with the police. The crowd was wild, and before the play could be re-tried Doyle had counted.

Directed by Spirit of McKinley. Notes found in the man's pocket at the police station were stated that he had been laid low by a strain of two passes, a smash and some contributory negligence by Hall. Doyle was passed after Devore had been treated similarly. Snodgrass singled him to second. Here he jumped and shouted till Hall turned and rammed the ball to Terreau in an effort to quiet the noisy cheer. The throw was wild, and before the play could be re-tried Doyle had counted.

The Red Legs featured the seventh with valiant effort. Speaker connected for a single. He was followed by Lewis, who connected twice as home and Speaker reposed on third. Larry Doyle errred on Stahl's contribution and Speaker counted.

Wilson was sent in to get a taste of world's series atmosphere and Meyers took out.

The Red Sox seized a tally in the eighth through the efforts of Cady, Hall and Doyle. Cady, Hall and Doyle connected for a single. The Red Sox were again overwhelmed at last, when the Montenegrins captured the Turkish fort, commanding the road to Scutari. Scutari is the base of Turkish Albania.

DETAILS WILSON FUND

MCOMBS TESTIFIED BEFORE SENATE COMMITTEE.

Says Preconvention Contribution Toward Democratic Nominee's Campaign Amounted to $208,000.

Washington, Oct. 15.—William F. McCombs of New York, chairman of the National Democratic committee, was first witness when the Clapp committee resumed its investigation of campaign funds.

Senate's John H. Bankhead, manager of the Underwood campaign; Lt. Gov. Hugh L. Nichols of Ohio, manager of the Harmon campaign, and Vice-Chairman William G. McAdoo of the national Democratic committee, were directed to appear when the Clapp committee resumes its investigation of campaign funds.

Mr. McCombs said $208,000 had been contributed to the fund this year in behalf of Governor Wilson's nomination.

"I began this campaign for Governor Wilson in May, 1916," he said. "For the first month or two the campaign was directed from my own office, and I paid the expenses out of my own pocket. Then I established headquarters in New York. I think I spent about $10,000 monthly."

Here Mr. McCombs produced a list of contributors to the Wilson fund. Following were the principal contributors:

Frederick G. Pandorf, $12,000; William F. McCombs, $11,000; Charles O. Conner, $10,000; Abram C. Bratt, $11,600; Harry T. Thompson, $6,000; Cleveland H. Dodge and Princeton friends, $25,500; Samuel Untermyer, $7,000; collected through William G. McAdoo, $1,600, or which amount Jacob H. Schiff gave $1,500.

Mr. McCombs admitted that the $12,000 credited to Frank C. Pandorf was all of the money that contributors had given.

While his prepared statement totalled $103,665, Mr. McCombs said the total expenses for the campaign had amounted to $103,000. He said it was represented at the moment expended, and that no other funds had been collected to his knowledge.

London, Oct. 15.—Podgorica reported to the Daily Mail that Sunday saw the town of Scherik was demolished by Montenegrin guns and 250 Turks taken prisoners. The final charge of the Montenegrins was so furious that the retreating Turks were cut to pieces and abandoned their arms. The noted Macedonian leader, Todor Latarov, committed suicide because he could not go to war. He had tuberculosis.

The Montenegrins have set up there a provisional government. Montenegrins are on their way east of Byeopoly and are on the Servian frontier, against which they will direct a second attack. VARIOUS SAUCES FOR FISH

Different Mincing Are Required for the Different Species That May Be Served.

A hotless sauce from Spain brought with her a fish sauce which is popular with the Spaniards. It is formed of a thick French dressing made of one tablespoon of vinegar to eight of oil. It is seasoned with a half teaspoonful of salt, a half teaspoonful of mustard and pepper enough to color.

Into this dressing is added the finely chopped whites and yolks—each separately—of three hard-boiled eggs, a dozen chopped olives and half a dozen chopped sweet red peppers.

Mayonnaise served in a small silver or chalice bowl is often passed with fried anchovies, scallops and sole. This may have half dozen sweet pickles chopped in it or a tablespoonful of capers.

Some hostesses serve extra drawn butter in a separate sauce boat, with butter, a mineral oil or bluesh. This should be highly seasoned with pepper and may be colored with paprika, or should be nicely browned.

A nice sauce for shell fish is made by using the broth that comes from steaming, or a little of the clam broth that is left. Fry small onions in butter but do not color, then brown, thicker with a tablespoonful of flour; then reduce to a creamy gray, with the broth. Season well with cayenne and a little salt. Just before serving stir in the yolk of an egg, a shiny glass of white wine, the same amount of cream and some chopped chives or capers.

TO BRAISE A GUINEA HEN

Excellent Dish May Be Made From Fowl If Necessary Time and Care Is Given.

A young, tender guinea fowl is not to be despised. When well selected and cooked, it is not very unlike a partridge. A young fowl can be told by pressing the breast bone at the tip; if it is pliant, the wings very tender, the legs smooth, free from feathers and a pale yellow color, buy it. A young fowl will require about one hour and fifteen minutes for braising, older ones double the time. Dress and truss as chicken. Heat a tablespoonful of butter in the pan; when hot, lay in the guinea and turn on all sides until lightly browned; add a sliced onion, a small onion, bits of celery, a cup of tomatoes, a few cloves, a few onions and cook very slowly and gently until tender. Salt lightly after it has cooked an hour. A casserole is better than a covered roaster for braising. Serve on a platter, garnished with watercress, the gravy in a sauce boat.—National Food Magazine.

Steamed Rice and Salmon.

A way to use salmon a little different from the usual recipe is as follows: Line a bread pan, slightly buttered, with warm steamed rice. Fill the center with cold boiled salmon, tail and head removed, skin and bones a slight distance outwards. Cover with rice and steam one hour. Run on a hot platter for serving and pour around egg sauce, one-third cup butter, three tablespoons flour, one and one-half cups hot water, one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, beaten yolks, one-half cup cream, one-eighth cup orange juice. Melt half butter, add flour with seasonings and pour out gradually hot water. Roll five minutes and add remaining butter in small pieces.

Uses for Parsley.

You can flavor a lot of things with parsley. Cut it up fine and put in a soup or a casserole. You will be pleased with the result. If you would like a few Swedish dishes in which parsley is used I would like to send them to you. I would like to send you my way of putting up parsley for the winter it is done in the same fashion. Don't you ever eat parsley in your gravies and stuffing for fowls? I use parsley at nearly every meal, both for cooking and garnishing. Wish you would try some of my Swedish dishes. They are plain but very good.

Eggplant Fritters.

Grill thoroughly one cup of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt and one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper. Add enough milk to make a stiff batter and one egg well beaten. Turn it into the mashed eggplant pulp. Drop this, a few pieces at a time, in hot oil to fry a golden brown. Use olive oil or a ton seed oil in preference to lard in frying, as it is more palatable and healthful.

Oxford Salad.

Small leaves of lettuce, three to each garnish, each leaf very thin. On each slice of orange place a strip of canned red sweet pepper. Over all pour a dressing made of the juice from the ends of oranges, a little of pepper liquor and plenty of salt. Very pretty and so good.

Pumpkin Fritters.

One pint of pumpkin boiled and sliced, one pint of milk, two eggs, one-half teaspoon salt, pinch of ginger, one teaspoon molasses, sour to make a batter stiff enough to drop on grid-dles as for buckwheat.

Tea Cakes.

Half cup sugar, one tablespoon butter, one-half teaspoon salt, one egg, one cup sweet milk, two teaspoons baking powder and two and one-half cups of flour. Bake in moderate oven about 20 minutes.

THE SPIRIT OF ASSASSINATION.

All residents of this country, whether politically friendly to Colonel Theodore Roosevelt or not, will join in condemnation and denunciation of the cowardly and insane attempt to take his life at Milwaukee last Monday evening. And all are thankful that the hand of destiny decreed that his life be spared that he might give further to his country from his vast mind and in inexhaustible store of energy, for that Theodore Roosevelt is a representative American and a great American, none will deny. There are many, very many, who do not believe that it would be well to return Mr. Roosevelt again to the office of chief executive of the nation, but that he has a sane enemy so inclined as to wish to see so dangerous, courageous and worthy a life ended by an assassin's bullet, we cannot believe.

This one more attempt to take the life of one of the country's most prominent public citizens but illustrates the depth to which insane hostility gathers in the weak and anarchically minded during an excited and passionate political controversy.

The completeness of Schrank's insanity is well shown by his ascription of a murderous instigation to the spirit of William McKinley, whose every thought was benevolence, and to whom only an utterly irresponsible mind could impute even the thought of destroying any man's death, albeit his bitterest and most malignant enemy.

During the balance of this campaign let the issues be decided according to the best judgment of the voters upon the principles involved—upon the merits and demerits of the questions under discussion. Let there be less of passionate arguments and more of a reasonable and friendly presentation of facts. Let the questions be determined by conscientious reasoning, and, of course, not affected in any way by the deplorable occurrence at Milwaukee.

THE BOUNTIFUL HARVEST.

A great report is just given out by the government on the condition of the crops, as they appear for October. In the aggregate the cereal yields surpass all records though in individual instances they do not. Corn, for example, is placed at 3,016 million bushels as compared with 3,125 million in 1910. The total flours usually show a shrinkage from the estimates made in the growing and harvesting seasons, so that it is safe to say the crop falls 125 million below the record. Many of the best judges in the corn growing regions believe the record to be farther than that away from the fact. The crop, however, is an immense one. The discouraging thing about it is the estimated average yield per acre of 27 bushels.

Winter wheat is placed at 492 million bushels, which puts it 112 millions over last year, and oats at 3,317 millions, or 231 millions over the record.

Potatoes, also, show an increase, amounting to at least twelve million bushels over our previous largest crop, though the yield is probably less than half what the German people would get on an equal acreage.

Note is made, in the report, in respect to the crop of flaxseed, which has swollen in this country till now it is worth about $55,000,000 a year. This year, however, the crop is about ten million bushels short.

Taken as a whole, never before have the people of this country had such bountiful harvests. They furnish a trustworthy foundation for a confidence of good times, if the voters have the good sense, when they go to the polls in November, not to upset the prosperity which nature's liberality has so lavishly bestowed on us all.

Read the Barrington Review, they say, because it is the best.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS SAY

Milk News: Unless all signs fail there will be something doing in the legislature this winter on dairy matters and it stands us in hand to vote for men who can help us in that body.

Illinois State Journal: Are you a progressive? Then you are a stalwart of progress along the lines of national development, but for progress which still preserves the good we already have and holds fast to those essential elements of American institutions which have made our country prosperous and great and free.

Eagle Daily News: While we do not attach much importance to "straw" votes the poll taken at Springfield during the fair commands some attention. The queer thing about it is that each of the leading parties seems to prefer to be represented at the fair by those of their respective forces. It is quite evident that the old time Republicans will be divided thereby inviting disaster so far as its presidential candidates are concerned. The Good Book says that a "House divided against itself cannot stand." This is true of political parties. The carefreebores see many old Republicans going to Roosevelt, but very few Democrats.

As heretofore the Democratic vote will
