The Devoted Mary and the Avaricious Judas.

The central feature of this supper is the anointing of Jesus by the devoted Mary. The action was not uncommon in eastern lands, where the heat is great and the feet exposed to it by sandals suffer from dryness and scorching. The motive of Mary was for what she had learned from him, but for what she had learned from him, but for what he had done for her brother Lazarus, whom he raised from the dead. All of which comes out the stronger in contrast with the fanasticism and avarice of Judas, "Why was not this olistment sold for three hundred and the stronger in contrast with the fanasticism and avarice of Judas, "Why was not this olistment sold for three hundred had been dead to be a supplied by the succession of the love of God only, and especially giving money for Christ's canse. Judas said this, not because the cared for the poor," John says, "but because he was a thisf and had the bag and bare what was put therein." He was think-linder the succession of Mary of Bethany, and sol of Judas learniet, who really care for the poor," As another says, even if Judas had said this from the heart it would have the prick live according to their means.

Social Distinctions to Remain.
But how significant that remark of Jesus, "the poor always ye have with you." How clearly it teaches that distinctions of class and rank will distinctions of class and rank will distinctions of class and rank will distinct the class of the class are not doing their duty. This separation between rich and poor which Jesus made was opposed to the spirit of bottom rich and poor which Jesus made was opposed to the spirit of bright, for in the true veneration of his name consists the most effectual caring for the poor. When the Sun Will Die.

It may be said unqualifiedly that the sun, like every other thing connected with the present order, will finally cease to be what it is today, for the sun will have created comes when the sun will have created that happens, however, the earth and other planets will have been "dead worlds." like the moon—no life of any sort upon them. It has been calculated that the sun will cease to throw out its least somewhere about seven million of years from now.
