With Inexpensive Materials Made Available: Any Woman Can Have Varied Wardrobe for Summer

New York.—It has been decades since gingham was worn. There were times when even women about the material by trimming it with satin and lace, and turning it into a frock of ceremony. It was considered appropriate for the afternoon hours. It ranked with satin, walked down the aisle.

Today gingham has been revived by the smart women who launch the spring styles at Palm Beach. Young women found in it an agreeable change from the ubiquitous jersey cloth and serge. Someone in Paris had brought striped muclins into high fashion, and those in this country who remembered the gayety of glang-

...ums, in the old days, and realized that here, in this country, were to be found all sorts of alluring cottons, took it into their clever heads to re-instate them.

to eat as potatoes and Jersey. So both have been reinstated in the public favor. If Franco had chosen to make the striped cottons fashionable, we would have jumped at them with clothes. Its coloring is happily chosen, its stripes and checks, its plaid designs are accepted in all other fabrics. The lessening of the output of novelty fabrics, the ability of the mills to turn rapidly as they do in this epoch.

Also, the summer is the season of quantities of home dressmaking. Favoring winds, long days of light, less street activities contribute to the desire excellent condition from scarlet fever.

After a confinement of the last few days quarantine will be observed by Mrs.
Shivers and son, William, and Mrs.
Ellen E. Fowler, Mrs. Shivers' mother who came from Denver last Friday to reside for several months in this territory will express a desire to return for the time to come, because the climate of the last few days has been sufficient to take matters over for a reasonable period at least. So much the father in law last few weeks has been greatly delayed and on low lands it will be some time before work can be resumed, it is claimed.

It is a sad prediction that no farmer in this territory will express a desire to return for the time to come, because the climate of the last few days has
the father in law last few weeks has
it will be some time before work can
be resumed, it is claimed.

It is really sad that "April showers bring May flowers," but this you have known in May. Instead of violets, showers on the eighth of May. One day of the old reliably recall the like?

Foreman C. C. of the weather bureau blames the cold spring on the war, saying that the terrific firing disturbs the atmosphere, and sends the cold currents swirling broadcast across the ocean; and it seems plausible for all our winds are from the east and northeast these days.

THE BARRINGTON REVIEW, BARRINGTON, ILL.

Mrs. Otto Adams is improving this week after seven weeks illness.

Mrs. L. L. Winickel departed today for Lancaster, Wisconsin.

Mr. Harlan, manager of Harlan's orchestra of Elgin, was in Barrington Monday on business.

Miss C. Young of the Telephone Operators' school, Chicago, visited the local exchange Monday.

Sunday is Mother's Day. Honor your mother with a gift, a letter or some remembrance, for she is your best friend.

Mr. and Mrs. William Grunow, Jr., of Chicago have been here for the week of Mrs. Grunow's parents on Grove avenue.

Mr. G. Lindberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Block, wishes old friends to know that her old address is 420 Cass street, Chicago.

Mrs. Sam Landwehr will visit with daughter, Miss Violet, at DeKalb this week end, and also the Glidden Travelling school where her mother teaches.

The high water in the creek has put for several weeks a number of fish up stream and many have enjoyed rare pulling out, "the big ones" near the substation.

According to the Dundee Hawkeye of last week, butter sold for twenty-five cents on the 10th, while here it sold for twenty-five years ago. Some change since then, we believe.

The semi-monthly meeting of St.
Ann's society was held yesterday afternoon at the parsonage of St. Ann's church with Mrs. Mary Kelsh as hostess. Minutes were read and a musical program was enjoyed.

Refreshments were served.

Mr. Frank Schroeder is hosting for the Women's Thursday club this afternoon at his home on South Highway avenue, when the ladies of the club will be given a kitchen shower in honor of Miss Mabel Peck whose marriage to Walter Stevens will take place in June.

The Baptist Young People's union met with Miss Hallie Lutz at the Commercial hotel Tuesday evening.
This week, there were forty-three present. After the devotion and business meeting a social hour was enjoyed by all. Refreshments were served by ladies in the dining room which was most tastefully decorated. The June meeting will be held at the home of Miss Grace McIntire.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kubackicki celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage on Sunday, May 1, with a gathering of dear relatives at their home. They were residents of Schaumburg township for more than twenty years, and although advanced in years Mr. Kubackicki is very active; his husband is stricken with paralysis. All friends in this vicinity wish them many more anniversaries.

tolic church will start religious meetings in Lake Zurich this week, holding a service this evening and on Friday evening in the high school assembly room. Permanent plans for church services will be made here if necessary.
The only service conducted here at present is in the Catholic church and there is a need of an Episcopalian speaking service.

May Plaford, "the nation's sweet heart" will give a "violet tea" at Catlow's theatre this Saturday night. This is a very picturesque feature and little Mary gives us an entirely new characterization in the part of a quaint Holland girl. In her hooded stern she slips through many indications and wistful situation, with the role Plaford assumes. The most comprehensive scene she will fall into her self and the children will be more than delighted with this offering.

One of the new improvements for Wauconda this season is the fine element brick, from there which is a sturdy completion on Main street of the village. J. H. Marple, who purchased the old Pratt home some years ago, has improved this place in some manner each year, and the new building, he has put up this year is a credit to any town. Mr. Marple will install one of the latest moving picture machines and will try to give the best that can be produced using the entertainment line during the summer season. The date of the opening will be announced later.—Wauconda Leader.

A loving cup on exhibition at The Candy Shop was donated by the Disciple Target committee. The committee on Gun club had a tournament will hold this summer to win the cup. Every Saturday until some time in the early fall about thirty out of forty members of the club will compete.
Last Saturday ten shot, Dime making 14 out of twenty and Barrington 12; this first shot will be completed next Saturday and the high manufactured.
One crackerman must take the lead three successive shoots before he is given the cup and possession temporary; later the finale will be shot for permanent possession. The club will promptly return the work job which won in March and which was donated by the Dugan-Fowler company.
