

Motorists Who Drove Haynes Cars in the Early Days Still Drive the Haynes

Twenty-one years ago, Elwood Haynes built the "first car," the little machine that gave birth to the American automobile industry. Ever since then, Haynes cars have been built, year in, year out, without interruption.

And during those twenty-one years, Haynes owners have been demonstrating in "road races" reliability runs, "hill climbs" of very description, under all conditions, in this country and abroad with themselves the only "competitors" that the Haynes is a good car, and that given ordinary care and attention, the Haynes remains a good car, a midday good car, in fact.

That's why these owners, after years of service, again purchase a Haynes. That's why such a large percentage of the Haynes annual production is sold every season to owners of old Haynes cars. That's why you should invest in the Haynes before you buy any car.

Elwood Haynes was ahead of the times when he built the first Haynes car in 1895. He is ahead of the times now in adopting the greatest automobile refinement in recent years—the V-8 Electric Drive Shaft. This drive eliminates the handshift lever entirely, and so simplifies the control of the Haynes that anyone can drive it. With it, the Haynes is electrically controlled throughout, mechanical shifting, steering, engine and ignition are accomplished by electricity.

NEW BUILDING FOR STATE OF ILLINOIS

Plans Will Be Formulated at Meeting May 6.

SESSION IN CAPITAL CITY

State Educational Building Commission Will Confer With the Committee on Contentional Architecture.

Springfield—A joint meeting of the state educational building commission and a committee of the Illinois central convention will be held Wednesday afternoon, May 6, at which time plans will be formulated for the new state building to be added to the general assembly next winter.

Arrangements for the meeting were made at a session of the contentional commission, State Superintendent of Schools Blair, who is secretary of the building commission, met with the contentional commission and the date for the joint meeting was agreed upon by all parties.

It is the intention of the joint commission to decide upon plans for a new state building, to be permanently recommended to the next legislature, with the idea of securing a preliminary appropriation next winter in order that building operations may start early.

The discussion at the contentional commission meeting indicated that instead of building for one large building, it is probable that the legislature will be asked to provide for the purchase of a tract of land near the state house upon which future buildings for the state may be erected as required. It is not unlikely that the joint commission will report in favor of a comprehensive plan for the construction of a new state building, to be erected upon a tract of land near the state house.

Governor Dunning is chairman of the state educational building commission, and State Senator Logan Hay of Springfield is chairman of the building commission of the contentional commission.

The contentional commission also provided for the preparation of five volumes of historical publications, in addition to the preliminary volume on "Illinois in 1812," which is now in course of preparation by Prof. Robert J. Dick of the University of Illinois. These five volumes probably constitute the entire list of publications authorized by the contentional commission.

The volume will constitute a complete and authoritative "Contentional History of Illinois." [An editor-in-chief and sub-editor of the proposed publications will be selected by the publication commission of the contentional commission, of which Dr. Otto Schmidt of Chicago is chairman. Printing of the books, however, will be undertaken until after the legislature makes appropriations for the purpose.]

Going to the serious illness of Senator C. S. Hearn of Quincy, chairman of the contentional commission, Senator H. H. Magill of Springfield was elected temporary chairman and will direct the work of the commission until Senator Hearn is able to take his place. Resolutions of greeting to Chairman Magill were adopted by the commission.

TORTURING TWINGES

Much-suffered rheumatism is caused by weakened kidneys. While the kidneys fail to clear blood of excess acid, the acid forms into crystals like bits of broken glass in the muscles, joints and on the nerve endings. Torturing aches start through the affected part wherever it is moved. By curing the kidneys, Dr. Williams' Kidney Pills have cured thousands of rheumatic cases, backache, sciatica, gravel, catarrhs and urinary disorders.

Admiral Fletcher Sends Report of Engagement to War Department at Washington—More Vessels Are Being Rushed to Aid Ship at Vera Cruz—Marines Land on Shore During Fierce Fight.

Washington, April 22.—The war is on. Acting under orders from the secretary of the navy to block the port of Vera Cruz and seize the customs house, Admiral Fletcher, in charge of the American forces, landed marines from the Utah, Florida and Prairie and proceeded to take the customs house.

A sharp engagement between the American and Mexican forces followed. Four American marines were killed and 200 Mexicans were wounded.

According to the report from Admiral Fletcher, the Mexican troops did not oppose the landing of the marines but proceeded to shell the Mexican customs house. The Mexicans employed artillery and made a desperate effort to drive the Americans out.

U. S. B. Prairie shells Mexicans. Admiral Fletcher at once ordered the Prairie to bring her big guns into play, and from her place to harbor she proceeded to shell the Mexican customs house.

The Prairie was ordered to shell the city for the reason that she is a lighter draft than either of the big battleships and by supporting shore to the water front could place her shells with greater precision.

All of this occurred while a great gale was gathering just outside the breakwater. The Mexican coast in the vicinity of Vera Cruz is subject to frequent visitations of hurricanes.

The most serious violence encountered anywhere in the world. Three persons were killed and a number of others were wounded.

new wounded in the first engagement were as follows: The dead—Coxswain Shoemaker, Corporal Haggerty, marine corps; Stennis Poulton, Fifth coast; The wounded—J. P. Pica, C. L. Leiby, C. D. Cameron, U. Schwartz, H. Macmillan, private marines, and Jefferson Gelbarne of the battleship Florida.

Nathan Schwartz, seaman, also died. New York, Charles J. Leahy, ordinary seaman, seventeen, New York city, died; third coast, Edward A. Clifton, eighteen, Quince, Mass.; C. D. Cameron, ordinary seaman, eighteen, Brooklyn, N. Y., and John P. Pica, twenty, Newark, N. J. All these were blackjacks from Florida, not marines.

Gale Stops Refugees. According to dispatches received from Vera Cruz earlier in the day the customs house was crowded with American women and children waiting to be taken in one of the vessels chartered by the United States and waiting in the harbor. The Express was requested as early as last night, but owing to the gale did not put out. She still had accommodations for several hundred refugees.

Receipt of word from Admiral Fletcher that fighting had begun, and that four marines had been killed, galvanized the war and army departments into immediate activity.

Washington, April 22.—The navy department received an official dispatch from Fletcher stating that the American dead and wounded have been removed to the ship. The fleet has reached Vera Cruz. In response to a wireless request from Secretary Daniel R. Adams, Admiral Fletcher replied the following list account of the action of Vera Cruz by the American forces. The dispatch is dated April 22, 10 p. m., and reached Washington shortly after one o'clock.

Admiral Fletcher's Report. Vera Cruz, April 22.—Three hundred marines composed the first landing party. They reached the shore at 10:30 p. m. and landed at 11:30 p. m.

The federal telegraph and cable lines were first occupied. Up to this time no Mexican troops were in sight. After they were discovered the fight broke out in the streets and the church square.

The first shot fired was by a private who hit a marine near the cable office. The fight was opened up by the Mexican forces at 10:15. At 12:15 five companies of marines were in action.

A steady fire was being delivered upon the Americans from the old church tower, and to put these "snipers" out of action a three-inch field piece from the Florida, commanded by Captain Greig, put five shots into the tower. This silenced the Americans completely from all danger.

Marines Protected by Vessels. At 1:30 Utah landing force came ashore near the barracks protected by fire from the transport Prairie. By this time the Mexican firing had been checked and a few English snipers were sent to guard the fleet's consulate.

The Mexicans soon got into action again and at two o'clock the firing had become furious. Up to this point two Americans had been killed and seven wounded.

Capt. Hughes Warns Huerta General. The Prairie was still firing occasionally and she had a shelling effect. At three o'clock Captain Hughes came ashore to make an observation of the results. As he passed by the Florida's three-inch field piece he called out to the firing squad.

"Any man having as much fun as you I will shoot," he said.

At 3:30 Captain Hughes tried to get into sight of all stations. To be effective, and he believed it would have to be established by a force sufficient to take the town under his control.

word to General Mias, the Mexican commander, that if he did not cease the town would be bombarded. This word reached General Mias but produced little result. Fighting continued. The warships held their position. The battle advanced along the waterfront from the water front and were stationed among the custom house buildings. This brings them close up to the principal plaza. Mexican citizens now believe that most of their troops are out of the city.

Consul General Reported Killed. Washington, April 22.—It is generally known here that a serious riot is in progress in Mexico City. There also is a rumor that Consul General Arnold Shanks had been murdered and forty other Americans wounded. There is no official confirmation of the story, but there is general fear that it may be true.

Under Consul General Shanks's personal supervision the Americans in the principal Mexican cities were armed two years ago, in expectation that President Taft would order intervention at that time.

Women and Children Flee. Vera Cruz, April 22.—Two sections of the hospital train bearing refugees from Mexico City have arrived here. A third section is expected soon.

Most of the passengers on board the trains are Americans, the majority being women and children. There is no evidence of attack among these people when they arrived here. In fact, they looked more like a picnic party than refugees from a danger zone.

shot at eight o'clock. The four Americans died in Vera Cruz, the 29 wounded, and the 200 Mexicans reported killed in the taking of the city. Because the text of the talk, pronounced in heated-voice, and greeted with a solemn silence throughout the senate chamber, packed in suffocation.

As the shrill of debate was thrown back and forth a hot spasm of the house of representatives crowded the rear of the senate hall.

Secretary of State Bryan, himself often referred to in the debate, Secretary of War Garrison, Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Postmaster General Harlan, Secretary of the Treasury McKim and Secretary to the President Taft, all sat about the chamber. They listened eagerly and held widespread conferences as the discussion progressed.

The diplomatic gallery was filled with members of the diplomatic corps, with Ambassador Springrigg of Great Britain at their head. As the hours dragged along and the news from Vera Cruz spread through Washington, crowds of fashionably gowned women and spectators from every walk of life packed the galleries and thronged the corridors of the senate chamber.

Root Urges Change. The Republican side of the senate, led by Senator Root, demanded that the "justification" proposed in the resolution for a movement in force against Mexico be founded not on the Tampico incident but on the line of conduct of Huerta against American citizens and their property, including the capture in northern Mexico, where the constitutionalists are in possession.

Senators Reed and James vigorously defended the committee resolution, declaring that the issue to be fought at Tampico justified all that the resolution provided.

As the fight went on, and senator after senator demanded an opportunity to be heard, the atmosphere in the chamber grew more and more tense. Senator Phil of New Mexico made a lengthy plea for a campaign that would cover the length and breadth of the issue.

COULDN'T STAND FOR DEFEAT

According to London Newspaper, Colored Opponent of Irishman Had Little Chance.

A heavy son of this was killed as time keeper in a rough and ready fight between his mate and a negro in South America. In the course of the fight a well-planted blow sent the Irishman headboard.

"Don't" cried the time keeper, in a hoarse voice, watch in hand.

"Well," he murmured heartily, "Pat, to foot, git up! There's only eight seconds left!"

The inert mass never moved.

"There!" shouted the time keeper
desperately. "Think of yer old mother, Pat! What's it a'd be saying to ye,
'Blast the nigger!'"

Slowly he called up to eight, looking up his mate with patriotic eloquence between each long second. When eight had been called Pat slowly elevated to his feet, and by a mighty lunge succeeded in knocking down his black opponent.

Desperately fearing lest he should revive in time, the time keeper set out at top speed:

"One, two, three, four, five and sixty-two! You're out, ye black villain!"
—London Tit-Bits.

The Same Thing:
Secretary Garrison, apropos of his bill for creating six vice-admirals, said
at a luncheon in Washington:

"This bill will make things better from a diplomatic standpoint, though the actual working of the navy will remain the same. Yes, the navy itself will be like Brown."

"Brown, like through slack times, started to tramp to Buffalo by way of the Erie canal to look for a job.

"He met on his way a good many canal boats coming up and down, and finally stopping a canal boat captain,
he offered to work his passage.

"The captain took him on and set him to leading the horses along the towpath.

"He led the horses for two days, thinking hard. On the third day he had thought it all out, and so resigned.

"By the way," he said, "I might as well walk as work my passage."

Striking school teachers in London have won their strike for a minimum salary of £200 a year.

Besides the brother mentioned above, three sisters survive him, one sister, Harris, having passed the better life more than twenty years ago. George Glynn was a good citizen, a kind brother, and his life was indeed exemplary. He had long been in poor health thus his relatives here were prepared for this news of his death. He was born June 20, 1842, and was nearly 70 years old at the time of his death.

COMEDY THEATRE.

The popular comedies of the Comedy theatre, formerly the Wilkey and later Joe Brown's, one of the finest playhouses in Chicago is to be celebrated by the premier production of "The Under Dog," the new and highly original comedy by Russell Marshall and Oliver Bailey, the authors of "The Traffic," which recently completed a four-months triumph in the same theatre. "The Under Dog" does not deal with any phase of the so-called "sex problem," but is even more sensational in its disclosure of the aerial transgression which over a brief term in the average promiscuity can work upon the plastic mind and heart of a boy or man. A love story of intensely human interest, and truth is woven like a bright thread through the texture of a most remarkable play, and the hero, taken by insurmountable obstacles, in her effort to save "the under-dog" and for a time won by the conflicting emotions of a rich and poor and for wifely loyalty, finds in the denouement the triumph of victory of a pure and well won peace. The swift action of this play, its surprising appeal to both heart and head, its rushing climaxes and splendid scenes, promise for it an even greater and more enduring success than "The Traffic."

The production will be wholly in Chicago. The scenery, equipment, investment and rehearsal all bearing the Chicago distinction. "The Under Dog" is the first play to be produced in the Comedy theatre since its reorganization by Selwyn & Company, when "The Comedy" theatre in New York and Boston have been making brilliant theatrical shows. The Chicago will be the Chicago home of Selwyn & Company.

MINERAL SALT NOT NECESSARY.

Herman Melville found the Marquesas Islands perfectly healthy; there were no invalids among them, and there was no salt, but such as the girls gathered from the sea—as a luxury to be enjoyed by a chief—at a pinch. Apparently a healthy life can be lived upon only such salt as is supplied by the vegetables the earth affords.
