10,000 WHITE, ROBED KNIGHTS

OF KU-KLUX KLAN VISIT US

A large number on the Charles Wagonman farm at the old mill have seen the end of the Klan road was the scene of a mysterious and weird gathering Sunday night when 10,000 members of the famous "White Robed Knights" gathered to initiate 2,376 new into membership in the "invisible empire." White robed and hooded with the crimson cross on their breasts continuing against the wilderness of midnight robes, the multitude of members participated in the mysterious ceremony between 9 and 11 p. m. Needless to say, local people have nothing of the affair until they read about it in Chicago papers the following day. A few metropolitan reporters had been invited in accord with the Klan's recently announced policy of semi-publicity, and they told the story as follows.

They were met by a large number of leaders from Chicago to Lake Zurich were filled with automobiles carrying the men to the site. Between 2,000 and 3,000 automobiles were parked around the edge of their lights upon the hollow in which the spectators were gathered.

"Initiable" signs along the road marked the route over which the automobiles were to pass. The signs, known only to members of the Klan, were identical with those at San Carlos, trees and fence.

Carrying the flaming cross, and wearing white robes and hoods, the flaming torches, the Klansmen formed a single line before an altar. Grouped in front of the altar on the left, the initiators, men in white robes, the Klansmen formed the first part of the ritual from William Joseph Simmons, Imperial Wizard, and Edward Vernon Clarke, Imperial Wizard, of Atlanta, Ga., assisted by C. C. Love of Chicago, grand knight of the Great Lakes division. They large groups marked the scene, their flames making the proceedings more dramatic.

The cult to protect the sanctity of the home and woman's honor, to keep separate the church and the state, and to uphold white supremacy was administered. The candidates were sworn in, each marched past a large American flag at the altar, each took a white cloth and

HOT WEATHER DISHERS.

During the hot weather when all sorts of men, women and children are living, it is the time to rest in a kitchen cabinet or get a lunch for a day by the lake or river, if the ocean is too far away.

The housewife who places to do much of the everyday things out of doors will not find as much discomfort as out of doors. Even in a hot kitchen door she may be comfortable to shift peak, pin potatoes, steam berries and even prepare dinners. Being out of doors makes the work more play.

The doers who will be prepared the night before in the early morning will be ready, with no hurry at the time they are needed.

If the family enjoys play—and what family does not—the pantry may be prepared, enough for two pies and a lemon or custard crust at one time. Take a cupful of lard, a half-cupful of butter, and a teaspoonful of salt, stir until dissolved, then add three cupfuls of sifted flour. When well mixed put into the ice chest to chill. This may be done in a very few minutes at night and the morning will be ready in the morning. Line the pie plate with the crust, bake them, as this kind of pastry seems to shrink more than the ordinary kind. Pastry made this way is usually repeated again and again, for it is always uniform and very tender and flaky.

Like a pie plate with a decorated crust and fill with a pint of milk, a third of a cupful or less of sugar, three well-beaten eggs, a half teaspoonful of nutmeg and put the pie into a hot oven at first to bake the crust quickly, by the bottom, then reduce the heat and cook slowly until the custard is set. You will have a good custard pie. Don't forget a pinch of salt, which is usually needed in all pies.

The various jellies and gelatins are good for hot weather and they have the advantage of keeping well for a day or two.

DISKING AFTER SMALL GRAIN

HARVEST KILLS MANY WEEDS

Much of next year's weed trouble can be avoided, as shown by studies in the United States department of agriculture, by the use of the harrow or disk in the field after the small grain crop is harvested. This practice is particularly recommended in the northern states. Stirring the ground at this time encourages the germination of the weed seeds that are at or near the surface. The seedlings are then killed by fall plowing or by the cold weather. Some weeds, such as the ragweed or foxtail, start to mature sooner after harvest, so the great care must be taken to turn the plants under before the seeds approach maturity. Plowing, without the preliminary disking, would turn under millions of weed seeds, where they would be protected from winter killing and make trouble in future years.

GOVERNMENT GIVES LAKE COUNTY LARGE BUILDING

Through the efforts of Congressman Carl Chalmers of the tenth district, the old "brig" at Camp Denton, Great Lakes, has been given by the government to Lake county and will be removed to Libertyville. The brig is fitted with steel cells, shower baths, modern toilets, etc. The structure is 12x150 feet and would cost $11,995 to build at this time.
