

The VALIANTS of VIRGINIA
by HALLIE ERMINIE RIVES
ILLUSTRATIONS by LAUREN STOUT

of the successful use of the flying machines by the French army operating in Morocco, which puts this new model of warfare among the ranks of military operations of our day, and hereafter when we use the "expansion" "all of arms" we shall have to include the

After Thirty Years Experience I Have Made A New Discovery For Men, Women or Children That Cures Rupture.

British Member of Parliament Sees Mistake in Nonobservance of

Historic Relic Now In Possession of

Sometimes Expensive

Toasties

Frank Brothers

D. C. Schroeder, Agent
Ford Motor Company

Chautauqua
Next Week

You will enjoy it so much the more if you are feeling well.

REXALL Sarsaparilla Tonic

is just the thing if you are feeling languid and run down. It is a reliable tonic and aid to digestion. Renews the appetite and exerts a freshening influence on the entire system. 75c
the bottle, at the

Rexall Store
W. J. CAMERON, P. C.

reach an agreement and they were discharged. It is understood that the trial before Judge Kersten for over week. Nearly fifty local people were called in as witnesses. It was three days before the trial began. The laborer at the railway construction camp entered the Harmsen saloon, got into an altercation, and died eight days later from blood poisoning, which was caused by a wound on his arm. Harmsen was first tried about two years ago but secured a new trial, with the above result. The family of the dead man is now in the city of St. Paul, Minn., not leaving any stone unturned that would be of assistance to the state.—Palatine Enterprise.

[illegible]

ency in our factoring in our purchasing an output of 300,
And should we re
as the buyer's share
August 1, 1915)
new Ford car b
1, 1915.

For further low prices

D. C. S.
Ford

production, and the minimum cost and sales departments if we can reach 100 cars between the above dates.

Between this production, we agree to pay $40, from $40 to $60 per car (on or about $40) to every retail buyer who purchases a car between August 1, 1914, and August 1, 1915.

For further particulars regarding these terms and profit-sharing plan, see Exhibit A.

Schroeder, Agent
Motor Company

AUSTRIA TAKES INITIAL STEP IN GREAT WAR

Formal Declaration That Controversy With Serbia Must Be Settled by the Sword.

TROOPS ALREADY IN CLASH

German Emperor Is Reported as Being Strongly in Favor of Peace, But His Views Are Being Ignored—World News, London to St. Petersburg.

Vienna, July 25.—The Austrian foreign office declared war against Serbia after it had curtly refused to accept the British plan for an armistice pending mediation.

Austria Aggressive.—London, July 25.—Austro-Hungarian troops accompanied the declaration of war with aggressive and uncompromising military activities.

Summe of fighting on the Drina river, which forms the frontier between Bosnia and Serbia, circulated in Vienna and Berlin. Serbian volunteers tried to cross the Drina, but were repulsed. The Austro-Hungarian forces are expected to advance across the Drina in the direction of Kneginevatz.

The Serbian forces, on the other hand, are expected to cross into Bosnian territory, with the object of making an incursion against the Bosnian Serbs.

Object of Austria.—It is stated on Austrian authority that the object of Austria is to crush and disarm Serbia and particularly to capture the Serbian army and compel it to leave its territory.

Three Italian training ships were sent to the Adriatic to be recalled. Austria naval concentration has been ordered at Ploce. The Russian authorities have ordered all lights along the Russian Black sea coast to be extinguished, with the exception of the Cherkesk light house, near Sevastopol.

MAP OF AUSTRIA-SERBIA FRONTIER.

and Nish—the goal desired would be attained in the shortest possible time.

Montenegro will continue to exchange views with all other countries with a view to the preservation of general peace.

Germany Is Undecided.—The attitude of the German government remains undecided. While Germany declined to take part in the meeting of ambassadors proposed by Sir Edward Grey and failed to prevent the Austro-Hungarian attack on Serbia, no general order for the mobilization of the German army appears to have been given. The German emperor is reported to desire peace, but the concentration of the German army is reported as proceeding.

Vienna Welcomes the War.—The feeling of underrating the war as a sense of relief now prevails.

Italy Is Taken.—Italy, July 25.—It is with a feeling of intense relief that the people in the dual monarchy look forward to a war which, for several days, has seemed inevitable.

Vienna Is Absolutely without News of the movements of the troops, which is the feeling on this point in high and Serbia, Greece would be compelled to dispatch 100,000 troops to the aid of Serbia.

Look to St. Petersburg.—London, July 25.—The Austro-Hungarian government declared war against Serbia by a manifesto which is one of the briefest of history's momentous documents.

Germany gave the way for this declaration by announcing that her ally could not be expected to submit her case to a European council in which she was one of the Balkan states.

This announcement preceded the declaration of war by only two hours and gave an exhibition of the perfectly harmonious working of the partnership between the two nations.

The center of interest has shifted sharply to St. Petersburg, which holds the decision whether a European war will probably shift the balance of power, if not retrace the entire map of Europe, to its level.

Great Britain Opposed to War.—There is absolutely no enthusiasm in England for war—no desire for this particular war which confronts Great Britain, yet there is a general belief that her obligations to her partners in the triple entente, as well as her interest as a great European power, will force her to support Russia and France in any steps they may take.

Germany Hopes for Peace.—Berlin, July 25.—Although German virtually refused to consider Sir Edward Grey's proposal for mediation, the Kaiser's government did make a counter proposal suggesting that efforts for peace be made through the cabinets of the three great powers.

Negotiations between Russia and Austria, the German foreign office points out, are still proceeding, and the German government is of the opinion that if the efforts of the great powers are concentrated at the points of chief importance—namely, St. Petersburg and Berlin, Greece would be compelled to dispatch 100,000 troops to the aid of Serbia.

Look to St. Petersburg.—London, July 25.—The Austro-Hungarian government declared war against Serbia by a manifesto which is one of the briefest of history's momentous documents.

This announcement preceded the declaration of war by only two hours and gave an exhibition of the perfectly harmonious working of the partnership between the two nations.

The center of interest has shifted sharply to St. Petersburg, which holds the decision whether a European war will probably shift the balance of power, if not retrace the entire map of Europe, to its level.

Great Britain Opposed to War.—There is absolutely no enthusiasm in England for war—no desire for this particular war which confronts Great Britain, yet there is a general belief that her obligations to her partners in the triple entente, as well as her interest as a great European power, will force her to support Russia and France in any steps they may take.

Germany Hopes for Peace.—Berlin, July 25.—Although German virtually refused to consider Sir Edward Grey's proposal for mediation, the Kaiser's government did make a counter proposal suggesting that efforts for peace be made through the cabinets of the three great powers.

Negotiations between Russia and Austria, the German foreign office points out, are still proceeding, and the German government is of the opinion that if the efforts of the great powers are concentrated at the points of chief importance—namely, St. Petersburg and Berlin, Greece would be compelled to dispatch 100,000 troops to the aid of Serbia.

Look to St. Petersburg.—London, July 25.—The Austro-Hungarian government declared war against Serbia by a manifesto which is one of the briefest of history's momentous documents.

This announcement preceded the declaration of war by only two hours and gave an exhibition of the perfectly harmonious working of the partnership between the two nations.

The center of interest has shifted sharply to St. Petersburg, which holds the decision whether a European war will probably shift the balance of power, if not retrace the entire map of Europe, to its level.

Great Britain Opposed to War.—There is absolutely no enthusiasm in England for war—no desire for this particular war which confronts Great Britain, yet there is a general belief that her obligations to her partners in the triple entente, as well as her interest as a great European power, will force her to support Russia and France in any steps they may take.

Germany Hopes for Peace.—Berlin, July 25.—Although German virtually refused to consider Sir Edward Grey's proposal for mediation, the Kaiser's government did make a counter proposal suggesting that efforts for peace be made through the cabinets of the three great powers.

Negotiations between Russia and Austria, the German foreign office points out, are still proceeding, and the German government is of the opinion that if the efforts of the great powers are concentrated at the points of chief importance—namely, St. Petersburg and Berlin, Greece would be compelled to dispatch 100,000 troops to the aid of Serbia.

Look to St. Petersburg.—London, July 25.—The Austro-Hungarian government declared war against Serbia by a manifesto which is one of the briefest of history's momentous documents.

This announcement preceded the declaration of war by only two hours and gave an exhibition of the perfectly harmonious working of the partnership between the two nations.

The center of interest has shifted sharply to St. Petersburg, which holds the decision whether a European war will probably shift the balance of power, if not retrace the entire map of Europe, to its level.

Great Britain Opposed to War.—There is absolutely no enthusiasm in England for war—no desire for this particular war which confronts Great Britain, yet there is a general belief that her obligations to her partners in the triple entente, as well as her interest as a great European power, will force her to support Russia and France in any steps they may take.

Germany Hopes for Peace.—Berlin, July 25.—Although German virtually refused to consider Sir Edward Grey's proposal for mediation, the Kaiser's government did make a counter proposal suggesting that efforts for peace be made through the cabinets of the three great powers.

Negotiations between Russia and Austria, the German foreign office points out, are still proceeding, and the German government is of the opinion that if the efforts of the great powers are concentrated at the points of chief importance—namely, St. Petersburg and Berlin, Greece would be compelled to dispatch 100,000 troops to the aid of Serbia.

SERBIANS FIGHT IN DESIRE FOR NATIONAL UNITY

Diplomats of World Have Long Foreseen That Struggle Was Bound to Come.

Stands in Way of Austria.

Drain of Statesmen of Dual Monarchy Has Been to Acquire Balkans and the Land Between That Part and France.

While the immediate cause of Austria-Hungary's attack on Serbia is the demand for reparation for the murder of the Archduke Franz Ferdinand and his wife, the duchess of Hohenberg, the ultimate cause was the movement of the Hapsburg army toward the south and the desperate efforts of the entire Serb race to regain complete national existence.

Ever since the rupture of the Turkish army from Vienna in 1813 the Austrians have been fighting to make their way to the Aegean over the ruins of the Turkish empire.

Of the Serbs, which is the movement of the Hapsburg army toward the south and the desperate efforts of the entire Serb race to regain complete national existence.

Ever since the rupture of the Turkish army from Vienna in 1813 the Austrians have been fighting to make their way to the Aegean over the ruins of the Turkish empire.

Of the Serbs, which is the movement of the Hapsburg army toward the south and the desperate efforts of the entire Serb race to regain complete national existence.

Ever since the rupture of the Turkish army from Vienna in 1813 the Austrians have been fighting to make their way to the Aegean over the ruins of the Turkish empire.

Of the Serbs, which is the movement of the Hapsburg army toward the south and the desperate efforts of the entire Serb race to regain complete national existence.

Ever since the rupture of the Turkish army from Vienna in 1813 the Austrians have been fighting to make their way to the Aegean over the ruins of the Turkish empire.

Of the Serbs, which is the movement of the Hapsburg army toward the south and the desperate efforts of the entire Serb race to regain complete national existence.

Ever since the rupture of the Turkish army from Vienna in 1813 the Austrians have been fighting to make their way to the Aegean over the ruins of the Turkish empire.

Of the Serbs, which is the movement of the Hapsburg army toward the south and the desperate efforts of the entire Serb race to regain complete national existence.

Ever since the rupture of the Turkish army from Vienna in 1813 the Austrians have been fighting to make their way to the Aegean over the ruins of the Turkish empire.

Of the Serbs, which is the movement of the Hapsburg army toward the south and the desperate efforts of the entire Serb race to regain complete national existence.

Ever since the rupture of the Turkish army from Vienna in 1813 the Austrians have been fighting to make their way to the Aegean over the ruins of the Turkish empire.

Of the Serbs, which is the movement of the Hapsburg army toward the south and the desperate efforts of the entire Serb race to regain complete national existence.

Ever since the rupture of the Turkish army from Vienna in 1813 the Austrians have been fighting to make their way to the Aegean over the ruins of the Turkish empire.

Of the Serbs, which is the movement of the Hapsburg army toward the south and the desperate efforts of the entire Serb race to regain complete national existence.

Ever since the rupture of the Turkish army from Vienna in 1813 the Austrians have been fighting to make their way to the Aegean over the ruins of the Turkish empire.

Of the Serbs, which is the movement of the Hapsburg army toward the south and the desperate efforts of the entire Serb race to regain complete national existence.

Ever since the rupture of the Turkish army from Vienna in 1813 the Austrians have been fighting to make their way to the Aegean over the ruins of the Turkish empire.

Of the Serbs, which is the movement of the Hapsburg army toward the south and the desperate efforts of the entire Serb race to regain complete national existence.

Ever since the rupture of the Turkish army from Vienna in 1813 the Austrians have been fighting to make their way to the Aegean over the ruins of the Turkish empire.

Of the Serbs, which is the movement of the Hapsburg army toward the south and the desperate efforts of the entire Serb race to regain complete national existence.

Ever since the rupture of the Turkish army from Vienna in 1813 the Austrians have been fighting to make their way to the Aegean over the ruins of the Turkish empire.

Of the Serbs, which is the movement of the Hapsburg army toward the south and the desperate efforts of the entire Serb race to regain complete national existence.

Ever since the rupture of the Turkish army from Vienna in 1813 the Austrians have been fighting to make their way to the Aegean over the ruins of the Turkish empire.

Of the Serbs, which is the movement of the Hapsburg army toward the south and the desperate efforts of the entire Serb race to regain complete national existence.

SLAYER SET FREE

MME. CAILLAUX IS ACQUITTED OF THE MURDER OF EDWIN GASTON CALNETTE.

Verdict Creates Uprow.

Friends and Opponents of the Former Premier Cher and Reviled Him—Result Is No Surprise in City of Paris.

Paris, July 30.—"Not guilty" is the verdict of the jury in the sensational trial of Mme. Caillaux for murder, a case that has kept Paris excited and the world interested. The verdict was reached in less than an hour.

Mme. Caillaux killed Gaston Calnette, editor of Le Peuple, not a cold blooded, according to the jurors, but a man who was driven to the act by a momentary impulse.

It is probable that the upsurge in the city of Paris is due to the fact that the verdict was reached in less than an hour.

Mme. Caillaux killed Gaston Calnette, editor of Le Peuple, not a cold blooded, according to the jurors, but a man who was driven to the act by a momentary impulse.

It is probable that the upsurge in the city of Paris is due to the fact that the verdict was reached in less than an hour.

Mme. Caillaux killed Gaston Calnette, editor of Le Peuple, not a cold blooded, according to the jurors, but a man who was driven to the act by a momentary impulse.

It is probable that the upsurge in the city of Paris is due to the fact that the verdict was reached in less than an hour.

Mme. Caillaux killed Gaston Calnette, editor of Le Peuple, not a cold blooded, according to the jurors, but a man who was driven to the act by a momentary impulse.

It is probable that the upsurge in the city of Paris is due to the fact that the verdict was reached in less than an hour.

Mme. Caillaux killed Gaston Calnette, editor of Le Peuple, not a cold blooded, according to the jurors, but a man who was driven to the act by a momentary impulse.

It is probable that the upsurge in the city of Paris is due to the fact that the verdict was reached in less than an hour.

Mme. Caillaux killed Gaston Calnette, editor of Le Peuple, not a cold blooded, according to the jurors, but a man who was driven to the act by a momentary impulse.

It is probable that the upsurge in the city of Paris is due to the fact that the verdict was reached in less than an hour.

Mme. Caillaux killed Gaston Calnette, editor of Le Peuple, not a cold blooded, according to the jurors, but a man who was driven to the act by a momentary impulse.

It is probable that the upsurge in the city of Paris is due to the fact that the verdict was reached in less than an hour.

Mme. Caillaux killed Gaston Calnette, editor of Le Peuple, not a cold blooded, according to the jurors, but a man who was driven to the act by a momentary impulse.

It is probable that the upsurge in the city of Paris is due to the fact that the verdict was reached in less than an hour.

Mme. Caillaux killed Gaston Calnette, editor of Le Peuple, not a cold blooded, according to the jurors, but a man who was driven to the act by a momentary impulse.

It is probable that the upsurge in the city of Paris is due to the fact that the verdict was reached in less than an hour.

Mme. Caillaux killed Gaston Calnette, editor of Le Peuple, not a cold blooded, according to the jurors, but a man who was driven to the act by a momentary impulse.

It is probable that the upsurge in the city of Paris is due to the fact that the verdict was reached in less than an hour.

Mme. Caillaux killed Gaston Calnette, editor of Le Peuple, not a cold blooded, according to the jurors, but a man who was driven to the act by a momentary impulse.

It is probable that the upsurge in the city of Paris is due to the fact that the verdict was reached in less than an hour.

Mme. Caillaux killed Gaston Calnette, editor of Le Peuple, not a cold blooded, according to the jurors, but a man who was driven to the act by a momentary impulse.

It is probable that the upsurge in the city of Paris is due to the fact that the verdict was reached in less than an hour.

Mme. Caillaux killed Gaston Calnette, editor of Le Peuple, not a cold blooded, according to the jurors, but a man who was driven to the act by a momentary impulse.

It is probable that the upsurge in the city of Paris is due to the fact that the verdict was reached in less than an hour.

SMUGGLE IN MACHINE GUNS

Twelve Loaded for the Late Home Rule Army, Despite Efforts of the Officials.

Dublin, July 26.—Twelve machine guns for the home rule army were found here by a clever ruse. The attention of the authorities was attracted by the pseudo-suspicious movements of a yacht off the coast of Dublin. The officials believed her to be a gun runner.

While they were watching the yacht, a fishing trawler quietly slipped into Kingston harbor and quickly unloaded her guns which were placed in automobiles. Six of the weapons were sent to Belfast and six to London.

Twelve Loaded for the Late Home Rule Army, Despite Efforts of the Officials.

Dublin, July 26.—Twelve machine guns for the home rule army were found here by a clever ruse. The attention of the authorities was attracted by the pseudo-suspicious movements of a yacht off the coast of Dublin. The officials believed her to be a gun runner.

While they were watching the yacht, a fishing trawler quietly slipped into Kingston harbor and quickly unloaded her guns which were placed in automobiles. Six of the weapons were sent to Belfast and six to London.

Twelve Loaded for the Late Home Rule Army, Despite Efforts of the Officials.

Dublin, July 26.—Twelve machine guns for the home rule army were found here by a clever ruse. The attention of the authorities was attracted by the pseudo-suspicious movements of a yacht off the coast of Dublin. The officials believed her to be a gun runner.

While they were watching the yacht, a fishing trawler quietly slipped into Kingston harbor and quickly unloaded her guns which were placed in automobiles. Six of the weapons were sent to Belfast and six to London.

Twelve Loaded for the Late Home Rule Army, Despite Efforts of the Officials.

Dublin, July 26.—Twelve machine guns for the home rule army were found here by a clever ruse. The attention of the authorities was attracted by the pseudo-suspicious movements of a yacht off the coast of Dublin. The officials believed her to be a gun runner.

While they were watching the yacht, a fishing trawler quietly slipped into Kingston harbor and quickly unloaded her guns which were placed in automobiles. Six of the weapons were sent to Belfast and six to London.

Twelve Loaded for the Late Home Rule Army, Despite Efforts of the Officials.

Dublin, July 26.—Twelve machine guns for the home rule army were found here by a clever ruse. The attention of the authorities was attracted by the pseudo-suspicious movements of a yacht off the coast of Dublin. The officials believed her to be a gun runner.

While they were watching the yacht, a fishing trawler quietly slipped into Kingston harbor and quickly unloaded her guns which were placed in automobiles. Six of the weapons were sent to Belfast and six to London.

Twelve Loaded for the Late Home Rule Army, Despite Efforts of the Officials.

Dublin, July 26.—Twelve machine guns for the home rule army were found here by a clever ruse. The attention of the authorities was attracted by the pseudo-suspicious movements of a yacht off the coast of Dublin. The officials believed her to be a gun runner.

While they were watching the yacht, a fishing trawler quietly slipped into Kingston harbor and quickly unloaded her guns which were placed in automobiles. Six of the weapons were sent to Belfast and six to London.

Twelve Loaded for the Late Home Rule Army, Despite Efforts of the Officials.

Dublin, July 26.—Twelve machine guns for the home rule army were found here by a clever ruse. The attention of the authorities was attracted by the pseudo-suspicious movements of a yacht off the coast of Dublin. The officials believed her to be a gun runner.

While they were watching the yacht, a fishing trawler quietly slipped into Kingston harbor and quickly unloaded her guns which were placed in automobiles. Six of the weapons were sent to Belfast and six to London.

Twelve Loaded for the Late Home Rule Army, Despite Efforts of the Officials.

Dublin, July 26.—Twelve machine guns for the home rule army were found here by a clever ruse. The attention of the authorities was attracted by the pseudo-suspicious movements of a yacht off the coast of Dublin. The officials believed her to be a gun runner.

While they were watching the yacht, a fishing trawler quietly slipped into Kingston harbor and quickly unloaded her guns which were placed in automobiles. Six of the weapons were sent to Belfast and six to London.

Twelve Loaded for the Late Home Rule Army, Despite Efforts of the Officials.

Dublin, July 26.—Twelve machine guns for the home rule army were found here by a clever ruse. The attention of the authorities was attracted by the pseudo-suspicious movements of a yacht off the coast of Dublin. The officials believed her to be a gun runner.

While they were watching the yacht, a fishing trawler quietly slipped into Kingston harbor and quickly unloaded her guns which were placed in automobiles. Six of the weapons were sent to Belfast and six to London.

Twelve Loaded for the Late Home Rule Army, Despite Efforts of the Officials.

Dublin, July 26.—Twelve machine guns for the home rule army were found here by a clever ruse. The attention of the authorities was attracted by the pseudo-suspicious movements of a yacht off the coast of Dublin. The officials believed her to be a gun runner.

While they were watching the yacht, a fishing trawler quietly slipped into Kingston harbor and quickly unloaded her guns which were placed in automobiles. Six of the weapons were sent to Belfast and six to London.

VIENNA WELCOMES THE WAR

Feeling of Underrating the War as a Sense of Relief Now Prevails.

Italy Is Taken.—Italy, July 25.—It is with a feeling of intense relief that the people in the dual monarchy look forward to a war which, for several days, has seemed inevitable.

Vienna Is Absolutely without News of the movements of the troops, which is the feeling on this point in high and Serbia, Greece would be compelled to dispatch 100,000 troops to the aid of Serbia.

Look to St. Petersburg.—London, July 25.—The Austro-Hungarian government declared war against Serbia by a manifesto which is one of the briefest of history's momentous documents.

This announcement preceded the declaration of war by only two hours and gave an exhibition of the perfectly harmonious working of the partnership between the two nations.

The center of interest has shifted sharply to St. Petersburg, which holds the decision whether a European war will probably shift the balance of power, if not retrace the entire map of Europe, to its level.

Great Britain Opposed to War.—There is absolutely no enthusiasm in England for war—no desire for this particular war which confronts Great Britain, yet there is a general belief that her obligations to her partners in the triple entente, as well as her interest as a great European power, will force her to support Russia and France in any steps they may take.

Germany Hopes for Peace.—Berlin, July 25.—Although German virtually refused to consider Sir Edward Grey's proposal for mediation, the Kaiser's government did make a counter proposal suggesting that efforts for peace be made through the cabinets of the three great powers.

Negotiations between Russia and Austria, the German foreign office points out, are still proceeding, and the German government is of the opinion that if the efforts of the great powers are concentrated at the points of chief importance—namely, St. Petersburg and Berlin, Greece would be compelled to dispatch 100,000 troops to the aid of Serbia.

Look to St. Petersburg.—London, July 25.—The Austro-Hungarian government declared war against Serbia by a manifesto which is one of the briefest of history's momentous documents.

This announcement preceded the declaration of war by only two hours and gave an exhibition of the perfectly harmonious working of the partnership between the two nations.

The center of interest has shifted sharply to St. Petersburg, which holds the decision whether a European war will probably shift the balance of power, if not retrace the entire map of Europe, to its level.

Great Britain Opposed to War.—There is absolutely no enthusiasm in England for war—no desire for this particular war which confronts Great Britain, yet there is a general belief that her obligations to her partners in the triple entente, as well as her interest as a great European power, will force her to support Russia and France in any steps they may take.

Germany Hopes for Peace.—Berlin, July 25.—Although German virtually refused to consider Sir Edward Grey's proposal for mediation, the Kaiser's government did make a counter proposal suggesting that efforts for peace be made through the cabinets of the three great powers.

Negotiations between Russia and Austria, the German foreign office points out, are still proceeding, and the German government is of the opinion that if the efforts of the great powers are concentrated at the points of chief importance—namely, St. Petersburg and Berlin, Greece would be compelled to dispatch 100,000 troops to the aid of Serbia.

Look to St. Petersburg.—London, July 25.—The Austro-Hungarian government declared war against Serbia by a manifesto which is one of the briefest of history's momentous documents.

This announcement preceded the declaration of war by only two hours and gave an exhibition of the perfectly harmonious working of the partnership between the two nations.

The center of interest has shifted sharply to St. Petersburg, which holds the decision whether a European war will probably shift the balance of power, if not retrace the entire map of Europe, to its level.

Great Britain Opposed to War.—There is absolutely no enthusiasm in England for war—no desire for this particular war which confronts Great Britain, yet there is a general belief that her obligations to her partners in the triple entente, as well as her interest as a great European power, will force her to support Russia and France in any steps they may take.

Germany Hopes for Peace.—Berlin, July 25.—Although German virtually refused to consider Sir Edward Grey's proposal for mediation, the Kaiser's government did make a counter proposal suggesting that efforts for peace be made through the cabinets of the three great powers.

Negotiations between Russia and Austria, the German foreign office points out, are still proceeding, and the German government is of the opinion that if the efforts of the great powers are concentrated at the points of chief importance—namely, St. Petersburg and Berlin, Greece would be compelled to dispatch 100,000 troops to the aid of Serbia.

We have received our first

1915 Buick, Model C

$950

and more to follow soon. Come and look it over, and have us explain the car. Standard equipment: Delco system of electrical cranking, lighting and ignition. Non-skid tires on rear; new style electric headlights with dimmer attachment, controlled by switch on instrument board; electric tail lamp; combination electric instrument board and trouble lamp with extension; electric horn; robe rail; one extra demountable rim; front and rear license plate hangers; new style tire irons in rear; complete set of tools; jack; pump; tire repair kit; high grade mohair top with new style inside operating side curtains and dust hood. New style windshield. Write for catalogue.

Wm. Busse & Son, Inc.
Phone 41-W Distributors
Mount Prospect, Ill.

Paints, Oils and Varnishes
Lime and Cement
LAMEY & CO.

CHAUTAUQUA IS WELL ATTENDED

Continued from first page

"Mike" himself. He says he is an Irishman and "proud of it," but his whole talk seemed to be ridiculing the Irish by his descriptions. He admits that his life here is a "loss" in that country and it is very evident.

The Panama-Pacific exposition of the coming year, to be held in San Francisco, was advertised by Mr. Stephen Crook of California with lantern slides. The slides showed the Panama canal and the Panama-Pacific exposition. Considerable information was derived from the talk, explaining the pictures and the scenery was enjoyed.

The lecturer on Wednesday came from the Illinois University in Chicago. He was Prof. R. E. Hieronymus, whose work is the study of communities and their needs. He gives his ideas in an easy, conversational tone, and everyone liked him for his friendly manner, that is very engaging.

He believes that great benefit can be derived from the study of communities, especially in the case of education. His afternoon talk was of the poor and unattractive "hockney" type of country schools, as compared with the fine country schools that do exist in certain places, and which might exist everywhere if people can "get together." In the evening lecture he dwelt on the needs of township high schools; the dependence upon one another of the people of the same community in matters of education, government and public health. He defined "a community" as a town or village and the territory around it, out as far as the line which marks the point where the farmers drive away from the town toward another town to trade.

The music of the evening was offered by Mrs. D. Wellington-Miller, who has long been in all the large cities of our country, in her fine soprano voice. Her repertoire is extensive and she gracefully sings to please with quantity as well as quality. Her accompanist, who also gave piano solos of high standard composition, Miss Norma Phillips, delighted the people here.

Quite the best dramatic reader ever appearing in this town was Miss Jeanette King, of wonderful elocutionary ability and personal beauty that is very marked. She gave the play "Lesli Klesha," and depicted eight characters, passing from one to another with ease and perfect portrayal of the different personalities; so clearly and vividly were the lines spoken and acted that even the younger boys and girls in the tent hung upon her words and she held the intense attention of all for over an hour of continuous recital. Her appearance here, alone, proves the Chautauqua worth attending.

Howard P. Castle of this town spoke briefly of the plan to establish a public library here this coming winter and made many suggestions to the project by his manner of explaining our need of a library and the methods to be used in starting one.

The Brooks Symphony orchestra is giving the program this afternoon and Dr. E. L. Eaton is speaking on "Winning the Nation's Greatest Fight." This evening the entire time will be taken by the orchestra. It is the greatest musical treat ever offered the Barrington public and the attendance should be tremendous. However, the Chautauqua is being so well patronized that the absence of those uninterested is not noticed. Good programs are announced for Friday and Saturday afternoons and evenings. Hon. J. K. Coddling, assistant attorney general of Kansas, will speak Saturday. He was formerly warden of the federal prison at Leavenworth and will consider the subject "Shall We Punish or Reform Criminals?"

Business Notices

Advertisements in this column cost five cents per line, and no minimum charge of more than 15 cents. These advertisements are to be inserted in the Barrington Review for the first five days of the month, and no charge for each additional day. Advertisements inserted are charged at the rate of 10c.

FOR SALE—Will sell my entire stock of millinery goods, fashions, shelving, counters, show cases, etc., as a sacrifice if taken soon. H. R. JONES.

FOR SALE—Invalid wheel chair rubber tire. R. H. LAYLE, Telephone 51-W.

FOR SALE—Two young Holstein bulls, registered sire. V. M. LAYLE, New Farm, No. 2.

Oak posts. Price reasonable. BARTWOOD FARMS, Telephone, Barrington, Ill.

FOR SALE—Registered Holstein Bull calves. Two and three months old. OTIS FARMS COMPANY, Telephone 22.

LOST AND FOUND. LOST—Near lamp for automobile on road leading from Lake Zurich to Barrington thence to Wauconda. Finder return to this office.

Cut Prices This Week

SUMMER GOODS

Summer Dress Goods

Lot of Lawns and Fanch figured Summer Dress Goods for this sale 4, 6, 8, 10c yard.

Muslins

15 and 17c Quality Cambric Muslin for this sale at 11c yard.

Corsets

Lot of $1.50 and $1.75 Corsets, this sale only $1.00.

Lot of $1.00 and $1.25 Corsets, this sale only 75c.

Underwear

Ladies' Underwear 10, 15, 20 and 25c.

Men's Underwear 35, 40, 45c.

Hosiery

A lot of Ladies' Hosiery for this sale 10 and 20c pair.

Children's Hosiery for this sale 15, 17, 20c pair.

DANIEL F. LAMEY

HAMS BROTHERS

Home Bakery & Delicatessen

WILL BE OPEN FOR BUSINESS SATURDAY, AUGUST 1

YOU WILL LIKE OUR GOOD BAKING. We don't say this boastfully. We have earned a reputation in Chicago for fine baking and quite naturally our friends are numerous. We know how to bake and we use the best ingredients in the baking. That is why our Pies, Cakes, Bread and Rolls are enjoyed by everybody. They couldn't be otherwise, for experience and quality counts, and the two combined mean health and happiness to our patrons. A TRIAL WILL CONVINCE YOU.

 Ask About our French Nut Filled Coffee Cakes.
Try our Home Made Silver and Gold Pound Cake.
Hot Rolls Every Morning and Afternoon. :: "FROM THE OVEN TO YOU"

Lamey Building

Hams Brothers

MAIN STREET

TELEPHONE 214-J