All Of the Large Cities.

PROVIDES FOR FUTURE GROWTH

Local Phones Have Increased Forty Per Cent in Five Years—Many Orders Anticipated.

When the Chicago Telephone company "out over" its new exchange in Barrington, on the night of March 29, it placed in commission a telephone exchange that will not only afford the highest type of service to Barrington users but that will be adequate with slight additions for at least ten years growth in Barrington patronage.

Although the actual work of the cut over, which is the technical term for a transfer from one exchange to another, required but a few seconds and was attended with no sensational incidents, yet it was the culmination of months of planning and expert work on the part of trained electricians.

Obviously it would be inadvisable to allow telephone service to lapse even for a brief period. Emergency might require the use of the service in saving lives or property. For this reason the company must plan all details of the change and arrange all wiring, apparatus and equipment in such form that the disconnection from the old switchboard and the reconnection to the new one requires merely the severing of the old cable and the placing of a small appliance known as a seal cut. This work consumed less than two minutes in the Barrington exchange cut over and at the end of the two minutes each line was properly connected and working through the new switchboard.

By the installation of what is technically known as a "No. 9 common battery" board the company has provided a service for Barrington that is enjoyed by few small exchanges. This is taken as proof of the company's confidence in the future growth of Barrington and an increasing demand for telephone service.

There are few Barrington citizens who are not intimately acquainted with have increased more than forty per cent during the same period.

Predictions made by officials of the company indicate that they expect 400 telephones to be connected with the local exchange before January 1, 1914. They believe that because of the new equipment and the resultant improved service there will be many new orders during the ensuing months. Already farmer lines stretch for miles in each direction, making Barrington the center of a vast farming community. Extension of farmer lines naturally augments the importance of Barrington as a trading center and has its effect upon business interests.

A review of the technical features of the new exchange would be of little interest to Review readers. However it may be said that the new exchange is similar in nearly all respects to the switchboards that are operated in Chicago and other large commercial centers. Subscribers in Barrington now signal the operator without the use of the crank attachment. Merely the lifting of the receiver establishes a circuit to the switchboard and lights a miniature lamp before the operator. This is her signal that the subscriber wishes a connection. After making the connection with the called subscriber she is able to tell by means of a similar lamp when that subscriber takes his receiver from the hook. Moreover, when either the calling or called party replaces his receiver on the hook, the lamp again lights and the operator is apprised of the fact. Because of the length of farmer lines the lamp device cannot be used thereon. A "drop," a small electric device, answers an incoming call. To throw this drop a current of electricity is required, and farmer telephones will, therefore, still have the crank equipment.

Experience has proven that the lamp equipment is most satisfactory for the reason that the operator is enabled to follow a call and to have definite information when the called subscriber takes his receiver from the hook. With the old equipment, it was essential that the subscriber ring off when through using his telephone. This gave the signal to the operator to disconnect the line. With the new switchboard, this is eliminated. Immediately after the subscriber places his receiver on the hook the lamp

Social at Methodist Episcopal Church.

The young people of the Methodist church had a largely attended social function at the church parlors on Tuesday evening this week. A good many extra seats had to be provided for the company. Quite elaborate preparations had been made in the way of decoration by the skillful use of red and white bunting. There was a program of music recitation and song. Miss Ruby Roloff rendered a violin solo and Miss Violet Ultsch and Miss D'Arcy favored the company with piano solos. Irving Horn, Lowell Bennett and Miss Angie Graham gave vocal solos and Miss Amy Rowe and Miss Ethel Kilton recited to the amusement of their hearers. Miss Reba Peckham also rendered a humorous selection very nicely.

Games of various kinds followed in which most of the company participated. The usual refreshments were not forgotten. Altogether it was such an occasion as young people enjoy and many older ones are not averse to being present and entering into the spirit of the hour. Such gatherings show that the church believes in providing such entertainment for their young people as will not injure their moral or christian life.

NEW DESIGN IN TRACTION ENGINE

The William Grace Company Has Built a Powerful Machine for All Kinds of Farm Work.

The William Grace company has designed and built a model type of caterpillar traction engine for farm and road use, which is expected to arrive in Barrington this week. It will be thoroughly tried out on the two Grace farms near Honey Lake. This tractor, unlike any other, places its entire load on its traction chain, dispensing with all steering or other wheels, excepting the four wheels on each side which carry the chain, thus making possible a light, compact and powerful tractor. Short in length and breadth, with plenty of pulling power and weighing about 7,500 pounds, which is spread over so much ground surface, more than ordinary traction is obtained. In appearance it is more like the automobile than a traction engine. Demonstrations show that it is easily guided and can be turned completely around on ten square feet of ground and run its nose clear up to the fence and turn the corner without shaking a wire.

Soft ground and steep grades are as easy for this machine as the boulevard, and it does not pack the ground, a fault so common in the ordinary traction engine. The engine so closely resembles the automobile, without the fault of the latter in skidding or churning in soft ground, that any man that can run an automobile can run this engine. The present model is a demonstrator only made to be thoroughly worked out. The finished machine will be designed to run the threshing, silo filler, corn husker, plows or any other machinery on the farm. It can also be utilized to haul loaded wagons on any road, good or bad. It is interesting to know that less than one thousand revolutions of the traction chain will take the machine from Barrington to Honey Lake.

Men's Club.

The closing meeting, for the season, of the Barrington Men's club will occur on Monday evening, April 21, at the Baptist church. Rev. G. E. Lockhart will give an address on "European Experiences." Officers for the coming year will also be elected. Following this there will be a social half hour or so during which the Baptist ladies will furnish light refreshments for which there will be a small charge.

The public, as has been the case heretofore, is cordially invited to attend both meetings. This being the last meeting for the season it is hoped there will be a good attendance.

P. O. Stoue has had his place of business redecorated in the interior and it presents a neat and fresh appearance. In line with his policy of keeping everything sanitary and up to date, he has added to his fountain equipment a new electric mixer which will enable him to serve mixed drinks quicker and better.

SUDDEN DEATH OF WM. S. REESE

Barrington Young Man Taken Ill On Train Last Week and Death Occurred at Hospital.

On Tuesday evening of last week as William S. Reese, of North Hawley street, was returning home from his work as machinist at the Allis-Chalmers plant, Chicago, he was taken ill on the train and was obliged to get off at Palestine where he remained at the home of friends over night and was taken to the West Side hospital, Chicago, the next day. Growing worse he died on Monday morning, April 14, at 7:30 o'clock. His mother, Mrs. Mary Reese, and his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Gottschalk and Miss Clara Wentz of Palestine were at his bedside when death came, while he was asking his mother to keep and care for his daughter, Eunice, aged three years.

Two years and a half ago Mr. Reese buried his bride of a year who was Miss Hazel Holmes, daughter of W. W. Holmes of North Hawley street, and since her death he has brooded over his loss, until his final ailment was heart failure induced by worry. He had been feeling weak and sick for two weeks.

Mr. Reese was 29 years old and had been employed with the same company for 11 years. He was a member of the Young Peoples' society of the St. Paul's Evangelical church and was born and raised in this vicinity.

The funeral was held this afternoon at the St. Paul's church at 1:30 o'clock, after a short service at his mother's home. Rev. George Behrens of Chicago conducted the services. Besides his mother and daughter, the members of his family living are Mrs. Carl Ernst of Lake Zurich; Mrs. Edward Ewald; and Mrs. George Behrens of Chicago; Mrs. John Martin, Mrs. William Gottschalk, Mabel Herman, Louis and Elmer Reese of Barrington.

Will Employ Expert Sillman.

A meeting has been called at the Lyric theatre, Libertyville, Illinois, for Saturday, April 19, at 1:30 p. m. when it is hoped that every Lake County farmer who can possibly attend may do so.

Professor Eckhardt will be on hand to talk to the farmers about better farming, the employment of a soil expert to assist in the good work during the season of tillage and to lecture during the closing season to follow. Wherever this plan has been employed it has resulted in better cash returns for farm work, better roads, and a happier life on the old farm; and it seems but fair that Lake county farmers be given an equal chance for life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. All real prosperity must have its foundation in the production of our soils. Whoever causes two ears of corn or two tons of hay to grow where but one had grown is the true benefactor of his fellowmen. For more corn means more wheat, and more hay means more cattle and sheep; and more livestock means more money for the producer, and cheaper food for the consumer.

The officials of the Lake county agricultural society want to do their part and expect that, in the end, it will cost one cent to take part in this good and progressive movement. Let the young attend, it is from them that society is to expect much in the future. Remember the day, Saturday, and the date, the nineteenth of April; the place, Libertyville.

Professor Eckhardt's lecture will be illustrated by use of the magic lantern and you will see "before and after" from scenes in farm fields which were not, but are now, rich in production.

the growth of the Chicago Telephone company. For years the exchange has occupied a small frame structure occupying the present site. Growth of the exchange has been gradual. In 1907 there were 267 subscribers while at the end of the cut over on March 29 of this year the number had increased to 316, showing a gain of approximately 50 per cent in five years. While this does not appear to be a heavy growth yet comparison with other exchanges shows that there are few that showed and the operator knows that both lines are again available for use. Another feature of the new equipment that will save time for the operator and enable her to give closer attention to calls is the automatic "busy-signal" machine. Instead of losing a few seconds waiting the subscriber that the line called for is in use, she will be able to notify him automatically with the busy-signal and to pro-

Chicago, April 14.—George Dietz, owner of a woman's tailoring business at 143 North Wabash avenue, was brutally murdered here Monday in the bedroom of his home, 785 Madison avenue—slain with a stone mason's heavy hammer. The blow was delivered while the victim, who was sixty years old, was sleeping peacefully. He died without awaiting judgment by the competent look upon his face and the folded arms. His skull had been shattered by the weapon.

A crumpled yellow paper, upon which a man, believed to be the murderer, had crudely scrawled an astonishing story of the tragedy—a story of the downfall of a girl, the bitter sorrows of a father and a thirst for revenge—was found beneath the hammer, which the murderer left behind in his flight. GREAT STRIKE IS ON

SUSPENSION OF WORK TIES UP MANY INDUSTRIES IN BELGIUM.

AT LEAST 250,000 ARE OUT

In Some Localities Walkout is Hardly Noticeable—Refusal of Government to Grant Manhood Suffrage Caused Action.

Brussels, April 14.—As planned by the Belgian Socialist trade unions the vast political strike began at dawn here Monday. The first workmen to take part in the movement were the night shifts of the mines and mills throughout the country. They left the various plants in charge of a few caretakers, told off by the Socialist leaders to keep the property from deteriorating.

At least 250,000 men laid down their tools during morning hours. There were numerous exceptions to the general walkout in many districts, however.

The strike is complete in such places as the mining districts, but is scarcely discernible in some localities. In Brussels itself the strike must be looked for in order to be found. Probably one-fourth of the workmen engaged in the suburban factories did not report for work. The Socialist committee here estimated at 11 o'clock that 80,000 men had struck in the capital.

At the great square of Antwerp the strike did not appear until late in the day, and then only affected a part of the dock laborers.

Unlike most strikes, this movement is not for an increase in wages or a betterment of working conditions; it is in protest against the refusal of the government to grant the workers manhood suffrage.

Coal miners, railroad men, glass workers, foundrymen, electricians and dockmen had pledged themselves to obey the summons of the Socialist leaders to make the walkout effective. The suspension of work in the mines in the Chatelet district was complete. The metal workers have only partly quit, but it is understood that late today the remainder will lay down their tools.

The strike at La Louviere was general. All the factories, except a pottery, closed. The strike of motormen and conductors was timed to begin at seven o'clock in the evening, but no attempts were made to cut telegraph wires.

CONFERENCE IN WASHINGTON

Ambassador Chinda Presents the Views of His Government to President Wilson—Situation Has Many Dangerous Possibilities.

Sacramento, Cal., April 17.—The assembly on Tuesday afternoon by the vote of 80 to 16 passed the anti-alien land bill, the object of which is to make impossible the opening of land in California by aliens or by those who have not declared their intention of becoming citizens of the United States. Four attempts were made to amend the measure and all were voted down.

Washington, April 17.—Reports current in Washington for several days that the Japanese government was not satisfied with the attitude of the United States toward the California alien land law controversy were borne out when Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, took up the issue with the president Tuesday.

Despite the optimistic statements that have been given out both from the White House and the state department, a serious clash which may lead beyond the limits of diplomacy appears to be imminent. In the opinion of some of the government officials the Japanese government appears to be anxious to precipitate an acute situation.

Viscount Chinda's call at the White House followed the receipt by him of copies of the proposed California laws from Secretary of State Bryan. The text of these laws was handed to Japan and it is understood that Viscount Chinda received new instructions that neither the laws nor the purpose of this government to have the California amendments to a test in the courts were acceptable to the mikado and this government. These instructions resulted in a hurried appointment with the president.

It is pointed out here by officials interested in the Japanese view that if the United States Supreme court should hold that the federal government has no right to interfere in the affairs of the state of California, Japan would still be obliged to hold to the position taken by her ally, Great Britain, on the question of Panama tolls. This position is that a treaty enactment is paramount to a municipal law. According to this view, no decision of the United States court would be in line with the position of the Japanese and British foreign offices unless it held that the state of California was wrong and that the United States must be wrong.

Beyond this question the situation is full of dangerous possibilities in the opinion of the state department experts. The attitude of Japan toward the United States is to be expected because of the breaking up of the six-power concert in China largely through the machinations of Japan and Russia. These two powers have defeated all the plans of the Knox regime to give the United States a position of strength in the affairs of the far east. Combined, they have practically closed the open door in North China and it is thought that Japan is now willing to take issue seriously with the United States backed by her secret treaty with Russia and her alliance with Great Britain.

LONDON WOMEN BLAST HOUSE

Subtracting Put Explosives in the Beside Home of Member of Parliament.

Hastings, England, April 17.—Military suffragettes destroyed the handsome seaside mansion at St. Leonards-on-Sea Tuesday belonging to Arthur Philip De Croy, Unionist member of parliament for Hastings. The women not only set fire to the house, but placed explosives in many of the rooms. The residence had recently been vacated.

The women adopted a method often used by burglars for entering houses. They first spread papers covered with jam over the window to deaden the sound and then smashed the large panes of glass with hammers, the jam preventing the broken glass from falling.

As soon as the flames were noticed by a passer-by the fire brigade was summoned. The firemen had barely begun their work when a series of explosions occurred.

Ohio Fight Bill Passes. Columbus, O., April 17.—Providing for appointment by the governor of a commission to regulate boxing, a bill introduced by Representative Capelle of Cincinnati was passed by the lower house of the legislature Tuesday.

Shipment of Poles.
A writer in the Electrical Times recently stated that probably the best wood for poles is cedar, but cedar is very scarce. However, on the basis of the test, and generally speaking, cedar timber will be more durable than any other of the softwoods. Cedar poles are of various sizes and are of good and clean.

Expensive Taste.
A woman who tastes in France is said to earn nearly $20,000 a year, as her services are in good demand. Her "taste" means she has selected the proper food, and a half dozen or so have been named for their services. It takes a rare sense of taste to be able to tell a man or a group of what tastes the tongue in just what sort of the world the grapes have grown.

When Froakish April lifts the latch all wit and was consider themselves free to vent their nonsense upon the victims whom they would fool by their tricks. The gay Italian calls this "April fish;" in bonnie Scotland on that day they make merry "hunting the gowk," whilst in England and this country a man can earn a shilling or two by being caught at a disadvantage by the joker who glories in his smartness if he only can make some one look ridiculous. But it is just as well not to be too smart. The boomerang has a wicked habit of coming back. Silly as All Fools' day custom may seem to the solemn, it has an ancient ancestor. Its origin is obscure, but somewhere from the far-off times when those old Romans felt the lit of the vernal equinox, and went out in the morning looking, comes this rollick which still thrills forth its merry ditty in our streets. Deeper still, the calm, contemplative Hindu, for some reason or other, from time immemorial has gone a-footing on the first of April. It was probably from France, whence all things vivacious come, that Europe got the unruly itch for turning this day into a comedy of errors.

A lady, for many years State President of the W. C. T. U., told me she had been greatly benefited by getting coffee and using Postum; she was troubled for years with nervous headache and it was so easy to quit coffee when she found she could have as delicious an article as Postum."

"Another lady who had been troubled with chronic dyspepsia for years, found immediate relief on ceasing coffee and using Postum. Still another friend told me that Postum was a wonderful laxative and that she had been relieved after leaving off coffee and taking Postum."

"The many such cases came to my attention that I concluded coffee was the cause of my trouble and I quit and took up Postum. I am more than pleased to say that my days of trouble have disappeared. I am well and happy."

FINE DESIGNS IN LACE

REALLY PRETTY BLOUSES ARE SHOWN THIS SEASON.

What is Known as "All-over Shadow" Effect is Employed, and the Garments Are Marvellous of Loveliness.

One well-known house is specializing in simple blouses of all-over shadow lace. Just below the bust line, underneath the lace, a wide ribbon surrounds the bodice. Some of the blouses have ribbon of a shade to harmonize with the skirt with which it is to be worn and others have gay colored ribbon, or pale pink, blue or lavender. There is a turn-down collar of black chiffon. The sleeves reach a little below the elbow and are finished with a turn-back cuff of black chiffon. An attractive model of all-over shadow lace had a blouse of fine cream shadow lace with trimmings of rose pink velvet and an ornament of Bulgarian embroidery. The flat turn-down collar is of velvet and a touch of velvet appears at the lower part of the elbow sleeve. Finishing the lower part of the collar or revers is an ornament of Bulgarian embroidery underneath which falls a jabot of soft cream shadow lace. A frill of the shadow lace also edges the sleeves. There is a vest or gimp of cream net.

Bulgarian embroidery plays an important part in the trimming of the lingerie blouse this spring and wonderful color schemes are obtained by these embroideries. One blouse was of cream colored velvet trimmed with Bulgarian embroidery. The sailor collar, revers and deep shaped cuffs were trimmed with the colored embroidery. The fronts opened over a vest of fine cream net trimmed with a row of colored glass buttons.

Another blouse was of fine batiste of simple design, with large, flat turn-down collar embroidered about the edges with beautifully colored Bulgarian embroidery. The front of the blouse and cuffs were trimmed with the colored glass buttons.

One important firm makes blouses of taffeta for tailored wear, to match any suit. The blouse has a turn-down collar of creamy batiste, embroidered and trimmed about the edge with a narrow frill of lace. The long sleeves are also trimmed with the lingerie, cuffs lace trimmed.

Tailored lingerie blouses for street and outing wear are on sale now by the thousand. Many of these have the Directorate collar of the turn-down

WORE BLUE AT THE ALTAR

Charming Costume in Which Widow Took New Matrimonial Vows at Recent Wedding.

Not long ago there was much restriction of color about the bridal dress of a widow, but this waning year has seen many changes in that respect. A very handsome and charming widow bride wore palest blue, with hat to match, and many plumes of the same soft tint. Another wore blue and color, and looked fascinating with a silk embroidered tunic to match it in hue. Her black velvet hat was crowned with gold and yellow feathers. Short while ago the widow of a well-known man wore make color on the occasion of her second marriage.

The gown was charmesse, the long trained skirt bordered with dark brown fur, and some beautiful antique Brussels lace trimmed the corsage and formed each end. To complete the harmony of the toilet the brown velvet hat was exactly matched her sable stole. There is really no reason that the bride of widows should not show almost any color except perhaps white and very light cream, and, of course, black.

New Trimmings.

Many of the afternoon gowns appear to have been made of chine and organ gowns.

Costly models of the latest made upon empire lines have often trimmed with clever and beautiful combinations.

There is a Bohemian collar buttoned to the blouse at the corners with small jet buttons. The blouse is fastened at the front with small square jet buttons and jet buttons trim the cuffs. There is a four-in-hand tie of dark fuchsia red.

NEW IDEAS IN VANITY BOXES

Article Has Become Practically Indispensable, and Many Quaint Designs Are Offered.

The vanity box has become so much a part of a woman's outfit that the manufacturers are discovering many odd ways for her to carry it.

To take one's powder puff and lip rouge from one's handbag has become commonplace; now a woman can tuck these in her bracelet. One of the new kind has flexible links of gold wire, with the vanity box on top in the shape of an oval medallion with a handsome monogram.

Or she can wear it round her neck as a sautoir. Fascinating vanity pendants are shown of all styles and prices, from tiny ones of French jewelry to diamond studded boxes no bigger than a child's locket. Among the most popular of the vanity cases for the neck are those of colored Russian enamel on a linked chain to match.

Again, one may carry a vanity box on the end of the parasol, or as the head of a big batpin, disguised as a charm for her chain, or even set in one of the big buttons that ornament her corset garter. One girl, who wore a watch on the back of one riding glove, had set in the other a small vanity box ready for instant use when she dismounted. Another girl has a similar case in the end of her crop.

The new opera bags include a vanity box and those that do not may be supplied with them by small pockets sewed to the interior of them.

Boudoir Gowns.

There are boudoir gowns of all-over embroidery over slips of silk, and some of these are trimmed with Irish lace which is always especially beautiful in combination with crystal and brocade. Delicate colors are selected for lining such negligees, and in fact, bright hues of any sort are taboed in lingerie or negligee wear of distinction. Pastel pink, the palest baby blue and equally pale lavender and yellow, are used for linings and ribbons in the French gowns, and only cheap ready-made underwear shows vivid blue and pink ribbons. Just now, there is a fad for black velvet ribbon in lingerie beadings. It is rather amazing to see tulle-trousers garments made with black velvet and bearing black velvet rosettes and shower-bows.

Linen Economy.

For the woman who has no maid or who has a small apartment and does her own laundry work, a great deal of labor may be saved by using paper napkins instead of linen ones, when there are no guests present. The laundering of napkins takes quite a little time and care and one might just as well have that time for a bit of rest or reading. Paper towels, too, have been made quite practical and especially where there are children will also be found a great labor saving device.

Clothes Basket.

A basket with a partition is very convenient for keeping the white from the colored clothes or stockings, or starched clothes from the unstarched, writes a contributor to the Woman's Home Companion. The division may also be used for clotheing. In our first basket we wore the partition of a heavy white cord.

A BOY INTERPRETER

A Young Massachusetts Boy in Canada Twenty Years Ago Wants to Return.

Twenty years ago, a blond-haired young Swede, a boy of about 10 years of age, accompanied a party of his father and mother on the then long trip to Western Canada as an interpreter. The party he accompanied located at Wetaskiwin, Alberta, now one of the most thriving and best settled cities in Western Canada. For three years he remained in the district. Homesickness took him back to his home at Pittsburgh, Mass., and he has remained there for 17 years. He has heard frequently from his friends in the West. He has followed their movements and watched their progress. He has heard how the town he helped to establish has risen from a shack to a growing, thriving, brisk business center, with the surrounding country peopled now by thousands who are coming to the territory in which he was one of the first to help plant the colony of twenty or twenty-five. In his letter to an official of the Department of the Interior he says:

"When I was up in Canada, Calgary was a small town and so was Edmonton, but I understand they have grown wonderfully since."

The young man, when he went last learned a machine trade, he has patents and inventions but he wants to go to Canada again. And he likely will, but when he does he will find a greater chance than he may expect. Calgary and Edmonton are large cities, showing marvelous and wonderful growth. Where but one of the railway made a somewhat tortuous and indefinite way across the plains to its mountain pass, there are three of its railway dividing the trade of hundreds of thousands of farmers, carrying freight to the hundreds of towns and cities crossing and criss-crossing the prairies in all directions, reaching out into new settlements, and preceding districts to be newly opened for incoming settlers. He will not be able to secure a homestead unless at a considerable distance from the town, the three dollar an acre land is selling at from $15 to $35 an acre. He will find now what was but a theory then, that this land that was then $1 an acre is worth the $10 or $25 that may be asked for it, and a good deal more. But he will find that he can secure a homestead just as good as any that were taken in his day, and today worth $35 an acre, but at some distance from a line of railway, yet with a certainty of railway in the near future, and he will find that he can still get land at $15 to $18 an acre that will in a year or two be worth $30 or $35 an acre. Mr. Mossman is talking to his countrymen about Canada. Advertisement.

If We Saw the Beyond.

Now I do not for a moment believe that if those mysterious portals were flung wide, and we could see without hindrance all the secrets of the great beyond, we should necessarily be either wiser or happier. On the contrary, the probability is that, average human nature being what it is, sacred realities would be degraded to the ordinary level of the commonplace. In course in this world; in our knowledge of life we cannot rise above what we are. What is wanted is a certain quality of life itself which will enable us to feel the assurance of the nearness and sweetness of the best and highest in the eternal kingdom of love.

PIMPLES COVERED FACE

1613 Dayton St., Chicago, Ill.—"My face was very red and irritated and was covered with pimples. The pimples fostered and came to a head. They itched and burned and when I scratched them became sore. I tried soap and they would not stop the itching and burning of the skin. This lasted for a month or more. At last I tried Cuticura Ointment and Soap. They took out the burning and itching of the skin, soothing it very much and giving the relief that the others failed to give me. I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment about three weeks and was completely cured." (Signed) Miss Clara Mueller, Mar. 18, 1915.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston." Adv.
