Cuba township voters turned out in goodly numbers Saturday and a total of 200 votes were polled. The highway contest, and while William Gleske was easily re-elected his opponents worked and forced him to hustle, and considerable interest was aroused. F. A. Cady was re-elected to the office of thistic commissioner, defeating Henry Gleske by only five votes. Justices Lines and Harnden and Constables Welch and Donlea were re-elected without opposition.

sistion. The large vote was a surprise to almost everyone as the highway commissioner to be elected was for the southern district and there were no contents of a great deal of interest to residents of the central and northern parts of the township. However a great many farmers turned out from all over the township.

Our Washington Letter

Our Washington Letter is an important feature of each week's issue of the Review and our readers should never miss it. Of course you read the daily papers, but you lose sight of the important and interesting features in the maze of detail and color. TMr. Clinton tells this week of the president's desire to have an office in the capitol, his coincidence with Mr. Taft's wish to allow cabinate members on the floor of the house and senate, and the new law providing for federal protection of game and insectivorous birds—on page three.
