$1.50 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE

NEW $25,000 HALL TO BE OPENED TO PUBLIC

On Friday Evening, Dec. 8—Building is Modern and a Credit to Owner, Jos. G. Catlow

A new era begins in Barrington on Friday evening of this week when the new Catlow building is opened to public use. No more can it be said that Barrington lacks a proper hall for amusement. Not only will there be a hall large enough to accommodate gatherings of all kinds, but it will be one beautifully and thoroughly equipped for the pleasure of all the people.

Joseph G. Catlow has ventured to do what many citizens had discussed but never dared to undertake. He has invested thousands of dollars for the benefit of the community. It is a philanthropic working for the good of his own home town. It now becomes the duty of all to show their loyal appreciation of his efforts by patronizing his entertainments and by renting his various rooms for private and public affairs. The privilege of having such a building for use at our very doors will grow upon this community and the day is not far distant when all will wonder how the town managed to long without a good and large meeting place.

The maintenance of the building of course will cost Mr. Catlow considerable and of course he must demand a rental proportionate to the money invested and the accommodations offered. The village hall which has been used so long, because there was no other, was only worth the small sum asked by the village fathers. It was never built for a public hall, only intended for a council room. If it was worth the five dollars charged, then the twenty dollars to be asked for the use of the new hall is fair and reasonable. There is plenty of money in this community, no one is in want, anyone wishing to rent the hall is able to pay the price. The standard of payment for a hall must be raised. The Stott hall rented for ten dollars and had no conveniences to compare with the Catlow building. Some of the money which for years has gone to Chicago and other places for amusements may now be kept at home with satisfaction. "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."

Mr. and Mrs. Catlow are respected citizens of pioneer families of this vicinity, honest in all their dealings, and the young people will be safely interested to their care.

Mr. Catlow started his building on Station street, just west of Hough street, on April 18 and will have his "house warming" on Friday evening, December 8, when he gives a dancing party with the Dreamland orchestra of Des Plaines to play. The tickets will be $1.00. Every preparation is made to have the first use of the hall an evening of great enjoyment.

Chester Catlow, a son, who has conducted a moving picture show in Bond, Oregon, for three years, has come home to manage the business affairs of the building. On Wednesday and Saturday evenings there will be picture shows of the best service of one of the big film companies. Every Friday evening there will be a dancing party with a teacher from Chicago to teach dancing from 7:30 to 9:30. Other affairs will be held on the other three nights of the week.

The Barrington Woman's club will offer a vaudeville show on New Year's night for the benefit of the public library.

The theatre and dancing hall is in size 40x125 feet; ten large inverted electric bowls light it and there are installed 575 movable theatre seats in mahogany finish; there are, checking rooms and dressing rooms with modern plumbing. The stage has a sixteen foot depth and is equipped with modern scenery. The building is electrically lighted and steam heated. Its exterior has a concrete veneer and a marble roof, extending over the sidewalk at the front entrance makes a protection against storms. On the mezzanine floor at the rear of the hall a concert operating room is constructed for a moving picture machine and a late model machine, costing $500, has been purchased, also a $1000 Steiger grand piano.

The basement has been arranged for banquet and supper. The dining room has been furnished with tables, chairs, linen, dishes and silverware to serve one hundred people at a time. The kitchen has all utensils needed and a large garage. The Catlows will cater for various affairs, or rent the equipment.

The second floor is arranged for lodge halls with private dressing rooms and lockers, also a private bath. The sum of $25,000 has been expended on the building. Brasel Brothers were the contractors and Mr. Catlow his own architect.

VIRGINIA FARMERS VISIT HERE

And Inspect Large Dairy Farms Near this Village—Are Guests of Elgin Commercial Club

A delegation of representative farmers of Lebanon county, Virginia, was in this vicinity Wednesday afternoon visiting several of the big dairy farms. Twenty-eight automobiles were used to convey the men from one farm to the other.

Among the farms inspected on the trip here were: Hartwood, Hawthorne, VanHagen, Hammond and others. The Commercial club at Elgin was host to the Virginia men in the morning and gave a big dinner in their honor at noon. After dinner they came to Barrington in company with many of the club members from Elgin.

The Commercial club, consisting of Spencer Otis, Sr., R. R. Hammond, J. I. Martin and Spencer Otis, Jr., went to Elgin and met the men. Just before the dinner in Elgin and after listening to several Virginia uses, tell about their blue jersey fed beef, Mr. Hammond of Barrington remarked: "It may be that you can raise just as good beef with blue grass as you can with ensilage, corn, alfalfa and clover, but I am from Missouri," and the visitors cheered him.

Governor Stuart was indisposed and remained in Chicago. The manager of his farm, consisting of 40,000 acres, was present.

The delegates came west to attend the livestock show in Chicago. They had a special car on the North-western road to take them to Mooseheart. They also visited the Kane County home near Savoy.

Shower for Miss Olive Plagge

A good luck shower was given at the home of Mrs. Clarence Plagge Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Olive Plagge, who will be married some time this month to Fred Homuth. The exact date of the wedding has not been made known.

Mrs. Plagge was assisted by Mrs. Reuben Plagge and the evening proved to be a most enjoyable one. The house was decorated with all sizes of gilded horseshoes and the color scheme of yellow and white was carried out in everything. The bride-to-be found her presents after searching some time by horseshoes being tied with a certain kind of cord. Games and refreshments were also enjoyed.

After the wedding, which will take place before Christmas, the young people will go to housekeeping in the residence owned by the groom on Grove avenue, recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Schroeder.

Help Name the New Hall

Joseph G. Catlow asks you to suggest names for his new building. Send in your ideas to the Review. Short names are requested so that the electric name over the main entrance will not be too large. The Catlow family will choose a name from the list; the public hands in.

Names suggested so far are: Rex—(The Latin for king.) Elgin—(meaning quality.) Josephine—(the operetta and his daughter.) Bluebird—(the sign of happiness.) Playhouse.

Whitlow—(Whitney and Catlow.)

Regina—(the queen for queens.)

Barry—(Barrington.)

Harlow—(Barrington.)

Harmony Hall.

Graystone.

Clara—(Latin for famous, also Mrs. Catlow's name.)

"Christmas at Finnegan's Flat"

The eighth grade of the Barrington public school announced to submit on December 10 they will give a small play entitled, "Christmas at Finnegan's Flat." The tickets are for sale now and can be purchased from any eighth grade pupil. The admission is for adults, 25 cents, and 15 cents for children. The money taken in will go for the library of this school as it has practically no books.

The curtain will rise at 8 o'clock sharp, and if you wish something sweet and good to eat during the performance bring money to purchase some of the Freshmen's home-made candy. Come and bring your friends.

Death of Miss Alice Church

Miss Alice S. Church, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Church, who lived for many years on the public farm at the north limits of this village, died suddenly of heart disease at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. M. Harwood, 6114 Lowe avenue, Chicago, Wednesday of last week. She was 62 years old and had lived with her sister since leaving Barrington six years ago.

Resides her sister who leaves surviving

Yuletide Again

The Yuletide season is with us again.

It is with us but not of us, for much of the earth knows little of joy today.

Upon many millions of people the sun shines as brightly as in the days of old, but its lustre is dimmed by the shed blood of suffering humanity.

The benign smile of the Divine One is as tender and as loving as when the world was young, but the twentieth century finds too many of the human race bent upon pleasure and profit and revenge and forgetful of the beauties of life as seen through eyes that are better and holier than ours.

It is with this knowledge that the people of our little community approach the Yuletide time when all should be sunshine and gladness and joy.

But if we may not sway the rest of the world, if our voice be not heard beyond the confines of our own firesides, we yet may look upward with a feeling of gladness and thankfulness that the horrors that are engulfing the rest of the world have at least passed us by.

We may be thankful that we have even an hour of peace and prosperity for our country, though no one knows when the withering hand of the blight of the century may be spread over our fair land.

Let us be joyful today, but let us mingle that joy with compassion for the stricken ones of other lands to whom the Yuletide season is but a mockery and an agonizing delusion.

Brief Mention of Numerous Occurrences of the Week—Told by Different Pupils

The children in Room 1 are learning their songs for Christmas and are beginning their Christmas construction work.

Wilfred Denzel of Room 4 has been in the hospital for over a week with pneumonia, but is better now and hopes to return this week. Edith Palmer of Richmond Center, Wisconsin, has entered fifth grade.

The record of "Stille Nacht" by Madame Schuman-Heink, which belongs to the school victrola collection, is being used as a model by Room 2. Besides learning this song the pupils are writing letters to relatives and friends.

Pen and ink sketches from history have been used in Room 5 as a basis for language study. The sixth grade arithmetic class is doing excellent work and is even getting ahead.

The pupils of Room 3 are planning for a Christmas party.

The stereopticon work in the physiography class for this week is based on a series of slides on Panama and the Argentine.

The public school was closed Thanksgiving day and the Friday following. At Christmas time the school will close Friday, December 22, reopening January 2, and at Easter time will be closed Good Friday and Easter Monday.

The zoology class is spending a week in study of plants.

A number of children from the grades are absent on account of pink eye.

NEXT NUMBER OF LYCEUM COURSE

Will be at School Auditorium on Next Wednesday Night, December 13—Good Program Promised

The Iris Concert Company is composed of Miss Laura M. Magill, reader; Miss Louise Beaman, contralto soloist; and Miss Lulu Schneider, pianist and accompanist. Their program takes the form of a recital, and it is a recital well worth while. Miss Beaman toured with this organization in the Eastern States and with great success in "Faust," "Carmen," "The Trovatore," "Tales of Hoffman," "Butterfly" and "Lucia." A successful appearance was made by singer last winter at the Metropolitan Opera House, Philadelphia, as a member of the Shubert Quartet. With the Wagner Concert Company she was featured as soloist, singing "Adrian," aria from "Rienzi," with Symphony Orchestra accompaniment, in Bielefeld. Since coming to Chicago Miss Beaman has sung at the South Park Methodist Episcopal Church, Chicago Woman's Club, Quadrangle Club of the University of Chicago and many private receptions. Critics are united in praise of her work and readily recommend her as a reliable artist and capable soloist for concert, opera, church or oratorio. She possesses a strong contralto voice, extensive in range and of rich quality. Miss Beaman for two years was soloist at St. Paul's Church of Broadway and was afterward engaged to sing in the Church of the Miss Lulu Schneider, pianist, and accompanist, was educated in Europe and shows the results of her work of long and excellent training. Last season she appeared with the Holmstrom Orchestra over the Metropolitan five day Chautauque circuit, beginning in Mississippi and ending in Illinois. On this program she played a solo each day, in addition to her work with the orchestra.

Concerning Miss Magill, Florence L. McCracken, department of pattern reading, Columbia College of Exposition, Chicago, says: "Miss Laura Magill is a reader of unusual ability, having a beautiful, well modulated voice and a charming personality. Her dramatic interpretations are vital and rhythmic. Her humor is delightfully clever." Ella Wilson Smith, department of contemporaneous drama, Columbia College of Exposition, Chicago, has the following to say: "Miss Laura Magill is a reader of unusual ability and charm. She has so winsome a personality and so graceful a manner that she is in rapport with her audience the moment she comes before them. Her keen sense of humor, her fine discrimination in characterization, her art in visualizing her scenes and her exceptional emotional power enable her to carry her hearers with her through every shade of feeling that the experiences in interpreting the varied selections in her repertoire. To hear Miss Magill is to capitulate to her art and charm."

Notice to the Public

The business houses of Barrington will be open every evening, commencing December 12, until Christmas. Holiday shoppers will be made welcome and a full measure of courteous service will be found at all the stores.

On motion of Trustee Hyger, seconded by Trustee Stiefenhofer, it was voted to allow the Dorman Dairy Company to use the alley north of their property for an annual rental of $1.00, the village reserving the right to enter same any time, for sower or other purpose.

(The dormer window of the Village hall was ordered repaired on motion of Trustee Plagge and same was left in the care of the committee on building and grounds.)

No further business coming before the body, Trustee Schwemmer moved to adjourn and the last meeting for this year came to a close.

MINNESOTA FARMERS MAKE BIG MONEY IN VEGETABLES

The following item taken from the Austin (Minn.) Herald, was headed the Review by H. H. Kampert and is a real newsy story of two fortunate Minnesota farmers.

"Joe Solbeck near Glenville, Minn., planted a little less than seven acres of land to onions last spring. This fall he harvested 3,668 bushels from the field, a little more than 500 bushels to the acre. He received $1.80 per bushel or a check for $5,500."

"Joe also harvested thirty acres of cabbage. The crop weighed a little more than 300 tons or 10 tons to the acre. He received a check for $7,000, or $23.33 per ton. This means his land returned to him in one year $233 per acre."

"Frank Solbeck, Joe's brother, living on a farm nearby, had two fields of potatoes. One field contained 50 acres and yielded 200 bushels per acre or 10,000 bushels in all. He sold the entire lot at $1.50 per bushel or $15,000. This brought him just $500 per acre on one year's crop."

The other field of potatoes contained 100 acres and averaged 150 bushels per acre, or 15,000 bushels in all. He sold them for the same price ($1.50 per bushel) and received $22,500 or $225 per acre."

A Sheep Versus a Man

By REV. J. H. RALSTON, D.D.
Secretary of Correspondence Department,
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—How much, then, is a man of more value than a sheep?—Matt. 12:12.

Is a man worth saving? Should he try to save himself as John the Baptist exhorted the men of his generation to do, or should Christian people try to save unsaved men about them? Salvage is always a commendable, whether of the forest or the rainfall, game in the water or on land, or the unsaved powers of nature all around us; but is not man worth more than these?

In a recent religious periodical there was a picture of a drove of animals being driven through a passage in a stock yard. In connection with the picture was a verse of poetry, describing these as going to the slaughter without a care, without a dream of death, without a quickened breath, all unknowing, and the last words of the verse were these: "And these are sheep." There was another picture of young men marching along a city street. They were in civilian clothes, but each carried a bundle as if going on some very uncertain journey. They were described as smiling to cover their hearts that fluttered. They knew their fate; they were touched with fear and hate. They were recruits going to the slaughter, too, and the last words of the verse were: "And these are men." No, not only in the days of our Lord, but in these days the question may be asked, "Is a man better than a sheep?"

Popular Estimate.
A man is worth more than a sheep in dollars and cents. In the days of slavery in this country a strong negro man would fetch more in the market than a sheep. Today if a man is killed by a public conveyance, more can be recovered on his life than on the life of a sheep. The higher valuation is largely because intellectually man is far above a sheep. Whatever may be the intellectual power of a horse or a dog, certainly a sheep is considered the least intellectual of all animals. Man has a moral nature of which the sheep is apparently absolutely devoid; his spiritual nature puts him far above any animal.

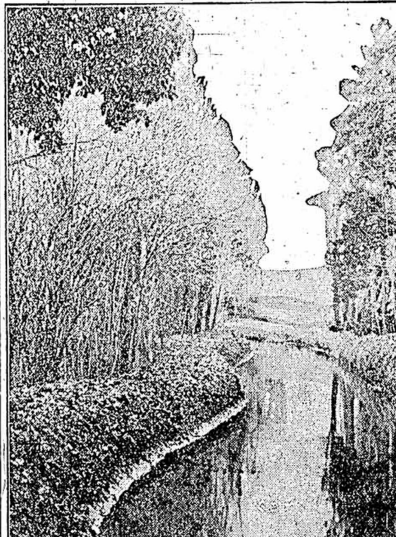

Man's Estimate of Himself.
But what seems to be man's estimate of himself as compared with a sheep? To preserve a sheep is to preserve portable property of material interest. To preserve himself, his whole being, is to preserve his spiritual and immortal interests. How is a man acting at that point? Is he not giving more time, thought and labor to the things that perish than to the things that endure? Does the Bible get as deep interest as the saving power? Is the house of worship or prayer attended as enthusiastically as a place of amusement? Is the thought of making the world better as insistent as that of pleasing himself? Man seems to be quite enthusiastic in the propagation of sheep, spending money without stint and giving thought and time to the subject, but how rarely does he consider the propagation of the right kind of men. Possibly in this day propagation of men for the slaughter in war would be paralleled by the propagation of sheep for the food market.

God's Estimate of Man.
What is God's estimate of man? Did he not create him in his own image and likeness? Someone has said man is the paragon of creation. God did not do so with sheep. It is true that everything in creation was good, but no creature was in the likeness of God except man. God made full provision for the preservation of his own likeness, making man's environment most congenial to such preservation, and when man demanded liberty of moral choice, God presented the strongest possible plea for obedience. When man fell, God still held before him laws of easy performance and connected with them the fairest promises of blessing.

As man demanded moral freedom in the garden of Eden, so today every man is responsible to God for his standing before him. He is his own keeper, in a sense, but as man looks on himself and recognizes that it is utterly impossible to be perfectly moral, and is thus rendered hopeless, there is only one thing to do, and that is to recognize God's gracious provision for him in presenting the salvation of Jesus Christ before him for his acceptance. To accept that salvation is to show that a man estimates himself above a sheep. Many recognize the value of this acceptance of Jesus Christ in their own experience, but are there not many of these who are quite indifferent to those who are about them, who have not so accepted Jesus Christ as sheep? To save a sheep out of a ditch is of considerable value, but to save the soul of a man is something a thousand times more commendable and is worthy of the most laborious and persistent efforts.

The HOME BEAUTIFUL

Flowers and Shrubbery
Their Care and Cultivation

A Beauty Spot in the Home Grounds Made Particularly Attractive by the Little Stream That Flows Through Them.

PLANS FOR BEAUTY

When planning for next year's garden decide on a rocky for the back yard. There are many bulbs that are excellent for rockeries. Scillas, which are of a beautiful deep blue, do well in the shade; spring snowdrops, with white flowers tipped with green, and snowdrops are excellent for rockeries.

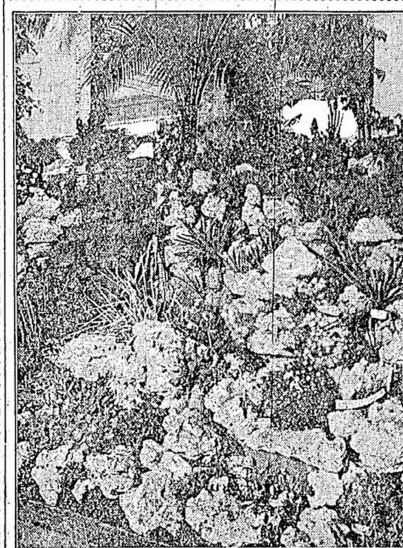

Muscicaria or grape hyacinth, crocuses of various colors, will thrive and take care of themselves once established in the rockeries or in borders in the garden, where they will not be disturbed.

The beauty which is near at hand is often neglected for the prize that is denied us—we refer to the beauty and desirability of the Celastrus, or bitter-sweet vine. This native climber found in our woods and along fences, is one of the most satisfactory vines that can be grown about the house.

The Celastrus is as hardy as granite, a quick grower, twining securely about its support, and it is not liable to disease. In the fall when flowers are scarce, it covers itself with clusters of orange-colored fruit, which the frost opens, revealing its crimson seeds.

Choose a dark, rainy day if possible for the transplanting, otherwise do this work at sunset—we mean in transplanting seedlings. Water the seedling thoroughly a short time before you begin to transplant; then lift the plants, with all the soil their roots will hold, and remove to the permanent bed.

Keep the seedling covered with a wet cloth, so that the soil will not dry them. With a pointed stick make the hole for the plant and then fill it with water. Plant the seedling in this puddle, drawing the dark soil about the stalk.

A Well-Planned Rockery.

When the ground has been firmed about the plant as much as possible.

A moisture water garden is practical and will prove most interesting, needing less attention than a flower bed its size.

Have a sugar or vinegar barrel cut in two, or use a wooden tub. Sink this in the soil. Make a potting box about twelve inches square and fill with rich mud from a pond, or use half rich loam, adding to the mud or loam about one-third of well-rotted manure.

Plant the asynthe root in this and place in the tub; fill with water until it is two or three inches deep over the root. When the growth commences and the leaves appear, water may be added from time to time until the tub is full.

Never change the water, simply replace that which evaporates.

PLANTS WITHOUT SUN

The best plants for sunless rooms are ferns and palms and perhaps the best one of all is aspidistra.

The aspidistra has long, narrow leaves and dark green and variegated coloring. It requires a good soil of loam, well rotted manure and sand in about equal parts and must be kept moist but not wet.

Ferns require the same treatment. One of the hardiest palms is the Kentia palm. Its foliage is less affected by the heat, dry air and dust of a house than most of the other varieties. The asparagus is good for a house plant both for its beauty and for cutting purposes. Some of the little plants make decorative and handy house plants.

Water the sweet ferns lavishly about the roots and be generous with the blooms. Allow no seed-pods if you want flowers.

Vegetable Roast.

Take one cupful of boiled corn, either canned or cut from the cob; one-half cupful of baked beans, mashed to a pulp; one-half cupful of strained tomatoes, one-half teaspoonful of minced onion, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one-quarter cupful of sweet milk and salt and pepper to taste. Mix this together and add enough stale breadcrumbs to make a stiff dough, roll and bake in a greased pan. Serve with tomato sauce.

Appetizing Breakfast Dish.
A "different" cornmeal mush. Make the mush in the usual way, using about one quart of water well salted (one teaspoonful); stir in one cupful of yellow cornmeal and cook in double boiler about one hour. When done stir in one to one and one-half cupfuls of chopped cold meat (any kind) and season slightly with sage. Pour into pans when cold and slice and fry in bacon drippings or butter.

Beef Relish.
One quart cooked chopped beef, one quart chopped raw cabbage, one cupful chopped raw onions, one cupful sugar, one tablespoonful salt, one teaspoonful black pepper. Mix well and add to vinegar which has been boiled.

Good Habit.
If you have never formed the habit of washing cereals before cooking, try putting them in a basin and filling it with cold water. You will find much trash and husks rise to the top, and it is better to strain this off.

EASY DISH WASHING

IMPROVED METHOD OF CLEANING TABLE UTENSILS.

Does Away in Large Measure With the Unpleasant Work Which All Housewives Dislike—Saving of Both Temper and Labor.

After each meal spoons, knives and forks are gathered, dropped into a pail of clean suds and immediately wiped dry, a simple matter of two or three minutes. The plates and dishes are scraped and set in a tub of suds, hot or cold, as convenient, the cups and saucers into another tub or pan likewise.

Then the cooking things are thoroughly cleaned when emptied, and rinsed and wiped and put away immediately, which is much easier and more quickly done than at any other time.

One's hands need not be wet during the whole process, and there is nothing unusual in the neat kitchen except three bright pans or tubs of neatly-plated dishes covered with water.

When ready to attack them the water is poured off and fresh, hot suds poured over the painful. Then the clean pieces are lifted out into the draining set in a large pan to fit, hot water poured over them and the draining set on the back part of the range or in the sun and air for a few minutes until they are ready to set away.

Filed in open order, with hot water poured over them, and set in a current of air, dishes dry of themselves better than anyone can wipe them.

Pitchers and jars are washed out with a mop, scalded and turned upside down to dry. They dry more thoroughly and with less danger of breakage than in the ordinary way, and why is this method not as good for all china? If you will try drying china in this way you will find that it comes out glossy enough to suit the most exacting housewife—and with a great saving of temper and labor.—Chicago Herald.

HINTS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

When boiling a leg of mutton inclose it in a muslin bag. Cooked in this way it will keep a much better shape.

To make red tiles a bright color, rub with long hair and wash with a great deal of water for a few minutes, then wash with soap and water.

A soiled photograph mount may be cleaned by rubbing with dry breadcrumbs; the photograph should be wiped with clean cold water.

For removing tea and coffee marks from linen glycerine is excellent. Pour it over the spots, rub with a wet cloth, and wash in the usual way.

Indiarubber gloves are better than leather ones to wear when doing housework; they are more flexible, and in addition are much easier to keep clean.

Where oil lamps are used a painful dry sand should always be kept handy. Nothing is so effective for extinguishing burning oil in case of accident.

When making sweet dumplings, whether sweet or savory, always prick them well before putting them in the pan. If this is done they will not stick to the bottom.

Fried Maryland Chicken.

Merely split a young chicken in halves, sprinkle over with flour and fry in deep hot butter, allowing 20 minutes for each side, 40 minutes in all. Season well, turning chicken and also pan frequently. Have it covered, for steam of the moist meat and butter aid in cooking. When thoroughly done, lay on a hot platter and put at much four into a gravy pan as there is fat remaining, and let brown for an instant. Add nearly a cupful of cold or warm water, and cook for five minutes, adding a teaspoonful of sugar and allow to boil, thus making a delicious brown gravy, thickened and pour on chicken. Serve at once.

Vegetable Roast.

Take one cupful of boiled corn, either canned or cut from the cob; one-half cupful of baked beans, mashed to a pulp; one-half cupful of strained tomatoes, one-half teaspoonful of minced onion, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one-quarter cupful of sweet milk and salt and pepper to taste. Mix this together and add enough stale breadcrumbs to make a stiff dough, roll and bake in a greased pan. Serve with tomato sauce.

Appetizing Breakfast Dish.

Make the mush in the usual way, using about one quart of water well salted (one teaspoonful); stir in one cupful of yellow cornmeal and cook in double boiler about one hour. When done stir in one to one and one-half cupfuls of chopped cold meat (any kind) and season slightly with sage. Pour into pans when cold and slice and fry in bacon drippings or butter.

Uric Acid Poisoning?

The most eminent physicians recognize that uric acid stored up in the system is the cause of rheumatism, that this uric acid poison is present in the joints, muscles, or arteries. By experimenting and analysis at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. Pierce discovered a combination of natural remedies that he called Anacid—which drives out the uric acid from the system, and in this way the pain, swelling and inflammation subside. If you are a sufferer from rheumatism, backache, pains here or there, you can obtain Anacid at any drug store and get relief from the pains and its brought about by uric acid or send Dr. Pierce 10¢ for trial pkg. Anacid which you will find many times more potent than lithia and eliminates uric acid as hot water melts sugar. A short trial will convince you.

NO WORSE THAN OLD PLAQUES

Doubt Whether Infantile Paralysis Causes More Deaths Than Do Diarrheal Diseases.

The epidemic of infantile paralysis in New York shows signs of abating. Meanwhile, Chicago is almost free from it, and there is nothing to show that the few cases in Illinois have any connection with the epidemic raging in the East.

Many things combine to make this the most awe-inspiring visitation that the metropolis has had for years. The persistent mystery of it, the high percentage of mortality and the fact that a large proportion of those who recover must suffer from partial paralysis the rest of their lives—these things may well disturb the sleep of parents.

And yet, the probabilities are that diarrheal diseases are killing far more babies in New York even now than is infantile paralysis, and if the medical complaints leave no muscular crippling behind, in a considerable proportion of cases they do leave damaged constitutions. The old plaques are the most dangerous ones, after all.—Chicago Journal.

Important to Mothers.
Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, that famous old remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Watson. Use for 25 Years. Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria.

Literal One.
"That's a good sign, my man," said the pauper pediculator, as he watched a driver of a cab wagon fix his chute in the hole on the pavement.

"What's a good sign off?" asked the man, pausing in his work.

"Why, it is an infallible sign that coal is going down."

Phosphores Unfulfilled.
"What has become of the man who said we would win in a walk?" "He's telling his troubles to the man who said it was going to be a laud-ly."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets are best for liver, bowels and stomach. One little Pellet for a cathartic.

Valuable News.
"See here," said the trawler man, "you don't amount to a hill of beans."

"I won't deny that," replied the unassuming peasant, "because I am modest. The high cost of living has given a hill of beans considerable value." Birmingham Age-Herald.

Pardonable Idea.

"That young man has certainly remarkable staying power."

"Oh, does he come to see you, too?"

GOOD FOR HUNGRY CHILDREN

Children love Boschee's Macaroni and Spaghetti because of its delicious taste. It is good for them and you can give them all they want. It is a great builder of bone and muscle, and does not make them nervous and irritable like meat. The most economical and nutritious food known. Made from the finest Durum wheat. Write Simpson Mac Co., Omaha, Neb., for beautiful cook book. It is sent free to mothers.—Adv.

On a Strike.

"Did you learn your Sunday school lesson?" asked father, who had stayed at home and read the papers.

"No, I did not," said Tillie. "I ain't going to be the only one in this family to work on Sunday."

It's an ill wind that doesn't blow dust in the eyes of a man who deliberately beats his faithful but tired horse.

The woman who can use her eyes with effect is far more dangerous than her garrulous sister.

EXPERIENCE OF AN IOWA WOMAN

Clinton, Iowa.—"Off and on for several years I have taken Doctor Medical Discovery for different kinds of sickness, and it always cured me. I also took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for women's trouble and inflammation which I had for a year. It positively cured me. It is as grand a medicine as there is."—MRS. IDA L. B. TUTTUS, 125 N. 4th St.

Send Dr. V. M. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 10 cents for trial package of the tablets, or 50 cents for large package.—Adv.

Hard to Tell.

"Did the election go to suit Jugsby?" "That's impossible for me to say."

"Why?"

"Jugsby is the sort of man who drinks to drown his sorrow and to commemorate his happiness."

SHOULD FUTURE GENERATIONS PAY?

In all large public undertakings where permanent improvements are sought to be made it has become a custom to issue long time bonds in order to secure the money with which to finance the work.

Probably nine-tenths of the counties of nine-tenths of the states of the union are bonded to a greater or less extent, and scarcely a city or town of any importance in the land but carries its bonded debt that has gone to pay for public utilities.

But in many cases the advocates of the bond issue have had hard fights to carry their projects through. One of the most serious objections has always been from the man who "does not believe in saddling a debt on future generations."

Now let us see about this. Suppose, for instance, our county has no railroad. For generations our ancestors, and we ourselves, have laboriously hauled in our supplies and hauled out our products, realizing when all expenses were met but a meagre pittance for our year's work. But a railroad is projected and we are told if we will bond our county for a few hundred thousand dollars it will be put through. This we do. Now arises the objection that we have placed a heavy debt on posterity.

Have we?

Yes. But at the same time we have given posterity the means to pay that debt and then be infinitely better off than we and our fathers were.

Compare for a moment the difference in their condition and ours before the road was built. The average county is about twenty-five miles square. Suppose that represented the distance to the nearest shipping point. Do you see the enormous saving we have effected for posterity in bringing the road to their doors?

Again, take the question of pikes. The same reasoning will hold good there. Whereas we and our fathers toiled through mud and mire to drag fifteen or twenty bushels of grain to market, our sons can hitch up an ordinary team and take a load of two or three thousand pounds with ease and in much less time than we need. And so on through the list of all permanent public improvements.

But the work should be permanent, or at least as nearly permanent as our best judgment can make it. When we have builded to the best of our ability and have laid a groundwork on which our children can continue to build we have not only benefited ourselves and not injured them, but we have benefited them and made it possible to attain to conditions that were entirely beyond our reach.

A debt on posterity is just, provided it represents a tangible asset.

NO NEWS IN THE PAPER

Frequently you pick up one of the local papers and after glancing at the headlines wearily thrust it aside remarking, "Nothing in the paper this week."

Did you ever stop to think what the phrase means—"nothing in the paper this week?" It means that in the day or week just passed that no misfortune has befallen anyone in our vicinity; that no fire has wiped out a neighbor's worldly goods; that the grim angel of death has crossed no threshold of a friend; that no man driven by drink, hatred or fear has taken the life of a fellow man; that no poor devil, haunted by the past or misdeeds has crossed the great divide by his own hand.

So the next time you pick up a paper that does not give the account of a tragedy, give a little thanks instead of grumbling because there is "no news."

Every little while some one dishes up an article on "The Passing of the Rubie." And the rubie has been out of date for so many years no one even remembers what it looked like.

Don't be afraid of knocks. The harder you are bumped the higher you bounce.

ONLY A DAD

Only a dad with a tired face,
Coming home from the daily race,
Bringing the little of gold or fame,
To show how well he has played the game;
But glad in his heart that his own rejoice
To see him home and hear his voice.

Only a dad with a brood of four,
One of ten million men or more,
Plodding along in the daily strife,
Bearing the whips and scorns of life,
With never a whimper of pain or hate,
For the sake of those who at home wait.

Only a dad, neither rich nor proud,
Merely one of the surging crowd,
Toiling, striving from day to day,
Facing whatever may come his way;
Silent, whenever the harsh condemn,
And bearing it all for the love of them.

Only a dad but he gave his all
To smooth the way for his children small,
Doing with courage stern and grim,
The deeds that his father did for him,
This is the line that for him I pen,
Only a dad, but the best of men.

Russel Sage

didn't succeed because he wore shabby clothes. He got along in spite of them.

To the average man, especially nowadays, poor clothes are a handicap.

Rodney B. Swift, expelled as president of the Milk Producers' association, has been elected state senator from his district in Illinois by a good majority. The democratic candidate was backed by the officials of the association, led by Reese, Potter and Kittle, but in spite of this the opposition to Swift did not seem to find much favor with the voters. It will be interesting to watch developments of the next few months, as Senator Swift will doubtless be heard from in the councils of the Milk Producers' association. (Elmhurst (Wis.) Independent.

The people of the county and of Waukegan, where James Welch is best known, were surprised when it became known that he had taken unto himself a bride the day after his election to the office of state attorney for Lake county. The girl is Miss May Squires, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Squires of Ravenswood.

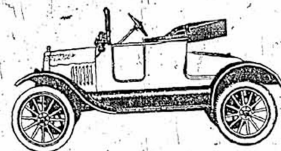

Farm House Catches Fire
Early Thursday morning fire was discovered on the roof of the farm residence occupied by Edward Magee, one and a half miles west of town on the Hartwood farm, but was extinguished in time to prevent any heavy loss. The fire is said to have originated from a defective flue. Several small fire extinguishers were brought into use, which proved to be effective in checking the flames. The fire was rapidly spreading over the roof when discovered. Had the fire happened during the night the entire building might have been destroyed.

Depredations of Hunters

Editor Barrington Review,

Barrington, Illinois.

Dear Sir—I write to ask if there are not properly constituted officers of our county and township whose duty it is to stop the indiscriminate shooting on our farms.

This year the hunters have been exceedingly bold and besides doing much other damage have left scarcely anything to kill. These men are a danger to the whole community as evidenced by a fire started on my farm last Sunday which for a time jeopardized the whole neighborhood.

One accustomed to orderly government expects, if there are such officers, this shooting, together with many other offenses against property and law, could at least be checked if not entirely stopped.

Kindly give me this information through your paper and oblige

Yours respectfully,

WILLIAM GRACE.

The REVIEW has called the attention of Supervisor Fred Kirschner to this matter, who is authorized to prosecute all such offenses.

STORY OF A TEXAS OUTLAW

"The Lone Star Ranger," an intensely interesting narrative of life and adventure in the Southwest.

Of the picturesque and turbulent life along the Mexican border back in the seventies, Zane Grey writes entertainingly in his latest work of fiction, "The Lone Star Ranger," which we have secured in our next serial. Book reviewers almost in unison have declared it the best story of its kind ever written. This is what some of them say:

"The Lone Star Ranger" is a glowing tale of a lurid period in the history of our great Southwest."—New York World.

"It is all capital stuff of its kind, the sort of a story that is likely to make one forget his every-day concerns and worries. We are in darkest Texas in the days of rustlers, band men, and rangers."—N. Y. Tribune.

"There is a breeze and buoyancy in the narrative, and the author's unclouded colloquial style greatly enhances the illusion of reality."—Philadelphia Press.

"It is a story of such intense interest that the reader is swept along from page to page until he fairly lives through each desperate adventure in which 'Buck' participates. It is one of the most fascinating of all Zane Grey's tales."—Boston Globe.

"Let nobody say that chivalry and knightliness are dead in America. Here is a stirring novel of wild border days of Texas in the early seventies, depicting principally a conflict between outlaws and Texas Rangers—a novel in which the two qualities named are vividly portrayed."—Portland Oregonian.

"There's a punch in this yarn that makes it one of Grey's best."—Portland Telegram.

"Mr. Grey is known as a writer of western stories of invigorating quality. The latest is the most robust of them all. A thrilling story of action; it is a good romance, too."—The Lone Star Ranger will be a popular tale."—Boston Herald.

You will never regret reading this story. We are especially pleased at the opportunity of running it at this particular time when interest in everything associated with Texas and the Mexican border country is at high tide. The first installment will appear soon. Watch for it.

Happenings of the Week Told in Short Paragraphs—What's Doing in and Near Our Hasting Village.

It happens Monday, January 1.

Bring your job work to the REVIEW. Don't make any other date but for the show New Years night.

Spencer Otis, Jr., went to Memphis, Tennessee, on business the first of the week.

Do not hesitate—but get tickets for the show New Years night. Benefit for the public library.

Mr. and Mrs. William Melster spent Thanksgiving with their son, Edward and family at Maywood.

Mrs. Lydia Roman of Elgin spent Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Aurand and family.

Mr. and Mrs. William Grunau visited their son, William, Jr., and family in Chicago Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Bertha Galt of Dundee visited at the home of William Melster over Sunday, returning home Monday.

Engraved calling cards make long and lasting Christmas remembrances. Place your order with the Review.

Mr. and Mrs. William Melster and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walbaum moved to Bartlett Sunday and spent the day.

John Robertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Robertson, who has been in Iowa the past four months, returned home Sunday.

Mrs. M. R. Miller of Libertyville visited Friday in the home of R. C. Constock, a brother, and Mrs. Will Hatje, a niece.

Miss Miriam Brewster of Northwestern university, Evanston, spent the week end at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. T. Atkey Brewster.

Mrs. Kate Miller is building a large new barn on her farm just east of town. The contract and construction of same is in charge of H. G. Aurand.

Edward Rens and Emil Shank of Ann Arbor, Michigan, were guests of Henry Gieske Tuesday while on their way to attend the Fat Stock show in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Riecke entertained Mrs. Riecke's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Peters, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Alexander at dinner Thanksgiving day.

It is stated that most makes of motor cars will cost more next year. It would be surprising if they did not, for everything else will see higher prices. It's a merry, merry game that prices are playing these days. It makes little difference if luxuries advance in cost, but it is most unfortunate when the real necessities of life take the same course.

The "Altru" girls of the Baptist church entertained the Dorcas society on their regular work afternoon Tuesday of this week. A large number were present to help the Dorcas ladies with their Christmas work, after which a most dainty luncheon was served. All went home feeling they had spent a most profitable afternoon.

The December grand jury of Lake county met at Waukegan Monday and adjourned until Monday, January 8. James E. Welch, the newly elected State's Attorney, was installed in office that day and did not have an opportunity to get the information necessary to present the cases pending to the jury. John Welch, the grand juror from Cuba township, was in attendance.

Waukegan papers Tuesday heralded a story of a wreck on the E. J. & E. at Barrington, saying eighteen cars were piled in a ditch and that traffic was delayed for many hours. Some city reporter over there certainly had a bad dream or was trying to pull off an old-time April fool joke in the dead of winter, as no one connected with the road here is "wise" to any wreck along the line this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Hartz, residing east of town, had as their guests for Thanksgiving dinner Mrs. Mary McKee and daughter, Mabel, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Doering, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Morgan & Co. Withdraw Proposed Sale of $50,000,000 Treasury Bills.

Czar's Troops Arrive on Front South of Bucharest and Engage In Battle.

New York, Dec. 2.—The firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. has withdrawn the proposed sale of $50,000,000 of British and French treasury bills, according to instructions received from abroad.

The announcement was contained in the following statement: "We have been instructed by the British and French governments to withdraw the treasury bills from sale. We have accordingly expressed to those institutions and investors which had already placed orders with us for these securities to withhold from the obligations to deliver and they have been good enough to release."

This action is because, as explained by the British chancellor of the exchequer and by the French minister of finance, these governments desire to have every regard to the federal reserve board, a governmental body of which the secretary of the treasury and the controller of currency are ex-officio members.

"We may add that the sale in limited amount of these treasury bills payable in dollars in New York has never been an essential part of the allied governments' financial plans, but have for some time been under consideration with a view to furnishing a credit medium that would accommodate the American banking demands for an instrument of short maturity and of such limited volume that the government could always undertake to pay down gold in New York sufficient to meet the matured bills."

"It was believed further that these bills would have furnished at the end of the war an excellent measure of protection to the American financial situation inasmuch as these steadily maturing obligations of the foreign governments would have tended to prevent heavy drafts of gold from this market."

An informal statement was made by a member of the Morgan house that no other financial plans have been formulated in place of the one abandoned.

NAME JELlicoe SEA LORD

Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty Made Commander of the British Grand Fleet.

London, Dec. 2.—Admiral Sir John B. Jellicoe, commander of the British fleet, was appointed first sea lord of the admiralty, being succeeded in command of the grand fleet by Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty, who was named the British battle cruiser squadron in the naval battle with the Germans off Jutland.

Admiral Sir Henry B. H. Jellicoe, the present first sea lord, has been appointed president of the royal naval college at Greenwich. (Admiral Jellicoe has held the post of first sea lord of the admiralty since May, 1915, when he took the place vacated by Lord Fisher.)

The Roumanians were victorious in a battle with the Turks. On the right wing of their western front the Roumanians were compelled to retreat.

U. S. MARTIAL LAW IN DOMINGO

Daniels Says Government Was Seized Because of "Deplorable Conditions"—Action Well Received.

Washington, Dec. 2.—The United States has proclaimed martial law over the republic of Santo Domingo, Secretary of the Navy Daniels announced on Thursday. Secretary Daniels explained that action was necessary because of "deplorable conditions" throughout Santo Domingo.

The navy department made the following announcement: "Capt. H. S. Knapp, in command of the United States forces in Santo Domingo, reports that in compliance with instructions received military government was proclaimed by him in Santo Domingo at 4 p. m. November 29."

Knapp reports regarding carrying arms or having them in possession has been in effect. Payment of salaries of government officials will be resumed immediately.

The proclamation was well received. Conditions are normal and the majority of the people regard the proclamation with favor."

ASQUITH QUILTS POST

BONAR LAW OFFERED POST

David Lloyd-George Considered as Second Choice if Union Leader Declines—Management of War to Be Speeded Up.

London, Dec. 7.—The government crisis found a solution on Tuesday night which up to the hour of its announcement was considered the least probable of practical alternatives. Herbert H. Asquith resigned the premiership which he had held through eight stormy years of domestic and foreign history.

The Unionist leader, Andrew Bonar Law, was summoned to the palace immediately after Mr. Asquith had departed, and the king offered him the prime minister's commission, which the king had just accepted from Mr. Asquith's hand.

If Bonar Law declines it is considered certain that the honor will fall to David Lloyd-George.

The constitution of the coalition cabinet, with some changes in its membership, and the speeding up of the war management will be the policy in either event.

The premier's decision to resign and advise the king to summon Mr. Bonar Law to form a cabinet was taken after a day of extraordinary political excitement and activity.

The court circular announced: "His Honor Mr. Asquith had an audience with his majesty the king and tendered his resignation as prime minister and first lord of the treasury, which the king has been graciously pleased to accept."

It was in remembered that when Mr. Asquith was asked in the house of commons if a food dictator had been appointed, he replied sharply: "I don't like a food dictator."

The part David Lloyd-George is playing in the crisis was demonstrated plainly by the fact that he remained in his office while the premier conferred separately with the liberal and conservative members of the cabinet.

Mr. Asquith's retirement has taken the politicians by surprise that they are not yet ready to predict the results.

"The possibility that Mr. Asquith will consent to remain in the cabinet with Bonar Law, taking the post of lord high chancellor, in which it has long been considered he might find a congenial berth, is discussed."

The more sensational London papers have enjoyed three or four days of demands and denunciations, often in language of a vulgar character, the dignity of British politics has permitted in the memory of the present generation.

The crucial events in Roumanian and Greek history have been given a secondary place as they were used as a basis for attacks on the ministers. A Herbert Henry Asquith became premier of Great Britain in 1908, succeeding Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman.

JOHN D. ARCHBOLD IS DEAD

Associate of Rockefeller for 40 Years Expires at Tarrytown, N. Y., After Illness of Two Weeks.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Dec. 7.—John Dustin Archbold, capitalist, president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, and officer or director in various other enterprises, died at his home here on Tuesday, after an illness of two weeks following an operation for appendicitis. Death came at four o'clock in the morning.

Mr. Archbold left his widow, a son, John F. Archbold of Thomaston, Conn., and two daughters, Mrs. M. Van Heusen of Newport, R. I., and Mrs. Anna D. Sanderson of Lyndhurst, England.

Mr. Archbold was sixty-eight years old. In early life he was an oil refiner and buyer in western Pennsylvania, and in 1875 became associated with the Rockefeller interests, a connection that continued until his death. John Dustin Archbold was born at Leechburg, O., July 20, 1848. It has been estimated that his fortune, made almost entirely in oil and its by-products, was nearly $100,000,000.

Poultry Men Are Indicted

New York, Dec. 7.—Indictments issued on an investigation of the so-called poultry trust, which is alleged to have cleared about $200,000 through controlling the city's live poultry market during the last year, were handed Tuesday by a grand jury charging violation of the state anti-trust act.

One Great Truth of Life. The one great truth of life which we all need to come to is that a successful life lies not in doing this or going there, or possessing or not possessing; it lies in the quality of the daily life. It is just as surely success to be just and courteous to servants or companions as the chance of a million dollars. It is to make a noted speech before an audience, or write a book, or make a million dollars. It is achievement on the spiritual side of things; it is the elevation of our life here into the spiritual world, that is, alone, of value. This extension is achieved, this growth toward heaven, if this is attained, by our habitual attitude of mind. It develops by truth and love and goodness; it is sustained by every evanescent thought, every unjust or unkind act.—Lillian Whiting.

Covered.

"Henry, what time was it when you got home last night?" asked Mrs. Duffery. "The clock had stopped." "Oh, about eleven o'clock, I think," answered Mr. Duffery. "That's strange. The always next door always retires at eleven o'clock, and their house had been dark a long time before you came." "Maybe they had a headache or something."

"I didn't thought of that. I'll ask Mrs. Jibway this morning." "Woman!" exclaimed Mr. Duffery, in desperation, "censor pestering me! It was 9 a. m. when I got home."

We've gone through life together and whenever I've felt a cold coming on, Dr. King's New Discovery stopped it.

The healing balsam soothes the irritated membranes, the mild laxative quality expels the cold germs, the raw cough—strained throat is relieved, the tight chest loosened, the running nose ceased, the cold is stopped.

For nearly half a century Dr. King's New Discovery has been the standard remedy for coughs and colds, for old and young. At all drug stores.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

True happiness never flows into a man, but always out of him. Heaven is more internal than external.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT.

What housewife does not enjoy putting dainty new dishes before her family, remembering, too, that the attractive way in which they are served is a large part of their popularity.

A delicious salad dressing for fruit is made by using two tablespoonsful of honey, three tablespoonfuls of olive oil, a tablespoonful of lemon juice and dash of salt. Use as soon as blended. Especially fine on pineapple.

Sage Sausage—Cut fine a half pound of rich case chicken, add two tablespoonfuls of flour; to two eggs, slightly beaten, add one and a half cupful of milk, a fourth of a teaspoonful of paprika and salt and two tablespoonfuls of butter. Cook over hot water until smooth, stirring often. Serve on buttered toast or croutons. What this mixture is cold it makes a nice sandwich filling.

Sweet cream on shredded cabbage with a little vinegar and sugar and a dash of salt, makes a most appetizing salad and one easy to prepare.

Fresh Strawberry Bavarian Cream—Stir two tablespoonfuls of gelatin in water to cover, put a half cupful of sugar in a saucepan with a half cupful of water, add a half box of stemmed berries and heat to the boiling point, but do not mash; turn in the gelatin when thickened like egg white and add a pint of cream whipped, folding it in carefully. Let stand to become stiff and serve with a garnish of berries.

Strawberry Dumplings—Take two and a half cupfuls of berries, a cupful of sugar, a tablespoonful of butter, two cupfuls of boiling water, and let simmer a few minutes. Mix together a cupful of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a fourth of a teaspoonful of salt and three fourths of a cupful of rich milk. Drop the batter in eight portions into the boiling syrup; cover tightly and cook twenty minutes without lifting the lid. Serve hot with the sauce and whipped cream if desired. Raspberry dumplings are prepared in the same way.

Fruit Sauce—Take a third of a cupful of raspberry jam, or strawberry if preferred, add two tablespoonfuls of thick sweet cream, whipped, and serve on the pudding.

Started Wednesday Evening
Miss Eva J. Hart and Harry L. Lindner were united in marriage Wednesday evening at 5:30 o'clock by Rev. J. Hoerner in the parsonage of the Salem Evangelical church. The couple were unattended and immediately after the ceremony left for a short automobile trip. The bride wore a dark blue serge suit. They will make their home in Barrington.

Mr. Lindner is a son of Mrs. Louisa Lindner of Main street and is engaged in the mail digging business. His bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hart of Cemetery street. The newly married couple have many friends who join the Review in wishing them a long and happy wedded life.

Physician, Dr. A. W. Welchelt and Dr. W. A. Shearer.

These officers will be installed at the first meeting in January.

Cause for Illness of Mr. Lindner
Free air is blue, because, as Newton tells us, the molecules of the air have the diaphanous tendency to reflect blue rays. When the sky is not perfectly pure the atmosphere is blended with perceptible vapors, and the diffused light is mixed with a large proportion of white.

Sam Lindner has sold his home on Grove avenue to Louis Elfriga. The Lindner family will reside for the present with Mrs. Lindner's mother, Mrs. William Thel.

The Home Merchant First.

As we are beginning to think of the nearing Christmas season the thought uppermost in our mind is, "What shall I get for those that are dear to me?" While in this hesitating it is a pleasure to suggest to you to give your home merchant an opportunity to please you. Before you take your money out of town examine the assortments that are shown here and see if your desires are not met by your home merchant. You may be surprised to find the article which you are seeking staring you right in the face. If not, any one of the metropolitan department stores will be pleased to get it for them, and perhaps at a saving. At any rate they deserve this consideration, not alone for their ever ready desire to donate to any good cause of charitable fund, be it a church bazaar, ladies' aid or an entertainment, but for the prompt and efficient service furnished us at all seasons of the year. Why, there is hardly a favor asked of the home merchants that is not pleasantly granted.

So let us show our appreciation of these facts by rallying to their support during the holiday purchasing season and buy everything we can at home. Trade with those who appreciate our business and who help us when we ask it.

Wrestling Match at Woodstock

One of the greatest wrestling cards ever staged in this part of the country will be seen at the opera house at Woodstock next Tuesday evening, December 13. "Big Kid" O'Brien, light weight champion of the world, has been matched to meet Ted Torrance of Chicago, welterweight champion of Illinois, and long known as one of the craftiest mat men in the wrestling game. Both boys are training hard for the bout, which is being billed winner-take-all.

After his recent defeat of Kid Williams, O'Brien conclusively proved that he is the real light weight champion, and the popular Woodstock star is now going after a few of the leading welterweights.

Ed. Webster of Walworth will meet the middleweight wrestling champion of Iowa when he faces Ed. Scholz of Des Moines. The semi-final is fully as attractive as the main go and will draw many followers of the game to Woodstock.

The promoters have introduced a new wrinkle by inviting the ladies, and they have already received assurances that a large number of the fair sex will be present. Seats may be reserved at Wien's Clothing annex, Woodstock, at 50 cents, 10 cents and $1.00.

Safety First

PER CENT. REAL ESTATE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS are steadily growing in popularity and their advantages over other classes of bonds and individual mortgages are numerous. First, (the value of the security underlying REAL ESTATE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS can easily be determined, and the property be personally inspected by the investor before making purchases, whereas on the other hand, experience and tedious study is necessary to exactly value the security of such corporation bonds as Railroads, Public Utilities and Industrials. Furthermore the stability in price of REAL ESTATE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS has been demonstrated; they have maintained their full par value when other bonds, even of the highest character, have suffered severe declines in times of depression. ALSO REAL ESTATE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS are issued in most convenient denominations of $100, $500 and $1000 and the interest is paid promptly on the date of maturity. These moderate sizes enable the investor to buy small amounts of bonds, and, in need of funds, to sell portions of his holdings.

Our customers have never suffered any loss of money nor any delay in the payment of principal or interest on CHICAGO REAL ESTATE MORTGAGE BONDS bought from us:
