HOW MOTHERS' DAY ORIGINATED IN U. S.

Pennsylvania Young Lady is Seized With National Idea in Planning Memory for own Mother

DAY IS NOW A NATIONAL EVENT

Set Aside by the President to be Observed on Second Sunday of May Each Year for a Purpose

The idea of a national Mothers' Day originated with Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia. In arranging a memorial service for her own mother she thought of what a national commemoration of the debt which is owed to mothers might mean.

It might help to overcome the growing lack of consideration for absent mothers among worldly-minded, busy, growing-up children; the thoughtless neglect of homelives made by the whirl of modern life, the lack of respect to parents among children of the present generation, and the need of reminding almost every one of the debt each person owes a mother.

So the idea and its beginning and in May, 1914, Congress designated the second Sunday in May as Mothers' Day and authorized and requested the President to issue a proclamation calling upon the government to display the flag on all government buildings on that Sunday.

Motherhood is a vocation and should be a joyful one. Often the joy of being a mother is lessened by a life of pain, care and monotony. Has it ever occurred to you what it means to be a mother? A man never sees all his mother has been to him until it is too late to let her know that she sees it.

Mothers need care and thoughtfulness every day in practical and helpful ways. They need rest, but sleep alone, but rest through change of occupation. Interests, thoughts, pleasures and outdoor recreation. Every mother should have a life, if only a flower garden, something away from the pots and pans and care of babies. A life of any kind is a good antidote for the poison made in the mind by worry and cares. Lack of time is the excuse given by busy mother for not relaxing and playing a little.

"Rest is economy, it enables a woman to accomplish more in her working hours and is a sure means of prolonging life. Worry wears women down. Real anxiety cannot always be avoided but constant worrying should be avoided. Husbands, sons and daughters can all assist in helping the mothers to get the rest they need."

A mother who is permitted to work and plan for her family will find no time to rest or care for herself in such an exhausted condition that she cannot give them the best that is in her.—Good Housekeeping Magazine.

STATE INSPECTORS VERDICT GOOD

Barrington Receives "The Once Over" From Fire Marshals Who Find Fire Risks Few

The four representatives from the State Fire Marshal's office who inspected the village of Barrington last Thursday afternoon only stayed in town about two hours. They visited business houses, mills, several manufacturing and places where the public gathers, were visited and the general conditions found to be very satisfactory, although a few were told to take immediate precautions to prevent fire. It is a compliment to the town that the inspectors did not have to remain here long, as in some places they have to stay and enforce their orders.

The record of the school children in their fire drill is splendid. The general run of the public conduct, the training and practice necessary to keep above three hundred children calm and moving in correct order.

Fire Marshal Henry Schroeder accompanied by the state inspectors in their rounds.

Making Study of Fox River

The Illinois state university is making a study of Fox river, and R. E. Richardson of Havana assisted by John L. Thomas of the same place, sent out by the university, are in charge of the work. These men have made a preliminary study of the river, including a study of all the fish, muskies, insects, etc., as well as a study of the river bed and the effects on the inhabitants of the stream, caused by sewage.

Brief Mention of Numerous Occurrences of the Week—Subscribed to by Both Teachers and Pupils

Arlington Heights Plays Barrington at Barrington, May 12.

After a tie in the first game with Des Plaines last Friday the score was 4 to 3, in favor of Barrington.

On Friday afternoon pupils in Rooms 3, 4, and 7 had a half-holiday, engaged by their high percentages in attendance with no tardiness for four consecutive weeks.

Saturday, May 13, is the date set for Cook County Achievement Day. The awards will be given at Fullerton hall, Chicago, as usual the music being furnished by the Barrington high school band.

In Room 1 Wednesday morning there was given a demonstration of reading and pronunciation by the pupils of the first grade who have been taught by the Deacon method. This was given before the parents and teachers.

It will be remembered that at the meet held April 29, at Des Plaines, Des Plaines was unwilling to count the relay with the other events. Without the relay the score stood: Barrington 46, Des Plaines 47; with it, Barrington 51, Des Plaines 49, thus giving Barrington the honor for the afternoon as well as the morning. The decision was left open until word came from Coach Stagg of Chicago that a relay is always counted, if run.

After the Senior Boys' Glee club gave its entertainment last December, the mothers bought a handsome light for the school library and new fixtures for the office. As a result of the play given by the Senior girls at the school exhibit, three handsome pieces of furniture have been added to the library—a couch, a rocker and an arm chair, all of dull golden oak, upholstered in Spanish leather. After the table and chairs already in use are refinished, the room with its new draperies, given by the Senior girls before the exhibit, will be as attractive as it ought to be.

RANK OF THE GRADES

The rank of the grades in attendance is as follows:

Rank	Room	Per Cent

Mrs. Edward R. Clark Dead
Word was received Friday by John Robertson of the death Thursday evening of his sister, Mrs. Edward R. Clark, aged about 67 years, in Pasadena, California. The Clark home is in Colorado Springs.

The family left here nearly twenty years ago after many years of residence in the village while Mr. Clark was president of the local bank, a member of the schoolboard and a prominent citizen. Their home here was on West Main street near the site of the present Albert Robertson house. Since moving west three daughters have succumbed to tuberculosis and been brought home to Resheli, one by one, for burial. Mrs. Clark was born at Lake Zurich and was the sister also of the late Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. Patten of Barrington, the late Mrs. Dyson of Chicago and Lake Zurich, the late Miss Robertson of this village and Elmer Robertson of Arizona.

Old friends to Barrington grieve with Mr. Clark in this bereavement which takes from him the last member of his family.

Baptist Church Notes

Special services for "Mothers' Day" will be held at the church next Sunday morning and evening. All mothers are invited and will be treated as guests of honor and the whole service will be planned to cheer and encourage them. All are asked to observe the day by wearing a white carnation in honor of mother. A white carnation will signify mother love—in its own strength; its flower for beauty; its lasting qualities for faithfulness; its fragrance for love and its wide growth, charity. Let us make our mothers feel on this day that in their children's hearts she is "Queen of May."

The subjects for Rev. Lockhart's address 10:30 Sunday morning will be "Mothers' Influence" and in the evening at 7:30 "Famous Mothers" will be given, and also "Mothers' Bibles." A welcome to these services given to all.

Appreciation of Mothers' Day

THE love of a mother is never exhausted, it never changes, it never tires. A father may turn his back on his children, brothers and sisters may become enemies, husbands may desert their wives, wives their husbands, but a mother's love endures through all. In good repute, in bad repute, in the face of the world's condemnation, a mother still loves on and hopes that her child may turn from his evil way and repent; still she remembers the infant smiles, the joyful shout of his childhood, the promise of his youth and she can never be brought to think him unworthy.—WASHINGTON IRVING.

15TH MAYFLOWER CELEBRATION

Local Royal Neighbors Lodge Observes Special Anniversary This Week With Music, Songs and Speeches

The most important event so far in the history of the local camp of the Royal Neighbors was the celebration Tuesday evening of the fifteenth anniversary of the order in Old Fellows hall in the Grob building. The day was also called "Tug" day for the lodge, for the purpose of raising money for the purpose of advertising the society and all members were tags upon which were printed statistics of the accomplishments of the Royal Neighbors in getting members, paying benefits and promoting charities.

Two distinguished ladies in the circles of this lodge were present, Mrs. Amanda Wilson of Chicago, supervisor of the Cook and Lake counties department and Mrs. Jennie Chilton of Evanston, district deputy. Mrs. Wilson presided over the lady work which was carried out by the officers of Mayflower camp, of which Miss May Boyer is the head officer, the Oracle.

There were eleven candidates received who are: Mesdames W. H. Wilson, William Voss, Henry Belmont, Clifford Drake and Garbutt, Misses Nina Jacobs and Martha Woods and Mesdames W. H. Riecke, Fred Riecke, Alvin Sempt and Edward Groff.

The hall was trimmed in American flags and the lodge colors, purple and white. Misses Frances and Corbelle Beck sang duets. Miss Virginia Allen of Park Ridge, a pianist of the highest merit, a teacher of large classes, gave two difficult compositions. A committee of twelve served an old cream and cake luncheon and a huge lodge shield cake surrounded with green candles was cut by one of the guests of honor, Mrs. Wilson.

Dancing rounded out the evening's pleasures with Mrs. Carrie Kendall at the piano and Robert Constock playing violin.

United Evangelical Notes

The good attendance at Sunday school and morning services, in the Salem United Evangelical church last Sunday was an inspiration to those who are actively interested in church work. There are some who do not attend elsewhere; we need the inspiration of your presence and you will be helped in return. We ask you kindly to come and worship with us: "Let us consider one mother to provoke unto love and good works, not forsaking our own assembling together." "How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?"

Rev. T. L. C. Suhre preached an instructive and inspiring sermon on "Cross Bearing" to a large audience last Sunday evening.

Next Sunday will be "Mother's Day" and the services in the church will be in honor of the day. Come, wear a white carnation or other white flower in honor of your mother. "Honor thy father and thy mother; that thy days may be long in the land which Jehovah thy God giveth thee."

The first quarterly meeting for this conference year will begin Friday evening, May 19, and continue over Sunday May 20.

COUNTRY LIFE LECTURES PLEASE

Two Authorative Speakers on Rural Interests Address Country Life Associations Saturday Evening

Sixty people represented the two Barrington Country Life associations meeting Saturday evening at the high school. This was a very small gathering for the membership of those two organizations but the absence of the usual large attendance may be accounted for easily by the fact that other interests of the evening detracted from this one.

Two good speakers were here and held the attention of the audience for several hours, although one of them said it was rather difficult to speak to so many empty seats. Corbet music by Howard Stiefenhofer pleased but the singer, Mrs. Regeberg of Palatine township, could not be present.

Mr. Readheimer, soil expert of Kane county, should have been heard by the farmers of this community for he is a fine authority on "Seed Corn" of which he spoke; his especial study of soils and propagation and his years of practical experience in farming place him in a position to tell helpful facts, even to the farmer who has worked the soil for years. The gentleman is not a staid orator, but he has a quiet and friendly manner of talking and he was well liked.

Benjamin Gage of Evanston was called to the funeral of a friend Saturday and therefore was unable to keep his engagement to talk on horticultural matters at this meeting, but he sent in his place a man who deserved a crowded hall to hear his interesting remarks. He was H. J. Schweibitz, industrial and railroad agent for the Illinois Central railroad and he will be asked here again in the hopes that his presence will be more appreciated by a larger number of people.

He had intended to speak on agriculture but changed his topic when he found that Mr. Readheimer had a similar subject, so he talked of the boys' and girls' dairy clubs being formed in the southern states, especially a club of 73 members in Tennessee where each child has purchased a Holstein cow and the railroad has presented the club with fine bulls and now are buying of the children every female calf born, for which $133 is paid the little owner. The local banks loaned the children the money to buy the herd. Mr. Schweibitz called himself the "milkmaid" of the southern dairy clubs and says they are doing wonderful to develop the neglected farm life of the people.

Special Meetings Close

Last Sunday was a very profitable day for the Barrington Methodist church and also marked the close of a two weeks' special religious services, in charge of Dr. E. L. Eaton, of Madison, Wisconsin.

The meetings were well attended and resulted in adding many names to the church roll. Dr. Eaton proved himself in every way to be a man of God, faithful, obedient and experienced. He was presented with a good sum of money by a fruit offering for his labors here and departed Monday with the well wishes of everyone accompanying him.

Dr. Libbertson the local pastor and Dr. Eaton are very warm friends and work together like team mates. It was due to their friendship that Dr. Eaton came to Barrington, an honor of which few villages can boast.

Gets Good Position

L. Zelena Lando, "teacher" in the Barrington high school, "acted" a call Monday to fill the chair of assistant Professor of German in Ohio State university. He was offered full professorships in a large Normal school in Illinois, a college in Michigan, a military academy and a leading Methodist university, but took the Ohio position so that he might have time to finish literary and research work he wishes to do.

Gone to Wisconsin

Mrs. Rowe who has been in charge of the boarding house on the Farmstead farms for some time, left there last week with Miss Alice Rowe, her daughter, and they have gone to Pleasant Prairie, Wisconsin, to keep house for a friend for a time. Their household goods are stored in the Staatslager house on Grove avenue which they will occupy when they return to Barrington and Mrs. Rowe will follow her profession of practical nurse in which she has had a wide experience.

NUPTIAL EVENT AT THE HALL FARM

Miss Helen Hall and Howard Holbrook Are Married—To Reside on Farm in Barrington Township

PRETTY HOME WEDDING SATURDAY

Ceremony Held Amid Beautiful Arrangement of Flowers and Ferns in the Living Room

Miss Helen Mary Hall and Howard Crowe Holbrook of Barrington township were married Saturday afternoon, May 6, at four o'clock at the Hall farm by the Rev. William H. Hinton of the Oak Park First Congregational church.

The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Edward Hall who moved here from Oak Park two years ago and Mr. Holbrook is managing a farm near the Hall farm for his father who lives in Oak Park.

The living room of the Hall home was arranged with roses, palms and snap-dragon blossoms and in front of the fireplace, banked with flowers and ferns, the bridal party gathered for the ceremony. Miss Hall wore a gown of white tulle and silk, trimmed with Duchess lace. Her matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. J. Merle Plant of Joliet, a bride of last June, and Miss Elizabeth Holbrook was bridesmaid. Allison Holbrook served as bridesmaid as groomsmen.

A luncheon was served after the marriage to the guests, about seventy-five people who were all relatives. The new Mr. and Mrs. Holbrook left early that evening for a trip through eastern cities, arriving in Washington on Tuesday. They will be gone several weeks.

One of the pleasant features of the afternoon was the arrival of a party of farmers of the neighborhood to call upon the bride and groom to offer their congratulations and good luck wishes. This was greatly appreciated by those new farming people from the city, making them feel like real members of the farming life of the community.

All the guests were from Chicago and suburban towns, excepting three ladies, who are: Mrs. Wood of Milwaukee, Mrs. J. Ernest Whitcomb and Mrs. Esther Drake of Columbus, Nebraska.

BAPTIST BANQUET IS BOUNTIFUL

Young Peoples' Contest Pinned a Feast of Oratory and Visas—Noted Divine Delights Diners

About one hundred forty people attended the Baptist Peoples' Union, given by the loving side of the recent contest, when the society, occurred the sum of nearly $70. The splendid menu served was highly commended by all for quality and quantity. Mrs. George Banks, president, with her corps of excellent helpers, furnished service long to be remembered.

Very few are, however, of the superior treat in store for the throng that filled the parlors of the church. At the opportune moment, Rev. Frank L. Anderson, D. D. of Chicago, president of the Executive Council of the Baptist ministers of Chicago and also president of the Baptist Young Peoples' Union of the United States and Canada, was presented to the surprised and delighted crowd and for forty-five minutes with eloquence, fervor and earnestness he gave a masterly address on the needs of our young people.

Dr. Anderson is a gentleman of fine social qualities as well as a gifted orator. Rev. George H. Lockhart and H. H. Hubbard were also in the program.

Barrington Family in Auto Accident

The George Nightengale family of east Moline was on an unfortunate automobile accident Sunday afternoon on the Elgin road while near Barrington Center. The parents and five children were in their Ford car which was being driven by Walter, the oldest son, a boy of about 18 years.

They were going at a moderate speed and were back of another car. In turning out to allow a motorcycle to pass, the Nightengale car leaned too much to one side on the inclined side of the highway and was suddenly overthrown, throwing the seven occupants out.

Fortunately the injuries resulting were no worse. Mr. Nightengale was bruised on the legs and he was the only one caught under the car. Miss Ruth, aged ten years, is suffering with a broken shoulder bone and will be unable to go to school for some time. Mr. Nightengale will no doubt be about in a few days.

The old method of building narrow roads, high in the center, is the cause of many highway accidents in this morning age.

SAFETY FIRST

He who goes to speed with his automobile and motorcycle this summer is in great danger, and he is also a menace to the public. Every effort should be made to check his fast driving, by advice and orders and by a fine and imprisonment if he will not listen to reason and be moderate in his pace. Local "smuglers" who defy authorities should be given severe lessons, that we may not have accidents and perhaps death to mar the summer of 1916 in this community at least, if we cannot control the joy riders on country and city public paths.

MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial day is approaching when the few members of the Grand Army of the Republic march to the cemeteries to place flowers on the graves of deceased soldiers who fought for America in several wars.

This naturally is a time when people's thoughts drift back to and memories of the dead, not only of soldiers but of one's own people. Cemetery lists are placed in order and everyone endeavors to get to the family burying spot on that day, mourning for the dead with the old soldiers who mourn for old comrades.

It is called a great "patriotic day" when the love of our father country is thought to swell our hearts with pride and loyalty. The word is taken from the Latin word "pater," meaning father.

But of late years the old veterans are justified in asking, "Are people patriotic truly, or do they just talk about it? Is the present day howl of patriotism from the lips and from head, or is it from the heart? Do the younger men and women of the period know what suffering for one's country really means? Would they fight and die as easily as they ask you to sing America 'with a vim,' at a patriotic meeting in a comfortable hall far from bullets, pain, distress, death? Would they as willingly answer the call of the country for men to fight in the front ranks or would they be men dealing in the commissary department, away from danger?"

O, Dear Old Soldiers, who know? Two of you called upon the Review this week to ask that your day be observed fittingly by all. To ask that all remember that Memorial day is a day set aside to honor the dead, that it is not a big holiday for all kinds of pleasures as it has become in the last decade. That one should go to the cemeteries with the veterans and attend their patriotic meeting in the afternoon and not give the day to picnics, ball games, dances, motorcades, etc., without a thought of the real significance of the time.

In arranging the program for the day the committee has to hurry the old soldiers from their dinner and rest after a long walk, to the meeting at an early hour in the afternoon. Why? Because of the—ball game. People will not go to the patriotic meeting if it lasts too long to take in the ball game, or go visiting some where else. Sunday General Thomas Sweney Post of Barrington will no longer exist. Still the G. A. R. have proceeded on Tuesday, May 30, 1916, and placed the last remnants of a great society at the same time examining your utmost soul for your true feeling of patriotism, unbiased by differences in politics, social life, money and religion.

Good Advice From Pa.

"Pa," what is meant by overtime pay? "Overtime pay, my boy, is the reward for doing a little extra labor and there are two kinds. 'That so?' 'What are they?' 'Well, some men insist on collecting their overtime money and at a specified rate; and others are willing to work overtime and take their reward in a successful future. I recommend the latter course for you.'—Detroit Free Press.

Avoid Spring Colds

Sudden changes, high winds, shifting seasons cause colds and gripes, and these spring colds are annoying and dangerous and are likely to turn into a chronic summer cough. In such cases take a treatment of Dr. King's New Discovery, a pleasant Laxative Tar Syrup. It soothes the cough, checks the cold and helps break up an attack of grippe. It is already prepared, so no need to have his voice cultivated. For particulars apply to MISS W. J. CAMERON, or write to MISS MAUD WILSON, 523 Drake avenue, Chicago.

Announcement

Maud Wilson, pupil of Prof. Charles Robertson, of Dresden, Germany, and of Prof. Sander S. CAMERON, or write to MISS MAUD WILSON, 523 Drake avenue, Chicago.

Electric Restaurant. A large mining company has installed an electric restaurant 150 feet from the foot of the shaft in one of its mines. Here food is cooked or heated electrically, and hot coffee is prepared by the same means. Since most of the important coal mines already use electric power underground for power purposes there should be little difficulty in establishing a genuine electric restaurant in any of them.

SEVEN METHODS OF SAVING

Some Good Uses for Utilization of Leftovers Which Will Interest the Housekeeper.

1. Save badly cut pieces of bread and bread crumbs or a Brown Betty. Bake every scrap and crust to crumbs for stuffing or to use for breading scallop dishes, croquettes, etc.

2. Remove the bones from the legs of a fowl when it is drawn and the meat of the leg will be as good as that of the second joint.

3. Cold rice should always be saved; it can be added to a soup, mashed into croquettes, mixed with eggs and fried like hominy or used in a scallop dish.

4. Leftover vegetables, when the amount is too small to be served again, may be mixed with gravy for au gratin, or used separately or together for a salad. Cauliflower, potatoes

5. Remove the bones from the small pieces covered with grated cheese and baked in a baking dish, "au gratin."

6. Small portions of leftover cereals may be added to the pancake batter and will greatly improve the cakes. Or they may be rolled into balls and fried, or added to the soup stock.

7. The tough ends of steak may be chopped very fine, seasoned well with pepper, salt, butter and a little onion juice and formed into balls or cakes for soups or broiled for luncheon.

8. Bits of cold meat may be chopped, mixed with a white sauce warmed up and garnished with parsley and hard-boiled eggs. The carcasses of fowl and the bones of roasts should be used to make a nourishing soup. Beef fat and drippings and the fat from poultry should be clarified and kept for soups. Waxed lard is good for that are left over are good for grilling for luncheon.

9. Sour milk may be used for corn bread, griddle cakes, ginger breads, biscuits. It may be made into cream cheese or turned into a refreshing drink by using it and whipping it for about five minutes with an egg beater.

CANDIES TO FOLLOW FEAST Confections That Are Sure to Please if Care is Taken in Cooking and Mixing.

(By MARTHA ELLEN PERRYMAN.) First there are some hints it will be well to observe if you hope for good fortune in candy-making: Granulated sugar is preferable, and always used unless some other kind is specified. Candy should not be stirred while boiling. Cream of tartar should not be added until the sirup begins to boil, and the candy should be put in when the butter is nearly done. Flavors are most delicate when not boiled with the candy, but added when it is taken from the fire, or when it is being pulled.

Butter Taffy.—Boil three cups of brown sugar, one-half cup of molasses, and one-fourth cup of each of vinegar and hot water. When the candy will cling in cold water add two teaspoonful of butter, cook three minutes, flavor with a teaspoonful of vanilla and cool in buttered pans.

Hickory Nut Candy.—Boil two cups of sugar and one-half cup of water without stirring until the sirup will "spin a thread" when poured from the spoon. Flavor with extract of lemon or vanilla, set off into cold water, stir in one cup of hickory nut meats, then into flat tins, and when cool cut in small squares.

Peppermint.—Boil two cups of sugar and one cup of water without stirring until the sirup threads from the spoon. Remove from the fire and beat with an egg-whisk until white and creamy, flavor with one-half teaspoonful of essence of peppermint (less if you do not like it so strong) and drop in squares of waxed paper to harden. You can make chocolate peppermints by dipping the cream into melted chocolate. Wintergreen, lemon, orange and other flavors may be used for the peppermint.

Potatoes in Half-Shells. To each baked potato take one tablespoonful milk or cream and one-half tablespoonful butter. Salt to taste. Cut potatoes in two, lengthwise, and remove inner portion. Add butter, salt and cream. Heat until light, return to the shells pramid fashion and set in oven to brown.

Roasted Potatoes. Do any of the roasters serve roasted potatoes with the Sunday roast? Pare and wash, and an hour before taking out the roast place the potatoes in the pan after half an hour turn them and when done they will be a lovely golden brown and sweet as a nut. Try them and see.

Did You Ever Try— Keeping a small crocheted needle in the sewing machine drawer? It will be found invaluable when pulling up with a rippling catch the under thread and other details incidental to sewing.

To Freshen a Shabby Carpet. Dampen the carpet, and small portion at a time, with a cloth wrung out in strongly salted water. Then rub dry with a rippling duster. This will revive the color wonderfully.

To Remove Gasoline Marks. After cleaning clothes with gasoline a ring is sometimes left. The ring can be easily removed by steaming over a toothpick.

DO YOU APPROVE of having the streets of this village OILED

this summer?
SURE YOU DO!

Then in order to do so it will necessarily have to be done by subscription—as last year—and done at once.

At the board meeting Monday night, May 1, F. L. Waterman was appointed to see the property owners and get the names of all residents who are willing to subscribe towards same. We are unable to pay for this out of the General Fund, which makes it necessary for us to ask you to pay for same by subscription. We ask you all to do the same as last year and notify Mr. Waterman at once of what your subscription will be.

We had the best oiled streets last year of any town or village within 50 miles and wish to have the same this year. Thanking you in advance on behalf of the board.

GERMANY YIELDS ONE BIG POINT

No More Merchantmen to Be Sunk by Submarines Without Visit and Search.

REPLY TO AMERICAN NOTE

Berlin Still Doubts Sussex Facts, Accuses United States of Favoritism and Denies Britain's "Illegal" Warfare.

Berlin.—Following is the text of the note of the German government's reply to the American note regarding submarine warfare, delivered by Gottlieb von Jagow, the foreign secretary, to Ambassador Gerard.

The undersigned, on behalf of the German government, has the honor to present to his excellency the ambassador of the United States, James W. Gerard, the following in reply to the note of April 29 regarding the conduct of German submarine warfare.

The German government has been very anxious to investigate the evidence concerning the Sussex as communicated by the government of the United States. The results of the investigation have hitherto yielded, the German government is alive to the possibility that the ship mentioned in the note of April 8 may have been torpedoed by a German submarine. It is actually identical with the Sussex.

Further investigation of Case to Be Made. The German government has to receive further information on the subject until certain points are ascertained which are of decisive importance for establishing the facts in the case.

Should it turn out that the commander was wrong in assuming the vessel to be a merchant ship, the German government will not fail to draw the consequences resulting therefrom.

In connection with the case of the Sussex, the government of the United States made a series of statements, the gist of which is the assertion that the incident is to be considered as a deliberate method of indiscriminate destruction of vessels of all sorts, nationalities and tonnage.

The German government, conscious of Germany's strength, twice within the last few months announced before the world its readiness to make peace on a basis which would be to the mutual interest, thus indicating that it is not Germany's fault if peace is still withheld from the nations of Europe.

The German government feels all the more inclined to make peace, the more it is convinced that the responsibility cannot be borne alone by the government of the United States, but that it is shared by the government of the United States.

The German government, guided by the principles of justice and equity, has decided to make peace on a basis which would be to the mutual interest, thus indicating that it is not Germany's fault if peace is still withheld from the nations of Europe.

ment with the German people, fails to understand the distinction, all the more as it has repeatedly and explicitly declared itself ready to use the submarine weapon in strict conformity with the rules of international law, as recognized before the outbreak of the war. If Great Britain likewise was ready to adopt her conduct of warfare to these rules.

Several attempts made by the government of the United States to reveal upon the British government to act accordingly failed because of flat refusal on the part of the British government.

Moreover, Great Britain again and again has violated international law, surpassing all bounds in barbarous neutral rights. The British measures adopted to Great Britain, detouring German mailboats, constitute a violation of international law, and a violation of the rights of neutral nations.

Alleges Favoritism. The German people know that the government of the United States has the power to make the war a mere force of the belligerent activities in the interest of humanity and maintenance of international law. The government of the United States would have been content to establish this end had it been determined to insist against Great Britain on the inconceivable demand that the British government should stand the German people in the interest of humanity and maintenance of international law.

OMIT STATE NAME; IS IT WET TOWN?

Supreme Court to Have Question for First Time.

SIGNERS ABBREVIATE NAMES

Name of State Left Out on Mount Pleasant Petition Makes Election Illegal, Judge Holds—Goes to High Court.

Springfield.—The supreme court of Illinois soon will have an opportunity to pass on the question whether in the name of a signer to a petition to present a local law question to the voters invalidates the question.

This was the pivotal question in a case recently before the county court of Logan county at Lincoln, when Judge there, by a decision arrived at the day, declared the town of Mount Pleasant wet, although a majority of the voters there voted to eliminate the alcohol.

The petition which authorized the presentation of the local option question to the voters, stated a list of signers, but in their list of names, the word "Illinois" was omitted after the word "Mount Pleasant" although a number of the signers also gave an abbreviation of their name, such as, for instance, as "Ruben" for "Ruben," so that the attorneys for the wet faction objected, and in their list of complaint made this objection one ground for declaring the election illegal.

The judge's decision, however, was based upon the contention that the name of the state was left out.

This point has been raised previously in similar cases in the lower courts, but the supreme court has never considered the exact question.

Many school trustees have been sued in Mount Pleasant, following the decision of the Lincoln judge, and the school trustees are planning a profitable season.

The case was that in which, the court annulled the election of Miss Josie Westfall, as judge of the city court of Lincoln, on the ground that the women have no right to vote, for any court officer, either constitutional or statutory.

Against Thomas Z. Crox, Wallace A. Walker and John C. Lawler, representing Miss Westfall, have filed suit with the supreme court to get the proper in their way a rehearing in the case.

The notice, is accompanied with an announcement to the effect that a determined effort will be made to have the decision reconsidered on the ground that its reasoning endangers the whole fabric of the Illinois suffrage law.

But neither the decision women will not be permitted to vote for officers of any court, constitutional or statutory.

It is feared of woman suffrage now a step toward the restriction of suffrage.

Many Get Certificate. Many buses cannot operate in cities along specified routes unless they have a certificate of convenience and necessity from the state public utilities commission, according to a decision of the commission in the case of the Tri-City Railway company of Moline and the Rock Island and Eastern Traction company of Rock Island against the Illinois Traction company and others.

The complaint against a number of defendants who were doing a cab service and not operating along specified routes was dismissed. All those who operate along given routes for hire are ordered to desist until they obtain a certificate of convenience and necessity.

To Ask for Bids. At a meeting of the Illinois and Michigan canal commission, and the Illinois waterway commission with Governor Dummer, arrangements were made for advertising for bids for the lease of the power site at the dam of the canal. The lease now held by the Economy Light and Power company expires July 17 and advertisements for bids will be inserted in newspapers.

New Incorporations. Secretary of State Stevenson at Springfield issued certificates of incorporation to the following: Central Cold Storage company, Chicago, capital increased from $2,500 to $10,000.

Thurston-Dunlop Fireworks Display company, Chicago, capital, $25,000; Incorporated. Charles H. Dunlop, James Dunlop, Edward Maher.

Insurance Licenses Revoked. Licenses of the Arlington Fire Insurance company of Washington, D. C.; Globe Fire Insurance company of Huron, S. D.; National Fire and Marine Insurance company of Des Moines, Iowa; and the Commercial Fire Insurance company of St. Paul, Minn., were revoked by the insurance department as required by law. The state will at once take steps to recover taxes due from these companies which were not paid for the last year.

Railways to Pay $8,577,396. State Auditor Bryant has issued a report assessing the property of the railroads of Illinois. The state received an equivalent valuation of property, including local assessment by the assessors, of $20,001,674. The total assessed value of the railroads was $27,573,360 and the rate on $100 assessed valuation is 4.25 per cent. (The electric lines received a valuation of $18,000,000 and the rate on $100 assessed value was 4.25 per cent.)

Commissioner's Work Finished. The Illinois commission to the Franco-Prussian war in 1870-71, the Royal Academy of Arts and the Royal Academy of Agriculture have jointly issued a warning to Germany at large, cautioning against extravagant commemorations for the fallen, and urging that the greatest conservatism be used in fittingly honoring the dead.

The state of 1870, says the academy, was followed by a veritable forest of statues and monuments to William I, and by countless Germanisms, hardly any of which have withstood the test of art or time. The members of the two academies profess to see the danger of a repetition of this same lack of taste in connection with the present war.

The academy members suggest that the academicians believe, that every German city, big and little, will try to outdo every other city in immortalizing its fallen sons, whereas it is highly desirable that efforts in this direction be confined rather than working in competition. State Happenings

Champaign.—Howard Ferguson, editor in chief of the Illinois Retail Jewellers' association, died here.

Champaign.—The ninth annual convention of the Illinois Retail Jewellers' association convened here for a two days session.

Tinley Park.—Charles Fink, fifty-two, member of one of the oldest families in Cook county, died suddenly of bronchitis.

Eureka.—The Eureka Farmers' Co-operative association has bought from P. A. Feltner both grain elevators and adjoining property. The consideration was $20,000.

Kewanee.—Group one of the Illinois Farmers' association will meet here Thursday, May 25. Counties in the group are Henderson, Bureau, Henry, Mercer, Rock Island, Warren and Whiteside.

Stirling.—A campaign is on to increase the membership of the Stirling Commercial club from 300 to 500. The officers point to the value of the organization, including bringing a new industry here.

Dixon.—The Daughters of the American Revolution have purchased a lot in North Dixon for a monument to mark the site of the blockhouse where Lincoln was murdered into the army in the Black Hawk war.

Springfield.—Five hundred members of the Travellers' Protective association of Illinois attended the twenty-seventh annual convention of the organization. Nineteen posts in all parts of the state were represented. A banquet, ball was held at St. Nicholas hotel.

Centralia.—L. S. Traylor, county superintendent of roads, found a stone quarry in Omega township near this city, sufficient to furnish all the roads in the county with hard bed rock. County engineers are studying the matter of improving the roads with this rock at once.

Chicago.—Judge Charles A. McDonald in criminal court narrowly escaped a surprise injury and death when Daniel Riley, a prisoner, seized a heavy brass cuspidor and threw it at the judge's head. Judge McDonald escaped unhurt, but the cuspidor smashed the wall. Riley was overpowered by guards.

Taylorville.—A speedy eradication of a new outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in Christian county was predicted by federal inspectors following the slaughter of five cows and 23 hogs on the farm of Mrs. Joseph Stock. The farm has been under quarantine since the first outbreak and no cattle or hogs have been shipped out.

Danville.—Although since she was but eight years of age from a brother then seven months of age, Mrs. Ova Vaughn of this city was reunited with Claude Browning of Springfield. Their mother and father, relatives of the father took the boy and the mother's kin took the girl. Some years ago Mrs. Vaughn started a search. One of her cards read: "I have longed for you."

Chicago.—Striking employees of the International Harvester company went back to work, but quit again. It was learned that the strikers had $2,000 of the 11,000 who were out last week returned to their posts in the McCormick plant when the white bus. Of the number $200 quit, according to their leaders, quit again, declaring that they had no written agreement binding the company to keep its promises to the men.

Aurora.—An automobile in which five Chicago men were riding skidded and rolled down a 16-foot embankment two miles north of Aurora. All five were injured, but were more or less injured. W. E. Schauer, 1053 North Lockwood avenue, is in the St. Charles hospital. Dr. E. Schauer, 1053 North Lockwood avenue, is in the St. Charles hospital. Dr. E. SUITS SUE

By LEBLIE GOMERS.

She ran down to the end of the lane when she caught sight of the little white mail car coming up the hill. The March air was fresh and keen, with a hint of spring.

"Got a letter from New York state for you, Sue," said the old mail carrier, comfortably.

Sue colored a little and laughed. He jogged on along the country road, and Sue sat on the stone wall beside the mail box to read her letter. It was an answer to her advertisement.

"Dear Madam: "While I have not had years of experience in farm work, I should like to apply for the position you offer. Am fond of horses and all animals, was brought up on a farm and can manage one the size of yours, I am sure, with profit to yourself. Am twenty-seven, unmarried, and so anxious to shake the dust of the city of my heels and hit green fields again that I'd walk from here to Spring Valley if you say the word."

"Hopefully yours
"BART WILLIS."

"I think you're taking a fearful risk on your shoulders, Sue," her mother said after she had heard the letter. "You could hire the farm work done."

"I won't do that this year, mother dear. Last spring we tried it, and it was a perfect frost."

Accordingly, Spring Valley had a thrill the end of the week when a tall, determined-looking young man swung off the early bus train with a suitcase and asked the way to the Loomis farm.

Old Mrs. Loomis saw him from the sitting-room window as he went out to greet him. As she said later to Sue, she just couldn't help taking to him right away.

"You'll have to suit Sue more than me," said Mrs. Loomis. "I'm sure I like the look of you real well."

Suited Sue was a curious occupation, Bart found out. She liked him at first sight, the same as her mother had, but she had no intention of letting him know the fact.

The first day of his arrival she led him all over the forty-seven acres. He found that day by day she was beside him when he least expected to see her, advising, correcting and consulting with him.

"You see, I love the land and I want to build it up," she told him. "Father just took and took from it year after year and wondered why it didn't bear for him, but I'm running it differently. I never liked the house, though. It's so bare and lonesome looking."

"Phipps toward fall there'll be time to do something with it," Bart said. "You can do wonders with cement and paint and ideas."

"But," Sue hesitated. "I thought you said you'd stay until the summer's work was done."

"I like it here," the city boy answered briefly, lifting his head to the sun and air and beauty of it all like the horses, Bess and Ready, out in the pasture. "I'll stay as long as I suit you, Miss Loomis."

Under his care the old farm seemed to put forth its very best efforts to make good. There had never been such a garden crop, even Mrs. Loomis said.

"Don't it seem good to have a man around?" Mrs. Loomis said to her one early morning as Sue cooked breakfast. "I'll be right lonesome when he's gone."

Her own heart echoed the words, but Sue laughed. Wasn't she the man around the place? They wouldn't need an assistant manager after the crops were harvested and fall hit her house.

She hurried out of doors and down the lane with food for the turkeys, and met him half way with the milk pails.

"The land glows this morning, doesn't it?" he called to her happily. "I was slow because I went over to look at the lower meadows. Wish you'd forget about your hay down there next year and give me those lush fields for prize cattle. I'd start with six and buy more land as we needed it. Don't you want to take on a partner, Sue?"

He spoke her name/unthinkingly, quite as if he were accustomed to it, and Sue was silent, looking away from him at the stretch of home acres.

"It's such a bully little place it's treated right. I've been planning some new things for next year."

Sue looked up at him quickly, her eyes full of surprised acknowledgment of what his words meant to her.

"I thought sure you'd go to the dairy farm. They want you and they can pay four times as much as I can down there."

"No, they can't Sue." His voice lowered until it seemed to her that the whole world must hold its breath to catch what he was telling her. "I want to go shares on the farm here with you. I've got some money saved, enough to put into the place and stock it up right for us. And I want you, too. I won't take the farm without you."

"Mother's waiting for the milk for breakfast, and I forgot all about it," she faltered. "Oh, Bart, somebody'll see you from the road."

But Bart never appeared even to remember the road. There was just the lane, in its dew-drenched sweetness and the fragrance next to them, and Sue held close in his arms.

A Complete Car in Every Particular And It's a Car You Will Be Proud to Own

It's the first complete car at anywhere near so low a price.

It stands out alone—boldly—unapproached—a powerful five-passenger touring car complete for only $615.

Note that word "complete."

That means Electric Starter, Electric Lights, Electric Horn, Magnetic Speedometer—in fact, every necessary item. Nothing is lacking. There are no extras to buy.

Note that it is not a small car. The wheelbase is 104 inches. The tires are four-inch size—many cars costing more have smaller tires.

And it is a perfect beauty—snappy, stylish, speedy.

In every way it's a car you will be proud to own and ride in.

No wonder there's a rush to possess the car the world has been waiting for.

Don't delay—see us at once and talk it over.
