BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1913

$1.50 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE

BRIEF MENTION OF NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Happenings of the Week Told in Short Paragraphs—What's Doing in Our Hasting Village.

The Portia club holds its second meeting of the year this evening at the home of Miss Rose Volker.

Members of Barrington's "summer colony" gave a private dance at the village hall last Saturday evening.

The masons commenced work this morning laying the building for the H. D. A. Grebe's new residence on Cook street.

The Charles Bourland auction sale on the Howard farm four miles west of this village took place today. W. Peters, Barrington's popular auctioneer, cried the sale.

The Topping property on Applebee street, offered at auction Saturday afternoon, was purchased by George J. Hager for $1,800. The property consists of a lot 49x132 feet and modern house.

The Barrington Mercantile company has sold to R. R. Hammond a Rumley Oil Pull 15-horse power traction engine which is to be used principally for plowing. The delivery of the engine was made yesterday.

H. B. Bantz & Company are this week closing out their men's furnishing goods at cut prices, and will in the future conduct only the tailoring department, utilizing the whole of their store for that purpose.

John Baumgarten has commenced the erection of a large barn on his farm five miles southeast of this village. He had a barn raising Monday in which a large number of neighbors were present to assist in the work.

The Lake county juries for the October term of court have been drawn and contain the names of George Atkins and Edward Homuth for Cuba township, H. L. Grantham, Sr. for Wauconda township, and Henry Hapke, Elia township.

Joe Clancy of Hebron, who worked here at the Bowman Dairy company's plant last winter and was a member of the local I. O. O. F. lodge, committed suicide by hanging at Waukegan, Wisconsin, last week Wednesday. The funeral was held at Harvard Monday.

Marshall Peters arrested Elmer Witt Sunday for exceeding the speed limit with his motor cycle. He was released on his promise to appear before Police Magistrate L. H. Bennett Monday morning. He kept his promise and pled guilty to the charge. He was fined $5.00 and costs $3.00, which he paid and promised to be more careful in the future.

E. D. Prouty returned home from Loma, North Dakota, Monday, where he has been for several days looking after the harvesting of the crops on his farm. We understand that there has been a fairly good crop of small grain in that vicinity and were told that he sold his oats for 35 cents per bushel and barley for 55 cents per bushel from the machine.

The Veteran Relief Corps, No. 3, of Elgin invited the local Women's Relief Corps to meet with them at Elgin Tuesday. The invitation was accepted and the ladies planned to make the trip with automobiles, leaving early in the morning so as to visit Lord's park where they expected to eat their lunches; which they prepared to take with them and attend the meeting of the corps in the afternoon. On account of the rainy weather Tuesday morning they were obliged to abandon the trip and instead met their hall for a "work day," preparing articles for the bazaar which is to be held November 10. About thirty ladies were present and we are told that dinner and supper were served from the lunches prepared for the trip to Elgin.

Save the Seed Corn.

Attention of farmers is called to the need of care in the saving of seed corn this year. The prospects are that there will be a scarcity of good seed. Prepare early for selection of seed from the good fields. Those who have two-year-old, well-kept seed may find that there is a good demand for what they have. The seed should be kept in a dry, warm place; this is true for any year, but it is especially essential this year on account of the poor quality of the seed corn in many localities.

The absence of high rents and high priced assistants enables Miss Jukes to sell fashionable hats cheaper than they are purchased for in metropolitan stores, and she offers you as choice a selection. Visit her store and see the approved styles for fall and winter—they will be on display commencing next Monday.—Adv.

The club membership has been increased to thirty after years of being limited to twenty-five ladies, not, as it sometimes said, for the purpose of being "exclusive," but because large rooms are not found in many homes and thus the number entertained must be limited.

Mrs. G. W. Spunner is the chairman of the program committee and with her assistants, Mesdames H. T. E. White, F. J. Alverson, Wm. Cannon and R. AGED BARRINGTON WOMAN DEAD

Mrs. Mary Brandt, Resident of Community Over Half a Century, Passes Away.

Mrs. Mary Brandt, widow of the late Frederick Brandt, who died May 24, this year, passed away Tuesday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Herman Schwenm, with whom she made her home for a number of years.

Mrs. Brandt was the daughter of John and Isabelle Schroeder, and was born at Mekeleberg, Germany, December 12, 1839, and came to this country in 1854. The following year she was converted to the Evangelical faith and remained a believer in this church until her death. At the age of 17 she was married to Orrant Rieke, and became the mother of seven children, four of whom preceded her in death, Lena, Martha and Henry surviving.

After the death of Mr. Rieke she was again married, August 4, 1870 to Frederick Brandt and to them were born three children all of whom are living and make their homes in this village. They are Mrs. Herman Schwenm, and Edward and Enoch Brandt. She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Sophia Rieke, one brother, John Schroeder, and ten grandchildren.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at 1:00 o'clock at the house and at 1:30 at the Salem church. Rev. J. Buente, pastor of the Zion Evangelical church, will speak in German and Rev. F. W. Lawder of Chicago will speak in English. Interment will be in Evergreen cemetery.

BOARD IN ADJOURNED SESSION.

Village Trustees Met Monday Evening—Transacted Little Business.

At an adjourned meeting of the board of village trustees held last Monday evening at the village hall, Edward Peters reported that the leaks in the large sewer leading to the septic tank had been repaired and that the tank was working in good shape. Sidewalks were ordered built on Hager street from Main street to Mrs. Neimeier's residence. A report from the village attorney on the legality of delivering beer into anti-saloon territory was to the effect that, in his opinion the local option law was being violated. It was not decided at this meeting to take any action, and the board adjourned until the next regular meeting which will occur October 6.

JUST MILK.

Once upon a time there was something called Milk. It was generally liked. People went so far as to say that it was not only useful as food, but palatable as well, and was enjoyed by all ages. But that was long ago. Many of us cannot remember how long ago it was. We have never known any Milk like that.

Milk today is a very awful thing. It is full of very bad bacteria, so full that we often wonder how the good bacteria find room to dwell in their own home.

And Milk is of many kinds. There is raw milk, parboiled or pasteurized milk, inspected milk, certified milk, fermilac, bacilac, and others too numerous to mention. We should hesitate to accept anything labeled just "Milk." It might be from a natural cow—a cow that had never been infected with tuberculosis, a healthy cow that just fed on grass in the meadow, was milked by hand both night and morning, and had the milk strained from a tin pail into a tin pan, from which it was poured into a bowl and so fed to the children.

This presents rather a dreadful picture, so we will not dwell on it. Let us instead turn to the milk of science, which any intelligent person may recognize very easily.

Of course the name Raw Milk exists, but it would be a piece of pure stupidity in this age of scientific living for anybody to think of supplying simple, fresh, cooled raw milk direct from the cow. It is not to be thought of, it is unscientific. Almost everything worth while can be accomplished by scientific progress and enlightenment. But not that. Oh, dear me, not that. Then, as good raw milk is not to be thought of, we have next that desirable product called pasteurized milk, which is scientifically parboiled. Of course we have nothing to do with the things that are parboiled into things, like visiting germs, dirt and other substances that will not divulge their identity after the parboiling.

Inspected milk has a very artistic sound, and rises with certified milk to commanding our admiration for the exclusion of most of the germs that milk is really free to. Consequently, when this modern invention is a day old in ordinary temperatures, where in the right nature of things it would ferment and become nice sour milk, or, buttermilk, it is so redolent instead, and becomes offensive, unfit for any purpose whatever. So for the old-fashioned

ANNOUNCE THE PRICES FOR WINTER'S MILK

Bowman Prices Considerably Lower Than Producers Demand—Few Are Signing up.

This morning the Bowman Dairy company announced the prices it will pay for winter milk for the coming six months. They are five cents higher than the Borden prices, announced four days ago, and 12 cents lower than the prices the dairymen are asking. The dairymen in all towns where there is a branch of the Milk Producers' association, and that means almost every town in the dairy district of northern Indiana and Illinois and southern Wisconsin, have placed their milk in the hands of a milk board, giving this board power to sell the milk at the best prices obtainable, and they are confident that they will be able to secure the price they demand. Some plan to erect community factories and others plan to ship their milk to Chicago, contracting with small dealers, nearly all of whom are willing to pay the prices demanded, if the large bottling and condensing companies do not meet their demands. The Bowman prices, month by month, are as follows per 100 pounds:

October	$1.35
November	1.45
December	1.90
January	1.90
February	1.15
March	1.65

This is an average of $1.80 for milk testing from 3.51 to 3.70 in butter fat. The contracts provide that milk falling to 3.5 in butter fat test will be reduced two cents, and a further reduction of two cents will be made for each one-tenth per cent below this figure, while a premium of two cents will be paid for 3.8 milk and an additional two cents for every one-tenth per cent above this mark. An additional 10 cents per hundred is also given dairymen whose barn scores 65 points or better upon inspection under the Chicago board of health rules. The contract is in all respects identical with the one in operation this summer. Only one man signed up at the local factory this morning and reports from neighboring villages were that the few Bowman factories are to the effect that there are very few signers anywhere.

The producers' association asks an average of $1.92 per 100 pounds, 22 cents more than the contract prices of the large bottling and condensing companies for the corresponding six months last year. The association price is based on 3.5 milk. For each additional one-tenth per cent they demand an increase of four cents per 100 pounds and allow a like reduction for milk testing under 3.5. It is likely however that they will accept the stipulations of the contracts of the buyers in this respect if these companies come up to their price.

The local milk board consists of C. P. Hawley, Fred Kirschner and A. L. Robertson, and members of the association are awaiting their call for a meeting before voicing their individual opinions, but the general theory seems to be that the producers will put up a stiff fight before accepting the prices offered by either the Borden or Bowman companies, and men who should know claim that the dairymen have control of the situation.

The milk of 60 of the big dairies of Duane has been sold to the National Milk Flour company of Gibbers at five cents above the association price, and the Richmond Smith company of Chicago, which buys from can shippers, is making contracts at the association price of $2.07.

And don't go speaking about Milk as if there were any such thing. If you have any education at all, specify what you mean. You can easily see that "Milk" without an adjective before it means nothing.—Judson M. Hinchstone in Life.
