LADY DIED MONDAY

Mrs. John Myers Passes Away Suddenly—News of Her Death Great Shock to Friends.

When word spread quickly over the village Monday morning that Mrs. John Myers of Station street had died at 10:00 o'clock, much sorrow was felt by acquaintances as well as intimate friends; for she was a woman of lovable temperance, apparently without malice in her disposition, always moderate in speech and with much charity for the faults of human frailty. Like all mothers of several children, she had learned patience and sacrifice until her own character had developed into one of strength and high qualities.

All her life Mrs. Myers had been in fair health and her last illness came without warning. She was ill only two weeks with erysipelas in the head and shoulders which towards the end caused great swelling and inability to use the faculties of sight and speech.

The funeral was held this afternoon at the Methodist church of which she was a member. There was a short service at the house for the family at 1:00 o'clock. Rev. O. F. Mattison conducted the church service which was attended by the Women's Relief Corps and the Order of Eastern Star, both organizations to which she belonged. It was planned for the Eastern Star to hold a service at the grave in Evergreen cemetery.

Emma Pachaly Myers was born in the province of Pomerania, Germany, May 29, 1840, making her at this time 64 years old. She was one of eight children and the family came to America when she was five years of age. They lived in Chicago several years and then settled in Barrington at the corner of Grove avenue and South Hawley street. At 19 years of age she was married to Chicago to John Myers of this village on May 15, 1868. A short time later Mrs. Myers was appointed superintendent of the farm work at Dunne's at the time that the L. Lines was started there. Mr. and Mrs. Myers were at Dunne's 13 years and their children were born there. It was during this time in 1888 they returned to this village and have since been well known and respected citizens for many years. They were the parents of six children, Mrs. Frank Harwood of Chicago, Miss Ruth Myers of this village, Roy of Carle, Arkansas, and Emil of Decatur, Iowa, a twin of Emil, died at eleven years and another son died at two years. There are two grandchildren, Ruth and Clark Harwood.

Mr. Myers also survives, and mother and two sisters near Burlington, Iowa. Two brothers who are in Chicago at present and Emil Myers of Decatur attended the funeral.

Mail Christmas Parcels Early.

The postoffice department desires that widest publicity possible be given to the advantage of mailing holiday parcels early in order to secure the prompt dispatch, distribution and delivery of the great volume of holiday mail, attention being invited to the fact that it is permissible to place on parcels the words, "Do not open until Christmas," or words to that effect. This is the first Christmas season the parcels post system has been in operation and the department is desirous that the handling of the mails be expeditiously managed, with as little cause for criticism as possible, and the public given the benefit of quick and accurate transportation and delivery. The number of parcels to be handled will be very great, hence the necessity, beyond previous years, of early mailing to prevent absolute congestion Christmas week, with consequent losses and damage to parcels.

He gave an address on Monday of last week before the Baptist Ministers association and last Monday he gave an address before the conference on religious education held in Beloit college chapel. Tuesday he addressed the Wisconsin State Sunday School convention at Sheboygan.

PICTURES LAWS AND GARDENS

Lecturer at High School Shows Proper Methods of Planting for Best Results.

Prof. Miller of the University of Illinois at Urbana gave a lecture on "Landscape Gardening and Road Planting," illustrated by stereoscopic views, at the school house last Thursday evening, which was attended by many of the school children and their parents.

The views illustrated various sorts of lawn and garden decoration and the lecturer dwelt at length upon the advantage of caring for and cultivating native shrubs, flowers and vines as compared with foreign importations which, by their first cost and the extra care they need, are much more expensive and not nearly so desirable because of their unnatural and artificial appearance.

He laid particular stress upon the Illinois rose, Rosa Setigera, commonly known as the wild rose or prairie rose, as a desirable flower for all purposes of outside decoration, and upon the fact that a little time and money expended in beautifying homes and grounds is well repaid by the large interest in the subject, and to teach all the methods by which the best results may be secured.

The whole object of the lecture was to instill a desire for beautiful lawns and grounds among those people who have not as yet paid much attention to this subject, and to teach all the methods by which the best results may be secured.

INTERNATIONAL LIVE STOCK SHOW

Great Plans Being Made for Exposition Which Opens in Chicago Last of This Month.

Contrary to the generally accepted belief the exhibitions of live stock in the United States are the greatest in the world. Not only are the displays of animal excellence themselves superior to all others, but the equipment for the staging of the shows, and the accommodation of the visiting public is far better and more comprehensive than in any other country. Vast improvements have been made the past year in the setting of the International Live Stock exposition, which will this year be held from November 29 to December 6. Concentrated through safe and sanitary stabling and display of the animals, commodious lecture halls, a magnificent exhibition arena, together with all necessary comforts for visitors—all, as it might be said, beneath one roof form a combination hitherto contemplated in connection with any live stock show.

In no other country is the show yard so closely associated with the national educational system, in none is the whole scheme and plan of exhibition arranged so that each season's prize winners may be brought before a court of last resort for final alignment, as at the "International." Here alone of all the great world's shows may the best of all useful breeds of farm animals be seen in their foremost estate in one grand display.

In the United States we have the best, and the best of the best may be seen each year at the "International." Many foreign countries have great live stock exhibitions, but by common consent of all the world's highest authorities, the "International" is an easy leader. At this show may be seen the pick of the foremost foreign breeds massed together well nigh beneath a single roof.

Gathered in their thousands at the greatest railway center in the world, the animals at the "International" offer a liberal education in themselves to all who care to study them. Here all of our master breeders, and many foreign breeders, take post-graduate courses. Money paid out in attending the show is regarded by them as the most profitable, sound and remunerative investment they can make.

To keep up with the trend of live stock breeding, the farmer and stockman are urged to attend the "International." He must study the work of the judges, and if he cares to, and goes the right way about it, he may learn from the lips of these judges their reasons which governed their awards.

It is a show for a people, for the people of the people. Its guiding principle is the greatest good to the greatest number. It offers a matchless opportunity to study, to learn, to meet and know the master minds in live stock circles. Any farmer who fails to attend the "International" deliberately deprives himself of an asset—a valuable asset which in after years would have bulked large in his store of knowledge and beyond precedent in his bank account also.

The Hen.

The old hen still lives! Drouth can not dry her up, nor floods drown her. The farmer's pests, grasshoppers and bugs, the turn into a product that pays his grocery bills. A product that is the quintessence of delicacies, as well as one of the main staples in the sustenance of man.

She is the farmer's savings bank, picking up a lost grain here, and saving a lost bit there, and while adding continually to the principal, pays interest every day in the shape of a fresh golden egg.

No banquet table is complete without her presence therein, while her products displace not only the bivalve, but the humble workman. She is queen of a billion dollar industry, and if she indulges in the feminine prerogative of cackling over her achievement let her cackle. Her achievement is worth the cackle. Simply an egg is a small commodity, but collectively richer than the mines of Ophir.

All hail! The hen! The helpful hen! Both rich and poor, All hail! Amen.

Local Bank Postal Depository.

The First State Bank of Barrington, after submitting to the authorities at Washington some time ago complete statements of its financial standing, has just been designated as a depository for postal savings funds. As a result the postal savings funds which Postmaster Brockway has had on deposit at the Arlington Heights State bank, which until the bank was organized here, has been the nearest bank, have been transferred to Barrington.

"LOCK-OUT" TELEPHONE DEVICE

Chicago Now Has Invention to Prevent Eavesdropping—Boone County Will Use It.

Hereafter two or more individuals on a party line telephone of the Boone county rural circuit can converse without interruption or "eavesdropping" by any other party on the line. A device is being installed that insures privacy in conversation when desired, and shuts out all others from the use of the wire except in case of emergency when a touch of a button brings the subscriber in temporary communication with the operator.

N. E. Norstrom, an expert from Chicago, has installed the equipment, a lock-out system, as he calls it, whereby this is accomplished. It is an apparatus for giving individual service for party line subscribers.

With this equipment each subscriber gets a private service and to other subscriber can interfere in any way with the service, or get what is on the line, the operator having complete control over the subscribers' line, by pressing what is called a "lock-out" key.

Each telephone is equipped with a similar attachment and whenever conversation is carried over the line, each attachment shows a "busy signal," and when the conversation ceases, another signal is thrown showing that the line is open.

East attachment has also an emergency button, whereby direct communication with the operator can be carried on regardless of who ever is using the line.

It is said that the lock-out equipment has been used satisfactorily for two years in Rockford and has eliminated line trouble.

WOMEN CONDUCT EXCHANGE.

Medames Winegar and Cameron Have Fancy Wares at Cameron's Pharmacy.

During the past few months the women of Barrington have become much interested in the "Women's Exchange," which is conducted by Mrs. Lee Winegar and Mrs. W. J. Cameron in the Groff building. The sale of the handicraft of a great many local ladies has been quite brisk and as the exchange becomes more generally known a considerable business is being done there. These two ladies receive for sale any article of home manufacture which women are fond of making such as embroidery, crocheting, knitting, stenciling, hand painting, sewing, etc.

The assortment is excellent and filled with useful things, many of which are beautiful samples of fine hand work. Any lady placing an article for sale may determine its price, according to the material in it, time consumed in making and general value. Only fifteen per cent is charged for managing the sales.

Orders may be placed for anything desired and those in charge will find people capable of doing the work. Preparations are being made for Christmas sales and the village ladies will enjoy selecting Christmas gifts made by their friends, besides the pleasure of earning a little money by selling one's handicraft of leisure moments.

FARM-EXPERT GIVES

ADVICE OF VALUE

Hog Cholera, Its Cause, Cure and Prevention, Is This Week's Talk to Farmers.

There has been an epidemic of hog cholera in this part of the state this fall which fact prompts Lake county's new "farm doctor" to give advice on this subject. Mr. Blair has promised to give the REVIEW an article each week upon a subject of importance to farmers and in line with his duties. His DEBATE on Blair.

The old saying that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" fits the case of hog cholera exactly. It is thoroughly disheartening to lose part of the herd in the few hours that it takes this dread disease to accomplish its purpose, and any way that we may assist in preventing the outbreak will be very much in order.

Hog cholera is a contagious disease and is spread by means of dogs, hogs, blowing dust, swarms, in fact the disease can be carried by almost anything that the germs can stick to. After visiting an infected herd, the shoes worn should be thoroughly sterilized before leaving the farm.

Community interest will help wonderfully in preventing the spread of the disease.

We mean by this, all the people in each neighborhood combining to use preventive methods against bringing infection from outside sources. Know that the disease is spread by germs, is thoroughly contagious, and act accordingly.

A complete quarantine is not, however, always practical on the average farm, and the best that can be hoped for is a lessening of the opportunity for infection by placing the herd on a part of the farm that will be least accessible to the animals from other farms. Hog lots should never be located near public roads, if this can be avoided. All newly purchased stock should be kept from the main herd for at least thirty days.

It is well occasionally to scatter slack lime around the lot, and wash and disinfect the feeding troughs. One of the best disinfectants for this purpose is one part of water of creosol to thirty parts of water. The solution of creosol can be made up at any drug store.

After an outbreak of cholera, all yards and pens should be thoroughly cleaned, as the dead hogs buried with quick lime, or burned. The latter should be collected and buried, and lime scattered freely over the ground. Use disinfectants liberally in every place frequented by the diseased animals.

The feeding and care of hogs have much to do with prevention of cholera. Clean, dry pens, regular and proper feeding, comfortable sleeping quarters, plenty of sunshine, the pens cleaned regularly, and careful count toward prevention.

Whenever possible, it is an excellent plan to dip the hogs every few weeks when the weather is hot. Anything that will assist in keeping them in good health will help ward off the disease.

One of the best conditioners known, and one recommended by the U. S. Department of Agriculture is as follows:

Wood charcoal, 1 pound; sulphur, 1 pound; sodium chloride, 1 pound; sodium bicarbonate, 2 pounds; sodium hypophosphite, 2 pounds; sodium sulphate, 1 pound; antimony sulphide, black "anti-mony," 1 pound.

Mix this with the feed in the proportions of one tablespoonful to each 200 pounds weight of dry feed but once a day. This treatment is not a cure, but acts as a preventative by keeping the herd in good condition, and even if this be used, strict attention must be given to quarantine and sanitary measures if the disease is to be warded off in the neighborhood.

Allen—Wade Nuptials.

Ford J. Allen, dairy freight agent for the Chicago & Northwestern railway, and Mrs. Wade of Northeastern railway, and Mrs. Wade of Northeastern railway, were united in marriage at Lincoln, Nebraska, last Saturday. Mexico City, Nov. 11.—Foreign diplomats were sent a formal note Sunday by General Huerta, after calling attention to the efforts he had made to pacify the country and dwelling at length on his reasons for dissolving congress, making the direct election of a new president.

General Huerta reminds the diplomats that prior to the elections he told them that neither he nor General Blanes would accept an election on the ground that his own election would be illegal, and he calls the attention of the diplomatic representatives to the conference which he had with the presidential candidates, except Fox Diaz, at which he obtained their promise to abide by the result of the elections.

BEILIS IS ACQUITTED

COSSACKS COMPELLED TO CHARGE RUSSIAN MAD WITH HATRED BY VERDICT.

SEEK TO TEAR HIM TO PIECES

Comment Calls Result Triumph for Jewish Race as Well as Victory to Innocent Man; Ends "Ritual Murder" Talk.

Kiev, Russia, Nov. 12.—Found not guilty by the jury that had heard the evidence in the trial, Mendel Beilis, the Jew accused by the government of "ritual murder," had to be escorted from the courthouse to his home by an escort of soldiers on Monday.

So angry was the crowd that jammed the little courtroom here, and so incensed did the larger crowd outside become when news of the verdict penetrated the walls, that it seemed for a time that the Russians would tear the acquitted defendant to pieces.

Only by marching with fixed bayonets was the escort of soldiers able to force a passage to the Beilis cottage, which is scarcely a stone's throw from the courthouse. At night the entire district was patrolled by soldiers.

Once in the bosom of his family, for the first time in two years, Beilis collapsed completely. While his wife and children cowered at the sounds of conflict, that followed the dispersal of the mob by the Cossacks, the man himself sank wearily upon a bed, his strength utterly exhausted.

The specific charge against Beilis was that he had killed Andrew Yushinsky, a Christian boy, for the purpose of using his blood in a sacrilegious ritual demanded by his religion.

The verdict, which the whole world awaited anxiously, is considered an final and telling blow to the "ritual murder" myth, for hundreds of years has been used as an excuse for persecuting and slaying Jews.

"This is a victory for Jewish race, a greater verdict for the Jewish race in Russia," declared M. Grousberg, leading counsel for the accused man. "It was a triumph for the Jewish race, a triumph for the Jewish race, a triumph for the Jewish race."

The rejoicing among the Jews here over Beilis' acquittal was with enthusiasm. They dared not express their joy.

M'COMBS IS MARRIED

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE HEAD WEDS IN LONDON.

Many of British Nobility Present at His Marriage; Miss Dorothy Williams.

London, Nov. 10.—Miss Dorothy Williams, the beautiful daughter of Col. John R. Williams, U. S. A., was married to William F. McCombs, chairman of the Democratic national committee, Friday in the quaint little Roman Catholic chapel of St. Peter and St. Edward, tucked away in Buckingham palace road, within a stone's throw of the royal residence.

The wedding followed so closely upon the announcement that many of the friends who had been invited were unable to attend. But if the company that witnessed the ceremony was small in numbers, it was great in distinction.

Mr. McCombs said that the chief reason why the ceremony was performed in London was because both he and Miss Williams wished to avoid continual wedding in Washington. The few invitations sent out were not dispatched until two days ago.

Lord Derby, head of England's proudest family, was the first to arrive. He was quickly followed by the earl of Suffolk, the countess of Suffolk, who was Miss Margaret Lyde Leister, the earl and countess of Craven, Rt. Rev. Henry Chaplin, one of the few remaining types of British aristocracy.

Ambassador and Mrs. Page arrived early and were followed by Ambassador Herrick, who came over from Paris. Colonel and Mrs. Colin Campbell and Frederick Townsend Martin were among the others.

FEAR 40 DROWNED IN GALE

Port Huron Wreck Believed to Be Huge Ore Carrier, Whose Cargo Shifted.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 12.—The greatest lake tragedy of the present year doubtless has occurred in Lake Huron as a result of a terrible gale which prevailed all Sunday night. About eight miles north of here a huge steel freighter has turned over.

It is presumed that every member of its crew of possibly forty men has gone to the bottom. Just what ship it is is not known.

It was alleged by Captain Plough the Lakeland Higginson station. His lifeboat had been wrecked in Sunday's gale, and he reported the ship to the Red Wrecking company, which sent the tug Sarina City to the scene. That craft is laying by, serving as a marker for other vessels.

The capsized vessel is one of the modern types of steel freighter, 600 feet long and has a draft of sixty feet of water.

STILL ONE HOPE REMAINED

Frederick's Idea Showed That He Could Shine in Future on Diplomatic Service.

Mrs. Titus carefully locked the jam closet, and told her two sons, eight and ten years of age, that she was going shopping.

"All right, men," came the chorus. The street door had been hardy, shut behind Mrs. Titus when the two youngsters made a concerted rush for the jam closet. It was locked. A hunt for keys produced half a dozen. Each one was tried patiently, but not one fitted. The lock held, the jam closet remained inaccessible.

"What shame!" said Thomas, the younger.

"Well," said Frederick, the elder, "we can wait until mamma comes home and ask her for something for being good boys."—New York Evening Post.

ERUPTION ON CHILD'S BODY

R. F. D. No. 2, Jackson, Mo.—Our daughter who is ten months old was suffering from an eruption all over the body. In the beginning they were small red spots and afterwards turned to bloody sores. We tried all sorts of ointments but they did not procure any relief for our child. She cried almost day and night and we scarcely could touch her, because she was covered with sores from head to foot.

"We had heard about the Cuticura Soap and Ointment and made a trial with them, and after using the remedies, that is to say, the Soap and the Ointment, only a few days passed and our child could sleep well and after one week she was totally well." (Signed) August F. Bartels, Nov. 25, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard, "Cuticura," Dept. L, Boston.—Advt.

Daylight at All Hours. Dr. Herbert E. Ives of London has invented daylight, he says. Scientists men have worked for years trying to accomplish this task. Doctor Ives has been at work for at least a dozen, and he asserts he has finally produced a light which is in every way equal to sunlight. The scientist has designed a powerful incandescent lamp with a special mantle, which is placed in a cabinet he has devised and made that its rays are immediately beneath a reflector. This is made of metal, and the light is forced downward through a series of delicately colored screens, so arranged that the average rays which are not found in the north light are eliminated, and the effect, it is said, is that of the most harmonious light similar in every way to the rays of the sun.

Maid Had Helped. Young Marie was nervous in the parlor for Julia to appear. He had been sitting there, twiddling his thumbs, for half an hour. Finally a step was heard from the hall and he rose to his feet expectantly.

But it was not Julia. It was her maid.

Marie said the impatient young man, "what keeps your mistress so long? Is she making up her mind whether she'll see me or not?"

"No, sir," answered the maid with a wise smirk. "It isn't her mind she's making up."

He Scored. He was trying to make up their quarrel and came home with a pack of cards behind him.

"Look here, dear," he said, "I've got something here for some one I think more than anyone else in the world."

"A box of cigars, I presume," she said sweetly.

"I had a great surprise the other day."

"What was it?"

"I got a square deal from that rascal."

WORKS ALL DAY
And Studies at Night on Grape-Nuts Food.

Some of the world's great men have worked during the day and studied evenings to it themselves for greater things. But it requires a good constitution generally to do this.

A Gen. man was able to keep it up with ease after he had learned the sustaining power of Grape-Nuts, although he had failed in health before he changed his food supply. He says:

"Three years ago I had a severe attack of stomach trouble which left me unable to eat anything but bread and water."

"The nervous strain at my office from 6 A. M. to 10 P. M. and improper food had done this to me. I was unable to eat anything but bread and water."

"I would have been a living skeleton, or more likely a dead one, had it not been for Grape-Nuts."

NATURE SUPREME ARTIST.

The illustrated lecture on landscape
gardening and road planning, delivered at the school house Thursday evening, taught a lesson which is important and valuable if thoroughly assimilated.That lesson is: that of all artists nature is supreme, and that by assisting her, rather than by attempting to make creations of our own, can we produce the most beautiful results.This is a truth that will apply to many forms of decorations—among them the decorations of our own persons—but considering it from the standpoint of landscape decoration, the subject of the lecturer, it is apparent that there is room and occasion for much study on this subject.Although you are a lover of the beautiful, it is quite the natural thing
to attempt, in improving your lawns
and gardens and the exterior decoration of your homes, to imitate rich and costly effects, rather than to cultivate native trees and shrubs that you are so familiar with. But when you do this you secure an artificial effect which is not to be desired. To the thorough student of nature and the true artist
nothing which is unnatural is beautiful or ornamental.Appropriately decorated grounds will make a yard more beautiful, useful, add to your peace of mind and make your work seem lighter and pleasanter, and if these are not reasons enough for striving to improve in this direction there is another reason that the author advanced, and which cannot be disputed. It is that of increased value of your property. This is an argument that will appeal to the most sordid of natures when nothing else will. And let us add another—the increased respect and esteem that will be shown you by your neighbors and townspeople and the better impression you will make upon strangers, for yourself and for your community.Let it be hoped that the subject thus brought up will be given thought and study and the lessons derived from it be put into practicable application
soon.

THAT BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION.

The village of Park Ridge to the south of us is perfecting a business
men's organization or commercial club,
and that fact reminds us that Barrington is still without one of these highly necessary associations which has been advocated by the REVIEW for some time.It appears to be the impression of many that commercial clubs are necessary only in large cities, and therein they are mistaken. The smaller the town the more necessary is such an organization. It is the logical and concentrated action of the business people of a community which makes large cities out of small towns.Just now a piano factory wishes to come here. It would bring a good class of citizens here, make more business and advertise the town. All admit it would be a good thing and would like to see the factory choose this village for a location, but it is left to a few of the more public spirited citizens to devise their time and attention to the project. What a fine thing it would be if we had a commercial club now to handle this matter. The subject would be handled much more readily and advantageously, and everyone would bear his share of the burden.There are a number of business men here who take the same view that we do of this matter. All that remains is for a few leaders—someone to start the ball to rolling. WHO WILL BE THE FIRST?Professional Dinner Tasters.
In Paris there is a corps of professional dinner tasters, whose duty it is to test and pass judgment on all

WHAT OTHER EDITORS SAY

Illinois Farmer: A dispatch from Washington states that the national government has so far advanced in road construction that efforts are now being made to teach the country that the expenditure of large sums of money in certain types of roads may result in loss to the country. For example, a road built of materials which would be ideal in some locality may not serve the purpose at all elsewhere and the money expended may bring scarcely no results in making the cost of hauling less or make it easier for the farmer to get to shipping points with his crops.We are glad to know that at least the national government is disposed to consider the cost of good roads as compared with the results therefrom. Too many of those that have been advocating improved roads have never stopped to consider, apparently, that some one in the end must pay for these roads.Also, we are indeed glad to note that it has occurred to the national government that a very important object, at least, of good roads is to reduce the cost of hauling or to make it easier for the farmer to get to the shipping point with his crops. Apparently very many advocates of good roads
have thought that the most important object to be accomplished by improving the roads was to make great lines of highways for the accommodation and pleasure of drivers of automobiles.No one has been or is more heartily in favor of good roads than the editors of the Illinois Farmer. We are aware, however, that good roads so built that they will continue to be good roads will cost a great deal of money and that somebody must pay this cost. And,
further, that the very first and by far the most important object of road improvement must be to improve the communication between farm and town.Nervous and Sick Headaches.
Tropical fever, constipated bowels and disordered stomach are the causes of these headaches. Take Dr. King's New Life Pills; you will be surprised how quickly you get relief. They stimulate the different organs to do their work properly. No better regulator for liver and bowels. Take two

Adv.Woman's Reason.
Women have more of what is termed good sense than men. They cannot reason wrong, or they do not reason at all. They have fewer pretensions, are less implicated in theories, and judges of objects more from their immediate and involuntary impression on the mind, and therefore more truly
and naturally.—Hassitt.Dead as a Doornail.
"As dead as a doornail" at first seems utterly senseless, but becomes lively and picturesque when we remember that knockers were once universally used. Beneath the knocker in order to prevent disfiguring the door, a large nail or bolt was driven.
An impatient caller, waiting for the door to be opened, would frequently use the knocker with great force, and the irrepressibility of the nail gave rise to this expression.—Harper's

Recommended by Barrington Pharmacy.—Adv.Austrian Cooking Fat.
Lard is very expensive in Austria,
especially at Carlsbad, consequently it is regarded somewhat as a luxury. As a substitute a preparation known as
"speltzfat," or cooking fat, is used.
It is sold under the name of "coese," and it is said that its principal ingredient is palm oil. This substance is prepared in the towns of Bodenbach and Aussig and sells for 146 crowns for 100 kilos ($12.40 for 100 pounds) in large quantities, or 14 crowns a kilo
($1.40 a pound) in small quantities.
It is put up in casks
weighing one-half kilo (1 1/2 pounds) and is sold without a container. In appearance it is much like cottonseed oil, owing to a treaty with Germany, enters Austria under very much more favorable conditions than cotton seed oil, the duty on the former being 2.5 crowns for 10 kilos, while the duty on the latter is 40 crowns.Thunder Restored Speech.

Place Stamps on Your Mail.

Under a recent ruling of the post office department rural mail carriers are not required to pick loose coins from the boxes on their routes. Carriers are supplied with postage stamps, stamped envelopes, cards and stamp books and will be glad to sell whatever you need. Patrons should always have a supply of stamps on hand.

Under this ruling all first class mail must be stamped when put in the boxes.

"That speaker is over-dramatizing. He lacks response." "Well, he has to do something to prevent his audience from taking too much repose."

Different Ways of Doing It.

Mrs. Touchly—"I hated to do it, but I had to take some money out of my husband's pockets while he was asleep last night to pay for his birthday present." Mrs. Chazley—"Mercy! I wouldn't dare do such a thing. I used the market money and then had things charged to him—Kansas City Star.

Maturing Cheese Electrically.

A British trade paper reports that an electrician of Rotterdam has discovered a method of maturing cheese by electricity. The method consists in subjecting fresh cheese to an alternating current for 24 hours, which treatment results in giving to the cheese all the properties hitherto acquired by aging.

Privilege of Lady Mayores.

Among the privileges enjoyed by the lady mayores of London during her husband's year of office is that of entering at once, instead of being compelled to take her place among the ordinary guests, titled and untitled, at court functions, she enters the palace by a separate entrance, and is received by royalty before any of the other guests.

What "Honeymoon" Means.

It was a custom among the old Tonic tribes to drink of diluted honey for thirty days, or a moon's age, after a wedding, and from this custom came the expression a honeymoon. Attilla the Hun drank it. It is said, so freely of hydromel on his marriage day that he died of suffocation.

Fire Set by Cotton Batting.

A citizen of Horton bought two small houses and joined them together to make one cottage. There was a small open space in the point of the roof where the two houses were fitted together. The carpenters filled the space with ordinary cotton batting and the joint of the roof was made of tin. The heat of the sun shining on the tin set fire to the cotton batting and a burning of the house down.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A great Chicago daily—The Record-Herald—and your home newspaper, for almost the price of one.

Think what this means. It means complete and reliable market reports every day. It means daily news of the financial world. It means up-to-the-hour information, vital to you as a business man.

It means advancement of ideas in the home circle, to be derived from day-to-day criticism of the current drama, music and books—reviews for which The Record-Herald is noted.

It means added knowledge, broader minds, greater interests—for every member of the family—through the following famous Record-Herald features:

Daily there are articles devoted to the household—advance fashion news, helpful housekeeping hints, etc., etc.—Sparkling editorial comments on topics of the day—brilliant thoughts of big minds on timely subjects—clear, crisp columns of sports—pointed paragraphs by one of America's foremost humorists—clever cartoons of passing events—and a continued story by some noted author. The Record-Herald news gathering facilities are world-wide in scope, and unrivaled in reliability. Comprising the news of the Associated Press—telegraph news from special correspondents in every large city of the East and in every town of the Central West—news that comes over leased wires from New York and Washington—and the foreign cable service of two of the biggest New York City newspapers.

AND ALL FOR 1 1/2 CENTS A DAY!

It's nothing to hesitate over! It's something to grasp—NOW, while it's offered! Stop in at the office, or send us a check with your order, while the opportunity lasts.

Jewel Thief's Clever Idea.
A noted jewel thief was in the habit of visiting the hotels in the West end of London, carrying under his arm
a small parcel containing a soft cheese. Quickly marching upstairs, he would enter the rooms that were not at the time being occupied, pilfer
any articles of jewelry that were lying about on the dressing tables, bury them in the cheese, and return the way he had come. In this manner he appropriated no less than £6,000 worth of jewels within twelve months.
