BOYS TO HAVE CHARGE OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Also Sunday Evening to be Given Over to Boys in Union Service—Chicago Man to Speak

As announced in the REVIEW last week, Sunday will be a big day for the boys of Barrington who will avail themselves of the opportunity to attend Sunday school somewhere. Not only should this movement be of interest to the boys, but the men and women of the town should turn out and make them feel that they too are concerned in the advancement of this good work, because a large attendance at the churches Sunday will aid greatly in making the day a success.

Beginning in the morning at the usual Sunday school hour the different churches will be in charge of boys. This will include superintendents, some teachers, secretary, special singing and the like—all of which will be under the direction of boys ranging in age from ten to twenty-one. However, the regular morning preaching services will be in charge of the pastors. In the evening the churches will join in a big union service at the Salem church, where the boys will again control affairs, with the exception of the speaking, which will be given over to a prominent Chicago man, William A. Peterson, who has devoted much of his life to Sunday school work for boys. Mr. Peterson owns the big nursery at Niles Center and is a large stockholder of the State Bank of Chicago. He is superintendent of the secondary division of the Cook County Sunday School association and of the Edgewater Presbyterian Sunday school.

At this service the boys have planned to make it worth while for you to attend and as this is the first attempt by the boys of Barrington to display their ability as church leaders and workers along Sunday school lines no doubt some very good thoughts will be brought out at the meeting. Special musical numbers will be rendered by boys and young men.

The boys' day movement to be observed Sunday is a result of the union Sunday school gathering held at the camp grounds some time ago, when several prominent men in church work suggested that the boys of Barrington be given an opportunity to do something special for the churches, and after considering matters thoroughly it was decided to let them have one day each year for their own service. Meetings were held following the union Sunday school service with this point in view, which is thought will get more interest and a better attendance record established in the churches represented. Reuben Auerbach is the champion man and with his able assistants they are striving to make the day one long to be remembered in Barrington.

Alverson Sells Meat Market

F. J. Alverson, who has conducted a meat market and grocery at the corner of Station and Railroad streets for the past two years, has disposed of the same to Philip Price, who will take possession tomorrow. The new proprietor is not a stranger in Barrington as he has conducted a meat market here three years ago, and will be a welcome business citizen.

Mr. Alverson has built up a good trade during his business career and his pleasing manners and business like methods will be missed by a large circle of patrons and friends. He has not decided what his future plans will be.

Penny Postage Service

Efficiency in the postoffice department with a proper readjustment of rates will permit the government to inaugurate a one-cent letter rate with in the next year, according to Postmaster General Albert S. Burleson. This emphatic statement made by the postmaster general before the National Association of Postmasters of the United States at their July, 1916, convention, indicates that this important reform is much nearer realization than most people believe, and that next winter will see radical steps taken toward this end.

Still on the Job

City officials of Waukegan keep rapping away at the law violators in regard to the "blind pigs" being operated there since the saloons were voted out. Recently one man was given a fine of $200, which he must pay or remain behind jail bars for 100 days. The way of the transgressor is hard, especially can this be applied to Waukegan law breakers. Time alone will tell which is right—to have good laws and enforce them, or to have poor laws largely ignored.

ESCAPE DEATH IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Driver Blinded by Lights Steers too Close to Embankment and Car Turns Over—One Badly Injured

Another automobile accident occurred Friday night four miles north-east of Barrington when Herman Buehler, 21 years old, son of Carl Buehler, a wealthy resident of Lake County, was painfully injured and three others had a narrow escape from death.

Young Buehler, with a friend, Walter Lee, of Chicago and two young women, had driven to Lake Zurich in his father's big touring car. They spent the evening there and about 10:30 p.m. started to drive to Barrington. As they reached the top of the hill just outside of the village they saw another machine approaching and stopped for it to pass, as the road was narrow and the strong headlights on the approaching car dazzled them.

The light was so strong, in fact, that it prevented them from observing an almost straight drop of from eight to ten feet at the side of the road. As Buehler swung out to pass the other car the wheels of his machine slipped over the edge of the road and turned a complete somersault, landing bottom side up. Fortunately the young man and women were thrown clear of the car as otherwise they probably would have been crushed to death. The girls were Emma Schauble and Frances Both. They were bruised but not seriously injured.

It was found that the driver had been injured and he was removed to the office of Dr. Barbee of Lake Zurich, where an examination revealed the fact that his knee had been injured painfully, it being necessary to take twenty stitches to close the wound.

The big Kinsch-Six was brought to the local garage for repairs where it was found considerable damage had resulted from the tip-over; the running board, windshield and top were partly smashed.

The Buehlers own a fine farm just south of Lake Zurich and also operate a string of meat markets in Chicago, and are well known to many in and around Barrington.

YOUNG LADIES WIELD THE SLAB STICK AT LAKE ZURICH

On last Sunday afternoon a baseball game was staged between the young ladies and the married men of Lake Zurich. The fair maidens by their brilliant team work gave the best of the men a drubbing to the tune of 15 to 10. Mr. Woodman, the star third baseman, in the fifth inning was hit by a batted ball which compelled him to take his meals off the mantle piece at present.

Fred Blau, our renowned tennis artist, was puzzled by the delivery of Irene Meyer and a pitched ball shaved his neck. He was able to limp to first base unassisted. Mr. Young appeared quite nervous early in the game—he had discovered his wife among the spectators.

Irene Masia, Irene Meyer and Lizzie Prehm starred with the slap-stick for the side of the chewing gum artists. In the course of the game Miss M. Hokenmeyer did some brilliant work around the initial sack, while Anna Frank reduced two bats to kindling wood.

The outer grounds were well patrolled by Misses Myrtle Beller, Clara Prehm, Rose Young, Elsie Rohle and Frances Hokenmeyer. A large crowd witnessed the performance. The line up was:

The central figure in the Civil war was Abraham Lincoln. He was a heart, brain and character, not only one of our greatest Americans but one of the world's greatest men.

Lincoln was born February 12, 1809, in Hardin county, Kentucky. His parents came to this then pioneer state from Virginia, and his grandfather, whose Christian name he bore, moved there as early as 1781, where a few years later he was killed by the Indians while trying to make a home in the forest.

When Lincoln was eight years old his people moved to the state of Indiana about the time it came into the Union, and there he lived until he was twenty-one, when he went to Illinois, from which state eventually he was elected president.

In 1850 when he was beginning to gain some recognition as a national figure, he was asked to write a letter sketch of his life and in the letter enclosing it he said: "There is not much of me," for the reason there is not much of me." In this sketch, which is included here, he tells us he was raised to do farm work until he was twenty-two; that up to that time he had had little education, and when he became of age he did not know much beyond reading, writing and ciphering to the "rule of three."

He clerked for one year in a store and was elected and served as captain of the volunteers in the Black Hawk war; later on he ran for the state legislature in 1832, and was defeated though successful in the three succeeding elections. He signed law and later went to Springfield to practice. The only other public office he makes note of is his election to the lower house of Congress for one term in 1846.

He returned to Springfield and moved more earnestly the study and practice of law, entered with spirit into the political campaign and constantly was growing in public esteem. His public debates with Douglas made him a familiar figure throughout the state of Illinois, and his profound knowledge of the national condition and his arguments, his convincing and unanswerable arguments, his clear grasp of the public situation, began to gain the attention of eastern politicians, convincing them and the country at large that they had a mighty force to reckon with in the person of William A. Lincoln.

In 1858 at the Republican convention he lost the election to the United States senate and Douglas won, the campaign had pushed him to the front as a national figure and paved the way for his presidential election.

In 1860 at the Republican convention assembled in Chicago Lincoln was nominated by Elgin and Miss Mary Schumacher motor to Waukegan Tuesday and all enjoyed a good time.

Politicians have begun activities. Last Saturday evening Lake Zurich was invaded by campaigners in the interests of James Welch, republican candidate for state's attorney.

The enterprising Lake Zurich Business Men's association held a meeting Tuesday evening at which the question of floating a bond issue and the promulgation of good roads were discussed.

On last Sunday evening the cafe of John Munch was victimized by robbers who gained admittance by "jimmieing" a rear window. The contents of the safe were rifled and $25 in cash stolen.

Triplet in Town
The Elgin Daily Courier of last Friday said:

Triplets are paying their second visit to Elgin. They are the children of Mrs. Peter Ebner of Peoria, who before her marriage was an Elgin girl. The three are five years old and are Elizabeth, Freda and Albert.

Mrs. Ebner and her triplets reached Elgin last night for a week's visit at the home of Mrs. W. G. Brown, 32 North Union street. The triplets are very fond of bathing and for this reason they will leave tomorrow morning for a visit at Barrington and from there will go to Lake Zurich for a little plunge.

An Appreciation
The Salem Evangelical church in behalf of the camp meeting association wishes to thank those who in any way contributed to the success of the meeting. Especially do we want to express our appreciation to the Barrington REVIEW for the liberal amount of space devoted to this cause.—Rev. J. Hoerner, Pastor.

A Vote of Thanks
With a deep sense of gratitude for the many benefactions received from the friends of the Waukegan Business Men's Association in connection with their fair in Barrington with a meat market and grocery, I wish to express a vote of thanks as a token of my admiration and esteem.

SCHOOL COMMENCES NEXT TUESDAY

Official Announcement is Made by Prof. E. S. Smith that the Doors Will Open September 5

The Barrington school will open Tuesday morning, September 5. This is official and all children of school age are asked to be ready for the work ahead of them the coming year.

Parents should see that their boys and girls report for enrollment next Tuesday morning, and we have been instructed to inform them that all old books should be retained until the pupil is given a complete list of just what will be used this year. Many of the books, it is thought, can be exchanged, which will save parents considerable money in purchasing supplies.

Prof. E. S. Smith has been regular attendant of the Cook county teachers' institute in Chicago this week and is seeking to have the list of teachers complete today. Others from Barrington at the institute are Mrs. Alta Bennett, Miss Jessie L. Jones and Miss Alta Smith, a rural teacher, residing five miles south of town.

All children who will be six years of age before December may enter school the first week in September.

School Children to be Inspected
A dispatch has been sent out from Springfield as follows:

"Every pupil in the state must be inspected by a physician before the opening of the Illinois schools in September." This is the stringent rule which the state board of health will urge every community in the state to adopt in its light to prevent the spread of infantile paralysis.

ILLUMINATION IN HEAVENS SEEN BY MANY CITIZENS

A beautiful and spectacular illumination of the heavens, said by some to have been a meteoric display, and by others as an unusually pretty display of the Northern Lights or Aurora Borealis, called forth the close attention and admiration of many Barrington residents Saturday night. It was the most beautiful illumination of the kind ever witnessed here. Reports from other parts of the state said the same thing was visible for a radius of 200 miles at least.

The lights, which resembled closely a beautiful exhibition of pyrotechnics, frequently ran from the zenith to the horizon, and the colors of light and the stars were observable for several hours during the early part of the evening.

One man in describing the effect said the lights seemed to be in the shape of a great inverted bell from which millions of rays of light were dancing out constantly.

Others who witnessed the phenomena at first thought there must be a big fire to the north of Barrington, but after they had watched the display for a time they were convinced it was a natural exhibition.

A number of people assure that they watched the lights for fully an hour and that they never seemed to be quite the same, but while they changed constantly the general brilliance did not fade.

MARRIAGE OF MAYOR MEYER'S DAUGHTER

To Newton Plagge Took Place on Tuesday Evening—Both Are Prominent Young People

A pretty home wedding was solemnized Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Meyer on West Main street, when their daughter, Miss Leah Marie, became the bride of Newton Plagge, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Plagge.

Before the ceremony Miss Almada and Myrtle Plagge played and sang several numbers, while Mrs. Herbert Plagge of Ames, Iowa, was at the piano during the ceremony and rendered beautiful strains of Lohengrin's wedding march and Schumann's "Traumerlied."

The groom, accompanied by Leslie Meyer of Chicago as best man, made his appearance at one side of the beautifully decorated wedding room, while opposite them appeared the bride-to-be with Miss Frances Dolan of Irving Park as her attendant. Miss Meyer wore a gown of ruffled lace over tinted pink silk, and the bridesmaid was attired in a lace net garment, both of them looked very attractive.

The ring ceremony was used and the marriage service was marked with solemnity, particularly so when Rev. J. Hoerner, pastor of the Salem Evangelical church, in well pronounced words, united the two young hearts as one.

The bride is a well known Barrington girl, twenty-two years old, who graduated from the local high school. She has been a clerk in her father's store for several years and by her kind and pleasing manners has made a host of friends both in business and social life.

The groom is a young man full of good traits and graduated from the schools here. Later he was a student at Ames, Iowa, and recently secured employment in the Meyer store, where he will remain in the future.

Following the wedding ceremony and luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Plagge departed for Elgin; from there they expect to spend a short honeymoon in different parts of the state. Upon their return to Barrington they will make their home with the bride's parents.

Mr. Meyer, the bride's father, is at present president of the village board. Of town guests at the wedding, besides those mentioned above, are Mrs. Zoe Meyer and Mrs. Jennie Corey and son Howard of Chicago. In all there were thirty present, including only immediate relatives and friends of the two families.

SHORT LOCAL ITEMS.

The Baptist Sunday school picnic will be held Monday, September 4, at Spangler's point, Lake Zurich.

Spencer Olin, Jr., left Tuesday night to attend a cattle show at Utica, New York. He will be gone one week.

Misses Irene and Florence Fossell of Brooklyn, New York, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Genevieve Pomeroy Thacher.

Clem Hurstford, sixty years old, for several years conductor on the Milk Express, Chicago & Northwestern railroads, was killed at Utica, New York, early this morning after an illness of three months.

Tomorrow night is the date of the parcel sale and caterers supper to be given by the B. Y. P. U. at the Baptist church. There will be many suitable articles on sale for Christmas gifts. Supper will be served at six o'clock until half past eight. Everybody is cordially invited.

A small son of Thomas McGraw, who lives just east of the village, figured in a runaway accident Friday. The horse which he was driving became frightened on Grove avenue and ran several blocks before the driver could get it under control. The horse was badly injured, which was largely due to the round of the accident. However, the boy escaped with only slight bruises.

Rev. J. Hoerner received word yesterday of the death of Rev. C. F. Stockhouse which occurred at Carmi, Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Stockhouse was 73 years old and was well known in and around Chicago, having helped his people at Northfield for many years. He frequently visited the Barrington campmeeting and conferences of the Evangelical denomination.

HOW MRS. BEAN MET THE CRISIS

Carried Safely Through Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Nashville, Tenn.—"When I was going through the Change of Life I had a terrible headache as large as a child's head. The doctor said it was three years coming and gave me medicine for it until I was called away from the city for some time. Of course I could not go to him then, so my sister-in-law told me that she thought Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure it. It helped both the Change of Life and the tumor and when I got home I did not need the doctor. I took the Pinkham remedies until the tumor was gone, the doctor said, and I have not felt it since. I tell every one how I was cured. If this letter will help others you are welcome to use it."

Truthful Wife.

A detective was praising the truthfulness of women.

"If war bulletins were as truthful as women," he said, "we'd have a better idea of how this world really is really going."

"I remember a case the other day," he interesting in its revelation of woman's truthfulness—the case of a husband who had disappeared.

"Questioning the wife, I said to her: 'And now, madam, tell me—in this very important—tell me what your husband's very last words were when he left?'"

"His last words," the truthful creature answered, with a blush, were, "For heaven's sake, shut up!"

WILSON FOR LAWS TO CURB STRIKE

President Declares Tieup Would Be Tragic Calamity to the Nation.

MANY PERSONS MAY STARVE

Lawmakers Are Told That Paralyzed Commerce and Hunger Would Follow in Wake of Big Rail Walkout—Executive Recommends Legislation.

Washington, Aug. 29.—President Wilson told the threatened railway strike before Congress today in an address to both houses assembled in joint session. He spoke as follows:

"I have come to you to seek your assistance in dealing with a very grave situation which has arisen out of the strike of the employees of the railroads, engaged in freight train service, that they be granted an eight-hour working day, safeguarded by payment for an hour and a half of service for every hour of work beyond the eight."

Matter Long Agitated.

"The matter has been agitated for more than a year. The public has been made familiar with the demands of the men and the arguments urged in favor of them and even more familiar with the objections of the railroads and their counter-demand that certain provisions now enjoyed by their men and certain losses of payment worked out through many years of content be reconsidered, especially in their relation to the adoption of an eight-hour day. The matter came some three weeks ago to a final issue and resulted in a complete deadlock between the parties. The means provided by law not mediated the controversy failed and the means of arbitration for which the law provides were rejected."

Services Offered Managers.

"I unhesitatingly offered the friendly services of the administration to the railway managers to see to it that justice was done the railroads in the outcome. I felt warranted in assuming there was no obstacle of law would be suffered to stand in the way of their increasing their revenues to meet the expenses resulting from the change so far as the development of their business and of their administrative efficiency did not prove adequate to meet them. The public and the representatives of the public, I felt justified in assuring them, were disposed to nothing but justice in such cases and were willing to serve those who served them."

Brotherhoods Accept Plan.

"The representatives of the brotherhoods accepted the plan, but the representatives of the railroads declined to accept it. In the face of this, I cannot but regard as the principal reason that they will be ultimately obliged to accept the eight-hour day, the refusal of the railroads to accept the plan, backed by the favorable action of the railway management have felt justified in declining a peaceful settlement which would ensure all the forces of justice, public and private, on their side to take care of the event."

Strike Set for September 4.

"They fear the hostile influence of shippers, who would be opposed to an increase of freight rates (for which, however, of course, the public itself would pay); they apparently feel no confidence that the interstate commerce commission could withstand the objections that would be made. They do not care to rely upon the friendly assurances of the congress of the president. They have thought it best that they should be forced to yield, if they must yield, not by counsel, but by suffering from the consequences. While my conferences with them were in progress, and when to all outward come to a standstill, the representatives those conferences had the confidence of the brotherhoods, and set the strike for the 4th of September."

He Offers Mediation.

"Just as soon as it became evident that mediation under the existing law had failed, and that arbitration had been rendered impossible by the attitude of the men, I considered it my duty to confer with the representatives of both the railroads and the brotherhoods, and myself offer mediation, not as an arbitrator, but merely as spokesman of the nation, in the belief of justice, indeed, and as a friend of both parties, but not as a judge, only as the representative of one hundred millions of men, women and children who would pay the price, the incalculable price of loss and suffering should these few men insist upon approaching and concluding the matters in controversy between them merely as employers and employees, rather than as patriotic citizens of the United States looking before and after and accepting the larger responsibility which the public would put upon them."

Pleads for Eight-Hour Day.

"It seemed to me, in considering the subject matter of the controversy, that the purpose of the law and the preponderant evidence of recent economic experience spoke for the eight-hour day. It has been adjudged by the thoughtful and experience of recent years a thing upon which society is justified in insisting as in the interest of health, efficiency, contentment and a general increase of economic vigor."

REFUSE TO GIVE UP BAND

French Zouaves, Unlike Most Other Regiments, Insist on Music While They Are Fighting.

The French troops under General Bailloud, the majority of them Zouaves, who fought their way to Krivak in order to effect a junction with the hard-pressed Serbians, failed to reach them in time, and had to retire. With them were several American newspaper correspondents, one of whom, Mr. William G. Shepherd, was the most correspondent of the New York Sun. In describing an impetuous concert that the band of the Zouaves gave, he writes:

"It was the first band that any of us had seen near the battle front. On another of the five of us American newspaper men had seen every front on both sides, and music hadn't seemed to have much place in this grim war."

The whole presumption of modern experience seemed to me, be in its favor, whether there was arbitration or not, and the debatable points to settle were those which arose out of the acceptance of the eight-hour day rather than those which affected its establishment."

"I therefore proposed that the eight-hour day be adopted by the railway management and put into practice for the present as a substitute for the existing long hours of pay and service; that should appear with the permission of the congress, a small commission to observe the results of the change, carefully studying the figures of the altered operating costs, not only, but also the conditions of labor under which the men worked and the operation of the existing agreements with the railroads, with instructions to report the facts as they found them to the congress at the earliest possible day, but without recommendation; and that after the facts had been thus disclosed, an adjustment should be made in some orderly manner be sought of all the matters now left unadjusted between the railroad managers and the men."

In Line With Supreme Court.

"These proposals were exactly in line, it is interesting to note, with the position taken by the Supreme court of the United States when requested to protect certain litigants from the financial losses which they confidently expected if they should submit to the regulation of their charges and of their methods of service by public legislation. The court has held that it would not undertake to form a judgment upon facts, but could base its action only upon actual experience; that it must be supplied with facts, not with calculations and opinions, however scientifically attempted."

Services Offered Managers.

"I unhesitatingly offered the friendly services of the administration to the railway managers to see to it that justice was done the railroads in the outcome. I felt warranted in assuming there was no obstacle of law would be suffered to stand in the way of their increasing their revenues to meet the expenses resulting from the change so far as the development of their business and of their administrative efficiency did not prove adequate to meet them. The French troops under General Bailloud, the majority of them Zouaves, who fought their way to Krivak in order to effect a junction with the hard-pressed Serbians, failed to reach them in time, and had to retire. With them were several American newspaper correspondents, one of whom, Mr. William G. Shepherd, was the most correspondent of the New York Sun. In describing an impetuous concert that the band of the Zouaves gave, he writes:

The whole presumption of modern experience seemed to me, be in its favor, whether there was arbitration or not, and the debatable points to settle were those which arose out of the acceptance of the eight-hour day rather than those which affected its establishment."

"I therefore proposed that the eight-hour day be adopted by the railway management and put into practice for the present as a substitute for the existing long hours of pay and service; that should appear with the permission of the congress, a small commission to observe the results of the change, carefully studying the figures of the altered operating costs, not only, but also the conditions of labor under which the men worked and the operation of the existing agreements with the railroads, with instructions to report the facts as they found them to the congress at the earliest possible day, but without recommendation; and that after the facts had been thus disclosed, an adjustment should be made in some orderly manner be sought of all the matters now left unadjusted between the railroad managers and the men."

In Line With Supreme Court.

"These proposals were exactly in line, it is interesting to note, with the position taken by the Supreme court of the United States when requested to protect certain litigants from the financial losses which they confidently expected if they should submit to the regulation of their charges and of their methods of service by public legislation. The court has held that it would not undertake to form a judgment upon facts, but could base its action only upon actual experience; that it must be supplied with facts, not with calculations and opinions, however scientifically attempted."

Services Offered Managers.

"I unhesitatingly offered the friendly services of the administration to the railway managers to see to it that justice was done the railroads in the outcome. I felt warranted in assuming there was no obstacle of law would be suffered to stand in the way of their increasing their revenues to meet the expenses resulting from the change so far as the development of their business and of their administrative efficiency did not prove adequate to meet them. The public and the representatives of the public, I felt justified in assuring them, were disposed to nothing but justice in such cases and were willing to serve those who served them."

Brotherhoods Accept Plan.

"The representatives of the brotherhoods accepted the plan, but the representatives of the railroads declined to accept it. In the face of this, I cannot but regard as the principal reason that they will be ultimately obliged to accept the eight-hour day, the refusal of the railroads to accept the plan, backed by the favorable action of the railway management have felt justified in declining a peaceful settlement which would ensure all the forces of justice, public and private, on their side to take care of the event."

Strike Set for September 4.

"They fear the hostile influence of shippers, who would be opposed to an increase of freight rates (for which, however, of course, the public itself would pay); they apparently feel no confidence that the interstate commerce commission could withstand the objections that would be made. They do not care to rely upon the friendly assurances of the congress of the president. They have thought it best that they should be forced to yield, if they must yield, not by counsel, but by suffering from the consequences. While my conferences with them were in progress, and when to all outward come to a standstill, the representatives those conferences had the confidence of the brotherhoods, and set the strike for the 4th of September."

He Offers Mediation.

"Just as soon as it became evident that mediation under the existing law had failed, and that arbitration had been rendered impossible by the attitude of the men, I considered it my duty to confer with the representatives of both the railroads and the brotherhoods, and myself offer mediation, not as an arbitrator, but merely as spokesman of the nation, in the belief of justice, indeed, and as a friend of both parties, but not as a judge, only as the representative of one hundred millions of men, women and children who would pay the price, the incalculable price of loss and suffering should these few men insist upon approaching and concluding the matters in controversy between them merely as employers and employees, rather than as patriotic citizens of the United States looking before and after and accepting the larger responsibility which the public would put upon them."

Pleads for Eight-Hour Day.

"It seemed to me, in considering the subject matter of the controversy, that the purpose of the law and the preponderant evidence of recent economic experience spoke for the eight-hour day. It has been adjudged by the thoughtful and experience of recent years a thing upon which society is justified in insisting as in the interest of health, efficiency, contentment and a general increase of economic vigor."

REFUSE TO GIVE UP BAND

French Zouaves, Unlike Most Other Regiments, Insist on Music While They Are Fighting.

The French troops under General Bailloud, the majority of them Zouaves, who fought their way to Krivak in order to effect a junction with the hard-pressed Serbians, failed to reach them in time, and had to retire. With them were several American newspaper correspondents, one of whom, Mr. William G. Shepherd, was the most correspondent of the New York Sun. In describing an impetuous concert that the band of the Zouaves gave, he writes:

No Comeback.

"I received a letter from Aunt Mattie asking if we would like to spend our vacation out on her farm."

"We can't possibly accept her invitation, George. If we do, we'll have to ask her to visit us next winter."

"That will be all right. We can move into a two-room apartment in the fall, and then there won't be room for her."

OWNED BY THE PEOPLE

It has been generally assumed that the stock of the railroads of the country is owned by a comparatively few wealthy people, when as a matter of fact it is just the reverse. Reports filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, as required by law, show that the majority of stockholders are people of comparatively small means, and that this stock is held in nearly every walk of life. The Illinois Central, one of the smaller roads, has 11,000 stockholders; 42,000 people own the stock of the Atchafalaya, Toledo & Santa Fe; the Pennsylvania is owned by 92,000 people, and other roads are in proportion. The interests of these people, and of the great consuming public, should also be considered in any settlement that is finally effected in the dispute between the roads and their employees.

WE SHOULD TAKE WARNING

The people of this country, and especially the law makers, should take warning from the threatened railway strike and give prompt attention to question of arbitration of disputes between capital and labor.

A great strike involving all the principal railroads of the country would result in industrial paralysis from which the nation would not recover in an hundred years. It would give foreign industries a lead over the United States which we might never regain. It would jeopardize capital to such an extent that the men of means would hesitate to invest their wealth in national productive enterprises. It would prostrate the business of the country. Arbitration could settle these industrial disputes without difficulty, but arbitration cannot always be invoked unless there is a law which compels both sides to arbitrate.

Let us have such a law, and let us have it at once, before another speculative strike to menace the peace of the land.

SENATOR NIELS JUUL

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE
 For Representative in Congress

From this, the 7th Congressional District of Illinois

Primary Day Wednesday, Sept. 13, 1916

A Record of Progressive Legislation

There is no better argument in favor of a man who is aspiring to political honors, than his past record in his political career. Senator Nils Juul, who is seeking the nomination as a member of congress from the Seventh Congressional District, is a man who so faithfully served the people as a senator four consecutive terms, and who frankly states that "if my record as a senator warrants your vote for me for congress, I am at your service." On this condition alone do I seek your support.

The Senate Committee on Judiciary is one of the most important, and many of the greatest legislative matters come before it for consideration, the members of the committee feel it our duty to express to our Vote for Walter S. Parker, of La Grange, Republican candidate for Representative to the General Assembly from the Seventh Senatorial District. Mr. Parker has no special biases that he would try to ride in the legislature, but he is in favor of a shorter ballot and would work for the amendment to the constitution making it possible to bring the fundamental law down to date. Be sure and mark a cross opposite his name on the ballot when voting at the primary on Sept. 13.

chairman, Senator Nils Juul, our high appreciation of the eminently fair manner in which he has presided over all our deliberations. He has an unusual record in having reported out every bill referred to this committee. He has never attempted to smother a bill or unjustly wield the gavel, but has accorded every faction a free and unrestricted hearing on every matter. He has granted a rising vote on every request and has cheerfully allowed the majority of the committee present to rule on every proposition. Therefore we tender to Senator Nils Juul a rising vote of thanks for the careful, impartial manner in which he has presided over every meeting of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

HIS LEGISLATIVE RECORD
 Concerning the levy and extension of taxes. This is the law which compels the scaling down of taxes under certain conditions and is commonly known as the "Juul law."

A law amending the Torrens act concerning land titles, simplifying the transfer of real property, which has meant a saving of thousands of dollars to the people.

REFORM LEGISLATION
 A law raising the age limit (to protect our girls)—A law to define and prohibit pandering (to further protect our girls).

These two laws are among some of the most important legislation which has been passed in recent years to put a stop to the disgraceful white slave traffic. For the passage of these laws Mr. Juul has won the admiration of leading reform organizations of our community.

He sent out of the Judiciary Committee on a tie vote the bill which forever abolished the scandals in Cook county in connection with the feeding of prisoners.

found his name attached to more acts of the legislature than ever before and been ascribed to one man. The tax law of the state is and has been known simply as the Juul law. A man must have been important and useful before his name is used so conspicuously, and when the acts to which his name is attached are uniformly good the record of his service has been established.

It is considerably to the loss of this state legislature that Juul does not wish to return to Springfield next year but there will be a compensation for that loss if his ambition to go to Washington as representative in congress from the seventh district is gratified by the voters of his district. If Chicago is to find a loss at Springfield, it ought to find a compensating gain in Washington.—Editorial Chicago Tribune, Oct. 30, 1914.

"Nils Juul's long and faithful service in the state senate entitles him to the support of independent voters."
 —Chicago Daily News.

-A-

Lake County Man for State Senator

To The Voters of Lake County:

In asking your support for State Senator I am seeking political office for the first time. Heretofore my entire interest has been given up to business and farming. My candidacy has not been urged by any politician or group of politicians. I do not, fortunately, need the salary of state senator. I do not desire the office as a stepping stone to higher office.

As President of the Milk Producers' Association and as a director of the Illinois Farmers' Institute, I have had a complete opportunity to observe the pitiful representation of A. J. Olson and the crying needs of Lake County for constructive State legislation. The history of the Illinois Legislature has, for the past few years, been blotched with scandal and extravagance. The sky has been the limit. Useless appointments, fanciful commissions with boundless appropriation have been the watchword.

A few able and sincere men in that body have stood out for economic government, but their protests have been unheard in the howl for spoils. Among this few, sustained by the old fashioned idea that public office is a public trust, has at no time been found the present incumbent, A. J. Olson.

Olson's Political History

His record in the Chicago City Council as a representative of the infamous Market Street Gang became so intolerable that he moved to Woodstock to start his political future anew. By lavish outlays of money and by spurious good fellowship he has managed to attract to himself gentlemen of little civic interest but of intense financial appetite. These gentlemen, active in his cause, have heretofore succeeded in electing him senator. His record in Springfield has been as noxious as his record in Chicago. Mr. Olson among others, instructed by the preferential primaries to appoint Albert J. Hopkins as U. S. Senator, voted against him and caused the election of Lorimer—a man whose record and whose method of appointment was too raw to be sanctioned by the United States Senate.

To Olson the wishes of this district meant nothing then and means nothing now. It is Mr. Olson, among others, whom the farmers of Lake County may censure for the defeat of House Bill No. 55—a bill which provided for the tubercular inspection of all cattle COMING INTO THIS STATE.

His Desperation

The buffoon stardomship of A. J. Olson has made this district a laughing stock of the state. His former constituents in Boone and McHenry counties are repudiating him to his face. His only hope is in Lake County and against a Lake County candidate. Of the three counties composing the district, Lake County has the largest interest. Sincere and able representation can accomplish much in its behalf. If Mr. Olson of Chicago and Woodstock has so failed to represent his home county that his former supporters have forsaken him, it is likely that he has any greater interest in Lake?

Wet and Dry Olson

Four years ago Mr. Olson sought the Anti-Saloon League for endorsement. Mr. Olson was dry. Then he, none was more devoid of damp. Believing in him, he was endorsed by that body and his candidacy was urged by them throughout the district. At the same time Mr. Olson was playing the barroom hero in every saloon he could enter. His subsequent election was the result of his excellent rendition of both parts. This year he has again sought their endorsement. It has been refused.

His Misrepresentations

Never is his voice heard on behalf of the people of this district. His time is too well taken up with entertaining and ingratiating himself with the gentlemen of the party in power. From them only, can he hope to gain the political patronage to feed the peanut politicians who are now frantically clamoring in his behalf. In the last session of the legislature, six months of extravagance and scandal, countless opportunities have existed for protest. Great need has existed for progressive and protective legislation. In all that time the voice of Mr. Olson has only been heard for twenty minutes.

His Strategy

The present state senator, fearing that the spotlight of publicity may be turned on his record of indifference and inefficiency, attempts to poison the minds of the voters by inferring faithlessness on my part.

He refers to a civil suit started against me twelve years ago by a powerful trust—a suit which they shortly dismissed and out of which has grown a prosecution for its dissolution by the United States Government.

I did not lack the courage to stand out against a monopoly. I will not lack the courage to stand out against the spoilers and cracksmen of the Illinois State Senate.

Thomas Marshall
REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR STATE'S ATTORNEY

First Assistant State's Attorney in 1910, 1911 and 1912, takes this means to ask the individual republicans of Cook county for their active support at the primary, Wed., Sept. 13, 1916. He seeks prominent position under John F. W. Wayman.

The record of Mr. Marshall as a high-class lawyer is firmly established and his integrity is unquestioned. He is the man best qualified for the office.

His appeal is to YOU for nomination. He seeks YOUR endorsement, and not that of political bosses.

Why are the political machines so anxious to control the office of State's Attorney? Do you know any machine officials who have risen above their surroundings to obey their oath of office? Keep the prosecutor's office out of their hands.

By what right do the machine leaders assume to dictate to you the nominees of your party?

Do you want the State's Attorney to serve you or a fellow machine?

LOOK WELL TO YOUR BALLOT AND MAKE NO MISTAKE.

Government and your rights are at stake.

For The Legislature

I desire to announce that I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for the Illinois Legislature from this, the eighth senatorial district, subject to the decision of the primaries to be held on September 13, 1916. I will appreciate the support of Lake county voters and assure them if elected I shall fill the office to the very best of my ability.

THE HOME BEAUTIFUL

Flowers and Shrubs

Their Care and Cultivation

To Have Beautiful Roses Like This, Care Must Be Taken of Them in Fall.

LATE SUMMER WORK NOTES

By E. VAN BENTHUYSEN.

Watch the tender greenhouse plants that are in the open and take them up before the last days of summer have passed.

Have the pots ready for the bulbs which must be taken up soon.

Insects will now begin to attack the scarlet runner and other flowers of that nature and they must be watched carefully.

The dahlias, gladioli and other rank-growing plants are likely to be blown down by the wind and should be staked.

Unless chrysanthemums are shaded during the hot month of August they will be injured by the sun.

Drench the ground around the tea roses, but do not spray the bushes.

Roses of all kinds should be thoroughly manured with well-rotted cow manure and mulched with lawn cuttings and leaves.

Liquid manure should be applied only when the ground is moist enough to absorb it.

It is fatal to some plants to fertilize them with rich manures when the ground is very dry.

Never allow roses to remain on the bush when the petals begin to fall.

All plants that are intended for winter bloomers should have the buds pinched off now.

Pick pinuses and nasturtiums every day if you want to have plenty of blooms.

When the lilacs have finished blooming, all the seed clusters should be cut away. If the seed is allowed to develop on the lilac it generally has few flowers in every other year.

The best way to kill weeds now is to pull them up by hand.

The redoubt and other enemies of the rose, if not killed off last month should be effectually removed now. An excellent way for rose bushes is made of one-half pound of laundry soap melted in hot water to which is added one cupful of kerosene. When this comes to a boil, use about one part to fifteen parts of water.

Scrape up dead dust and apply about the roots of your plants during the hot weather and keep the moisture in the soil. Lawn clippings make an excellent mulch for the larger plants and shrubs.

Save the grass clippings from the lawn to serve as a mulch for the bed of tea roses. These plants like to have the soil about their roots cool and moist. Spread the grass over the bed to a depth of two or three inches. When it withers, work it into the soil to act as a fertilizer as it decays and apply fresh clippings.

Cuttings from the geranium may be made all through August in most climates.

In a dry season don't now the lawn as often as in a showery one. Remove the frequency of your mowing by the appearance of the grass. Aim to keep it looking green and velvety. Early in August is a good time to sow the lawn.

MONEY IN COTTAGE GARDENS

By LIMA R. ROSE.

When I lived in the country we used to send scores of nosegays to market, priced from five to ten cents. We could not supply them fast enough, and if people cared to grow common flowers or pot plants and sell them outside a railway station, for instance, they could do well with them now.

Make your own best mold. When soil is removed from the ground for any purpose, shake out the fine soil or sift it off the fine roots with a sharp knife just below the crown of the grass.

(This is known as throwns loam and in combination with leaf mold, old manure and fine sharp sand makes the very best potting soil.)

Throw the top of the sods in a heap in some out-of-the-way corner, and add the rainwater of the yard in fall and spring, all weeds pulled during the summer, all refuse of vegetables, pots to parings, apple peelings, corn husks and berry hulls, anything that is vegetable matter and will decay.

All dishwater and slops that are not needed on the garden should be thrown on the pile, which should be turned over occasionally during the winter.

By the following spring you will have the finest kind of a leaf mold.

Not all the pile will have decayed, but along the edges and underneath it will be found ready for use.

Add to it every bit of available vegetable matter during the year, including the annual flowers pulled up after their season of bloom. Add tops of such root plants as canna, calladium, gladioli, and you will soon have a supply quite adequate to the needs of the ordinary garden.

Where there are waterworks the hose may be turned on frequently to loosen composition.

It is impossible to replace all peat soil in the garden with better, by the addition of leaf mold and manure much may be accomplished in the way of building up and rendering it suitable.

USE FOR HOUSE SLOPS

Any house slops that are free from grease or acids may be poured around the roots of plants to their advantage. When it withers, work it into the soil to act as a fertilizer as it decays and apply fresh clippings.

Water the ground liberally, always watering in the evening. Or, have a rubbish corner in which to dump everything that will make plant food, and pour the house slops—all kinds—on it, forking it over occasionally, and letting it decay.

Add to the heap any sawd from the roadside, peatlings and parings from the kitchen.

Capt. Campbell King, U. S. A., took out two battalions of the Second Regiment and combined them into a single battalion at war strength for the purpose of attack. Lieut. Col. Raymond Sheldon of the regiment took the regiment, battalions in defense and maneuvered to protect it from the attackers. Similar tactics were used with the other regiments.

Three Officers Out.

Capt. Frank Sherwood, Lieut. Harold Sherwood, his son, and Lieut. Charles Mitchell, all of Company H, Seventh regiment, have resigned. At headquarters it was said Captain Sherwood wished to return to his business. Col. Daniel Moriarty said he would make recommendations to fill these and other vacancies by advancement of those whose work merits it.

Lieut. William A. Rafferty and Lieut. Dwight Eisenhower of the Nineteenth Infantry have been assigned to First and Seventh for company instruction purposes.

Investigation has been made by officers to place responsibility for spreading the stories reflecting on the camp command at Land Park and conditions there. The health of the regiment is exceptionally good.

Show Swing of Regular.

In the ranks of the First brigade on a recent hike, there was the jaunty swing of the regulars, the fresh, energetic step of the man who never tires. The two weeks at Leon Springs did wonders for the Illinois soldiers, both in hardening them and in bringing out the spirit of the soldier.

The lesson of the hike by the first hike were well learned and were of inestimable value in producing the present condition of the men, both of mind and of body.

FIRST FINISHES

32-MILE MARCH

General Foster Pleased With Showing Men Make on Long Hike.

VETERANS MEET IN FIELD

Probably Only Reunion of American Soldiers Ever Held During Active Service—Men of Seventh in a Battle Maneuver.

Fort Sam Houston, Tex.—The First Illinois brigade ended its 32-mile hike from Luxido and reached Camp Wilson in the best of spirits. Brig. Gen. D. Jack Foster and the commanding officers of the regiments are pleased with the showing made by the men on the journey.

The Illinois field artillery has been posted. Further firing with its field pieces at Leon Springs to permit of more instructions.

Land Park, Tex.—What is probably the first field meeting of any American war veterans' association was held here by the United Society of Spanish-American War Veterans. Ever since 1898 the members of the association have renewed their military oaths every three months. That the men kept alive so many years has been effective by the fact that there has been more than half of the officers of the First Illinois brigade are veterans of the Spanish-American war.

Brig. Gen. D. Jack Foster, commander of the First Illinois brigade, and Maj. J. M. Stansfield, his adjutant, and both past department commanders of the veterans' association, were present at the field meeting. Capt. August F. W. Siebel of the Second, another past department commander, and Lieut. L. Loughborough of the Second, vice-department commander, were also present.

Many men from the ranks, as well as officers, were present. A general invitation was extended to all soldiers to attend the meeting.

"The eyes of the enemy," consisting of an outpost of eight men were captured by Capt. Patrick J. Dineen, and the men of Company B of the Seventh, in "phantom" maneuvers. For three hours the Seventh under Col. Daniel Moriarty, deployed and skirmished to capture or dislodge the "enemy." On the defensive side was the First regiment under Col. J. B. Sanborn. Patrols and flanking parties came in close touch with each other frequently and the clicking of rifles told of their proximity, but each side "fought" so consistently that no decision could be given, if army officials, who witnessed the maneuver, were inclined to do so.

Next day the two regiments met. The Second went out as a brigade under Gen. D. Jack Foster to operate in line against the "enemy." Combatants, ambulances and all the equipment of a regular engagement were taken out on the field by the brigade. The commanding general and his colonels were given all the thrills of men commanding troops in a real battle.

"Five per cent killed and 20 per cent wounded," is the way in which one officer estimated the "casualties."

Maneuvers Keep First Busy.

After several days marked by the presence of numerous visitors from all the nearby towns and wives of many officers and privates, the men of the First Illinois brigade settled down for a busy week of maneuvers.

Brig. Gen. D. Jack Foster has ordered tactical practice in the defense of the camp. The entire First brigade is taking part in the maneuvers.

Capt. Campbell King, U. S. A., took out two battalions of the Second Regiment and combined them into a single battalion at war strength for the purpose of attack. Lieut. Col. Raymond Sheldon of the regiment took the regiment, battalions in defense and maneuvered to protect it from the attackers. Similar tactics were used with the other regiments.

State Leads in Crop Values.

Springfield.—An answer to a question as to how the state of Illinois compares with other states in various fields results in the following interesting compilation:

First in value of crops, production of corn, production of oats, average value of farm land in acre, and number of women in higher institutions of learning.

Second in total wealth, coal production, rural population, number of weekly papers published, livestock production, number of persons engaged in mining, number of men studying in higher institutions of learning.

Third in population, number of men of militia age, number of pupils enrolled in common schools, value of manufactured products, pig iron production.

Fourth in number of men of voting age, number of daily newspapers published, number of students in high learning, number of persons engaged in farming, value of public property, including institutions, armories and schools.

Fifth in petroleum and natural gas production.

Eighth in population a square mile. Fourteenth in literacy.

Utilities Board Makes Record.

Appeals from decisions of the Illinois public utilities commission have resulted, in the majority of cases, in victory for the commission. Since the creation of the commission, only thirteen cases have been reviewed by the supreme court. Nine of these were affirmed and only four reversed. Of the four reversed, two involved orders of the railroad and warehouse commission, the predecessor of the public utilities commission. Enough cases, however, have been appealed to fix certain questions heretofore not entirely clear. One of the very first problems which the new commission has to contend with was, "What is a public utility?"

In none of the cases thus far reaching the supreme court is there such a clear-cut question as to whether or not the case of the state public utilities commission was, Monarch Refrigerating company, 237 Illinois, 623. In that case it was shown that, long before the passage of the public utilities act, the corporation defendant was operating a general warehouse and cold storage plant for storing fruits, vegetables, and other perishable goods for producers and shippers who sometimes disposed of the ownership of these goods while they were in transit, or the goods were stored and later there was a market demand for them.

Truck Drivers "Near" Soldiers.

The organization of the motor truck companies of the army, to which five officers of the Illinois regiments have been assigned, is becoming better and better each day. Incidentally the number of trucks and the number of men employed to drive and look after them is constantly increasing.

Starting with civilian drivers, hired at $100 a month, there is an ever increasing tendency to bring them around to the viewpoint of the soldier. In some cases the civilian drivers have volunteered to help in perfecting their own military training.

Lieut. Harry Klugman, detached from the First Illinois infantry, to command motor truck company No. 12, called on his men to volunteer to learn some of the footwork of the soldier, and they responded without protest. His object is to have the black-painted men under his able march to meet without stepping on each other's heels and do other like tasks in their daily routine with the same precision as a soldier in the ranks would.

Cheer Illinois Men.

The Wisconsin brigade, which they passed on a hike the other day, cheered the Illinois men.

"On Wisconsin" was struck by the Seventh regiment, under Dr. and Major James Murphy, when the Illinois soldiers gave the courtesy of the road to the men from the other state. There was cheering in both ranks for the band.

After the Wisconsin regiment passed the Seventh regiment and Col. Daniel Moriarty and his staff they were given a greeting by Col. J. B. Sanborn and the men and the band of the First regiment. And it was the same when they reached the rear guard, the Second, under Col. John J. Garrity.

Holds Health Record.

Col. Daniel Moriarty's bulky troops hold the health record for Illinois regiments in the Macedonian front. In the fighting Seventh only seven are in the base hospital. The First infantry has 17, the Second 10, the Third 14, and the Eighth 23. Appendicitis has taken a large number of Illinoisans to the base hospital. There have been but two deaths since the troops responded to President Wilson's call.

Work With Regulars.

In straightening out the kinks in the organization of the companies, Lieut. Ralph C. Harper of the First Illinois infantry and Lieut. R. M. Moore, detached from the Second infantry, are working with the regular army officers as commanders of companies. There is also a lieutenant from the Third Illinois doing likewise.

Lieut. R. L. Malone, just detached from the Illinois field artillery, is organizing company No. 22. He has 33 large trucks and the civilian employees are just arriving.

TWO KILLED IN RACE

ELEVEN AUTOS IN SMASHUP DURING THIRD ANNUAL DERBY AT KALAMAZOO, MICH.

EIGHT ARE SERIOUSLY HURT

Overturning of Machine Driven by Jack Peacock Is the Cause—Track Officials Unable to Prevent Accident—Mechanician Decapitated.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 23.—Marion Arnold of Chicago and Jack Peacock of Brooklyn were killed and eight other drivers and mechanicians were injured when eleven racing cars piled into a heap at the quarter-mile track here on the gateway of the third annual derby in this city.

Those dead or injured are: Marion Arnold, Chicago, mechanician for Andy Durt in Stutz car; decapitated.

E. E. Marquette, Kalamazoo, Peacock's mechanician; head badly crushed, left leg broken below knee in three places; dying.

Thomas Bell, Coldwater, driver of Buick; head cut, unconscious.

Andy Burt, Chicago, driver of Stutz, badly bruised.

Otto Henning, Chicago, driver of Ogren, injured by blow above groin.

Jimmie Alexander, Sioux City, Ia., mechanician for Phil Chandler; cut and bruised.

Ben Bell, Coldwater, Mich., driver of Chalmers, back hurt.

Guy Bailey, Coldwater, Mich., mechanician for Bell, face cut and back hurt.

Ray Newton, Kalamazoo, mechanician for Downs, cut about head and face.

The overturning of the Sunbeam "12" driven by Peacock, it is rounded the first turn of the second mile, caused the accident. Peacock's car struck the fence, yawning lengthwise across the track and tipped over on its side.

Track officials made a desperate effort to flag the 13 cars that were thundering up from behind, but without success.

Burt's Stutz was the first to strike the wrecked Sunbeam "12." At least three other cars piled one after another in the smothering debris.

Track officials from the track and the judges' stand started for the pile and at the same time the crowds from the grand stand.

When the first reached the scene Arnold's headless body was found beneath the battered Stutz.

DECLARES WAR ON GERMANY

Break Between Rome and Berlin Follows King's Move Against Bulgarians in Balkans.

Rome, Aug. 23.—Baron Sonnino, minister of foreign affairs, announced that Italy considered herself in a state of war with Germany.

The official announcement of Italy's declaration of war on Germany, as given out here on Sunday, follows:

"The Italian government declares in the name of the king that Italy considers herself to be in a state of war with Germany as from August 23, and begs the Swiss government to convey this information to the Imperial German government."

Berlin, via Sayville, Aug. 23.—An official announcement issued here on Sunday says: "The Italian government has declared war on the Swiss government, that from August 23 Italy considers herself at war with Germany."

The declaration has been accepted formally by Germany.

London, Aug. 23.—Declaration of war by Italy on Germany has been expected for several days, owing to the fact that the Italian troops now are fighting against Germans in Greece.

The declaration became inevitable when Italy recently sent troops to Salonika to co-operate in the campaign of the entente allies on the Macedonian front, as Germany is directing the opposing forces and has troops on this battle line.

BULGARS SEIZE GREEK PORT

Occupy All but One Port at Kavala—Violent Fighting Continues on Macedonian Front.

Paris, Aug. 23.—Violent fighting between Bulgarian and Serbian troops continues on the Macedonian front, in the region of Ostrova. The war office announced that the Serbians, making counter-attacks, had pushed back the Bulgarians.

All but one of the forts about the Greek port of Kavala, on the Aegean sea, have been occupied by the Bulgarians. Two British monitors and one cruiser bombarded these positions.

Twelve on Ship Rescued.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 30.—Twelve members of the crew of the barge Chikamauga were rescued by lifesavers when the ship signaled it was sinking. Tugs brought the barge safely into port.

Construct Steam Divers.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Information has reached the navy department that steam submarines are under construction in Europe closely resembling the 25-knot boats designed by the department a year ago.

News Nuggets From Illinois

Springfield.—Seven counties of Illinois will be affected by the order of C. St. Clair Drake, secretary of the board of health, in an attempt to restrict the spread of infantile paralysis. All of La Salle, Macon and Piatt counties will be included and parts of Marshall, Bureau, DeWitt and Monticello counties. It is believed that the order will require that schools in the restricted area remain closed until October 1 and that strict quarantine rules will be applied. All children moving into or from the restricted areas will be required to carry a health certificate which will indicate that they have not been ill with or exposed to infantile paralysis within the preceding six weeks. Several cases of the disease were reported to the state board.

Chicago.—Objections of taxpayers to the tax levies for the forest preserve and the northern district park commission fund were sustained by Judge William Jackson, sitting in the county court, in an opinion handed down. Taxes approximately $300,000 were involved in the litigation. More than 1,500 persons and corporations objected to paying taxes on 40,549 lots and tracts of land. The objection to the entire county tax was sustained on the ground that to do so would be to deprive many necessary public institutions of the county of their entire source of income.

Springfield.—Gov. E. F. Dunne will not call a special session of the Illinois general assembly to make it possible for Illinois Guardsmen on the Mexican border to vote in the primary and fall election. He so decided after failing to receive assurances from members of the legislature that there would be a two-thirds majority indicating that to do so would be to deprive many necessary public institutions of the county of their entire source of income.

Springfield.—Gov. E. F. THE TIME TO VOTE IS HERE—

Rodney B. Swift

Forty-five years ago honest men rose in their might and cleaned the Senate. Reputable Senators, swear Resolutions were put on the Journals of the Senate last session that were never passed—tactics of the gray wolf days of the Chicago Council, from which Olson graduated, to be the Senator for the 8th District.

Ten janitors and one Superintendent of Ventilation were on the Senate pay rolls in 1915. Only two worked and $2,700 was granted. Twenty-four Pages and twelve Bill Distributors did the errands of fifty-one Senators, in a room 100x200 feet. One of these boys went to the La Salle Hotel in Chicago and ordered a banquet for his friends with wine and cigars—and the bill, almost $150, was paid by the State. HE KNEW TOO MUCH.

Senate Expense Up 57%

The Law fixes the number of Senate helpers at sixty, and one hundred and twenty were employed. In 1911 the Senate payroll was $29,190; in 1915 it was $37,864. A janitor for the President of the Senate drew $2,265 from January 1st to June 30th, 1915.

The Visiting Committees cost $1,807.65 in 1913, and $11,094.96 in 1915. The Law allows 7 members; 51 persons were taken, feted and dined on one trip of 8½ days that cost $5,273.00.

The bill in the Ferguson suit, among many charges said, "A trick and device was planned and schemed in the Senate whereby the treasury of the State was to be depleted of $10,000 by dummies for certain pretended services"—and $10,000 was taken from the treasury illegally.

Twenty-six Standing Committees in the Senate gave excuse for traveling expenses that would bankrupt a business house and make a starved old wolf skulk. Note the following bills:

Voucher No. 73522. Springfield, Ill., June 15th, 1915 State of Illinois; Senate Labor Sub-Committee to Albert J. Olson, Dr. Expenses at three meetings La Salle Hotel, paid, $60.00.

Voucher No. 73523. Springfield, Ill., June 15th, 1915 State of Illinois; Senate Labor Sub-Committee to Albert J. Olson, Dr. Expenses at three meetings La Salle Hotel, paid, $30.00.

Voucher No. 73529. Springfield, Ill., June 15th, 1915 State of Illinois; Senate Labor Sub-Committee to Albert J. Olson, Dr. Expenses at two meetings La Salle Hotel, paid, $40.00.

The "pickings" of private relief bills are growing. Two in 1911 took $8,600; twenty-four in 1915 took $22,855.39. Senator Olson had one, but it was so bad that the Governor vetoed it.

The "Roving" Committees are another chance; fourteen were started last session with 114 members to cost $200,000, and Senator Olson had one to determine the physiological effect of corn as food on the human system. Such a travesty would make a dog laugh. These are only a few of the many items of shame—and it is YOUR taxes which pay the bills.

The record does not contain one single protest from Senator Olson against this waste and all he said during the last session—six months—can be read in twenty minutes.

Twelve years ago I was attacked by a powerful corporation who were determined I should not manufacture agricultural implements. I fought them and they dismissed their suits. I won and will refight that fight anytime. Now, Senator Olson is buying space to bring up these old matters again, but I cannot dodge his record for waste and inefficiency and I will drive him home to him next week.

NEAR-BY NEWS

The first annual meeting of the rural teachers of McHenry county will be held at the court house in Woodstock today.

To prevent the spread of infantile paralysis the Chicago public schools will not open till October 1, or until the health authorities have the situation under control.

Robert Zwiesler, son of Mrs. Florence Zwiesler of Libertyville, died at the Augustana hospital Saturday morning while an operation was being performed for brain pressure causing infantile paralysis.

The first holdup ever occurring in Crystal Lake was pulled off Sunday night when two men held up Henry Dickman as he was leaving the Borman factory and relieved him of $7.50 in perfectly good money.

Beatrice Krejcie, the ten year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Krejcie who went to California from Algonquin with her mother about two weeks ago, was drowned. It is reported that she fell into a large reservoir on her grandfather's place.

Further reports concerning the grain yields in this locality place the average of oats at 60 bushels to the acre and 45 of barley. Threshers assert that barley is decidedly better than last year as to color and oats are better in quality but less in quantity.—Genoa Junction News.

A petition has been circulated and signed by the business men of Dundas asking the board of supervisors to change the route of the proposed state road from the west to the east side, from Elgin to Dundas, crossing the river at Main street and continuing north to Algonquin.

Oberg Fell of McHenry, with his wife and child, a little girl about three years old, while motoring to Lake Geneva, collided with a car on the Ringwood road Sunday, which resulted quite seriously. The child was thrown through the windshield, receiving a bad laceration of the scalp, the parents through some miracle escaping with minor injuries.

While it is more than probable that the fair grounds at Woodstock will be the scene for politicians from far and near during the week of the fair, there will be no political speeches or signs of partisanship in any of the doings there. But politicians will be there, whether republican or democrat, to mingle with the people and seek their support at the coming primaries.

The Sheridan Road Improvement committee has planned a "Sheridan Road Day" for September 26, and upwards of 1000 automobiles will form a parade. The route chosen is from Chicago to the state line via Sheridan road. At the state line Governor Duane will meet Governor Phillips of Wisconsin, who will head a delegation of autoists and the two governors will talk over plans and methods of hastening the betterment of Sheridan road in their own states.

A great many people are in the habit of gathering along the Des Plaines river for the purpose of feeding them to their chickens. Mrs. R. L. Jahncke, who lives in the Gross house on the Rand road will undoubtedly keep up her habit of doing so in the future. It is only a few days ago while opening a batch of clams gathered at the illustrious river the fish discovered a beautiful specimen of a pearl. It was turned over to John Kray, the jeweler, who is to take it to Chicago to ascertain its value. From appearances he states that it is worth at least forty dollars and perhaps more.

Take a few days' vacation and enjoy yourself at the great McHenry County Fair. Bigger and better than ever. You will never regret it.

This year's fair is under the same management as was the Fourth of July celebration in Woodstock, which everybody says was the greatest event of its kind ever seen in McHenry County.

Lots of "pep" officers and committee chairmen working with all their energy to make this year's fair the greatest in the history of good old McHenry County.

COME! YOUR FAIR!

To the Voters of Lake County

I appeal for support to all voters, whether "wet" or "dry," who expect and want a state's attorney to do his duty, and I also appeal for support to the women of Lake County, for, while the law does not permit them to vote at the coming primary, they will have a powerful influence in such election and their influence will be for what is good and clean in public life.

The following are some of the achievements of my office during the last three years and nine months of the present term; all of which is a matter of public record:—

$14,379.25 in fees, fines and forfeitures collected and turned over to the proper authorities

$927.03 collected and paid into county treasury in moneys due the county from estates of paupers who had received county aid.

$7846.52 collected and paid into county treasury as interest due on public funds from former county treasurer.

$7530.89 inheritance tax fees which my office was instrumental in causing the former county treasurer to pay into the state treasury.

$13,774.43 paid into the county treasury as back taxes from the estate of Nathaniel C. Sears and other estates which such decedents had avoided paying during their life time.

$14,975.34 PAID INTO STATE TREASURY AS BACK TAXES from prior estates.

If re-elected to the office of state attorney my policy in the future will be, as it has been in the past, to enforce the laws as I find them. I respectfully solicit your support.

Ralph J. Dady.

Republican Candidate for re-nomination as STATE'S ATTORNEY.

To the Voters of Lake County

The Waukegan Good Government League, unqualifiedly endorses the candidacy of Ralph J. Dady for nomination and re-election to the office of State's Attorney and appeals to all voters of Lake County who believe in law enforcement to unite in support of Mr. Dady.

The office of State's Attorney is the most important office in Lake County and Mr. Dady has shown that he is honest, able, fearless and industrious and that he respects his path of office. Respectfully,

The Waukegan Good Government League
