TWO DAY MEETING WAS A BIG SUCCESS

Country Life Association Held Annual Meeting Last Friday and Saturday—Well Attended Despite Cold.

E. S. SMITH ELECTED PRESIDENT

Many Prominent Men Spoke and Much Benefit Was Derived by Those in Attendance—Contents Decided.

The new president of the Barrington Country Life association is Prof. Edm. S. Smith, superintendent of the Barrington school. A man who deserves all the "glory" connected with the office, for as a minor officer for three years he had done a great deal towards promoting the organization.

The two-day meet held by this society on Friday and Saturday, January 14 and 15, may be called an auspicious affair, even if intense cold kept many farmers and their wives from attending.

At the first session on Friday morning some proposition was made about the prospects of the meeting—only a very few were present to hear a fine speaker—but fears of failure disappeared later at other sessions and the attendance increased at each one, until on Saturday afternoon the high school assembly room was filled to capacity. President E. S. Smith presided.

The Lake county superintendent of schools was unable to be present as expected. E. J. Ryan, superintendent of Cook county schools, made a visit near the audience and held conversations with different men and women, instead of giving a lecture. This was an excellent way to bring out facts and necessities concerning district school interests. Mr. Ryan's enthusiasm is contagious generally, so that he enjoys and seeks an argument with some conservative rural residents who cannot grasp the need for better schools and equipped country schools.

Ernest Phillips, county field director in Northwestern Cook county, attended the meetings and called attention to the records displayed of the garden clubs for boys and girls. On Saturday he announced the prize winners in the contest to be three Barrington boys: Wright, Carlisle, Albert, Elrick and Clark, Harwood. The prizes were five, three and one dollar, offered by the County Life association.

W. J. Kittle of Chicago spoke Friday afternoon on the milk business. He is familiar with the business being secretary of the Milk Producers' association and is always urging the farmer to stand for better milk, better sanitation and better prices. He gives out valuable information and is much in demand as speaker at farmers' institutes. He makes a good leader in defense of the farmer.

A lecture on home interests was in order in the Village hall that afternoon given by Miss Grace Smith of Chicago representing the agricultural extension department of the International Harvester company of New Jersey. Miss Smith is a good platform speaker.

Indeed, she sits from the shoulder, as is commonly said, and has the power of advice and criticism fall where they are needed. No one can listen to her rapid, energetic and terse sentences without feeling interested in the subject. She is a keen humorist and a goodly sort of humor that is very effective. Although representing a corporation and a word was said to stir up the feeling, but she was so tactful in her remarks that she should be arranged and conducted for health and happiness sake. Miss Smith was a superb teacher in Indiana cities for years before taking up this work.

Friday night Barrington citizens did not disappoint in their talk on the subject of the milk business.

MRS. FLORENCE KING GIVES TALK

Woman's Club Met at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Plagge and Enjoyed Interesting Program.

Miss Florence King, attorney-at-law, the only woman patent lawyer in America, made her second appearance before the Woman's club Wednesday evening at the beautiful bungalow home of Mrs. Clarence Plagge. The Good Housekeeping magazine for October contained an account of Miss King's life and her picture. She is a wonderful woman in many ways.

She traced the history of patent laws since the close of the Revolutionary war; after the Civil war Congress appropriated $20,000 for greater development of inventions. People at large thought it was an extravagance thinking "Everything had been invented that could be."

But by 1916, 450,000 patents had been granted and there are 1,000 a week at present, war being a great stimulus. Women have been granted only 20,000 patents, because she lacks genius, but application.

Miss Plagge, president of the Altrud club of Jefferson Park gave a pleasing introduction in verse on her trip to Iceland.

John Greenberg of Williams street sang several songs in splendid voice. His first appearance publicly here was greatly appreciated.

Miss Myrtle Plagge sang "Slumber Song," "Love, Here's My Heart" and "Don't You Mind the Surrows." Her singing was a real treat. Mrs. Reuben Plagge gave a pleasing talk.

Telephone Gaining Popularity

A record of the impulse of prosperity may be found in the increased use of the telephone in the suburban territory tributary to Chicago. In the ten counties of Illinois and Indiana served by the Chicago Telephone Company 92,000 subscribers are in touch with their neighbors and the markets of the world by means of the telephone. This is an increase of over 5,800 in the last year.

In carrying out its policy of keeping in advance of telephone growth, the Chicago Telephone Company spent thousands of dollars during 1915, adding many miles of aerial and underground cable, rebuilding and reserialing telephone exchanges and installing additional switchboards.

Since August, the company has put in service in its suburban field sixteen auto trucks for use in construction work, practically displacing the horse as a factor in its construction and maintenance department. In its city and suburban territory combined, the company now has over 200 motor-driven vehicles in use.

A large part of the new work in the suburban territory has had for its object the extension of toll facilities and for this purpose many miles of additional aerial and underground cable have been installed.

Many cities now have telephone communication with Chicago through underground conductors which insure the service against interruptions that might result from blast storms, high winds or from the work of vandals or petty thieves.

Extensions of this underground system are now under way some of the more important of which are for the purpose of ultimately placing cities in Kane and Will counties in underground communication with one another and with Chicago.

While the increase in the number of telephones in the suburban district has been general, telephone expansion has been more marked in the larger places. Oak Park district now has 935 motor telephones than were in service on January 1, 1915. Evanston district has had an increase of 935 telephones during the year. In the Aurora district 465 subscribers were gained.

Joliet district enjoyed a growth of 600 telephones. In the Calumet manufacturing district, to the south-east of Chicago, steady telephoning has played the revival of business during the last few months.

Increasing general demand for a higher grade of service throughout the company's suburban territory is shown by a larger gain in the number of two-party-line telephones as against a smaller increase in four-party-line telephones.

Announcement of Speakers Next Week
The State Pure Food exhibit, which have been held in the Woman's club rooms on February 1, 2, 3 and 4, will be held in Village hall instead as the club rooms are not large enough.

There will be speakers for four afternoons and evenings. Next week's Review will give a list of speakers who will talk on the different phases of Household Science. Everybody is urged to attend this exhibit as it is very instructive to all.

MANY VISITED CAR WHILE HERE

Barrington Women Profited Much by Demonstration Car—Woodstock.

The demonstration car was on exhibition here 10 days, closing Saturday night when Miss Grace Plagge and Fred Plagge, lecturers, returned to the state university at Urbana for a few days. The car was moved to Woodstock last night where it was received by McHenry County Superintendent of Schools Shelton.

It is said that 2000 visitors called to view the display of household economical and helpful suggestions.

Although this is a community in which homes are well kept and provisioned, nevertheless, a new element has been introduced into home life in the form of the lecture and the car. These have been planted in fertile soil which will be productive of home improvement crops.

One of the main facts stamped on the hearts of some women is that their home-work must not be regarded as a disagreeable task to be shiftlessly done, or neglected, but that home-making and management is a "big business," the most important in the world.

From the presence in town of the instruction, offered by our state, may grow in scores of homes here, a greater study of the chemistry of cooking, for the better nourishment of each member of the family.

Even if the older women are not influenced much by the idea of leading more about their life "jobs," still, if our growing girls and misses have been impressed with the idea that there are hundreds of things to learn about PROPER housekeeping, — if their minds have been even slightly turned towards their future work and away from the thought that "just" housework, — then has the car been a wonderful factor for good in our midst.

It would not be diplomatic to attempt to give credit to all who furthered the venture by various acts; so many people helped splendidly and some as usual, worked without others knowing, or realizing, the amount of time and thought given to details; if any understanding there are also best-kept workers, behind the scenes, who strive sincerely for the CAUSE and not for self-advancement or praise.

Should I Drink More Milk.

The State Food Department of Illinois advises the more general use of milk as a food which is especially adapted to supplying the various needs of the human system. Milk is the only safe food for infants when their tender and delicate bodies first begin to grow. It is the foundation upon which the human body is built. From the nursery of the infant to the established adult, milk is a boon—a life, preserver extraordinary, a health-giver and a palate-pleasing delicacy.

Good, rich, pure, creamy milk is both a food and a medicine. Delicious, healthful and nourishing as milk, the American people consume comparatively little of it, per capita. As eight cents per quart, the average American uses only 85.62 worth of milk a year. We could be far better off if we went to the milk farm and carried longer coats, blue jeans, long-sleeved shirts, trousers, provided the milk supply. Impure milk is a menace to health and to life. Fortunately, through rigid inspection, and thorough processes of sterilizing milk, it is possible to make it pure and safe from disease-producing germs.

We do not appreciate in what great measure the cow is our national benefactor. Throughout her life the modest cow contributes generously to our daily needs, and when she lays down her life every atom of her remains is utilized to provide some necessity for human use. Can as much be said for any other animal? Let us manifest our appreciation of the cow by consuming more of her products.

RECEIVES IMPORTANT APPOINTMENT

A Barrington Man, H. Stillson Hart, Appointed on Membership Committee of Navy League.

H. Stillson Hart of Barrington, Charles W. Hess, Wiley D. Kirk, F. W. Lewis, Herbert O. Olson and G. L. Walker of Glenview, have been appointed to the Membership Committee of the Navy League of the United States and will help to represent that organization in their district in the active, aggressive campaign which it is carrying on in all parts of the country in behalf of adequate preparation for naval defense and disarmament. They will co-operate with the members of the Navy League's state committee for Illinois, of which H. C. Chatfield-Taylor of Chicago is chairman and will lend their energetic and enthusiastic support to the work undertaken to consolidate and organize the overwhelming sentiment of thinking people of that state in behalf of measures of adequate preparation. A special letter has been forwarded Mr. Hart and the other gentlemen appointed by the Navy League, notifying them of their appointment. The letters are signed by Colonel Robert M. Thompson, president of the league, and read as follows:

"Dear Sir:
"In accordance with the instructions of the board of directors of the Navy League, I am hereby appointing you a member of the Membership Committee of that organization.

"In the present days of international strife and hysteria, we believe that it is of the first duty of every good citizen to work with all his might to insure the provision of such naval defenses for this country as shall render our country strong enough to avoid being drawn into the madmood of war, or shall render it certain that no hostile army shall ever set foot on our soil should the worst come and our nation be unavoidably drawn into the strife.

"We believe that the best organized and most potent of the forces working for adequate national defense is the Navy League, and therefore do not hesitate to urge you as a citizen and patriot, to lend us your fullest and most enthusiastic aid and co-operation in our work to insure our country adequate against the possibility of invasion by a foreign foe.

"The Secretary of the committee to which you have been assigned will communicate with you shortly in regard to the particular manner in which you should go about your work. We count upon you to the fullest extent in this arduous patriotic work."
(Signed) ROBERT M. THOMPSON,
President of the Navy League of the U. S."

Great interest is felt all over the country in the Navy League's sensational campaign in behalf of adequate national defense which has done so much toward the awakening of the American people to the danger of their unprepared condition.

The Navy League is not in any sense a military organization. Since its foundation more than 14 years ago it has been foremost in the work for international peace. Its president, General Horace Porter, was twice delegate to the World Peace Conference at the Hague and all its aims and objectives since the League has worked for and advocated peace, BUT with such a time as the possibility of war is threatened to much below its present ratio it believes that it would be just as well for the United States to allow its navy to deteriorate as it would be for a household to allow its fire insurance policy to lapse because he disapproved of it and hoped there would be no more of them.

The Navy League holds that this country's best defense lies in the three thousand or more miles of water which separate it from the nearest of its powerful neighbors. Should war be forced on this country, the Navy League holds that its most reliable and best fought by armies on American soil but by trained fleet men in ships out on the ocean where destruction of life and property will be kept to a minimum, and the savage business of killing will be kept as far as possible from American's homes and shores.

To this end it has always advocated a navy second to none, which will be able to guarantee absolutely that no hostile army will be able ever to effect a landing on the shores of our country, and in this demand it believes it is backed by unanimous public opinion all over the country. The most effective testimony to the popularity of the cause of the Navy League is the fact that it has secured the support of the Navy League in the manner in which membership has increased by leaps and bounds within the past few months.

TELLS OF CONDITIONS IN MEXICO

Wilfred A. Joubert Says That People There are Blame and United States Should Not Intervene

Mexico and her history for the past fifty years was most forcefully described Tuesday evening at a Redpath Entertainment course number in the high school.

Wilfred A. Joubert of Boston, a down east Yankee of colonial descent, was the speaker and no advertising of his lecture as a wonderful insight into Mexican affairs can be written too strongly. He is so colorful that every listener felt he knew his subject from actual personal experience and observation while living for years in Mexico as the manager of several large ranches for United States owners.

He is a finely educated man of cultured manners, handsome appearance and refinement, unaffected by the rough experiences he encountered when Mexico was demoralized in 1910. He is a whirlwind of oratory backed by first hand knowledge and an honest, intense, direct delivery. One hour of his conversation seems more real information of conditions than roams of press reports.

He says all news received by the public is unreliable; that real political moves and characters of leading block cases are not understood outside; the people themselves are alone to blame for their country's state; that their natures cannot be changed for generations; that they should be ruled by men whom the world would call "tyrants"; that a strong, tyrannical man will be needed to whip them into order; that the United States should not intervene; that Huerta was the best ruler, excepting the elder Diaz, and should have been recognized by our government; that today Villa and Carranza are not patriots but villains; that the trusts, church of Rome and higher classes are not responsible for the country's unrest; that 70 per cent of the people are ignorant and irresponsible and the ancient Aztec nation still in them makes them lawless, shiftless and cruel, although they have childlike traits underneath and should be ruled like children by a strong military character, such as revolution or change of their nature, gradually makes them a peaceful, prosperous race.

Mr. Joubert should be heard far and wide in this country. When he related to his own home after leaving Mexico two years ago, he happened to address the Boston Art club of which he is a member and it was through this club that he was introduced to go upon the American lecture platform with his story of Mexico.

Poultry Show Success

The poultry show in the school basement held by the Country Life association on Friday and Saturday was a great attraction. It was quite professional in appearance and meant much work for the committee arranging it.

The winners were: George Hager and Dan Gilly. Besides the chickens various people entered pet animals and fowls which added to the display nicely. There were Guinea pigs, white rabbits, dogs, puppies and English-birding cock pheasants. Those wishing to see a complete list of winners may do so at this place. Blue ribbon winners in the various breeds shown were: E. C. Groff, A. W. Meyer, W. H. Thorp, J. F. Gleake, A. W. Sutherland, Frank Drish, John Goulet, G. Carmichael, G. A. Latta, Vickery Kenneths, Edwin Johnson, Julius Landwehr, George Page, George and Howard Stienhoefer, J. B. Schroeder, S. Ziegler, Clara Ehrlich, Edward Landwehr, R. Wille, Elizabeth Van Hagen, C. F. SODT BUILDING DAMAGED BY FIRE

GREATEST LOSS CAUSED BY WATER

V. D. Hawley, W. F. Burkhardt and Woman's Relief Corps Occupied Building—Covered by Insurance.

A stubborn fire broke out in the basement of the Barrington Pharmacy, which is owned by V. D. Hawley, at 530 o'clock Friday morning and did considerable damage to the building which is owned by Mrs. Hannah Sott. The fire was caused by C. P. Hawley attempting to thaw out, by burning paper, a frozen water pipe in the basement. There was a considerable inflammable material near where he was at work and the fire got the start of him. When he saw that he was helpless he gave up the attempt. Employees of the Chicago Northwestern railway gave the fire signal, calling out the Volunteer Fire department. Nearly 25 members of the department responded to the alarm and within 15 minutes of the time the whistles were sounded two lines of hose were in action, fighting the flames and within a very short time the fire was under control. The morning was very cold and it was hard to get at the fire. Flots were cut through the roof and the fire was completely extinguished within two hours. The firemen deserve a great deal of credit for their prompt and effective work. Thoughtful Mrs. Nellie Robertson of Cook street responded to the needs of the minute, supplying the boys with all the hot coffee for which they cared and she has the thanks of the fire department.

The stock of W. F. Burkhardt, jeweler, who occupies a portion of the building was moved across the street to the drug store. His damage was slight and he moved his stock back into the building early this week. The furniture of the Woman's Relief Corps was damaged considerably by water, the piano which was soaking wet was moved to the parlour store of Lamey & Company where it was given a chance to dry out.

The stock of drugs of V. D. Hawley was badly damaged by water. He has had two men from the firm of Fuller-Morrison Co., wholesalers in drugs, take an inventory of his damage for the purpose of adjusting his loss. As soon as they complete their figures a claim will be filed with the companies in which he is insured. Settlements have been made with all others sustaining losses.

Mr. Joubert should be heard far and wide in this country. When he related to his own home after leaving Mexico two years ago, he happened to address the Boston Art club of which he is a member and it was through this club that he was introduced to go upon the American lecture platform with his story of Mexico.

SHAVING A PLEASURE—
NOT AN "OPERATION."

Utit, the wonderful new skin food and "wrinkle chaser," is a boon to men with heavy, wiry beards and tender skins.

A man who has used it for a short time lately, "shaving is a pleasure now," he says, "to consider it almost an operation."

It is only necessary to rub a few drops of Utit into the beard before lathering to enjoy an easy, quick shave. When Utit is applied before shaving, there is never any smarting, soreness, or drawn feeling after. Get a bottle and shave in comfort. The genuine Utit is always in opal tins. Beware of cheap imitations. You do not shave yourself, take it to your barber and have him apply it to your beard, shaving you. It is really surprising how fine it makes your face feel. DANGEROUS VARICOSE
VEINS CAN BE REDUCED

If you or any relative or friend is worried because of varicose veins, or bunions, the best advice that anyone in this world can give is to find a prescription that many physicians are now prescribing.

Ask your druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength), and apply night and morning to the swollen area. As you use it, you will notice that they are growing smaller and the treatment should be continued until the veins are of normal size. So penetrating and powerful is Emerald Oil that it dissolves goitre and wens and causes them to disappear.

The Wheat Tells the
of Western Canada's Rap

The heavy crops in Western Canada have caused new records to be made in the handling of grains by railroads. For, while the movement of these heavy shipments has been a record, the resources of the different roads, despite enlarged equipments and increased facilities, have been strained as never before, and previous records have thus been broken in all directions.

The largest Canadian wheat shipments through New York ever known are reported for the period to October 15th, upwards of four and a quarter million bushels being exported in less than six weeks, and this was but the ordinary shipments to Montreal, through which point shipments were much larger than to New York.

Yields as high as 60 bushels of wheat per acre are reported from all parts of the country, and such crops are common.

Thousands of American farmers have taken part in this wonderful production, and six million bushels of wheat are now being stored in the granaries in good locations, convenient to markets, schools, markets, railways, etc.

There is no way back on land and sea consoling.

A SNOWBALL MORTAR.

A snowball mortar is a novelty that will add a great deal of sport to a snow battle. And the fact that the one shown in Fig. 1 is a modified form of the ancient war-engine known as a "ballista," used before the invention of gun-powder and firearms for hurling heavy stones, makes it all the more interesting to make and use.

Our modern "war engine," or "snowball mortar," as we call it, is mounted upon a pair of runners, just like a

HOW TO COPY-PICTURES.

By means of the glass reflecting frame shown in Fig. 1, it is possible to make an exact drawing of any picture that you may wish a copy of. The apparatus is easily made.

All that you need for the construction are two boards (A and B), two crosspieces (C and D), and a small picture frame with the glass fastened securely in place (E, Figs. 2 and 3). Almost any small-sized picture frame will do, though one that has an opening about eight inches wide and ten and is built, so it may be drawn over the ground quickly. One of the most important may be entrenched in the snow fort for the use of the defender, and others may be used by the attacking party to batter away the walls of the fort. With practice you can become expert in handling a snowball, mortar, and you will declare this method of fighting to be far more fun than that of throwing a stone.

The runners (A, Fig. 2) are made of 2-by-4-inch material, about 4 feet in length. Their bow ends are curved like sled runners, to make them run smoothly on the ground. Cut the opposite ends B (Fig. 2) out to the right-hand material, making them about 24 inches long, and nail them to the sides of the runners, 16 inches from the bow ends, as shown in Fig. 2. Nail them very firmly, because the connections will be placed under a considerable strain.

WHY "ANURIC"
IS AN INSURANCE AGAINST SUDDEN DEATH

Sufferers from Backache, Rheumatism and Various Troubles

Before an insurance Company will take a risk on your life the examining physician will test the urine and report whether you are a good risk. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, side-ache, dizziness, uric acid, or the twinges and pains of rheumatism and gout. The urine is full of uric acid; of sediment; channels often get sore and sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. If you do not get your kidneys cleaned up, you may should consult some physician of wide experience—such as Dr. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, 531 N. E. Third St., New York City, for a sample package of his new discovery—"Anuric." Write him your symptoms and send a sample of urine for test.

Experience has taught Dr. Pierce that "Anuric" is the most powerful agent in dissolving uric acid, as hot water melts sugar; besides being absolutely harmless, it is endowed with absolute properties, for it preserves the kidneys in a healthy condition by the gently cleansing them. Checkes the flow of the blood, resists, as well as regulates, and preserves "Anuric" as a regular insurance and life-saver for all big meat eaters and those who indulge in rich and greasy food. The drugless food of the future, says Dr. Pierce, in 50-cent packages.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for Women. Beware of cheap imitations. Women well. No alcohol. Sold in tablets or liquid.

REAL FRIENDS SCARCE

Everybody has scores of "acquaintances" whom they call "friends." Each of us really only have a few real friends and we use the word "friendship" too loosely.

An old rule says "Never have more than six intimate friends if you want to keep out of trouble and be careful that you tell these six close friends about your affairs and thoughts."

Every community has its general sociability and its smaller circles of sociability, as people of like tastes and interests find one another; on these latter friendships our happiness depends. We can be so happy with those who understand us and interest us and whom we please, but so very unhappy if not with "our kind."

One kind is as good as another, in most cases, although people have to be with their own kind.

But, in seeking one's own kind, there is a danger in getting "too thick." The Browns and the Greens, too one another so often that they begin to know one another too well and grow too familiar. In the end there is a quarrel or unpleasantness.

Lifelong friendships do not depend on daily meetings; always is a stronger link than without friendship.

KINDNESS APPRECIATED

We see too often the signs that weak parents control. One great cause is scolding. Parents do not really cultivate and communicate a right home spirit and hold their children under their influence as they once did.

Kind words, soft, voiced directions or corrections, a request instead of a command make the children more ready to mind gladly. Some boys and girls may need the rod, but most of them can be reached and managed by gentleness.

The impatient, irritable, over-worked mother who is always telling the children to do this and do that, to do that, in a loud, complaining, unpleasant voice, had better go into a dark room and listen to herself.

The rough, "bossy" father had better try speaking to his boy quietly and politely, or else talk to his "jawing" into a photograph and then have the machine talk back to him.

Children love to be loved and respected, so let us do it. It has been said by some writers that a low, sweet voice is the most admirable thing in woman; and no doubt it is a man, too.

Seeing the Pacific.

Numer of babies bears a peculiar relation to Panama. He was not the first coverer of the country nor its first settler; nor was he the organizer or administrator of the government in this part of Spanish territory, but he was the first white man to behold that broad sweep of ocean which we now call the Pacific, and he saw it from Panama territory.

Goethe's Criticism.

Our relations are far too artificial and complicated, our nutriment and mode of life without their proper nature and our social intercourse is without proper love and good will. Every one is polished and courteous, but no one has the courage to be hearty and true—Goethe.

E Pluribus Unum.

LOSES MEMORY IN BATTLE, WOOS FIANCEE ANEW

Canadian, Mind Made Blank by Shell Concussion, Does Not Know Parents.

IS STRANGER THAN FICTION

Thomas Truesler, Gent Gait to Front Hospital, Falls to Recall His Name and Is Reported Missing.

New York.—Pete has played many strange pranks with the men fighting in Europe, but none perhaps is more curious than that in which Thomas J. Truesler figures. Mr. Truesler, who is supposed to be a Canadian, was a gunner in the Third brigade, Canadian field artillery.

The concussion from a shell which struck the ground near him last winter caused him to lose all recollection of the past. Consequently, his fiancée in Montreal mourned him for dead, and even after he learned his identity through a scar on his right foot he did not remember her or his parents.

However, as he explained recently, he took his parents' word that they were his father and mother, and, although he does not recall his first pranks, he said he has fallen in love all over again with the woman he was to have married and soon he hopes to make her his bride.

Although Sir Frederick Treves, King George's surgeon, is said to have attempted to restore his memory by means of hypnosis, Mr. Truesler, who is twenty-one years old, recalls nothing of his past prior to the day his mind became blank from the concussion, and when he returned to Canada in the early autumn because of his wound it was necessary for him to relearn the way about his native city of Montreal and to be introduced to his lifelong boyhood friends and school mates.

Under Fire at Ypres.

The young gunner went with the first Canadian contingent which reached France a year ago. At the time the German general staff was perfecting its scheme to break through to Calais by way of Ypres. Mr. Truesler first came under fire near Vinmaringhe, just west of Ypres. His division was acting as a reserve force.

"I have been told by men who served with me on my gun that we all saw a huge German aeroplane fly over us," Mr. Truesler said. "Soon thereafter there came a rain of high explosive shells from a big German gun. Several of our boys were killed and the fact that I was not was a miracle. One of the shells fell within ten or twenty feet of me, I was told, but did not explode. The concussion, however, was terrific, and it dazed and stupefied me."

"I remember awakening in a hospital with the wounded all about me. I felt myself all over and could find nothing amiss, so I sat up in my cot. Then I got out of it and stood up and asked why I was there. A physician told me what had happened to me and sent me back to my brigade, which he located by the insignia on my uniform. When I got back I didn't seem to recollect anything or anybody."

"Some of the men of my gun company saw me and took me back to my quarters. It was necessary for me to make friends with companions again. They called me 'Howie'—a nickname—and soon I became known as 'Howie Truesler.' That fact made it difficult for my parents to locate me, because when I was asked my name I spoke it 'Truesler,' because I didn't want anybody to know that I couldn't recall where I came from or who I was."

Is Reported Missing.

"Consequently," T. P. Truesler went on the rolls of the missing. Consequently, also, I failed to get mail from my fiancée and my parents. It was not until last summer when I was wounded in the leg so badly that I was sent to England that I made any attempt to find out who I was. I confided my story to an Englishwoman of high rank who was interested in the hospital. She made inquiries among the officers of my brigade who remembered 'Truesler' who came off with the contingent.

"My parents were communicated with and my mother remembered an old scar on my foot. Sure enough the scar was there. Even when I returned to Montreal I didn't recognize my mother and don't yet. I learned I was engaged to be married before I left for the front and on my return home my fiancée was at the station with my mother and father. I didn't recognize any of them, but they took me home."

Here Mr. Truesler admitted that he had fallen in love "all over again" and with the same girl.

Although the gunner cannot remember what happened before January of last year, he has a vivid recollection of what has happened since, and his description of the battle of Ypres in April and of the effect of the poison gas used by the Germans is most vivid.

"About five o'clock of the evening of April 23," he said, "we were getting quite bored, for we were in the reserve force along the Poperinghe road, three miles west of Ypres. The dull monotony was rudely broken by the sudden appearance of swarms of French cavalry, Brigades Singulard and Zouaves, rushing in from the front trenches, clutching at their throats, holding their sides, rolling on the ground, gasping for breath, eyes blood shot and staring, many of them bleeding at the mouth, but most of them unable to explain the cause of their peculiar actions."

Asphyxiating Gas Cloud.

"Along with them came scores of refugees, men, women and children, bearing with them all they could take from their burning and wrecked homes. At that time we had never heard of asphyxiating gas and were at a loss to make out what it all meant. The order 'Stand to your arms' was quickly passed along to the reserves. The Montreal Highlanders were the first to get on the move. It takes longer to get artillery wagons on the move, and while we were working at feverish haste the Highlanders went by, each man singing and smiling, although they must have known that many of them would never return."

"At seven o'clock the artillery forces were all ready and waiting for the order to move forward. I shall never forget the scene at the moment. From the city of Ypres there arose high in the heavens huge jets of flames, while overhead shells burst by the hundreds, and in our ears was the din of falling walls and all sorts of indescribable noises."

"When the order came to move forward we urged our horses with a cheer and a song. It was necessary for us to make a detour south of Ypres in order to get to the main road leading to our damaged front. It also was necessary to cross the Yser canal, about half a mile south of the town, on a pontoon bridge. The first gun got over safely, then along came a German shell and destroyed it."

"Under a deadly fire, for the Germans had the range, we waited while the engineers worked to construct another bridge. Two long thick poles were placed across the narrow canal and crossways on them timbers and logs were piled. The second gun went across precariously, but the third was upset by a rolling log, the cannon carriage falling on one side of the narrow bridge and the six horses on the other. While the cannon and horses seemed to be seasawing this way and that across the bridge a shell put an end to all the trouble."

Into Hurricane of Fire.

"Then a third bridge was constructed, and my gun went across. By this time the glare from the burned town was dying down, and I was wondering just what was ahead of us when an aeroplane high above dropped a star shell. This was followed by a perfect hurricane of shells, and the last gun to attempt the crossing went into the water. Emerging from a wood, we ran into a murderous gunfire from German infantry and machine guns. My gun and others of our battery were hurled into this open fire-swept field, swung around and in less than two minutes opened fire on the Germans."

"Each of our shells contained 300 bullets, and at a range of 250 yards one can readily imagine how the Germans felt. Finally we halted them, but the German infantry remained hidden behind a deep fringe of trees with their own dead piled up against them. Our guns could not do effective work because of the trees. Therefore we were ordered to use high explosive shells."

"I shall never forget how those shells were brought to us. The horses on the ammunition supply wagon became crazed and ran away. They dashed with the few horses of the German lines, and one brave rider—no one ever knew who he was—shot the first two horses dead. The wagon rolled over them and him. Then there was an explosion, for the wagon, hit by a shell, was blown to bits. The explosion wrought havoc among the Germans and our infantry, quickly following up the advantage, drove the Germans out of the woods."

"Montaigne our line was badly pressed near St. Julien, and after the arrival of fresh British and Canadian our battery was ordered there. We went right into the town. But on and on came the German infantry, and the retreat was sounded."

Spying Is Dangerous.

"The Germans are very clever at it, and one method of sending news between the lines is by trained dogs. One night one of our sentries saw a dog dart past him. He called to the animal, thinking the dog would make an excellent mascot for the battery. The dog came back and wagged his tail and the sentry took him to his quarters."

"The following morning one of the men remarked on the thickness of the plain leather collar worn by the dog. An examination revealed that the collar was hollow, and in it we found a message in cipher. Instantly an officer was summoned, the dog was put on a long wire leash and driven out of camp. He went direct to a barber shop, where the men were in the habit of lounging and talking when off duty. The barber, whom we thought to be a Belgian, was a German spy and afterward was put to death."

MEETINGS WERE WELL ATTENDED

country life. About a dozen rare splendid brief speeches, interesting and to the point, before a good audience. Music on the various programs was local talent secured by Miss Myrtle Plauge and Mrs. Welch and the association appreciates the help of them all to make the sessions pleasant.

The rapid fire talks of Charles Farr on Saturday morning and afternoon were the crowning numbers of the sessions. He talked "Graft" in the morning and "Alfalfa" later. Those who used to hear dignified Assistant County Superintendent of School, Farr, speak to children, could hardly realize him to be the same man who, with wit, wit, slang, superior knowledge and argument, now meets the farmer on his own ground of raising crops. Scores of village ladies were present and now know more of oren and alfalfa than they would from days of reading of them.

Mr. Farr says all prosperity is based on soil production and it is that for all people to know it, pulling down the barriers between city and country life. He says he is not an agent for the International Harvester company to sell machines, but an agent from the company to teach the raising of better crops and the keeping of them in the country. With illustrated charts he emphasized his statements and he certainly pleased his listeners, the majority being farmers. His argument in favor of alfalfa rang with which he was amused, but convinced, was that of saying an alfalfa farmer has three farms, instead of the one in the air, one on the surface and one away below the surface.

Prof. Smith in a military talk with lantern slide pictures of proper houses for chickens was interesting. He gave many good pointers on profitable care of chickens and eggs.

Mr. Phillips announced the decision of the judges in the corn contest. The past season was a poor corn year and show corn was said to be not very good and would not have been accepted at a real corn show. Many quantities were taken into consideration. J. Schaefer, Lawrence Scholtz and G. Bowman were prize winners.

Hurricane Lake Sigs, aged 5 years and 7 months, Holstein cow on the Hawthorn Farms won the 33 prize for best milk record having produced in seven days 624 pounds of milk making 29.8 pounds of butter. The milk money was presented to the demonstration card by the farm manager.

Good lunches were served, a cafeteria, in Village hall on both days by the Women's Country Life association who donated this convenience for the good of country life promotion. About 300 people were served the first day and 200 the second. It was something of an undertaking and the ladies are to be commended for it.

Consider a list of subscribers to the first published, others contributing are: R. R. Hammond, $10.35; Brandt, $2; G. Van Hagen, $5; and Earlwood Farm, $35. The total so far totaled is $131, and expenses will be about $120, it is thought. A. L. Robertson paid $85 for carfare and switching charges and $10 track charges in Barrington; also other expenses on transportation.

New officers elected were, besides the president, Dan Gilly and Frank Plauge, vice-presidents and Albert Robertson was elected secretary and treasurer. A new plan will be the organization of a board of judges, a dozen directors amongst the farmers, each to represent a district around Barrington.

Elope to Chicago. A Marriage license was issued today to Miss Frances Fabritz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fabritz and Harry L. Williams, manager of Mrs. Kate Miller's farm. They were married at 11 o'clock by Judge Kersten in Chicago and arrived in Barrington at 1:15. They will make their home on the Miller farm. Mr. Fabritz is said to make an effort to prevent their marriage, claiming the his daughter is engaged to marry Harry Cere.

A few 1918 calendars left for customers who care to call for one. MILTON T. LAMEY.

IS MECCA OF SPIES

Saloniki Swarms With Agents of Central Powers.

Watch Every Train and Vessel With-out Molestation—Tasks Performed With Cinical Audacity That Is Really Provoking.

London.—From Saloniki an English press correspondent communicates, under date of November 25, the following account of the spy system established there by Germany and her allies:

"Since it became the base of the Anglo-French operations in the Balkans, Saloniki has attained an importance unprecedented in all its history. It has become the gathering place of a heterogeneous assembly of soldiers representing nearly every race under the sun, and besides it has been infested with such an army of spies that no fairly astute officer in the least. They perform their tasks with a cynical audacity which is really provoking.

Here one will find the elite of the German, Austrian and Bulgarian world of espionage. As soon as a traveler alights from a train at Saloniki some spy-looking person is sure to be on hand, sitting up not only the new arrival himself but also his baggage, etc. If possible, the watchful person will try to get a peep at the newcomer's passport, too, when this is presented for inspection. The trail is followed to the hotel, where subsequently the clerk will be pumped for all the information he may be able to supply.

"The gaiting and couplings of the service of the spy, and if they cannot pick up enough satisfactory news through bits of casual conversation with their patron, some outside will be hired to occupy the vacant table in the dining room, in order to try to draw out the stranger by the approved 'half follow met' method.

"All follow met met method of ordinary private persons are observed so closely, one may rest assured that not a single transport arrives, or a soldier discharges, without that fact being reported immediately to Sofia, Constantinople or Berlin. Nor can the Greek government be blamed for not intervening in its nefarious business. Greece maintains its neutrality, and on the whole this neutrality is beneficial to the allies. On the other hand, the English-French-Bulgarian authorities have their hands tied in this matter and are quite impotent to take any efficacious measures for protection against the spies.

"The problem, however, is one which calls for a prompt solution."

East Grand Forks, Minn.—The remarkable record of a town that has been for 120 hours recently was broken when J. W. Lafferty, a transient, was arrested on a charge of passing a fraudulent check. The city's police force has been cut in half as a result of the arrival of the dry regime.

The drought here also has affected Grand Forks, N. D., where there has not been an arrest for drunkenness for more than a week and the mayor of that city also contemplates a considerable reduction in the police force.

SWEDEN IS NEAR WAR MADE PLOT PAYMENTS

KING CALLS ON NATION TO PREPARE FOR HOSTILITIES.

Speech From Throne Reflects Nation's Anger at Interference With Commerce of Billigermans.

Stockholm, Jan. 15.—King Gustav, aroused by Great Britain's treatment of Sweden's commerce, has called upon the nation to prepare for war. That was the interpretation in semi-official circles of the king's speech from the throne made at the opening of parliament.

While the king in calling the attention of the deputies to the "usurpation of power" by the billigermans did not name any nation, his statement is taken as significant in view of reports that England is about to declare a blockade of the entire German coast. That act would cut off all trade between Germany and Sweden.

The entire nation already is aroused over the restriction in the trade of Sweden already imposed by the British "order in council."

"Our government earnestly hopes to be able always to maintain the neutrality which it decided to observe from the beginning of the war, but in order to maintain neutrality and the sovereignty of Sweden, increased forces on land and sea must be in readiness," said the king.

FOUR INDICTED IN WAR PLOT

Four Men and a Woman Charged With Conspiring to Ship Rubber to Germany.

New York, Jan. 17.—Five persons, including one woman, were indicted by a federal grand jury on Friday, charged with conspiring to ship rubber secretly to the German government in violation of United States customs laws. The alleged conspirators indicted are: Edward Weber, a cousin of Alfred Weber of the Detroit bank of Berlin; Paul Schmidt, an employee of the Rubber and Quays company, 108 West street, New York; Max Jaeger; Mrs. Annie Dekker, a resident of Holland; Richard Wolfberg, a cement dealer living in the Bronx. Jaeger, it is charged, came to the United States as an agent of the German government, planning to ship quantities of rubber through the British blockade. Mrs. Dekker and Jaeger, it was alleged, attempted to ship the rubber to Germany in gift trunks as "personal effects," in violation of customs regulations.

MADE PLOT PAYMENTS

VON PAPIEN PAID PERSONS NAMED AS WAR CONSPIRATORS.

Copies of Checks Show Money Went to Horn, Bridge Dynamiter, and Others.

London, Jan. 17.—Photographic copies of correspondence check books and accounts seized from Capt. Franz von Papen when he also was stopped at Falmouth are on their way to the American state department from Ambassador Papen.

The papers show that the German military attaché, who was recalled at the request of the Washington government, made frequent payments to persons implicated or accused in connection with the blowing up of munition works and the Canadian-American bridge at St. Croix, Me.

Several payments were made to Capt. von Papen by Count von Harster, German ambassador at Washington. Most of these were for salaries or bonuses. A number of entries showed payments made by the ambassador to the military attaché for "war intelligence office." One of the payments on this account, made in October of 1914, was for $250.

Von Papen's check stubs, bank books and letters from his bank, the Riggs National bank of Washington, show about $500,000, many of which had to do with routine expenditures. Others, however, revealed payments to various persons who have figured prominently in the activities of German agents in America, and to at least one spy who committed suicide in a cell in an English prison.

One entry shows that Captain von Papen gave $100 to Werner Horn, who was convicted of blowing up a Canadian Pacific railway bridge at St. Croix, Me.

The day before this check was issued the German embassy paid $2,000 into Captain von Papen's account. Another check stub shows that about two weeks before the explosion at Seattle on May 29, 1915, Captain von Papen sent $500 to the German consulate at Seattle.

TEUTONS WIN BATTLE

VIENNA REPORTS VICTORY IN GALICIA AND THE DESSARABIAN FRONT.

PUTS SLAV LOSSES AT 70,000

Teutons Reported to Have Maintained Their Position on a Front of 81 Miles—Germans Evacuate Great Fortress of Lutsk.

London, Jan. 20.—A twenty-four day "battle of nations" on an eighty-mile front in Bessarabia has been won by the Austro-Hungarians, with 70,000 Russians killed and wounded. The Russian offensive has been completely broken and hurled back. This announcement was made on Tuesday in an official statement from Vienna.

The battle in eastern Galicia and on the Bessarabian front can now be considered as having been finished victoriously. Until the present the daily reports have for obvious reasons been rather reticent on the details of this fighting.

The Austro-Hungarian arms have been completely victorious on a battle front extending over 130 kilometers (81 miles). The infantry which decided the engagements and was assisted by the artillery, has maintained all its positions against the enemy, who at some points had a numerical superiority of several times the number of the Austro-Hungarian troops.

This great new year's battle on Austria's northeastern front began on December 24 and was interrupted on only a few days. It ended on January 16, and was thus 24 days long. Many regiments during this period experienced 17 days of the hottest fighting.

"The Russian losses were at least 70,000 in killed and wounded and besides this nearly 6,000 were taken prisoner by the Austro-Hungarians."

All the nations of Austria and Hungary took part in the battle. The enemy is now bringing up reinforcements.

Kiev, Russia (via Petrograd and London), Jan. 20.—Lutsk, the important fortress in Volhynia, one of the triangle of fortifications there, is being captured by the Germans, according to information obtained from prisoners arriving here. Four thousand prisoners have arrived here recently from the southwestern front.

KING OF GREECE MAY FLEE

Germany Learns Ultimatum Has Been Handed to Constantinople by France and Great Britain.

Amsterdam, Jan. 20.—French and British troops have been landed at Thessalonica, 48 miles west of Athens, according to advices received here on Tuesday. A coup d'état of a kind that Europe hasn't seen for long is being planned by the king, Berlin officials and openly expressed by the newspapers. The removal of King Constantine from his throne, the inauguration of a republic and the election or selection of former premier Venizelos as president are suggested. Berlin announced that the king intended to withdraw to Larissa. In northwestern Greece, when allied troops arrived in Athens, in order to maintain his "armed neutrality," it is his duty to remain in Greece. A note to the Greek government, amounting to an ultimatum, is said by the Overseas News agency of Berlin to have been "thought up" by France and Great Britain. Greece is required to deliver their passports to the ministers of the central powers within 48 hours, failing which the central powers will take "necessary measures."

CABBAGE IN VARIOUS FORMS

Vegetable That is Usually Considered Something to Eat in Many Possibilities.

Cabbage has not a very good reputation among home people as it is a stand-by winter vegetable of thousands of others. Even for the fastidious taste there are delicious ways of cooking cabbage and so cooked it can also be used with appetizing results.

Chop a small head of cabbage, removing the heart. Put three tablespoonfuls of butter in a frying pan and two tablespoonfuls of flour, and turn in the cabbage after the butter and flour are well blended, then pour on gradually a cupful of milk. Bring to the boiling point and add two tablespoonfuls of salt, a few dashes of pepper, mix thoroughly and cover tightly. Cook about five minutes on the back of the range. About five cupfuls of cabbage are used for the other ingredients.

All vegetables will retain their succulence when their flavor is delicate and delicious.

Baked Cabbage.—Soak cabbage one hour in cold water, then boil ten minutes and drain in good pieces. Place in a baking dish and cover with one tablespoonful of butter, one of flour and one cupful of milk. Salt and pepper to taste. Cover with bread crumbs and bake one hour.

Put in a saucepan with a tablespoonful of butter and slowly add three tablespoonfuls of cream. Heat thoroughly, season with pepper and salt and serve.

USES FOR PARAFFIN PAPER

Cheap Article Which It Will Be Found Economical to Keep Supply on Hand.

Paraffin paper costs only about five cents of ten cents for a big roll, and I try to keep some on hand always. Besides being used for lining almost every kind of a mold from cake to ice cream, it's also good to use inside a dish in which fish, the salmon for example, or other poivable dish, is being cooked. It's easy to remove—and, joy to you—just throw away the paraffin paper and throw away the fish. The paraffin makes the washing of fish utensils no tedious.

Then it's also good to use to wrap around food before placing them in the ice box. Of course, I cover almost all foods with the cover that comes with the dish. But what can you use to cover a roast, a ham, a turkey? I haven't a dish cover of any kind that's large enough or shaped right to do this. Answer, I wrap it in a little paraffin paper. The paraffin doesn't absorb the juices as tissue paper would, and it keeps away odors of other foods. In fact, a little sheet of paraffin paper can be used to cover any dish in the refrigerator in lieu of any other kind of cover, and it is a sure protector against the dish absorbing odors from neighboring foods.

Beefsteak Chowder.

Cut slices of salt pork into small lots, with one pint minced fish, cook until a nice brown; add one quart of boiling water, let simmer five minutes, then add one pound round steak cut into strips, a pinch of salt and two inches long; bring this quickly to a boil, then simmer until the meat is tender; add four or five pears and allow to simmer for ten minutes. Add a little more boiling water when potatoes are tender add one and one-half cupfuls of good rich milk or cream; stir up or eight crackers, put into soup dish and pour chowder over them, serving at once.

To Store Fine Linen.

Many housewives experience great difficulty in laundering fine linens, such as delicate waives, jabots, collars and so forth. The chief difficulty seems to lie in getting them just the proper degree of crispness. Rinsing them in a solution of borax gives them right degree of stiffness and renders them just like new. Two heaping tablespoonfuls of borax to five quarts of water is a good proportion. This is also excellent for thin dresses stained with ink.

Corn With Cheese.

Cut cold boiled corn from the cob, put in double boiler with milk enough to cover. When hot add cheese to suit your taste cut in thin bits, pepper and salt. Keep hot till cheese melts, but do not boil. Nice for supper.

Pie Complete.

Wash one pound figs, cover with the pint cold water. Cook over night in the morning add two bay leaves and cook one-half hour. Strain gently and add to one cupful and pour over figs. Chill, serve with sweetened whipped cream.

Warming Over Meat.

The best way to warm up a roast of meat is to wrap it in thickly greased paper, and keep it covered while the oven is hot. After having it covered the steam will prevent the meat from becoming hard and dry, and it will be more heated in less time.

German Pancakes.

To each 32c one tablespoonful of flour, a pinch of salt, a pinch of baking powder and add enough milk so it will pour easily into the pan. Make about as thick as griddlecakes.
