LETTER APPRECIATE TO "RAILS"

A Barrington Lady Sends Us The Following Letter For Publication—Engineer Very Obliging

A Barrington lady sent us the following letter this week, asking for publication that the railway engineers may be appreciated instead of criticized:

"On March 9 the 1912 p. m. train out of Barrington was flagged, south of Palatine as a railway crossing, by a man swinging a white flag. He had waved the flag at Palatine, as he could not get to the station in time and he had with him a very sick woman in need of immediate hospital attention. The train reached the City of Chicago, where the man, in his anxiety to care for her, did not notice the signal of a through train, going north. His hat went under the fast train and but for the bravery and presence of mind of Mr. Taylor, he would have been drawn in under the wheels himself. Mr. Taylor seized him and pulled him back to safety. In gratitude for the preservation of his life and kindness to the lady, the man climbed into the engine and offered Mr. Taylor a check for the fare. The train was on time and the patient was removed to the hospital."

Late Dr. Nate Acquainted Here

The Chicago papers published last Thursday the death of Dr. Raymond Nate of Chicago, who was killed near his home on the south side by a heavy metal weighing machine falling and striking him on the head. The news was received with sorrow by old friends of the doctor who died here in Barrington, although it was over twenty-two years since he left here, he was in many ways visiting his sister, Mrs. Clark McLaughlin, who lived on Lake street until about nine years ago when she moved to Chicago. Dr. Nate was the son of Rev. John Nate of the Chicago Christian church and who was pastor of the local church for several years. The doctor was about 43 years of age and married a Miss Osborne a few years ago; she once spoke before the Barrington Women's club at the home of Mrs. H. Richardson, Rev. Joseph Nate of Chicago is a brother. Very little has been learned here of the doctor's death or funeral arrangements.

LEAVES FOR HIS HOME ABOVE

Simon Edward Kelsey, son of George Kelsey of Cuba Township, Succumbs to Pneumonia

Simon Edward Kelsey, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kelsey of Cuba township, passed away Friday evening, March 10, at eight o'clock at the Chicago Union hospital where he underwent an operation for appendicitis, the second attack he had had. His death was unexpected as he was improving nicely; for the past eight months he had assisted a cousin in his meat market in the city and lived at the home of an uncle. His ill health of the past three years was caused by a kick in the abdomen from a horse. He had been in a sanitarium for treatment and had seen several doctors for relief from his pain which made him sick and nervous. He was born at Kelsey's Corners on April 17, 1892 and was nearly 24 years old. He leaves to mourn his loss, a father, mother, sisters Mildred and Lenore and brother Harold, besides a host of relatives and friends.

The funeral was held Monday morning at eleven o'clock in St. Ann's Catholic church. Father E. A. McCornick read the requiem mass, assisted by Father Keenan of Cary, and Father Longmeyer of Cary delivered the funeral sermon. The service was largely attended, many friends from a distance were present. His remains were laid at rest in Evergreen cemetery.

Milk Producers Make Summer Schedule. At a meeting of the milk board of the Milk Producers' association held in Chicago yesterday the following summer schedule of prices was determined upon:

April, $1.60; May, $1.45; June, $1.25; July, $1.35; August, $1.20; September, $1.10; average $1.55.

While the farmers were drafting their demands the wholesalers issued their summer schedules and started out to sign up the farmer to contracts at the following figures. Borden's schedule is as follows:

April, $1.45; May, $1.20; June, $1.04; July, $1.30; August, $1.00; September, $1.50; average, $1.33 1/3.

Borden's schedule:

April, $1.52; May, $1.27; June, $1.17; July, $1.32; August, $1.02; September, $1.02; average $1.42 5/8.

These prices are based on the 3.5 butter fat test at bottling plants, with 3 cents per one-tenth point above or below this basis.

Only one of the patrons of the local plant of the Borden Dairy company had accepted the offer made by the company up to noon today. The majority of the farmers here seem determined to hold out for a better price.

Then the climax in the evening, beginning at eight o'clock, when characters from Mother Goose will entertain with pantomime, song, drills, etc.

The plot of seats is now ready at Cameron's pharmacy where seats for the evening may be reserved at thirty-five cents. Admission to afternoon carnival is free and supper charges are according to the calls of your appetite at cafeteria prices.

A Surprise To Mrs. John McLeister

Over forty people attended the choir rehearsal at the Baptist church last Saturday evening and at its close the president of the choir, George Spunner, in a well timed address, presented Mrs. John McLeister with three five-dollar gold pieces as a gift from the choir and the Baptist "Young Peoples' union for her faithful and loyal help rendered in the past to these organizations. Mrs. McLeister was taken completely by surprise and a few well chosen remarks thanked the donors and said she hoped she repaid her worth of the confidence reposed in her. After the presentation all were invited downstairs to the church parlor where Mr. Spunner "treated" them to ice cream and cake. A social time was enjoyed until a late hour. A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Spunner for his generosity.

"THE BROWNIES' WHISPER"

Teachers. Deserve Much Credit For Their Labor—Pupils Helped To Make Own Wardrobe

The little operetta sung at the school last Friday and Saturday evenings closed with the words that the two sweetest things in the world are a baby and flowers; everyone knows this to be true, even the most hardened old sinners, and it was around this sentiment that the cantata given by the grammar school pupils was built.

It was called "The Brownies' Whisper" and the brownies, the flowers, the raindrops, the sunbeams, the gardeners and the characters were the characters presented so beautifully, efficiently and romantically that the whole entertainment became a crowning endeavor of the many good programs arranged for public enlightenment on what is being done to train children and interest them in our schools.

The teaching staff shared the labor of drilling the little actors and planning the thousand and one details connected with an undertaking of the kind; to them goes the first credit of the success of this good little "show," for back of the clever-dramatists abilities of some of our smart little village people, is the patient serving of the teachers, even late at night, to bring about a finished and smoothly presented play. The work of making the great variety of costumes of cloth and crepe paper was supervised by the grade teachers. The clever reproduction of the green and blue shapes of various flowers in the head pieces worn and in decorating the simple white gowns of the girls to indicate a certain blossom, was seemingly the artistic effort of professional paper flower makers.

During the performance the children waiting to take their turns on the stage were kept quiet in one of the recreation rooms by a teacher who read to them; this idea was, certainly, effective for no noise was heard behind the scenes nor in the halls to interrupt the players or audience. No prompting was really noticeable, the children all went about their assignments as if they were enjoying a good game and they seemed to be having as pleasant a time as the audience. And the audience both nights were as highly amused, pleased and full of admiration as the dearest dream of promoters and performers could wish. Several of the teachers are such fine planters and so willing to play at school entertainments that they should be doubly appreciated as instructors of our village youth; the value of these entertainments is reckoned from many standpoints, those of sociability, interest in the school, grace and ease when before an audience, quick action in movement and thought, physical exercise and many other points.

Each group of girls and boys, appearing as brownies or roses or pansies or daisies and all the delimitations, seemed especially well chosen in looks, size and characteristics. George Cameron was a true-to-life old gardener in love with his flowers and Constance Calkins, as his daughter, played the part of filial affection very true to life. The recitation between acts of Eleanor Alverson and Ethel Smith were as popular as any.

The story of the play is: An old gardener was told to send flowers to the big house on the hill for a celebration but he was not told its nature; he was greatly puzzled to know which flowers would be appropriate; his daughter worried to find the really had several varieties chose themselves out to her father so he could choose; but he could not decide, then his daughter falls asleep and all the flowers whisper to her in her dreams; the brownies have found out the secret and know that a baby's birthday is to be celebrated at the home coming of its father for a surprise, planned by the mother, so these funny little men whisper too to the sleeping girl who wakes up with the news her father wants a baby, and in the final assembly of all the "theatrical troops" on the stage, the baby itself was brought in, a big flower trimmed basket. The part of the baby was played by one of the sweetest of babies, Caroline Castle, aged two and a half years whose big black eyes were serious with wonder.

The "dramatis personae" of this interesting campaign follows:

Mr. Fitzgibbon was asked the other day how he could account for nature's forming him so ugly. "Nature was not to blame," said he. "When I was two years old I was wandering in the neighborhood of the city and I was found by a nurse who was away for an hour or two. She found me in a field and she was so kind to me that she took me home and she was so kind to me that she took me home."

The Baptist choir gave a decanum Sunday evening led by Ralph Macdonald with Mrs. W. J. Cameron at the piano organ and C. H. Wheeler at the organ. The union time of the singers and two players was a blending of real merit. Mr. Wheeler who came recently to live with his relatives, the George family, is a musician of fine taste and power who studied in his former homes in Hebron, Nebraska, and Seattle, Washington. Choir rehearsal Saturday evening will be at eight o'clock sharp. Solos, duets, quartettes and tributes will be the order of the choir next Sunday evening.

The Lake county board of supervisors voted at the first quarterly session last week to purchase a second road repair outfit for use throughout the county and also a water pump to be used to the present road machinery equipment. The new outfit will cost $4,000 and will consist of a tractor, a roller, a grader and an oil wagon. The proposal for the building of a highway under, discussion, was abandoned at this time because the sentiment of the people is against it at present.

I SELL THIS CAR

to you at the same price which your neighbor buys it—
$715.00, delivered

After making a recent sale to a customer who had been offered several other cars at cut prices, I said to him, "Why did you buy from me?" his answer was, "Your methods of doing business are right; I must have instruction—I must have service—I know I will get them from you; whereas, if I had bought from the cut price man I could not expect it, even if I had wanted his car, which I was afraid to buy."

When you buy an OVERLAND you feel secure, and when your neighbor buys one you know He paid the price or he wouldn't have it. In other words, "beware of the price cutter," because you can't beat a man at his own game.

After three years of doing business here I find it extremely gratifying not to be asked to cut a price

Do Something for your Cold.

Do not let it wear you out and encourage sickness.

Take Dr. King's New Discovery. You will get instant relief.

Most of us neglect coughs and colds. We brush suggestions aside with the remark "It'll be better soon," and often times we do get better. However, when that cough or cold gets a hold, it usually means annoyance, interference with your work and often a spell of sickness follows. But it better immediately to check that cold and ease the cough? Dr. King's New Discovery does it! Search as you will, you will not find a better remedy.

"61" FLOOR VARNISH

Gives a hard, shiny finish—lasts—

LAMEY & CO., BARRINGTON

$5.00 or $1.00. Which do You Prefer?

Would you rather have five silver dollars or one silver dollar? Would you rather have a five year guarantee with a machine or a one year guarantee? It is just as sensible to choose $1.00 in preference to $5.00 as it is to choose a spreader that has a one year guarantee when you can get a Litchfield Spreader with a five year guarantee.

If you buy some other spreader, we have only lost a sale—we can forget it, but you can't. When the apron clogs or freezes don't swear because of your poor judgment in buying a machine. When your horses are tired out from heavy draft and their necks are sore from neck weight, when your machine slides around on account of side draft, don't blame anyone but yourself, for we have told you how to avoid this!

When the manure wedges in the rear end of the box and the cylinder sticks you'll wish you had a Litchfield Spreader with the Abruptly Widened Box and Bull Dog Cylinder. When your main bearings begin to cut and the gears grind, and get out of alignment you will think of our Oiled, Parked Main Bearings. When your machine is laid up for repairs and your repair bills begin to come in you'll be in shape to appreciate the five year guarantee which we offer with every Litchfield Spreader.

Perhaps you'll think that if your foresight was as good as your hindsight you could have saved yourself lots of trouble by buying right. If we were working in the interest of the blacksmith, or if we wanted to make money out of the repair business, we wouldn't be selling the Litchfield Spreader.

In our series of talks through this paper we believe, we have proved conclusively to any thinking man that the Litchfield Spreader is the one he should buy. If you doubt any statement we have made, come in and see us.
