CODDING BEST LECTURER OF WEEK

Former Warden of Leavenworth Prison Held the Audience With His Idea of Reform for Prisoners.

The Chautauque and Saturday evening, and may be called a very successful course of lectures and entertainments in this town. People who do not care to go to the theatre, and who are not in the habit of attending lectures, are attracted by the Chautauque, and find it very interesting and instructive. But the only way to appreciate the program was to hear them all, for they, as a whole, could not be called "good." Some were one or two, when one might hear a speaker whose subject or manner of speaking did not interest one. The meetings were held in the evening, and the talk about how much money was taken out of town, and many criticisms and "knocking" remarks, our citizens were not in the habit of making. But as the Chautauque can be held in a small village.

The only just criticism is that some of the speakers have too deep a knowledge of the audience and of course failed to hold the attention of those who could not follow the words of their speakers. But this is a very common thing so through this summer are men of fine education, all holdier high positions as teachers and educators, and

The business of the week requires considerable effort on the part of the young college students in direct charge and the local community, for there are many details connected with such an enterprise.

The original Chautauque held here was in the interests of the Prohibition party of Illinois, and was called the "Prohibition Temperance Chautauque." The majority of the last year's speakers were from "The National League Chautauque" circuit, and while the aim is to uphold every good movement for the betterment of all, still the question of prohibition of the liquor traffic was not the main subject at the meeting. The meeting was held in the basement of the church, and was attended by about 200 persons, out of twelve sessions. When the session was over, the meeting was a temporary lecture given. was worth the admission for the orchestra alone. He is well known to need much more here, yet the fact that it is a great thing that he has done is that he has not jettisoned local talent. He has rather traveled a choice to have musicians from all over the state. Some of them were in large cities. About five years ago he had a similar idea and the orchestra visited this circuit. That played long programs at both ends and were a delight, although one of the things that he has done was such "right" music on this summer that their abilities cannot be judged. However, now local musicians felt they had been treated to splendid selections.

Dr. H. L. Esten, professor at the University of Wisconsin, has talked on the Supplement of the mind. He is a very interesting and amusing speaker on generalities of the evening. He is a man of presence, whose fine physique and intellect are apparent in his bearing and his years of right living. He has spent several years ago in the Orient, greeted with pleasure by his students.

SHOPPERS WHO ARE NOT SHOPPERS.

Penny savers are dollar robbers. People who save the pennies have the dollars.

Don't have the dollars you must have the pennies, and to save the pennies you must know how to shop.

Some shoppers are not shoppers; they are just spenders.

Money comes easy and goes easy. They make plenty of money, get it from hand to hand. Sometimes the hand does not reach the mouth.

Their pockets are large, but have no cash. Sometimes the money does not reach their pockets at all, it is spent before it is made.

They don't know how to shop, how to make a dollar buy a hundred cents worth of goods. They know nothing of what they are getting until after they get it.

There is one great remedy for this evil—careful shopping.

Buy, careful shopping is a problem to some people. They begin at the end and quit before they reach the beginning.

They should turn to the local paper. It is the shopper's best friend.

It faithfully portrays the enterprise of the community, lists in its advertising columns all the offerings to live more cheaply, and shows the path to the store of best values.

It gives them shopping information which otherwise it would take time to acquire, and much which often they would never know.

As a commercial encyclopedia it is the first step to economical shopping. For when a store has offerings of special value they are sure to be found in the paper.

To shop economically they should study the advertisements with care—every one of them—at every appearance of the paper, for to overlook it once might mean the missing of the very articles they are looking for.

Economical shopping is easy, if you have here; but if you are a devotee in the head shopping the paper will save you a safe port.

The paper guides you to the ways of economical shopping, showing you how to get the best value for your money, and how to get the best value for your money.

Many voters who cast their ballots for Theodore Roosevelt for president in 1912 fear that they have not their right to participate in the republican primary next month.

Such persons are laboring under a misunderstanding of the law, for they have a perfectly legal right to vote the republican ticket and for candidates for republican nominations in the primary this fall.

When the last primary was held two years ago Colonel Roosevelt was a candidate for the republican nomination for president. No primary has been held since that time.

When the vote goes to the polling place in his precinct in primary day, September 8, all he will need to do is to call for a republican ballot and he will have the right to vote for such candidates on it as he may see fit. The fact that one voted for Colonel Roosevelt for president in the November election of 1912 cuts no figure whatever and does not disbar anyone from voting in the republican primary in the fall.

Governments officials are unphilosophical to whom portray in the new issue of banknotes. In the extremely grave emergency we suggest the name of our distinguished fellow-citizens and co-partis, Police Magistrate Tom Cret, whose images of wisdom are as numerous as the pebbles of the beach, and whose noble deeds daily enhance the greatness and glory of our country.

A writer in a Chicago paper asserts that a young man is sure of a welcome when he calls on a young lady with a box of candy in his hand. That may be the custom in some places, but in this town girls think more of the mental and moral qualities of the man than they do of a pound of candy.

All Europe is embroiled in strife, and rumors of strife, while the United States remains in peace and gathers the greatest crop yield in history. Surely providence looks after its own.

Warned from being humbugged by the flesh reducers, a correspondent writes us to recommend a "Nobility" remedy. Sure thing—this kind never fails. Stop eating.

A battered little homing pigeon released from a balloon in Chicago two years ago has just found its way to its home in St. Louis. What an example for us.

Millions of men will go to war, and march and sweat and fight all day and night. If put to work in the corn field they would desert at the first sound.

Now is the psychological moment for Mr. Bryan to leap the pond and deliver his celebrated lecture, entitled "The Prince of Peace."

Never judge a man's generosity by the price he pays for his cigars. Look at his wife's face!

Bumper crops? You bet. The railroads can't get cars enough to move the bumper.

After all, it is good to be a citizen of the U. S. A.

Moore County Has Few Fires

During the fiscal year which closed June 30 there were fewer fires reported from the County of Moore in proportion to its population than from any other county in the state. This is true principally because of the fact that this county is largely settled by people of foreign descent, and the Germans, as a class in this country, have fewer fires than any other nationality. They come from a country where fires are regarded more in the light of a crime than in the light of a misfortune, and have brought with them from the Mother Country these habits of carefulness which preclude the probability of accidental fires.

The last fire of any consequence in the city of Waterloo, a city of 2,000 people, occurred nearly a year and a half ago and the city of Columbia, which is approximately the same size, has burned equally as good. These old German settlements over the state have practically no fires, and if they can practically eliminate the fire waste it is reasonable to expect that other communities can greatly reduce it.

Another Peculiar Fire.

In a central Illinois city the other day an automobile owner, thinking that he detected a leak in the gasoline of his car, struck a match to locate the leak and only the prompt action of the fire departments of that city prevented the entire destruction of the garage and a number of valuable machines.

In the past year a number of people have been burned to death in this state while piloted under overturned automobiles. In two or three automobile accidents people have approached the car with lighted lanterns and the leaking gas was immediately ignited, the car destroyed and the injured occupants burned to death. One should never approach an overturned automobile with a lantern or any other artificial light.

U. S. NEUTRALITY PROCLAIMED

President Wilson signs and issues the Expected Helio Concerning the European War.

Washington, Aug. 6.—The United States on Tuesday proclaimed its neutrality in the European war. The proclamation was signed by President Wilson.

The proclamation forbids American citizens enlisting in the service of any of the warring nations or hiring others to do so; forbids the fitting out here of armed vessels for war service and of military expeditions against either of the belligerents, and the frequenting or use of the waters or ports of the United States by the vessels of either of the nations at war.

MONEY BILL WINS

BILLION DOLLAR COMPROMISE MEASURE PASSED BY BOTH HOUSES.

CABINET DISCUSSES WAR

Secretary McAdoo Favors International Clearing House to Insure Disposition of Crops—Emergency Currency Aids New York.

Washington, Aug. 6.—Amendments to the bank law extending issues of currency to 125 per cent of capital and surplus of banks and trust companies in the federal reserve system, were finally passed by the house on Tuesday. More than a billion dollars will be available for additional circulation.

The senate promptly agreed to the amendments, which then went to the White House for President Wilson's signature.

A special meeting of the cabinet was held at the White House while congress discussed the currency law. Secretary McAdoo brought up the subject of an international clearing house association in which the United States and European nations should hold membership as one method by which this country might insure the disposition of its wheat and cotton crops in foreign markets.

With the backs of the country fortified with millions of additional currency, officials feel that the immediate problem is how to take care of the crops.

The establishment of an international association and the assumption of trade, it was pointed out, would not only result in the sale of American crops, but would tend to bring back much of the gold recently exported.

The senate will authorize the secretary of the navy to establish naval bases to carry mail, passengers and freight to South America and Europe was up for passage in the house. Details of the plan, the cabinet of which is the development of American trade with South America, are to be worked out by the navy department after the bill has been signed by the president.

Secretary Daniels already has informed Chairman Tillman of the senate naval affairs committee that five fast cruisers, two fast scout cruisers, two transports, two Panama railroad steamers and five colliers are available for South American and European service.

New York, Aug. 6.—Conditions in the financial district settled down to further calm on Tuesday. Measures taken to safeguard the general situation, including issuance of clearing house certificates and the receipt of emergency currency, have been taken for distribution among local banks, were found to be increasingly effective.

Distribution of the emergency currency resumed at the subtreasury. Some $45,000,000 is now available and more is expected in the course of the week. The National City bank on Tuesday took out $10,000,000 of this fund applied for an additional $500,000.

More than one thousand depositors gathered at the German Savings bank, one of the largest in the city, forming a line, four abreast, for a block and a half. Each was allowed to withdraw only $100 from the bank. The line was required to file the 50-day notice agreed upon by all savings banks in the city.

NEW EXPERIENCE FOR BARBER

First Time He Had Shaved Man Whose Face Had an Unequal Growth of Hair.

Capt. W. V. Lucas, who was an officer in the Fourteenth Iowa regiment, tells an amusing story of an incident that occurred during General Prior's raid into Missouri in the last year of the Civil war. The story appears in "Pilot Knob," by Messrs. O. A. Peterson and J. H. Hanson.

"On arriving at Pilot Knob the afternoon before the engagement of the Twenty-seventh, I went into a barber shop to be shaved. Suddenly, when the barber had shaved only one-half of my face, the long roll was beaten. I left my chair instantly, and reached my company, half a block away, with one side of my face shaved smooth, whereas the other displayed a two weeks' growth of beard. I did not complete the shave until six days afterward, when a colored barber did the job at Pilot Knob. He shaved away. While working the dirt and sand out of the long side, the fellow's curiosity was excited, until he could no longer refrain from comments.

"I never saw a face like that," said he. "But one side was richer than the other; but you're rich!"

"My explanation seemed to afford him great relief."—Youth's Companion.

Reprieve Angers a Murderer. An unusual scene was witnessed at Versailles (France) jail recently, when the public prosecutor went to inform two murderers that their death sentences had been commuted to penal servitude for life.

One, Joseph Dingen, received the news joyfully, but the other, Louis Louis, exclaimed: "What, you asked for my neck for my head, and now you come to torture me by a reprieve? I do not want it; I want have liberty or the gallows. I won't go to the gallows at any price."

He said he relied upon the public prosecutor, seized him by the throat and endeavored to strangle him. The keeper had great difficulty in releasing the offender and putting the convict in a strait jacket.

The Dear Girls. "He seems determined to kiss me," remarked the girl who was waiting for a compliment. "I wonder why?" "Hard to tell," said the other girl. "My is the reason for fresh hair."
