

DAINTY FRENCH GOWN

FOR SUMMER EVENING OR A GRADUATION DRESS.

Simply Made, of Dotted and Embroidered Tulle, It Makes Ideal Garment for the Woman Who Must Look at Cost.

It was irresistible, this little gown of the sheath, as it hangs in the quaintly-kept shop on the Rue de l'Opéra, writes a Paris correspondent of the Washington Star. A reassuring "English spoken" placard was further in document to enter, not ventured to be closer inspection.

The English they spoke was confined to a very few words, and those few but readily suggestive of her tongue. However, they made up for it in graciousness, and we managed fairly well.

"Mamma! desired to buy the so charming costume, was it not?"

"No, it was not—but did they object to her making a sketch to send home to an American newspaper?"

It seemed that there was no objection, and so—here it is. It is thought to make a lovely summer evening gown, but I've been wondering if it wouldn't please some sweet girl graduate as well. You see, it was made of dotted and embroidered tulle, and this should commend it to some one with whom economy is a necessary virtue.

The bodice consisted of two sleeves, less like sloped off to the shoulder and cut out in a deep V-neck, back and front. The embroidered portion was arranged just above the bust. With it was worn a dainty kimono, striped, purple with thin white stripes at the elbows and décolletage.

AFTERNOON DRESS

GETTING "PEG-TOP" EFFECT

New Model of Tulle Shows How the Desired Result is Possible of Achievement.

When the famous gown first came back, a few months since, it managed to keep quite fast by permitting no fullness in the flounces. It is very different now, for there is plenty of fullness in all of them, but clearly in the one immediately below the waist.

A new model of this kind is in green tulle with seven flounces on the skirt and an eighth formed by the flounce of the body, very full and fluffy. The bodice opens in a deep square, outlined by yellow black velvet, which is tied in a bow at the waist with long, flowing ends. The skirt is bare, a model collar rising at the back.

A flounced gown for evening wear is made of silk, crepe or a delicate tulle, with a deep "peg-top" of mauve, pale blue and silver brocade. The skirt is in a wide, flowing order, and is wide enough at the hem to admit of dancing comfortably. The peg-top effect is produced by three flounces between hips and knees.

ever, seems to have no rival for best wear, and you will be wise to fashion one for your little daughter.

After your little daughter has been supplied with her "backbone" hat it is time to plan her bonnet for best wear. The loveliest hats are developed of transparent or shadow lace, arranged over a wire foundation. The latter can be purchased at any shop where millinery is sold, and the wires should be wrapped with strips of silk before covering with the tulle.

An extremely dainty model is a small Dutch bonnet suggesting the lace caps worn by the Volstead maid. The wire foundation is covered with pink washable silk, and over this arranged the covering of dotted tulle. The crown is shirred at the top, and the brim is edged with a tiny frill. Two clusters of small flowers in tulle of pale blue, pink and mauve, trim the sides. About the crown is drawn a ruffle of lace.

A very lovely little hat can easily be fashioned. The brim is slightly ruffled, and the foundation is covered with pale blue silk. The dotted tulle is then shirred on cord and fitted over the fringe and a frill of narrow lace follows the line at the edge of a band. The trimming consists of a band of white lace and a frill of white lace. A single row is placed on the brim at the left side.

Other charming bonnets are of the wire, lined with tulle and trimmed with flowers. These also can be duplicated at home. The lace bonnet, however, seems to have no rival for best wear, and you will be wise to fashion one for your little daughter.

MAN SURELY NEEDED HELP

Trebly Battered, One Believed His Appeal for "Lose" Must Have Been Granted.

A Boston philanthropist, it is said, not long ago received the following letter:

"Dear and Noble Sir: Knowing your kind heart an unknown of such a kind as to add to your good deeds the following. I have lately lost my home, my home and my wife. So being homeless, homeless and wifeless I am, up again I have tried to find a home. Would you be so kind to help me along some financially until I can replace my three houses when I am able I can repay you. Once on my feet I can make good my losses as would pay back the loan with interest. A small loan would help me to reach the goal of success sooner and therefore you would get your money back sooner so it would be better for both if the loan could be large as possible. Hope to have favorable reply, etc."

Charles Lamb and Hastings, Hastings, which is to indicate in a respect of heretofore, was an object of particular aversion to Charles Lamb.

"I love you so dearly," he wrote, "that this detestable Clingo Port is as bitter as gall to me."

It was what he had in his primitive shape, and what it ought to have remained, a fair, honest fishing town and so more, it very much interested him.

With a few straggling fishermen's boats scattered about, straggling as in cliffs, and with their materials fished from them—it was something. It could be said to dwell with Mebeche to associate with fatherly and snugly.

Libby's Luncheon Delicacies

David Reed, Allied water thin, History Sunk and with a choice flavor that you will remember.

Vienna Sausage—just right for Red Hot, or to serve cold. We suggest you try them served like this: Cut up bread in thin slices, spread with creamed butter and remove crusts. Cut a Libby's Vienna Sausage in half, lengthwise, and lay on the bread. Place on the top of the sausage a few thin slices of Libby's Midget Pickles. Cover with the other slice of bread and press lightly together. Arrange on plate and serve garnished with a few parsley sprigs.

TOO MUCH CITY.

Every man makes mistakes. The wise profit by them—the foolish learn from them.

The young man of 18 and 20 is at the threshold of life. He is face to face with the gravest of life's problems—his future.

At about this age many of the young men of the farm make their first great mistake; that of making to the big city. It is often a fatal one.

The brilliant cities, the lights and the "great white way" makes in alluring picture to them. It sounds the call to which youth quickly responds.

But all is not gold that glitters.

There is much of dross.

Large cities are overcrowded with men from the green farms of the country. A limited few have not with success, but the majority are in one weary and confused struggle for bread.

For each job in the city there are from two to a hundred applicants. For every position of worth there are dozens of young men with "educational friends" to secure them preference.

Take a walk into the poorer districts of some great city. Ask the first "down and out" you meet where he spent his youth. He will most likely tell you "on the farm—where I was back again."

Go into the stores, the business of the city, and ask the employees of master years the same question. It will invariably be "on the farm, and I was a fool for ever leaving."

The best place in this world for the young man of the farm is right on that farm, of a better one.

If you use your brains there is no limit to the wealth you may dig from the soil. Four opportunities are a hundred to one as compared to city life. The world is at the feet of the farmer.

The farm is crying for you—for more like you.

Cities are growing under the weight of too many of you.

The young man of the farm is wise when he knows the value of his opportunities—the danger of "chimerical calls."

PROFITABLE SALE OF FIREWORKS.

Every year much valuable property is destroyed, many people injured, and many lives lost by the careless use of fireworks. There are certain kinds of fireworks which should be prohibited at all times and under all circumstances. Among them are cannon crackers, hot air balloons, toy pistols, toy cannons and revolvers firing blank cartridges.

However, the only safe plan is to carry out the recommendation of Walter W. Bennett, fire marshal of this state, by prohibiting entirely the sale and use of all such explosive or brisance.

We are told that such an ordinance will be presented at the adjourned meeting of the village board to be held next Monday evening. The ordinance should be passed without delay.

ONE MAN'S WAY.

A man once lived in a country town. He amassed wealth in the town. His money came from the people in the town.

He never bought a thing in the town that he could send to a city for.

He criticized the town and everything and everybody in it.

He hated everybody and hated himself.

He was rich, yet without a friend.

And then he died.

And was properly forgotten.

We don't recall his name.

When you see a man who has a horse's head on a hot summer day you know that the owner of that animal has "horse sense."

Congress, a meditation conference and a woman's club convention all in session at one time last week! And we still survive.

Yesterday it was the tango, today it is talk of a new Chinese doctor, and tomorrow it will be Adam and Eve.

The senate has voted to repeal the Panama canal exemption law. Now let's change the subject.

Just think of the police guard Colonel Roosevelt to save him from the London suffragettes!

Can you name the biggest "booster" in this town? And can you name the hardest "knocker"?

News Item General Patton is vacationing in Mexico.

The army peacefully scores in Vera Cruz.

To Congress! Please go home.

Always Laid to Better Health.

Serious ailments start in disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys. The best corrector and preventive is Dr. King's New Life Pills. They purify the blood—prevent constipation, liver, kidneys and bowels in healthy condition. Give you better health by ridding the system of fermenting and toxic food. Effective and reliable. Recommended by the Barrington Pharmacy.

Hammock Comfort.

If you want solid comfort this summer, hang your hammock under the trees, then place another old hammock or piece of canvas, stretched out flat, three or four feet above it. Sew on the "upper berth" mosquito netting, letting it hang to the ground. The ends of the netting may be held together with baling. This behind the screen flies and mosquitoes will not bother you—Woman's World.

Hands Off.

A farmer was going through an art institution where a number of models of ancient Greek sculpture were exhibited. He noticed that on each model a placard reading "Hands Off!"

"What's the reason for that?" he asked.

"To tell you every time that the hands are off!" he explained at last.

"Do they really want us to tell them we don't ever say anything 'bout the arms and legs being off?"

Black and White Not Colors.

Strictly speaking neither black nor white is a color, white being a combination of all the seven primary colors, and black being an absorption of all. Bodies that reflect all the rays of the sun are called white; those that reflect some rays and absorb others are called red, blue, green, etc.; those that absorb all the rays and reflect none are called black.

Main Thing.

At the end of a somewhat interesting conversation the young lady said: "And now, Mrs. Smith, would you not like to have a vote and exercise the privileges of citizenship?" To which, says the Glasgow News, the lady of the scrubbing brush made a typically feminine reply. "I don't know, sister," she said, sagaciously: "what would it cost?"

Circuits.

"I saw your friend Brown yesterday," "Brown is a friend of mine."

"What's that? Why, he told me you borrowed money from him!" "Yes, and what did I do with it? Spent it in folly. I tell you, Brown's no friend of mine."

Last.

The mistress of the house had told her eyes. She asked the old negro servant if she had seen them. "No, honey," said Aunt Mittlemeyer, "I ain't seen 'em. But I'll tell 'em to you. Tell 'em how you saw 'em in de shell!"

Give the Head the Credit.

"A still tongue makes a wise head," says an old adage, but we think it should read, "A wise head makes a still tongue."

Circumstances Alter Cases.

Crisshaw—"I thought they were violently opposed to the mayor's case?" Mrs. Crisshaw—"Oh, that was before they could afford one."—Judge.

BARRINGTON REVIEW, BARRINGTON, ILL.

THE SCHOOLS AND FIRE PREVENTION

Fire Drills Will Avert Panic—Should Be a Feature at Every School.

CARELESSNESS CAUSES FIRES.

Gov. Edward F. Dunne and Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis G. Blaine endorse the Study of Fire Prevention in Schools.

In a proclamation issued by Gov. Edward F. Dunne, promulgated October 9 as State Fire Prevention day, he says:

Statistics show that fire waste is increasing annually and the fire loss in the State of Illinois in 1912 averaged $1,600,000 per month. Besides this, in that year alone nearly four hundred people in this state lost their lives through the agency of fire. The losses then constituted constitute an absolute waste and a drain upon our resources as far as our state can long endure, and the fact that they are largely preventable is a reproach to our people and calls for an immediate remedy.

And among his recommendations for the observance of Fire Prevention day appears the following:

"Lastly, let fire drills be held on that day in institutions, factories and in public buildings, and in the schools, and I earnestly recommend that teachers instruct their pupils, through short talks and proper programs, on the dangers of fire and the simpler causes of fire accidents."

State Fire Marshal Walter H. Bennett, in a bulletin issued to the principals and superintendents of schools in the State of Illinois calls their attention to conditions in some of the schools as found by deputy state fire marshals on their tours of inspection. Among other things he says:

"Our deputies have found three-story school buildings not provided with fire escapes and with narrow stairways and inadequate exits. They have found bags of rubbish and other inflammable materials in the basements and garrets. They have found many schools that are not provided with the extinguishers of any kind, and many others having extinguishers that had not been recharged within the memory of man, and the janitor and teachers have but the faintest idea of their proper use; they have found furnace pipes in basements so near the point and where the work was done and stored and in a condition to readily ignite, and they have found many schools in which no fire drill is practiced and where an alarm of fire would be likely to result in disorder, demoralization and probably fatal injuries."

Suggestions for Schools.

All school buildings should be provided with metal receptacles for holding accumulations of waste paper and refuse, in which it may be temporarily stored instead of allowing it to accumulate in basement floors or in wooden basements.

All doors should open outward and these exit doors should never be locked during school sessions. Chemical fire extinguishers marked "For Fire Only" should be set in conspicuous places on each floor near the state buildings as the basements. Fire drills should be practiced at frequent intervals.

Fire Drills.

Fire drills are almost not so much at the fire as at the panic which usually accompanies it. The principal thing is to prevent the panic. The two points to be considered are, first—Order; and, second—Rapidity. Due to it that the fire alarm system is always in perfect working order. So that the exit facilities are sufficient and also always unobstructed. Fire drills should be to the fire escapes as well as to the exits and should conclude with a continued march of the children out of and away from the school building. "I believe," says the state fire marshal, "that it is especially important to hold occasionally a few fighting instruction programs. There should be short talks by the teachers on fire prevention and the evils of carelessness, it is important that these lessons should be as free as possible from excitement and should be addressed to the common sense of the pupils rather than to their imaginations."

INSURANCE MONEY REPLACES NO LOSS.

Fire Forever Destroys an Asset.

Whether a house or not has been destroyed by fire may be insured, and the owner receives some money compensation therefor. It is no way changes the condition that the property must be forever destroyed, and the fact that he receives insurance money is simply and solely the promise of future money out of your pocket and my pocket in premiums, and tends to cover to him as our contribution toward his misfortune. The money that he receives out of his insurance money is lost to us for all time. In other words it is purely and simply a mutual contribution, made by members of a mutual organization, as a reward from temporary misfortune.

Wherever You Spend the Glorious Fourth

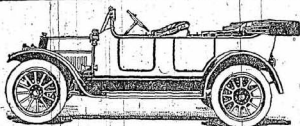

You want to look well. People notice how you're dressed these days. A tasteful selection of hat, shoes, shirt, neckwear—all help, but a shabby suit can spoil them all.

Be on the safe side. Look over our line of Clothcraft clothes. No matter what your taste, your build, or your pocket-book's condition, we can please you.

You want a suit to fit, look and wear well. The answer is Clothcraft.

And the price will please you—$10 to $20. That's reasonable for an all-wool suit, isn't it? A fine line of Kneeland and Bates' shoes at $3.50 and $4.00. Straw Hats in latest styles and a full line of Gentlemen's Furnishings.

Model 37-B

It has the Power, the Durability and the Appearance. It is easy riding. Easy to handle and economical.

It is a significant fact that the man who owns a Buick always gets the idea that his Buick is the best Buick ever built. That sums up in a nutshell why when you find a Buick you find a Buick better.

The Company that keeps up its Standard of Quality, figures prices on a cost system, and gives every man the worth of his money, is the kind of a company any man likes to do business with. A concern like that doesn't make any claim that it can't back up.

The Buick Buick Overhead Valve Motor is Guaranteed to have more power and more speed than any other type of motor on the market. It is quiet, there's more to it, but the fact is, it is less and it will pull stronger on low grade gasoline than any other type of motor ever built.

The 1914 Buick is equipped with Delco Electric Starter and Ignition System, Electric Horn, Electric Lights, Top, Windshield, Life-laid Drive, Power Control, Quiet inconvertible rims, etc. Prices ranging from $550 to $1850. 6 Months to choose from.

Public Letting of Contract.

Public notice is hereby given that bids to be received by the undersigned Commissioners of Highways of the town of Chicago, in the County of Cook, and State of Illinois, on the 24th day of June, A. D. 1914, for the hauling of gravel as follows:

40 yds on George Heisterly road.
15 yds south of Chicago's corner.
10 yds south on the Wauconda road.
40 yds north on the Wauconda road.
25 yds on the Wauconda road east from bridge.
40 yds on the Elmhurst road.
40 yds on the Cottage Grove road.

The same will be let by contract subject to the approval of the County Superintendent of Highways when amount of contract exceeds one hundred dollars by public letting to the lowest responsible bidder, at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the office of the Town Clerk in said town. The work to be completed on the first day of September, A. D. 1914.

The said Commissioners of Highways reserve the right to reject any and all bids. If they deem it to the best interest of the town to do so. Each contractor shall be required to file a bond with the town clerk and sufficient security with the Commissioners, in the joint name of the town of Chicago, of Cook County, Illinois, to the satisfaction of the Commissioners of Highways of said town.

Dated at Barrington, this 24th day of June, A. D. 1914.
