THIRD LICEUM NUMBER FRIDAY

The Lewis Company Will Entertain at the Assembly Room Tomorrow Evening.

The Lewis Concert Company is composed of Lawrence L. Lewis, baritone and Impresario; Gretchen Meyer, soprano and reader; Edna May Brown, violinist and pianist.

This company is no experiment. It has been under Redpath management now for three years and has succeeded in conducting a program of the really classical in music and literature with that which is purely amateur, and thus providing not only an evening of wholesome entertainment, but also one of profit and laughter.

In music Lawrence L. Lewis and Gretchen Meyer have graduated under Frederick Howard, until his death one of the greatest teachers of voice in America. Edna May Brown's work as violinist and pianist is of a very high order.

The program of the Lewis Concert Company consists of vocal duets and vocal solos by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis; violin solos by Mrs. Brown, readings by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis and a musical sketch, "Romeo's Courtship" that "runs down the house" every time.

The Lewis company will give an entertainment at the high school assembly room Friday evening, March 6. The lecture course which is being conducted here this year is under the auspices of the high school and should be well supported by the citizens of this village.

Conduct the Jobs.

Prompt Payment of Claims.

I will acknowledge receipt of payment of the amount due me under a policy of fire insurance issued by the Modern Woodmen of America. I fully appreciate the promptness in which my claim was paid and cheerfully recommend the policy to "depend" during insurance.

A TOY ELEVATOR.
If there is a slanting porch to your house, it will be easiest to build this toy elevator to run from the ground up to that porch, as illustrated in Fig. 1, and if you live in an upper story of an apartment building, your elevator can be made to run to a much greater height, which, of course, will be a great deal more fun.

Figure 2 shows a larger detail of the supports for the elevator cables and pulleys. Cross strips A, B and C should be 12 or 15 inches long, about 1 inch wide and 1 inch thick. At a distance of about 1 inch from one end of strips A and B, screw a screw-eye into one end, and 8 inches from there screw a second screw-eye (D, Fig. 2). Screws with 1/2 inch eyes are large enough. A dozen of these can be bought at the hardware store for 5 cents. The elevator guides are fastened to them. Between the screw-eyes you must have two clothes-lines in half, with edges A together (Fig. 2), fold it in half again, edges B together (Fig. 2), and fold corner D over to corner C (Fig. 4). This will give you the form shown in Fig. 4. This is the basket bottom. Turn up the edges all around, folding along the dotted line shown in Fig. 6, and to these upturned edges paste a strip of paper 1 1/2 inches wide and 23 inches long for the sides of the basket. Basket "B" has a heart-shaped bottom cut out of a piece of paper 6 inches by 14 inches in size (Fig. 1). Fold the paper in half with edges A together (Fig. 2), fold it in half again, edges B together (Fig. 2), and fold corner D over to corner C (Fig. 4). This will give you the form shown in Fig. 4. This is the basket bottom. Turn up the edges all around, folding along the dotted line shown in Fig. 6, and to these upturned edges paste a strip of paper 1 1/2 inches wide and 23 inches long for the sides of the basket.

into pulleys. These will cost 5 cents each. Screw one pulley into the edge of strip D, halfway between the two screw-eyes D (Fig. 2), the other into an edge of strip D at the same distance from the end and you have placed the pulley in strip D (Fig. 2).

Nail strip A to the porch post, so close to the ground as you can get it. Strip B to the same post at the same point, about 10 inches above the porch railing, and strip C to the opposite side of the post at the same height as strip B. Nail these strips securely so they will be firm.

If you cannot find a small box in the house out of which to make the elevator car, go to the grocery store and you will be able to find just what you want among the grocery empty boxes. Figure 3 shows how the box is made into a car. Screw two screw-eyes into each side of the box, one over the other, as shown in Fig. 3, for the elevator guides to run through, screw another into the exact center of the top of the box (D), to tie the lifting cable to, and screw another into the exact center of the bottom of the box of the car, at the bottom, to keep things from falling out.

Get a heavy wrapping twine or some stovepipe wire for the elevator guides. Attach them to screw-eyes D in strip B, lead them to the ground, slip them through screw-eyes D in the side of the car, and run them to screw-eye D in strip A.

The counterbalance is a new-possible plain bakeware can filled with earth, sand or small stones. Weigh the lifting cable through holes punched in opposite sides of the can, just below where the ends of the can converge (Fig. 3). Use a strong string for the counterbalance. After tying it to the counterbalance, run it over pulley P and up to screw-eye D in the top of the car.

WILL IMPROVE FAIR GROUNDS

Board of Agriculture Completes Arrangements.

SIDEWALKS WILL BE COVERED

Visitors to the 1914 Illinois Exposition Will Not Be Compelled to Leave Shelter on Rainy Days.

Springfield—Arrangements are being completed by the Illinois state board of agriculture for the construction of the fair grounds of the exposition at the fair grounds of Springfield, for side-walks and the laying of cement walks where there are no sidewalks. At present the overhead protection extends to the north end of the grounds so that people will not be compelled to leave shelter on rainy days. The legislature recently appropriated $10,000 for the purpose of erecting these walks and the work of constructing them will begin about April 1.

New Organization Perfected.
The formal organization of the Coal Operators' Association of Central Illinois was consummated by thirty representative operators of this district at Springfield. The association will be the independent of any existing similar organizations.

The officers chosen were: Charles H. Hunt, president; Patrick P. Murphy, vice-president; and George A. Woods, secretary and treasurer. The executive committee: James W. Jordan, Eugene Colvin, D. A. Watson, Louis W. Freeman and John L. Dixon.

The executive meeting was held following a dinner which was arranged by the operators at the St. Nicholas hotel. The purpose of the new association is to perfect a more efficient system whereby the several miners' organizations may deal more directly than in the past with labor, and facilitate the handling of problems that confront the operators of this district from time to time.

The new organization comes into being at a critical time in the year and faces the demands of the miners to become effective April 1, when the present wage agreement expires. The recent local conference at Philadelphia was unsuccessful in an attempt to adjust the demands of both sides and was forced to adjourn with little accomplished. The state-wide conference will be held in Peoria at the conclusion of the state convention of miners, which is at present in session at Peoria.

State Convention in Springfield.
A state convention of the Loyal Order of Moose met in Springfield for a discussion of the building of cottages at Moonport, near Aurora, Ill. In addition to taking up this subject, the convention was on record as favoring a new degree lodge in the order, to be known as the Loyal Legion.

The session was called to order by E. A. W. Johnson of Chicago, the temporary chairman of the temporary organization to further the building of the cottages at Moonport. Mr. Johnson gave a forceful and eloquent address on the purpose of the vocational school at Moonport.

Final arrangements of the Moonport proposition were held in session until the next meeting of the executive committee.

The funds to defray the cost of the proposition are to be raised from the partial diversion of yearly dues paid by each member of the different lodges in the state. Each member of the different lodge in the state pays $1 a year in dues and $1 of each $10 paid into the treasury would be diverted to the building fund.

It was decided to form a Loyal Legion in the order. Five lodges in the state of Illinois, and it was decided by the committee appointed to recommend that chapters be installed in Chicago, Glenview, Danville, Rock Island, Bloomington and Springfield.

The Loyal Order of Moose was formed in 1888, but did not progress to a great extent until the year of 1906. In 1906 the order contained 247 lodges in the United States. In 1914 the membership had grown to 525,000 members in 10 lodges in the United States and Canada.

Hougham Requisition Issued.
A requisition for the return to Bloomington of Louis K. E. Hougham, under arrest at Rockford, Kan., and charged with the embezzlement of $1,000 from the American Express company at Bloomington, was issued. Hougham is accused of taking a package containing $1,000 of express from a bank at St. Paul, Minn., to the Peoples bank at Bloomington, October 1, 1913, which he was the employer of the express company at the latter place.

Fire Prevention Meetings.
In furtherance of the fire prevention policy which is being carried out under the administration of State Fire Marshal Walter H. Henshaw, a series of meetings has been planned for this month and April.

At each meeting, State Fire Marshal Henshaw will deliver an address on "The Fire Problem in Illinois." Representatives of the Illinois Fire Protection association also will speak.

The first, now scheduled, includes the following meetings: Peoria, March 11; Geneva, March 21; Cairo, April 8; Mendota, April 15; Aurora, April 22.

Ten inspectors from the state fire marshal's department and twelve from the state fire protection association will assist in the work.

A special feature in connection with the fire prevention work which will be taken up by the state department will be that of a campaign of instruction in the matter of putting out fires, saying particular attention to the extinguishment of fires by the use of chemicals. It is the policy of the department to enlist the cooperation and help of some of the most prominent citizens of the state, and to have at each of these meetings a representative of the chief make an address on the proper method of fighting fires, taking into consideration the water supply, the fire fighting equipment, and the fire department in particular town in which the meeting is held.

U. of I. Students Fear Fever.
Despite reassurances by state and local authorities that the acute hemorrhagic fever, which is now rampant in the United States, is not contagious, students of the University of Illinois are still fearful of the disease.

Peoria spread from the university in the Peoria City when fever fever broke out in the city. The fever is not contagious, but is a very serious disease, and is now rampant in the United States.

He was cut down by his son before his wife was called, but died before a physician arrived. Temporary insanity brought on by severe headaches resulting from sinusitis when a lady is ascribed as the cause.

Waukegan—The first time since the new contagion hospital, south of Peoria, was erected for just such patients and attendants. There are now four fever patients here, including children from among the least known families. None of the cases are serious, but need close attention, therefore they were all ordered to the new hospital.

It was created for just such cases of contagion, and while it has been ready for emergency ever since never until now has it been used to this extent.

Belleville—Four dollars and eighty cents worth of nickels may prove disastrous to Louis Cammard, who swallowed them following a challenge to a fellow-laborer, as a result of a discussion as to their relative capacities for doing better.

The challenger, friend told Belleville police, succeeded in swallowing only seven nickels. Cammard was found ill and a physician was called to visit where both are employed. Cammard and John Gajdial, the challenger, were discussing fire, nail, tack and glass enters they had seen. Gajdial suggested and Cammard swallowed the nickels.

Peoria—The Illinois division of the United Mine Workers of America adopted a resolution condemning the National Guard and urging all local unions to do everything in their power to keep their members from affiliating with the various companies which are in the employ of the National Guard.

The resolution requires that in every industrial struggle the National Guard has been found to be an enemy of the worker. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 200 to 10. After a hard fight on the floor of the convention it was decided to donate $10,000 to the striking miners in the Michigan copper district.

Marionville—The original seal of Madison county, missing for half a century, was found and probably had been lost long ago in a county prisoner had not discovered it to be a good buy. Cracker. Mr. J. J. Jones, former state's attorney, was looking over papers in an office at the court house at Edwardsville when he noticed a prisoner, who had the run of the jail, cracking nuts on a window all with a brass die. It appeared of antiquity attracted the attention of Jones.

He asked the man what it was. That person did not know, except that it made a very good nut cracker. Jones examined it and discovered it was the best seal seal.

Aurora—Yielding to persons who have faith in aged superstitions, the authorities at the suggestion of an occultist, photographed the eye of a dead man. The photograph was being prepared for burial. Attorney Traylor admitted that, saying it was the worst of men, including the occultist, who made the suggestion, that the retina of a murdered person's eye reflects the things of the murderer.

Whether the suggestion held by the authorities should be anything of this kind, was not revealed by the state's attorney. Neither did it say whether it would be introduced as evidence in any proceedings growing out of the shooting to death of Miss Hollister in a cemetery near Aurora.

Hillboro—The Springfield county jail, built on the Courthouse square in 1865, was sold at auction to P. P. Henshaw, of Litchfield, for $111. The old landmark, which is supposed by a modern jail and sheriff's residence, built at a cost of $25,000 will be removed within the next few weeks. No one knows when the new jail, which was built prior to the close of the Civil war.

Bloomington—Mrs. J. H. Ballard, eighty-three years old and living alone in the country near Litchfield, was buried to death when her house was destroyed by fire.

Peoria—The first time since the new contagion hospital, south of Peoria, was erected for just such patients and attendants. There are now four fever patients here, including children from among the least known families. None of the cases are serious, but need close attention, therefore they were all ordered to the new hospital.
