GALE AT CLEVELAND

HUGE SNOWDRIFTS CHOKED THE STREETS AND DEAD REMAIN UNSBURIED.

MANY PERISH ON SHIPS

Bodies Driven Ashore Tell Story of Storm on Lakes—Deaths Placed at Hundred—Rescued Fight Waves for Sixty Hours.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 13.—This city hopes for a speedy cessation of the difficulties that have beset it since the worst snowstorm in its history struck the city Sunday night, when an average of 24 inches of snow fell. Fair and warmer weather is predicted.

A resumption of the blizzard would cut off the arrival of food to relieve the scarcity of the city now faces. Rain would produce food conditions.

As a result of the disturbed state of Lake Erie the drinking water has turned to the color of coffee and warnings were issued by the health department to prevent a typhoid epidemic by boiling the water.

The total number of dead was increased to five on Tuesday, when John Richmond, aged fifty-eight, was crushed to death when the roof of his house collapsed beneath the weight of snow, and William Gombert died in a snowdrift.

The work of cleaning the city was aided by a period of snowless weather. Fifteen hundred workmen were clearing the streets of 14 city street car lines in the metropolitan area.

Telephone and telegraph companies cleared away a large part of the wreckage resulting from the destruction of telephone poles, and established a few connections with neighboring cities. The work of rehabilitation so far has revealed that the vortex of the blizzard was limited to an area of some fifty miles around Cleveland.

The hospitals are greatly handicapped. Some have experienced a lack of proper food and others have had to do with candle light, as electric lighting was cut off by the blizzard. Three hundred passengers are reported marooned in four interurban cars at Gates Mills, near here. Relief parties are on the way to them.

They are encountering heavy drifts and are electrical corded.

The schools were closed. Business men and factory owners estimated the loss in business to wholesale and retail trade at many millions of dollars. A great part of the citizens are unable to leave their homes, and few venture downtown.

The streets are impassable for wagons, and undertakers are unable to remove the bodies of persons who have died since the breaking of the storm. The bodies of seven persons who have died at city hospital since Sunday night have not yet been removed to morgues, several more are being held at the city's coroner's farm, and even private funerals cannot be held as the bodies cannot be taken to the cemeteries.

Many bakeries closed because of lack of fuel, and unless coal can be reached the city supply of bread may soon become exhausted.

Improvement in the milk situation has been effected and an actual milk famine has been averted because the companies are unable to make deliveries of the milk on hand or to obtain more from dairies in the surrounding territory.

An average of 24 inches of snow fell during the storm and snowdrifts have piled as high as 20 feet.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 13.—One train arrived here from Cleveland, after having been on the way a little more than thirty hours. It was stalled in a drift of snow for 24 hours at far from Cleveland and the passengers suffered severely from cold and hunger. Later the train ran more nearly on the scheduled time.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Destruction of life and property by the wind and snow storm that has lashed the great lakes into fury, and has scourged the country coasting on the lakes largely to be more fully revealed on Tuesday.

Mute witnesses of the terrible stress of the elements presented themselves at many points on the American and Canadian shores of the lakes in the bodies cast ashore.

Hungry, frost-bitten crews fought for life with the waters for as long as 60 hours. Wrecked boats were washing upon the beaches at many points. Vessels of various kinds are believed to have gone to the bottom. Some have not been sighted since Saturday. What the toll of death has been can only be conjectured. The estimate made at Cleveland puts the total at about 100.

Princely Gift From House.
Washington, Nov. 13.—A pendant of one carat diamond weighing six and one-half carats, surrounded by eight smaller diamonds will be the wedding gift of the house of representatives to Miss Jessie Wilson.

Two Divide, Gates Estate.
New York, Nov. 13.—Charles G. Gates, who died suddenly in Wyoming last week, left a fortune of $1,000,000, equally between his mother, Mrs. J. W. Gates, and his widow, Mrs. Florence B. Gates. His estate is $1,000,000.

Three Killed by Boiler Blast.
Bears, Ark., Nov. 13.—A 60-horse power boiler at a mill owned by Henry Hooton, of this town, exploded, killing three men and wounding several others.

New York, Nov. 13.—Will David, who died two hours later.

The senior of a new embalmment fluid has bought the prisoner's body for future delivery, and it is coming, he says, to see there is no miscarriage of justice at the trial.

The robbers then took all the cash in sight. While a posse gave chase, Dr. L. C. Morgan, president of the bank, released the men imprisoned. One robber, who had the other, was caught by a crowd of citizens and beaten before he was turned over to the sheriff. The lookout escaped.

Filled With the Spirit

By REV. JAMES M. GRAY, D.D.
Dean of Moody Bible Institute of Chicago

TEXT—Be not drunk with wine where in is excess, but be filled with the Spirit, Ephesians 5:18.

The Holy Spirit is not a thing or an influence, but a divine person, dwells in the heart of the true believer, and is the source of all his holy scriptures.

There are ascribed to him the works, attributes and name of a person. This divine person dwells in true believers on Jesus Christ. He acts upon them as a power from without, but as a living reality within.

In "What, know ye not that your bodies are the temples of the Holy Ghost, which is in you?" It is also true that when he comes to dwell in the believer, as he does at his regeneration and conversion, he comes to dwell in the heart.

But it seems to be one thing to be indwelt by the Spirit, and another to be filled by him. A distinction met with again and again in the New Testament.

Filled With the Spirit.
The strong figure used in this chapter gives an idea of what is meant by being filled with the Spirit. A man intoxicated with wine is under control of that which has entered into him. His consciousness, his walk, his breath, his conversation, his thought, give evidence of it. So are Christians to be filled with the Spirit that their very faces may declare that they "have seen the face of God." Their conduct should be governed by him, their steps directed, their thoughts controlled by his indwelling and gracious power.

This brings us to the apostle's practical application of this truth, telling us that when so filled we will manifest the spirit of submissiveness one to another in the fear of God. "We will be submissive to our husbands as unto the Lord, and husbands will love their wives as their own bodies and as Christ loved the church, led the right spirit take possession of husband and wife and domestic infidelity is at an end, but the right spirit is only and always God's Holy Spirit.

Children and parents are next addressed. The child who knows the Lord, and in whom his spirit dwells, will obey his parents because it is right to do so. And parents in such a case will not provoke their children to wrath but "bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord."

Solution of Industrial Wars.
Employers and employees come next. The employee who knows Jesus Christ will serve his employer faithfully because he will be serving Christ. There will be no more eye-service there. He will not be looking at the clock for telling time nor leading when the foreman's back is turned. He is aware that another is keeping the record whose eye is everywhere, and that of him he shall receive the reward.

But the employer who knows Jesus Christ will set toward his employee correspondingly. He will not be a hard, unresponsive master, knowing that he himself has a master in heaven who is no respecter of persons. Here is the solution of industrial wars. The gospel can do what unions and amalgamations and strikes and lock-outs can never do. The truest patriots and philanthropists are the men of Christ, and on the street corners testifying to the saving and keeping power of the Son of God.

In other words it is not "social service" that the world so much needs today as it is salvation. The "social service" movement is good, and has a large constituency, and large financial support. Several well-known millionaires have each given a larger sum within a few years, for educational and philanthropic enterprises than all who have specially given for the support of the whole number of Christian churches in the United States. Organizations and agencies for social betterment are multiplying today to a bewildering extent. There is an agency to meet almost every kind of distress of man, woman or child, and we are glad of it. But as the career and the observer has affirmed, "the more closely the facts are examined the more apparent the inadequacy and ineffectiveness of the humanitarian movement."

And he goes on to ask, "As the limitations of social effort thus become more sharply defined, is it not of place to suggest that there is a factor in the problem of great significance which has been almost entirely neglected? That factor, we believe, is the regenerated Christian, the man who has been born again by the power of Christ, and who has the Spirit of God within him, and all our problems are solved."

Man and nation, therefore, who are filled with the Spirit, will be the source of light and wisdom, which will be the source of all our problems are solved.

Man and nation, therefore, who are filled with the Spirit, will be the source of light and wisdom, which will be the source of all our problems are solved.
