Jewel Thief's Clever Idea.
A noted jewel thief was in the habit of boldly entering homes in the West end of London, carrying under his arm a small parcel containing a soft cheese. Quickly marching upstairs, he would enter the rooms that were not at the time being occupied, place any articles of jewelry that were lying about on the dressing tables, bury them in the cheese, and return the way he had come. In this manner he appropriated no less than £6,000 worth of jewels within twelve months.

Inducement

Dealer (to new person)—Quiet!
He's just the little 'orse to suit yer.
Why (in a burst of confidence) you can leave that 'orse standin' outside the pub all day and he won't shift a leg.—Sydney Bulletin.
