SUDDEN DEATH OF LEWIS H. BENNETT

Came as a Shock to Whole Community—Was Village Clerk at Time of Death

A wave of sorrow spread over this community Sunday when it was learned that L. H. Bennett, Barrington's well known townsman, had passed away early that morning, having suffered only a few hours from acute indigestion. His recent poor health and smiling face, as he went to and from his work, his presence at the gun club shoot Saturday afternoon and his appearance on the street Saturday evening, made his death a great shock to the public when the sad announcement came.

Lewis H. Bennett was born September 9, 1861, in Cuba township and secured his education in the local schools. On April 19, 1899, he was admitted to the bar in South Dakota. At the time of his death he was serving his second term as village clerk of the village of Barrington, which duty he faithfully performed in connection with his position as bookkeeper for the Public Service company of Northern Illinois, which position he had filled for the past four years.

On August 14, 1899, he was married to Miss Jennie L. Dickey of St. Paul, Minnesota, and resided at Woodstock until 1908, when they came to what was his future home in Barrington. Mr. Bennett was as well known throughout this part of the county as any man living. He was ever ready to assist in any movement for the good of the community and was generally called upon for advice in this regard. His presence at all social functions, especially of a public nature, never failed to bring cheer and harmony to those present, and his ability as an after-dinner speaker was recognized by all.

When fifteen years of age he was afflicted with inflammatory rheumatism which caused the amputation of his left leg at the knee.

He was a charter member of Barrington Lodge, I. O. O. F. No. 856, being one of five members applying for a charter, and was also a charter member of Barrington Camp No. 859, Modern Woodmen of America, which was organized January 15, 1899. He held a certificate, with Jennie L. Bennett as beneficiary, in this order for $3,000.

Mr. Bennett's devoted affection for his wife was always manifested upon and his many friends extend their heartfelt sympathy to her in this hour of sorrow.

The funeral was held Tuesday at the home of G. W. Spunner in charge of the Christian Science society of Barrington. Mr. Bennett having become a member of the Mother church June 2, 1916. The I. O. O. F. lodge had charge of the services at the grave in the cemetery at Woodstock where the body was taken for interment.

The surviving relatives besides the widow are two brothers, Masford A. of Barrington and Fred B. of Woodstock.

First Number Placed

The first number of the high school yearbook was given at the auditorium last night to a large crowd and proved in every way to give satisfaction. The attraction was the Ada Rosch company, composed of six people, in a musical play entitled "The Heart of the Immigrant." Musical numbers were presented in connection with the play which were well received. The next number will be that of November 10 and the attraction will be the Buckley company of entertainers.

Another Paper for Lake County
A new Lake county paper to be published semi-weekly will soon put its appearance at Libertyville. Frank Just, a well known newspaper man, has recently completed a modern fireproof building which has been leased to the Keaton Printing Service of Libertyville. The same relation of news service will exist between the Libertyville semi-weekly and the Waikanae Sun and the Libertyville Independent.

PAY-UP WEEK ON IN FULL SWING

Merchants Are Getting Results and Well Pleased with Plan—Attractive Bargains Offered

We always say, "money makes the wheels go round," and we usually think it takes a great deal of money, tremendous sums of it, to make these wheels go, but when you stop to think about it, a very small amount does a great deal of work. Just think for a moment. A small coin put into circulation will wipe out many debts and purchases be turned in to the man who first set it going. This is the idea back of National Pay-Up Week which is now in full swing in Barrington and is proving a great benefit in squaring up small accounts.

It is the circulating dollars, the busy rolling dollars, that make the life blood of local business. That same rolling dollar may pass in one day through fifteen or twenty different hands and pay off $15 or $20 in small debts. The problem is just to get it rolling.

Many of our merchants have been paid bills long overdue and considered lost, due, it is said, to the harmony and unity spirit of the campaign. One is not compelled to pay up—it's simply a request to do so if you can. The movement has been quite successful so far and still greater results are expected at the close of the week.

If you will notice the week has been turned into a bargain week also, and by reading the paper or visiting the stores you will find many attractive bargains.

Pay-Up Week comes in the time of year when business needs just a little added impulse to make it prosper than it ever did before. National Pay-Up Week gives every man a polite means of letting every other man know that he is indebted to him and that small favors are appreciated. All good people will take the hint and set upon it. Many have done this already.

Barrington Woman's Club

The Barrington Woman's club held its opening meeting at the club rooms yesterday afternoon. Twelve new members were taken in and everything points to a most prosperous year. The rooms were decorated in a profusion of autumn leaves, wild flowers and foliage and the walls with paintings of the various subjects studied about. A very fine program on "Plant Communities" was given by Mrs. Ruth Work on What is Meant by Plant Communities. Mrs. Mae Shearer on Plants and Flowers of the Rivers and Hills; Mrs. M. L. Sturges on Plant Life in the Ponds, Lakes and Swamps; Mrs. Isabel Cameron on Flowers of the Road Side, Meadows and Railroad Tracks.

Two musical selections were beautifully furnished by Mesdames Lydia Hawley and Alma Stiefenhofer, and Miss Frances Brockway and Miriam Plagge gave a piano duet.

The next meeting will be in the evening at the school house and a fine program is to be given to which the public is cordially invited.

Takes Agency for Chevrolet

P. C. Linn had taken on the Chevrolet line of small cars to meet his demand for a small car completely equipped.

This car is well known and has a wonderful record back of it. It is equipped with mechanical pump, auto-lights, starting and lighting system, coil-over springs, dimming headlights, honeycomb radiator and 30x33 inch non-skid tires all around. The motor is the famous overhead valve type with removable cylinder head.

The car is completely equipped weight only 1130 pounds and averages 22 miles to the gallon of gasoline. It sells for $490 f. o. b. Flint, Michigan.

Herman Baker, who lives south of town, has received the first of these cars sold by Mr. Linn, who has announced in this issue that he will be in town for the last week of the month of November 10 and the attraction will be the Buckley company of entertainers.

PERSONAL ITEMS

Miss Dorothy Rehm of Chicago spent Sunday in the Robert Purcell home.

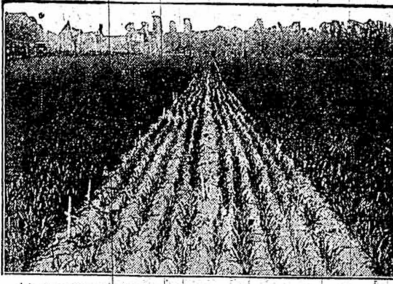

Mrs. Benjamin Gage and children and Mrs. Luella Austin of Crystal Lake and Miss Ella Todd of Chicago, spent Wednesday of last week at the home of A. L. Robertson.

Mrs. Lillian Lobrey of Irving Park, formerly Miss Lillian Nates, who lived here several years ago, visited with Miss Margaret Lammey and other friends here Sunday.

Gladya, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jara, who recently suffered in injuries by being run over by an automobile, is convalescing nicely and will soon, it is hoped, be well.

The Alhambra Sunday school class of the Baptist church enjoyed a social evening at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Abbott on Monday. Quite a number of new members have recently joined the class.

CROP FEEDING PAYS.

A comparison of the rows on either side with the central one is a convincing argument that fertilizer pays. This is a picture of an Indiana wheat field. More fertilizer used intelligently each year with not a single disappointed farmer among the users.

Interesting : School : Notes

Brief Mention of Numerous Occurrences of the Week—Told by Different Pupils

This week Room One is decorated with flowers colored and mounted by the children of the room. For their drawing they are making conventional designs and coloring them. The children have memorized a poem about the "Daisies," which is considerably long, and they have also been dramatizing the stories that they read. Among these are "The Little Red Hen" and "The Wind and the Sun."

Colored pictures have been secured from the Chicago Public Library which are being used in connection with history and geography in Room Five. The pictures are pretty and very interesting. The reason for the low percentage in this room is on account of the unusual number of holidays. The pupils in Room Four began to work with charcoal in drawing this week. The new geographies that are being used are found to be very interesting. For the month of September Raymond Brandt had 100 in arithmetic, 75 days out of 100, and Anna Peck had an average of 98.5 in spelling.

Rank of the grades in attendance is as follows:

	Room	Per cent
1	.....	98.9
2	.....	94.46
3	.....	93.12
Rank 4	.....	95.8
5	.....	95.67
6	.....	95.7
7	.....	95.7
8	.....	92.6

Freshmen's Initiation Night

The first meeting of the High School Literary club was held at the school house last Friday evening. This meeting is considered the most important one of the year, especially by the Freshies, as it is "Initiation Night," an event during which they fully as much as graduation is looked forward to. A prepared program was rendered for the first part of the evening, which consisted of a violin solo by Marion Bennett, piano solos by Ruth Dorwaldt and Madeline Schott, and then the Boys' Trio sang. This was their first appearance in public and was a great hit judging by the way they were cheered and wildly applauded. The three musically inclined young men are Ray Powers, Preston Colten and Alphonse Wagner.

This part of the program was probably not fully appreciated by the Freshies, as they were having wonderful visions of eating angelfish and having to sing alone on the stage in the "unprepared" program to follow. They were then taken to one of the classrooms and the doors were carefully guarded by Seniors, who were led forth one by one to meet their doom, and they met it as is besting brave little fishes to us.

Wright Cation gallantly proposed to Margaret Naether (although it is less popular than the hard hearted man returned him). A race was held to see whether Harry Brasel or Raymond Adair could push a penny across the floor with their noses first. Harry was victorious and whatever the prize was we are sure that it was fairly won. Rosa Walbaum, Edna Lipofsky and Pearl Hansen sang a trio in which Miss Lipofsky took the leading part, and her gestures were very skillful, as Miss Walbaum had to pose the remainder of the evening.

Harold Meyer and Frances Brockway had a pleasant contest with their hands tied behind them, and we are told that the blueberries were highly enjoyed with red pepper. We don't know whether Marion Bennett and Joe Hansen were considered the winners or not. However, they were treated as such and were fed milk from bottles by two of the Junior. Carol Klingenberg was blindfolded and (as it was to appear to her) lifted on a board by several strong upper classmen till he heard the ceiling, although it was only a book on which he bumped her head, and he was not more than a few inches from the floor. Try it yourself some time and see if you aren't fooled. Henry Titus and Ruth Dorwaldt are "kooky" for cream with chopsticks and really had a hard time to keep from spilling it on their Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes, which, of course, the Freshies were.

Madeline Schott and Nettie Lipofsky sang "Don't Bite the Hand That's Feeding You" with Elmer Lardner leading them with a regular baton, and they all did wonderfully well. Don't be surprised if some day Barrington produces another Geraldine Farrar or Violet.

Grace Monahan and Carl Brasel had their heads tied together with a beautiful green scarf and ate ice cream off a real low chair. The process must have been painful as they were continually bumping their heads together.

Rosetta and Thelma Strohbach and Ruth Pyle had to eat apples suspended from the ceiling with their hands tied behind them. Rosetta deserves credit for being the only one able to bite the apple, for they were extremely hard.

This concluded the Freshies' part of the program. Some of the prominent members of the class were not present, but Roy Spotts who were on their bike at this time. The program being over the company adjourned to a classroom and played "Heuben and Rachel," which is quite a favorite. The most interesting and important part was when the "nuts" were served, consisting of ice cream and crepes. As it was then 9:30 it was thought the Freshies had had enough excitement and so that it was time they were at home, so the party broke up and the guests departed. We are sure the Freshies breathed much easier as they descended the stairs than when they ascended them several hours earlier. And we ought to know, for we have all been Freshies ourselves.

Physiology Class on a Hike

The physiology class as a whole think Mr. Magee who gave them the privilege of going on the Hartwood Farm for the purpose of studying a small portion of the land.

Sections A and B of the class left the school house at 1 o'clock on Monday and Tuesday afternoons respectively. The classes hiked out and studied the general lay of the land along the route. After their arrival at Hartwood they followed a small stream of which they made a study.

They found that in so small a stream there were waterfalls, rapids, islands, cliffs and plains formed by the stream. A. We are sure the Freshies made of 24 square feet of the land adjoining the stream, which was made by laying out 24 square feet of the land with string and dividing this square into 36 equal parts, and drawing the stream in relation to the squares. They then measured the height of the land at each intersection of the string in relation to the height from the water level. Section B made a map of the land that was made by Section A, so that a contour map was made of a strip of land 48 feet long and 24 feet wide.

Aside from the study of the land the classes noticed many things that would have been of interest to the zoology class, such as crawfish, frogs, turtles, toads, grasshoppers and butterflies. On a whole the trips were educational and interesting to all who went.

A BEAUTY SPOT OF THE COUNTY

Forest Preserve Near This Village Will Make It Possible for Our People to Enjoy Outdoor Life

Ralph L. Peck, a Chicago attorney, informs the REVIEW that the legal work in connection with the forest preserve east of Barrington is progressing nicely.

Forest Preserve District No. 1 consists of about 1200 acres, the west boundary of which comes to the Lake Zurich road just east of this village, and takes in the portion of the old Barnett farm west of this road.

The first portions have just been bought—about 300 acres—and the deeds taken and the money paid. The balance is all under condemnation proceedings and will be taken up within a few weeks. The purchase price to those who are not on the main highways is $50 an acre and no expense for the clearing of titles or payment for abstract or attorney's fees.

It is planned that this district will be connected with the other portions of the preserve located along the Des Plaines river and south with the boulevards, and it would be desirable if a boulevard could be extended into Barrington west of this preserve so that our people would not only get the best benefit from the preserve, but also be connected with this highway. The forests as they are purchased will be permanently preserved as forests for the benefit of the people.

This forest is in fact the first but the largest individual forest in the state, and will be of benefit to the people of Barrington who live so close to its border. Portions of this tract have sold as low as $50 per acre within the last few years and it is thought that $50 under the conditions is a fair price, and which the county in fairness to the tax payers can afford to pay. The forest will be one of the beauty spots to the county.

In procuring this forest for the people of this community special credit is due to William Busse, the commissioner of this district, and also Peter Reinberg, president of the county board, and other commissioners.

Salem Church Notes

The Sunday school and preaching services at the Salem church were well attended last Sunday morning. A good audience was present in the evening to hear and enjoy the excellent program of special songs and music rendered by the choir and orchestra.

Cash offerings received during the day for foreign missions amounted to about $200. This augurs well for the missionary spirit of the society.

All are cordially invited to all the services at the Salem United Evangelical church. Sunday school and preaching services in the English language every Sunday morning beginning at 9:15. Preaching services in the German language at 11 a.m. Senior and Junior K. L. C. meetings every Sunday evening beginning at 6:45 and preaching services in the English language at 7:30 p.m. English and German prayer meetings every Thursday evening beginning at 7:30.

Lycium Course Taught

With more than 15,000 Lycium courses in the United States, averaging five members each and attended annually by 10,000,000 people, the supply of them is practically unlimited. The Lycium course in this country is enjoying a substantial and healthy growth. Thousands of towns and cities have learned from experience that a Lycium course is beneficial to community life in many ways. Only entertainment which is worth while can grow and stand the test of years as the Lycium movement has done.

For the coming fall and winter our community a choice program has been selected by the local Lyceum, and tickets will be sold at popular prices. A description of each number will be given from time to time.

Boys Park Ridge Market

P. J. Alverson has resigned as operator for the E. J. & E. railway at Lake Zurich, which position he has held since selling his business here some time ago. He has purchased a market in Park Ridge and will move his family there November 1, but will take possession of the meat market October 25. He has purchased a residence property. Mr. Alverson says Park Ridge is a thriving city of 3,600 population and supports four markets, each in connection with a grocery.

Settlement Notice

Parties knowing themselves to be indebted to me will confer a favor by settling accounts at once. Bills will be found at the Price Market. Please call on or before October 15.—F. J. Alverson.

The commissioners of highways of Barrington township have contracted with the Gallon Iron Works Mfg. Co. for 75 signs to mark the principal roads of the township.

The matter was put over until a later meeting so that the board might investigate as to where the signs should be placed.

The Barrington Cemetery association proposed to put drain tile in the new part of the cemetery and asked the board to furnish glazed tile to make the connection on Cemetery street. On motion Trustee Stiefenhofer it was voted to refer the matter to Marshall Peters said that a club of boys desired to rent the hall for Saturday evenings for a dancing school and would like to know what the rent would be. The question was discussed but no action taken.

President Meyer said that complaint had been made to him about the noise being made by those playing croquet on the grounds in front of the village hall. No action was taken.

On motion Trustee Hager the board adjourned.

Activities of the Local W. R. C.

Active interest is being taken in the fall meeting of the Wm. Reilly Co. Corps, after six months of unexcused absence due to the fire in the corps hall and later the moving of the building. Last week Mrs. Taylor of Elgin, assistant department inspector, was in town to inspect the order and last Saturday night a farewell party was given at the hall for Mrs. George Page, a member, who is moving to Chicago. Forty-three were present to wish Mrs. Page happiness in her new location. A luncheon was served and various games played.

Prohibition Mass Meeting

The Prohibition special train, which left Chicago on September 8 to make a tour of the west and Pacific coast, will have completed that tour and will reach Chicago again on the evening of Saturday October 7. The train will then make a tour of the east and southeast. On Saturday evening, October 7, the date of the special train's return from the west, a mass meeting will be held at the Third Presbyterian church, Chicago. National candidates Hanley and Landrith and John R. Golden, candidate for governor of this state, will address the meeting.

It Pays to Advertise

Speaking of advertising, here is what some of the publishers charge for space: Ladies' Home Journal, sells for $8 per line, $150 per inch and $8,000 for a full page each issue. The back cover sells for $10,000. A full page advertisement in the Saturday Evening Post costs $5,000 and the back cover sells for $7,000. The center double page in colors is $12,000. As their advertising space is always filled it is evident that advertising pays, even at these prices.

AT THE CHICAGO THEATRES

BLACKSTONE

George V. Hobart, the author of that wonderful play "Experience" has turned out another sensational success in the new farce, "What's Your Husband Doing?" especially written for Thomas W. Ross and Maclyn Arbuckle, who were joint stars with William H. Crane, Amelia Blingham and Mabel Taliferro in "The New Henrietta" of last season. "What's Your Husband Doing?" is the current offering at the Blackstone theatre, Chicago, and already has created more talk in the city than any play presented in that city in several decades.

The new Hobart farce has to do with the life of lawyers who are partners and who have a sworn agreement that each shall tell the other everything that transpires in his life. Failure to keep this pact results in trouble for both and a lively round of fun for three acts, the finale bringing everything up straight and showing the men who have been square with themselves and their wives.

The play is presented every night, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday, the Wednesday matinee being at the popular 81 price.

The Right Number

WHEN you go out to make a call in person, you always assure yourself that you have the right address.

In making a telephone call, it saves a lot of time and bother, to be sure of the number.

The absolutely sure way is to first consult the telephone directory—not trusting to memory—and then to listen carefully when the operator repeats back to you the number, correcting her if she is wrong.

When you get the wrong number, it is always well to remember that the person called to the telephone by mistake is never at fault and should be treated with the utmost courtesy.

First, the value of the security underlying REAL ESTATE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS can easily be determined, and the property be personally inspected by the investor before making purchases, whereas on the other hand, experience and tedious study is necessary to exactly value the security of such corporation bonds as Railroads, Public Utilities and Industrials. Furthermore the stability in price of REAL ESTATE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS has been demonstrated; they have maintained their full par value when other bonds, even of the highest character, have suffered severe declines in times of depression. Also REAL ESTATE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS are issued in most convenient denominations of $100, $500 and $1000 and the interest is paid promptly on the date of maturity. These moderate sizes enable the investor to buy small amounts of bonds, and, if in need of funds, to sell portions of his holdings.

FIRST CAVALRY PLEASES FUNSTON

"Little Boared General" Visits Border Camp for the First Time.

EYE ON TRANSPORTATION

Special Parade of Motor Trucks, Wagons, Ambulances, Pack Mules and Illinois Cavalrymen at Camp Parker Gratifies General.

Brownsville, Tex.—A review of all the transportation units in Brownsville and a recent parade by the First Illinois Cavalry were features of the visit here of Major General Funston, commander in chief of the southern department, United States army.

No program had been arranged prior to the arrival of the "Little General," but as soon as his train arrived, he and his staff were met by Brigadier General Parker, commander of the Brownsville district, things began to happen.

"I want to see how you are fixed as regards transportation," General Funston announced brusquely. "That is the main purpose of my visit."

General Parker said a few words to an aid. The aid jumped on a horse and rode for Fort Brown.

A few seconds later telephone messages had gone to the several National Guard camps, and within an hour, illustrating the splendid pitch of preparedness reached by the troops here after three months of training, a long stream of motor trucks, wagons, ambulances and pack mules began converging at Fort Brown and passing in review before the commanding general.

Six hundred horses, counted Lincoln 200 of the great, lumbering motor trucks passed in an hour and a half.

Something similar happened at Camp Parker, where General Funston paid a visit to Col. Milton J. Foreman of the First cavalry.

"What is the program?" asked Colonel Foreman. He was told that the review of the Iowa Infantry regiment would parade at retreat.

"Why not let us show you what we've got, too?" asked the colonel. "Very well," responded General Funston. "Only you have to hurry."

That was at four o'clock in the afternoon. At five the entire First cavalry had rallied up with full equipment and were passing in review before the general at Fort Brown, having had to march in a mile and a half from the camp.

The ceremony with which the regiment, the crack military cavalry outfit now on the border world through its peacekeeping mission, the Little Boared General figure who stood with giant "Jingling Jim" Parker beneath an elm tree at the post, but he would vouchsafe nothing of his features for publication. He was, however, extremely cordial to Colonel Foreman and the officers of the cavalry following the review.

In the evening a reception was tendered the general at the post. On his arrival a salute of 35 guns had been fired. It was General Funston's first visit to the border camp.

Fair a Success. Springfield.—The 1910 state fair which just ended was the best since 1910, according to R. M. Davidson, secretary of the board of agriculture, who drew a sigh of relief after closing his desk at the exposition grounds.

Gate receipts were better this year than since 1910, said Mr. Davidson. "More money was collected and went into the treasury from paid admissions than for six years, due to the increase of the curtailment of trust privileges."

Mr. Davidson said his statement in praise of the fair just past did not imply merely to finances, but might be applied to many of the departments.

"I am satisfied with the fair from every standpoint," said Mr. Davidson. "We have had a few minor disappointments, but on the average the exposition exceeded every other since 1910, which was conceded by the biggest fair the state ever had. In many respects the 1910 fair was better than the 1910 fair."

Two suggestions growing out of the conduct of the present season will be made to the board of agriculture by Secretary Davidson, unless conditions arise to change his mind. One of these will be that the Illinois fair be held earlier in order that the tested city plan, begun this year, may be fruitful of larger results.

"If the fair could be held late in August or earlier in September, there is no reason why 10,000 or 12,000 persons might not be induced to camp out, during state fair week," said Mr. Davidson. "This year not more than 50 families lived in the tents afforded west of the fair grounds."

Lighting Kills Horses. Taylorville.—William Ellis, living south of Taylor, was shocked severely while at work in the field by a bolt of lightning. The bolt killed the three horses he was working. It came out of a clear sky.

Breaks Leg in Grid Battle. Peoria.—Quarterback Cooper of Normal high school suffered a fracture of both bones of the right leg in a game with Manual high school of Peoria. Manual won, 65 to 9.

fair grounds because the weather was too cold. I am in favor of furnishing the ground free and inviting people of the state to come and camp out, bringing their own tents or renting them here."

The second recommendation of Mr. Davidson which will probably be made to the board of agriculture is that passes be done away with except in the case of persons actually working on the grounds.

With the passing of the 1910 fair plans are making for the exposition next year. President-elect Taggart of Peoria will assume the duties of his new office January 1, when superintendent of the various departments will be named and a secretary will be chosen. Mr. Davidson will be a candidate for re-election.

Make Progress for Centennial. That plans are progressing satisfactorily for the state celebration in 1918 of the centennial of the admission of Illinois into the Union was reported by the committee at the meeting in this city. They showed that it will be the greatest state centennial celebration ever known in the United States. Arrangements are in progress looking toward a grand pageant in connection with the state fair in 1918 and the extension of the fair and celebration through a period of two or three weeks instead of the usual nine days. A film will be made and exhibited throughout the state calling attention to the celebration.

John A. Dingman of Vandavia made an address before the commission. He showed a booklet that Fayette county had issued, relating to the history of that county and of Vandavia as the capital of Illinois. It is precisely illustrated. One incident referred to is that of Abraham Lincoln leaping from one of the windows of the capitol to break a cannon when it became evident that the legislature would pass a bill continuing the state capital in Vandavia for 50 years. Lincoln was in favor of moving the capital to Springfield. The speaker of the house, acting like Speaker Tom Reed of Maine did long after in the national house of congress, counted Lincoln as present and the bill carried.

The commission will hold its next meeting in this city October 10.

Special Car to Tour State. A car fully equipped to demonstrate home economics will tour the state under the auspices of the household science department of the University of Illinois. It is announced.

Two demonstrators will accompany the car, which is equipped with a gasoline engine for operating a washing machine, mangle, cream separator, vacuum cleaner and ice cream freezer; an electric lighting system for private homes, house furnishings and a kitchen.

The car and its equipment provide sufficient material for demonstration work for a week. It is designed to reach housekeepers under conditions favorable to a thoughtful study of the equipment, and it is proposed to spend five days at a point.

The university will pay the salaries of the demonstrators, the exhibits, and the local committees must agree to advertise the car, pay for its transportation and provide living accommodations for the demonstrators.

Some of the subjects on which lectures will be given are the gasoline engine and household kitchen equipment, proper water system, household appliances, how to furnish a house, the laundry problem, heating and lighting systems and the business of housekeeping.

May Prorate Grain Cases. Springfield.—The railroad grain cases among elevator operators of Illinois in proportion to the business transacted last year were made to the Illinois public utilities commission.

Grain dealers here at a conference on the car shortage, attended by 100 representatives of grain associations and railroads.

Railroad representatives proposed that the cars should be assigned on the firm basis, which would mean the equipment of a certain number of cars to each firm, regardless of the volume of business.

From these suggestions the utilities commission expects to evolve a plan for the guidance of shippers and railroads which, it is hoped, will relieve the shortage in cars.

Girls Win Scholarships. Miss Mabel Wallace of Virden was one of the three girls at the state fair school to win a free scholarship to the University of Illinois, conferring a regular course in domestic science. The other two girls qualifying highest and winning scholarships were Miss Germa Hildebrand of Astoria and Miss Ruth Decker of Golconda.

The scholarships are awarded only to those who have high-school diplomas. Miss Mabel Schwartz of Elmhurst and Miss Esio Gray of Maroa won honorable mention, but did not qualify for entrance to the university because they were not graduates of a high school.

New Incorporations. O'Malley Clear company, Chicago, capital, $2,000; to manufacture cigars; incorporators, William O'Malley, Ed Cohen, and Anne H. O'Malley. A. N. Piles Mfg. company, Chicago, capital, $10,000; novelty manufacturers; incorporators, Charles O. George, Abner C. Piper, and Albert H. Fritz.

The Barry Sand and Gravel company, Barry, capital, $35,000; sand and gravel; incorporators, George Edward Hoffman, John C. Brendt, and Joseph Webb.

THE HOME BEAUTIFUL

Flowers and Shrubs and Their Care and Cultivation

Francis Scott Key Rose—the Flowers Are Unusually Large.

FAVORITE ROSES

By ELIZABETH VAN BENTHOVEN.

There is absolutely nothing in the realm of esthetic culture that is so thoroughly dominated by personal preference as the selection of a pet rose. Every lover of the garden and of the home beautiful selects a favorite rose almost as soon as the interest of flower culture is born.

I have been most interested in the reason's favorites and the reasons given by rose enthusiasts for their likes and dislikes. They offer to the student and the cultivator valuable hints in the care and selection of a favorite, because what one may find as not superficial. For instance, the flowers are put forth on wood of the previous season, so that if pruning is to be done at all it ought to be done only after flowering.

The delicate formation, coloring and perfume of the rose all combine to make its study especially worth while. It is the best grown, and the pink-and-white flowers have an odor of wonderful character. They should be set out in the spring as soon as the danger of frost is over. Dig a hole two feet square by two feet deep, place a few stones at the bottom for drainage, and then fill with good soil, mixed with well-rotted manure.

If large roses are wanted, cut the buds so that only a few remain. Cutting the long stems improves the plant of frost is over. Dig a hole two feet square by two feet deep, place a few stones at the bottom for drainage, and then fill with good soil, mixed with well-rotted manure.

It can be planted in the sunshine or in the shade, under hanging trees or in the open, and a little severe pruning in the early spring is about all that the delicate rose needs. There is something in the rose that binds the present to the past, and one feels like the owner of a rare old bit of period furniture when it forms part of the garden.

Those who do not believe the ancient adage that every rose must have its thorns are showing much partiality this year for the Paul Neyron. Every month it produces its flowers, with the blossoms on long stems and leaves of a beautiful dark green. If cut when in bud, the flowers have a remarkable lasting quality. As I said, it is almost thornless, and its flower develops nearly every shade of pink. It needs little save proper planting in soil free from weeds and fertilizing with old manure.

Harrison's Yellow, an Austrian briar, is also one of the favorite flowers of this season's cultivators. It is a sturdy member of the rose family, possessing the hardiness that makes such an appeal to the rose lover. Harrison's Yellow is a rambling climber of luxuriant growth. "Just grows up," like Topsy, if it has the least chance. The buds of clear, pure yellow begin to show in May. The foliage is fine and amply with a pleasing green. A lazy man or woman ought to adore the type, for it needs practically no pruning, unless one wishes to limit the growth. The flowers are put forth on wood of the previous season, so that if pruning is to be done at all it ought to be done only after flowering.

The Kilgarny rose is also being given a prominent place in the year's planting. Its freedom from disease and from insects combined with its delicate fragrance, and the pink-and-white flowers have an odor of wonderful character. They should be set out in the spring as soon as the danger of frost is over. Dig a hole two feet square by two feet deep, place a few stones at the bottom for drainage, and then fill with good soil, mixed with well-rotted manure.

The authorities have filled the hollow interior with cement to strengthen and preserve the landmark. It is 80 feet in circumference.

During the Napoleonic invasion of Germany it is related that the French Marshal Berthier rode his horse into the hollow of the tree and turned the animal around there.

Once more we doubt his presence. We are told he has never left us nor forsake us, but in spite of that, when circumstances which hurt and distress surround us, we are tempted, like Gideon of old to say, "If the Lord be with us why then is all this befallen us?" He knows all the way of our circumstances.

The "If" of Faith. In Romans 8:31 is written "What shall we say then to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us?" The very next verse tells how we may know that God is for us. "He that spared not his own sons, but delivered him up for us all, how shall he not with him also freely give us all things?" If he gave the greater he will give the less. He gave his Son, would he not give all things? If he has given Christ he will withhold no good thing. How this "If" should awaken our faith in a God, his willingness, his power, etc.

The "If" of Decision. This is found in Elijah's exhortation to Israel, "If the Lord be with you, follow him, but if Baal followed him, Israel must make a decision between them. We, too, must decide between the "If" of doubt and the "If" of faith. We have a glimpse of what it means in the Apostle Paul. He counted the cost, faced the toil and hardship, saw the crown ahead of him, but looked also at the presence and power of the Lord, and, assuring his heart that God was with him and for him, made the decision. Joy is to be ours to meet the "If" of decision and say:

Then into his hand we'll mine And into his hand we'll leave him And I walked in a light divine The path where I feared to be

IF

By REV. B. M. GUTCHIFFE, Pastor, Central Baptist Church, Chicago

Satan frequently uses an "if" to awaken doubt and God frequently uses an "if" to awaken faith. He decides which "if" we will have. So in the Scriptures there are those three—the "if" of doubt, the "if" of faith and the "if" of decision. By nature we doubt all that comes from God. Doubt expresses itself in the "if" of question, and unconscious to the believer, Satan's power.

Decision expresses itself in the "if" of action which deepens the conviction and destroys the doubt. The story of Doubt.

We are constantly tempted to doubt the Lord's Word. When Peter was told that what he thought was a spirit upon the water that stormy night was the Lord himself, he said, "If it be thou—There is the blast of doubt in that 'If.' The doubt lingered and took shape in Peter's mind. Trained on the storm, he said, 'If I be alright? Is it really the Lord? Was it, and is it, the Lord?' The 'if' rose up and Peter went down. We step out on the storm, and when the first steps are so brave and true when suddenly the 'if' rises up, and doubt of his word comes in, and we begin to sink. Again we will bring his power. The father of the demonized boy is an illustration. He brought the boy to the Lord and said, 'If thou canst do anything.' The poor man had 'if' in the wrong place, for he was told, 'If thou canst believe.' As in Mark 10:27, 'With God all things are possible.' Not 'if' God all things are possible, that does without saying, but 'with' God. This links man with God. The machine is a dead, lifeless and helpless thing until linked with the engine, when it becomes animated with communicated power. 'If thou canst do?' 'If thou canst believe.' And we doubt his willingness. The cry of the leper, 'If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.' We are constantly doubting his willingness because of our condition. Constantly forgetting that 'He that spared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how shall he also freely give us all things?' We hear of him healing the deaf, making the lame to walk, the blind to see, the dead, but when it comes to our own case we get our eyes filled with our desperate condition and forget his willingness. He has said, 'I will bless our friends, may be helped, we may have his word, we may know his power, but because of our condition we are tempted to doubt, saying, 'If thou wilt.'"

Again, we doubt his providence. When the Lord by Elijah had promised in the midst of famine to make flour cheaper than wheat, and on the street, one high in authority sarcastically asked: "If the Lord would make windows in heaven, might this thing be?" It was a question, a heard-of thing—so sudden. Is it possible he would make the grain to grow in a night? The "if" of rationalism came and said, "We doubt the promise of God. He has promised that all our needs will be supplied, but because we do not see how he can do it we doubt the promise. He gave us a dangerous ground, losing our peace and missing the blessing."

Once more we doubt his presence. We are told he has never left us nor forsake us, but in spite of that, when circumstances which hurt and distress surround us, we are tempted, like Gideon of old to say, "If the Lord be with us why then is all this befallen us?" He knows all the way of our circumstances.

He gave his Son, would he not give all things? If he has given Christ he will withhold no good thing. How this "If" should awaken our faith in a God, his willingness, his power, etc.

The "If" of Decision. This is found in Elijah's exhortation to Israel, "If the Lord be with you, follow him, but if Baal followed him, Israel must make a decision between them. We, too, must decide between the "If" of doubt and the "If" of faith. We have a glimpse of what it means in the Apostle Paul. He counted the cost, faced the toil and hardship, saw the crown ahead of him, but looked also at the presence and power of the Lord, and, assuring his heart that God was with him and for him, made the decision.
