advised that he had heard that the hall was being used Sunday nights for moving picture shows, and was apparently ready to propose against the use of the hall for that purpose on Sunday. Village Clerk Bennett said that there was no truth in the story—that pictures were being shown to the

New Appointments Made by Illinois Evangelists at Their Seventy-second Annual Session at Streator

The seventy-second annual session of the Illinois Conference of the Evangelical Association was held at Streator last week. The formal opening of conference took place on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, April 26. Bishop Sylvester C. Bräford, D. D. of Reading, Pennsylvania, led in an uplifting devotional service followed by holy communion in which ministers, lay delegates and friends participated. The bishop then gave his annual message to conference in the form of a masterful address on "Power." The bishop is a man of wide experience, extensive travels, deep studies and a pleasing personality which all goes to make what he says impressive.

The conference represents work of about 300 ministers, and is comprised of four districts—Chicago, Naperville, Peoria and Springfield. The four districts were reported respectively for their districts. The predominant note was that of progress. Lack of ministers was one of the facts that was lamented. Many fields have two or more appointments that are served by one man, where there should be two men, but a shortage of men makes this impossible.

The Rev. E. Burgi and H. J. Kieckhefer were re-elected as presiding elders. The presiding elders were then stationed as follows: Chicago district, J. G. Schwab; Naperville, G. C. Gaskin; Peoria, Dr. H. J. Kieckhefer; and Springfield, E. Burgi.

Some of the important business was the adoption of a new finance plan, the election of a finance committee and the recommendations of General conference held at Los Angeles, California, in July, 1915. Among these recommendations is the one for the extension of the time limit of pastors from five to seven years.

On account of poor health Rev. H. Bask could not take an appointment, but was elected the village to retain the parsonage of the Zion church in this village.

Following are some of the appointments of pastors throughout the conference:

Chicago district, Englewood, J. Ziegler; Bushnell Park, J. V. Bischoff; Loop Park, Leo Schmidt; Edison Park, C. E. Platz; St. John's, E. G. Fuesle; East Side, G. A. Manshardt; Barrington, William Beuscher; Elgin, F. P. Jahnke; Naperville, A. J. Boller; Down's Grove, W. E. Grose; Freeport, Phillip Heuscher; Peoria, J. Hansen; Ramsey, J. Welner; Washington, J. C. Schaefer.

Births

A daughter was born on Thursday, April 27, to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hanson of Cemetery street.

Property where not built at present

If this work is put in the village will have four cross walks to build. Mr. Ziegler has improved his character on Liberty and Walnut streets in building new walks and is ready to build in this request. The matter was referred on motion of Trustee Stiefenhofer to the committee on streets and sidewalks for report at the next meeting of the board.

Mrs. Ann Webster was granted permission to connect with the sewer on south Railroad street.

H. J. Lagaculute, representing the First State Bank of Barrington, offered the village the dirt to be taken out for a new bank building at Railroad and Oak streets, according to load the dirt on wagons if the village would take care of it. His proposition was accepted.

A committee of a dozen ladies, headed by Mrs. J. P. Gieske, representing the Barrington Woman's Christian Temperance Union, interviewed the village in regard to the installing of an ornamental drinking fountain in the public square. Mrs. Gieske said that the village would cost $185.00 without foundation and connections, and said that they wanted to get some idea as to this additional cost. President Meyer, on behalf of the board, said that the village would take care of this expense. The ladies extended a vote of thanks by raising rote to the board and left the hall.

The question of filling streets came up for discussion and Trustee Plagge moved the F. L. Waterman be authorized to receive subscriptions for this work. This motion was carried. Mr. Waterman commenced work Tuesday morning and is meeting with good success. The streets will probably be filled this year regardless of the increased cost of road oil which is worrying many village in this vicinity.

No other business coming up the board adjourned until Monday evening, May 21.

CANCER CLAIMS ANOTHER VICTIM

Mrs. Frederick Meyer Succumbs to Cancer of the Stomach After An Eight Month's Illness

Mrs. Frederick Meyer, nee Louise Rook, for many years a resident of Barrington, died at her home Sunday morning, April 30, at 9:20 o'clock, after being confined to her bed for twelve weeks afflicted with cancer of the stomach.

Mrs. Meyer's sickness dates back only eight months and during this time she was a patient sufferer. She was born in Greis Grims, Germany, July 23, 1845 and came to America in 1865. She was married to Frederick Meyer at Dundee, January 7, 1866. Later they moved to Barrington and resided here until 1915, when they moved to a small farm east of town and lived there until 1905, when they sold their place to R. C. Comstock and moved back to this village, where she resided until called away by death.

Mrs. Meyer leaves to mourn her departure her husband, Frederick Meyer; two sons, William of 5638 S. Hermitage avenue, Chicago; August, 7214 Artesian avenue, Chicago; two daughters, Mrs. T. J. (Niece) Dockey and Miss Edith, both of Barrington, and two brothers, John Rook of Danville, Illinois and Charles Rook of Willett, Arkansas. A sister, Mrs. Dorothy Brsoll, died eighteen years ago.

Deceased was a member of St. Paul's church, where the funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, following a short service at the home, Rev. H. Tieske officiating. Burial was in St. Paul's cemetery.

Milk Producers Hold Meeting

The Milk Producers' association met at the Hotel Morrison, Chicago, on Tuesday to form a $500,000 corporation whose object will be to do away with middlemen in the milk distributing business of Chicago. The new company is named the Milk Producers' Co-operative Marketing company. The articles of incorporation are:

To produce and sell milk, cream, and all by-products.

To operate condensing, skimming, pasteurizing and bottling plants and facilities for the manufacture of cheese, butter and other products.

To manufacture and sell farm machinery and implements used in the production of milk as well as appliances for storing and marketing.

To cultivate and sell grains, seed and feed.

To breed and deal in domestic animals.

Twenty of the twenty-five directors of the association attended the meeting. Plans for forming this corporation have been under way for more than a year. The capital stock will be subscribed in 10,000 shares at $50 each. No more than five shares will be sold to one person.

Large Crowd at Tent Show

West Brethren's show opened their season here last Saturday, April 29, with "A Tent Rager." All the characters performed their parts with the competency; Wolf, the Indian chief being prominent at all stages. All seats were full and the audience seemingly enjoyed each one of the five acts produced. The only thing that marred the enjoyment of this unique play was the frequent occurrence of the lights going out. The cowboy band gave a free concert on the public square in the afternoon and evening played excellent music. The troupe left Barrington Monday noon.

Elgin Silver Leaf Camp Prosperous

Silver Leaf Camp, Modern Woodmen of America, at Elgin, is enjoying its share of prosperity, 124 applications for membership having been received during the month of April. Last Friday evening a class of 23 from Glen Ellyn and Wheaton camps was initiated into the mysteries of the order in the presence of 500 Woodmen from surrounding towns. Those attending from this village were: F. S. Alverson, George M. Wagner, Howard Powers, Will Rieker, Alvin Semp, Henry S. Meier, Daniel Gilv and Fred L. Rieker.

Fire Inspectors Here

George J. Byrnes, William Hanan, William R. Price and Neil Judd, Jr., of the State of Illinois Fire Marshal Department of Springfield were here today and made an inspection of business buildings, churches and school. In a fire drill at the school building all pupils were out of the building in 50 seconds. Conditions here were found satisfactory. A more complete report will be given in our next issue.

INTERESTING LOCAL SCHOOL ITEMS

Brief Mention of Numerous Occurrences of the Week—Subscribed to by Both Teachers and Pupils

Arbor day was celebrated by pupils of the different grades at Friday who had secured Concord grape vines from Henry Volker and taken them to their homes where they were put in the ground for future growth and profit. Arbor and bird day took had been provided the children several days prior to their experiment, which proved very beneficial in their line of work. One hundred fifty-nine vines were given out.

The high school baseball team will go to Des Plaines Friday to play against the team of that place. Several Barrington rooters will accompany the boys.

On Wednesday morning at nine o'clock Dr. E. L. Eaton who has been lecturing for the last two weeks at the Methodist church spoke before the high school and the seventh and eighth grades on "The Astronomer's Workshop." He gave a most interesting and instructive talk, beginning with the construction and use of the telescope and discussing the relation of the earth to the sun and the solar system. He talked about so many fascinating things, and held the attention of his hearers so well that they could scarcely realize it when his hour was up. The morning he spoke on "The New Psychology" and last Thursday morning he gave a general talk to the students.

(Rank of the grades on page four)

Seed Corn Expert to Lecture

The Men's and Women's Country Life associations will hold a joint meeting in the assembly room of the school house May 6, at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Readmire of Geneva, soil expert of Kane county, will speak on "Seed Corn." Benjamin Gage of the Peterson nursery near Evanston, will give a talk on "Landscape Gardening."

The pictured illustrations, Howard Stiefenhofer will play a trombone solo and Mrs. D. Reymberg who lives on a farm, east of the Deer Grove school, will furnish vocal numbers.

Every member and friends of these associations are urged to be present and to bring along their own discussions, so vital to the farmer at this time. Mr. Gage is the husband of a former Barrington girl who was Miss Ethel Austin. The Austin family lived for a long time in the present Cook county rural routes out of Barrington was born and grew to womanhood here.

New Directory for Barrington

P. H. Bumsted, manager of the Bursted company of Chicago, publishers of directories, came to Barrington Wednesday noon to start work on the ninth issue of the Lake county directory, including the village of Barrington, although part of the village is in Cook county. Rural routes out of Barrington will also be covered under the name Barrington. The book will be out some time in July. Mr. Bumsted is finding many changes in names, residences and business houses in this community and he was here three years ago. The new directory will be much larger.

Animal Lecture Liked

Wednesday evening Village hall was crowded to listen to Cyrus De Vry of Lincoln Park, Chicago, fame, present his lecture on "Wild Animals in Captivity," which was illustrated with 150 slides and several reels of moving pictures.

The lecture was replete with knowledge and humor and he made his audience feel that he spoke with the authority of one who knows. Of late years he has not been speaking in public to any extent and the Women's club was fortunate in being able to present to Barrington to note a speaker.

Musical numbers were rendered by Olive H. Wheeler, pianist; R. G. Munday, singer, and Miss Jessie Horn, violinist.

Club Program at Palatine

The Thursday club is in session this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ralph Peck of Palatine, a member. Mrs. Otto Bodt was given the arrangement to the program which consisted of a play and a song by Mrs. Albert Robertson and Mrs. Carrie Kendall, songs by Mrs. Arthur Wolcott and a paper on "Pioneer Women" by Mrs. Doll. Roll call will be answered by remarks on famous American women.

Will You Help?

Residents of the village who are interested in having the streets filled again this spring can give their subscription money to F. L. Waterman, who has been appointed by the village board to have charge of the financial and some time in the future you may hear from them again. About twenty dollars was realized from tickets.

Remembered on Her Birthday

The Woman's Relief Corps honored the eighteenth birthday of Mrs. Sarah Sem of South Jersey street on Tuesday afternoon, May 3, with a party at her home. Mrs. Sem is a pioneer woman of this community who has seen Barrington develop from a cluster of houses to a progressive suburban town.

She is living alone at present, industriously earning for her home and children with eternal youth in her heart.

Thirty-six ladies went to the party and presented her with gifts in the way of a leather hand bag containing money and a large bouquet of carnations and Easter lilies. Ice cream and cake were served.

INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET EXCITING

Barrington Scholars Carry Off Many Honors—Are a Credit to Their School and Themselves

Barrington was well represented at the interscholastic meet held in Des Plaines last Saturday and succeeded in carrying off several honors. The large delegation from here was headed by Superintendent E. S. Smith, Miss Gardner, Miss Gordon, Mrs. W. N. Sears, Mrs. H. G. Plagge and Mrs. Alta Bennett.

The prizes awarded to local contestants consisted of the best honors that any school could wish for and is a merit of high distinction for Barrington pupils and her corps of instructors.

Palatine, Arlington Heights, Des Plaines and Barrington were represented at the contest, which began at the high school building at 10 a. m.

First on the program was the boys' declamation, including contestants from Arlington Heights, Maple Township and Barrington; Edwin Plagge, local contestant, was easily judged first in charge. Following this came the girls' declamation, which proved no easy task to decide the winner; so close were the judges' decision that only one point in preference was given, the winner, Ida Federspe, of Barrington.

In the public speaking contest Palatine, Maine Township and Barrington were represented; here the superintendents in charge selected the subjects and each contestant drew his topic and in one hour's time had to prepare for the discussion without references or notes.

Ruben Aurand, Barrington, won first place on subject "U. S. Preparedness." The judges were: Superintendents Dean of Cassville, Lake, Bardwell of Woodstock and Litch of Harvard.

In the afternoon at 1:30 o'clock the track and field events began. The first event was a 50 yard dash with four contestants and Walter Schutt of Palatine first; Henry Rieker third, four contestants; girls' 50 yard dash, Palatine first and second, Maine Township third; pole vault, Fayette Re. III third; girls' base ball throw, Verdelie Richardson first; 220 yard dash, Walter Schutt first, Orville Mieners third, Edwin Plagge second; disc throw, Fayette Merrill first, Hobart Berghorn third; relay, Barrington first. Total points, no counting relay, Barrington 48, Des Plaines 16; counting relay, Barrington 50, Des Plaines 20.

Only one contestant from each school was permitted to enter for honors in each event.

Altruists Enjoy to Large Crowd

The Baptist church was crowded Friday evening to listen to the fine program rendered by the Altruists and their friends.

The prize paper on the "Famous Women of the Bible" by Miss J. Lines was splendidly written and well rendered, but so close were the points in favor of Miss Boyer's paper that prizes were awarded to both contestants. Mr. Spinner in a few well chosen words presented the prizes donated by Mrs. Spinner. Miss Lines received a $5.00 gold piece and Miss Boyer a beautiful picture "The Return from Calvary."

Miss Boyer responded in a most gracious manner. Nine of the Altruists gave a beautiful hoop drill and vocal music was rendered by Messrs. Cameron and Mattison; the young ladies quartette sang a number. Mr. Wheeler played a fine piano solo, Mr. Kennedy played a cornet solo, Little Master Leroy Tulle of Des Plaines played an excellent violin solo with variations and the quartette by Virginia Hubcock and Earl Virden were very pleasing. As the beginning of the program and while the people were gathering, Mrs. Cameron rendered some very excellent pipe organ numbers. The Altruists are now studying the history of the Psalm and some time in the future you may hear from them again. About twenty dollars was realized from tickets.

Remembered on Her Birthday

The Woman's Relief Corps honored the eighteenth birthday of Mrs. Sarah Sem of South Jersey street on Tuesday afternoon, May 3, with a party at her home. Mrs. Sem is a pioneer woman of this community who has seen Barrington develop from a cluster of houses to a progressive suburban town.

She is living alone at present, industriously earning for her home and children with eternal youth in her heart.

LARGE AUDIENCES

HEAR DR. EATON

M. E. Church is Filled to Capacity Every Evening to Hear His Many Wonderful Interesting Sermons

SPECIAL LECTURE SATURDAY EVE.

Saturday Evening, "God's Glorious Universe" Will be the Topic Which will be Illustrated by Maps, etc.

Increased interest is being manifested at the special religious meetings being held at the M. E. church, which come to a close Sunday night and which will mark a very successful period in local church history.

Dr. E. L. Eaton has poured out some wonderful ideas in connection with God's world, and by a man of high literary and scientific attainments his subjects have made a deep impression upon people of Barrington. His actual experiences, practical skill and splendid flow of speech is possessed by only a few men of his age and great results are being looked forward to as these meetings come to an end.

The topics for the latter part of last week were explained clearly and each one dealt with things and characters of the Bible. Good audiences were also noticeable and Monday night's session of this week brought out another large house. His subject was "Evolution or Creation—Which?"—one of the speaker's best and powerful discussions.

Tuesday night he spoke on "Out of the Cain Life into the Christ Life" Wednesday, "Does Prohibition End With This Life?" and tonight his topic is "Twice Born Men."

Subjects for the remainder of the week are: Friday night, "Where Are The Nine?" Saturday, "God's Glorious Universe" (illustrated); Sunday, 10:45 a. m., "What Is Religion?" 3:00 p. m., "Young People's Meeting" 7:30 p. m., "The Dominion of Man."

A special invitation is extended the public to attend these Post-Easter popular addresses and sermons and you will be made welcome by both pastor and members. As the meetings draw to a close some very timely and interesting topics will be discussed as you will see by the above list, and several record breaking attendances will greet Dr. Eaton the latter part of this week.

We call especially attention to the lecture on Saturday evening. If you enjoy exchanging the diverse and seeing nearly one hundred wonderful photographs of the sea, moon, planets, comets, star-clusters and nebulae, and to see some of the process of formation, don't miss it. All lectures are free and every body is welcome.

Checks Paid by Milk Producers

One hundred thirty-eight checks were issued last week to members of the Milk Producers' association by A. L. Robertson, treasurer, in payment for milk delivered to its plant at the corner of Williams and Liberty streets during the strike here a few weeks ago.

Considering the unfavorable conditions with which these men labored under at the time, the amount of $1.10 per hundred pounds received for their cream is considered a very favorable price and each individual was well pleased with the returns. The payment of $1.10 was made after all expenses had been paid and was the average price to every farmer.

On one day during their brief time of management milk was received and taken care of from 165 farmers. This is an exceptionally good record and one of which to be proud of.

The creamery building was bought by William Peters and J. L. Lagaculute who permitted the Milk Producers' association to use it during the strike. Separators and other equipment were purchased and the cream taken from the milk and sold to the Blue Valley Creamery company, Chicago. The skimmed milk was returned to the farmers.

A meeting of the association will be held to consider the purchasing of a plant from Messrs. Peters and Lagaculute who are willing to sell

DO FARMERS GET JUSTICE?

The politician who, in a famous speech that rings around the world, comes a great man and a great history. But the farmer who, in the biggest potato and the biggest wheat is a boon to humanity and history, hears of him. And yet he is not just and impartial people.

DO IT AGAIN

You have, we presume, been doing a little cleaning up and freshening up around your premises of late. That is good, and very commendable, and we advise you for it. But let us tell you in your ear that, once clean-up is not enough. Things look nice, and clean, and pretty just now, but in a few weeks they will begin to take on a dingy and ragged appearance, and every additional week will emphasize the depressing and destructive effects of indifference and neglect. Do it again, and keep right on doing it at frequent intervals. It will add cheer to your own life and those of your family and friends. It is a good thing to do and we hope to exempt you on keeping right on with it.

THE CHRONIC KICKER

The fellow who is always criticizing his own town is like the kid who hankers for a chance to pull the other kid's hair. He forgets that the reputation of the town is most likely brought about by his own shortcomings and those of others of his kind. He sees only the discrepancies of others and forgets that perhaps his own may be even more glaring and destructive. He weaves a halo around his precious ego and bespeakers that of his neighbors. He sees only where good exists, and where success is assured, and where when prosperity is in the ascendant. If he, like the many kid, wants to pull anybody's hair he would do it in a position suffering humanity by twisting his own.

CUT HIGH COST OF LIVING

With summer coming along you will naturally be more or less peevish at the weeds that spring up on every hand. You may, in fact, be doing a little peevishness on the fly. But did you ever stop to think that many of those weeds make good articles of life? They do. There are ten weeds that can be used for food. They are the dock, cattle, sorrel, purslane, milkweed, dandelion, pigweed, lamb's quarter, marsh-mallows and brake fern. Is the high cost of living bothering you? Eat weeds. Would you enjoy a weeding job? Choose from the usual daily article of food stuffs? Eat weeds. Would you like a meal before your neighbor that will make him gape and wonder where you got such delicious delicacies? Eat weeds. And when you want to feast on something that really costs nothing, just simply eat weeds.

ALENE'S ROMANCE.

BY CATHERINE CRANNER.

Alelene sat herself in the scratchy plush seat of the local train, pleased with the prospect of spending her two weeks' vacation on a farm. Her many visits to the movies, where she broad-shouldered, good-looking young farmers or cowboys were the heroes had caused her to picture a farm as the place of all her dreams. She was offering the romance, the possibilities for which her young soul yearned.

She had been rather nettled more than once at Will Egger's seeming oversight of the romance in the vast open motion to which he had accompanied her. He was always figuring how the plot worked out, and frequently when the most adorable hero had rescued the heroine from the villain Will would only give a grunt about the "same old day."

At the hands of her day dream, the porter shut his head in the door and shouted: "Waynesburg, Waynesburg!" That being her destination, she grabbed her suitcase and as she stepped down the steps she became the center of interest to the dozen lonesome-looking people. The prospect for adventure was far from promising.

Just then the eyes of all left Alelene and went in the direction from which came the sound of a rushing automobile and excited and laughing voices.

A big touring car swerved from the main road on the open space at the end of the station and a young man sprang from the machine to grasp the handrail of the last coach just as the train moved past the station.

Alelene hoped she would be taken into the automobile to be conveyed to Rural Retreat farm. She was accepted at that moment by a tall, lank young fellow.

"Are you waiting to go to Rural Retreat farm?" The face from which the nasal voice leaked out was sunburned almost to a blister. His mouth gaped like a barn door and the damp odor of prechambering the tobacco chewer.

As they jogged along the dusty road, she made casual inquiry about whether the occupants of the automobile were stopping at Rural Retreat.

"Well, I guess not," he ejaculated. "They're a lot of shells a-vittin' up to Randolph's mansion."

Alelene's appetite was not tempted by the midday dinner. In the big yard after dinner, Alelene found little of interest save a basketball made of bare rot staves and padded with a bed quilt.

The long afternoon dragged insupportably, and the day before the end of the week, for which she had paid her board in advance, she was so despondently lonely that she asked to be taken to the train.

As the boy was driving her along in his buggy, she saw three galloping horsemen approaching, and for an instant there re-voiced within her the hope that her senior league was coming true after all.

As the riders drew near, she recognized one of them as the youth who had driven the touring car to the station the day she arrived. But, alas for her dream! The three horsemen went galloping by the slow-moving buggy without even a glance at the occupants, and the last hope for a momentary adventure died out of Alelene's heart.

Not until she was well on her journey home did her sense of humor come to her relief. Then, she saw how she had foolishly allowed her imagination to get her into a predicament. She reached home that evening just as her mother and father were sitting down to a dinner, but simple dinner, in the darkened dining room of their little flat.

They laughed heartily at her accounts of her disillusionment about the "retreat" and the rustic hero she had expected to find there.

"And now you're going to celebrate my return from the rural retreat by going to a picture show, but I hope they won't show any rustic heroes," said Alelene.

"That reminds me," exclaimed her mother. "Did you hear about Will Egger winning a thousand-dollar prize for the best scenario picturing a modern business romance? Isn't that great?"

Before Alelene could reply her father called her from the front door, bidding her come to greet an old friend. She was not surprised greatly when she found the "old friend" to be Will Egger.

"Oh, Will, but I'm glad to see you back to civilization!" said Alelene, after the first greetings were over, but she inclined to think the rustic romances are all on the films.

"I came by to ask your parents how you like your retreat," laughed Will. "But maybe you'll go to the picture show with me."

"I'll go if you'll guarantee no rustic romances," said Alelene.

"I can easily promise that," said Will. "For they are giving the first run tonight of a modern business romance."

"Oh, and congratulations on your home run for the big prize! Mother was just telling me about it when you came."

"What I want to tell you, Alelene, is that I've been hoping that thousand dollar prize would help make a little home for you to help me run it."

DO YOU APPROVE of having the streets of this village OILED this summer? SURE YOU DO!

Then in order to do so it will necessarily have to be done by subscription—as last year—and done at once.

At the board meeting Monday night F. L. Waterman was appointed to see the property owners and get the names of all residents who are willing to subscribe towards same. We are unable to pay for this out of the General Fund, which makes it necessary for us to ask you to pay for same by subscription.

We ask you all to do the same as last year and notify Mr. Waterman at once of what your subscription will be.

We had the best oiled streets last year of any town or village within 50 miles and wish to have the same this year.

Thanking you in advance on behalf of the board

Safety First

6 PER CENT. REAL ESTATE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS are steadily growing in popularity and their advantages over other classes of bonds and individual mortgages are numerous. First, the value of the security underlying REAL ESTATE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS can easily be determined, and the property be personally inspected by the investor before making purchases, whereas on the other hand, experience and tedious study is necessary to exactly value the security of such corporate bonds as Railroads, Public Utilities and Industrials. Furthermore the stability in price of REAL ESTATE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS has been demonstrated; they have maintained their full par value when other bonds, even of the highest character, have suffered severe declines in times of depression. Also REAL ESTATE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS are issued in most convenient denominations of $100, $500 and $1000 and the interest is paid promptly on the date of maturity. These moderate sizes enable the investor to buy small amounts of bonds, and, in need of funds, to sell portions of his holdings.

Our customers have never suffered any loss of money nor any delay in the payment of principal or interest on CHICAGO REAL ESTATE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS bought from us.

MANY FARMERS IN INCOME TAX QUIZ

Three Years Behind, to Be Treated With Leniency.

NO ATTEMPT TO DODGE LAW

Simply Did Not Clearly Understand on What Some Assessments Were Based—Ready to Give Details of Income.

Springfield—Twenty-five insured Illinois farmers who are under the jurisdiction of the Chicago division of the government income tax bureau, will be treated with leniency in payment of three years of unpaid taxes because of the discovery that it was their bookkeeping and not their honesty that was at fault. The district number of farmers in this division who are delinquent has not been definitely determined, but the investigators working under Daniel Chappel, special agent of the treasury department, have gone far enough to show the farmer is willing to pay his share.

The eighth district of this division, with headquarters at Springfield, comprising thirty-one counties, was the first section canvassed by the investigators for delinquent taxpayers, and the report will be ready in a few days. It is estimated that it will show 1,500 farmers who neglected to pay on incomes averaging approximately $5,000 each.

The first district of which Chicago is the center and which has thirteen counties, is expected to yield about 400 farmers in arrears with the government. The fifty districts with eleven counties each, centered around Peoria, will yield, according to the estimate of experts, about 400 more of this class.

Investigators, who met the farmers in their post offices, at banks and even at their plows, discovered that they readily told of all their transactions and were free in giving details of their income.

"The farmers didn't understand what was expected of them and consequently many of them failed to file any schedule after the income tax has been a law," said one in a position to know. "If they made $5,000 in a year and spent $4,500 for improvements, leaving them $500 in the bank, they looked on the last amount as their income. They changed the other to expense."

"When we explained to them that represented their income, they were perfectly willing to comply with the requirements of the law."

Although the penalty for a maximum penalty of $1,000 each year of delinquency, the government has sent out notices that a minimum will be accepted of $20 for 1917, $5 for 1914 and $5 for 1913, making $30 in all, for those who like the farmers, weren't deliberately dodging the law.

Hospital Changes.

As the result of the resignation of Dr. F. M. Kelly, superintendent of Kankakee State hospital, which was accepted by the state board of administration, there was a wholesale shake-up in the state charitable institutions. A number of changes in managing officers were announced. Doctor Kelly resigned because of ill health. He is now in Colorado.

The changes made by the board are as follows:

Dr. B. A. Goodner, superintendent of the Anna State hospital, transferred to Kankakee State hospital as superintendent.

Dr. G. W. Morrow, assistant superintendent of the Anna State hospital, transferred to Kankakee as assistant superintendent.

Dr. S. W. McKelvey, assistant physician at Anna State hospital, transferred to Kankakee as assistant physician.

Dr. Eugene Cohn, assistant superintendent at Kankakee, transferred to Chicago State hospital in a similar position.

Dr. H. J. Smith, assistant superintendent Chicago State hospital, transferred to Anna as assistant superintendent.

Dr. J. A. Campbell, superintendent at Watertown State hospital, transferred to Anna as superintendent.

Dr. Charles P. Reed, assistant superintendent at Peoria State hospital, transferred to Watertown State hospital as superintendent.

Dr. Isaac Presnell, assistant superintendent at Chester State hospital, transferred to Lincoln State School and Colony as assistant superintendent.

Dr. C. V. Caldwell, assistant superintendent at Lincoln State School and Colony, transferred to Peoria State hospital as assistant superintendent.

Winter Hard on Young.

During the past winter life has just been one continuous thing after another for the children of Illinois, a summary issued by the state board of health points out. Last November and December diphtheria threatened epidemic proportions in many parts of the state, but through the application of vigorous measures it was suppressed until in February and up to the present time there have been fewer cases of the disease at this season than in many years.

With the subsidence of diphtheria, there appeared a threatened state-wide epidemic of scarlet fever of an extremely mild type. In January, February and March the state authorities were faced to the utmost in compelling observance of the new rules for the control of this disease, but towards the latter part of March a very material improvement in the scarlet fever situation was everywhere apparent.

As scarlet fever declined in prevalence, measles leaped into the limelight and today this little dreaded but highly fatal disease still holds the center of the stage.

The epidemic situation was somewhat improved except at Decatur, where there were 46 cases, and at Springfield where there were 50 cases. Measles, with 40 cases of scarlet fever during March the disease threatened to assume epidemic proportions, but the situation there is now well in hand, owing to the energetic efforts of the local health officer aided by a quarantine officer of the state board.

The board's summary for March shows the disease prevalent in various parts of the state as follows:
Parramville, 39 cases of measles.
Havana reports seven cases of scarlet fever.

Illinois reports 20 cases of streptococcus sore throat.
Jernsville, measles 20 cases.

Lincoln reports diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles 15, whooping cough 30. Increases in all classes of cases except whooping cough. Littlefield has scarlet fever epidemic, 11 cases.

Macon City reports 20 whooping cough, 30 chickenpox and 10 measles. Mattoon, 40 cases of scarlet fever, etiology improving slowly.

Shelbyville, 10 cases of scarlet fever and 20 cases of measles.
Shumway, 20 cases of measles and 12 of whooping cough.

Stations, 15 cases measles.
Sullivan, 30 cases measles.
Taylorville, 34 cases measles, two diphtheria.

Town Hill, 10 measles; 11 whooping cough.

Districts for Poor Relief.
The state charities commission and the state board of administration favor district linehouses, erected and maintained by two or more counties, in preference to the present system of caring for the state's needy.

Absolute ratification of the new system was made in the legislative quarterly report, issued by Secretary of the Charities Commission A. L. Bowen, chairman of the Board of Administration Fred Kern and Dr. H. D. Slinger, director of the State Psychopathic Institute.

In touching upon this important deviation from the usual plan the report said:

"The commission favors a law which will permit two or more counties to join in the erection and maintenance of a district linehouse. It will argue upon the next general assembly an enactment which will break up the practice, indulged in by 23 of our counties of letting the superintendence of the county farm to the highest bidder on the land and the lowest bidder on the price of the inmates."

For improvement in the official outdoor relief situation, the commission strongly recommends the federal law and system which requires the filing with a central state authority of all applications of all orders for relief, filed by overseers of the poor or supervisors.

Such a law, the commission says, has resulted in good in Indiana and will bring similar reforms in this state.

The report shows that every fall and throughout the state was visited and investigation made of the methods of expenditures of outdoor relief, the operation of the mothers' pension law, the adult probation law, the work of the juvenile courts and the work of the private relief agencies.

The report goes into the $5,000,000 expenditure of the public funds by the separate counties for their purposes.

The funds were divided as follows: Alms houses, $1,100,000; mothers' pensions, $243,200; blind, $96,000; old soldiers, $24,400; care of county dependents, $769,000; detention homes, $132,000; Cook county hospital, $745,000; blind nursing fund, $190,000.

The report also shows the inspector found two conditions which have made the work extremely difficult and which have made absolute accuracy impossible.

The first is lack of uniformity in methods of county accounting and lack of records of both public and private charity officials.

The second is the lack of uniformity in the methods of the county officials in the operation of the mothers' pension law, the adult probation law, the work of the juvenile courts and the work of the private relief agencies.

A WIRELESS TELEGRAPH RECEIVER SET—PART 2.

The first thing to consider when setting up a "wireless" receiving set is the aerial. This should be supported at least 30 feet above the ground, at one end, and should be 60 feet or more in length.

Fig. 1 shows an arrangement for an aerial of six strands, and Fig. 2 shows how the end connections are made.

Any wire but steel or iron, not smaller than No. 16, either bare or insulated, may be used for the strands, and the end spreaders (A, Fig. 2) may be any light, strong poles 5/8 inch in diameter.

The strands must be set in between the spreaders and the ends of the wire strands (B, Fig. 2), and the strands must be fastened 12 inches apart.

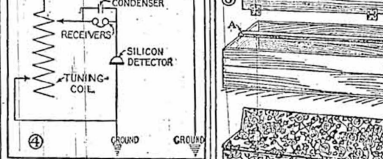

The ordinary porcelain cleats (Fig. 3) make good insulators. The supporting ropes C of the aerial (Fig. 2) to screw eyes placed at the ends of the spreaders, and then fasten the rope stays D to them, and to the spreaders, so the spreaders will not become bowed.

Fig. 5 shows a good pair of telephone receivers, with headband. It can not afford a pair, you can get along with a single receiver. Fig. 6 shows the kind of switch to buy—a single-pole-double-throw switch. This switch must be placed outside of the window, to provide for disconnecting the aerial when the receiving set is not in operation, as a precaution against lightning.

Fig. 4 shows the wiring diagram. One wire from the switch must be grounded, also, as shown, outdoors. The receiving set must be grounded, and this grounding can be taken care of by connecting a wire to a radiator or plumbing pipe.

With the receiving instruments properly prepared and set up, and a good aerial with its leads properly insulated, you should be able to receive from commercial stations at a distance of at least a hundred miles, and from all amateur stations in your vicinity.

The two telephone codes—Morse and Continental—must be learned, because both are employed, though the Morse

Because the shunt switch must be shallow, it is well to make it long. Having prepared the box, it is only necessary to fasten a strip two inches wide along the center of the open top, from end to end, for the hinge-strip (A, Fig. 5), and hinge a board each side of it for the covers (B, Fig. 5). That completes the carpentry. It will be easiest to cover the box before the hinge-strip and covers have been put on, and to tack the cretone on the hinge-strip and covers before fastening them in place. The handles and the castors go on last.

Have you a shoe blacking case in your room? Very few girls do own one, yet it is an article of great importance to the girl who is particular about keeping her shoes tidy. Fig. 7 shows a practical little blacking case. By making the top removable, the inside of the case may be used as a receptacle for cans and bottles of polish, brushes, and rags; and by padding the under side and covering it with cretone, the top may be inverted after use, and the blacking case thus converted into the attractive footstool shown in Fig. 8.

Fig. 9 shows how four short legs should be nailed to the side corners of the square soap box, with the tops projecting just enough to allow for the thickness of the cover, and Fig. 10 shows how the cover boards should be fastened together with the cross strips A, and how a triangular board B should be nailed to it for a rest to put the shoe against.

In covering the blacking case, it is best to omit the inside lining.

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS FROM THE GREAT GERMAN EMPIRE.

WHAT'S DOING IN OLD HOME

Summary of the Most Important Happenings in the Land of the Kaiser—Timely Items for the German Readers.

Professor Rudolf Eucken, the eminent philosopher, spoke recently in the great Aula of the Berlin university on the "Ethical and Hygienic Tasks of the Present." He is one of the most universally honored men in Germany, and his audience included "statesmen, ecclesiastics, and the most honored members of the highest society."

Professor Eucken castigated the drinking habit of the people. It is the only vice which they have inherited from their remote forefathers. Martin Luther and Pflaetz both bear witness of this. Germans must conquer this custom. The war has brought with it an added seriousness. It has brought many an improvement, but it has not checked the drinking habit. The professor urged a new morality which would introduce a "nobility" into the lives of Germans, a "nobility of character." This constant drinking, he declared, bends on the nation, and breeds the wretched type of beer-pollution with whom everyone is a familiar. It is a type which must no longer disgrace the German nation.—New York Evening Post.

Thousands of university students who are serving at the front have just learned that the Austrian ministry of education has decided to grant them special privileges in the way of shortening their college course. In the faculties of philosophy and law the men will be allowed to count their years of military service as university years. But as for medical students, the authorities say the responsibilities of doctors to the community are too serious to allow of such a privilege.

These students cannot be credited with time like their fellows in other departments. But through more intensive work, they are to be allowed to complete their course in less time.

Rheumatic Pain Stopped

The drawing of muscles, the soreness, stiffness and agonizing pain of Rheumatism quickly yield to Sloan's Liniment. It stimulates circulation to the painful part. Just apply and directed to the sore spots. In a short time the pain gives way to a tingling sensation of comfort and warmth. Here's proof—I have had wonderful relief since I used your Liniment on my knee. To think one application gave me relief. Sorry I haven't space to tell you the history. Thanking you for what your remedy has done for me. James S. Ferguson, Philadelphia, Pa. Sloan's Liniment kills pain. Druggists.

"The Mexican Outlaw"

Barrington show-boys urined out in large numbers Wednesday night to witness Carter Brothers' new performance, entitled "The Mexican Outlaw."

The bill was above the ordinary traveling show of this kind and each part was well carried out. The company is a good one and carries a small band.

They have opened the season in Barrington twice, but this year, had filled two dates before coming here.

Baptist Missionary Society Meets

The Baptist Missionary society meeting at Mrs. Dennis Schroeder's on Monday afternoon brought out a good attendance. The devotional part of the program was in charge of Mrs. G. W. Spangler and the study and music arranged by Mrs. H. F. Brockway.

Songs were sung by Mrs. John Cadwallader and Mrs. Verne Hawley, a recitation given by little Misses Marion Seavours and Grace Casle; Mesdames Cameron, R. Cannon, W. Cannon and Carrie read a chapter from a book, "Missions in Action" and after these numbers a light lunch was served by Mrs. Schroeder.

Deer Grove School Program

The Parent-Teacher association of the Deer Grove school near the viaduct held a meeting last Thursday night which was attended by about one hundred people. Pupils gave a short program directed by Miss Cora Kellogg, the teacher, and several men of the district gave short talks.

They were: Earl Virden, who talked of the friendly hospitality of the country people as compared with city people; Eugene Phillips told of home and school educational plans for children; A. B. Klein of the school board told of school business matters and Mr. Regeberg spoke of the kinds and the habits of spiders. Mrs. Regeberg sang a solo.

Avoid Spring Colds

Sudden changes in light, shifting seasons cause colds and gripes, and these spring colds are annoying and dangerous and are likely to turn into a chronic summer cough. In such cases take a treatment of Dr. King's New Discovery, a pleasant Laxative Tar Syrup. It soothes the cough, checks the cold and helps break up an attack of gripes. It is already prepared, no mixing or fussing. Just ask your druggist for a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. Tested and tried for over 40 years.

Irresistible.

Power!!

Few of us have the need or desire for a racing car.

We are quite content to let the "other fellow" take his chances at 70 miles an hour—while we spin along comfortably and safely with the speedometer needle registering 25 or 30.

But every man wants Power in his automobile—and particularly the man who tours.

It is good to sit behind a motor which responds eagerly—happily—to the slightest touch of the throttle.

It is good to know that you need only "step on" the accelerator and the steepest hills will flatten out like smooth boulevards.

It is good to realize that you command a vast store of reserve power which will easily take you through the heaviest sand roads "on high."

It is good to know that your automobile is a staunch, sturdy, dependable help-mate—not a treacherous weakling that will lay down when the real work begins.

In a word, it is good to own just such a car as the Paige seven passenger "Six-46."

This car is a thoroughbred—every inch of it.

It is just as handsome as an automobile could possibly be, and easily capable of going 60 miles per hour. If you desire so much speed. But—first and last—it is made for work—consistent work—day-in and day out work.

"Fairfield" owners don't have to make apologies or "offer excuses". Their cars are out of commission at one time only—when they are locked up in the garage at night.

And—best of all—you can readily establish these facts for yourself.

This car is by no means an "experiment". It has been put to the grueling test of more than a full year's road work by thousands of owners.

All that you need to do is get in touch with the nearest Paige dealer.

Let him prove his case. Let him introduce you to men who have invested their money in the "Fairfield". Listen to their experiences—ask for their honest opinions.

Do this—while the Dealer can still make immediate deliveries.
