50 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE

SCHOOL WILL OPEN AGAIN ON MONDAY

Diphtheria Here Has So Far Subsidized That It Is Thought Safe To Re-Open Schools.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS WILL RE-OPEN

The Ban Has Also Been Lifted on "Moving Picture Shows—Only Three Houses Quarantined."

The diphtheria epidemic in this city is about over. All "carrier" cases have been removed by Village Health Officer W. A. Schaefer under the advice of Chief of the State Bureau of Health, Dr. C. E. Crawford. The three houses still infected are those of George Carmichael, Thomas Heydreich and August Schott; one home is isolated, with diphtheria, that of George Nightingale. None is infected with diphtheria though as well as being a "carrier."

School will open Monday and the threat will be inspected regularly for a time for precaution's sake. Sunday schools will open Sunday and moving picture shows Wednesday, November 11.

TUBERCULOSIS WEEK.

Churches, Schools and Lectures Will Observe It by Lectures, Exhibits and Moving Pictures.

By sermon, lectures, motion pictures, exhibits, and many other methods, the National association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis will observe Tuberculosis week in the week of November 22. The campaign is to be known as the Fifth Annual Tuberculosis Day. A special circular entitled "What is Tuberculosis Day?" has been prepared and is being widely distributed. The plan of Tuberculosis Day, as explained in the circular, does not necessarily comprehend a special service on tuberculosis on November 22. If a church, school, or lodge gives the subject attention in any way during that week, this will help in the educational movement.

Outlets for lectures or sermons on tuberculosis and "tub" talks on this subject will be furnished by the speakers and others who can use them. Literature for distribution in the churches, schools, lodges and elsewhere will also be given in large quantities. Persons wishing such literature, either for the preparation of sermons or talks on tuberculosis, or for distribution in public places, should apply to the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, 160 East 42nd street, New York City.

Win Milling House. Marjorie Flood, 13 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Flood of Vernon, Lake county, is the champion girl miller in this part of the country, having won first prize at the dairy show in Chicago, Friday, October 20.

By obtaining three and a half pounds of milk in one minute, she was announced the champion of all contestants. The other winners were: Ted-Gene Hoffman, Dundee, secured 2 1/2 pounds in one minute; and Grace Hoffman, Dundee, secured 1 1/2 pounds milk in one minute.

By winning first prize, Miss Flood got $10 besides the honor of wearing a big placard about the show indicating she was the champion child miller.

Last year Marjorie won second prize at the dairy show and this year she defeated the world's first and best.

This makes the sixth prize of various nature that Marjorie has won in the past year or so. One of her notable achievements was that of a year ago when she won second prize in an essay on the farmer's influence on the paper. "How to make farm home better beautiful" and Miss Marjorie has been called a "national prize."

Miss Emma Rose of Moline, another woman's champion in the milking contest. She drew five and seven-eighths pounds of milk in one minute. Last year she won the girl's milking contest, getting four and seven-eighths pounds of milk in one minute and half.

At a gun was won by Mrs. and Mrs. John Green of Cuba township, this morning, November 5.

MANY PARTIES ON HALLOWEEN

Different Clubs and Individuals Entertained—Mrs. E. P. Kirby's Party Enjoyed by All Present.

Halloween this year seemed to be a hallowed evening indeed, for a bright moon light night of warm temperature on October 31st has been known in years. People were out on our streets until one o'clock and after and groups of children which excited earlier were replaced by those who, although older in years, were children again for tonight.

Very little harm was done, but there are always a few who enjoy fun too much as playing porch chairs on high telephones poles and wires, which destroy or damage the property of others is not "fun." One crowd of young fellows were routed out of bed, by the four policemen to duty that night, and made to go to the down town district and replace a small building which they had torn over.

Parties were quite numerous: the O. C. club here gave open house, the Girl's Sewing club of the Lutheran church held a "vested backward" and much merriment at Mrs. Elizabeth McFarlane's on Main street; the "G. P. C." girls, young ladies of the Salem church entertained their boy friends at the school's hall; the Anna club of 22 girls gathered at Mrs. Esther Bridges at her home in Sunday afternoon; Mrs. Dorothy Brand of east Main street gave a remarkable party and there were automobile parties to other towns.

Mrs. Edward Kirby of Lake street opened her home to the members of the Elbert Givens club, gentlemen and lady friends to the number of twenty-four. All were attracted in a happy and enjoyable evening. Games played the house which was most brightly and appropriately decorated with black and yellow streamers, paper in streamers and shades. The card game of 500 was played in plenty and also. Later the guests in the dining room were taken through a "Chamber of Horrors," with the kitchen and bathroom, where grotesque faces, skeletons and startling objects were shown. The party enjoyed a large dinner and a large number of refreshments were served with the four as a table giving a large time and for a center piece, which called for a trial of brush with brush and leaves and flowers by electricity and red and blue. The guests at the dinner were in the kitchen and the fun was immense. Later the party adjourned to the dance to the music of the orchestra, to the dance and the run the risk of being "run in."

Large in Passenger Rates. The Interstate Commerce Commission happened down a decision in July advising the railroads to reduce their passenger rates for increasing their revenues rather than to increase freight rates. The commission pointed out that the passenger business was unremunerative and that reports showed an actual loss to the carriers for twenty-five years. The railroads in Central passenger territory regularly gave their rates to the commission by filing advances in rates, but they will not pay the charges on 25 cent per mile basis. The new rates are to become effective December 1 and affect all railroads operating in the territory north of the Potomac river, west of the Mississippi river, and west of Buffalo, Pittsburgh and Wheeling, West Virginia. No changes have yet been filed for increases in rates between the Central Passenger association territory and the trunk line territory, including the points east of Buffalo. The rate between New York and Chicago, which falls under this head, is probably will be increased from $20 to $21.10, effective on December 15.

The passenger rates west of the Mississippi river are not likely to be increased within the next few months, the railroads in this territory are unwilling to get the freight rate increases settled.

Woodstock Hotel Sold.

The Woodstock Hotel was sold last week to W. A. Ashby of Rock Island, who will take possession November 1. Mr. Ashby has had many years of experience in the hotel business and is in his intention to conduct an up-to-date, first-class establishment. Woodstock. He comes from Chicago, where he has been manager of the Rock Island Commercial hotel. He was for three years manager of the Elks' hotel and has been in charge of several hotels. He plans to open up a first-class hotel. He is well equipped and will be conducted on both European and American plan. Anyone who has ever tried to get accommodations in Woodstock for over a night will appreciate the change.

CHICAGO STOCKYARDS ARE CLOSED

Epidemic of Foot and Mouth Disease the Cause—Many Valuable Cattle Are Ordered Killed.

The greatest stock yards in the world closed at five o'clock this morning in Chicago for a period of ten days to stop the most epidemic of foot and mouth disease in the sixty-five years.

About 10,000 persons will be killed. There were about 10,000 head at the yards this noon. Slaughtering will continue and byproducts plants will operate.

A herd of 600 infected feeders has been shut off and as soon as killed will be buried in an immense trench. Eleven valuable Holsteins, worth thousands of dollars, recently exhibited at the National Dairy Show will be sacrificed, among them are cattle belonging to Robert Finger of Algonquin, assistant in Burlington at the recent cattle show.

Twenty-two calves were discovered at Gurnee in Lake county, and 200 dairy cattle which had been exposed to the disease were placed under strict quarantine.

Foot and mouth disease is a malady of eleven footed animals. It invades the country from Europe and this is the sixth and worst invasion, the last one being in 1873. Its cause is a minute virus so small it can pass through any microscope. The virus can be transmitted to human beings in milk; it is fatal to it is violent and fatal, but only in humans. Blisters appear in mouth, throat, nostrils, eyes, vomiting and difficult swallowing.

The developments today are: Chicago closed; New York and Maryland quarantined; States previously quarantined: Illinois, Michigan and Pennsylvania.

Federal embargo placed on shipment of cattle from Ohio.

Stockyards at Buffalo, N. Y., and Indianapolis, Ind., quarantined.

History of the disease: In 1873, a case of foot and mouth disease was reported in Ohio from a case from Ohio.

Causes of infection found in Lake county, Illinois.

Congress may be asked for emergency appropriation to suppress epidemic.

Illinois closed.

Tuesday's election at the two precincts here was a quiet one.

Barrett township the total vote was 247, of which 10 were women's and 237 were men's.

In Cook county the Democratic party carried about all the offices excepting that of the county commissioners from the county towns which were won by the Republican candidates.

The three promissories, the Mills, the Leonard, and the Rogers, and good roads were carried.

In Lake county the Republican candidates were all elected by a large majority which is not as usual as Lake is considered one of the strongest Republican counties of the state.

George Edmund Fox, who was defeated two years ago by Charles M. Thompson on the Progressive ticket, won over John W. Witter, Democrat, and Mr. Thompson for congressmen of the fourth district. For the legislature Charles and Victor, Republicans and Graham Democrat, will represent the eighth senatorial district.

Woman's Club Entertains.

The Woman's club held a guest evening at the home of Mrs. E. A. Carlson.

Mr. H. B. Bell, assistant state's attorney of Cook county was the speaker. The Misses Myrtle, Almeda and Frances Plagge sang in trio. A luncheon was served.

Mr. Bell has had years of experience dealing with criminals and is able to tell interesting stories of their lives and their careers at the penitentiary.

One impressive fact he told was that the majority of Cook county criminals are uneducated men but are young.

Many of the most famous actors were men and women discovered in the home. Most walks in life and perhaps in one of these Italians we have a future Caesar.

Considerable excitement happened in the Chicago Telephone Company's office Saturday night. After midnight the large motor trucks out filling the office with smoke. Miss Vera Heltfeld, night operator, was called out to the wire office, George Waukegan, and his men were on duty. The motor is now in Chicago for repairs.

Had to Draw Line Somewhere.
Freddie has been left the three years of his life largely to the care of a trustworthy elderly nurse, Anna. She has a reputation as a disciplinarian. One day he was playing in his mother's room, when mamma spoke to him twice, requesting him to do something. He paid no attention. Finally she asked: "Freddie, aren't you going to mind me?" "No," he said, "I have to mind Anna. Can't be mind-ing anybody."

Hard on the Young Folks.
"Go, you want four footcandle?" "I have installed in the front parlor," said the electric light man. "Yes," replied Mr. Grouch, who objects to his daughter's coffee, "and I want you to remove those little thumb-nails so they can't be turned off."

Said to Be Oldest Tree.
The famous cypress tree Oaxaca in Mexico, over 5,000 years old, said to be the oldest tree in the world was discovered by Humboldt while on his famous tour of spiritual America, 150 years ago. He called it a wooden tablet, which is now half covered by the subsequent growth of the tree. Upon it, however, is still legible the autograph of the famous German naturalist. The last measurement of the tree showed its trunk four feet from the ground, to have a girth of 121 feet.

Good Wiped for Matches.
Arson wood is used almost exclusively in making matches in Sweden, so it is easily cut and porous enough to be readily impregnated with sulphur or paraffin.

ASKED FOR COUNSEL

By ELLA CYGAN.

"I want your advice!" The little stenographer lifted her eyes demurely, and the bookkeeper laid aside his work. She hesitated, and then went on:

"If it's—some one shows an inclination to take your hand in his when you hand him a paper, if he attempts to hold it a minute, would you think his demonstrations mean anything?" And she continued hastily, as she noted a cloud rising on the bookkeeper's brow, "he wasn't rude a bit and he had the sweetest smile!"

"What else?" demanded the bookkeeper.

"Then, whenever he has to come to my desk he always stands there the longest time! Even if I'm busy, he stands and watches me and smiles when I glance up at him!" she smiled reminiscently.

"The nerve of him!" remarked the bookkeeper, sternly. "I noticed that Mr. Gray was particularly attentive!"

"Oh, it's not he!" The little stenographer thoughtfully. "The one I'm telling you about brought me some letters out of his own garden the other day and he said he wished they were alone, but they were the loveliest he could find!"

"You think I'm a fool?" she asked, "The little stenographer looked wistfully at the bookkeeper.

"He's dirty, whoever he is!" asserted the bookkeeper. "It sounds like that fellow, Nicholas!"

"The little stenographer paid no attention."

"I don't know just what to do!" she continued. "I like him awfully well. But I don't want to assume—"

"I hate to see girls marry their employers!" the bookkeeper broke in, frowning with annoyance.

"Oh, dear, but you don't give me any advice at all!" complained the little stenographer. "You don't help a bit!"

"What do you want?" he exploded, looking at her with troubled eyes.

"Would you like advice to marry him?"

"Wait, you won't get it! How do you know he wants you?"

"I don't know," agreed the little stenographer. "But I thought that

"Oh, He's Not He!"

maybe, as a man, you might know what he meant!"

"I never make an idiot of myself!"

"But he doesn't make an idiot of himself!" He's perfectly well bred!"

"Oo!" said the bookkeeper. "Don't you know, I've been sort of hoping—but there isn't any use!" he sighed.

"And," continued the little stenographer, as if unconsciously of the import of his words, "I like him so well I want to do it for him, and be a friend to him!"

"Just a friend?" inquired the bookkeeper with some eagerness.

She smiled. "What are you talking about?" she inquired archly. "If I ask for advice, and I receive a perfect enigma of words thrown at me! I'll have to ask Mr. Gray, I guess! Here I am, receiving the attentions of a parson and I go to one whom I thought I could trust, and he tells me nothing!"

"She tried to look hurt."

"If he's such a nice boy," continued the little stenographer, "but I don't want to encourage him if he's serious. And I don't want to hurt his feelings. So I don't know how to tell!"

"A boy!" said the bookkeeper, puzzled. "Did you say a boy?"

"Oh, yes, but you won't tell me!" she reproached. "I'm afraid if I go to Mr. Gray, the rough chap will get into trouble, and if I let it go on he may feel that I'm encouraging him."

"If you'd tell a fellow his name," suggested the bookkeeper.

"Oh, I don't know it," she explained, impatiently. "I never heard his name. It's that slim, blue-eyed little telegraph messenger!"

"When I'll be fagged!" said the bookkeeper.

The little stenographer giggled. "Yes," she said. "I had you guessing some that trip, didn't I?"—Chicago Daily News.

His Fortune a Platonic.

The youngest chess and a fellow were all that Arapahoe Glorvont of Spokane found in a life devoted to what he opened it at Portland, Ore., after withdrawing it from a bank where he had deposited it under the impression that it contained $10,000 of his life money and $10,000 belonging to an unknown man who had won his chess game.

Disputed, the police say, was the victim of an old bunco game whereby he was convinced the victim's money is substituted for another. The $10,000 represented Glorvont's life savings.
