A TALK CONCERNING CLUBS

Nowadays nearly everybody belongs to some sort of club and once in a while people join so many that they forget even the names of the clubs to which they belong for the yearly dues.
But others, and these are the ones we mean, take their clubs so seriously that during the winter they spend a great deal too much time visiting from one club meeting to another. Some of the women are what they call "club rats" and are "natural born callers" and are forever clubs were invited her members was running something else just as hard.
A club is a very odd thing indeed. You don't try to make it the whole show. You usually get a good deal of pleasure out of it and a deal of instruction also. But don't take it too seriously.
A club member who wants to be popular and who is all such members would do well to cultivate what is called a "clubbable manner". That is, he or she must accept courtesies and kindness in the spirit in which they are offered, but a pleasant word for any member with whom he comes in contact, and, more all, avoid public criticism of the club officers. If he has any suggestion he wants to make or any real or fancied criticisms there are always other members to whom it is permissible to air such things or committees to which they can be referred directly. Take an interest in all the club affairs, but don't let yourself take the responsibility of "clubbable" duties.
A club member who is elected to any office or becomes a member of any board has no right to present as a personal insult the perhaps well-meant criticisms of fellow-members at his efforts to promote their comfort or pleasure. For he must remember that while he occupies this position he is as far as club life is concerned, a more or less public character and that holders of office must expect criticism from the rank and file.—Audre DuPont.

U. S. NOTE TO POWERS DENIES RIGHT TO ARM LINERS.

German Edict Is Approved and Americans May Be Warned Off Gun-Carrying Ships.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The declaration by the central powers of their purpose to regard merchant ships as warships and sink them on sight is in exact accordance with the new policy of the United States as laid down by the American note of January 13.

It is expected President Wilson now will give instructions to all port officials directing them to consider armed merchantmen as auxiliary cruisers and to apply to them the rules under which vessels must depart within twenty-four hours after arrival or on any necessary repairs are made or stores taken on board.

It is expected further that warnings will be issued directing Americans not to travel on belligerent armed merchant ships.

The note, by direction of the secretary of state to American ambassadors, was addressed to the European belligerents in connection with the recognition of submarines as commerce destroyers and the desirability of the disarmament of belligerent merchantmen.

VIENNA IS ASKED TO EXPLAIN
American Tank Steamer Petrolite Was Fired Upon and Food Taken by Submarine.

Washington, Feb. 12.—Secretary Lansing announced on Thursday that he had sent to the Austro-Hungarian government through Ambassador Feltz a dispatch asking for an investigation and an explanation of the attack by an Austrian submarine on the American tank steamer Petrolite.

The secretary's dispatch called attention to affidavits from members of the crew of the Petrolite and to information from other sources to the effect that the ship was stopped in the Mediterranean near Alexandria by an Austrian submarine, which fired upon it and wounded one man who was in the engine room.

The submarine commander asked for food, which Captain Thompson of the Petrolite refused. A boarding party was then sent to the engine room. One American member of her crew removed. He was held as hostage while the Austrians took the food they required from the Petrolite's stores.

21 DIE IN MINE FIRE

FLAMES SWEEP SHAFT OWNED BY ANACONDA COMPANY AT BUTTE, MONT.

TWO RESCUERS LOSE LIVES

Workers Are Suffocated While Attempting to Flee From Fire—Two Hundred Men at Work When Flames Were Discovered.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 17.—Twenty-one dead and missing sums up the extent of the fire that visited the depths of the Pennsylvania mine, one of the properties of the Anaconda Copper Mining company. Nine bodies have been recovered, for the balance, no hope is entertained. All were victims of a fire which started near the air shaft of the mine about nine o'clock at night. Two of the dead were rescuers, who were overcome while at work underground.

All others were suffocated while trying to escape. The disaster was the worst in Butte since the explosion of the powder explosion January 15, 1895, when nearly sixty persons lost their lives. Two hundred and twenty men were at work in the Pennsylvania the day which recurred through the depths, "Gas has broken loose."

The dead: Zebina Hardwell, Bert Dullong, George Tippet, John Soderman, Jack Breuninger, William Kelly, Neil Breuninger, William C. Mitchell.

The missing: Fred Currow, Frank F. Ferguson, John Inch, Frank McEay, William R. Reynolds, Walter Steege, Leo Whitmore, Brance T. White, Ed Pfeiffer, Charles R. Self, David Carlson.

After a night and day of countless efforts to reach the men remaining in the mine, nine bodies had been taken out. No hope was expressed that the others reported missing may be found alive.

All night rescuers went down the shaft at great risk to themselves. More than one hundred trips were made by parties of rescuers after the fire was discovered.

COMBAT GERMS IN ILLINOIS SCHOOLS

State Health Board Urges Cleanliness in Buildings

CONDITIONS MUST IMPROVE

Recommends Careful Removal of Dust From Walls and Ledges With Vacuum Cleaner or Moistened Cloth.

Springfield.—Pointing to the fact that the contagious diseases of childhood are vastly more prevalent during the school months, that they subside promptly with the closing of the schools for vacation periods, and as a temporary measure, the health board has issued a special bulletin setting forth recommendations for the improvement of schoolroom conditions.

Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, the executive official of the board, declares that the Illinois state board of health, in advocating the abandonment of fumigation (poisonous disinfection) of schoolrooms, is acting in accord with the best modern thought on the subject.

In the place of fumigation with formaldehyde or sulphur, the board of health recommends that the infected schools shall be hereafter treated as follows: Careful removal of dust from walls and ledges by use of vacuum cleaner or moistened cloth, very thorough scrubbing of floors, employing an efficient disinfecting solution, very thorough washing of all other work; long-continued period of airing room, and the freest possible admission of sunlight.

Loan for Roads Justified.

Illinois, first in agricultural production and second in wealth among the states of the Union, falls back to the twenty-third place in the matter of road improvements. This is a condition of affairs to which attention is called in a bulletin issued by the Illinois highway commission for the purpose of which it is to stimulate the construction of better roads in the state.

"Good public policy," declares the bulletin, "requires that we should resort to the borrowing of money in public affairs unless there is urgent need of the improvement for which the money is to be expended."

"But," the bulletin adds, "there can be little question in the minds of any of our citizens as to the urgent need of road improvements in this state. It is admitted that better roads will mean:

"Better farmers and greater farm efficiency.

"Larger production, cheaper distribution, hence cheaper commodities."

"More work accomplished and more time for pleasure."

"More tourists and more money spent at home."

"Less gasoline, less tire trouble, more comfort."

"Better rural schools, better school attendance."

"Better rural churches and better social conditions."

"More attractive rural homes and more boys staying on the farm."

In explanation of the reasonableness of borrowing money for highway improvement, the bulletin says:

"Of the state-wide system, comprising 16,000 miles, at least $1,000,000 are still unimproved, averaging 130 miles to the county. To improve this system so that each section will meet the requirements of traffic, which it will be called upon to carry, will not cost on the average less than $10,000 per mile, or approximately $1,300,000 for the county."

"It will not be essential that the entire system in each county should be improved at once. If that part connecting all the cities and villages with each other and with the cities and villages of the surrounding counties, which would mean from 25 to 75 per cent of the state's present, are improved it would undoubtedly answer the purpose for the present. But even this within a period of from three to five years is an enormous task, large to consider on the basis of a direct tax and cannot be carried out except through a bond issue."

"A farmer will not hesitate to borrow money for the construction of a drainage system when that system will bring under cultivation lands heretofore unused and when the drainage of the lands will increase in value as well as their productivity. Why should he hesitate to borrow money to build roads which will not only increase the value of his lands, but bring comfort and happiness and contentment to himself and family?"

New Incorporations.

Secretary of State Stevenson (issued certificates of incorporation to the following:

American Cation Cement Works, Chicago; capital, $25,000; incorporators, Grover O. McLaren, Theodore Rothbart, C. D. White.

Seeks Cures for Diphtheria.

Springfield.—A campaign to immunize every resident of Illinois against diphtheria is to be undertaken by the state board of health, according to an announcement by Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, its secretary.

Beginning February 20 the board will furnish free to all physicians outside the state health tests to determine which persons are naturally immune from the disease. Those found susceptible to it are advised to be immunized by the use of diphtheria antitoxin.

The test is painless and causes no discomfort. It is made by injecting a small amount of diphtheria toxin, diluted with salt solution, into the skin of the forearm. If the blood of the person tested contains a sufficient quantity of natural diphtheria antitoxin, there will be no reaction, indicating that the individual is immune.

If the individual is lacking in natural diphtheria in small area of redness, about the size of a dime, develops within twenty-four to forty-eight hours. The redness passes away in about two weeks and at no time does material inconvenience result.

"The advent of the Schick test marks another great advance in preventive medicine," Doctor Drake said. "What I intend to motion, health and school authorities, to officials in charge of institutions caring for children and what it implies in the way of saving human life are not now fully appreciated."

Heads of institutions also will be furnished with test outfits, which will be obtainable at first only from the office of the board at Springfield.

Will Not Change Ruling.

Secretary of State Lewis G. Stevenson declared there is no truth in statements appearing in certain newspapers to the effect that he may decide names of delegates to the national convention next October on the basis of the state at the spring primary. It was said that he would change his former ruling, which held that they must rotate by districts. "I am not even considering changing my ruling," Mr. Stevenson said, "and the first I heard of the matter was when I saw it in a paper."

Commission Revokes Order.

Because it was found that the supreme court decision in the Dand case did not apply, as was at first supposed, the state civil service commission revoked its order of last week which directed the employment of the state grain office in Chicago. The order affected William O'Grady, John L. Hammon, John Malone, John Peterson, Joseph J. Walsh, W. Taylor, Charles R. Holter, C. E. Fitzsimmons, James F. Warner and M. B. Connolly.

Governor Order Reward.

Governor Dunes issued a proclamation offering a reward of $200 for the arrest and conviction of the unknown author of Police Officer Errol Johnson, who was shot and killed in Chicago January 21.

Completes the Board.

Governor Dunes appointed J. W. Huening of Chicago and Anthony Koehly of Naperville on the state board of examiners of horseflesh. This completes the personnel of the board.

All of you boys will want to make this unique safe for your bedroom. An ordinary alarm-clock is required for a clock.

Let the dimensions of the safe be determined by the size of box which you can get. Fig. 5 shows the interior, with shelves spaced at the right distances apart to allow for four tiers of boxes. Clear boxes with spoon hooks are excellent for these boxes. Fasten the shelves as shown at A, Fig. 2.

Nail a strip about an inch and one-half wide to one edge of the box, for a hinge-strip (B, Fig. 2). Then make a door out of the box-board.

And, to make the test more difficult, obstructions must be placed in the path so the boys and girls must step over them while crossing. Fig. 1 suggests how the obstructions may be formed with boards placed across books, and newspapers placed across the rounds of a chair. Award a prize to the boy and another to the girl who crosses without dropping the peanut.

WHEN KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE GLASS OF SALTS

Eat Less Meat If Kidneys Hurt or You Have Backache or Bladder Misery—Meat Forms Uric Acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. The formation of uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain out part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headache, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of stinging, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days.

Kidneys will then relax. Thin famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with soda and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in uric acid so no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which its regular use should take new vigor and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.

CITIES CLAIM FAMOUS DISHES

Honor of Originating Gastronomic Delicacies Has Been Pretty Well Established in This Country.

America has no national dish or delicacy, but we distinguish among our cities, according to gastronomic standards, each city or state maintaining an attitude of superiority over all the rest. Philadelphia has its scrapple, Boston its baked beans and brown bread. Boston makes other claims. It is said that swordfish is so popular in Boston that its sale to the rest of the country is forbidden. Boston also contributes to the contest the Parker house roll. Sandusky, O., claims to have furnished at least the name of portershouse steak. Charles Dickens, according to the story, was the principal figure in the christening. When Dickens visited the United States in the '50s he ate several days at the hotel, which at that time was conducted by a man named Porter and was known as the Porter house. The author of the story ordered a steak, and it was put up for him in such style by Mrs. Porter, the landlady's wife, that it struck his fancy. Porterhouse steak was Dickens' favorite dish, while he remained in Sandusky. On the way back to New York Dickens spoke frequently of his portershouse steak. Friends and acquaintances happening this way stopped at the Porter house and ate steaks. In due time chaos from several of the leading eating places joined to the Porter house and from Mrs. Porter secured, for the mere taking, desired information concerning the manner in which the prepared steaks. In this way the portershouse steak came into existence—so the story goes.

A large portion of what the world calls good luck is composed of ninety-nine parts of ambition and one part of talent.

Too many men pay for things they are too lazy to work for.

A GOOD CHANGE. A Change of Food Works Wonders

Wrong food and drink cause a lot of trouble in this world. To change a first aid when a person is ill, particularly from stomach and nervous troubles. As an illustration: Findy Mc, was brought around to health again by leaving off coffee and some articles of food that did not agree with him.

She says: "For a number of years I suffered with stomach and bowel trouble which kept getting worse until I was ill most of the time. About four years ago I left off coffee and began using Postum. My stomach and bowels improved right along, but I was so reduced in flesh and so nervous that the least thing would overcome me."

"Then I changed my food and began using Grape-Nuts as an addition to Postum. I lived on these two principally for about four months. Day by day I gained in flesh and strength until the nervous trouble had disappeared. I feel that I can now take Postum and Grape-Nuts."

"Husband was troubled, for a long time, with occasional cramps, and slept badly. Finally I persuaded him to leave off coffee and take Postum. After he tried Postum for a few days he found that he could sleep and that his cramps disappeared. He never went back to coffee."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Postum comes in two forms: Postum Cereal—the original form—made of well boiled, 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble powder—dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, and with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly, 30c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious and cost about the same per cup.
