RED CROSS SEALS.

Once again we have an opportunity to impart a special significance to our Christmas giving. We refer to those cheery red and green messengers of good will, the Christmas stamps. These little emblems of humanitarianism have become almost an institution within recent years—so much so that it is almost a break of etiquette to mail a holiday parcel without a Christmas seal affixed to it.

These stamps not only lend the "Christmas spirit" to the holiday season but they represent the great, broad, charitable spirit of Christ. Little penny things that are, they have been the means of collecting thousands of dollars to combat the great white plague, tuberculosis.

If we could eradicate this plague we could abolish at least half our poverty and could bring hope and encouragement into the hearts where now only despair reigns.

DEATH'S MOST ACTIVE AGENT

Worry. Never Hard Work, Responsible for the Destruction of the Human Race.

We hear daily of men and women who are "working themselves to death." But work is as surely the friend of man as worry is his deadly foe. Unless careful care and stoicness, foreboding are beat with labor, work never kills. Yet worry plays its tens and hundreds of thousands every year.

The person who wishes to live long and beneficently should cultivate the desire to see others as comfortable as he wishes to be himself. He must not regret that others are better off in what makes living pleasant.

Here is a fact that some so-called philanthropists never learn: there lives not the human creature who is wholly uninteresting. Be on the alert to say something to those whom you meet that will commend them to your regard. Listlessness and the capacity for being bored bring more old people to the grave than disease or actual sorrow. If you have no other "job" in life, make one by forcing yourself to be interested in the welfare of your associates.—Youth's Companion.

Supplying a Necessity.

An English policeman entered the house of a publican one morning and informed him that it would be necessary to hold an inquest there in the afternoon. Now the landlord had a great objection to anything of the kind, and said: "Oh, I can't be troubled with inquests in my house. Here, what'll you have to drink?" Robert said he'd have a drop of Scotch, which he did. "Have a cigar, too," said the host. After the consumption of two Scotches and cigars the constable said he thought he could get the inquest held somewhere else, but as he was leaving the landlord remarked: "By the way, who are they going to hold the inquest on?" "No one as I know of now," said the man in blue; "but it 'ud 'a' been me if I hadn't had these drinks an' smokes."

Real Gratitude.

When Blaine was a young lawyer and cases were few, he was asked to defend a poverty-stricken tramp accused of stealing a watch. He pleaded with all the ardor at his command, drawing so pathetic a picture with such convincing energy that at the close of his argument the court was in tears and even the tramp wept. The jury deliberated a few minutes and returned the verdict "not guilty." Then the tramp drew himself up, tears streaming down his face as he looked at the future "plumed knight" and said: "Sir, I have never heard so grand a plea. I have not cried before since I was a child, I have no money with which to reward you, but (drawing a package from the depths of his ragged clothes), here's the watch; take it and welcome."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

He Thought Quietly.

She (sighing)—"Do you've been saying to people that I am fond of my own voice?" He—"Well, you have yourself admitted that you like music."

Saved His Foot.

H. D. Ely, of Boston, U.S., suffered from horrible ulcer on his foot for four years. Doctors advised amputation, but he refused and ultimately tried Huxley's Arnica Salve as a last resort. He then wrote: "I used your salve and my foot was soon completely cured." Best remedy for burns, cuts, vesicles, eczema. Get a box today. Only 25c. Recommended by Barrington Pharmacy—Adv.

Athletics for Women.

The Spartan women, in the privacy of their own gardens, often amused themselves by throwing the javelin and by shooting with an instrument much like the modern shotgun, but it was only as a form of amusement and not entered into with the competitive idea which is so emphasized in modern athletics because of its moral value.

It's much the same with a cough. Inflamed and cough-worn throat and lungs offer the best chance to consumption germs to begin their murderous work. There's only one way to prevent these deadly diseases getting a hold on you. As soon as a cough or cold attacks you, take Dr. King's New Discovery until you are entirely cured. Sometimes a dose or two will do the business, saving you suffering and a doctor's bill. Thousands of cures like these below prove its wonderful power to cure coughs and colds.

"I feel sure it's a Godsend to humanity," writes Mrs. Elsie Morton, Columbia, Mo., "for I believe I would have consumption to-day, if I had not used this great remedy."
"I take great pleasure in recommending your Dr. King's New Discovery for the benefit of suffering humanity. It's a thoroughly reliable remedy for all coughs, croup and lung troubles. We have used it in our family for fourteen years with the best results. It saved my mother when two doctors gave her up. She had a very severe case of pneumonia and was in bed seven weeks and part of the time 'out of her mind' so that she did not know me. I told father to get me two 50c bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, which he did, and on taking it she soon began to improve, and four bottles cured her entirely. You may publish this if you wish and I will answer all inquiries, with postage enclosed for reply."
