MAN'S TRUEST FRIEND.

Out in Colorado, ten miles from Trinidad, Louis and Samuel Salvorin, 10 and 12 years old, started across the snow-clad plains for their uncle's ranch. With them went their collie dog.

The boys were attacked by three hunger-crazed coyotes. The collie fought to the death for his little masters. The boys were bitten and the collie is dying, but two of the coyotes were killed and the third driven off.

Such is the story that comes from Trinidad. Let us hope that it is all true except that the collie is dying! It may be true, for such is the way of the collie.

THE FOUNDATION OF DEMOCRACY.

When a child's conduct shows that he is acquiring the principles of kindness, decency, regularity, a regard for the rights and interests of others and the other qualities that are the very foundation of Democracy, you need have no fear about his classroom studies. They will follow logically and naturally. The thing of the most importance is the development of moral fiber, a willingness for each to do his share and a determination to do the task before him thoroughly and conscientiously.

Dancing, the same as any other pastime, can become a demoralizing influence. Yet when rightly indulged in it has its proper place and sphere. Years ago the stately minuet was indulged in by young and old alike and had a strong tendency to add to the good graces of both. Then came the waltz, polka, two-step and all the rest at which all staid old people were duly shocked. And now it has gone a step farther and we have supposedly respectable young people indulging in dances that are a disgrace. If the evolution continues, a dance in a few years will resemble a debauch in the red light district. No good can come from allowing young boys and girls to attend them for the impressions they bring away can have nothing but a debasing influence.

WHEN A MAN'S SIXTY.

Twenty, 30, 40 and 50 are all parts of 60. Twenty cannot say: "My brain is itself now and will be something entirely different then." What it is at present is a part of what it will be at 80, not an imaginary intangible part, but an organic division. The brain is not an echo, a shadow or a filament any more than the leg, the nervous system or the gall bladder. It is an actual organ and will carry a scar or build up a tissue the same as the biceps, the solar plexus or the nose. Whatever tissue is built up in the brain will remain there. If it is good, good remains. If bad, bad remains. When a man's 60th birthday will be what he has made it. It is important for a man who wants to live in a brick house that he shall build one of brick. Yet here is the difference: A man can exchange one house for another. He can't exchange minds with anybody. It is vital to happiness that a man should constantly create in his mind a taste for what will give him pleasure when Dr. Oster is ready to kick him.

To have a mind fitted for philosophic reflection when the time comes, when he will have little else to do, is wisdom. How unhappy is the restless, dissipated old man and how glorious the crowning years of him whose gray hairs tell the story of deep thought and happy contemplation. Clavel's essay on old age is one of the most sensible articles ever written. Old men are either more peaceful or more nervous than young ones, and either condition is the direct result of brain tissue that has been built and cannot be changed; for the inside of the old are more brittle than the bones.

SCHOOL NOTES

The Barrington school board will give a concert Thursday evening, February 13, at the high school assembly hall beginning at eight o'clock. The band will be assisted by the Boys Glee club and the Beginner's band. This will be the first public appearance for two latter organizations. The Boys Glee club has a membership of sixteen high school boys and is under the direction of Mrs. Maher. The Beginner's band is composed of the younger boys, about seventy in number, and like the school band is under the direction of Mr. Sears. The concert is given for the benefit of the domestic science and manual training departments. Admission will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children.

The fifth annual school exhibit will be given March 14. Plan to attend. The mid-year examinations are over and report cards will be issued Monday. Parents, these cards are issued for the benefit of your children. You would do well to examine them carefully and if your children are not making grades of "A" or "B," plan to visit the teachers and ascertain the cause. Co-operation of parents, teachers, and children is needed to bring about the best results.

HE'S A PASSIONATE WOOPER.
Sieg who will in ringing phrases of the lass with eyes of brown; sing who will with fulsome praises eyes of blue cast shyly down, eyes of black or gray all these graces are o'er shadowed by the lass I'm singing here.
Rant who will of smiles scarpish or of blushes chaste and meek, would that I in symbols graphic could describe my lady's cheek! Well, I know her Grecian features curve of throat and tilt of chin, the completeness of her sweet nose; ah, what magic lies there! So I wooper! None so boldly woo his lady as I. Much I'll do to win her to me—much at last she's coming near; troubles fade and worries flee. 'Tis the lady on the dollar, ah! she is the lass for me!

WORDS OF TRUTH

THE THIRD DAY OR EPOCH
"AND God said, Let the waters under the heaven be gathered together unto one place, and let the dry land of the Earth appear; and it was so. And God called the dry land earth; and the gathering together of the waters called He seas. And the evening and the morning were the Third Day."—Gen. 1:9, 13.
The beautiful simplicity of this statement might lead us into thinking that the gathering together of the oceans and the creation of mountains were of great and wonderful, they are usually accomplished by reasonable methods called the "course of Nature." And surely Nature's course must be marked out by Nature's God.
The ring theory of Cosmogony is that several rings precipitated themselves upon the Earth during the Third Epoch-Day. These, according to the Divine intention, so increased the pressure on the crust of the Earth as to cause it to buckle or wrinkle. These depressions became ocean beds, and the upheavals became mountain ranges. Thus was the work of the Third Day accomplished. The waters were gathered into seas and oceans, the dry land was upheaved and began gradually to drain off in preparation for vegetation. This draining must have required a long time, indeed, some American prairie lands are still mucky, sloughy, boggy.
We need not assume that all the continents as we know them were thrown up on the Third Epoch Day. In all probability the American continent was thrown up much later than Europe, Asia and Africa. Appropriately we next read: "And the Earth brought forth grass, and herb yielding seed after his kind, and the tree yielding fruit." That is to say, vegetation began on the Third Epoch-Day, though it evidently did not reach its perfection until later, after the light of the Sun penetrated. There are beet in darksome shades. We're going to send ten farmers to Bitter Root Valley. They must be married and the larger the families the better. They must be honest, industrious and have practical knowledge of farming. These 10 families will be placed on farms of their own that can be paid for out of the help take care of our commercial orchards. This is the "poor man's chance." He will have every opportunity to make a fortune in a few years on land good as can be found anywhere—land that will be worth $1,000 per acre when he gets it under cultivation, and that will net him $200 to $300 per acre every year in fruits and vegetables. You will need only a small capital to start with. You can pay for your farm out of the profits after the second year. Remember, we write at once, if you think you can qualify. This is "The Poor Man's Chance." W. Kerr Company, 309 Andrew Building, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

First Thimble.
There is a tradition that a Dutch silversmith pondered over a certain notion which he had cherished long and silently in the slow working senses which he deemed his brain—a notion for a trinket, a fad, for a dignified lady of Holland. It must be a useful trinket, albeit a costly one, meet for so good a sempstress as Dame Alice Van Rensselaer. When the notion took definite shape the thing was quickly wrought in precious metal by fingers as deft as the brain was slow, and the industrious housewife proudly wore not only her first thimble, but the first thimble possessed by any Dutch frau.—Century Magazine.

Habit That Pleased.
"So you have thought it over carefully and decided that young Money-blower is the man you must marry?" said her father gravely.
"Yes, father," the young woman replied.
"Are you sure that his habits are such as will make for a happy married life?"
"Yes, indeed. He buys a new motor car every year, and that's just the sort of habit I want my husband to have."

The Cautious Woman.
They stood on Penn avenue and watched the girls go by, an endless procession.
"They say the hot-blooded girl is disappearing."
"I believe it is. Modern women, and the sharp-eyed beauties and her women come here, is more like a storm than a visit."—Lafayette Park.

I told father to get me two 50c bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, which he did, and on taking it she soon began to improve, and four bottles cured her entirely. You may believe this if you wish and I will answer all inquiries, with postage enclosed for reply."
