BARRINGTON REVIEW
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1915

HARMONY AND WOMANLINESS

One of the Harbinger boys came from Luckford for the week end in a dignified and smart manner. He is one of the great results of the war, he believes, "will be the end of all party, quarrels between the sexes." He says the boys in hark are being drawn together in a friendly that never be broken.

Many interested one another in their home town and with the war is over the affairs of local life will be brought home and into practice, serving as an example to those who at home, especially in small towns, keep the petty, selfish for years. It says that religious differences are only after that, different ways of worshipping the same God, and that everyone should respect those who remember that the same God is the form of the worship. The main idea is not "How does he worship God?" but "Does he worship God and keep His commandments?"

Also the petty social striving for exclusiveness will disappear. We were told, recently, a class of girls, exclusive, founded on "How much money have you?" and on "How much more the whole meaning of the word?" Especially will women learn the value of education, and that the value of education is not in the material world, but in the spiritual world, which gives social supremacy on account of our worthy of money.

And just, the American spirit, had her day and is disappearing. Why was she? Why, we had thought of her as the ideal of the world, but we were wrong. She was a woman, because her own relatives made money, who were at and ridiculed her. She had to work to make her father or forefathers, had not made her father who could go to the first school, best position, musician, but French teachers, select social affairs, but she was regarded as "a laborer" by the world.

Today and tomorrow in America we shall say to our young women, "What good are you in the world?" and not "How much money have you?" and we are to be in the latest fashions. Nay, no; we shall say to our young women, "What good are you in the world?" and not "How much money have you?" and we are to be in the latest fashions.

The first speaker of the evening was Howard P. Castle who explained the meaning of the constitution and told how we, the local company is progressing. The speaker of the evening was Howard P. Castle who explained the meaning of the constitution and told how we, the local company is progressing.

With this splendid start, it is only a question of a short time before the women will have a military organization of their own, both in numbers and in equipment.

THE PEOPLE HAVE ALWAYS RIGHT.

It has been the conviction of the greatest statesmen of all ages and all countries that the only safety for the people on any question that affected their interests was to be decided by the people.

The public mind and conscience is easily attained to the public feeling. The solution of our country is a free hand in the working out of their destiny, no people, would ever come to this point, which the people are not likely to be lightly turned from that course.

"Vox populi" and "Vox Dei" (the voice of the people, and the voice of God) never had a more direct application than to the attitude of the American people in the present crisis. While the people are supreme power, the voice of the people is the voice of the nation, and they are not likely to be lightly turned from that course.

This we are falling to. Our government is putting forth more force than the people are capable of withstanding. It is a mistake to think that the people are not capable of withstanding more force than the people are capable of withstanding.

Items of Local Interest

GLEANED FROM MANY SOURCES

Mr. Norman Latimer of Chicago was guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kirnke, Saturday and Sunday.

Members of the Woman's club are in attendance at the Illinois Federation of Women's club convention in Chicago this week.

Next Wednesday night Tom Wise appears in "Blue Grass" at the Auditorium. The Hearst-Pathé News will show how we guard our ocean lanes.

George Miller commenced work Monday at the local garage, both in the office and repair department. He had been working for Butler Brothers in Chicago.

A. R. O'Brien, secretary of the Land Development and Live Stock company of Chicago, was here Monday to inspect the salt farm, which is Nursery No. 1 of the company.

Have you seen the black cashier pictured in Cameron's window this week? The artist has made him look as if he was making a "get away" with green bills, a thing that the model, Albert Robertson, would never do.

Douglas Fairbanks, the prize fighter, appears in "Double Trouble" at the Auditorium Saturday night. A Hearst-Pathé News, showing the rain or snow division of the army, will open the bill, and a comedy will close.

A program of unusual interest will be given at the Auditorium Theater Friday night and evening. Theda Bara will appear in "Romeo and Juliet". A western comedy full of exciting rides and comedy situations will be shown.

Our village took on quite a military aspect Sunday when a number of our boys were sent from Camp Grant. They all make a fine appearance in uniform and are quite capable of the duties of attention for their age to the questions asked about army life.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Landwehr and Mrs. Landwehr's mother, Mrs. Kate Bergholtz, left here Saturday for Platt, South Dakota. They will visit for a time at the home of Mrs. Bergholtz, and then return to Platt. Mrs. Bergholtz will locate there permanently.

John Hensch of Waukegan will manage a dance to be given on Thanksgiving night, Thursday, November 22, at the Oakdale hall, Waukegan. The dance is for the old and young. Tickets will be $1.00 and every purchaser will be given a box of 250 Ambassador brand Hensch cigarettes. Hensch's orchestra of Libertyville will play.

Charles A. Nyall, principal of the Danvers school, will speak at the Woman's club meeting on November 22 at the Baptist church. He has lectured here twice before, upon the works of the poet, Browning, and another time on the comedy in which Shakespeare lived. He is an excellent speaker and interests all his hearers.

We must repeat our request that ladies for collection be given us before Thursday morning, as we cannot handle a rush of money just before going to press. If it even goes up to report happens on Friday please do not wait until the next Thursday morning to inform us. We try to keep up-to-date with each day's news. We appreciate all assistance every month in gathering the collection, but please do not wait until the last day to deliver the money. A country newspaper cannot afford to hire a large force of men.

The public library will be moved about December first from the apartment house Ricker's store, as Mr. Ricker and family will move from Grove avenue to this apartment. No place for the library has as yet been found, although several are under consideration, and the village board may assume control of the village library, so full control of the library will be established by the Woman's club. Most public libraries are taken over by the authorities in support after some organization has shown that the library is needed and appreciated in a community.

"Grandma" was the guest of honor at the Woman's club party last week at the home of Mrs. Frank Sawyer and there were about thirty of her present. Everything possible was done to make "Grandma" happy, and as a loving banquet for her years and venerable worth could please her, she received it in plentiful and stirring. About thirty other women, not so yet grandmas, were there, and they all enjoyed a program of poems and stories presented by Mrs. W. J. Cameron, John Schelmeier, Mrs. Hansen and Clarence Plagge. Little Miss Elizabeth Sawyer, aged some ten or twelve years, sang and played on the piano very well. The party was in charge of the Home Economics department of the club. Pivo o'clock tea was served.

Miss Minnie Johnson visited relatives at Crystal Lake Sunday.

Mrs. Edward Kirk of Gary was at Barrington club Sunday.

Miss Justine Spauler is living for part of this week at the home of Mrs. George Bick.

John Gary and Harold Moshaer were Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Johnson.

Miss Helen Kirnke of St. Ann's hospital, Oak Park, was home for the week end at the Kirnke farm.

Charles Schaefer, who has been employed at Camp Grant since last July as a carpenter, returned home Tuesday.

Chas. C. Plagge's general store carries the usual cash business. Call for a card. It will clear when others fail.

A Home Town Pleasure

Everybody here longs to strangers about our picture shows. "We have one of the best moving picture theaters in the state, even if this is a small town." Good pictures, up-to-date lectures, fine music, and now every Wednesday and Saturday we are going to give a Grand show of the best pictures actually happening in the world today. We don't have to travel thirty-two miles to see good pictures or the big actors, any more, and pay carfare and get home late. We just walk over a few blocks, or motor in a few miles and we have the best going, with trifling expense, and get home early to bed. Good pictures, up-to-date lectures, all clean drama, mostly well known books dramatized, and clean comedy, so runs the current talk, for everyone realizes now that it would be rather hard to go back to the days of the Auditorium or so pictures in Barrington.

Methodist Church Notes

The Wm.-M. Cham campaign of the Harrington Episcopal League opened Sunday morning with the sermon by Rev. DeLong on "The Life of Jesus." The main line of the sermon was that we should live the life of Jesus as Christians. It is more important to put these things into the life than to consider chiefly things to be shunned. It was also pointed out that there never was a time in the history of the world when the opportunity to live this life was as great as it is now.

Sunday evening the attendance at League meeting was about double its usual number. "Taking Men Alive" was the subject presented by Howard Ward. An appeal was made to consider the value of life and the importance of saving it and bringing it to its best. A talk by a member of the League whose brother is in the trenches of France touched deeply every heart as he referred to a letter received from his brother and a message concerning the life beautiful in his relation to a soldier.

Young Person's "Paradise" was the subject of the Sunday evening sermon. You can do nothing with a life that is drifting; a purpose organizes the elements of life for effective action. We must be sure that the purpose is a right one and that the consequences were considered.

The special music by the choir added greatly to the interest in all the services. Monday evening Maude Cox presented the subject and led the meeting. He talked on "Courage" and showed how it applies and works in the Christian life. It was a rational, practical consideration. Others gave short talks, made quite a variety and a fine choir was manifested in the meeting. A strong appeal was made for young people to devote the great questions of life and character.

On Tuesday evening the subject at the church was "Happier Homes," led by Mrs. Edna Hollister Stout in an able manner, for she had tabulated upon a card-board a plan of entering into good work in the Christian life of the work needed. Others spoke on how the Episcopal League may help in the betterment of the health, social affairs and political cleanliness of the community. This meeting was very well attended.
