

BARRINGTON REVIEW

VOLUME 32, NUMBER 37

BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1916

$1.50 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE

LOWDEN AND DUNNE WIN IN PRIMARIES

Cuba and Barrington Township Voters Turn Out in Large Numbers—Few Women Vote

The primary election held yesterday brought out a good sized vote in Cuba township. The total vote cast was as follows: republican 152, democratic 12, socialist 2. For governor on the republican ticket, Frank O. Lowden received 110 votes, Frank L. Smith 11 and Morton D. Hull 16. The principal fight was on state's attorney; James G. Welch received 115 votes, A. V. Smith 4, and Ralph J. Daly 25. For state senator A. J. Olson received 72 votes and R. B. Swift 54. The democrats favored Edward F. Dunne for governor, he received 9 votes and William B. Hinton 3.

In Barrington township, precinct No. 1, the vote was divided as follows: republican 124, democratic 9. Only two women voted. The result on the republican ticket was as follows: Governor, Hull 35, Lowden 45, Swift 21. Representative in congress, Hull 56, Miller 26, Webster 11. State representative, DeYoung 32, Springer 31, Volz 110, Thal 37. State's attorney, Miller 53, Northrup 33, Stronch 5. Recorder, Hiss 72, Rapp 9, Glover 8. Clerk circuit court, Miller 70, Lipp 7, Lang 7. Clerk superior court, Simon 33. Kjelander 39, Murray 7. Coroner, Hoffman 80, Davis 10. Probates 5.

PROBABLE PRIMARY WINNERS.

(From Incomplete Returns.)

For Governor.

Plurality.
*Edward F. Dunne (Dem.).....65,000
Frank O. Lowden (Rep.).....75,000
For Lieutenant Governor.
Henry W. Hutton or *Barrett O'Hara (Dem.); John G. Olesky (Rep.)

For Secretary of State.
*Lewis S. Stevenson (Dem.); Lewis L. Emmett (Rep.)

For Auditor.
*James J. Brady (Dem.); Andrew Russell (Rep.)

For Treasurer.
Arthur W. Curries (Dem.); Len Small (Rep.)

For Attorney General.
*Patrick J. Lacey (Dem.); Edward J. Brundage or Richard J. Barr (Rep.); Incumbent.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—Frank O. Lowden and Edward F. Dunne will fight out for the governorship of Illinois at the November election. Early returns from the primary indicate each has made a clean sweep of his party, not only in Cook county, but down state. Lowden appears to have carried Chicago by about 50,000 and Dunne by 50,000.

Gov. Edward F. Dunne, apparently has been re-nominated by the Democrats of the state by a plurality in excess of 60,000. That much is indicated by the early returns from the state-wide primary.

Based on returns from 750 of the 2,896 precincts in Cook county, Governor Dunne's plurality in Cook will be about 65,000.

Based upon returns indicating that he is beating Brinton two to one down state, his plurality outside of Cook should be about 45,000, making his total plurality about 110,000.

Lowden's plurality, figured on the same basis as Cook, is estimated at 30,000. Average returns from scattered precincts down state indicate a Lowden plurality of about 40,000, giving him a total plurality in the state of about 70,000.

In Chicago Lowden has a plurality of 35,000 over Hull, a plurality of 55,000 over Smith and a clear majority of 20,000 over both Hull and Smith. These estimates are based upon returns from 35 per cent of the precincts.

Down state the returns so far in all exhibit the same drift. Lowden is shown running strong in territory into which Hull and Smith expected to cut large swathes. The first 119 downstate precincts out of 2,678 showed Lowden running two to one ahead of Hull. The figures were: Lowden, 8,705; Smith, 8,652; Hull, 4,111. William H. Steen, the Lowden manager, issued an estimate that Lowden would have a majority of 70,000 over Smith and Hull.

In 1908 Dunne won over Yates by only about 12,000 plurality.

In Chicago Edward J. Brundage is running ahead of Richard J. Barr more than three to one for attorney general. The incomplete returns indicate that Brundage will go out of Cook county with a plurality of 45,000 over Barr; who is runner second, with George H. Wilson third and Fayette S. Munro fourth.

This race has been as exciting as that over governor. With five candidates cutting up the vote downstate, a lead of 45,000 is regarded as

BARRINGTON BUSINESS MEN MEET

And Organize a Commercial Club with Forty-Two Members—Good Results Expected from Organization

A gathering of business men met at the First State bank last Friday evening and organized, what will eventually be known as the Barrington Commercial club—an organization to represent the village in all matters pertaining to the good of the town, especially as to regarding to promoting new business ventures and in working in harmony with each other for the upbuilding of the community in general.

Officers were elected as follows: President, A. W. Meyer; Vice-President, George Stiefenhofer; Temporary Secretary, B. A. Schroeder; Treasurer, John Caldwell.

There were forty-four business men present and forty-two signed as members of the new association. This is evidence that the majority of local merchants are interested in such a movement and it is planned to have a meeting tomorrow night, when the executive committee will draft a constitution and by-laws which will govern the future existence of the organization.

After the complete working methods of the club have been thoroughly tested, it is the intention to elect a secretary disinterested in business affairs in Barrington—this is, a man who can fairly represent all business of the club and at the same time give its members and those seeking information a fair and just account of what is needed to bring about satisfactory results.

Elgin, Woodstock, Crystal Lake, Dundee and other cities in this and adjoining counties are represented with such an organization and much good for the community interested has been accomplished through the co-operation and efforts put forth by the members of such a club. Barrington can reap the same results aside from enjoying a social relationship which has heretofore not existed.

Missionary Oratorical Contest

As announced in the Review last week the Y. P. M. S. of the Salem church will give a missionary oratorical contest at the church tomorrow evening, commencing promptly at 7:45 o'clock. Several musical numbers will be rendered and readings along missionary lines. A silver offering will be taken. Everybody is cordially invited to attend and thus encourage the young people in this special movement. The following program has been announced:

March (piano).—Miss Almada Piaggio Music. —Ladies' Quartet. "The Man Who Died for Me"—Contestant No. 1.

Piano Solo.—Miss Mildred Heinrich "Who Shall Go"—Contestant No. 2. "The Words of a Prayer"—Contestant No. 3.

Solo.—Mrs. Louis Thacher. "Glad Day's Prayer"—Contestant No. 4. Instrumental Music.

Offering. Presentation of Medal by Rev. J. Horner Ciesing Song and Benediction.

Fair Was a Success

Quite a number of Barrington people attended the McHenry County fair at Woodstock last week, which closed on Friday. Thursday was said to have been the biggest day of the fair from the viewpoint of attendance. All of the attractions were well patronized and the race program was good. Everybody seemed to have a good time.

Politicians were active, too, and no voter got away from the grounds without hearing considerable about the qualifications of candidates and carrying away with him a good collection of campaign literature.

Remarkable Teaching Record

Miss Della Caldwell, a recent applicant for teacher's position, has broken all records for continuous teaching in one district. Her records show that she began teaching in the Menomouth schools in 1888 and has taught continuously since that time—a total of 47 years. Each year of service was nine months. Miss Caldwell is still the more remarkable in that Miss Caldwell has taught the second grade only during all these years. Can any one else in the state equal this record?

Real Estate Transfers

Master in Chancery to August Bado and wife, 31 acres in southeast 1/4, Sec. 9 E1a Twp, deed $2200.

Paul Frank wife to Stano Bank of Lake Zurich, part lot 1, Kaubler's first addition to Lake Zurich, W. D., $100.

Unclaimed Letters

The following letters remain at the Barrington postoffice unclaimed for week ending September 7, 1916: Henry J. Reese, Danville, Ill.; G. W. Spunner, Postmaster.

DEATH OF HENRY LAVINE; FUNERAL THIS AFTERNOON

After suffering since early last winter from cancer, Henry Lavine passed away at his home on the Henry Lago-schulte farm, two miles northwest of this village, on Monday night at 10 o'clock, leaving a home fatherless and a wife and nine children to mourn his departure.

Mr. Lavine was born May 5, 1857, at Beblin, Germany, and married Miss Caroline Hennings at Keltz, Germany, on November 12, 1880. In October, 1891, they came to America and settled in Palestine where they remained one year. From there they came to Barrington where deceased worked as a section hand for some time. Later he rented the Lago-schulte farm where he has remained until called by death.

Aside from being an honest, hard working man, the deceased was a member of St. Paul's church and for a great many years was treasurer of the Men's club, which office he faithfully filled at all times.

Besides his wife the following children survive: Mr. Ernest Holle, Mrs. Irving Schuman and Mrs. William Rockwood of Barrington; Mrs. William Seck and Mrs. Fred Prehm of Fort Park; Mingle, Walter and Henry at home. A sister, Mrs. Charles Strauss, of Elgin, two sisters and two brothers and other relatives in Germany.

The funeral was held this afternoon. A short service was conducted at the home at 2 o'clock to be followed by services at St. Paul's church in charge of Rev. H. Tietke. The remains were laid to rest in Evergreen cemetery.

Ladies' Aid Society Meets

The Ladies' Aid society met in the parlors of the Methodist Episcopal church on Tuesday afternoon for a business and social meeting. This being the last meeting of the year, reports of the year's work were given by the secretary and president. This was followed by the election of officers which resulted as follows: President, Mrs. John Schweig; Vice-President, Mrs. John Page; Secretary, Mrs. George Lytle; Treasurer, Mrs. William Shearer. Plans for the annual bazaar and supper were discussed. The afternoon food evening of Tuesday, November 21, was the time selected for the bazaar to be given.

After a short program ice cream and cake were served by a committee of three. Fancy work and conversation made the afternoon pass quickly, and another pleasant occasion was added to the annals of the society.

Scarcity of Peaches

Local markets have not been overrun with peaches this season, although several merchants say they expect to have a good supply on hand within a few days. The crop this year is reported to be only about one-third of last year's and, of course, prices, are higher. They are selling from $1.25 to $2.00 per bushel, while last year extra good fruit was plentiful at $1.00 to $1.50. Michigan is practically the only state with an average crop, and it is to Chicago's large demand it seems difficult for local dealers to get a supply at the right price.

However, many who have heretofore canned their winter supply of fruit will, it is said, buy their needs already prepared this season, owing to the scarcity of fruit and cost of ingredients necessary for preparing the same.

ALBERT SCHUTT WRITES OF STORM

Soldier Boy Tells of Experiences at the Front—Receives Drenching When Fierce Storm Sweeps Texas

San Antonio, September 5, 1916. Editor REVIEW.

Dear Sir:—As there is little to do but write I will tell about the trip we made to Leon Springs where the ride range is located.

We left here two weeks ago Friday morning about six o'clock in light marching order and arrived at Nine Mile Hill, about twelve miles from our camp, and pitched our tents for the night.

About four o'clock in the afternoon the wind came up and blew harder than it has since we have been here. It started raining and just poured down for about half an hour, and we got soaking wet. About seven o'clock the rain began to blow again and we could not keep our tents up. The fellow who tents with me left earlier in the evening and I tried to hang onto the tent alone, but without much success. I gave it up about eight o'clock and went out scouting for a place to sleep. I went across the street in the rear of the store and found a sort of a balcony and crawled in there and slept until morning. When I crawled in I was alone, but when I woke up there were about fifty fellows crowded in there.

The storm was a part of the one that damaged property along the golf a few days before, and did quite a bit of damage around this part of the country. We rolled our tents and started on the remainder of our trip to the range, going fourteen miles in six hours.

The range is surrounded by big hills, and we camped on the side of one. After being there a week I had to go back to San Antonio to get my teeth fixed. I had been suffering with toothache for three or four days before going to the dentist. While there we slept on the ground and I never slept in a better place in all my life.

We left the range for Camp Wilson last Friday and got here Saturday morning without any more excitement. This is probably the last letter I will write here, for we will leave for the States in about three or four days, and will be glad to get back. Mess call has just sounded so will close. Respectfully yours,

ALBERT SCHUTT, Third Ill. Inf., Co. G.

"Kidnapper" Brought to Elgin

John Kerin and his son Charles who disappeared from Elgin simultaneously August 8, were brought back Saturday night from Springfield on a writ of habeas corpus issued from Circuit Judge C. F. Irwin by Attorney Charles B. Hazlehurst, who represents Mr. John Kerin.

Attorney Hazlehurst and Attorney Arthur Paulson, who represents Kerin, held a long consultation and then continued the hearing on the habeas corpus writ until September 19. In the meantime it is possible that the case will be settled.

Kerin is alleged to have "kidnaped" his son from the home of his wife's parents at Barrington. He appeared suddenly in an automobile the afternoon of August 9 and seized his boy from the yard.

After several weeks' search Kerin was located at Springfield and the habeas corpus writ obtained. Deputy Sheriff Warren Andrews served the papers and brought Kerin back to Elgin.—Elgin Courier.

Ford Sues Tribune for $1,000,000

Henry Ford, millionaire automobile manufacturer and pacifist, has filed suit in the United States district court against the Chicago Tribune, asking $1,000,000 damages. In his petition Ford alleged that the Tribune libeled him by calling him an anarchist.

Ford's suit is based on an editorial that appeared in the Tribune June 2 of this year under the caption: "Ford is an Anarchist." The editorial was based on a story that Ford would discharge all his employees who joined the National Guard to go to the Mexican border.

Coming Wedding Announced

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mundhenke announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Martha Appel, to Albert Glenske. The wedding will take place Sunday, September 24, at 2 p.m., at the Evangelical church at Hanover. After the ceremony a reception will be given at the home of the bride's parents.

Increased Its Rates

The Crystal Lake Herald announced last week an increase in advertising rates due to the rise in price of paper and all material used in connection with a printing office. It's coming 'don't say "robbers" when you get your monthly statement from the printer.

Bring your job work to the REVIEW.

MAKING PLANS FOR FALL MILK PRICES

Farmers Meet and Discuss Matters Concerning Schedule for Coming Six Months

Members of the local Milk Producers' association have been active and much interested in regard to prices they demand for the fall and winter season.

A meeting last Thursday and one on Tuesday evening of this week was held at Village and an agreement was entered, we are told, on prices, which have not been given out.

The association asks its members not to contract milk at any price until advised to do so by directors of the milk board. A meeting will be held on the morning of contract day (the date of which will be announced later) to fully settle matters regarding prices. H. J. Lageschulte, Frank Kinscher and Dan Gilly compose the committee who are to inform members what the agreed contract price is to be.

The Chicago Meeting. Members of the Milk Producers' association will demand $2 a hundred pounds for winter milk delivered to the factories. The demand for can shippers, those who ship to Chicago, is $1.60 a can.

The demands were formulated at a meeting of delegates from all local branches held in Chicago last Friday. Each price is yet to be scaled according to months.

According to Director Charles H. Potter of Elgin, who served as chairman of the credentials committee, buyers are expected to pay the price without much of a fight, although the dairymen are prepared to wage a strike if necessary to secure the figure demanded.

Mr. Potter says that the Chicago Milk Dealers' association, which takes much of the milk of can shippers, has admitted a willingness to pay $1.60 a can. He says that the large buyers such as Bowman, Keo & Chapell have talked friendly fashion, but refuse to talk prices, declaring that they have been advised a price agreement would be in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

Some time ago a meeting of delegates was held and a sealed ballot was taken to secure the prices wanted by the various locals. It is said that the difference in prices were so great that it would have been difficult to have arrived at a price on the basis of the figures submitted. Therefore another meeting of delegates, one from each local, was held Friday.

John Read of Lilly Lake moved that the demand be $2 a hundred at the bottling plants and $1.50 a can for shippers. An argument resulted in delegates voting for prices desired by their locals, the milk board to take the average as the price demand.

Figures varied from $1.50 to $2.25 at the bottling plants and from $1.25 to $1.80 for shippers. The average of all shippers submitted resulted in $2.01 and $1.61. A motion was passed to strike off the one cent in each case.

Last winter farmers received at the bottling plants $1.75 from the Borden company and $1.40 from the Bowman company for milk testing 3.5 per cent in butter fat. The demand for the coming winter is based on the 3.5 percentage.

The average prices demanded during the next six months, divided per cent, is as follows:

	Bottles	Cans
October.....	$1.70.....	$1.60.....
November.....	2.00.....	1.70.....
December.....	2.10.....	1.70.....
January.....	2.10.....	1.60.....
February.....	2.00.....	1.55.....
March.....	1.85.....	1.45.....

The Borden-Bowman prices for the six months last winter follows:

	Borden	Bowman
October.....	$1.53.....	$1.80.....
November.....	1.50.....	1.80.....
December.....	1.65.....	1.80.....
January.....	1.64.....	1.83.....
February.....	1.54.....	1.75.....
March.....	1.43.....	1.65.....

Average.....$1.71 3/4.....$1.80 5/8

"Even with this increased price the milk 'know where we are to get the milk this winter," said one farmer, who added, "the weather has been so dry that the corn isn't what it should be, and many a farmer has been unable to fill his silo but half this season. Many are already buying feed. Ordinarily they have much additional to what they have in the silos. The situation is really acute."

Notice to Woodmen

Members of Barrington Camp No. 600, Modern Woodmen of America, are requested to attend the next regular meeting at its hall Tuesday evening, September 19. Business of importance will be presented at this meeting. Don't fail to attend.—William Grunau, Clerk.

BEHIND THE FRONTIER

A STORY OF EARLY DAYS

By RANDALL PARISH

SYNOPSIS.

Adèle is a Cheyenne, a girl of New France, is among conspirators at her uncle's house. Casson, the commissary, has enlisted her to Cheyenne, and against La Salle. D'Artigny, La Salle's friend, offers his services as guide to Casson's party on the journey to the wilderness. The uncle informs Adèle that he has betrothed her to Casson and forbids her to see D'Artigny. Casson and D'Artigny visit her friend, Sister Celeste, who tries D'Artigny's suit to the girl. She tells her of her own life and of her betrothal to Casson. D'Artigny's sister tells him of her own life and of her betrothal to Casson. D'Artigny's sister tells him of her own life and of her betrothal to Casson. D'Artigny's sister tells him of her own life and of her betrothal to Casson.

Madame Casson, loathing the husband who got her by fraud and threat, feels certain that she has a true confederate—an ally ready to do her bidding—in Rene D'Artigny. But disappointment piles upon her. In a crisis she learns the must fight alone. How she resolves to win against all odds and get revenge is described in stirring manner in this installment.

CHAPTER IX.—Continued.

Leaving far out, grasping a branch to keep from falling, I distinguished the canoe at the upper landing, and the Indians busily engaged in their work. I first saw nothing of my white man, but was gazing still when D'Artigny emerged from some shadow and stepped down beside the boat. I knew not what instinct prompted him to turn and look up intently at the bluff towering above. I scarcely comprehend either what swift impulse led me to undo the rock which I had thrust and hold it forth in signal. An instant he stared upward, shading his eyes with one hand.

I must have seemed a vision clinging there against the sky; yet all at once the truth burst upon him, and, with a wave of the arm, he sprang up the bank and joined his Indians. I could not hear what he said, but with a single word he left them and disappeared among the trees at the foot of the bluff.

He must have scrambled straight up the steep face of the bluff, for it could have been scarcely more than a minute when I heard him crunching a passage through the bushes, and then saw him emerge above the edge. Clinging to a tree limb, his eyes sought eagerly to locate me, and when I stepped forward, he sprang erect and bowed, jerking his head back and forth. There was about his action the enthusiasm of a boy, and his face glowed with an eagerness and delight which instantly broke down every barrier between us.

"You wanted to me?" he exclaimed. "You wished me to come?"

"Yes," I confessed, avert from my guard by his enthusiasm. I have been anxious to confer with you, and this is my first opportunity."

"Why I thought you avoided me," he burst forth. "It is because I felt so that I have kept away."

"There was nothing else I could do but pretend," I exclaimed, gaining control over my voice as I spoke. "My every movement has been watched since we left Quebec; this is the first moment I have been left alone—if, indeed, I am now." And I glanced about doubtfully into the shadows of the forest.

"You imagine you may have been followed here? By whom? Casson?"

"By himself or some emissary. Pere Allouez has been my jailer, but chances to be disabled at present. The commissary permitted me to elude him alone, believing you to be safely camped above the rapids, yet his suspicions may easily revive."

"His suspicions! the sturdiest laugh. "So that then is the trouble? It is to keep us apart that he bids me make separate camp each night; and assigns me to every spot of peril. I feel the honor, mademoiselle, yet why am I especially singled out for so great a distinction?"

"He suspects us of being friends. He knew I conferred with you at the current, and even believes that you were with me hidden behind the curtain in the governor's office."

"Yet if all that be true," he questioned, his voice evidencing his surprise. "Why should our friendship arouse his antagonism to such an extent? I cannot understand what crime I have committed, mademoiselle. It is all mystery, even why you should be here with us on this long journey? Surely you had no such thought when we parted last?"

"You do not know what has occurred?" I asked, in astonishment. "No one has told you?"

"Told me! How? I have scarcely held speech with anyone but the Algonquin chief since we took to the water. Casson has but given orders, and Chevre is muzzled as an oyster. I endeavored to find you in Montreal, but you were safely locked behind gray walls. That something was wrong I felt convinced, yet what it might be no one would tell me. I tried questioning the pere, but he only shook his head, and left me unanswered. Tell me then, mademoiselle, by what right does this Casson hold you as a captive?"

"My lips trembled, and my eyes fell. Yet I must answer. "He is my husband, monsieur."

"I caught glimpse of his face, picturing surprise, incredulity. He drew a sharp breath and I noted his hand close tightly on the hilt of his knife."

"Your husband! that curl! Surely you do not jest?"

"Would that I did," I exclaimed, losing all control in sudden wave of anger. "No, monsieur, it is true."

"And I told him swiftly the story of my enforced marriage."

"And Hugo Chevre, your uncle? Did he remain silent? make no protest?" he asked.

"I gave a gesture of despair. "Never did he even conceive what occurred, until I told him later on the river. Even now I doubt if his sluggish brain has grasped the truth. To him the silence was but honor, an opening to possible wealth in the far trade through Casson's influence with La Barre. He could perceive nothing else except his good luck in this riddling business of the care of a poor niece who had been a sorry burden."

"But you explained to him?"

"I tried to, but only to regret the effort. Giant as he is physically, his intellect is that of a big boy. All he can conceive of is revenge—a desire to crush with his hands. He hates Casson, because the man has robbed him of the use of his father's money; but for his position he cares nothing. To him the truth has been done to him, and I fear he will brood over it until he seeks revenge. If he does he will ruin everything."

"D'Artigny stood silent, evidently in thought, endeavoring to grasp the threads of my tale."

"How did you attain the summit of this bluff?" he questioned at last.

"Yonder, there is a deer trail leading down."

"And you fear Casson may follow?"

"He will likely become suspicious if I am long without news, and either seek me himself or send one of his men. This is the first moment of freedom I have experienced since we left Quebec."

"I hardly know how to behave myself."

"And must guard it from being the last," he exclaimed, a note of determination and leadership in his voice. "There are questions I must ask, so that we may work together in harmony, but Casson can never be allowed to suspect that we have communicated. Let us go forward to the end of the trail where you came up; from there we can keep watch below."

"He all grasped my hand, and I had no thought of withdrawing it. To me he was a friend, loyal, trustworthy, the one alone to whom I could confide. Together we clambered over the rough rocks to where the narrow creek led downward."

CHAPTER X.

On the Summit of the Bluff.

Securely screened from observation by the flow growing bushes clinging to the edge of the bluff, and yet with a clear view of the cliff, the rocks half way to the river, D'Artigny found me seated on a hummock of grass, but remained standing himself. The gun was slung low, warning us that our time was short, for with the first coming of twilight I would certainly be sought, if I failed to return to the lower camp."

"You would question me, monsieur," I asked doubtfully. "It was for that you led me here?"

"Yes," I answered, aroused by my voice, but with eyes still scanning the trail. "And there is no time to waste, if I am to do my part intelligently. You must return before the sun disappears, or Monsieur Casson might suspect you had lost your way. You have sought me for assistance, counsel perhaps, but this state of affairs has so often my surprise that I do not think clearly. You have a plan?"

"Scarcely that, monsieur. I would accept, if I could, the duty of the man of doing so is through a confession by Francois Casson. Arrogant he is, and conceited, deeming himself invulnerable. He has even dared boast to me of his victims. But there lies his very weakness: I will return to him with his own weapons, especially my sex. He has even dared boast to me of his victims. But there lies his very weakness: I will return to him with his own weapons, especially my sex. He has even dared boast to me of his victims. But there lies his very weakness: I will return to him with his own weapons, especially my sex."

"He turned now, and looked searchingly into my face, no glimpse of a smile in the gray eyes."

"You do not understand," he said gravely. "You seek his love?"

"I felt his manner a rebuke, a question of my honesty, and swift indignation brought the answering words to my lips."

"And why not pray, must I not defend myself—and do I owe him weapons at hand? Do I owe him kindness, or tender consideration? The man married me as he would buy a slave."

"You may be justified," he admitted regretfully. "Yet how is this to be done?"

"I arose to my feet and stood before him, my face uplifted, and, with one hand, thrust aside the shade of my hat."

"Monsieur, deem you that impossible?"

"His lips parted in a quick smile, revealing the white teeth, and he bowed low, flinging his hat to the ground and standing bareheaded."

"Mon dieu! Monsieur Casson has to be congratulated. Yet it was my thought you said yonder—that you despised the man."

"I do; what reason have I to feel otherwise? Yet there lies my strength in this. He laughs at women."

"It is his pride and boast, and his success in the past has ministered to his self-combustion. He thought me of the same kind, but has already been humbled. Do you not know what that means to a man like him? More than ever he will desire my favor. A week ago he cared nothing for me; now he is an enemy to Rene D'Artigny; and I would not from him as a man should. It is not my nature to do a deed of treachery."

"What else? You propose luring him to love you, that you may gain confession from his lips? To attain this end you barter your honesty, your womanhood; you take advantage of your beauty to ensnare him; you count as ally the loneliness of the wilderness; you say, if I understand aright, you hope through me to avenge the man's jealousy. Is this not true?"

"I drew a quick breath, my eyes staring into his face, and my limbs trembling. His words cut me like a knife, and I would not yield, would not even acknowledge their truth."

"You are unjust, unfairly," I burst forth impulsively. "You will see but the one side—that of the man. I cannot fight this battle with my hands, nor will I submit to such wrong thinking. He has never thought to spare me, and there is no reason why I should show him mercy. I wish your good will, monsieur, your respect, but I cannot hold this plan which I propose as evil. Do you not see, monsieur, that this is a madman's plot?"

"He hesitated, looking at me with such perplexity in his eyes as to prove his doubt."

"I cannot judge you," he admitted at last. "Only that is not the way in which I have been trained. Neither will I stand between you and your revenge nor have part in it. I am your friend, monsieur, always. In every honorable way I will serve you and your cause. If Casson dares violence or insult he must reckon with me, though I fear his will be my indifference. I pledge you this, but I will not play a part or act a lie even at your request."

"You mean you will not pretend to care for me?" I asked, my heart leavened at his words.

"There would be no pretense," he answered frankly. "I do care for you, but I will not dishonor my thought of you by thus deliberately scheming to outwit your husband. I am a man of the woods, the wilderness; not since I was a boy have I dwelt in civilization, but in all the time I have been companion of men to whom honor was everything. I have been comrades with Sieur de la Salle, with Henri de Tonty, and cannot be guilty of an act of treachery, even for your sake. Perchance my case is not the same as the perfumed gallants of Quebec—yet it is mine, and learned in a hard school."

"He went on quietly, "There are two things I cannot ignore—one is, that I am an employee of this Francois Casson, pledged to his service by my own free will; the other is, that you are his wife, joined to him by Holy church, and although you may have assumed these vows under coercion, your promise is binding; I can but choose my path of duty and abide therein."

"His words hurt, angered me; I lacked power of expression, ability to grasp his full meaning and purpose. "You—you desert me then? You—you leave me to this fate?"

"I leave you to reconsider your choice of a husband," he returned gravely, his hat still in hand, his lips unsmiling. "I do believe your womanhood will find a better way to achieve its liberty, but what that way is I must trust you to discover. I am your friend, Adele, always—you will believe that?"

"I did not answer; I could not, because of the choking in my throat, yet I let him grasp my hand. Once I raised my eyes to his, but lowered them instantly in strange confusion. Here was a man I did not understand, whose real motives I could not fathom. His protest had not yet penetrated my soul, and I felt toward him an odd mixture of respect and anger. He released my hand and turned away, and I stood motionless as he crossed the open space between the trees. At the edge of the bluff he paused and glanced about, lifting his hat in gesture of farewell. I do not think I moved, or made response, and an instant later he was gone."

"I know not how long I stood there staring into vacancy, haunted by regret, tortured by fear and humiliation. Slowly all else crystallized into indignation, with a fierce resolve to fight on alone. The sun sank, and all about me clung the purple twilight, yet I did not move. He had been unjust, unfair; his simple code of the woods could not be made to apply to such a situation as this of mine."

"I heard no sound of warning, yet as I turned to retrace my way to the camp below I became suddenly aware of the presence of Casson."

"I had thought of it, but with no mercy in my heart, yet as D'Artigny spoke I felt the ugliness of my threat more acutely, and, for an instant, stood before him—unhappy and ashamed. Then before me arose Casson's face, sarcastic, supercilious, hateful, and I laughed in scorn of the warning."

"Thought of it?" I exclaimed, "yes, but for that I care nothing. Why should I, monsieur? If the man shows me mercy to me, that I should feel regret because he suffers? As to his revenge, death is not more to be dreaded than a lifetime passed in his presence. But why do you make plea on his behalf—the man is surely no friend of yours?"

"I make no plea for him," he answered, strangely sober, "and claim no friendship. My enemy to La Salle is an enemy to Rene D'Artigny; and I would not from him as a man should. It is not my nature to do a deed of treachery."

"What else? You propose luring him to love you, that you may gain confession from his lips? To attain this end you barter your honesty, your womanhood; you take advantage of your beauty to ensnare him; you count as ally the loneliness of the wilderness; you say, if I understand aright, you hope through me to avenge the man's jealousy. Is this not true?"

"I drew a quick breath, my eyes staring into his face, and my limbs trembling. His words cut me like a knife, and I would not yield, would not even acknowledge their truth."

"You are unjust, unfairly," I burst forth impulsively. "You will see but the one side—that of the man. I cannot fight this battle with my hands, nor will I submit to such wrong thinking. He has never thought to spare me, and there is no reason why I should show him mercy. I wish your good will, monsieur, your respect, but I cannot hold this plan which I propose as evil. Do you not see, monsieur, that this is a madman's plot?"

"He hesitated, looking at me with such perplexity in his eyes as to prove his doubt."

"I cannot judge you," he admitted at last. "Only that is not the way in which I have been trained. Neither will I stand between you and your revenge nor have part in it. I am your friend, monsieur, always. In every honorable way I will serve you and your cause. If Casson dares violence or insult he must reckon with me, though I fear his will be my indifference. I pledge you this, but I will not play a part or act a lie even at your request."

"You mean you will not pretend to care for me?" I asked, my heart leavened at his words.

"There would be no pretense," he answered frankly. "I do care for you, but I will not dishonor my thought of you by thus deliberately scheming to outwit your husband. I am a man of the woods, the wilderness; not since I was a boy have I dwelt in civilization, but in all the time I have been companion of men to whom honor was everything. I have been comrades with Sieur de la Salle, with Henri de Tonty, and cannot be guilty of an act of treachery, even for your sake. Perchance my case is not the same as the perfumed gallants of Quebec—yet it is mine, and learned in a hard school."

"He went on quietly, "There are two things I cannot ignore—one is, that I am an employee of this Francois Casson, pledged to his service by my own free will; the other is, that you are his wife, joined to him by Holy church, and although you may have assumed these vows under coercion, your promise is binding; I can but choose my path of duty and abide therein."

"His words hurt, angered me; I lacked power of expression, ability to grasp his full meaning and purpose. "You—you desert me then? You—you leave me to this fate?"

"I leave you to reconsider your choice of a husband," he returned gravely, his hat still in hand, his lips unsmiling. "I do believe your womanhood will find a better way to achieve its liberty, but what that way is I must trust you to discover. I am your friend, Adele, always—you will believe that?"

"I did not answer; I could not, because of the choking in my throat, yet I let him grasp my hand. Once I raised my eyes to his, but lowered them instantly in strange confusion. Here was a man I did not understand, whose real motives I could not fathom. His protest had not yet penetrated my soul, and I felt toward him an odd mixture of respect and anger. He released my hand and turned away, and I stood motionless as he crossed the open space between the trees. At the edge of the bluff he paused and glanced about, lifting his hat in gesture of farewell. I do not think I moved, or made response, and an instant later he was gone."

"I know not how long I stood there staring into vacancy, haunted by regret, tortured by fear and humiliation. Slowly all else crystallized into indignation, with a fierce resolve to fight on alone. The sun sank, and all about me clung the purple twilight, yet I did not move. He had been unjust, unfair; his simple code of the woods could not be made to apply to such a situation as this of mine."

"I heard no sound of warning, yet as I turned to retrace my way to the camp below I became suddenly aware of the presence of Casson."

"I had thought of it, but with no mercy in my heart, yet as D'Artigny spoke I felt the ugliness of my threat more acutely, and, for an instant, stood before him—unhappy and ashamed. Then before me arose Casson's face, sarcastic, supercilious, hateful, and I laughed in scorn of the warning."

"Thought of it?" I exclaimed, "yes, but for that I care nothing. Why should I, monsieur? If the man shows me mercy to me, that I should feel regret because he suffers? As to his revenge, death is not more to be dreaded than a lifetime passed in his presence. But why do you make plea on his behalf—the man is surely no friend of yours?"

"I make no plea for him," he answered, strangely sober, "and claim no friendship. My enemy to La Salle is an enemy to Rene D'Artigny; and I would not from him as a man should. It is not my nature to do a deed of treachery."

"What else? You propose luring him to love you, that you may gain confession from his lips? To attain this end you barter your honesty, your womanhood; you take advantage of your beauty to ensnare him; you count as ally the loneliness of the wilderness; you say, if I understand aright, you hope through me to avenge the man's jealousy. Is this not true?"

"I drew a quick breath, my eyes staring into his face, and my limbs trembling. His words cut me like a knife, and I would not yield, would not even acknowledge their truth."

"You are unjust, unfairly," I burst forth impulsively. "You will see but the one side—that of the man. I cannot fight this battle with my hands, nor will I submit to such wrong thinking. He has never thought to spare me, and there is no reason why I should show him mercy. I wish your good will, monsieur, your respect, but I cannot hold this plan which I propose as evil. Do you not see, monsieur, that this is a madman's plot?"

"He hesitated, looking at me with such perplexity in his eyes as to prove his doubt."

"I cannot judge you," he admitted at last. "Only that is not the way in which I have been trained. Neither will I stand between you and your revenge nor have part in it. I am your friend, monsieur, always. In every honorable way I will serve you and your cause. If Casson dares violence or insult he must reckon with me, though I fear his will be my indifference. I pledge you this, but I will not play a part or act a lie even at your request."

"You mean you will not pretend to care for me?" I asked, my heart leavened at his words.

"There would be no pretense," he answered frankly. "I do care for you, but I will not dishonor my thought of you by thus deliberately scheming to outwit your husband. I am a man of the woods, the wilderness; not since I was a boy have I dwelt in civilization, but in all the time I have been companion of men to whom honor was everything. I have been comrades with Sieur de la Salle, with Henri de Tonty, and cannot be guilty of an act of treachery, even for your sake. Perchance my case is not the same as the perfumed gallants of Quebec—yet it is mine, and learned in a hard school."

"He went on quietly, "There are two things I cannot ignore—one is, that I am an employee of this Francois Casson, pledged to his service by my own free will; the other is, that you are his wife, joined to him by Holy church, and although you may have assumed these vows under coercion, your promise is binding; I can but choose my path of duty and abide therein."

"His words hurt, angered me; I lacked power of expression, ability to grasp his full meaning and purpose. "You—you desert me then? You—you leave me to this fate?"

"I leave you to reconsider your choice of a husband," he returned gravely, his hat still in hand, his lips unsmiling. "I do believe your womanhood will find a better way to achieve its liberty, but what that way is I must trust you to discover. I am your friend, Adele, always—you will believe that?"

"I know not how long I stood there staring into vacancy, haunted by regret, tortured by fear and humiliation. Slowly all else crystallized into indignation, with a fierce resolve to fight on alone. The sun sank, and all about me clung the purple twilight, yet I did not move. He had been unjust, unfair; his simple code of the woods could not be made to apply to such a situation as this of mine."

"I heard no sound of warning, yet as I turned to retrace my way to the camp below I became suddenly aware of the presence of Casson."

"I had thought of it, but with no mercy in my heart, yet as D'Artigny spoke I felt the ugliness of my threat more acutely, and, for an instant, stood before him—unhappy and ashamed. Then before me arose Casson's face, sarcastic, supercilious, hateful, and I laughed in scorn of the warning."

"Thought of it?" I exclaimed, "yes, but for that I care nothing. Why should I, monsieur? If the man shows me mercy to me, that I should feel regret because he suffers? As to his revenge, death is not more to be dreaded than a lifetime passed in his presence. But why do you make plea on his behalf—the man is surely no friend of yours?"

"I make no plea for him," he answered, strangely sober, "and claim no friendship. My enemy to La Salle is an enemy to Rene D'Artigny; and I would not from him as a man should. It is not my nature to do a deed of treachery."

"What else? You propose luring him to love you, that you may gain confession from his lips? To attain this end you barter your honesty, your womanhood; you take advantage of your beauty to ensnare him; you count as ally the loneliness of the wilderness; you say, if I understand aright, you hope through me to avenge the man's jealousy. Is this not true?"

"I drew a quick breath, my eyes staring into his face, and my limbs trembling. His words cut me like a knife, and I would not yield, would not even acknowledge their truth."

"You are unjust, unfairly," I burst forth impulsively. "You will see but the one side—that of the man. I cannot fight this battle with my hands, nor will I submit to such wrong thinking. He has never thought to spare me, and there is no reason why I should show him mercy. I wish your good will, monsieur, your respect, but I cannot hold this plan which I propose as evil. Do you not see, monsieur, that this is a madman's plot?"

"He hesitated, looking at me with such perplexity in his eyes as to prove his doubt."

"I cannot judge you," he admitted at last. "Only that is not the way in which I have been trained. Neither will I stand between you and your revenge nor have part in it. I am your friend, monsieur, always. In every honorable way I will serve you and your cause. If Casson dares violence or insult he must reckon with me, though I fear his will be my indifference. I pledge you this, but I will not play a part or act a lie even at your request."

"You mean you will not pretend to care for me?" I asked, my heart leavened at his words.

"There would be no pretense," he answered frankly. "I do care for you, but I will not dishonor my thought of you by thus deliberately scheming to outwit your husband. I am a man of the woods, the wilderness; not since I was a boy have I dwelt in civilization, but in all the time I have been companion of men to whom honor was everything. I have been comrades with Sieur de la Salle, with Henri de Tonty, and cannot be guilty of an act of treachery, even for your sake. Perchance my case is not the same as the perfumed gallants of Quebec—yet it is mine, and learned in a hard school."

"He went on quietly, "There are two things I cannot ignore—one is, that I am an employee of this Francois Casson, pledged to his service by my own free will; the other is, that you are his wife, joined to him by Holy church, and although you may have assumed these vows under coercion, your promise is binding; I can but choose my path of duty and abide therein."

"His words hurt, angered me; I lacked power of expression, ability to grasp his full meaning and purpose. "You—you desert me then? You—you leave me to this fate?"

"I leave you to reconsider your choice of a husband," he returned gravely, his hat still in hand, his lips unsmiling. "I do believe your womanhood will find a better way to achieve its liberty, but what that way is I must trust you to discover. I am your friend, Adele, always—you will believe that?"

"I did not answer; I could not, because of the choking in my throat, yet I let him grasp my hand. Once I raised my eyes to his, but lowered them instantly in strange confusion. Here was a man I did not understand, whose real motives I could not fathom. His protest had not yet penetrated my soul, and I felt toward him an odd mixture of respect and anger. He released my hand and turned away, and I stood motionless as he crossed the open space between the trees. At the edge of the bluff he paused and glanced about, lifting his hat in gesture of farewell. I do not think I moved, or made response, and an instant later he was gone."

"I know not how long I stood there staring into vacancy, haunted by regret, tortured by fear and humiliation. Slowly all else crystallized into indignation, with a fierce resolve to fight on alone. The sun sank, and all about me clung the purple twilight, yet I did not move. He had been unjust, unfair; his simple code of the woods could not be made to apply to such a situation as this of mine."

"I heard no sound of warning, yet as I turned to retrace my way to the camp below I became suddenly aware of the presence of Casson."

"I had thought of it, but with no mercy in my heart, yet as D'Artigny spoke I felt the ugliness of my threat more acutely, and, for an instant, stood before him—unhappy and ashamed. Then before me arose Casson's face, sarcastic, supercilious, hateful, and I laughed in scorn of the warning."

"Thought of it?" I exclaimed, "yes, but for that I care nothing. Why should I, monsieur? If the man shows me mercy to me, that I should feel regret because he suffers? As to his revenge, death is not more to be dreaded than a lifetime passed in his presence. But why do you make plea on his behalf—the man is surely no friend of yours?"

"I make no plea for him," he answered, strangely sober, "and claim no friendship. My enemy to La Salle is an enemy to Rene D'Artigny; and I would not from him as a man should. It is not my nature to do a deed of treachery."

"What else? You propose luring him to love you, that you may gain confession from his lips? To attain this end you barter your honesty, your womanhood; you take advantage of your beauty to ensnare him; you count as ally the loneliness of the wilderness; you say, if I understand aright, you hope through me to avenge the man's jealousy. Is this not true?"

"I drew a quick breath, my eyes staring into his face, and my limbs trembling. His words cut me like a knife, and I would not yield, would not even acknowledge their truth."

"You are unjust, unfairly," I burst forth impulsively. "You will see but the one side—that of the man. I cannot fight this battle with my hands, nor will I submit to such wrong thinking. He has never thought to spare me, and there is no reason why I should show him mercy. I wish your good will, monsieur, your respect, but I cannot hold this plan which I propose as evil. Do you not see, monsieur, that this is a madman's plot?"

"He hesitated, looking at me with such perplexity in his eyes as to prove his doubt."

"I cannot judge you," he admitted at last. "Only that is not the way in which I have been trained. Neither will I stand between you and your revenge nor have part in it. I am your friend, monsieur, always. In every honorable way I will serve you and your cause. If Casson dares violence or insult he must reckon with me, though I fear his will be my indifference. I pledge you this, but I will not play a part or act a lie even at your request."

"You mean you will not pretend to care for me?" I asked, my heart leavened at his words.

"There would be no pretense," he answered frankly. "I do care for you, but I will not dishonor my thought of you by thus deliberately scheming to outwit your husband. I am a man of the woods, the wilderness; not since I was a boy have I dwelt in civilization, but in all the time I have been companion of men to whom honor was everything. I have been comrades with Sieur de la Salle, with Henri de Tonty, and cannot be guilty of an act of treachery, even for your sake. Perchance my case is not the same as the perfumed gallants of Quebec—yet it is mine, and learned in a hard school."

"He went on quietly, "There are two things I cannot ignore—one is, that I am an employee of this Francois Casson, pledged to his service by my own free will; the other is, that you are his wife, joined to him by Holy church, and although you may have assumed these vows under coercion, your promise is binding; I can but choose my path of duty and abide therein."

"His words hurt, angered me; I lacked power of expression, ability to grasp his full meaning and purpose. "You—you desert me then? You—you leave me to this fate?"

"I leave you to reconsider your choice of a husband," he returned gravely, his hat still in hand, his lips unsmiling. "I do believe your womanhood will find a better way to achieve its liberty, but what that way is I must trust you to discover. I am your friend, Adele, always—you will believe that?"

"I did not answer; I could not, because of

FIRST CAVALRY IS CHEERED BY GULF

TROOPERS WOULD STAY ON BORDER IF KEPT AT POINT ISABEL.

REGIMENT BEYOND CRITICISM

Soldiers Ride Thirty-Five Miles With Little Water and No Food—No Man or Animal Dropped Out of the Line.

Point Isabel, Tex.—"Geo, if they would only leave us here, I'd be glad to stay down on the border for the next three years."

His face was covered with the fine talcum of the desert, his lips were swollen and bleeding, he had ridden 35 miles with little water and no food, but these were his sentiments when his aching eyes fell upon the blue, smiling waters of the Gulf of Mexico, darkening then in the falling twilight. So like Lake Michigan did it seem, so like the bridge path skirting the lake shore. The yellow keys stretching far out into the gulf alone destroyed the illusion, and because the troopers donned their endurance that was describing, two holdays wherein they could bathe and romp in the surf were accorded them.

To cover the distance, the cavalrymen did, under the handicap of parched throats, parched lips and with horses wilting from the intense heat and lack of water, was a feat which convinced Gen. James E. Frazier that the regiment is beyond criticism.

It was by chance that the cavalry made the forced march to Point Isabel. A creditable sprint 14 miles from Brownsville had been selected for a camp (it was the original intention to make the journey to Isabel a two-day affair), but when the vast prairie was reached, revealing to the troopers plain of tough and very grass, with bald spots of dried cactus, which gave forth sizzling heat the colonel ordered officers' call.

"Men," he said, "I cannot feel justified in allowing our soldiers to camp here. There is insufficient water for the animals. There can't be comfort for the men. What do you say to continuing on to Point Isabel?"

A vociferous cheer by the regiment greeted his suggestion. Not a single man or horse fell out, though the pace was a swift one. That is why the regiment lounged on the long even sands of Padre Island beach or cavorted in the surf.

Artillery Horses Stamped.

Private Cecil Thresholt of Battery D, First Illinois Field Artillery, was the hero in a stampede of more than a hundred horses at the Leon Springs camp, it was learned here. While attempting to get the frenzied animals under control, Thresholt was knocked down and trampled upon and suffered severe injuries about the head. The horses stampeded while being led to watering troughs.

A tour of zeal war was experienced by Chicago artillerymen at Leon Springs when shells fired on the range struck tree tops and exploded within a hundred feet of gunners. The trees struck were demolished as by a hurricane. The gunners were protected by steel shields on the field pieces. This was probably the first day of target firing at Leon Springs. The regiment returned to Camp Wilson, where Battery F, which has returned to Urbana, Ill., under the college student ruling of the department.

Soldiers of the Seventh Infantry who know how to tame a wild motorcycle are eager to be attached to the new motorcycle company, to be organized by Eric Gen. Henry A. Greene for the Austin division. The motorcycle company, of a type which is expected to supply cavalry for advance work and motor-track escorting, will consist of 30 motorcycles with 90 riders, each a skilled motorcycle driver as well as an infantryman. The personnel can be increased to 100 men. The company will have two machine guns, mounted on cycles.

Cavalry Lost to Leave.

The First Illinois cavalry must consider itself lucky if it gets back to Chicago in time for Christmas dinner. This statement, made by an officer on the staff of Brigadier General Frazier, sums up the opinions of regular army officers on the militia situation. "If we received orders tomorrow from the war department to send the state troops home to be organized in time to complete the movement before the middle of December, The First Illinois cavalry will probably be the last to go. We have 70,000 miles of 100 miles of single tracked roads. The cars would have to be gathered from every corner of the United States."

There is talk of moving the troops to transports from Point Isabel to New York and New Orleans, but there are many difficulties to be surmounted before this could be accomplished.

A significant fact regarding the stay of the Illinois cavalry is the visit of Captain Frazier of General Frazier's staff to Camp Parker. Captain Frazier told Colonel Foreman he would send 200 more horses to the regiment and the same number next week. If the regiment were to be sent home with the horses would not be sent, according to Colonel Foreman.

Sergeant Fred L. Lipport passed safely through the crisis of his illness and is reported out of danger by the post surgeons.

"Gunners' Plan Switch to Seventh. Recruits from the ranks of the Illinois field artillery have been promised the Seventh Illinois Infantry. When Battery F, the "college" battery of the field artillery, asked here to enter for home, there were many anxieties as to whether the battery is mustered out. It is a way to transfer can be found but the battery is mustered out. It is probable that some of its members will follow that course.

Members of other batteries also have been heard to express a desire to go in the Chicago Infantry regiment still on the border. One of the chief places of interest to the artilleryman has been the machine gun company of the Seventh.

A corporal, who volunteered to polish the boots of Major John Hovinevitch of the Second, just before the regiment left for the North, told his superior officer of his worries about his position at home.

"Who do you work for?" asked the corporal.

"For Charles Hovinevitch," said the corporal, who did not connect the name with that of the major.

"I'm sorry about your job, corporal," he said, "my brother, assured the major, who never had spoken to the corporal before.

Camp Cleanup Commanded.

Complimentary statements on the manner in which the First Illinois brigade is enforcing the most modern regulations were given by regular army officers.

Capt. Campbell King, inspector of troops assigned to the brigade by Maj. Gen. Frederick Funston at Landa, said that the First Illinois, in the cleanliness of the camp site after the Illinois troops marched out.

"Things were cleaned up in better shape than I have seen anywhere," said the regular army officer to Col. Daniel Mortimer of the Seventh. "It was good work and according to the most approved sanitary regulations."

Even the trenches around tents, the holes used for incinerators and every other depression was filled in before the camp was abandoned. Every article of paper, stray piece of wood and like articles were cleaned away, either to be burned or hauled away to be buried.

The task was done so thoroughly that anyone passing that way would have difficulty in telling the layout of the former camp of the First brigade.

Win Palo Alto Battle.

Charging in the face of machine gun and live fire, the troops of the First Illinois cavalry fought a hot and hard battle on the famous battlefield of Palo Alto, and true to the precedent set there in 1846 by Gen. Zachary Taylor in his fight against overbearing Mexican odds, came off victorious.

The conditions of the fight were a duplicate of that battle of 70 years ago, only the Mexicans were imaginary and the bullets were blanks.

The maneuver was under the eyes of Col. E. D. Helmick and J. D. L. Hartman of the regular army, who for two days have been inspecting the equipment and performance of the cavalry.

Looked Like a Capitalist.

Lt. Arthur W. Reebie of Battery F, Illinois Field Artillery, experienced a golden flow of money as a direct result of his impatience for pay day. He received $18 on his first pay day from the government and got impatient waiting for the second pay day. He wired to his father in Chicago and received $100 by telegraphic order just as the paymaster handed him his second pay from the government. He looked like a capitalist to the others, even with their pay from the army.

Father O'Donnell for Chaplain.

Rev. John L. O'Donnell of Chicago has been recommended by Col. John J. Garey to be chaplain of the Second regiment. Father O'Donnell volunteered before the regiment left Chicago. Colonel Garey, who didn't know the regiment was to be organized, was taken into the army, has had the matter under consideration ever since. He found that Father O'Donnell has had experience in this country and has traveled over a good deal of it in horseback.

Capt. John A. Donovan, the senior captain of the Seventh regiment, has been appointed acting adjutant by Col. Daniel Mortimer. He will take the place of Capt. J. H. Sullivan, who the latter is on recruiting duty in Chicago.

Several Mexican laborers with American uniforms were taken into the army, but they had the equipment from the soldiers. They were released after surrendering the property.

SUGAR NOT NEEDED

USE BOILING WATER AS SUBSTITUTE WHEN CANNING FRUIT.

Experts of United States Department of Agriculture Tell How Saving in Cost May Be Effectuated With Good Results.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Fruit for use in jams or jellies or as stewed fruit can be put up or canned without the use of any sugar at all, according to the canning specialists of the United States department of agriculture. They, therefore, advise those who, because of the high price of sugar, have been thinking of reducing the amount of fruit they put up, to cut as much of their surplus as possible by the use of boiling water when sugar-sugar is beyond their means. Any fruit, they say, may be successfully sterilized and reduced to the pack by simply adding boiling water until instead of the lather is mustered out. It is a way to transfer can be found but the battery is mustered out. It is probable that some of its members will follow that course.

Members of other batteries also have been heard to express a desire to go in the Chicago Infantry regiment still on the border. One of the chief places of interest to the artilleryman has been the machine gun company of the Seventh.

"Gunners' Plan Switch to Seventh. Recruits from the ranks of the Illinois field artillery have been promised the Seventh Illinois Infantry. When Battery F, the "college" battery of the field artillery, asked here to enter for home, there were many anxieties as to whether the battery is mustered out. It is a way to transfer can be found but the battery is mustered out. It is probable that some of its members will follow that course.

Members of other batteries also have been heard to express a desire to go in the Chicago Infantry regiment still on the border. One of the chief places of interest to the artilleryman has been the machine gun company of the Seventh.

Capt. Campbell King, inspector of troops assigned to the brigade by Maj. Gen. Frederick Funston at Landa, said that the First Illinois, in the cleanliness of the camp site after the Illinois troops marched out.

"Things were cleaned up in better shape than I have seen anywhere," said the regular army officer to Col. Daniel Mortimer of the Seventh. "It was good work and according to the most approved sanitary regulations."

Even the trenches around tents, the holes used for incinerators and every other depression was filled in before the camp was abandoned. Every article of paper, stray piece of wood and like articles were cleaned away, either to be burned or hauled away to be buried.

The task was done so thoroughly that anyone passing that way would have difficulty in telling the layout of the former camp of the First brigade.

Win Palo Alto Battle.

Charging in the face of machine gun and live fire, the troops of the First Illinois cavalry fought a hot and hard battle on the famous battlefield of Palo Alto, and true to the precedent set there in 1846 by Gen. Zachary Taylor in his fight against overbearing Mexican odds, came off victorious.

The conditions of the fight were a duplicate of that battle of 70 years ago, only the Mexicans were imaginary and the bullets were blanks.

The maneuver was under the eyes of Col. E. D. Helmick and J. D. L. Hartman of the regular army, who for two days have been inspecting the equipment and performance of the cavalry.

Looked Like a Capitalist.

Lt. Arthur W. Reebie of Battery F, Illinois Field Artillery, experienced a golden flow of money as a direct result of his impatience for pay day. He received $18 on his first pay day from the government and got impatient waiting for the second pay day. He wired to his father in Chicago and received $100 by telegraphic order just as the paymaster handed him his second pay from the government. He looked like a capitalist to the others, even with their pay from the army.

Father O'Donnell for Chaplain.

Rev. John L. O'Donnell of Chicago has been recommended by Col. John J. Garey to be chaplain of the Second regiment. Father O'Donnell volunteered before the regiment left Chicago. Colonel Garey, who didn't know the regiment was to be organized, was taken into the army, has had the matter under consideration ever since. He found that Father O'Donnell has had experience in this country and has traveled over a good deal of it in horseback.

Capt. John A. Donovan, the senior captain of the Seventh regiment, has been appointed acting adjutant by Col. Daniel Mortimer. He will take the place of Capt. J. H. Sullivan, who the latter is on recruiting duty in Chicago.

Ironing Hint.

Iron the button side of a waist in a folded, flat, buttoned position, turned downward. It will prevent them from breaking.

IS THERE AN APOSTASY IN MORALS?

By REV. J. H. RALSTON, D.D.
Secretary of Correspondence Department,
Meady Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, they gave them over to a reprobate mind, doing those things which are not convenient. Rom. 1:28.

In scripture the perfect man is described as the man of clean hands and a pure heart, that is of correct motives and pure motives. Every law of nature and ethics shows that to have a pure stream there must be a pure fountain, however pure the stream may be. It is no wonder, then, that every good man should have a pure heart. O God, renew a right heart in me, that I may not be defiled by the filth of the world.

For some years many of the greatest teachers of the word of God have been saying that the race of mankind is not in the apostasy referred to in Paul's second letter to the Thessalonians in the use of the term "a time of falling away." With very many observations in the past, we have seen the line of impurity in religious teaching.

But it is not to any apostasy that we now wish to refer, and we ask very earnestly, is there a present apostasy in morals? We are not going to dogmatize and insist that there is, but we wish to think of a few things with reference to the present state of morals.

How can we check up on morals? Christians might start with the law of the Christian life—the law of grace—which in itself is the law that produces the best results; or the Sermon on the Mount might be in view, which is below that of the Christian law, and above that of the heathen. The moment we begin to estimate a man from the Sermon on the Mount we are overwhelmed, for obedience to that law has been the standard of the race of mankind as a whole, and all are guilty with respect to the supreme law to God demanded. But we deprecate at once to the fact, however much we are not abridged as far as a general standard of morals is concerned.

The first two commandments deal with the worship of God. Are not the words of the text true that men do not love to "retain God in their knowledge"? Do they not worship profanely everything? Do they not worship the creature instead of the Creator? Do they not worship the creature instead of the Creator? Do they not worship the creature instead of the Creator?

Coming to the sixth commandment, which says "Thou shalt not kill," let us ask the question, are we not murdering in the most literal sense? Is it not the case that we are murdering in the most literal sense? Is it not the case that we are murdering in the most literal sense?

It was with reference to the breach of the seventh commandment that the expression of "the reign of lust" was made. Evidence of low morals as to this commandment are everywhere. It is difficult to obtain with accuracy, but the annals of the divorce courts, the large portions of various cities set aside for the purpose of prostitution, the steady demand of the habitues of the theaters for plays that accentuate marital infidelity and the exposure of the lives of the actors and actresses to the temptations of theaters; and other advertisements in many popular pictorial publications, furnish some evidence and, probably at the present time as never before, the state of dress of a very large number of women concerning which delicacy forbids further remark, reaches a climax.

In the breach of the eighth, ninth and tenth commandments are not comparatively as conspicuous as those of the sixth and seventh, yet dishonesty, lying and covetousness are everywhere. Before the people are yet upon their knees their virtues and no man escapes their touch.

Reformatory movements of various kinds; good laws on moral well-being; the rise of public sentiment against impurity and numerous cruelty of the day, will do much to rectify the situation here, the only adequate and permanent method of public reform is the power of God given in the new birth.

W. L. DOUGLAS

"THE SHOE THAT HOLDS ITS SHAPE"
$3.00 $3.50 $4.00 $4.50 & $5.00 FOR MEN AND WOMEN
W. L. Douglas makes the shoe that holds its shape. He makes shoes for over 9000 shoe dealers. The Best Known Shoes in the World.

W. L. Douglas makes the shoe that holds its shape. He makes shoes for over 9000 shoe dealers. The Best Known Shoes in the World.

The quality of W. L. Douglas shoes is guaranteed by more than 40 years of experience in making shoes. The smart style and the leather in the Fashion Centres of America. They are made in a well-equipped factory at Brockton, Mass., by the highest paid, skilled shoemakers, under the direction and supervision of experienced men, all working with an intense determination to make the best shoes for the price that money can buy.

Ask your shoe dealer for W. L. Douglas shoes. If he cannot supply you with the kind you want, take no other shoe. Write for interesting booklet explaining how to get shoes of the highest standard of quality for the price.

LOOK FOR W. L. Douglas name and the retail price stamped on the bottom.

W. L. Douglas Shoe Co., Brockton, Mass.

Boys' Shoes $2.00 $2.50 & $3.00

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

ITEMS OF INTEREST TO LOCAL PEOPLE

Happenings of the Week Told in Short Paragraphs—What's Doing in and Near Our Hustling Village.

There will be services at St. Ann's church Sunday morning at 9 o'clock.

William Ankels is working for the Cadillac Automobile company in Chicago.

Miss Alice Horn accepted a position with Marshall Field this week as an inspecting cashier.

Mrs. M. J. Colekin and H. H. Hubbard of Chicago visited with Barrington friends Monday.

Mrs. Harry Frick visited several days last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stooker at Popular Grove.

Mrs. William Schenbouts visited Mrs. Edward Peters at the Lakeside hospital, Chicago, Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Reuben Piaggio entertained the Debut club from DesPlains at her home on Grove avenue last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. H. H. Sprague and mother, Mrs. Minnie Newman, of Honey Lake visited Dr. and Mrs. Libberton at Norwood Park Wednesday.

Albert Wiedenbeck went to Lancaster, Wisconsin, Tuesday where he was called on account of the illness of his father and also brother.

Mrs. William Thorpe went to the Augustana hospital, Chicago, this morning for a second operation in hopes of getting permanent relief.

The Milk Producers' association of Elgin are planning on a big time next Sunday at Schaumburg, which is the date of its annual picnic and dance.

Mrs. G. C. Alexander of Corona, California, is visiting in the home of Prof. and Mrs. E. S. Smith. Mrs. Alexander is a sister of Mrs. Smith.

School boys at D. E. Lamey's.

The Gillette Kindergarten will not open until about January first.

Mr. and Mrs. George Page are expected to leave here next week to live in Chicago.

Walter Thompson of Chicago is a guest this week of his sister, Mrs. Edward Ernst of Elgin street.

Mr. and Mrs. James Regan and daughter of Chicago were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Regan.

George VanHaeften, Jr., enters Wisconsin university at Madison next week to take an agricultural course.

August Salow and family of Manhattan were guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gilly south of town.

Quite a crowd saw "Young Scooty" Saturday night as he strode across streets on Main street. The exhibition was free.

Several of the Public Service company's men have been working in Arlington Heights this week assisting in laying and repairing gas mains.

Mrs. John McCoy, who has been very ill with blood poisoning for nearly three weeks, is improving and was able to be up for a short time yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Lane of Lee Center and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gross of Franklin Grove were guests at the Spenser home from Friday until Monday.

F. I. Carpenter and family leave this evening for Santa Barbara, California, to spend the winter and to be with their son who is attending school in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Leake and Mr. and Mrs. James Richardson of Amboy were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Spenser last Thursday and Friday.

Dr. W. J. Libberton officiated at the funeral of Reuben B. Hallett at St. Carroll Tuesday. Mr. Hallett was an old friend of Dr. Libberton during his many years of residence at St. Carroll.

Henry Fitgel, a local teamster, is sick at his home with droup.

Mrs. P. E. Liles is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Leon Newton, at Mdywood.

Miss Edna Homuth is visiting her sisters at Woodstock and McHenry this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wheelist of Elgin spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schumacher.

D. C. Schroeder reports recent sales of Ford cars as follows: Leonard cars, Mrs. M. L. Dibs, John Schaefer, Herman Kuhlman, couplets, George Willburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Harmoning visited several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dehning at Arlington Heights and with relatives at Lake Zurich.

The Bowman Dairy company is contemplating the erection of an addition to their plant here. The contract has been let to Nathan Tobus & company, Chicago.

Mrs. S. E. Homuth and children visited Mrs. V. H. Rieke at Woodstock the latter part of last week. Mr. Homuth went over Saturday and returned with them Sunday evening.

Miss Ruth Garbisch recently gave up her position as stenographer with the Jones Foundry company of Chicago and is now an operator in the Barrington telephone office.

Mrs. A. J. Rutalsbauer, formerly Miss Mabel Brinker of this village, underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Deschob hospital, Chicago, last Thursday afternoon.

Guests at the Schenbouts home over Saturday and Sunday were: Misses Emma and Florence Rosenbaum, Mr. Ryerson and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Peterson and family of Chicago.

Callers Sunday at the Richard Lytle home were former Judge and Mrs. Charles Cutright of Austin and Mrs. Kate Fallon of Irving Park. Mrs. Cutright is a sister of Mrs. Lytle.

The Baptist Sunday school picnic was held Saturday at Lake Zurich and a large crowd was in attendance. Hay racks and automobiles were used for conveyance while several went via train.

Payette Merrill of Barrington is the new clerk at Walton's Retail drug store. Mr. Walton is fortunate in securing Mr. Merrill's services as an experienced drug clerk.—Suburban Times, DesPlains.

The Illinois State fair at Springfield starts tomorrow and continues for eight days, closing Saturday, September 23. There will be no Sunday program. The race program will be found on another page of this issue.

Mrs. William Hendrickson and daughter, Mrs. Eva Perkins, of Richmond visited here Tuesday and Wednesday at the home of A. D. Church. Mrs. Hendrickson has been a resident of McHenry county since 1851.

The Woman's Country Life association will meet at the home of Mrs. H. A. Brown on Grove avenue tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A musical program has been arranged after which a social cup of tea will be enjoyed by the members.

Mrs. George Carmichael and two eldest sons, Thelma and Linton, are visiting relatives in Idaho. Linton will return next week and begin his studies at the Lewis Institute, Chicago. He was a member of the high school graduating class in June.

John Jahoke of Liberty street, a teamster, was recently injured in the gravel pit near Chicago Highlands, when he was caught by a cave-in of gravel. His left ankle was badly sprained and dislocated as a result. Herbert Kampert was nearby and assisted in rescuing him. Mr. Jahoke will be unable to work for some time.

Harrington merchants are planning on a national pay up week which has been set for October 2-7. The plans and particulars will be announced next week in a full page advertisement. A large number of other cities in Illinois are to observe the week likewise, which is intended to be a national affair. Watch for the announcement next week.

All members and friends of the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal church are cordially invited to attend the social which will be given in the church parlors on Friday evening, September 15. The league is planning to send a barrel of old clothing to the Walsh Avenue church. Kindly bring clothing for the barrel to the church on Friday evening.

Farmers who have been observing the conditions regarding insects report an extremely large number of grasshoppers—the most numerous in many years. Whether the interests of their appearance this season is favorable to their development next year we cannot surmise, but may our country farmers' advisor can answer. The turkey is an enemy of this insect pest and it is urged that the farmers raise as many of these birds as possible next year. Turn the turkeys out into the fields, feed them these, if necessary, to lead them about, and get all insects destroyed which they will eat, is advised.

Text books used in Barrington high school at D. E. Lamey's.

Rev. Farwell of the Baptist church Sunday, both morning and evening. Everybody is cordially invited.

The Bennett school near Lake Zurich opened Monday with Miss Josephine Caslow as teacher. This is Miss Caslow's second term as teacher of this school.

Dr. W. A. Shearer and Earl Jencks are on a trip to Denver, Colorado, where they have gone with the intention of buying land. They are expected home the latter part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Saelstinger of Lake Zurich and niece, Miss Ruth Catlow, of Main street, are on a motor trip to Niagara Falls and other points in Canada. They will be gone two weeks.

Ira Furby of Onarga spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Furby. Miss Elsie Furby left here last week to take her position as teacher of a commercial course in the high school at Maricopa, this state, about thirty miles from St. Louis.

The St. Paul's congregation has been invited to attend the misanthrope at Long Grove Sunday. The regular morning services will be held as usual after which many of the members will attend the fest. On Sunday, September 14, the pastor will preach in English.

Mersch Brothers moved their greenhouse to Palatine last week where new and larger quarters have been prepared for them. William Skinner has rented Scott's greenhouse, formerly occupied by Messrs. Mersch, and will devote his time to growing mushrooms.

Mrs. M. L. Coe submitted to an operation Tuesday in Chicago for the removal of a portion of the bone in her right arm and is getting along nicely since the operation. Mrs. Coe fell and fractured the member several years ago and this is the second operation she has undergone in hopes of relief.

Officers, members and others interested in the Baptist Young People's Union are earnestly requested to attend the rally in the church parlor at 6:45 p. m. on Sunday, September 17. This meeting is known throughout the county as young people's rally day. Come and help us.—Devotional Committee.

Work on the new Catlow hall is being pushed very rapidly and before real winter weather rolls around it is hoped to dedicate this big new structure. The basement will be used as a dining hall and gymnasium; the first floor as an auditorium and picture theatre, and the second floor for lodge purposes.

The steady rains Monday night and Tuesday made full planning for the farmers in this vicinity more to their liking and was otherwise very beneficial. The state fair opens tomorrow at Springfield and we may expect some additional showers this week or next, as the state fair is not fully complete without plenty of rain.

There will be a picnic and card of harness races at the fair grounds at Libertyville Sunday, September 17. A number of the best horses from Kankakee and Lake county have been entered and the affair promises a series of races equal to any seen hereabouts. About 20 horses have been entered. Races begin promptly at 1:30 p. m.

Mrs. Addie Liles underwent a very painful operation in Chicago last Friday when she had a nerve in her face killed. The attending physician was not successful in his first attempt to dislodge the nerve, and three attempts were made before the right nerve was severed. Mrs. Liles had to bear the operation without aid of anesthetics.

In a letter from the Barrington boys stationed at San Antonio, Texas, they acknowledge receipt of a box containing many good things from the local Woman's Relief Corps, for which they are very thankful. John West and Irving Meyer of Company C left for Springfield before the box arrived, the latter states, and did not have the opportunity to share it with them.

Miss Beulah McLughlin of Franklin street, who has had considerable trouble with her eyes, is somewhat improved and attending classes in the high school, although unable to study. She recently leaned her head back on a car seat while on a trip to Stockford and was seized with a paralysis of the eye muscles shortly afterwards, thought to be due to pressure on the neck. She is being treated in Elgin at intervals and complete recovery is expected.

A stranger traveling through the country selling Shetland ponies met with an accident here on Main street Sunday night. The string of ponies were tied together following the leader, who on swung out of line just as a big automobile was passing. The machine hit the pony, knocking him down and plunging him under the fender, causing slight injuries to the horse as possible last year. Sam Peters bought the pony and hopes soon to nurse him back to health. Others who purchased animals are Spencer and Lolita Rieke.

"Clear Up" a Doubtful Situation by Telephone

WHEN a question arises in the daily course of business that requires the decision of some person not at hand, turn to your telephone for assistance.

Whether the individual, whom it is desired to talk to, be in the same city or at some distant point, he can usually be reached easily and quickly by Bell Local or Long Distance lines.

Chicago Telephone Company
J. H. Conrath, District Manager
Telephone 5903

Barrington Mercantile Co.

FARM TOOLS,
Cement, Sand, Building Tile, Rock Phosphate and Ground Limestone. Our prices are right.

Barrington Mercantile Co.

When any faucet in the system of pipes connected with it is opened, the act directs an enveloping gas flame onto a copper coil through which the water circulates with the effect of immediately raising its temperature so that

Hot Water

flows out of the faucet. Closing the faucet reduces the flame to the dimensions of a glimmering pilot light—and that's the working process of the

AUTOMATIC
WATER HEATER

It's the highest type of water heater, is the Automatic—a machine ready to respond day or night, requiring only that you merely turn the faucet.

Sold on Easy Payments.
—Ranging over 18 months

Prices: $65.00 up

Demonstrations at our DISPLAY ROOMS

Public Service Co. of Northern Illinois

LEN SMALL

A Successful Farmer, Stock Raiser and Fair Manager, President of Illinois State Board of Agriculture, invites and requests your attendance to the

ILLINOIS STATE FAIR

September 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 1916
GREATEST FAIR ON EARTH—THE FAIR OF QUALITY
Nine Days and Evenings

MAGNIFICENT STOCK SHOW

Speed Program—$25,000

TREMENDOUS FARM PRODUCT DISPLAY

Wonderful Machinery Exhibits

Beautiful Art Exhibits

State Educational Exhibits

Board of Health Exhibit

University of Illinois Exhibit

Manufactures and Liberal Arts Exhibit

World's Greatest Poultry Show

Animal and Bird Exhibit

Apiary Exhibit

Delicious and Grand Fruit Exhibit—Culinary and Pantry Stores—Beautiful Cut Flowers and Decorations

Up-to-the-minute Automobile Show

Spectacular Fireworks

Aviation Meet

Automobile Races

Hankinson's Auto Polo

Fair Avenue

Circus in front of Grand Stand

Tremendous Crowds—A Fair to Interest All

LEN SMALL, President

B. M. DAVISON, Secretary

U. S. SHIP IS HELD UP
G. O. P. WINS IN MAINEBRITISH VIOLATE AMERICA'S NEUTRALITY OFF THE PHILIPPINES.

LANSING NOTIFIED OF ACT

Captain Compelled to Give English Commander the Ship's Manifest and List of Passengers—Basis for Protest.Washington, Sept. 14.—(Reuter) General Light, commander of American military forces in the Philippines, reported to the war department facts that show a clear violation of American neutrality when a British destroyer held up the American steamer Cebu off Cebu Island early Monday.General Light reported that the Cebu was a full and a half ton American territorial waters when she was stopped and boarded.The Cebu's captain was compelled to give Lieutenant Light, the British commander, the ship's manifest and passenger list.The official report was held before Secretary of State Lansing by the war department.On releasing the Cebu, the lieutenant made this note in its log: "Interdicted at 3:50 a. m. 8-11-16, examined and passed."There has been more than one complaint about the activity of the British vessels around the Philippines, and while General Light's report fur nishes the basis for a specific protest, it is probable that Great Britain will be called upon to restrict the operations of her patrolling squadron generally in and near the islands.

RECORD ADVANCE FOR FRENCH

Capture Great German Trench System in Day—Take 1,500 Prisoners Menace Kaiser's Lines.Paris, Sept. 14.—In the wildest and most sensational advance recorded since the opening drive of the French offensive at Verdun the French on Tuesday swept forward south of the Somme, advanced two miles east of Comblis, captured the entire German defensive system in a triangle approxi mately two miles by three or four, es tablished themselves along the vital Peronne-Bapaume highroad and captured
1,500 prisoners.In this sweeping advance, officially reported by Paris less than half an hour was consumed. In the area cap tured lie not only a great German trench system, but the strategically important highways Nos. 145 and No. 76, the Paris-Verdun road.The advance to the Peronne-Bapaume road, the chief route of commu nication between the great German bases. The French advance thrusts a salient into the German front which menaces Comblis on three sides.Berlin, via London, Sept. 14.—The German official report regarding military operations in France says:"On both sides of the Somme enemy attempts to make local attacks gener ally were frustrated by our units of fire.
The village of Glucy fell into the hands of the enemy."

BULGARS ROUTED BY ALLIES

Czar Ferdinand's Troops Hurled From Positions West of Vardar, Giving Way for 800 Yards.London, Sept. 14.—Defeated by the entente allies in a 30-hour battle, the Bulgarians are retreating along the Struma on the Macedonian front.
Heavy losses were inflicted on the troops of Czar Ferdinand, whose forces are being pursued by the French and British.Athens reports that the French have crossed the Struma and captured the village of Yenimah, within ten miles of Demir-Hissar.In addition entente troops west of the Vardar, near Majada, four miles south of Gilevo, on the Serbian front, have driven the Bulgarians from their positions along a two-mile front, penetrating the enemy's line to a depth of nearly one-half mile, Paris advises say.German army headquarters and announces heavy fighting along both the Struma and Vardar, declaring the operations in the latter region resulted successfully for the Bulgarians.

Two Killed in Car Strike

New York, Sept. 14.—The first tragedy of the traction strike opened the fifth day of the struggle between the car men's union and the transportation companies of the city. A trolley op erated by a "green" motorman got be hind control as it started down a grade at One Hundred and Seventy fourth street and Boston road, crash ing into two trolley buses on Tuesday.
Two persons were killed and nine in jured.

Resume Persecution of Jews

Berlin, Sept. 14.—The Deutsche News agency quotes the Russian newspaper Izvestia as stating that persecution of the Jews in Petrograd and Moscow has been resumed, the Russian police encouraging the mobs.

Twenty-Two Die in Mexico Wreck

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 14.—Twenty-two persons, about half of whom were German soldiers, were killed when a north-bound train in the National Rail way at Mexico struck a spreading rail near Ortiz, Chihuahua.GOVERNOR, TWO U. S. SENATORS AND FOUR CONGRESSMEN ARE ELECTED.

AIDED BY THE PROGRESSIVES

Republican Landslide Carries Entire Congressional Delegation and Legislature—Milliken Has Plurality of 10,000 Over Curtis.August 31, Sept. 13.—Maine went back to the Republican fold by a de cisive margin in the biennial election held on Monday. The Republicans made a clean sweep, electing a gov ernor, two United States senators, four congressmen and the legislature.The Republican candidate for gov ernor, Carl E. Milliken of Island Falls, was elected governor over the incum bent, Oakley G. Curtis, Democrat, by about 12,000 votes. With but 39 precincts out of 535 in the state missing, the vote was: Milliken, 77,045; Curtis, 64,870.Col. Frederick Hale, the Republican candidate for United States senator for the first time, was elected over Sen ator Charles F. Johnson of Waterville (Dem.), by approximately 6,000 votes.
Johnson's wide personal popu larity had given the Democrats great hope of his return.Ex-Gov. Bert M. Fernald of West Poland, the Republican candidate for United States senator for the second time, was elected over Prof. Kenneth C. M. Sills of Bowdoin College (Dem.)
with 7,500 votes to spare.In the congressional election Louis B. Jewell of Lewiston (Rep.) was elected in the First district over ex
-State Auditor Lauman A. Stevens of Wells (Dem.) by 3,000; Wallace H.
White, Jr. of Lewiston (Rep.) was elected over Congressman Daniel J.
McGillivuddy of Waterville (Dem.) in the Second district by about 500; Con gressman John A. Peters of Ellsworth (Rep.) was elected over Secretary (Rep.)
of State John E. Bunker (Dem.) in the Third district by 4,000; and Ira G.
Hercy of Houlton (Rep.) over Leon ard A. Pierce of Houlton (Dem.) in the Fourth district by 5,000. Lincoln county, for years strongly Democratic, threw its vote to the Republicans.White had a plurality over McGillivuddy of 473 votes. McGillivuddy's defeat was the surprise of the campaign. He carried his city—Lewiston—by 1,200, although he lost the city of Auburn, across the Androscoggin river, by 300.
The election of Fred E. Stevens (Rep.) of Bangor, who is a part, was another surprise, as he stands on a platform for the strict enforcement of the prohibition law.Both branches of the legislature will be strongly Republican, whereas now the senate is Republican and the house Democratic, with the Democrats in control of the executive. The results of the five Progressive members.

U. S. MEAT SUPPLY PERILED

Beef Shipments Lead Increases as Total Animals Decrease, National City Bank Report Shows.New York, Sept. 12.—The European war is encroaching seriously upon the meat supply of this country, according to figures made public by the foreign trade department of the National City bank. Notwithstanding the marked in crease in the number of food animals in the United States, exports of meat have increased since the beginning of the war and of beef alone exports are greater by tenfold.The compilation shows that exports of meat of all kinds, which amounted to $15,000,000 in 1914, rose to $25,000,000 in 1915, and to $30,000,000 in 1916 and 1917.
The increase of 100 per cent in the total meat exports during the first year of the war and 200 per cent in the sec ond year is striking when compared with the gain in beef exports alone.
The quantity of fresh beef exported jumped from 6,000,000 pounds in 1914 to 12,000,000 in 1915 and 21,000,000 in 1916.

12 DIE IN BRIDGE COLLAPSE

Span Being Hoisted Into Place Falls at Quabbin—Property Loss Is Es timated at $50,000,000.Quebec, Sept. 13.—Witnessed by sev eral thousand persons and with a crash, like an explosion of shells, the 5,000-ton cantilever span of the world's greatest bridge collapsed and fell into the St. Lawrence river on Monday with a loss of life estimated at 12. The property loss will be approximately $30,000,000.

Big U. S. Fleet to Drill

Old Point Comfort, Va., Sept. 13.— Old-point battleships, destroyers and supply ships of the Atlantic fleet, re turned from Hampton Roads for the southern drilling grounds off the Vir ginia Capes.

Glass Workers' in Riot

Yorktown, Ind., Sept. 13.—Striking glass workers and stickblenders in ported to fill their pipes, clashed in pitched battle in the village streets here, figuring scores injured or less se verely.

NEXT!

LONG SESSION ENDS REVENUE BILL WINS

CONGRESS ADJOURNS AFTER $205,000,000 IN ADDITION TO NOR MAL TAXES PROVIDED.Appropriations Break Record and House Act on Crisis Gaining Out of European War.Washington, Sept. 13.—In a state session following the adjournment of congress on Friday, President Wil son called attention to the "helpful and human legislation" passed and de clared that while his regretted addition of legislation dealing with the recent dispute between the railroads and the employees had not been completed he had every reason to believe the ques tion would be taken up immediately after congress reconvenes.Congress, which adjourned at 10 p. m., appropriated exactly $125,000,000, which, with obligations and authoriza tions for the future, makes the total $1,858,381,485.Just before adjournment, Representa tive Gurnea of Massachusetts intro duced a resolution, which he an nounced he would press at the winter session, for congressional investigation of organizations which it is alleged un der foreign influence have attempted to affect elections of congressmen. He named the American League for Con stitution and the American Commerce and Protective committee among those he wanted investigated to disclose the source of their financial support and to determine whether they have violat ed the neutrality of the United States.

TOLD TO AGUE AMERICANS

President Tells Mexicans U. S. Prop erty Must Be Guaranteed Safely Before Peace Can Exist.Washington, Sept. 13.—Safety to American lives and property must be guaranteed and the harbor must be protected before peace between Mex ico and the United States can exist, President Wilson told the Mexican members of the joint commission.Following the outlining of the ad ministration's stand, made by Sec retary of State Lansing at the coun cil's first formal meeting in New York Monday, President Wilson tele graphed the commission on Thursday his "respectful but his determination will be crowned by a success which will long cement the friendship be tween the two countries."The telegram was in answer to a telegraphic message of greetings from the commission.New London, Conn., Sept. 13.—The American and Mexican commissioners took a recess on Thursday to study thoroughly the data affecting the border situation.

IMPORTANT NEWS

ITEMS

Salonid, Sept. 11.—The Greek garri son of Voreia, an important fortress west of Salonika, has joined the rev olutionary movement and decided its intention of joining the allies.Field Headquarters of American Eu ropean Expeditionary Forces (via Colum bus, N. Y.), Sept. 11.—Gen. J. P. Pershing, commander of the punitive ex pedition, declared the report of a clash between Villa followers and re giments of United States soldiers near El Valle was "absolutely without foundation."

Seize All Copper on Vessel

Amsterdam, Sept. 13.—The Norwe gian steamer Lofoten, bound from Lon don to Rotterdam, has been sunk by a submarine. The crew of the subma rine stripped the steamer of all cop per objects before blowing it up.

Train Hits Auto: Three Die

Leweland, Colo., Sept. 13.—Three persons were killed and another per haps fatally injured when their auto mobile was struck by a train. The dead: James M. Heddlson, his wife and Mrs. Clara M. Heddlson.

TAKE FORT SILISTRIA

GERMAN-BULGAR FORCE CAP
TURES STRONGHOLD NEAR ROMANIAN CAPITAL.

HEAVY LOSSES FOR ALLIES

Austrians Drive For Back Following Battle in Transylvania, but Are Forced to Relieve to Former Positions by Ruse Counter-Attacks.Berlin, via London, Sept. 12.—Offi cial announcement was made on Sun day that the German and Bulgarian forces that are invading Dobruja, eastern Rumania, have captured the Romanian capital. The announce ment follows:"Silistria has fallen. The Romanians and Russians during the last few days appear to have suffered considerable losses.""South of Dorina-Watra (southern Bulgaria) our troops came in touch with Rumanian forces."Silistria is one of the line of Rumanian fortresses on the southern bank of the Danube. It is 25 miles northwest of Tulcea, capture of which was one of the invaders was announced last week.Silistria is considered the gateway to Bucharest. With its gains disposed of there are practically no more natu ral obstacles to the drive of the Rus sians toward the Rumanian cap ital.Another aerial attack on the Rumanian Black Sea coast and on the Bulgarian warships in these waters was announced officially as follows:"German warplanes successfully dropped bombs on grain silos, oil tanks and the railroad station at Con stanza, and also on the Russian naval forces in port. Notwithstanding a hostile counter action, all our planes returned unharmed."Vienna, via London, Sept. 12.—After a battle along the front between Pe tersburg and Hirtzen in lower Transyl vania, the invading Rumanian forces were driven back two and a half miles, the war office announced.The Rumanians then launched a new and strong attack against the southern wing of the Austrian forces, which was compelled to retreat.

GOLF TITLE TO 'CHICK' EVANS

First Player in History to Land Both Crowns in the Same Season.Philadelphia, Sept. 12.—Two men came out of the West, champions, and from Chicago, to struggle for the ribbon of the links in the first game at the Marlborough club on Satur day, and when the decisive putt had been laid so close to the cup on the different green it is hard to doubt as to the outcome, one of the two, Chick Evans, Jr., had emerged champion of them all.The "Chick" defeated Robert G. Hargrave, last year's winner, 4 and 3, over the 90-hole route.
Now Evans wears the double crown, amateur and open. Never before, either in this country or Great Britain, has the same man won both the am ateur and open title in the same season.
Some few have landed both crowns, but never in the same year. Evans won the national open title at Phila delphia in June.

WILSON AT SUMMER HOME

Political Conference Due This Week—
First Vacation for President
This Year.Long Branch, N. J., Sept. 12.—Pres ident Wilson began his first vacation of the year by leaving plans for the "purch ing campaign" will be conducted from Shadow Lake. The president visited his daughter, Mrs. William G. McAdoo, who is ill at Spring Lake. He attend ed a theater performance here on Sat urday night. The president expects this week to get in active touch with the campaign. Vance McCormick, chairman of the Democratic national committee, will come here early in the week to begin a series of political conferences. Secretary McAdoo dis cussed the campaign with Mr. Wilson in a general way.

GEN. PERSHING AFTER VILLA

United States Troops Pass Through San Antonio, Texas—Determine to Get Trace of Outlaw.San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 13.—Gen eral Pershing's troops south of the border have again taken up the chase of Pancho Villa. General Pershing re ported to General Funston on Monday that his men had already passed through Santa Clara canyon, 60 miles south of the punitive expedition's last headquarters at El Valle.Washington, Sept. 13.—Recent move ments of American troops in Mexico in search of "Pancho" Villa, reported marching toward the American border, were reported today for the first time on Monday by General Pershing in a dispatch to the war department.American patrols from El Valle, the southernmost American outpost, es corted Santa Clara canyon, reporting they had been unable to find Villa in any of that territory.

AITKEN WINS THREE RACES

Peugeot Driver Captures Event of the Harvest Auto Racing Classic at Indianapolis.Indianapolis, Sept. 12.—John Aitken, piloting a Peugeot, won all three of the events of the Harvest auto racing classic on Saturday. He drove the last eight miles of the 100-mile event with a broken steering arm.
Aitken led consistently throughout the race, and won the two, with Ed die Rickenberg a close second. The time was 1:07:00.01, an average of 88.34 miles an hour.

German U-Boat Is Caught

New York, Sept. 13.—Four English trawlers trapped a German submarine near the Loughs. The boat was found to be the U-boat, which had been sighted near the Loughs. The U-boat was captured by the English trawlers.

German Seize $100,000,000

The Hague, Netherlands, Sept. 13
(via London).—The Belgian Dagblad announces that the German authorities have seized $100,000,000 ($150,000,000), which had been placed in the coffers of the Belgian National bank.

STATE NEWS

Bloomington—Five hundred deli gates are here to attend the annual convention of the German-American club of Illinois.Chrysler—The Great steel mill was destroyed by fire. It will be rebuilt.The mill recently was purchased by Smith Brothers from Henry Gross.
Decteur—Log riding is the craze of J. E. Cottle of Elgin near the ma chine into a lake in Nelson park, where it was found by the park custodian.Petersburg—The three-day con vention of the Central Baptist asso ciation of Illinois has closed after hav ing attracted an unusually representa tive attendance.Dixon—Hunter Howard, thirty, was killed instantly and Clyde Edward se riously injured when the auto in which they were riding went over an embank ment near Scarborough.Decatur—Fremont Palmer of Cen tral was killed and three other travellers were injured in a collision between two Illinois Central freight trains near Ellington.Aurora—Harry L. Baker was elected secretary and treasurer of the Lafayette of Northern Illinois at the convention held in Rockford.Springfield—The Illinois State association of the public schools here was delayed one month by action of the state board, as a precaution against an epidemic of influenza.Freeport—George Connor, seventy years old, wealthy farmer and Civil war veteran, was killed when,
while walking on a railroad track, he failed to hear the approach of a train.Jacksonville.—Believing that a rifle which he had picked up was a toy gun, Mrs. Oleta Cameron placed the weapon at Charles Grunstein and pulled the trigger. The bullet struck Grunstein in the forehead, killing him instantly.Decatur—City officials, local busi ness men and officials of the schools of Decatur and Mason county went to Springfield to protest against the sit ing of the state board which put this county in restricted area because of infa ntile polio.Galva—Henry county alone averaged about forty bushels to the acre, accord ing to reports received here. Oats around Galva run about forty-five bush els to the acre, according to the state conference of the Free Methodist church opened here. By appointment of Bishop B. R. Jones who was detained at Chicago, Rev. D. S. Warner of Chicago presided.New Berlin.—The long-drawn-out question for and against the siting of the new school for the correction of the township high school, which has been the cause of much debate between residents of the township, was decided in favor of the proposition authorizing bonds to the amount of $20,000 carried by a majority of 72.Havana.—R. E. Neely, John D.
Boles, W. T. Hannon and G. R. Beam, prominent and wealthy Cuban business men, consummated a business deal here whereby they have purchased the Quiver Beach, popular summer resort, north of Havana. The price paid was $75,000, and $50,000 will be spent of improvements.Mound Sterling—Clement Hale, a horse trader, fell dead while trying to save the horse of Abraham Goodwin, which was burned. The buildings of the fair grounds were endangered as a result of the fire, which started in an oil tank, wagon. The burning oil flowed down the street, set fire to a barn and consumed the building.Springfield.—The corner-stone for Springfield's new $100,000 high school was laid, ending one of the longest delays ever experienced in the city.
Realizing the presence of the beautiful structure would greatly benefit the neighborhood that was it, the point was used by the prominent men of each section of the city in an ef fort to get the school.Springfield.—The Illinois Methodist conference voted unanimously to accept the invitation, extended by the ministerial delegation from Cham paign and will hold its 1917 conference in that city. The conference also adopted unanimously a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of five to co-operate with general assemblies in planning the con stitution in order to admit the Meth odist church south.

Warden's Daughter Hurt

Joliet—Miss Mabel Zimmer, eight years old, daughter of Warden Zimmer of the Illinois state penitentiary, was seriously injured when she was thrown from a buggy in which she was rid ing. Her horse, frightened by a pass ing automobile, became unmanageable and threw the buggy into the air.Zimmer and her companion, Reginald Richards, were thrown to the ground, the buggy careening on top of them.La Salle.—Chicken thieves who several weeks raided coops on farms south of the city, recently have been driven north of the stream. James Fall River township, lost 123 fowls. Fifty were taken from Ole Johnson and Nicholas Volk.Alton—Frank G. Goble was asked a stranger for a ride in his automobile and before he reached Alton the chase acquaintance had given the car to Goble after efforts to stop it had failed. It developed the car had been stolen from Harry D. McCabe of St. Louis.

Happenings of the World Tersely Told

European War News

Russian attempts to capture the town of Hattin, on the Danube in Galicia, regarded as the key to the defense of Lemberg from the south, have been frustrated by the Teutonic forces, says Berlin.

A general offensive throughout the Balkan country, threatening the Bulgarians from the north and south and the Austrians in Transylvania, is on in full force. Vienna admits that the Austrian troops have withdrawn before the Roumanian advance. Further east, the occupation of Csic-Szteren.

The Belgian Dagblid announces that the German authorities have seized $300,000,000 ($150,000,000), which had been placed in the coffers of the Belgian National bank, in consequence of the suspension of the mortgage.

"If the entente and anti-entente factions can only keep quiet for ten days and not disturb the situation Greece's entry into the war will be a settled fact," said a prominent Greek official to a correspondent at Athens. "If not," he added, "it is the end of Greece."

Bucharest reports to London that as a result of bombardment the Bulgarian cities of Vidin, Lom-Palanka and Ruzica were set on fire. The Bulgarians are evacuating Vidin, their principal port on the Black sea.

Loss of ground west of Shapin, in the Carpathians, near Zibor, is admitted by Berlin in the official war statement. Attacks by the Russians from the sea to the Carpathians also are reported.

"According to reports from Germany received at Berlin," says a dispatch to London, "the dismissal of Gen. Erich von Falkenhayn as chief of the German general staff was due to his suggestion of a complete change in Germany's war plans which Emperor Wilhelm indignantly rejected."

Official announcements were made at Berlin that the German and Bulgarian forces that are invading Dobruja, eastern Roumania, have captured the Roumanian fortress of Silistria, on the Danube, near Bucharest, the Roumanian capital.

The destruction of the American consulate at Alexandretta, Asiatic Turkey, during a bombardment by the allied warships is announced at Berlin in a delayed Turkish official report dated September 4.

The allies have lost more than a million men in killed, wounded and missing since the grand offensive against the central powers began with a Russian attack three months ago. This estimate was made by German military experts at Berlin, who said they thought it conservative.

While the German-Bulgarian army which captured the forts and city of Turtulak is attacking the enemy positions to the north, another Bulgarian army is making rapid progress in a advance along the Roumanian Black sea coast. The capture of three important port cities, Belcik, Sevastopol and Kallikria, is announced by the Bulgarian war office at Sofia.

With more than 20,000 Roumanians captured by the Bulgarian-Teutonic forces which stormed Turtulak and its seven forts the invasion of Roumania, which is now threatening Bucharest, and the sweep across Dobruja to cut the main Roumanian line of communication with the Black sea port of Constanta continues. The capture of Turtulak is of chief importance by Berlin and confirmed by Petrograd.

The French have captured the German first line trenches over a front of one mile on the Verdun front, the Paris war office announced.

Domestic

Theodore Gross, Jr., aged forty, a banker at Atwood, Ill., died of infantile paralysis. He had been sick three days.

Triumph for the woman's suffrage cause in a little while was predicted by President Wilson at Atlantic City, N. J., in a speech before the annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage association.

J. W. Struthers and Charles Deane Wilson of the army aviation school for civilians fell 100 feet in a zeppelin at Governor's Island, New York. Both received injuries that may be mortal. Wilson is a Marine (Ill.) aviator.

Merran Campbell, cashier of the National bank at South Bend, Ind., for more than 25 years, died of a cerebral hemorrhage. About 20 years ago he gained fame by holding himself responsible for the loss of $17,000 from the bank through a robbery.

Three high school teachers, Miss Edith Ellenberg of Marion, Ill.; Miss Anna Kirkland of Urbana, Ill.; and Harold Gordon of Peoria, Ill., were struck by an automobile car and instantly killed at Muncie, Ill.

R. L. Murphy, Internal revenue collector for Iowa, announced at Dubuque, Ia., that, effective at midnight September 8, schedules A and B of the war revenue act are repealed. This covers bonds, debentures, checks, notes, bills of lading, telephone and telegraph messages, cosmetics and perfumes.

Two persons were killed and fifteen injured at Palmer's crossing, one mile south of Hives Junction, Mich., when six passenger cars on the Michigan railway met head on.

Master bakers, representing numerically 40 per cent of the baking establishments of the United States and controlling about 60 per cent of the output of bread, "recommended" at Chicago that bakers cease to make five-cent loaves of bread and confine their standard output to a ten-cent loaf.

Maine went back to the Republican fold by a decisive margin in the biennial election. The Republicans made a clean sweep, electing a governor, two United States senators, four congressmen and the legislature. The Republican candidate for governor, Carl E. Milliken, was elected governor over the incumbent, Othello C. Curtis, Democrat, by about 12,000.

President Wilson received word at Ashbury Park, N. J., from New London, Conn., that the condition of his sister, Mrs. Annie S. Howe, who is critically ill at her home in that city, had taken a turn for the worse.

Master and pay rolls for the First and Second Infantry regiments and history of the federalized I. N. G. have been delivered to Springfield, Ill., with orders from central division headquarters to proceed with the mustering out of the militia units from federal service as soon as possible.

President Wilson and Mrs. Wilson arrived at New London, Conn., from the summer White House at Long Branch to go to the bedside of the president's sister, Mrs. Howe.

Washington

Orders to relocate immediately all employees of the post office department with the National Guard in that field upon their discharge from the militia, without awaiting formal approval of the department, were issued at Washington to all postmasters by the postmaster general.

In a statement issued at Washington following the adjournment of congress, President Wilson called attention to the "helpful and humane legislation" passed and declared that while he regretted additional legislation dealing with the recent dispute between the railroads and their employees had not been completed, he had every reason to believe the question would be taken up immediately after congress reconvenes.

A resolution by Senator Curtis of Kansas directing the senate military committee at Washington to investigate the activities of the alleged foreign lobby opposing the regulatory provision of the revenue bill against Canadian fisheries was passed by the senate.

President Wilson signed the shipbuilding bill at Washington. It authorizes government organization of a corporation or corporations with capitalization of not more than $500,000 to buy or lease ships and put them in trade if they cannot be leased for operation to private capital.

Sporting

Charles Evans, Jr., of Chicago, defeated Robert Gardner, last year's winner, 4 and 3 over the 36-hole route on the links at Philadelphia. Now Evans wears the double crown, amateur and open. Never before, either in this country or Great Britain, has the same man won both the amateur and open title in the same season.

John Altien, piloting a Peugeot, won all three of the events of the Harvest cup racing circuit at Indianapolis. The time was 3:37:30.04, an average of 80.44 miles an hour.

Mexican War News

General Pershing's troops south of the border have again taken up the chase of Pancho Villa. General Pershing reported to General Funston at San Antonio, Tex., that his men had already passed through Santa Clara Canyon, 50 miles south of the punitive expedition's field headquarters at El Valle.

Foreign

A report was issued at Berlin through the semi-official Overseas News agency denying that there have been any food riots in Germany.

Gen. Alvaro Obregon, Mexican minister of war, has been stricken with Bright's disease, said in a serious condition, according to reports in San Antonio, Tex. Gen. Francisco Serrano, chief of staff, is in charge of the war office at Mexico City.

THE HOME BEAUTIFUL

Flowers and Shrubbages

Their Care and Cultivation

Drops of Water Must Not Be Permitted to Stand on the Leaves of Geraniums, as Water Will Rot It.

PREPARATORY WORK FOR WINTER

What about the winter window garden? Now is the time for much work that cannot be delayed. One of the best winter blooming geraniums is Mrs. E. G. Hill. Many odd plants should now be discarded and new ones started. Do not let the geraniums get leggy. Pinch into shape. Pinch out the buds from plants intended for window garden. Late starting plants are not satisfactory. Begin now. Get your soil, sand and manure in place for winter. Have every vessel clean, scrub, sun and put in place the pots for winter. Have every vessel clean. Use charcoal in your drainage. Do not let the geraniums get good as you. Repeat all plants needing it, cut back severely. Don't try to keep everything. Try to have your plants at their best when it is time to take them in doors. Pinch and prune into good shape. Drops of water must not stand on leaves of the geraniums, as water will rot it. Get seedling pinworms from the forest now, keep growing and thrifty for winter bloomers. The peristrophe variegata is a good bracket plant and a free bloomer. For winter blooming, get dormant tuberous-rooted begonias, give each tuber a pot by itself. If one has no plants and cannot afford to buy, the seedlings of many garden plants are easily cared for. Many are satisfactory. The Zanzibar balsam-impatiens salina is always in bloom, always beautiful, easily cared for. A fine window plant. Slips of fuchsia, heliotropes, petunias, coleus and other soft-wooded plants, root readily in moist sand. Slip now.

THE WINDOW GARDEN

By E. VAN BENTHUYSEN. Give the windows at which plants are to be kept a little attention at this season. Go over the sash, and make sure that the glass in it is well fastened in place by putty. If any panes are loose, repair them. See that the sash fits the frame well. Those little crevices are the ones through which a great deal of cold may come when the temperature drops below zero and there is a stiff wind blowing. It is an excellent plan to fit the windows of the dwelling with storm windows—storm sashes. Not only for the benefit of the plants, but the human occupants as well. At windows protected by storm sash plants can be allowed to stand against the inner glass on the coldest night without injury as the air space between the two panes is a most efficient non-conductor of cold.

A Pretty Little Home That Has the Added Provision of a Small Conservatory.

Babies Thrive Best on Sunlight. "Sunlight and sanitation, not pills and salines, make the better babies." This maxim is contained in the latest official statement of the surgeon general of the public health service, who directs the forces of the United States against the army of General Disease, just issued from his "war" office here.

The rearing of children in dark, unkept houses is given as one of the chief causes of the continued success of the army of General Disease. The surgeon general announces that the enemy now claims 1,500,000 Americans a year.

Heart disease, pneumonia and tuberculosis are the strongest units of General Disease's army, claiming 50 per cent of the annual number of deaths. The surgeon general renounces the notion to let no fly go unswatted. He points out that every female fly lays eggs at the rate of 120 a time—meaning that many more soldiers for the army of General Disease.

BABY'S ITCHING SKIN

Quickly Soothed and Healed by Cuticura. Trial Free.

Baths with hot water and Cuticura Soap. If there is any irritation about gently with Cuticura Ointment on and of finger. Refreshing slumber for restless, fretful babies usually follows the use of these super-cleansing emollients. They are a boon to tired mothers. Free sample each by night with Book. Address postcard, Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston. Send everywhere—Adv.

Doubtful Case.

The judge's five-year-old son, John, had been naughty when his parents were having company and had been reproved. That night when his mother went up to hear John say his prayers he suggested that he ask God to teach his parents how to bring him up properly.

John was quite penitent and prayed humbly: "Please, God, teach mother how to make me a good boy. I'm pained for a moment, then added thoughtfully, "And father, too, if you can do anything with him."

Clash of Ideas.

For the first time in his life the intellectual man had been lured into a museum, delving the scientific treasures shown him by his intellectual friend was a case full of stuffed birds. There was one specimen that rather interested him. He asked what it was and was told that it was a cassowary. "I have heard of the cassowary," said the intellectual man, "but this is not my idea of it."

"Perhaps not," said his friend, "but it is my idea of it."

After a Moonlight Night. "Beem—Have you seen the bench this morning?"

"Egbert—No; something worth seeing?"

"Certainly is."

"Covered with sea shells?"

"No; covered with hairpins."

The bubbles in a teacup follow the spoon because it attracts them just as a magnet attracts steel.

Norway in 1913 exported 233,439 tons of granite.

A Woman's Problem

How to Feel Well During Middle Life Told by Three Women Who Learned from Experience.

The Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Read these letters—

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I started the Change of Life five years ago. I always had a headache and backache with bearing down pains. I would have heat flashes very bad at times with dizzy spells and nervous feelings. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new person and am in better health and no more troubled with the aches and pains I had before I took your wonderful remedy. I recommend it to my friends for I cannot praise it enough."—Mrs. MARGARET GLASSMAN, 789 N. Ringgold St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Beverly, Mass.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for nervousness and dyspepsia, when I was going through the Change of Life. I found it very helpful and I have always spoken of it to other women who suffer as I did and have had them try it and they also have received good results from it."—Mrs. GEORGE A. DUBMAN, 17 Roundy St., Beverly, Mass.

Erie, Pa.—"I was in poor health when the Change of Life started with me and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on it. I think I should not have got over it as easy as I did. Even now if I do not feel good I take the Compound and it restores me in a short time. I will praise your remedies to every woman for it may help them as it has me."—Mrs. E. KISSING, 601 East 24th St., Erie, Pa.

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving women's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women may receive free and helpful advice by writing the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Such letters are answered and answered by women only and held in strict confidence.

It's Foolish to Suffer

You may be brave enough to stand backache, or headache, or dizziness. But if, in addition, your stomach is disordered, look out! If you don't try to fix your sick kidneys, you may fall into the clutches of kidney trouble before you know it. But if you live more carefully and help your kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills, you can stop the pains you have and avoid future danger to your health.

An Illinois Case

W. L. Parker, 6114 Monroe St., Charleston, Ill., says: "Doctors said I had a kidney trouble. I had to get up at night to pass my urine. It was a terrible condition and the burning sensation was severe. My diet was affected, too. Three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and the cure has been permanent. I have a good appetite now and I am a happy man."

Get Doan's at Any Store, 50c a Box. DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS. FOSTER-MILBURN CO., BUFFALO, N. Y.

The Wretchedness of Constipation

Can quickly be overcome by CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. Purely vegetable—act surely and gently. Do not hurt the bowels. Buy a box. It will cure you. Headache, Dizziness, Indigestion, They do their duty. SMALL PILL, SMALL DOSE, SMALL PRICE. Genuine must bear Signature.

Absorbine

"Reduces Stomach, Puffy Ankles, Lymphatics, Puff Swellings, Boils, Swellings, Sores, Lame and aches. Heals Sores, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Itches, and all skin troubles. It is a SAFE ANTISEPTIC AND GERMICIDE. Does not blister or remove the skin. Pleasant to use. It is a home remedy. Read the directions for special instructions and Book 5 free. ABSORBINE, JR., is a powerful remedy for many troubles. It is a home remedy. Read the directions for special instructions and Book 5 free. N. F. TOLSON, P. O. Box 111, Washington, D. C.

W. N. U., CHICAGO, NO. 38-1916.

Healed.

"They tell me Jimson is over his case in debt."

"Yes, so much so that he can't hear the doorbell when his creditors call."

The bubbles in a teacup follow the spoon because it attracts them just as a magnet attracts steel.

Norway in 1913 exported 233,439 tons of granite.

CASTLE, WILLIAMS
LONG & CASTLE, Attorneys at Law. 805-817 National Life Building, 29 South La Salle street, Chicago.

HOWARD P. CASTLE, Evening Office at residence, Barrington, Telephone number 212-M.

R. L. PECK, Lawyer, Residence, Palatine, Illinois. Office: 1414 American Trust Building, Chicago. Telephone Central 595.

J. HOWARD FURBY, Dentist. Office hours: 8 to 12 a. m. 1 to 5 p. m. Phone 57-J. Office in Peters building, Main street.

PUBLIC LIBRARY
PETERS BUILDING
Books distributed Tuesday and Saturday afternoons and evenings.
Rest and reading rooms always open.
Reference Books and Magazines.

FOUNDED AND SUPPORTED BY BARRINGTON WOMAN'S CLUB
The Public Is Welcome

Kirmse & Lerch
PAINTING AND DECORATING
ESTIMATES FURNISHED
Telephones:
Henry Kirmse, 61-J
Charles Lerch, 41
BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS

A Vicious Pest
KAT CORN
It's the only sure way to get rid of this pest. It's the only sure way to get rid of this pest. It's the only sure way to get rid of this pest.

W. J. CAMERON
STATE OF ILLINOIS
COUNTY OF COOK
We, the undersigned, hereby certify that we have formed a limited partnership under, pursuant, and according to the statutes of Illinois in such cases made and provided.
Say: The name under which the firm is to be conducted is PAUL GROSSE
2nd. The general nature of the business to be conducted by said firm is that of buying and selling, both at wholesale and retail, plumbing goods and materials and dealing in plumbing supplies in general and maintain one or more supply houses or stores. Also to maintain and operate one or more workshops, to furnish supplies and install plumbing of all kinds, gas fittings, water pipes, sewerage and kindred lines of work suitable to the plumber's trade, whether material be furnished by this firm or not.
3rd. Paul Grosse is the general partner and now resides at 4235 Wrightwood avenue, Chicago, Illinois.
Charles Rind is the limited or special partner and now resides at 4049 North Leamington avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and has contributed to the capital stock of the firm the sum of six hundred ($600.00) dollars in cash.
4th. The partnership shall begin on the third day of August, 1916, and continue for a period of five years, ending on the third day of August, 1921.
(Signed) PAUL GROSSE (Seal)
(Signed) CHARLES RIND (Seal)
Charles Rind and Paul Grosse being first duly sworn upon oath depose and say that the sum of six ($600.00) dollars above mentioned as having been contributed to the capital stock of said firm by Charles Rind, the special partner, has been by him actually and in good faith contributed in money and applied to the capital stock of said partnership, and further affirm and say nothing.
(Signed) PAUL GROSSE (Seal)
(Signed) CHARLES RIND (Seal)
Subscribed and sworn to before me this third day of August, 1916.
(Signed) OLIVER M. SELDEN, Notary Public.
(Notarial Seal) 24-6

W. J. CAMERON

STATE OF ILLINOIS
COUNTY OF COOK
We, the undersigned, hereby certify that we have formed a limited partnership under, pursuant, and according to the statutes of Illinois in such cases made and provided.
Say: The name under which the firm is to be conducted is PAUL GROSSE
2nd. The general nature of the business to be conducted by said firm is that of buying and selling, both at wholesale and retail, plumbing goods and materials and dealing in plumbing supplies in general and maintain one or more supply houses or stores. Also to maintain and operate one or more workshops, to furnish supplies and install plumbing of all kinds, gas fittings, water pipes, sewerage and kindred lines of work suitable to the plumber's trade, whether material be furnished by this firm or not.
3rd. Paul Grosse is the general partner and now resides at 4235 Wrightwood avenue, Chicago, Illinois.
Charles Rind is the limited or special partner and now resides at 4049 North Leamington avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and has contributed to the capital stock of the firm the sum of six hundred ($600.00) dollars in cash.
4th. The partnership shall begin on the third day of August, 1916, and continue for a period of five years, ending on the third day of August, 1921.
(Signed) PAUL GROSSE (Seal)
(Signed) CHARLES RIND (Seal)
Charles Rind and Paul Grosse being first duly sworn upon oath depose and say that the sum of six ($600.00) dollars above mentioned as having been contributed to the capital stock of said firm by Charles Rind, the special partner, has been by him actually and in good faith contributed in money and applied to the capital stock of said partnership, and further affirm and say nothing.
(Signed) PAUL GROSSE (Seal)
(Signed) CHARLES RIND (Seal)
Subscribed and sworn to before me this third day of August, 1916.
(Signed) OLIVER M. SELDEN, Notary Public.
(Notarial Seal) 24-6

PAUL GROSSE
2nd. The general nature of the business to be conducted by said firm is that of buying and selling, both at wholesale and retail, plumbing goods and materials and dealing in plumbing supplies in general and maintain one or more supply houses or stores. Also to maintain and operate one or more workshops, to furnish supplies and install plumbing of all kinds, gas fittings, water pipes, sewerage and kindred lines of work suitable to the plumber's trade, whether material be furnished by this firm or not.
3rd. Paul Grosse is the general partner and now resides at 4235 Wrightwood avenue, Chicago, Illinois.
Charles Rind is the limited or special partner and now resides at 4049 North Leamington avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and has contributed to the capital stock of the firm the sum of six hundred ($600.00) dollars in cash.
4th. The partnership shall begin on the third day of August, 1916, and continue for a period of five years, ending on the third day of August, 1921.
(Signed) PAUL GROSSE (Seal)
(Signed) CHARLES RIND (Seal)
Charles Rind and Paul Grosse being first duly sworn upon oath depose and say that the sum of six ($600.00) dollars above mentioned as having been contributed to the capital stock of said firm by Charles Rind, the special partner, has been by him actually and in good faith contributed in money and applied to the capital stock of said partnership, and further affirm and say nothing.
(Signed) PAUL GROSSE (Seal)
(Signed) CHARLES RIND (Seal)
Subscribed and sworn to before me this third day of August, 1916.
(Signed) OLIVER M. SELDEN, Notary Public.
(Notarial Seal) 24-6

PAUL GROSSE
2nd. The general nature of the business to be conducted by said firm is that of buying and selling, both at wholesale and retail, plumbing goods and materials and dealing in plumbing supplies in general and maintain one or more supply houses or stores. Also to maintain and operate one or more workshops, to furnish supplies and install plumbing of all kinds, gas fittings, water pipes, sewerage and kindred lines of work suitable to the plumber's trade, whether material be furnished by this firm or not.
3rd. Paul Grosse is the general partner and now resides at 4235 Wrightwood avenue, Chicago, Illinois.
Charles Rind is the limited or special partner and now resides at 4049 North Leamington avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and has contributed to the capital stock of the firm the sum of six hundred ($600.00) dollars in cash.
4th. The partnership shall begin on the third day of August, 1916, and continue for a period of five years, ending on the third day of August, 1921.
(Signed) PAUL GROSSE (Seal)
(Signed) CHARLES RIND (Seal)
Charles Rind and Paul Grosse being first duly sworn upon oath depose and say that the sum of six ($600.00) dollars above mentioned as having been contributed to the capital stock of said firm by Charles Rind, the special partner, has been by him actually and in good faith contributed in money and applied to the capital stock of said partnership, and further affirm and say nothing.
(Signed) PAUL GROSSE (Seal)
(Signed) CHARLES RIND (Seal)
Subscribed and sworn to before me this third day of August, 1916.
(Signed) OLIVER M. SELDEN, Notary Public.
(Notarial Seal) 24-6

PAUL GROSSE
2nd. The general nature of the business to be conducted by said firm is that of buying and selling, both at wholesale and retail, plumbing goods and materials and dealing in plumbing supplies in general and maintain one or more supply houses or stores. Also to maintain and operate one or more workshops, to furnish supplies and install plumbing of all kinds, gas fittings, water pipes, sewerage and kindred lines of work suitable to the plumber's trade, whether material be furnished by this firm or not.
3rd. Paul Grosse is the general partner and now resides at 4235 Wrightwood avenue, Chicago, Illinois.
Charles Rind is the limited or special partner and now resides at 4049 North Leamington avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and has contributed to the capital stock of the firm the sum of six hundred ($600.00) dollars in cash.
4th. The partnership shall begin on the third day of August, 1916, and continue for a period of five years, ending on the third day of August, 1921.
(Signed) PAUL GROSSE (Seal)
(Signed) CHARLES RIND (Seal)
Charles Rind and Paul Grosse being first duly sworn upon oath depose and say that the sum of six ($600.00) dollars above mentioned as having been contributed to the capital stock of said firm by Charles Rind, the special partner, has been by him actually and in good faith contributed in money and applied to the capital stock of said partnership, and further affirm and say nothing.
(Signed) PAUL GROSSE (Seal)
(Signed) CHARLES RIND (Seal)
Subscribed and sworn to before me this third day of August, 1916.
(Signed) OLIVER M. SELDEN, Notary Public.
(Notarial Seal) 24-6

PAUL GROSSE
2nd. The general nature of the business to be conducted by said firm is that of buying and selling, both at wholesale and retail, plumbing goods and materials and dealing in plumbing supplies in general and maintain one or more supply houses or stores. Also to maintain and operate one or more workshops, to furnish supplies and install plumbing of all kinds, gas fittings, water pipes, sewerage and kindred lines of work suitable to the plumber's trade, whether material be furnished by this firm or not.
3rd. Paul Grosse is the general partner and now resides at 4235 Wrightwood avenue, Chicago, Illinois.
Charles Rind is the limited or special partner and now resides at 4049 North Leamington avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and has contributed to the capital stock of the firm the sum of six hundred ($600.00) dollars in cash.
4th. The partnership shall begin on the third day of August, 1916, and continue for a period of five years, ending on the third day of August, 1921.
(Signed) PAUL GROSSE (Seal)
(Signed) CHARLES RIND (Seal)
Charles Rind and Paul Grosse being first duly sworn upon oath depose and say that the sum of six ($600.00) dollars above mentioned as having been contributed to the capital stock of said firm by Charles Rind, the special partner, has been by him actually and in good faith contributed in money and applied to the capital stock of said partnership, and further affirm and say nothing.
(Signed) PAUL GROSSE (Seal)
(Signed) CHARLES RIND (Seal)
Subscribed and sworn to before me this third day of August, 1916.
(Signed) OLIVER M. SELDEN, Notary Public.
(Notarial Seal) 24-6

PAUL GROSSE
2nd. The general nature of the business to be conducted by said firm is that of buying and selling, both at wholesale and retail, plumbing goods and materials and dealing in plumbing supplies in general and maintain one or more supply houses or stores. Also to maintain and operate one or more workshops, to furnish supplies and install plumbing of all kinds, gas fittings, water pipes, sewerage and kindred lines of work suitable to the plumber's trade, whether material be furnished by this firm or not.
3rd. Paul Grosse is the general partner and now resides at 4235 Wrightwood avenue, Chicago, Illinois.
Charles Rind is the limited or special partner and now resides at 4049 North Leamington avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and has contributed to the capital stock of the firm the sum of six hundred ($600.00) dollars in cash.
4th. The partnership shall begin on the third day of August, 1916, and continue for a period of five years, ending on the third day of August, 1921.
(Signed) PAUL GROSSE (Seal)
(Signed) CHARLES RIND (Seal)
Charles Rind and Paul Grosse being first duly sworn upon oath depose and say that the sum of six ($600.00) dollars above mentioned as having been contributed to the capital stock of said firm by Charles Rind, the special partner, has been by him actually and in good faith contributed in money and applied to the capital stock of said partnership, and further affirm and say nothing.
(Signed) PAUL GROSSE (Seal)
(Signed) CHARLES RIND (Seal)
Subscribed and sworn to before me this third day of August, 1916.
(Signed) OLIVER M. SELDEN, Notary Public.
(Notarial Seal) 24-6

PAUL GROSSE
2nd. The general nature of the business to be conducted by said firm is that of buying and selling, both at wholesale and retail, plumbing goods and materials and dealing in plumbing supplies in general and maintain one or more supply houses or stores. Also to maintain and operate one or more workshops, to furnish supplies and install plumbing of all kinds, gas fittings, water pipes, sewerage and kindred lines of work suitable to the plumber's trade, whether material be furnished by this firm or not.
3rd. Paul Grosse is the general partner and now resides at 4235 Wrightwood avenue, Chicago, Illinois.
Charles Rind is the limited or special partner and now resides at 4049 North Leamington avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and has contributed to the capital stock of the firm the sum of six hundred ($600.00) dollars in cash.
4th. The partnership shall begin on the third day of August, 1916, and continue for a period of five years, ending on the third day of August, 1921.
(Signed) PAUL GROSSE (Seal)
(Signed) CHARLES RIND (Seal)
Charles Rind and Paul Grosse being first duly sworn upon oath depose and say that the sum of six ($600.00) dollars above mentioned as having been contributed to the capital stock of said firm by Charles Rind, the special partner, has been by him actually and in good faith contributed in money and applied to the capital stock of said partnership, and further affirm and say nothing.
(Signed) PAUL GROSSE (Seal)
(Signed) CHARLES RIND (Seal)
Subscribed and sworn to before me this third day of August, 1916.
(Signed) OLIVER M. SELDEN, Notary Public.
(Notarial Seal) 24-6

NEAR-BY NEWS

Mrs. Durand Again in the Public Eye
Arrangements have been made with Mrs. Scott Durand of Lake Bluff whereby she is to stamp Illinois during the next four weeks in the interests of the national republican ticket and also the state ticket.

It develops that the attitude assumed by the democratic state administration regarding the foot and mouth disease in Illinois and the assumed by the national government regarding the same matter, is to be one of the main issues to be laid before the farmers this fall.

Mrs. Durand, it is said, was treated shamefully by the administration, both at Springfield and at Washington. Her valuable herd was slaughtered and she never had a settlement with the state or government. It is said that she was given to understand at the time she laid her claim before the state that if she would drop her personal suit directed against Governor Dunne and the state livestock commission, that the state would pay her her claims for the herd. She refused, insisting that the governor had no right whatever to bring his personal status into consideration in settling a claim against the state. Because of the governor's stand Mrs. Durand's loss the farmers of the state had a keen interest in the entire matter and accordingly republican leaders saw the possibility of the good Mrs. Durand could bring the party by going into the campaign and giving talks. She, of course, will explain the status of the foot and mouth disease in the state and tell how she was ill treated.

The Algonquin public school opened last week with a total enrollment of 130.

Four cows owned by August Jaster, a farmer living two and a half miles north of Huntley, were struck by lightning Tuesday morning. The total loss is estimated at about $400.

McHenry, which has the largest salmon run of any city or town in the county, has the reputation of having some of the most poorly kept streets to be found anywhere. There seems to be something wrong somewhere.—McHenry Press-Advertiser.

Prospects are encouraging for the completion of the Marengo and Harvard electric road, and it is stated that if present plans do not go amiss direct communication between the two towns will soon be a reality. Rightway was secured six years ago.

The Lake Forest Trust and Savings bank will open for business in that city early in October. George Findlay is president of the new concern and the directorate includes Clayton Mark, Frank Perry, J. C. Belden, George McLaughlin and W. O. Lindley.

Peter Kirschner, a deputy sheriff and poolroom proprietor, was named as defendant in a $10,000 damage suit filed in circuit court at Waukegan Friday. Edward McDermott, as administrator of the estate of Edward Wigell, deceased, has brought the suit for damages.

The new re-enforced concrete bridge across Fox river in Nunda township is completed and the cost of same has been put at $15,400, with $850 for the approaches. The old iron bridge which has spanned the river at this point will be torn down and sold to the highest bidder.

Ben Rave's fast pacing mare, Lucille Gratton, is dead as the result of a fall while being driven from the Libertyville fair to the McHenry county fair at Woodstock. The mare stumbled on the road near Volo and in falling broke the pelvis bone in her left leg. It was necessary to chloroform her to put her out of her misery.

The D. J. Haverkamp automobile was stolen from Jello's grove Monday evening while the driver was enjoying himself at the picnic. The theft was discovered about eleven o'clock and the local police department was notified. Tuesday morning the car was recovered. It was found in a forest preserve in Lake county and did not meet Thursday afternoon as had been planned. Instead they postponed the session one week. At that time the personnel of the committee will be complete and work of active nature will be commenced.

Waukegan papers keep digging up stories relative to Will Orpet, the murdered sweethearts, Marlan Lambert, her parents and others connected with this once famous case. A report recently was published saying Will Orpet had returned from the woods of northern Michigan where he had been in seclusion since given his freedom by the jury, and was said to be enroute for a small city near Lancaster, Massachusetts, where he expects to accept a position with an old friend of his father's.

as his employer. His mother was with him on the hunting and fishing trip to Michigan and it is said that she has been seen in and about Lake Forest during the past few days.

Saturday Mrs. M. A. Stewart and daughters, Olive and Alice, went to Chicago to call at the home of Mrs. Carrie Schreiner whose daughter, Mrs. Maurice Pettit, was murdered by her husband. As a girl Mrs. Pettit, who was Katherine Keiser, and her brother, George Keiser, spent their summers here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Stewart, and Mrs. Schreiner, the mother of the murdered bride, was a frequent guest in the Stewart home.—Crystal Lake Herald.

CARY STATION
R. A. West has accepted a position in Chicago as night watchman.

Lyle Barton is on a two weeks' vacation trip to different points in Wisconsin.

O. W. Lumm is home from Texas where he was stationed with the National Guards.

William Damos is working in Chicago, making trips to and from the city every day.

Joseph Mack has purchased a house and lot of Anton Beaver on Fox river, the consideration being $25,000.

Edward Egner, wife and son, Louis, and Miss Anna Bergman, who came from their recent trip to Michigan.

Miss Ada Maden of Park Ridge has been engaged as teacher of the McManis school which opened Monday, September 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Eble and family were among those from this vicinity who attended the Milk Producers' association picnic at Huntley last week. The Cary school is represented with the same corps of teachers as last year, with the exception of Miss Marie Baumann, a new instructor from Aurora.

Cary and vicinity was much benefited by the rains on Monday and Tuesday. Farmers are busy with their fall plowing as a result of the needed showers.

George Drorack and Miss Angelina Kilhoff, who were recently married in Chicago, are living near Algonquin, where the groom is working in a gravel pit. Miss Kilhoff before her marriage lived in Chicago, while her husband is well known to Cary people, he having resided here for some time.

Points on School Law—Holidays
If a day is made a holiday for purposes stated in the statute creating it, it is not a legal holiday for any purpose not named in the statute.

Lincoln's birthday is made a holiday in Illinois for certain purposes in regard to negotiable instruments. But it is not a legal holiday for the performance of other duties. Washington's birthday, Decoration Day, Labor day and Landing day are not legal school holidays. They are commercial holidays only.

The legal school holidays are the first day of January, the fourth day of July, the 25th day of December and a day appointed by the governor as a day of fast and thanksgiving.

Willlys
Sleeve Valve Motor

The World's Most Quiet Motor

It's easy to pick the real thing in motor cars.

Drive a Willys-Knight and you'll know—it makes everything else seem like a makeshift.

Willys-Knight power is revealed in motion only.

Otherwise it escapes your senses.

That quiet, smooth softness also means absence of wear—it's supreme when new—gets better with age—practically everlasting.

Willys-Knight owners are all through experimenting—they're fixed and know it.

Settle your motor car problem for good—today with a Willys-Knight—the world's most quiet motor.

Tel. 68-J P. C. LEONARD, Barrington, Ill.

The Willys-Overland Company, Toledo, Ohio
"Made in U. S. A."

WAUCONDA

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Carr visited Monday with relatives at Libertyville.

Mrs. Rooney returned Saturday from an extended visit with Chicago relatives.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Meagher, on Tuesday, September 5, a daughter.

Miss Dorothy Peck celebrated her birthday Monday with a party of young friends to help her.

J. P. Black and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Powers visited A. C. Stoen and family at Hebron Tuesday.

Jack Taggart of Dundee has just returned from a visit with his daughter, Mrs. Earle Edwards, of Des Moines, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. William Haseley and Miss Amy and Fred Basoley of Shelton, Nebraska, spent Sunday with Gray-Lake relatives.

Quite a number of our people attended the McHenry County fair last week, some of them for two days; the races and ball games and other entertainment being very good, indeed.

L. A. Wheelock has taken his herd of Holsteins out (his little farm where he can give them the care due to cattle of good breeding. Lon stays nights so as to do his chores both evening and morning and gets one-third of his living in the far herds. Some of his friends joke him about the duration of this plan, but Lon is game and as long as it pays will not falter.

An automobile accident that might have had more serious results occurred near T. B. Seymour's farmhouse one evening last week. "Doc" Fisher is about 35 to 40 years of age, and Miss Marguerite Lauphere and Miss Mabel Daley were quite severely bruised when the car turned over, spilling them free as it went, thus saving worse injury to any of them. As it is, both girls suffered more than they complain of and receive congratulations in their lucky escape with grim humor.

Optimistic Thought.
What is acquired through labor is seldom worth acquiring at all.

HIGHWAY NOTICE
Public Letting of Contract
Notice is hereby given that proposals will be received by the undersigned Commissioners of Highways of the Township of Cuba, in the County of Lake, and State of Illinois, on the 26th day of September, 1916, for the graveling of road.

That the same will be let by contract by public letting to the lowest responsible bidder, at the hour of 2 o'clock p. m. of said day, at the office of E. P. Schaefer, town clerk.

The amount and kind of work to be done is as follows:—From Westmore's Corner north 500 rods, the work to be completed by the 1st day of November A. D. 1916.

The said Commissioners of Highways reserve the right to reject any and all bids, if they deem it to be the interest of the Township so to do.

Dated at Barrington this 5th day of September, 1916.

WILLIAM PADDOCK,
WILLIAM ROBIN,
JOHN WELCH,
Commissioners of Highways.

Don't Think A Modern Windmill Looks Like This

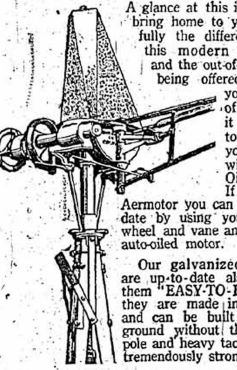

The same kind of ingenious, inventive ability that has perfected the automobile, flying machine and submarine has been at work on the windmill.

You would not think of buying an automobile with the transmission gears uncovered and exposed to dirt and water. Nor would you buy one which required that each bearing be oiled separately. We simply urge you to use the same good judgment in selecting a windmill.

There is ONE, but ONLY ONE, thoroughly modern and up-to-date, windmill.

You will find in it every feature which you know to be desirable in a windmill. It runs in the lightest wind, it is strong and durable, all working parts are inclosed and flooded with oil from the supply in the gear case. The oil supply needs replenishing only once a year. The brake and furling device are simple and effective.

A glance at this illustration will bring home to you very fully the difference between this modern wind motor and the out-of-date windmills being offered for sale. If you have a mill of another make it will pay you to replace it, on your old tower, with an Auto-Oiled Aeromotor. If you have an Aeromotor you can bring it up to date by using your old tower, wheel and vane and installing an auto-oiled motor.

Our galvanized steel towers are up-to-date also. We call them "EASY-TO-BUILD-UP," as they are made in 7-foot lengths and can be built up from the ground without the use of gin pole and heavy tackle. They are tremendously strong.

Progressive windmill dealers in every locality are taking up the sale of the Auto-Oiled Aeromotor. Ask them about it or write us direct for fuller information. Aeromotor Co., 2500 West Twelfth St., Chicago, Ill.

GIBBS' DE LUXE ICE CREAM is sold at Frank Brothers' Sanitary Ice Cream Parlor at Lake Zurich. Also fresh Confections and Fruits.