VOLUME 25, NUMBER 34

BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS, THURSDAY, AUGUST 21, 1913

$1.50 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE

TEN DAY RELIGIOUS MEETINGS TO BEGIN

Tomorrow Evening The First Service—To Continue All Through Next Week.

Barrington Park campmeeting has a strong program for this year, and beginning with tomorrow evening, when Rev. F. W. Landwehr of Chicago will preach the first sermon of the campmeeting, there will be a continuous array of talent. Services for each day begin at 9:00 o'clock in the morning. At which time the ministers have a retreat; at 10:00 o'clock is fellowship meeting; and at 10:30 the bible school which opens on Monday morning. Saturday is "Young People's Day," and encouraging news of many young people coming for that day has been received. Rev. F. Black of Deerfield will preach at 10:30 a. m. At 1:30 p. m. there will be a children's meeting under leadership of Mrs. H. F. Oakes, and at 2:45 the rally program begins. Professor H. B. Rasmussen is the principal speaker. He was president of Northwestern college for a number of years and is a delightful speaker. In the evening Rev. H. W. Lambert of Chicago preaches.

On Sunday morning at 10:00 o'clock Rev. C. A. Fueselle speaks in German, and presiding elder Rev. B. R. Schultze speaks in English, and in connection with that service the Lord's supper will be celebrated, to which all Christians without distinction of name or class are welcome and are invited to take part. At 1:30 the Sunday school meets under the leadership of George Stilleboer and J. C. Piange, superintendent.

Billioners on Sunday.
At 2:45 Evangelist P. P. Bilbore of Chicago speaks. He is a man of force and power in the pulpit. Conferred years ago through the prayer of his mother who whispered Peter's name in her devotions at night just when her wayward son slid past her bedroom, he dedicated himself to God for service, and has been busy ever since in filling dates in our country's most prominent cities as well as in Europe. His main strength to sway his audience lies in his remarkable power of song, most accompanying himself by use of the organ. The printed page as well as private letters bear strong testimony of his extraordinary success. This will be Mr. Bilbore's first season in Barrington and the people will want to hear him. The "Peculiar Herald-Transcript" has this to say of him: "Peter P. Bilbore, the sweetest singer, famed the world over for his songs, opened the twenty-first annual convention at the First Congregational church Friday, again singing himself right to the hearts of 'Pecorians' who have long loved him for his singings and his splendid personality."

SOME OF THE COTTAGES.

Other parts of the meetings are: Sunday evening the Keystone League of Christian Endeavor will be led by Rev. G. A. Walter of Ashton. Monday afternoon at 2:30, sermon by Rev. G. S. Smith of Aurora formerly presiding elder in the Platte River conference. Rev. C. G. Unangt will speak Wednesday evening. Several appointments for Tuesday and Wednesday will be made. Thursday evening Bishop U. F. Swengel is expected to preach his first sermon at this campmeeting this year. He was so well liked two years ago that the committee invited him to come again this year, and he will remain until the close of the meetings.

Admission is free to all the meetings and there is no gate fee. Sunday morning and afternoon free-will offerings will be taken.

Edward Malloux and family, who have been residing on the Holbrook farm south of town, moved into this village last week and are living on North Hawley street.

MEMBERSHIP GROWING RAPIDLY

Great Interest Being Shown In "Farm Doctor" Movement—Expect Expert Next Month.

The membership of the farm improvement association that is being organized under the auspices of the Lake County Agricultural board, is growing so rapidly that it is expected a farm expert will be at work among the farmers some time next month. Stanley F. Morse, the organizer who is busy every day in one township or another, reports unusual interest. In this movement throughout the country. While an effort is being made to see a large proportion of the farmers personally, it will not be possible for him to call on every farmer in the county. Any farmer who wishes to become a member of the association should secure an application card from one of the committeemen in his township and fill it out. Cards may be obtained by writing to Stanley F. Morse, Libertyville, or from the following names in the various townships: Antioch, Chas. Webb; Avon, E. F. Shanks; Benton, H. W. Perry; Cuba, Fred Kirschner; East Deerfield, John Duffy; West Deerfield, John Carolan; Elia, August Schermerman; Fremont, R. F. Rouse; Grant, Orley Howard; Lake Villa, John Stratton; Libertyville, Paul MacCliff; Newport, Jas. G. Welch; Shiloh, John Griffin; Vernon, John E. Barrett; Warren, Leslie Boner; Wauconda, G. D. Stroker; Waukegan, W. B. Smith.

It should be understood that anyone is eligible to join this organization; need not own land, tenants, business and professional men have already joined, each pledging himself to pay a membership fee of from $2 to $100 per year. The association is being financed on a three year basis, each member guaranteeing his support for that period. The "farm doctor" or county adviser will be retained under a three year contract which will require him to give his entire time to the county. Every farmer who would like to have this expert visit his farm is urged to join without delay. The expert answers the farmers' calls in about the order in which they are received—first come, first served. Everybody should "get into the band wagon" and help "push a good thing along."

Celebrate Eleventh Anniversary.
The eleventh anniversary meeting of Barrington lodge I. O. O. F. held last Thursday evening proved a most enjoyable occasion. There was a large delegation present from Elgin while Pauline and Wauconda furnished the number of representatives. The talks of the evening were given by Grand Warden Pease of Harvey, Brothers W. B. Shales, F. L. Wolaver and Secretary Rowland of Kane lodge, Elgin, and Bros. Kuebler and Smith of Palatine. It was just such a time as progressive Odd Fellows have when they come to Barrington.

Tovar hotel, costing a quarter million dollars and built by Harvey, is supplied by water from a spring 60 miles distant.

LETTER FROM FORMER RESIDENT

Mrs. Sarah Howarth Writes From "Sunny California" to Her Many Friends in This Village.

Los Angeles, California, August 11, 1913.

Editor of Review:
I left Los Angeles, August 5, for a few days visit at the Grand Canyon of the Colorado river which is in the center of a chain 13 miles wide, one mile deep and 217 miles long. We all took carriage rides around the rim for miles and in some places we could see the river which looked very narrow but is 200 feet wide and quite turbulent with a muddy color.

Many miles down the trail, a trip of seven miles around to get one mile down and takes one day. "No pen or picture can do justice to this world wonder, the Grand Canyon of Arizona. It has to be seen to be appreciated. One mile deep filled with gigantic structures, everything distinct by itself, in shapes of castles and temples, all named and pointed out by the guides. They are all deeply colored in red, blue, green, pink and yellow and over all a deep blue haze which gives an appearance of having been carved by mechanics and by artists. The wall meets the horizon as though it marked the end of the world and the upper tier of white marble is like lace work against the sky.

It is the first view that makes the beholder gasp and many are quite overcome and all look with wonder and silence. I could not help thinking of what the old Spanish explorers thought, 400 years ago, when without a moment's warning they should stumble upon a scene like this.

As we sat in our hotel in the evening, surrounded by everything that goes to make life pleasant, writing to our friends and realizing that only a few feet away lay that awful chasm as deep as the ocean and as silent as the stars it seemed to me that the light structures should be ablaze with lights for they look to have many windows.

It was well worth the 400 mile trip through the desert on the Santa Fe, taking a day and a night each way in 110 degrees of heat. You could hear many people say it was the grandest sight they had ever seen and one young lady said she was willing to give up a year of her life for the privilege of seeing the grandest wonder in the world. One lady said that the great creative force, in building this wonderful work of nature, left it incomplete inasmuch as it gave us no words to express its magnitude and grandeur. Three hours before we left there was a storm in the canyon. It was the first thunder I had heard and the first lightning I had seen since leaving Barrington, July 1, 1912. The sun was shining in one part of the canyon while the storm raged in another. I was glad to see it in so many phases but those who live there say its changes are wonderfully beautiful and never the same.

COUNTRY SCHOOLS SOCIAL CENTERS

Cook County Schools Will Be Model For World—Fire Experts Will Lead Work.

An organized effort is under way to make the 130 one-and-two-room rural school houses in Cook county the centers of the whole rural life of the community. The schools have been divided into five sections with an expert bearing the title of school and rural life director at the head of each. These men are trained and successful teachers, and usually graduates of some agricultural college, and possess the qualities of social leadership. Each will receive a salary of $2,000 a year, paid out of the county treasury, and will be on duty the year round, regardless of school vacations.

Barrington, Palatine, Hanover, Elk Grove and Schaumburg townships are in the third division and have as director Eugene M. Phillips, who has been a teacher of domestic science in the La Grange high school. Mr. Phillips is now completing a special course at the agricultural college of the University of Wisconsin, with a view of gaining special knowledge on the subject of dairy farming, which is the principal industry of this district.

A seed corn testing club will be one of the first features. In the spring acreage club will be formed. The father of each boy will be asked to allot an acre of good land to his son, the ordering, planting, cultivating and harvesting to be done by the boy himself, under the direction of the school and rural life director.

Book learning will not be neglected and old fashioned spelling bees will be as important feature while special attention will be given to the "three R's" and all common school studies. The idea back of the whole movement is to teach the children that useful achievement is the end and object of education.

NEWS OF THE FARM AND DAIRY

Notes of Comment and Interest to Local Agriculturalists and Milk Producers.

Saturday a committee of the Lake county board of supervisors will meet at Libertyville to select candidates for county commissioner of highways and to designate roads on which state aid will be asked.

Milk producers of Gilberts, at a meeting Saturday night, voted to sell their winter supply to the National Milk Producers' association at $2.05 per one hundred pounds, five cents more than the Milk Producers' association will demand. The offer was made by the company.

The potato crop in Lake county and all over the country is said to be suffering from the ravages of a small insect heretofore unknown. Many potato raisers have attributed the trouble to blight, the potato vines having all appearances of that disease. It is estimated that 50 per cent curtailment of the tuber crop will result from the insect this year in this vicinity.

Stanley F. Morse, who is organizing the Lake county crop improvement society, spent yesterday among the farmers of Cubota township, accompanied by Supervisor Fred Kirschner. They secured about 25 members to the association in this township. Mr. Morse expects to be here again one day next week and complete the canvass of the county. It is the plan to secure about 40 members in each township. In all 700 members are wanted throughout the county and about 400 are now pledged. Mr. Morse will get as many more as possible during the next two weeks and expects to complete the enrollment during the week of the Libertyville fair. He says the farmers apparently realize the importance of the movement and appreciate its value to them, and he is having little difficulty in securing their pledges. The plan has been tried out with much success to nearby counties and its practicability is undoubted.

VISIT NEARBY FARMS.

Farmers Institution Workers Call On Local Agriculturalists.

Tuesday afternoon a party of nearly 100 farmers institute workers and agricultural college men from all over the country came to Barrington and made an automobile tour of inspection to some of the large farms in this vicinity. These men are in conference at the Hotel Sherman, Chicago, this week, the Universal Portland Cement company paying the expenses of the six days meetings, and each day they plan to visit modern farms in the vicinity of Chicago.

Tuesday morning they went to Lake Forest by train where they were met by automobiles, most of the machines being from this village, and taken to Arden farm, owned by Arthur Meeker, and Hawthorne farm, owned by Samuel Insull. Leaving there they drove to Barrington, arriving here for luncheon which was served at the Baptist church by the ladies of the Dorcas society. There was 115 in the party, which included, besides the farmers institute men, several newspaper men and representatives of the cement company. All were served in a most satisfactory manner, the meal of fried chicken, mashed potatoes and corn on the cob being supplemented by some of the excellent buttermilk and ice cream of the Hawthorne Farms company brand.

After dinner the party drove first to the farm of Spencer Otis, Jr., and then to the Hartwood farms, owned by H. Stillson Hart, the Wakefield farm, owned by G. E. VanHagen, the Hawthorne North and East farms, owned by Spencer Otis and last to R. R. Hammond's farm.

Real Estate Transfers.
