BEST GRAHAM
On last Monday afternoon May 4:30 o'clock, in the presence of family and a few intimate friends Pauline Graham of this place united in marriage to George W. of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania. The religious ceremony was performed by O. F. Mattison, pastor of the Methodist church at her home on Hoagh st

The service used was that given in the ritual of the Methodist church. There were present six invited guests: Mrs. C. Robel, and son, Chas. Omaha, Nebraska; Dr. Snowden of Chicago, relatives of the bride; Josephine Clark of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania; Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. G. Mrs. Robert Mickey, with Misses and Zella Mickey and Robel, Vinton Mickey, Mrs. Pattison, Darrow and Mrs. Mattison.

A wedding supper followed the ceremony. The bride is an attractive and young lady who during her residence in Barrington has made many friends from these and other friends who received many substantial tokens of good will. She will be greatly missed in the circle of her acquaintance.

The groom has a position with Carnegie Steel company in Pittsburg.

and is a young man of high standing and much promise.

Mr. and Mrs. Best will make home in Pittsburg, from which Mrs. Best came to Barrington, years ago with her mother's Charles H. Graham, superintendent of the R. R. Hammond farms, is a of the bride.

There seems every reason to for Mr. and Mrs. Best a brig happy future.

JAMES DENNETT

There was a quiet wedding Saturday afternoon May 2, Methodist parsonage on Cook Barrington. Miss Madge Stellennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Bennett of this place, was united in marriage to Frank Davis Jamison of Libertyville. Rev. O. F. Mendenhall performed the ceremony.

Miss Bennett, now Mrs. J.

well known in Barlington, being highly esteemed, as a most energetic young lady. She is a graduate of high school and is a member of the Methodist church and a worker in the Junior League. She is also an employee in the telephone exchange. For several years past she has been in Libertyville and she has been superintendent of the telephone office.

The groom, Mr. James, is 4 and a very fine young man, well
of by all who know him.
Mr. and Mrs. James seem well and will have the hearty, good and congratulations of many both here and in Libertyville
they will reside.

HAGER-KASTEN

Last Saturday evening in the sonage of St. Peter's Evangelical

Mr. Hager is well known in his large having lived most of his life here. He has been employed with the Serrice company and has been at Des Plaines for the past year.

ARMED STRIKING MINERS AT LUDLOW, COLORADO

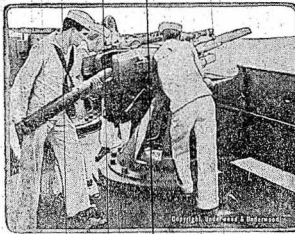

During the bloody conflict in Colorado between the striking miners on one side and the mine owners and state troops on the other, the strikers have been well equipped with arms. Hundreds of them are here shown at the depot in Ludlow, each man carrying a gun.

JACKIES PATROLING MAIN STREET OF VERA CRUZ

A company's guard of American bluecoats patrolling the Avenida de Independencia, the main street of Vera Cruz. They are taking a Mexican prisoner to the guardhouse established near the railway yards.

WHEN THEY SHELLED VERA CRUZ

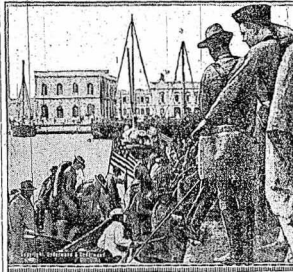

Shells burst on an American warship ramming into a three-masted night fire ship off the wharves which was hurled at Vera Cruz when the shelling of the city was made necessary by the persistence of the Mexican "soldados."

MARINES PITCHING CAMP AT VERA CRUZ

Marines from the American fleet photographed as they were preparing to pitch their camp ashore in Vera Cruz.

TAKING THE STARS AND STRIPES ASHORE

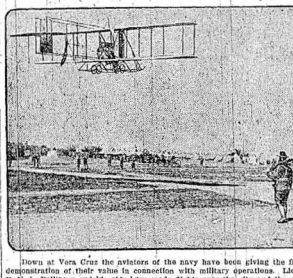

Scenes at the Vera Cruz docks as the Jackies and marines from the battleship Florida clambered ashore, hoisting the American flag.

MARINES MOVING GUNS INTO VERA CRUZ

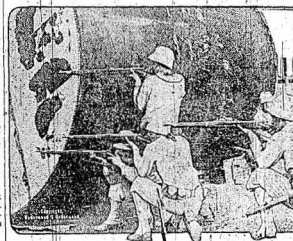

Marines from the American fleet are here seen drawing guns and caissons through the streets of Vera Cruz. The building in the background is a hotel.

NAVAL AVIATORS SCOUT AROUND VERA CRUZ

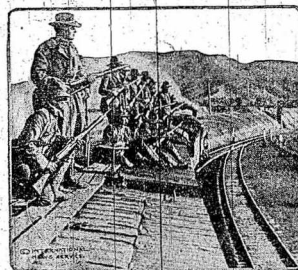

Shown at Vera Cruz the aviators of the navy have been giving the first demonstration of their value in connection with military operations. Lieut. F. V. L. Hollister and his aide have made flights over the city and the surrounding country, with the special object of ascertaining whether the bridges of the railway to Mexico City are still intact.

FIRING AT THE VERA CRUZ SNIPERS

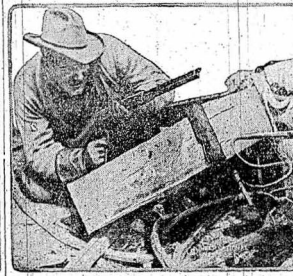

Some of the first detachment of Jackies who landed at Vera Cruz found a natural breastwork in the shape of a huge boiler. From behind this shelter the boys were busily engaged in picking off the Mexican "soldados" perched on rooftops and hidden behind roof chimneys taking pot shots at the men of our navy as they landed.

COLORADO MILITIA GOING TO FIGHT STRIKERS

A detachment of the Colorado National guard riding into the strike zone on the tops of freight cars, ready to fight the striking miners. The militia moved special to the task of restoring order.

COLORADO MINE GUARD AT BAY

This photograph shows one of the mine guards in the Colorado strike zone sitting at the strikers from behind the debris of a burned mine camp. Many of these guards were killed in the battles.

MEXICAN CROWDS FOLLOW OUR MARINES

As is to be seen in the photograph, the American marines aroused great interest among the people of Vera Cruz, and crowds followed them as they made their way to the posts assigned them.

Hollanders Reclaiming Land. Hollanders insist that "God made the world, but the Dutch made Holland." Land reclamation, a task that has been prosecuted steadily for centuries with such indomitable energy, is still going on as actively as ever in Holland. From twenty thousand to twenty-five thousand acres of land are reclaimed every year. It is said, however, that more than two hundred and fifty thousand acres of the best soil is still under water, not including the great area under the Eider Zee, the inundation of which is a perennial topic of discussion.

A Suspense. "You know," said the weary-looking man, "that our next-door neighbors have a parrot, a self-playing piano and several children who sing and recite." "What of it?" "I was wondering whether it wasn't possible for this pitiful publicity idea to be overdone."

Take Head of the Present. Thorius was a philosopher whose one aim was high truth, and who was impatient of littleness. He said once: "You can't kill time without injuring eternity," and the truth of the slogan is as grateful to him. The living present demands overway's best, and to fritter it away is fatal.

New York. In the country, more people are published in New York than in all other cities combined. It has more than 100,000 people, more than Pittsburgh, more than Philadelphia, more than Boston, more than Chicago, more than St. Louis, more than San Francisco, more than New Orleans, more than Baltimore, more than Washington, more than Cincinnati, more than Cleveland, more than Detroit, more than Milwaukee, more than Minneapolis, more than St. Paul, more than Kansas City, more than Omaha, more than Denver, more than Salt Lake City, more than Portland, more than Seattle, more than Tacoma, more than San Diego, more than Los Angeles, more than San Jose, more than San Francisco, more than New York.
