CELEBRATE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY HERE

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Lytle, Residents of this Village, Wedded Half a Century.

A very delightful social event occurred on Monday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Emily Hawley on Grove avenue, being the observance of the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Lytle. The day proved propitious and the house was filled with guests. The bride and groom of fifty years were the happy recipients of many hearty congratulations at having rounded out half a century of happy wedded life.

Judging from their appearance one would say that there were yet in store for them many added years of life. Mr. and Mrs. Lytle have made friends wherever they have been and have been blessed with children and grandchildren who are glad to show them honor.

It was evident from the number of good pictures and other articles of value on the table that the guests meant to glorify their presence in the proper and substantial way and this they did with very gratifying results. There was no formal program but everyone seemed glad of the opportunity offered for social reunion and genial fellowship.

Delightful refreshments were served by the hostess of the occasion, Mrs. Hawley, and those who were favored with an invitation to be present felt that they had enjoyed one of the rare occasions of life.

Mr. and Mrs. Lytle were the parents of five children, Mrs. Emily Hawley and Charles Lytle of Barrington, Mrs. A. G. Smith of Palatine, Dr. Charles Lytle of New York and W. A. Lytle of Libertyville. There are fifteen grandchildren.

Mr. Lytle has retired from active business life and is living quietly with his honored wife in his home on Hough and Russel streets, where they are always glad to see their friends.

Following is a list of guests who were present on Monday afternoon:

Mr. and Mrs. William Harlow and Orin Harlow Vesper of Kansas; Mr. and Mrs. Christensen and Mr. and Mrs. Amos Wortman of Sheridan; Mrs. James Cooper Grinstead, Kansas; Mrs. Annie Yant and daughter, Dr. Moines, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. James Raby, Downers Grove; Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Jones, Rockefeller; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bennett, W. Odstock; Mrs. C. S. Cutting, Austin; Medsames W. N. Julian, Charles Holton, Irving Park, Mrs. and Mrs. A. G. Smith and children, Palatine; Mr. and Mrs. George Lytle and children, Libertyville; C. W. Lytle, Mrs. Emily Hawley, Fred Hawley, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Matson, Madam Amelia Colby, Addie Lince, Addie Johnson, Hannah Powers, McCauley, C. O. Winter, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. John Robertson, Mrs. John Page and Miss Eva Castle of this village.

Others besides the forty-eight here mentioned were invited but could not be present.

Need Not Remove Loose Coins.

Rural letter carriers are not required to take loose coins from letter boxes, the money must be enclosed in an envelope, wrapped securely in paper or deposited in a coin holding receptacle so that it can be easily and quickly taken from the boxes, so Fourth assistant Postmaster-General James Blakeslee has ruled.

Action regarding the matter was taken by the delegates attending the Illinois rural carrier's convention held in Aurora a few weeks ago. They endorse the ruling.

"Carriers who lift coins not enclosed, wrapped or deposited will do so purely as a matter of accommodation and not by any direction or requirement of the department," the postal officer says.

Deputy County Coroner Here.

David J. Gillespie, deputy Cook county coroner, came to Barrington this morning to complete the inquiry into the death of Frederick Tippel, who was found as E. J. & E. train two weeks ago and died soon afterwards.

Mr. Gillespie was here August 29 and impaneled a jury, but was obliged to continue the case because the witnesses could not be secured at that time. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death yesterday, entirely exonerating the railroad company from blame.

Farmers Cutting Corn.

In this vicinity commenced cutting their corn this week. The early corn is ripe and the hot, dry weather of the past few weeks makes it necessary to harvest it at once. The late corn will also have to be cut soon, farmers say, unless a good rain comes to prevent it from withering.

O'SHAUGHNESSY SAYS MEXICO'S HEAD MAY BE IN RACE.

Trevino Slated for Minister of War Instead of President, as Was Supposed.

Washington, Sept. 9.—Two phases of the Mexican situation attracted much attention in official circles Sunday.

One was the published disclaimer of Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American chargé d'affaires at Mexico City, that any positive assurances had been given him of the intention of Victoriano Huerta to make a candidate in the approaching elections.

The other was the receipt of private telegrams stating that Gen. Gerónimo Trevino would be made minister of war soon to succeed General Blanquet. It had been generally supposed here that Trevino was ordered back to Mexico City by Huerta to be given the reins of the government as provisional president, while Huerta entered the presidential campaign.

TARIFF BILL PASSES

ADMINISTRATION MEASURE WINS IN SENATE BY VOTE OF 44 TO 37.

ACT NOW GOES TO THE HOUSE

Two Democrats of Louisiana Cast Ballot Against Act—La Follette and Poindexter for It—Conferees Named by Vice-President Marshall.

Washington, Sept. 11.—The Underwood-Simmons tariff bill passed the senate on Tuesday by 44 to 37.

Senators Thornton and Ransdell of Louisiana were the only Democrats to vote against the bill, while Senator Poindexter, Progressive, and Senator La Follette, Republican, voted for the measure. Senator Lewis was paired with Senator Poindexter, but announced that he intended to vote for the bill anyway, and did so.

Vice-President Marshall announced as conference on the bill Senators Simmons, Shively, Johnson and Williams, Democrats; Penrose, Lodge and La Follette, Republicans.

The conference would be completed within two weeks, and the measure would be signed by President Wilson before October 1.

Among the articles placed on the free list were raw wool and sugar at the end of three years; cattle, sheep, meats, wheat, flour, print paper valued at less than 2½ cents a pound, wood pulp, iron, steel, iron pipe, photographic and moving picture film, glass, steel rods, cast iron, milk and cream, flour, groceries, laundry, hemp, oats, eggs, corn, cornmeal, wash registers, sewing machines, type setting machines, lumber and hair of the angora goat.

The Senate placed in a bill a tax on cotton futures, aimed to prevent gambling.

In the chemical schedule the Senate had made a great number of amendments, some of which increased being equally voted, divided in the glass and earthen ware schedule, cement, upon which the house placed a duty of five per cent ad valorem, placed on the free list.

The house had a duty of eight per cent on pig iron, and the Senate put it on the free list. The house also had a duty of eight per cent on iron slabs, steel, etc., and the Senate added them to the free list. The Senate reduced the duty of automotives valued at less than $1,500. It also reduced the duty on motorcycles from 40 per cent ad valorem to 25 per cent.

In the agricultural schedule, the Senate tax listed cattle and sheep, which the house taxed ten per cent ad valorem. It reduced the duties on oats from ten cents a bushel, the house rate, to six cents. It reduced the duty on wheat from 15 cents a bushel to five cents per cent ad valorem; it reduced the duty on pean from fifteen cents to ten cents a bushel, and it placed wheat, which the house had taxed at ten cents a bushel, on the free list. The Senate placed a duty of one-tenth of one cent a pound on bananas. The Senate placed a tax of $1.10 per gallon on brocade used in the manufacture of women's hats.

The senators denounced the emptiness of Japanese diplomacy in connection with California and China, and insisted the insult to the Japanese flag at Nanking should be wiped out. The manifesto was clearly an expression of popular resentment against the ministry in its treatment of the California and Chinese questions.

Profiting by the lessons of riots which followed the conclusion of peace between Russia and Japan, the government refused to ride in the same car, refusing to allow a single soldier or policeman at the scene. The manifesto, many of whom were students, were orderly during the early part of the proceedings.

A score of agitators, including a girl, declared Japanese diplomacy and declared it had never contributed to the upbuilding of the empire and had always ended in failure. The incident in China were unbearable.

Sudden was the cry to march on the foreign office, and the rank and file of the army, a rank and file, were all in the same stampede. Many persons barely escaping being crushed in the sea and that several hundred perished. The gale is reported to have swept past both Ocracoke and Portsmouth. The crowds surged through the streets, headed by the gesticulating leaders, and reached the foreign office to find the high iron gates were locked.

Scores of the demonstrators pounded on the gates and called for them to be opened, but in vain. The underofficer refused. A delegation was appointed, the members of which climbed the gates, and then ensued a long parley.

Meanwhile the crowd was cheerful but determined. It showered compliments on a beautiful geisha girl struggling in a jiribaka, but angrily stoned a photographer seeking to take snapshots of the chief delegate, who, having returned, mounted the portals to report progress. Perched unsteadily on the pikes he made a fantastic posture, and in hand a large gong, which he struck to the delight of the spectators.

"We told the officials," he shouted, "the voice of the people speaks, that the agitation will never end until our demands are granted."

President Wilson issued the following statement:

"A fight for the people and for free speech, which has lasted a long generation through has at last won, handsomely and completely. A leadership and a steadfastness in counsel has been shown in both houses of which the Democratic party has reason to be very proud. I am happy to have been connected with the government at this time."

Had No Use for It.

A little girl came down to dessert at a dinner party, and sat next to her mother. The lady was much occupied in talking to her neighbors and omitted to give the child anything to eat. After some time the little girl began to bear it longer, with sobs rising in her throat, held up her plate and said: "Does anybody want a clean plate?"

WATERY BLISTERS ON FACE

Smithville, Ind.—Six months ago our baby girl, one year old, had a few red pimpls on her face which gradually spread causing her to become very irritated and a fiery red color. The pimpls on the child's face were at first small watery blisters, just a small blotch on the skin. She kept scratching at this until in a few days her whole cheeks were fiery red color and instead of the little blisters she was cracked and scaly looking and seemed to itch and burn very much.

"We used a number of remedies which seemed to give relief for a short time then leave her face worse than ever. Finally we got a can of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. I washed the child's face with very warm water and Cuticura Soap, then applied the Cuticura Ointment very carefully. After doing this the blisters disappeared in three or four days. The face seemed well. That was eight months ago and there has been no return of the trouble." (Signed) Mrs. A. K. Wooden, Nov. 4, 1912.

Wall From French Jurymen.

In France, as well as in England, jurymen have their grievances. The latest can easily be remedied. The French minister of justice has received an address signed by citizens figuring on the Paris jury lists, protesting the way in which they have to sit. They point out that it is tired of looking at the judges, counsel, witnesses and other parties to a suit—turn their eyes upon the walls, nothing as an inarticulate paper meets their gaze.

In order to relieve this deadly monotony they beg that a print of Prudhon's famous picture, "Justice in Pursuit of Crime," may be hung in each courtroom.

Banana Eaters.

Americans used to be called a nation of pie eaters. Today a more appropriate term would be a nation of banana eaters. The United States takes more than two-thirds of the world's supply shipped to the hands in the world.

Part of this pre-eminence in banana consumption is due to geography; the source of supply on the Caribbean is almost at our doors. Part is due to accident; a Boston skipper introduced the American public to this tropical fruit while it was still unknown in Europe. What a difference one may choose to have, the United States is the world's chief banana market, and though the use of this fruit is increasing abroad, the American boy remains the Jamaica grower's best friend.

And She Has Been Warned.

"Men and alike. They're deceitful and selfish."

"How do you know?"

"A married friend of mine told me so and warned me against all of them."

"But you're going to marry Fred."

"Of course I am. He's different."

THE DOCTOR'S GIFT

Food Worth Its Weight in Gold.

We usually expect the doctor to put us on some kind of penance and give us an expensive diet.

A Paris doctor brought a patient something entirely different and the results are truly interesting.

"Two years ago," writes this physician, "I treated a female victim of acute indigestion and biliousness, being allowed to eat very few things. One day our family doctor brought me a small package, saying he had found something for her case."

"What did it?" we asked.

"It was a food called Grape-Nuts and even as its golden color might suggest it was worth its weight in gold. I was sick and tired, trying one thing after another to eat, but one thing after another was bad for me."

"Well!" it surprised my doctor's fondest anticipation and every day since then I have blessed the good doctor and the inventor of Grape-Nuts.

"I noticed improvement at once and in a month's time my former self had disappeared. In two months I was well again. My mind was much clearer and keener, my body took on the vitality of youth, and this condition has continued."

"There's a reason." (Signed) Fred. M. Read.

PLAN STATEWIDE FIGHT ON DISEASE

Leagues Formed for the Suppression of Tuberculosis.

ELEVEN COUNTIES ORGANIZE

Bodies Are Established Through the Efforts of Miss Harriet Fulmer, Extension Secretary of State Association.

Springfield.—A forward movement in Illinois' anti-tuberculosis work is marked by the statewide organization of county anti-tuberculosis leagues. By the efforts of Miss Harriet Fulmer, extension secretary of the Illinois State Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, eleven counties have during the past two months established leagues for the suppression of tuberculosis. These are:

Morgan County—President, Dr. O. T. Hickey; Jacksonville—secretary, Miss Alice Stipe; Cairo—secretary, Green County—President, Dr. A. W. Foreman, White Hall—secretary, Charles Bradshaw, Carrollton.

Calhoun County—President, Rev. Father Hickory Hardin; secretary, Mrs. Little Greathorns Hardin.

Pike County—President, J. A. Allen, mayor of Pittsfield; secretary, Mrs. Ella Orr, Pittsfield.

Brown County—President, Mrs. Eugenia Curry, Mt. Sterling; secretary, Dr. R. C. Porter, Mt. Sterling.

Cass County—President, Henry Jacobs, superintendent of schools, Vinton; secretary, Miss Ada Glen, Albia.

Scott County—President, W. D. Gibbs, Winchester; secretary, Mrs. T. W. Dace, Winchester.

Richland County—President, Mrs. R. McCauley; Olney; secretary, Miss Rose Johnson, Olney.

Monroe County—President, R. E. Bone, Rock Creek; secretary, John L. Lanning, Petersburg.

Jersey County—Organization not completed, president, Judge H. W. Fonge, Jerseyville; secretary, Miss Grace Enos, Jerseyville.

Madison County—Organization not completed, president, Mr. Warren Melby, Mason City; secretary, Mrs. McFarland, Havana.

Previous to the middle of June there were seventeen local anti-tuberculosis societies in Illinois and seven county societies, but there were on September 1, nineteen anti-tuberculosis leagues in the campaign with county organizations.

As this work grows, its efficiency will require a dispensary where patients and nurses may the more readily be brought together; a successful dispensary will soon call for provisions to meet the needs of the anti-tuberculosis sanatoria and hospitals will become a natural sequence. In this way as pointed out by anti-tuberculosis associations, each step is taken when demanded and a community may not become burdened with an organization or institution for which it has no need or is unprepared.

Veterans Old Encampment.

The Southern Illinois Soldiers and Sailors' Reunion association closed a three day's session at Johnston City. The intense heat beat down the attendance.

Morris, Anna; officer of the day, Capt. Moses Martin; quartermaster, Capt. J. N. Saunders, Marion; adjt. to the adjt., Capt. E. J. Ingersoll, Carbondale.

Change in School Heads.—A number of changes in city school superintendencies have been listed by State Superintendent Francis G. Blair and are announced by him through the department organ, the Bulletin.

Furr of Jacksonville, elected supervisor of the training department of the southern Illinois Normal university; Jacksonville, succeeds W. A. Furr as city superintendent.

Lickey in Post Office Inspector.

Postmaster Harry B. Ward has been succeeded in that office. Vic Lickey of Chicago has been appointed post office inspector for the southern Illinois district, with headquarters at Centralia, succeeding Inspector James, who recently retired.

He has assumed his new duties and is being temporarily assisted by Ray H. Hilleck of Mount Vernon, the other southern Illinois post office inspector.

Decorations at Fair Grounds.

The state fair this year will appear more brilliant than ever. For the first time in the history of the "Greatest Fair on Earth," the dome building will be decorated from the topmost point to the bottom, in a manner that promises to surpass any former attempt to beautify the various buildings on the grounds during the exhibition.

This year the contract for the decorating of the buildings has been awarded by the state board of agriculture to a Springfield firm, the Queen City Decorators, a company that has established a reputation for this class of work in many cities of the United States, and which has extended its activities as far as Havana, Cuba. Following the awarding of the contract, the board of agriculture appointed E. M. Pickard, chief decorator for the state fair in 1918. Mr. Johnson, general manager of the company, stated that the contract for the work is the largest that has been let since the state fair was started.

The accompanying picture will give the reader an idea of how the College of Agriculture's dome building, about thirty of them, completed the work, which is to be started about September 20. The color scheme and large number of American flags will double the attractiveness of the building.

State-wide interest is being manifested in the fraternal parade and competitive drill to be held in the city as a feature of the carnival during state fair week.

Elmer Gard, who has charge of this year's carnival states that he has received word from the state that he will be represented here in both the parade and drill. The Woodmen of the World plan to attend, although they have not definitely decided.

The Elks, Hunted and Elated, battalion will march in the parade on fraternal society night.

Plan Old Soldiers' Day.

Hon. J. T. Montgomery, the president of the Illinois state board of agriculture, is making an effort to make Old Soldiers' day at the coming state fair in keeping with the patriotic sentiment of Illinois and worthy of the splendid men that made such brilliant record for the state during the Civil and Spanish-American wars.

The secretary of the state fair, Hon. J. K. Dickinson, is an old soldier, and in the past will spare no effort to provide every convenience and comfort for the veterans on Old Soldiers' day, which, for 1913, has been given the best day of the exposition, Wednesday, October 10.

President Montgomery has appointed a committee of the state board of agriculture consisting of old soldiers to co-operate with a committee appointed by Commander Jones of the Stephenson post of this city in perfecting arrangements for the reunion of the veterans of the Civil and Spanish-American wars on Old Soldiers' day of the coming state fair.

The old soldiers' committee of the board of agriculture consists of J. K. Hopkins, John S. Culp, C. F. Dilke, Martin Conrad and Hon. J. K. Dickinson.

The committee of old soldiers appointed by Stephenson post consists of Capt. C. C. Jones, commander; Colonel James A. Crowley; Colonel S. B. Inman; Colonel Edward S. Johnson; Colonel Lincoln Dubois and Colonel Charles F. Mills.

The committee of old soldiers appointed for Old Soldiers' day at the state fair arranged the following exercises to be held in the grand stand that will be provided for the Grand Army of the Republic headquarters to be located near the dome building on the state fair grounds.

The old soldiers will march from their tent to the grand stand at 10:45 a. m., October 8, under the escort of the members of the state board of agriculture, following a band and a platoon of police.

The exercises will be as follows:

At 10:45 a. m. the bugler will blow.

After the invocation at the grand stand, by Comrade Gabron, the chairman of the day, will speak.

Hon. James A. Montgomery, the president of the Illinois state board of agriculture, will deliver the address of welcome to the old soldiers.

General J. T. Crowder, the commander of the state encampment of the G. A. R. will respond to the address of welcome.

The exercises will be interspersed with music by the band.

The address on this memorable occasion will be delivered by Major Hiram F. Wilson, whose reputation for patriotic and eloquent oratory is not confined to this state.

After the conclusion of the speaking taps will be sounded by Bugler O. Ap- bous.

Secretary of State Woods issued certificates of incorporation to the following:

TABOGA ISLAND AND PORTO BELLO

Down verdure-clad slopes and terraces have reached

Where orange and mango and pine-apple grow.

One wanders through Eden to ocean-washed beaches—

An Eden that only the sunchildren know.

Thus James S. Gilbert, the late lamented poet of Panama, wrote of Taboga Island. It was so enticing that he dedicated it to his sunchildren for a day in 1912. They swam seaweed away in a little launch twelve miles out into the Pacific to that beauty spot. It is all that Mr. Gilbert called it, and more, and it is no wonder that the sanitarium, established there by the French canal company, is well patronized. If you are an employee—why not have a day at Porto Bello? But Nature is as kind as ever to Porto Bello. Its bottle-shaped harbor is one of the prettiest to be found, with promontories guarding the entrance, beautiful hills on both sides and entrancing little bays and inlets leading down from the mountains and through the jungle to its upper end. Each hill opposite the town boasts the remains of three unusually interesting Spanish forts. One is at the water's edge, another several hundred yards up the slope, and these two once connected by a steep path. The walls are almost intact but the roof has fallen in and the fortress is full of trees and shrubs—but Nature is as kind as ever to Porto Bello. INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS FROM THE GREAT GERMAN EMPIRE.

WHAT'S DOING IN OLD HOME

Summary of the Most Important Happenings in the Land of the Kaiser—Timely Items for the German Readers.

Germany has no intention of changing her recent decision not to exhibit officially at the Panama-Pacific exposition in San Francisco. Joseph O. Grew, chargé d'affaires of the United States embassy, conferred on the subject for a long time with Gottlieb Hickey, head of the German foreign ministry. Mr. Grew asked him whether, in view of the announced intention of various branches of German industry to exhibit in San Francisco, the German government would not reverse its decision in regard to the official non-participation. Herr Hickey replied that the government was negative, giving as the government's reason for its action the high cost of an official exhibit, the general disinclination to participate and America's back-wardness in attending foreign expositions.

Mr. Grew conferred with Consul General A. M. Thackara and Frederick J. V. Smith, director of exhibits at the exposition, to the organization of non-official participation in co-operation with Albert Balfour, managing director of the Hamburg-American steamship line.

What he calls America's "do-nothing policy" is criticized by Baron Hartmann von Richthofen, formerly secretary of German embassy at Washington, later chargé d'affaires of the German legation at Mexico City, and now a member of the Reichstag. The Baron demands that special steps be taken to establish a permanent government in Mexico. "This," he says, "is possible by means of a strict closing of the frontier, for revolution would be impossible without importation of arms by filibusters and Pro-Revolutionary Presidents. Huerta would find it easy to maintain his army if the United States would act even in this negative way. If America is unwilling on moral and other grounds to give this support to Provisional President Huerta, the government should announce its support to the legitimate government of the frontier. This would be done by maintaining the frontier in a closed condition, so that the garrison in one room and the rebels in another could not communicate with each other."

The Highest Ideals, Applied to Public Service

Back of every institution is an Ideal, a certain standard and conception.

The single Ideal of the Bell Telephone organization is Service which shall be Good and Adequate in all its phases.

To attain this ideal, high scientific apparatus, together with efficiency methods in operating must be evolved, a harmonious, well-disciplined organization must be built up, commercial methods must be perfected, the financial conduct of the enormous business must be above criticism, and the problem must be solved of growth and development to meet an unparalleled public demand.

These ideals are being realized in Bell Universal Service.

VOGUE OF THE BLOUSE

SEPARATE GARMENT IS NOW MORE THAN EVER POPULAR.

Increased Use of Belt Largely Instrumental in Bringing This About—Charming Models in Crepe and Chiffon and Taffeta.

The separate blouse has been gradually gaining favor for the past few seasons, but this season, with the return of the belt, the outlook is even better than ever.

Our illustration shows an admirable evening blouse of chiffon. The blouse is made of white chiffon veiling a broad sheet of delicate pink silk. Bands of black chiffon edged with black beads, are draped over the white chiffon bodice and sleeves. There is a corset belt of pale blue silk.

Some blouse models of dressy character made in the combination of crepe and chiffon have the shoulder and upper part of the bodice of the chiffon, while the lower part of the bodices and sleeves are of the crepe.

There are some charming blouse models in taffeta of the soft supple sort which have an original note in the way of embroidery in color on blouse front or back. One is an extremely attractive blouse of antique green taffeta. The yoke has roses embroidered in color sprinkled over its surface. There is an upstanding ruff of white at the V-shaped neck, surrounded by a black silk ribbon, which is tied in a small knot at the lower part of the blouse front. The long sleeves are finished by black silk cuffs edged with a white ruff.

Another blouse is of old-gold taffeta, embroidered in blue. There is a white collar, and the blouse is trimmed with shirred bands.

One of the distinctive details of the smartest French blouses in silk is the long sleeve. But most of the domestic designers continue to divide their models into short-sleeved, sheer models of more or less dressy degrees and rigidly severe shirtwaists, or long-sleeved, high-collared tailored waists of conspicuous ugliness.

The little frill at the hand which runs down the long blouse sleeves is open to objection in that it soils readily, but it is easily replaced, and if one does not want to cleanse it, there are countless varieties of ready-made net and lace plattings which cost little and can be bought by the yard. The double ruff is much in evidence on the sleeves of the new blouses, and the double ruff of lace or net often finished

DICTATES OF FASHION.

Hats with extremely small heads are displayed.

The wide lace ruff suggesting the Medici collar is in.

A novelty introduced this season is cotton goods with a beaded border.

Some of the colored chiffon scarfs are finished with a deep fringe of soft ribbon.

Many walking costumes have wide girdles, which extend even below the natural waist line.

The wide middy blouse ties in plain colors often are finished with an ich hem of striped silk.

Short frills of the same material as the broad flat collar are fastened at the neck with bows of black velvet ribbon.

A tiny ruffling of piping is the finish to the edge of the brim of a white tailored hat worn with a white net skirt.

The fashion of wearing a wide sash draped from the hips low toward the back and fastening in a bow well to the hem of the skirt is greatly in favor.

White Kid Bag.

White kid handbags, embroidered in colored cotton threads, are dainty accessories to the all-white summer street frock. The embroidery is done by machine, in a simple sort of chain stitch, but the designs developed are artistic and dainty. The colors used are white, pink, blue, yellow, orange, green and rose in soft, faded shades, are most used. The bags have strap handles of the white kid. Some of them are mounted in gilt, some in nickel.

the neck. Almost nine out of ten of the more or less blouse models have the upstanding ruff at the neck.

SIMPLE, BUT MOST EFFECTIVE

Rich and Heavy Hand Embroidery Are the Distinguishing Marks of Really Beautiful Gown.

The beauty of this frock lies largely in the simplicity of its lines and the richness of the heavy hand-embroidery which is placed in a prominent place in the design. The frock is made of white cotton crepe and satin. The lower portion of the blouse and skirt being of the latter. The joining line in each case covered by the heavy embroidery of white mercerized cotton. A shallow yoke of Irish crochet is cut out in the lower edge by a narrow pleated ruff of white net. This has a rose embroidery in color sprinkled over its surface. There is an upstanding ruff of white at the V-shaped neck, surrounded by a black silk ribbon, which is tied in a small knot at the lower part of the blouse front. Strengthen Weak Kidneys.

Nearly every woman needs a good laxative. Dr. King's New Life Pills are the best because they are natural and do not cause pain. Mrs. M. C.
Cunlap of Leadell, Tenn. says: "Dr.
King's New Life Pills helped her lose 100 pounds of excess weight permanently, cure of suffering babies whose skin eruptions have made their life miserable. Our baby was afflicted with breaking out of the skin all over the face and scalp. Doctors and specialists failed to help. We tried
Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment and were overjoyed to see baby completely cured before our eyes." Dr. King writes. Mrs. Strubler, Dubuque, Iowa,
