LIBRARIES FOR TRAINING CAMPS

The million men the United States will send to the great training camps will go there to work, but their education and entertainment is also a matter of great importance that six hundred and twenty thousand dollars will be expended in equipping libraries at the camps to be organized in September. Time around the camps sometimes hangs heavy in spite of all the work, and since the organization of the first camps the need of clean, wholesome recreation for the men has been felt.

In many cases institutions like the Young Men's Christian Association have supplied this, but they have all been unable to provide libraries for the use of the men. The commission on training camp activities has, therefore, organized the American Library Association. The Association has undertaken to establish thirty-two main libraries, costing about twenty thousand dollars each, at the large camps, one of which will be the camp at Rockford, Illinois. The main libraries will use the Y. M. C. A. and similar stations as branches. The amount necessary for the enterprise will be raised by subscription through the Library Association.

WORK THE ROADS

One of the most pressing questions in the country districts at this season is the working of the neighborhood roads. Usually the main thoroughfares are taken care of by the county or township authorities, but there are many cross country and neighborhood roads that never see the road overseer and his crew. These are up to the people themselves to keep in passable condition.

In years past our people were possessed with a notion that the care of the public thoroughfares was a matter for the state and county entirely, and that personally they need not concern themselves further than to pay or tax or contribute our assessed quota of labor.

Of late, however, we are awaking to the fact that the roads are in fact our roads, and that neglect of them is neglect of our own property. They are one of our greatest assets, more especially if they are good roads. They are doubly important just at this time, when the item of transportation is one of the greatest questions confronting the country.

The urge has gone out from Washington that the American people use their best endeavors that their every effort be directed toward the improvement of the roads. From one end of the land to the other the crops will soon be moving over the country roads. If these roads are what they should be, motive power will be expended to the best advantage. If these crops are dragged through mud, gutters, and over rocks and stumps, much of the motive power will be wasted—and "waste" is the one word we are urged to eliminate from our vocabulary.

THE FALL FAIRS

Nothing connected with the industrial life of the people of this country is of greater importance at this time than the county and neighborhood fairs. Whether else we may be tempted to neglect, the fair should not be allowed to suffer. Every effort should be put forth to make the fair this fall bigger, better and of more far-reaching influence than any previous effort. At this stage of our history the big question, the question that overshadows all others, is that of production. We must produce, and produce, and keep producing. In time past this passion of production was based largely on desire. We desired the fruits of our labors for our gratification and pleasure. Now, however, we must produce as a matter of self-preservation. Indeed, the issue of the great European conflict will turn largely upon the producing capacity of the United States.

The normal human being never outgrows his desire for appreciation of his efforts. The desire to excel, and to be first among his neighbors, and friends an appreciation of this excellence, is a most potent factor in stimulating effort. The big hog in the pen does not give up near the satisfaction that it gives when we see it decorated with the blue ribbon. We appreciate the fine poultry in the chicken yard, but are doubly proud of the one in the ribbon-decked coop. In short, achievement without appreciation is but half success.

Then the spirit of competition will carry us on the road to successful production. A desire to excel our neighbors is a powerful stimulus. The friendly rivalry for nominal premiums spur us to unusual efforts.

So, in order that production in the United States may be stimulated to the greatest possible extent, let us carefully cultivate this, the greatest of all stimulating influences—the county fair.

If certain persons would observe half the good advice they hand to others, this would be a good improvement.

ITEMS OF INTEREST TO LOCAL PEOPLE

Exchanges of the Week's Work in Short Paragraphs—What's Doing in and Near Our Strolling Village.

Our laundry wagon will make no detour from its route, it will, it gathers washings. Barrington Laundry, J. F. Giesler, Prop.

Miss Lilly Augustin was among those from here who will take the bus, Monday, to attend the Lake county teachers' meeting.

G. Giesler left yesterday for Fox River, where he will have charge of the power plant for the Bowman Dairy company for a week.

James Lindquist, who injured his left hand in an elevator at the plant of the Bowman Dairy company, will not be able to swing to work for several days.

The Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church will meet Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Echo theatre at Des Plaines opens this evening with a new production, "The Sign of the Cross," Monday night, September 2. All of their seats are reserved. It will be wise for you to write and have them reserved now.

The members of St. Ann's society held their semi-annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Replogle yesterday afternoon. Rev. E. A. McCormick, pastor of St. Ann's Catholic church, addressed the ladies and urged them to become more active in Red Cross work.

Every Tuesday from 2:30 to 4:30 p. m. through the courtesy of the M. T. S., beginning September 4, a canteen will be held at the National Tuberculosis sanitarium, Crawford and Bay View Aves., for Cook county, (outside of Chicago). This is a good place for persons and northwestern territory, and the people are urged to take advantage of this opportunity. The luncheon is furnished by the Cook County Public Health division.

¶ The "Elgin Six" has more than met the approval of all who have examined it.

¶ After you have ridden in it you know why it has become so popular.

¶ It rides like a big, expensive car, handles like one and is hard to believe that it is sold for $985.

¶ At the same time you have the economy of operation and low upkeep of the average 4-cylinder car.

¶ Stop in and look it over, or better still, ride in it.

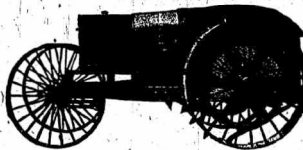

¶ Do not hesitate, if interested, to make an appointment for a demonstration and be convinced. Make us prove our claims.
