TWO DEATHS ARE RECORDED THIS WEEK

Mrs. L. E. Lines Passed Away Wednesday Morning After Her Home From a Long Illness.

JOHN BARNETT DIED IN CHICAGO

Was Stricken With Pneumonia and Died Last Saturday at German Hospital, Chicago.

Mrs. L. E. Lines, wife of L. E. Lines, proprietor of the Commercial hotel, died Wednesday morning of diabetes here after an illness extending over the past few years.

Mrs. Lines was born near Woodstock August 13, 1861, and was fifty-eight months and two days old at the time of her death. Her early childhood was spent in and near Woodstock, Illinois. She was married to L. E. Lines of this village and since that time she has been a resident here. Mrs. Lines has not been strong for the past several years but she was not until about the last few months of her life. Two years ago her health began to fail and she was a patient and never completely recovered and though her life was a very hard one she bore up very bravely. She was a very home-loving woman and her thoughts were always of her and her family. She was a kind and generous neighbor and industrious worker.

One daughter, Halley, was born to her with the sorrowing burden to nurse her loss of a devoted mother and wife.

Resides the immediate family she leaves four sisters and four brothers, namely: One sister, Miss Jennie M. Enry, has been her constant companion for the past few years. Another sister died three years ago.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon from her late home on Main street at 220 p. m. and will be in charge of Rev. George E. Leckner of Bristol, Wisconsin, assisted by Rev. George H. Leckner of the local Baptist church and Rev. C. F. Maun of the Methodist church.

Interment will be made in Evergreen cemetery in this village. Mrs. Lines was a patient and never completely recovered and though her life was a very hard one she bore up very bravely.

U. S. SENDS FLEET TO COMPEL HUERTA TO SALUTE FLAG

Warships and 15,000 Men Rushed to Tampico to Enforce Demands.

MAY TAKE GULF PORT

Cabinet and Congress Indorse Move to Gain Reparation for Arrest of Sailors.

DICTATOR IS NOT WORRIED

Declares That Honor of Republic is at Stake and Refers to the Demands Made by Admiral.

San Antonio, Tex., April 13.—General Villa's rebels have defeated the combined federal army in a nine day battle which is reported to have been the hardest fought of the whole war. It took place 40 miles east of Tampico. The total casualties are unknown. An official report from Villa places the number of federal losses at 5,000. This is thought to have been an error. Other reports place the combined federal losses at 2,500.

Mexico City, April 15.—Optimism prevails in official circles. It is stated on high authority that President Huerta believes the difficulties of the nation are rapidly approaching a solution by which all elements will be called. General Huerta showed little concern when the news reached the palace that President Wilson, had ordered more American battleships to Tampico to compel the federal government to saluate the United States flag. It is known that the Mexican president regards the apology he has already made as ample.

Washington, April 15.—At a long cabinet meeting President Wilson and his advisers reached a decision that the policy of "watchful waiting" must be abandoned for a more drastic one of dealing with President Huerta. As a result of the cabinet meeting, orders were sent to Rear Admiral Charles J. Rodgers, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, to proceed to Hampton roads, to proceed with the vessels under his command to the Atlantic coast or in the West Indies were either ordered to Tampico or directed to sail themselves in readiness.

The idea of sending such a great fleet to Tampico was first to lead the Huerta government to salute the American flag as an apology for the arrest of American bluejackets.

Many United States marines with machine guns are secretly in Mexico City in plain clothes, prepared to lead in the defense of the American colony if the aggressive measures by the United States government should precipitate retaliatory action.

Rear Admiral Mayo reported this morning to the navy department: "The attack of the constitutionalists on Tampico is undoubtedly over and the refugees who were taken on board battleships at Tampico are now being landed."

No ultimatum time. No specified time was set within which the Huerta government must comply, but the naval demonstration was ordered as a preventive evidence of the force determination of the United States to back up Rear Admiral Mayo's demand for a salute.

Rear Admiral Mayo's fleet at Tampico, not including vessels that are held in readiness, although not actually ordered to the scene, will consist of 11 great battleships with many cruisers and auxiliary craft, amounting to all about fifteen thousand men.

Marine Baiting Crew. The decision to throw the fleet was reached after the president and secretary Ryan had conferred for an hour with John Lind, personal representative of the president in Mexico, and after a two-hour cabinet meeting.

During which dispatches from Charles O'Chaudrony revealed that the Huerta government disputed the right of American bluejackets to be saluted as Tampico and contended that the recent public statement of Admiral Mayo's immediately after the cabinet meeting authorized Secretary Daboll to issue the order in the Atlantic that the fleet was ordered to sail.

Without success. The fleet was ordered to sail from the coast under steam for Tampico.

MEXICO'S FORCES.

At Tampico—Gonzalez Vera Cruz, Bravo and Zaragoza; Gen. Morales Zaragoza and garrison of about one thousand soldiers.

At Vera Cruz—Gen. Gustavo Maza and garrison of about five hundred soldiers.

At Tampico—The largest fighting force in the world is being given by the attention to the situation in the Pacific. Most of the American warships in the Pacific already are in Mexico waters.

Twelve thousand troops are in Texas City, where four army transports are at anchor, and thousands of cavalry and infantry are spread along the border where they can be moved quickly.

New light on the arrest of the Dolphin's men was given by the report of the Dolphin's men to the federal government. A statement by the department from Rear Admiral Fletcher.

Admiral Fletcher reported to the department at 3 p. m. Tuesday that the Dolphin's men were received by him in the extension of martial law of objection to the United States. Stewards, etc., were going ashore when necessary.

"Only part of the whole boat's crew of the Dolphin were out of the boat to board shore. The men of the boat were bluejackets, not marines."

John Lind, U. S. minister in Mexico, in conference with the president and secretary Ryan, expressed a hopeful mood.

For two hours the cabinet discussed the issue and the possible consequences of drastic action. Then the president declared that he was warning the Huerta government to salute the American flag as an apology for the arrest of American bluejackets.

Not intervention in Mexico. Cabinet officers and others were insistent that no change in the general policy toward Mexico was imminent and that so far as possible the Mexican situation would be left to the Mexicans to handle.

It was said there was no necessity of informing other foreign governments unless a state of blockade was declared.

It will be fully a week before the Atlantic fleet is assembled at Tampico, although the ships are expected to be steaming away today. Rear Admiral Fletcher will rank both Rear Admiral Mayo and Rear Admiral Mayo and will take complete charge of the situation.

While the ships are under way General Huerta will have virtually a week in which to answer the American demand. The crisis is expected to come if General Huerta declines to yield by the time the Atlantic fleet arrives.

It was pointed out by some that the United States might land marines and send Tampico to obtain satisfaction for the incident, but this raised the question whether an act of war would be involved.

Insured on no government is recognized in Mexico, but a state of anarchy exists, the American government may establish its own precedent in Mexico.

ARMING THE POLICEMEN OF CHICAGO

Chicago's policemen were equipped with revolvers the other day, after being carefully instructed in their use. In the photograph they are seen practicing the weapons, and despite their general fearlessness, they seem to be handling the revolvers in the stately manner, characteristic of most warriors.

HUERTA DEFIES ORDER

DICTATOR FLAUNTS HAYES'S DEMAND TO HONOR U. S. FLAG.

President Wilson Ready to Enforce Dictator's "Old Glory" Must Be Saluted.

Vera Cruz, April 15.—The federal government at Vera Cruz, Gen. Gustavo Maza and the Mexican government had ordered Gen. Morales Zaragoza of Tampico not to salute the American flag by the federal government.

The government considers that such a step would be highly derogatory to national dignity and was uncalculated for as no insult had been offered to the American flag. Through his apology for the unfortunate mistake made in arresting American General Zaragoza, added General Maza, had made ample compensation.

Reports of indignities to the flag of the Dolphin's men were apparently very unfounded. The advice of Admiral Mayo to Admiral Fletcher was the flag was not removed from the socket in the stern of the boat.

In the formation of the demand for a national salute Admiral Mayo took the position that an affront to the uniform was identical with an insult to the flag. Admiral Fletcher reported to the department at 3 p. m. Tuesday that the Dolphin's men were received by him in the extension of martial law of objection to the United States.

Stewards, etc., were going ashore when necessary. "Only part of the whole boat's crew of the Dolphin were out of the boat to board shore. The men of the boat were bluejackets, not marines."

MINE STRIKE IS OFF

WARNING COPPER MINERS IN CALUMET DISTRICT ABANDON DEMAND FOR MINE.

CLAIM SOME POINTS WON

Charles H. Mayer Will Not Discuss Action Until He Receives the Official Vote—Head of W. F. M. and Others Must Stand Trial.

Hancock, Mich., April 15.—The mine strike in the copper country was abandoned on Saturday July 22 voted to call off the strike, according to an announcement made on Monday by Charles H. Hietala, district secretary of the Western Federation of Miners.

The miners will not be given out until after a meeting of the district board. It is unofficially reported that the majority in favor of calling off the strike was 1,012. The unofficial vote from four of the five locals in the district resulted as follows: Amabel, 600 for and 400 against; Calumet, 600 for and 400 against; Hietala, 600 for and 400 against; South Range, 400 for and 400 against.

Recognition of the union decided by the mining companies is waived by the strikers in coming to return to work. The fact of their employees to organize in the coming year has been granted.

Several thousand men have been employed in the district since the strike was called off. The companies will be hard pressed to find work for the returning strikers.

The strike has been attended by considerable violence and there has been some loss of life. The National Guard was ordered out on the early days of the strike to assist the civil authorities in preserving order. There has been no disorder of any consequence for several months.

Hietala said the strike had cost the union more than one million dollars. Hietala, who is a member of the W. F. M. and the 17 other officers and members of the Western Federation of Miners must stand trial under the indictment charging them with conspiracy in connection with their activities in the copper mines' strike.

Circuit Judge O'Brien on Monday decided to postpone the trial of the 18 men until after the federal grand jury has returned a verdict on the charges against them.

Dever, Colo., April 15.—Charles H. Mayer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, said: "I do not believe an announcement of the future policy of the federation would be advisable at this time. I expect to prepare a statement as soon as I receive official advice from our representatives in Hietala as to the outcome of Sunday's referendum."

HITS RADIUM "CURE"

EXPERTS ASSESS KNIFE IS BEST FOR CANCER.

Dr. William H. Mayo Addresses Foremost Surgeons of the Country at New York.

New York, April 14.—All hope of curing cancer by radium has been abandoned by some of the foremost surgeons and research workers of the country, who declared at the meeting of the American Society for the Control of Cancer that the failure of radium to cure the cancer 100 to 1. That nothing is of avail against the most dreaded disease but the speedy use of the knife was the opinion advanced by Dr. William H. Mayo of Rochester, Minn.

Operation is the only cure, but radium or ray treatment is in order as a temporary palliative where operation is impossible, according to Dr. Francis G. Wood, director of cancer research at Columbia university. Radium from radium ointment the cure from four of the five locals in the district resulted as follows: Amabel, 600 for and 400 against; Calumet, 600 for and 400 against; Hietala, 600 for and 400 against; South Range, 400 for and 400 against.

THE PEOPLE BACK HOME

By JESSIE FAKTER.

"I never saw sugar on them," said the young woman with the gold-brown hair as she dug out a section of grapefruit daintily.

"This is nothing but caviar," sneered her friend. "I do hope things will be different. I offered Jackson here in the railroad station so that we need waste no part of our two precious hours hunting a more delectable spot. Harry's thoughtful business engagement gives me a chance to hear all about this splendid good fortune of yours and Harry's. I was so glad to hear it. Tell me how it happened."

"First, how I'm looking?" asked the wife of the new president of the Frisky Match company.

"Very lovely, indeed. Claret colored clothes always did suit you. Never a word about 'I always did like that suit.' You saw a dress?" laughed her friend. "You saw it last year. But I gave it to little wear. And this winter I have needed it not at all in California. That was a wonderful idea, dear. So I am wearing it back home bravely—comfortable for the first time in two years."

"It is perfect and I raved about it last year. But you know I am always expecting to see some unusual creation when you telegraph me to meet you on your way to Ridgewood. That long is such a great place that no one can blame you. I never go back there. 'That is the way I solve the problem.' 'But your relatives are no longer there.' 'I told her so.' 'That makes all the difference. I have simply had to go and see mother and dad once a year. If it hadn't been for you to talk to each way for two hours I couldn't have lived through it.'"

"You see," she went on, "we began all wrong. It was partly mother's training, but she could not help that, coming from the southern home, as she did, and living there in Ridgewood. We have always been paying for my dress for any reception of Harry's friends for the Wallace's dinner or something. It has been foolish, of course, for in the city we go to so few roll dress affairs. A tailored suit and a few dressy blouses would in almost anywhere I go, as in the city. I feel over-dressed in my Ridgewood wardrobe."

"The first summer, when we went home, we should have taken a firm stand, but we didn't. We had done the best we could and were glad that summer things got so little. Then came that elaborate dance of the Kings at the country club."

"You remember Richard King? Well, so did Harry! He had come into his thirty money and was living up to it. To think of me having to go to that dance looking less prosperous than Ruth King did almost broke Harry's heart. His wedding clothes were still perfect, but I couldn't wear mine. Mother came to the rescue. She sent me to Miss Gernsey, who made my wedding things, with the tale that I could find nobody her equal in the city and had come home for her to make my clothes. So we went to the dance looking wonderful—our status veiled in white cloth."

"The minute we got home and could do so Harry sent mother a check. We all started to do it, but he wouldn't let it go, and he declared that it should never happen again. It didn't. We have managed to go back each year in the style demanded by Ridgewood. I have always hated the whole thing since. Mother has always planned for it in advance and has always sent us a list of questions she expected us to attend to before we even knew that Harry could get away. They are so horrible and I do appreciate."

"It isn't nearly so much that," broke in her cynical friend, "as what you get for an excuse to outshine each other in entertaining."

"There was that side of it," admitted the guest, laughing.

"It is. With the death of Mr. Holmes and Harry's election to the presidency and the great increase to our fortune our worries are over. Not the money side of it. We have been able to stand that party fairly well for two years past. It is the reputation of the thing that has finally rescued us."

"Mother sent us the home papers announcing Harry's ascendancy. 'Wealth comes to Ridgewood's son. Harry Willmet becomes president and chief stockholder of the Frisky Match company.' The entire column was fun. It was more than that—it was emancipation. Thus mother wrote us to come for father's birthday and not mind getting new clothes!"

"So we started last night on 24 hours' notice. I begged Harry to say that he didn't mind if I didn't have a new outfit. 'Wear any blundered old thing you please,' he said. 'They know how on call afford it, so why worry? And I don't!'"

Warmed-over Satisfaction. The professional fire fighter is too frequently seen to feel that dance to regard fires as an unattractive light, but the feelings of the amateur with a passion for "tasting" with the machine occasionally show an epicurean flavor.

While strolling to a fire in a large town in Massachusetts, one citizen overtook another who was going in the same direction.

"O dear!" the last gasped, quite out of breath. "I hope it's not the earthquake again. I've seen that twice already!"—Youth's Companion.

insulted Great Scientist. When a position was voted to Pasadena for his remarkable additions to scientific knowledge, from which he told millions of pounds sterling have inured, an ignorant lord was selected to announce the grant, but informed Pasadena that he did not think much of this scientific business, and added: "Now, really, Pasadena, it's all a humbug anyway, isn't it?" The learned chemist refused the position, until other better informed officials apologized humbly for the importance of "his lordship."

Applying Logic. Janie was visiting in a family orthodox to the point of decorativeness, the public saying of grace by the female members of the household. Janie, the matter having been explained to her in the long wait coming upon the father's breakfast table, pondered and finally uttered an important ultimatum. "Well, if we men can eat out loud, I don't see why they can't pray out loud when they say 'Thank you God' for the food!"

Bravery in Goodness. To do an evil act for base, To do a good one without fearing danger is common enough. But it is the part of a good man to do good and noble deeds though he do everything in doing them.—Pittsburgh.
